Back from the Pacific after 28 months of fighting with the marines is Don DeVine, '49, from Detroit. He confessed that he thought his classmates would be rather young, but when he spotted four playing back on the upper deck yesterday afternoon, he wailed, "But I didn't think they'd be that young."

Number Please?

In a speech recently given by Donald Grant, lecturer on camouflage, he cited how a Viennese differentiated between the Scots, English and Americans:

- One Scot—a savings bank
- Two Scots—a game of golf
- Three Scots—a British government
- One Englishman—a gentleman
- Two Englishmen—a club
- Three Englishmen—a world empire
- One American—a millionaire
- Two Americans—a cocktail party
- Three Americans—prohibition

News in Brief

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP) — Congressional investigators learned today that Admiral Husband Kimmel told the Roberts commission four years ago the Washington administration insisted on keeping the fleet in Pearl Harbor and he had the choice of agreeing or quitting as its commander.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP) — Officials of the U. S. Steel corporation and the CIO United Steelworkers, meeting in last-minute efforts to avert a shutdown in the nation's steel industry, today announced for 24 hours without announcing what progress if any, was made.

Neither company nor union officials commented on today's three-hour session, other than to report that negotiations would be resumed at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Benjamin F. Fairless, corporate president, and Philip Murray, president of the CIO and the steel union, headed three-man delegations to the conference seeking a settlement to halt 700,000 steel workers from walking off their jobs Monday. The men are demanding a $2 a day wage cost.

MSC Establishes Folklore Archives

By TOM NORTHWAY

Folklore archives just established in the college library give Michigan State the distinction of having one of the few such projects in the United States.

Unique is this plan which urges anyone to donate fragments or complete stories about Michigan lore and custom.

Richard M. Dorson, instructor in history and director of the archives, revealed simultaneously that he will offer a one-term course in American folklore winter term next year.

The University of Indiana, Cornell, and State Teachers college at Albany, N. Y., began work on state-wide scales several years ago.

There, information on such topics as traditional beliefs, supernatural legends, farming customs, and tall tales, are being gathered by students rather than special commissions as in other countries.

This spring and summer Dorson will personally collect folk-

Demobilization Group Set Up For U. S. Army

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP) — A Senate military subcommittee was assigned today to look into a demobilization situation which chairman Edwin C. Johnson (D., Colo.) said had brought "near mutiny" in the army.

He referred to soldier demonstrations in Europe and across the Pacific. Several top army staff officers at European theater headquarters declared that "we have commitments in Europe and cannot walk off and leave them."

veteran students, and demanded that an immediate adjustment be made to remedy the situation.

It was acknowledged that the college had under-estimated the enrollment of the current term in the ordering of books and supplies, but this, the membership felt, does not affect the handling of books and supplies now on hand.

Commander To Investigate

The post commander, Erwin P. Oesterreicher, Saginaw sophomore, was instructed by the organization to make inquiries of the veterans' administration as to the type and amount of books and supplies the government will provide for veteran students.

One member at the meeting suggested that a branch book store be set up to bring about a more efficient distribution of books.

Another bone of discontent expressed by members is the delay many are experiencing in receiving subsistence checks. It is explained, however, that the current re-organization of the veterans administrations ought to speed the checks on their way, with the probability of only a 15 to 45 day wait for them after the proper forms had been sent in.

Loans Available

It was authoritatively stated at the meeting that the college will make loans to those veteran students who have not yet received their subsistence checks. This would indicate that veterans need not drop out of school for lack of funds, but could repay the college when their checks arrive.

Other business of the meeting included a discussion of the "No Smoking on Campus" tradition. It was tabled for future consideration.

Commander Oesterreicher also mentioned the radio program the post is sponsoring over station WKAR at 3:30 every Sunday afternoon. Those veterans interested in participating on the program are asked to contact him immediately.

Affairs of State

By TONI EBNER and SALLY CLARK

It seems that these returning vets dotting the campus this term really have come back with a military outlook on things. Spotting their objective and then capturing it is being carried over into their new civilian life.

Proof of the fact is the ringing in our ears which has to do with romantic doings. January will be a big month for Sigma Kappa Harriet Stevens, Flint senior, who will be going up the aisle on Jan. 19. Husband-to-be is Stewart Rollins, Flint junior, recently discharged from the army.

Her sorority sister, Mickey Tait, Port Huron junior, has hopes for the same sort of thing some time in the future, now that she has a ring. Donor is Bill McAfee of Detroit, former member of the army air corps.

President of Sigma Kappa, Betty Butler, Buffalo senior, was the cause of more excitement at the house the other night at dinner. Big bowls of candy kisses with strings attached told of her engagement to Fred Billington, of Buffalo.

The Alpha Chis started out the new year on the right foot. On the left hand of Ginnie Bailey, Grosse Pointe junior, is a brand new attraction from Al Kline, also from Grosse Pointe, now stationed in Los Angeles with the navy. Playing favorites with the army is Ginnie Tomlin, Fowlerville senior, who wears a West Point engagement ring from Jay Hatch, once upon a time State student and member of Sigma Nu.

Orange blossom business is on the up swing. Another engagement concerns Pi Phi Sally Bird, Detroit sophomore, and Ed Kilbourn, just back from two and a half years in the Pacific.

On the same topic is the news of the engagement of Sue Robson, Ovid freshman, to Ray Ohmer, State student now with the army air corps.

Pin passings have become more popular, according to the latest census on such matters. Jo Johnson, Detroit senior, has added a Phi Delt pin beside her Kappa key. Former owner is B. Maynard Zimmerman, Birmingham senior. Another Phi Delt, Bill Johnson, Thompsonville junior, passed his pin to Kappa Delt Nancey Wixom, Ferndale sophomore.

Gamma Phis had a new turn of events when Joy Loveland, Scottsville senior, surprised her friends when she turned up with a West Point pin from Ralph Viskochil, Traverse City.

Winding up the list for today is a bit of news from the Alpha Xis. Dortha Rohrbach, Lansing sophomore, has a Delta Chi pin over her heart from Jack Niehouse, now in the army.

Former Wrestler Returns To Campus

Former State wrestler and baseball player, Jack Lott of Detroit, is back on campus and plans to take a shot at a spot on Fendley Collins' mat team.

At present Lott, who was on the 1943 squad and played freshman baseball in 1941, is nursing a bruised rib, which he injured while getting into shape over the holidays. Lott was a naval air corps pilot during the war and saw action in the Pacific theater.

Mad As Hopps

By JANICE HOPPS

THE advent of 1946 represents, not only the beginning of a new year, but the beginning of a new era, the postwar era at Michigan State college to be exact. If our postwar status was still in doubt after the convocation the other morning, a thorough glimpse at our boom town—the male-populated classrooms, at the wolf-packed grill and at the peacetime trenches wending their way across the campus—should confirm it.

The proper way to begin all new years, or so my parents always told me, is with a list of good intentions or resolutions made to be broken. But whether they're broken or not, making out a list of resolutions is a good way to get one's perspective of the situation at hand, and a little thought on the subject never hurt anyone.

In the same light, starting out the postwar era with some good intentions might do no harm. A list something like this should help in putting our best feet forward, and 'tis said that a good start is a prerequisite for success.

Resolved: That I came to college because I wanted an education, and a few inconveniences aren't going to stop me. I may not like my present living conditions, but I'm not going to spend my time worrying about them. If I have the time to worry, I'll spend it looking for a better place to live. There's an old saying, "If you want a thing done, do it yourself," so I won't sit back and gripe until someone else finds me a place to live. Several men have found rooms already this term by making door-to-door canvases.

Resolved: That if I happen to be a veteran and am having trouble getting my books, I won't say anything—yet. I'm supposed to get them in time to get caught up over the weekend, and then I can start a new week with a clean slate. But, if there's a bottleneck on books another term, I just might beat someone's brains in. Given three months to organize, a reoccurrence of the bottleneck will be inexcusable.

Resolved: That even though I have to live with classes during my lunch and dinner hours, I'm better off than the fellow who

Telephones

The Bell System plans an extensive trial of two-way radio in providing telephone service to vehicles in a number of large cities.

Connections with other telephones will be made through the nearest of several receiving and transmitting stations operated by the telephone company. It is generally similar to the existing ship-shore radio telephone service for vessels in coastal and inland waters.

The main job right now is making more telephones available for those who have been waiting for regular service. But as soon as the new equipment can be built the Bell System will begin extending telephone service to vehicles.

Kentucky Quintet Boasts High Scoring Artists

Once-beaten Kentucky will feature a lot of fancy shooters when it lines up against Ben Van Alstyne's Spartans Saturday evening on the Jenison fieldhouse court as State tries for its fourth straight victory.

The Wildcats' captain, Jack Parkinson, is currently boasting an 11 point game average with his 98 tallies in nine contests. Parkinson is a guard and gets most of his tallies on long shots as Spartans well know.

Last winter the 'Cat pilot popped in 40 tallies in his pair of appearances against the Vanmen. To counter Parkinson's terrific scoring pace Van Alstyne will have his best basket-getters, Sam Fortino, Matt Mazza, and Robin Roberts pegging away. Fortino will probably get the assignment of guarding the Kentucky ace.

Cats Have First-Year Stars

Blue Grass Mentor Adolph Rupp also has a couple of consistent scorers in freshmen Ralph Beard and Wah-Wah Jones. Beard, considered by southern sports writers the best Wildcat freshman cager in many years, guided his prep school quintet to the Indiana state championship last winter and he was named on the national high school all-star team.

Jones is best known for the terrific tally-making tempo he set as a high school hoopster, holding the interscholastic record for four years of play with 2,398 points.

Lost Only To Tempie

Kentucky has lost only to Tempie so far this year and has, among others, won over St. Johns, Ohio University and Oklahoma, while compiling a 61 point-a-game average. State has got a 53 per-cent count.

Along with the Spartan front line trio, Ollie White and Dan Waldron will probably get the starting nod for State.

Wildcat Captain

Leading the Wildcat cagers from the University of Kentucky against the Spartans Saturday will be Jack Parkinson, keen-eyed long shot artist, who last year hit the nets for 40 points in the two Kentucky-MSU contests.

Baseball Men To Meet Today in Fieldhouse

John Kobs, varsity MSC baseball coach, announced yesterday that there will be a meeting for all baseball candidates at 4:30 in room 215 Jenison fieldhouse, Friday, Jan. 11.

Anyone interested in becoming assistant baseball manager should report to Don Arnsen at the same time.

BULLETIN

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP) — Fireball Frankie Sinkwich, most valuable player in the National Football league while with Detroit in 1944, jumped to the New York Yankees of the All-America conference today in a surprise move that threatened to send the player fight between the rival professional circuits into court.

At a news conference attended by Sinkwich, the Yankees announced they had signed the two-time All-America halfback from the University of Georgia to a three-year contract. President Dan Topping disclosed only that Sinkwich's salary ran into "five figures" but reliable estimates placed it at around $12,000 a year.

Dachtler Wins Varsity Mat Job

Spartan heavyweight wrestler Harold Dachtler won a starting spot last night for the Wheaton match coming up Saturday afternoon when he defeated Bob Maldegen in a challenge affair.

Previously Dachtler had taken Maldegen, that being for the title in the intramural tournament last term. Coach Fendley Collins stated at the start of wrestling practice last week that all spots were open and thus Dachtler and Maldegen battled for the heavyweight job.

Present for the workout yesterday was Dale Stephenson of Marion, another heavyweight, who formerly toiled for Collins and is now a graduate student. He will get an opportunity in this class later in the season when he gets into conditions, Collins stated.

MSU student and former State basketball star, Nick Piccuto is a member of the Philadelphia Phillies.

MSC Tennis Coach Lining Up Prospects for Spring Term

This year's Michigan State tennis plans are already taking on that postwar glint of top notch competition that will continue State's push back into the upper brackets in all sports.

Before the war the netters clashed with the best in the middle west, and when 1946 candidates report to Coach Charles D. Ball late this month, it is apparent that they'll find some of the nation's finest teams numbered among their opponents.

Prewar competition was the best from such highly rated teams as Notre Dame, Michigan, Cincinnati, and Ohio State, among others.

Four Back From '45 Club

To meet an approximate 14 match schedule, Coach Ball is confident that his material on hand will make a good showing and is hoping that State's increased enrollment may bring even more talent to light.

Back from a good 1945 team that was forced into a reduced schedule are Dick Young of Rockford, Jack McGrath, Pontiac; Bob Ballard, Jackson, and Ben Porter of Grand Rapids.

Two freshmen are expected to capture a lion's share of their matches despite the competition. They are Bob Malaga, Cleveland, Ohio, and George Carpenter of Lansing. Malaga, a State end last fall and point after touchdown kicker deluxe, was the Cleveland junior high school champ. Carpenter, a returned vet, is well known in Michigan tennis circles, and has captured numerous titles with his Rock-of-Gibraltar steadiness.

Letterman Returns

To round out Coach Ball's tennis picture is returned letterman of 1942, Roger Cessna, Lansing junior who piloted a B-24 in Italy. Cessna was Lansing's reigning singles and doubles champion.

In prewar years the tennis team had commenced indoor practice in Demonstration hall during winter term, but with the veterans' affairs settled there this will be impossible. However, Coach Ball hopes that his charges may work out in Jenison fieldhouse on the basketball court while the cage team isn't using it.

Sigma Nu Bowlers Defeat Kappa Tau

In the second night of fraternity bowling, the Sigma Nus dealt the Phi Kappa Taus a shutout, as footballer Glen Hatfield posted high series of the night with a 493.

Hatfield was followed closely by his teammate Jim Funston, who knocked over enough maples for a 487 total. Charles Costa, Phi Kappa Tau, scored high for his outfit with a total series of 434.

In the only other match, the Sigma Alpha Epsilon seglers took four points from the Delta Chis with Nick Gregory facing the victors by virtue of his 497 series. John Potts led the losers with a 426 total.

Union Board Sponsors Open Parties for Social Calendar

Sororities, Student Club, Hillel, Plan Parties

From the looks of things, the long vacation afforded some students time to think over new ideas for winter term parties. Proof of it are the novel themes on which parties are based this weekend.

Foremost on this week's social roster is the Union board dance, which will take place tonight in the Union ballroom from 9 to 12. Music for dancing will be furnished by Dick Snook and his orchestra and the grill will be open for those wishing refreshments. Also the Union board's Party-Party plus the Spartan Varieties will begin Jan. 19, according to Shirley Symmonds, Lansing junior.

Decorations for tonight's Delta Zeta radio party will be based on a Gay Nineties theme. Saille Woodbury, Battle Creek sophomore, is in charge of the affair, and she has announced that records will provide the music for dancing and refreshments will be served.

Alpha Xi Delta Open House

Tonight from 9 to 12 is the time slated for the Alpha Xi Delta open house. All veterans on campus are invited to attend. Gwen Gorsline, Lansing senior, is chairman of the open house. Dancing, refreshments, and entertainment have been planned, according to Miss Gorsline.

Tonight's fourth party is being given by the Student club. If the weather permits, it will be in the form of a sleigh ride, but if the snow fails to appear the plans will be converted to a hay ride. A ranch get-together has been planned to follow the ride.

The affair will take place from 8 to 11 p.m. Chairman Lu Price, Lansing junior, has announced that the patrons will be Prof. and Mrs. Walter Reuling, Mr. and Mrs. John Holland, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Edwards.

Hillel Mixer

Hillel has planned a mixer for tonight which will take place in the Forestry cabin. Music for dancing will be furnished by records and refreshments will be served. Ruth Stein, Midland sophomore, is in charge of the mixer.

Tomorrow night the coeds of East and West Mary Mayo are having the term's first semi-formal dance. It will be held from 9 to 12 in the Union ballroom with Dick Snook and his orchestra furnishing the music for dancing.

After the basketball game tomorrow night the Mason Hall women will hold an open house. All men on campus are invited to attend. Also planned for tomorrow night is the radio party which the FarmHouse pledges are giving for the actives.

RED CROSS

All women who have been working on Red Cross sweaters are asked to turn them in to the AWS office by 5 p.m. today. If it is impossible to turn them in by this time, please notify Nancy Wyngarden at 8-1064.

has to get his lunch and dinner during those hours. And if I don't have 12-1 and 5-6 classes this term, I'll get some next term. It's easier to get something to eat either before or after.

Resolved: That I'll fight like a man (and the emphasis is on the adult manner) for my rights as a student, and I'll do my fighting through the channels of student government. First, I'll have to make sure that our student government is as strong as it should be. As a student, that's my personal responsibility, too.

Resolved: That during the course of the term I'll think up a substitute for cokes or I'll learn to drink them standing up. I know already that the grill is an objective yet to be conquered. But there'll come a day.

Resolved: That this is the beginning of a new era, and I'll be around to watch it grow better and better. We're continually raising our enrollment, and after sampling our classwork for the term, it seems that we're also raising our academic standards. It's a noble ambition, and I'm here to help it along.

The list can grow longer, but these are general enough for a start. To twist an ancient quotation, there are "problems, problems everywhere and not a drop to drink." So we'll think up some constructive solutions.
