Board Makes Appointments, Accepts Gifts, Resignations

Michigan State's governing body, the State Board of Agriculture, met yesterday and acted on appointments and the reinstatement of faculty members, the granting of retirements and the acceptance of resignations. The board also accepted gifts which totaled $21,900. Outstanding gifts were those given by Swift and company, the Ciga Pharmaceutical Products, Inc., and the William Wrigley Jr. company. The grant from Swift is to be used for research on the anatomy of domesticated fowl, the second gift for research on turkeys, and the latter for research for the protection of spearmint and peppermint industries in Michigan. The Dow Chemical company also gave a grant which is to be used for studies on fungicides in the department of botany and plant pathology.

The board also requested that Attorney General John R. Dethmers institute condemnation proceedings on the seven pieces of property on South Harrison road which are needed for college buildings. The other sixteen lots have been purchased, or plans to purchase them have been made.

Appointments of H. C. Barnett, assistant professor of foreign language, as acting head of the department of foreign languages, and Raymond Koch as associate professor of music were also approved by the state board. At the same time Norman L. Smith was appointed as extension specialist in farm management, and Clarence A. Lang-

Faculty Member To Give Concert This Evening

John Shelby Richardson, instructor in music at Michigan State college, will present a piano concert tonight at 8 in the Music auditorium. Richardson, who joined the music department staff last fall, was previously an assistant professor of music at the University of Kentucky. He holds degrees from the New England Conservatory of Music, Yale university, and the Mozarteum of Salzburg, Austria.

For his program, the pianist has chosen compositions by six well-known composers, three of whom are Russians (two still living) and whose brilliant, modern works have been increasingly popular in the last few years.

Variations and Fugue on a theme by Handel, by Brahms, will be the first number on the program, to be followed by Four Etudes in the major and minor keys, by Chopin. The third selection, "Sonatine" by Ravel, is in three movements—Moderé, Mouvement de Minuet, and Anime.

Prokofieff, whose Prelude in C major will be played, is today what one might call Russia's musician-laureate, and his music, particularly "Peter and the Wolf", has recently gained much world interest and enthusiasm.

Richardson will also play Rachmaninoff's Prelude in B minor, and the Prelude in C minor by Shostakovitch.

Three Home Ec Coeds To Attend Meeting

Three students from the Home Ec club on campus have been selected to attend the Home Economics province convention in Chicago on February 21, 22 and 23, according to Jane Helbig, Cleveland Heights, Ohio junior.

Those who were selected at the senior board meeting were Barbara Mye, North Tonawanda, N. Y. senior, who is state president of home economics clubs, Patricia Easley, Trenton senior, and Margaret Wallace, Dearborn junior. Miss Easley is province vice-president.

Province meetings are held yearly for the purpose of discussing the activities of the various clubs and coordinating their work with the national aims.

Clothes Drive Begins Jan. 24

Activities board of AWS will again conduct the Victory Clothing Collection drive sponsored by the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation association and the office of war information, according to Shirley Hamelink, Lansing senior.

The nation-wide collection date is from Jan. 7 to 31, however, State's drive is scheduled from Jan. 24 to 31.

In a statement to more than 7,000 local chairmen of the United National Clothing Collection, President Truman said, "Again the need for used clothing for war sufferers all over the world is urgent. It is imperative that we act at once to provide clothing for the relief of men, women and children in war ravaged lands.

"Without adequate clothing and other necessities of life to sustain victims of war on the long road to rehabilitation there can be no peace," Mr. Truman added.

Articles needed include infants', children's men and women's garments of all kinds, shoes (also gaiters, overshoes and rubbers), bedding, blankets, and remnants of material one yard or over.

The following women's organizations will handle collection boxes: PanHellenic council will distribute boxes to all sorority houses, Home Economics club will have a box in the Home Economics building, the Red Cross organization will handle off-campus and co-operative collection boxes, and Town Girls will sponsor a box in the Union.

Eisenhower Talks To Senate Group

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP) — General Dwight D. Eisenhower disclosed today he has banned any further GI demonstrations, but ordered inspectors to "every camp and post" to see that his latest demobilization order is followed.

The Chief of Staff, appearing before a Senate military subcommittee investigating demobilization, said there was no use in further demonstrations by soldiers demanding immediate release.

Eisenhower told the committee he had ordered representatives of the inspector general's department to visit each installation to observe the progress of demobilization.

Commanders have been advised to be certain that the way is open for all complaints or requests from soldiers to go up through channels to their commanders, he added.

Eisenhower read to the committee a message from General Douglas MacArthur in answer to a request by Eisenhower in December that troop requirements be pared to the bone.

Registrar Establishes New Rulings For Admitting Out-State Students

A definite policy has been established by Michigan State college for the admission of out-of-state students, Robert S. Linton, registrar, announced yesterday.

Because of the large number of applications for admission being received weekly, the following rules will govern their acceptance:

1. Michigan residents, former students and out-of-state war veterans who received army training at MSC will receive first consideration.
2. Sons and daughters of alumni, and as far as possible

Women Will Drag Dates At Annual 'Spin' Tonight

Cinderella Theme To Change Ballroom Into Magic Land of 'Slipper' Story

Some 425 Cinderellas will be dancing tonight from 9 to 12 in the Union ballroom with their men of the hour at the Cinderella Spin. Rosemary Howland and her "pills of jive" will help cast the spell of this fairy-book theme with their music-magic for this only all-college coed-bid affair of the year, sponsored by Tower

Guard, Mortar Board, Town Girls and Spartan Women's league.

Couples will be able to dance in the main dining room where a P. A. system has been hooked up and the sun porch can be used as a smoker, according to Margo Green, East Lansing sophomore, and Wilma Frederick, Detroit senior, co-chairmen.

Fairy Backdrop

Miss Howland's band will be encased on the stage by a fairy-book backdrop and colorful panels on the side walls will carry out the plot of the "Slipper" story. Favors chosen are black and silver dance programs which will be distributed to the guests at the door. There will be no grand march.

Special intermission plans, in addition to "coking" in the grill, are centered around Sue Averill, Birmingham senior, who will act as mistress of ceremonies. Mary Ann Bowman, Royal Oak sophomore, will present a cabaret-style song skit, and Doris Gutt, Ovid senior, will tap dance.

Patrons

Patrons and guests named to attend have been announced by Pat Darr, Detroit senior. Dean and Mrs. L. C. Emmons, Prof. and Mrs. Don Buell, and Prof. and Mrs. C. V. Millard hold the patron list.

Guests include President and Mrs. John Hannah, Prof. and Mrs. Victor Noll, Prof. Elizabeth D. Walbert, Mrs. Isabelle Gonon, Miss Elizabeth Corbishley, Dean Marie Dye, Prof. Elizabeth D. Daniels, and Miss Dorothy M. Greedy.

Today's Campus

... Turn-Around

And then there's the ingenious Ann Van Sickle, East Lansing sophomore, who after finding it virtually impossible to even see what a Cinderella ticket looks like and still wishing to take advantage of tonight, organized a party of four coeds who will call for their dates and "meet the folks," cook dinner, and treat them to a movie as well as escort them home at 12:30 just to be in style.

... The Best One Yet

Let this be one you've never heard before. Did you hear about the coed who went in the grill at 1 p.m., and had to cut all her afternoon classes because she couldn't get out?

LETTERS . . . To The Editor

To the Editor:
 I am annoyed at the fact that Mr. Franklin is annoyed.
 I would like to call Mr. Franklin's attention to the fact that the Red Cedar post is a legally organized group, sanctioned by the authorities of MSC, and not guilty of an irresponsible outburst about the book situation as he accuses.
 All resolutions, conclusions, and statements issued by the Red Cedar post are the result of deliberation and consideration at regular meetings of all veterans interested. The meetings are not even limited to Legion members but all veterans are invited to attend.
 It is true we represent a small part of the veterans but we are growing daily and are the only organized veterans' body on campus. Mr. Franklin opposes our speaking for all veterans on campus. Is he justified in speaking for the entire student body.

Sure, the book problem is nationwide but it has not been accentuated by lack of cooperation on the veterans' part. The veterans were instructed to submit an order for the book store to be filled and then to submit a supplementary order when and if necessary.
 I was not aware of the trick of switching the requisitions around but if such a possibility does exist, it looks like the Office of Veterans Affairs is at fault here for allowing individuals access to the requisitions. I hope Mr. Franklin's exposé of this matter does not embarrass the administration as he has accused the Red Cedar post of doing in the 'unwholesome publicity of a witch hunt'.
 I agree with Mr. Franklin that we should demonstrate a little school loyalty but think that it is going a bit too far to study without books for two or three weeks or maybe longer to attain that end.

Mad As Hopps

By JANICE HOPPS

Here we go again with the weekly drool, and the word "weekly" bothers me much more than the truth of the word "drool." I wish I had the freedom of our sports editor who volunteers a column only when he feels inspired, but since it takes an unusual jolt to inspire me, I might not be worth my salt around here. I may not be anyway.

I wasn't exactly inspired this morning, but I got a gleam of satisfaction, or hope, or whatever you want to call it, out of President Hannah's reaction to Three of Many's letter. The State News has always considered itself, when its staff members feel like flattering themselves, as a sort of mediator between students and administration. But quite frankly, we've often wondered if that role weren't somewhat-obsolete. In fact, we've gone so far as to wonder whether anyone reads our daily drivel.

Especially when we're trying to push a student cause, an administrative eye on what we print is important. Any amount of ballyhoo is useless unless the proper authorities see it and, we hope, react to it. As of yesterday, we're more convinced that the paper is playing its part in student affairs.

The issue over which Three of Many were pondering was anything but campus-shaking. Still, a lot of dormitory women have been discontented over what they considered little more than a money-making deal. I remember two years ago we used to wonder about the same situation, but nothing was said so the wondering dragged on until it died a satisfactory death with two women in a room once more.

The trouble is that when we do go around just wondering, most of us try to draw our own conclusions and, unfortunately, those conclusions are too often based on false assumptions, either because we don't know all the facts or because our facts are erroneous. When it comes to figuring out why the college administration takes the steps it does, we've developed a fine art of drawing the wrong conclusions.

We aren't administrators, and I for one don't pretend to understand all the problems of administration, but I have a good idea that, if I were an administrator, I wouldn't think to explain the why and wherefores of every move I made. I doubt that our administration thinks it necessary to explain every move it makes, but yesterday's message indicates that if student discussion is running high, the admin-

Raymond Koch, noted concert and operatic baritone, is now serving as temporary head of voice training in Michigan State college department of music, Roy L. Underwood, head of the department has announced. Koch replaces Prof. Fred Patton, a member of the music staff for 13 years, who retired because of ill health January 1.

At present Koch is employed as teacher of voice in Sherwood school in Chicago. He will continue to live in Chicago, but will come to the State News week to meet with the department.

State Hoopsters Attempt To Upset Favored DePaul

Involving Chicago stadium for the second time in Spartan basketball history, Michigan State cagers will be underdogs when they tangle with DePaul university tonight in the feature contest of the regular stadium weekly double-bill.

In their only previous appearance on a stadium card the Spartans fell 45-37 to DePaul in 1943. Previous to that the teams met twice in East Lansing, once in 1937 and then way back in 1909. MSC lost the affair in '37, but must of really been hurt in '39 when it scored a 75-7 win.

The only other match prior to that was in '08, which State took, 29-17. This leaves the two schools on an even-steam basis, each having won two. Tonight the Spartans will be heavily favored due to their height and high-scoring acts. George Mikan and Gene Stump.

Going into the ball game Mikan is leading the nation's college scorers and currently boasts a 21 per game point average.

Coach Ben Van Alstyne will try to gear his offense up so that it may meet the pace the DePaul cagers usually set. Only if State is able to fast break past the rangy DePaul quintet, and hit on a good percentage of its shots, will the Spartans have a chance of evening in the midway.

Van Alstyne will star Robin Roberts, Sam Fortino, Matt Mazza, Don Waldron and Ollie White, but he stated earlier this week that Shorty Krall, Joe Beyer and Pat Peppler would also probably see action.

Begins Training

Billy Conn works out in a Little Rock, Arkansas, gym for his fight with World Champion Joe Louis.

States' Grapplers Seek Second Win At Illinois Match

Seeking their second straight triumph Michigan State's wrestlers will leave this noon for Champaign, Illinois, where they will grapple with the University of Illinois matmen Saturday evening. The Spartans came through unscathed in last Saturday's Wheaton affair in which they romped off with a 33-3 win.

Stiff workouts have been the order of the day in the Collins camp this week. Highlights of these preparatory sessions have been the challenge matches in the 121, 136 pound and heavy-weight divisions.

Challenging Cliff Fletcher, Spartan regular at 121 pounds, was Jack Kreiner, runnerup in last December's all-college tournament. Their match marked the second straight week in which Fletcher has successfully defended his position against the vigorous and ever improving Kreiner.

Maldegen In Heavy Role

Bob Maldegen, Spartan heavy-weight, again took the measure of Harold Daehler in another of their battles for the varsity job. It will be Maldegen in the Illinois meet Saturday. He will be gunning for his second win in as many starts as a college wrestler.

A new face will appear in the 136 pound class Saturday. In a challenge match Bill Mowery, Tulsa, Okla., freshman, took the measure of State's veteran, Gordon Cole. Cole and Mowery are very evenly matched and both men will be looking forward to their weekly challenge scuffle for 136 pound supremacy.

Spartans Favored

According to the records as pointed out by Coach Fennessy Collins, the Spartans should not have too much trouble disposing of the Illini. In a recent dual-meet the Illini barely edged out a 19-16 decision over Wheaton, whereas State breezed past Wheaton.

Outstanding Illini matman to oppose State Saturday will be Jack Petry, 145 pound star. His wrestling was done for Iowa Pre-Flight in 1945. Petry was undefeated last season.

Pitted against State's 145 lb. Konrad, Petry will be given a real test.

State Batterymen Work Out As Winter Practice Begins

By MARTY HANRAHAN

If ambition means anything, John Kobs, beginning his 21st year as coach of the Spartan baseball team, has a right to that big smile he's wearing these days. Last week, when pitchers and catchers were called out, an unusually large turnout was present at Demonstration hall, where daily indoor workouts are being held in preparation for the 1946 season.

Prospects look excellent and moundmen back from past clubs are four lettermen who will form the backbone of the State pitching staff.

Steeffe Back

Keith Steffe, Sturgis senior, who was undefeated last year winning five and losing none; Joe Skrocker, Detroit senior, who before entering the service was the leading pitcher on the 1942

Spartan nine; William Page, Muskegon sophomore, and Norman McCormick, Detroit sophomore, round out the lettermen returning to the mound.

Among the outstanding catchers working out with the hill staff are Captain Ben Hudenke and Bucky Walsh. Walsh recently returned from service with the army having been a member of the veteran 44th infantry division in the European theater.

Southern Trip Again

Coach Kobs also announced the tentative schedule for the Spartan southern spring training trip, resuming this year after a lapse of four years. Down in Dixieland Kobs expects to meet such formidable teams as Georgia, Duke, North and South Carolina, Wake Forest, North Carolina State, and on the way back north, Ohio university.

SAE Frat Keglers Tie Sigma Nu Five

One of the closest matches of the term was staged on the Rainbow alley, Wednesday night when Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Sigma Nu fraternity bowling teams tied with two points each. High man for Sigma Nu and also for the night was Glen Hatfield with a 517 series.

Sollapaw Holt Ackerman led the field for the SAEs with 491. He was followed closely by his teammate Nick Gregory who hit the mark for 458.

The Delta Sigma Phi picked up three points at the expense of Theta Chi. Ken Schultz, of the Delta Sigs, knocked over enough pins for a 456. The big gun for Theta Chi was Ted Synolenski who had a 481 series.

Alpha Tau Omega captured three points from Lambda Chi Alpha as Jack Breslin was hitting the head pin for a 503 total. High man for Lambda Chi was Ted Matien who bowled the maples over for 455.

CORRECTION—In regard to WAA bowling matches last week, Delta Gamma and Alpha Gamma Delta, defeated the Alpha Phis. Also Alpha Chi Omega instead of Chi Omega defeated Alpha Xi Delta.

State Boxing Star Returns To Tutor Spartan Ring Squad

Newest addition to the Michigan State coaching staff is Lou Zarza, former Spartan football and boxing star, who will become assistant to Charley Bachman with the grid team and head coach of State's boxing squad. Athletic Director Ralph Young announced last night.

Zarza will arrive on the scene just in time to take over the ring team which is already working out in preparation for its first season since 1943.

In his playing days, the new Spartan tutor was best known for his feats on the gridiron, playing in the College All-Star National Professional League game in Soldier's field, Chicago, 1937. He also was a member of the East team in the New Year's Day East-West classic that season.

MSC Poolmen Have Humorist In DeMond

Top humorist of the Spartan pool is John DeMond, Jackson freshman, who continually entertains the famed Senator Klaghorn of Fred Allen program radio fame. Every practice session John breaks in a new routine on his unfortunate teammates.

State Weak Without Patterson

MSC Poolmen to Meet Illini

Weakened by the loss of their star backstroker, Howard Patterson, the Spartan tankers will trade blows tomorrow with the University of Illinois at 3 in the Jenison fieldhouse.

Due to the fact that only 650 seats are available for spectators, attendance at Michigan State home swimming meets this year will be limited to members of the student body on a first-come-first-served basis. Coach Charley McCaffree announced yesterday. Attendance will be by student coupon books. There are no reserved seats.

Coach Edwin J. Manley will bring a squad of sixteen men to meet the rival of the two schools, while Coach McCaffree will have to do some shuffling in the line-up in order to fill the spots vacated by Patterson.

From the following list the teams will pick two swimmers for each individual event and one relay for the relay events. As is the custom in all college swimming matches, the coaches do not announce their choices until the event is to be swum.

300-yard Medley Relay: Illinois—Bizzar, Hamilton; Weber, Gene; Johnson, Harlan, or Hastings; James, Bancall, Ross; Terp, Earl.

Abbot Hall Men to Entertain This Evening At Radio Party

Four Parties Planned For Tomorrow

When the clock strikes 12 tonight, Cinderella's glory will fade as the coed bid dance of the term will be over. At the same time the residents of Abbot hall will conclude their party which precincts 10 and 11 are giving.

The men in Abbot are going to push back the furniture in the lower lounge tonight and dust off their latest records in preparation for their first radio party of the term. Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Dickerson and Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Luker will chaperon the affair and Grant Mauldin is the party chairman.

The coeds of North and South Campbell will hold an open house tomorrow night and they will base the entertainment and decorations on a dreamland theme. This affair will be open to all men on campus. Also taking place Saturday night is a radio party which the Zeta Tau Alphas have planned. A Military Ball will conclude Saturday's social functions. It will be held in the Union ballroom and will serve as a farewell dance for the ASTRP students who will soon leave the campus.

News in Brief

NUERNBERG, Germany, Jan. 17 (AP) — A wartime French resistance chieftain today charged 22 top Nazis with torture, lootings and persecution and demanded the "supreme penalty" for them as an essential first step in re-educating Germany.

It was the first time that the prosecution had called directly for death sentences for the Nazis on trial before the International Military tribunal.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP) — Steel wage negotiations between CIO President Murray and Benjamin F. Fairless, president of U. S. Steel corporation, collapsed today at the White House.

President Truman promptly offered a compromise proposal which Murray and Fairless took under advisement for a decision by tomorrow noon.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP) — The Administration appointed a fact-finding board for the two-day-old meat strike today and arranged an immediate conference of the disputing parties with its chairman, Edwin E. Witte.

Secretary of Labor Schwelmbach's announcement described Witte as "an expert on the meat packing industry." He formerly was a public member of the War Labor board and chairman of the Detroit Regional War Labor board.

HOPPS

I go into irritated tantrums within the confines of my own four walls sometimes when I hear some of the one-sided discussions that persist day in and day out. Some of them concern what seem to be major issues, some minor, but in either case, a student usually winds up blaming the administration and leaving it at that. I always wish they'd tell the college heads about it instead of me.

I say "Laurels to Three of Many for getting their gripe where it will do the most good, and laurels to President Hannah for answering them so promptly." I would also suggest that more students attempt to get the facts and get them right before settling into a state of disgruntled endurance.

If we can get some of these little annoyances straightened out, we'll have a smoother time of it and may avert some of the big problems later. Too many times I've seen mountains from little molehills grow, and mountains are too darn heavy to carry around.
