Selection Please

A secret radio broadcast emanating from Wells hall stumped the boys there for some time until they discovered its source. All they discovered was a frequency, then Estman, Beulah sophomore, let his phonograph to a frequency that was being picked up by just about everybody in the dorm. No Nicksels anybody in the dorm. Required He has been playing popular, as well as classical, selections. Now that the mystery has been solved, the fellows pop in on Allen with special requests that he is usually able to comply with from his well-stocked record collection.

If There's A Will

The tendency of the grill to be somewhat overcrowded lately has challenged the resourcefulness of those who try to get something to eat or drink during the rush hours. Recently discovered methods are: (1) mail in an application (by check or money order) to Grand Central Station, track 9 East Lansing, giving present occupation and place of residence; (2) contact a wholesaler and set up a business of your own; (3) write your congressman.

Witness Admits Paying $135,000, In McKay Trial

JACKSON, Mich., Jan. 21 (AP)—Testimony that three of the five defendants in the liquor conspiracy trial here received nearly $200,000 in commissions on sales to the state liquor monopoly was presented today by Special Prosecutor Kim Sailer's first witness.

Thomas H. Gibbons, of Riverside, Ontario, vice-president of the Hiram Walker Liquor company, testified he paid William H. McKeighan, former mayor of Flint, more than $135,000 in 1935 and 1936 because he "enjoyed friendly relations with the state liquor control commission." He said McKeighan represented a sales agency.

Frank D. McKay, Grand Rapids politician and reputed former "boss" of the state Republican party, is the principal defendant.

Studio Theater Plans Two Three-Act Plays For Winter Quarter

Studio theater will hold its first meeting of the term tonight at 7:15 in room 49 of College Auditorium, according to Prof. Don Buell, who has charge of the group this term.

The organization is planning to produce two three-act plays, using six directors and six different casts. Each director will have charge of one act and will have his own cast. The productions will be presented Feb. 14 and 21. Buell has extended an invitation to returned Thespians to attend the meeting tonight.

Transit Union Cancels Plan To Strike

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP) City Councilman Michael J. Quill, international president of the Transport Workers union (CIO) said late today there would be no strike of employees of the city-owned transit system.

Quill made the announcement after Mayor William O'Dwyer told reporters any proposal to sell the city-owned power plants—a plan objected to by Quill—would have to be submitted to a public referendum.

A meeting of all feature writers will be held in the State News office at 5 p.m. tomorrow, according to Marjorie Landkamer, feature editor. All students interested in working on the staff in this capacity are asked to attend.

Quill's statement: "Based on the statement read to you by the Mayor, we will go back to our executive board and membership meeting and recommend that the threat of a strike be removed and that normal operation of the transit lines be continued."

Quill had said a strike of the city's 32,000 transit workers would be called unless the proposed sale was submitted to referendum.

The Mayor in his statement said, "the matter of disposing of the power plants has not come officially before me. If and when it does it will not receive my approval unless and until the people of the city have a vote on the matter."

Cuts Congestion New Numbers Given Dorms

By SYLVIA CIERNICK "Oh, those growing pains have got us." This time State's expansion program has hit at the college telephone system.

No longer is 8-1511 the magic key to the women's dormitories. It is now necessary when calling from off-campus to put the dialing finger to work on the new East Lansing numbers assigned to the dormitories.

Calls made on a college phone, or from one dormitory to another, will continue to be handled by the college operators under the old extension numbers.

Women calling an outside number from the dormitories will now have their numbers dialed for them by the dormitory switchboard operators.

It is hoped that by putting the dormitories on outside lines, part of the congestion at the college board will be removed.

Veteran Photographer Snaps Senior Pix

By MORTON D. SMERLING

"Faces here are on the photographic side, and take very easily," Herman Koch, photographer for Daguerre studio, remarked as he clicked another picture for the Wolverine in the yearbook office yesterday.

For the past two weeks Koch has been snapping personality portraits of seniors and group shots for the '46 yearbook. A veteran photographer, he has been in the business for more than 33 years, most of them with Daguerre. "You see, my Dad's one of the owners," he surmised.

Photography has been the warp and weef of Koch's life. He started his career as an assistant printer at Daguerre's, working there until 1917, when the first World War broke out. Whereupon, Koch joined up and went to France with the AEF. It was inevitable that he get behind a lens, for shortly after landing he took to the clouds and did some aerial photography.

Back from the war, Koch went to work for Daguerre's in Chicago again, this time as a full-pledged operator. Not long after, however, he started his own studio which he maintained for 10 years.

In 1935, the Motion Picture Operators' union sent him to Hollywood where he did "still" work.

"Stills," Koch explained, "are pictures made of motion pictures, the ones you see in front of theaters and in the newspapers." He can recall working on shots of such all-time favorites as Jean Harlow, Will Rogers, and Mary Pickford.

Returning from Hollywood, Koch went back with Daguerre's. He has been associated with them ever since, except for the three years, 1941-'43, when the navy department employed him at Great Lakes naval training station to take photographs of military secrets.

"Our specialty is schoolwork, and we do portraits in high schools and colleges in Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio, and Iowa," Koch explained.

750,000 CIO Workers Strike

Police Take 13 Into Custody

A city policeman bumps into a man in army uniform during a picket line melee in Chicago, which resulted in 13 persons being taken into custody near the Chicago Union stockyards where a packing house employees' strike is in progress.

Union Calls Strike; Shuts Down Mills All Over Country

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 21 (AP) — The CIO steelworkers shut down the vast steel industry today in a far-flung strike which the union's leaders said will continue "as long as it takes" to win wage demands.

The prospect for a long strike of the 750,000 CIO United Steel workers grew as steel and aluminum mills and iron ore mines closed in 25 states and picket lines formed to keep them closed.

CIO Viewpoint

Philip Murray, union president and head of the CIO, who is conducting postwar pay increase drives in automobile, electrical and other industries, outlined the steelworkers' position at a news conference here.

"We're prepared to go through with this thing no matter how long it takes," Murray declared. He said he meant the strike will go on until the steel industry accepts the decision of the President and the United States.

President's Proposal

President Truman had recommended an 18 1/2 cents an hour increase as a compromise between Murray's offer of 19 1/2 and one of 15 cents by Benjamin Fairless, president of the United States Steel corporation.

In Washington there was talk of possible government seizure of the industry, but officials said if this is done it probably would not happen for several days. President Truman conferred with his steel fact-finding commission.

Picket Lines

In general, pickets allowed maintenance men to cross their lines to tend idled equipment.

There were some exceptions. J. L. Perry, president of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation, U. S. Steel subsidiary, said in a statement that pickets had refused to admit "our regular maintenance employes irrespective of union affiliation or non-affiliation."

Pickets around the Jones & Laughlin steel plants at Pittsburgh also declined to let maintenance men through.

Guy Hill Receives Ph.D From U. of M.

Guy H. Hill, assistant professor of education, will receive his doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Michigan on March 1. His thesis has been written on the state wide study of problems facing beginning teachers.

Dr. Hill has had 25 years experience in the field of education. During that time he has held various positions in South Carolina schools and between 1935-38 he was principal of the East Lansing high school. Following this, he was appointed assistant professor of education at the college.

Also to his credit are several textbooks and various offices on state and national education committees.

Council Seeks Suggestions

Student council is reconverting. In full recognition of the necessity for revising wartime procedures, Pres. Helen Fisher has announced that the constitution must be overhauled as soon as possible. Proper representation looms as the number one problem. For the past two years, council members assumed office by petition and vote of its members. Strictly a wartime measure, such a procedure is obviously outmoded and can in no way simulate representation of our student body today. How shall representation be apportioned? By total student numbers, by sex, by dormitories, by schools, by fraternities and sororities, by organizations, — how? This problem is of vital concern to every student. Effective student government demands that our council be truly representative, that it speak for all students. The danger of disproportionate representation, of political manipulation by special-interest groups, of high pressure tactics by self-seeking individuals must all be guarded against. The groundwork can be laid now for protection from these dangers by constructing a workable system of representation to meet our needs. Student council welcomes every constructive suggestion. Students can leave their suggestions at the Union desk in care of Ann Cowan, secretary of the council.

Affairs of State

By TONI EBNER and SALLY CLARK

MUST be that the men around these parts are waiting for bigger and better weekends to consult their affairs of heart. Of course it could be that the weather has put them in the frozen-status of romance. But, whatever it is, we sure have gone down into rock bottom to scrape what little we could find together.

Dating way back in December we found that Beth Alcock, Port Huron junior, received a beautiful sparkler from Capt. Claude Marshall of East Lansing. Claude just returned from overseas where he was in the AAF. He is a graduate of State and a member of Lambda Chi fraternity. Port Huron seems to be the center of the hearts and flower department this week. Still more news from those horizons has to do with Barbara Conroy and John Fead. John, who is a junior at Notre Dame, decided to make Barbara a permanent offer lasting a lifetime, by presenting to her a luscious ring last week.

The navy's back again and this time it's in the name of Stuart Sadelman, of Detroit. Seems he and Pearl Goldberg are now classified under the heading of "engaged." Stuart is an AEP at Marquette university under the navy training program.

Still more news is that about Eleanor Rost, Lansing senior, Saturday was the big day in her life when Chuck Nelson, also a Lansing senior, presented her with a diamond. Chuck is an ATO.

These town girls and men are doing alright by themselves. Bob Hewitt and Pat Ludt are the two people concerned. With an eye to the future they have set the date as Aug. 3, when Pat will add a second ring to the newly acquired one. Pat is a junior while Bob is a freshman.

Turning from the engagements to more permanent things like marriages, we find two on the docket.

The first is that of Kay Wattles and Bob Edgell. The event took place Saturday evening in Royal Oak. Kay is a graduate of 44 and a member of Alpha Chi Omega, and Bob is a member of Psi U. The lucky couple flew to Florida for their honeymoon.

The second marriage of the day is that of Dorothy Benjamin, Croswell senior, who became the bride of Herbert Holmes, late of the cavalry. The couple are now attending MSC, where the groom is a junior.

Midnight tubbings at the Catherine Black house are saved for special occasions. The latest one was for June Hovcraft, Birmingham freshman, when she turned up with a diamond from Bob Toth, of Trenton, N. J., recently discharged from the army.

Finishing up the engagement department's latest findings, Belle Jane Willett, Charlotte freshman, has special sentiments.

Vets to Assemble On MSC Campus

For the 23rd consecutive year the post-graduate conference for veterinarians will be held on campus. Ralph W. Tenny, director of the short course institute, announced today. The meeting will be in session for four days beginning this morning. Discussions on the rapid scientific developments and problems brought about by the war and other related subjects, will be led by staff members of the college veterinary department and eminent authorities from all over the nation. Laboratory facilities will be available for use by the attendants.

Legion Continues Drive For New Membership

The Red Cedar post of the American Legion has been sponsoring a membership drive this week, with a membership drive in the lower deck of the Union Philip Rosenblatt, chairman of the legion, announced that up to Friday and Saturday had joined the legion, are women.

The Red Cedar post is an organization on campus representing veterans, and a student government representative to Student Council.

Swimmers Take Illinois In Second Win

Continuing in their winning ways, the State natators defeated Illinois 48 to 36 before a capacity crowd of 700 students Saturday afternoon. This was the second victory for Coach Charles McCaffrey's tankers in as many starts.

Placed Second
Gilbert also placed second in the 100 yard freestyle, being edged out by John Haulenbeek of Illinois.

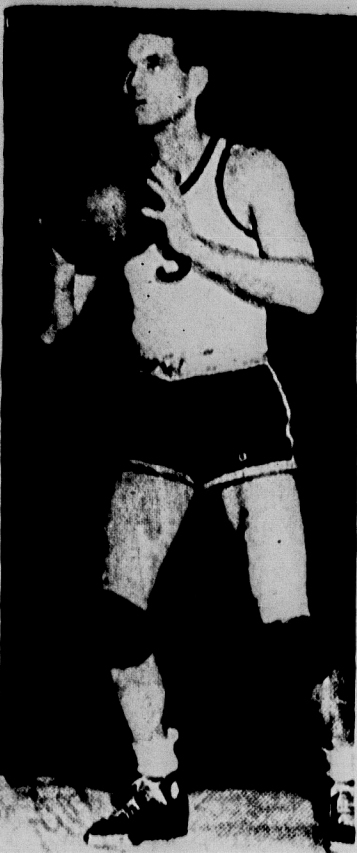

The Spartans broke another varsity and meet record in the 400 yard freestyle relay, when Jim Thomas, Bob Allwardt, Zigmund Indyke, and Jim Quigley swam the race in 3:42.1.

Quigley, Dunbar Take Firsts
Facing true to form, the State women showed balance in all events, winning seven events. Both relays scored firsts, Quigley won the 50 yard freestyle and Don Dunbar scored first place in the 100 yard.

Willard Cooley ably replaced Howard Patterson in the 150 yard backstroke by taking first, while Paul Seibold romped to an easy victory in the 200 yard breaststroke.

Next action for the tankers will come Friday at 7:30 when the swimmers from Purdue university invade the Spartan pool.

Visits Campus

Chet Aubuchon, Spartan all-American basketball star in 1939, was recently discharged from the navy after serving for more than three years in Pacific theater campaigns. He visited the MSC campus the past weekend and said that he is interested in lining up a coaching position.

Track Team Ready For Buckeye Tilt

Although no spectacular times were turned in Saturday afternoon in preparation for the coming track meet with Ohio State next Saturday, the Spartan endermen showed the all-around balance that usually means a good season.

Walter Mack, cross country team captain, indicated that he will be a tough man to beat by turning in winning times in the mile and half mile. Walt Kalmbach came in a close second in the mile while Don Thaden took second in the half.

Jim Frazier had his own way in the 440 and is rapidly regaining the form which marked him as an outstanding quarter miler in 1943.

Frosh Kelly Outstanding
Mason Kelly, an outstanding freshman, won the 75-yard dash after fighting it out with Francis Clappert, a veteran from last year's team.

Amien Carter, freshman hurdler from Flint, edged out veterans Jack Dodge and Bob Carrier in the high hurdles. He also took a second in the low hurdles, won by Carrier.

The two-mile developed into a thrilling race with Hugh Hughes, freshman from Flint, nudging out E. Kiczanski in the last lap. Both will be entered against the Buckeyes.

Wins In Pole Vault
Bob Carr had to go a long way up to beat out veteran Ted Wonch in the pole vault. Bob Vosburg, Notre Dame transfer, was also in the running all the way.

George Osborn beat out Ray Beckord in the high jump and Wayne Finkbeiner led the way in the broad jump.

Bruce Drynan is beginning to look like his old self in the shot put and took a first in the event.

Shorty Krall Unbeaten State Wrestlers Takes Over Starting Role Prepare for Purdue Meet

Due to his outstanding play against DePaul last Friday Shorty Krall will probably start at center for Michigan State tomorrow evening when the once-beaten University of Detroit quintet invades Jenison fieldhouse. Coach Ben Van Alstyne stated at practice yesterday afternoon.

Only last week Krall helped pull the Wayne game out of the fire when he replaced Matt Mazzoni and went almost the entire second half. Against the Tartars he got eight points and the DePaul tilt slipped in only four, but all were free throws.

In most every Detroit game this year the Titans have fouled heavily. With Krall in the pivot spot he is bound to get quite a few free tosses and if he continues his accuracy from the charity line, it may prove the difference between the two clubs.

Waldron Gets 20 Points
High point man for the Spartans in the 58-52 loss to DePaul was Guard Don Waldron, who hit the peshes for 20 points, his best performance for State so far this year. In the Cincinnati game Waldron shipped in five field goals, his most up until last weekend.

Should Waldron and his running-mate, Ollie White, who got nine against the Demons, be hot again from the back line and Forwards Sam Fortino and Robin Roberts hit their usual pace, the MSC endermen should be in the driver's seat against the Titans. In the DePaul game Fortino made 12, but Roberts, currently in a slump, had only two baskets to his credit.

Titans Guard Close
However, the Detroit five is a traditional close-guarding outfit.

PLAYERS WANTED
Coach John Kobs announced that there would be a meeting of all men interested in trying out for the varsity baseball team in the Jenison fieldhouse, room 215, at 4 this afternoon.

and Van Alstyne's charges may find it difficult to maintain their high-scoring pace. State will have to turn on the defense also, what with Detroit boasting some very fine shooters.

Leading the Titans into the fray will be Center Gino Sovran, current scoring sensation around the Motor City, and Art Richardson, the forward whose 14 points did so much to help the Titans knock off Marquette last Saturday.

So far this season Detroit has won seven while losing only to Illinois, one of the Big Ten's best.

To relax the mind is to lose it. —Musonius.

Returning from Champaign where they defeated Illinois matmen 15-11, the Spartan grapplers went to work immediately in preparation for Friday's test with Purdue's Big Ten champions.

Boilermaker wrestlers will invade Jenison fieldhouse. Spartan grapplers captured five of the eight matches in the meet but failed to score as decisive a victory as pre-meet dopsters had predicted for them.

A shift in strategy by Illinois pitted Dave Shapiro, star of the enemy camp, against State's veteran Jack Orr. Shapiro pinned Orr in five minutes and 51 seconds to put the fighting Illini out in front 12-11 with only one bout to go.

A near fall was the best Iggy Konrad, State 145-pound star, could get against Jack Petry. Petry, highly lauded and undefeated in 1945, was in trouble most of the time as Konrad worked him into the "Konrad specialty," a figure four headscissor, only to lose him each time.

With State trailing 12-11, Bob Maldegen, heavyweight, carried all of State's remaining hopes of victory into his match with Illinois' Mort Shimler. Maldegen performed in fine fashion, defeating Shimler 4-1 to give the Spartans three points and the meet 15-11. It was Maldegen's second win in as many starts in collegiate mat circles.

Summaries: 121 pounds, Tomaras (I) defeated Fletcher (MS) 9-4; 128 pounds, Biggs (I) lost to Covey (MS) 6-1; 136 pounds, Pankeloff (I) defeated Mowery (MS) 6-0; 145 pounds, Konrad (MS) defeated Petry (I) 10-6; 155 pounds, Miles (MS) defeated Gunwald (I) 6-1; 165 pounds, Dowell (MS) defeated Squires (I) 6-2; 175 pounds, Shapiro (I) pinned Orr (MS) 5:51 (bodylock and half nelson); heavyweight, Maldegen (MS) defeated Shimer (I) 6-1.

Tennis Hopeful To Meet Thursday

All candidates for the 1946 varsity tennis team are requested to meet in Jenison fieldhouse on the bleachers Thursday at 5:10 p.m. Coach Charles Bell plans to start practice as soon as possible and desires that anyone unable to be present contact him on college telephone extension 521 or drop by his office, 324 Kedzie chemical building.

Capt. Tom Hamilton Named Grid Coach At Naval Academy

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 21 (AP)—Appointment of Capt. Thomas J. Hamilton, former football coach and athlete star at the naval academy, as the new head coach to succeed Commander Oscar E. Hagberg was announced today.

Vice Admiral Aubrey W. Fitch, academy superintendent, said that Hamilton would return in time for the opening of spring practice March 1. Hamilton now is commanding the escort carrier, Sava Island.

Tom Hamilton coached the Midies in 1934-35-36, and previously starred as quarterback on the great undefeated Navy team of 1928 that battled Army to the memorable 21-21 tie at Chicago. It was Hamilton's dropkick for extra point in the last quarter that tied the score.

During the three years that Hamilton coached, Navy won 19 and lost eight games. His best year was 1934, with eight victories and one defeat.

Swim Manager Calls For Manager Help

Arlon Quigley, varsity swimming team manager, needs an assistant. The work entails helping Quigley take times, run errands, get towels for the swimmers, make out reports, and several other duties. Anyone interested in helping out is asked to apply to either Coach Charles McCaffrey or Quigley at the swimming pool.

Bill Tilden, a tennis great, didn't reach championship level until the age of 27.

UNO Reviews A-Bomb Problem

Proposed Commission to Protect Each Nation's Atomic Secrets

LONDON, Jan. 21 (AP) — The political and security committee of the ten nations assembly today approved establishment of a special commission to devise controls for atomic energy, shortly after a United States delegate made it clear that secrets of America's atom bomb technique would be protected.

U. S. Senator Tom Connally, U. S. delegate and chairman of the foreign relations committee of the U. S. Senate, told the committee that the proposed commission could not make any country yield any atomic secret or take any other action. He explained that the commission would be able only to make recommendations.

Two Governments Fall

The atom development came as two governments prominent in the birth of the United Nations, the French and Iranian, fell over the weekend, creating new problems for the infant organization.

While France stood without a settled government, Prime Minister Peter Fraser of New Zealand demanded that France and South Africa turn their mandates over to the world peace agency's trusteeship council immediately.

Iranian developments, following Iran's appeal to the security council to intervene in its dispute with Russia, drew keener interest from delegates with the Shah's acceptance of the resignation of Prime Minister Ibrahim Hakimi.

Possible Negotiations

Nasrullah Entezam, Iran delegate, told newsmen that Hakimi's resignation "may mean the institution of direct negotiations with Russia," thus projecting the possibility that the dispute might be withdrawn from the security council.

The legal committee voted 32 to 14 that the general (steering) committee should not be allowed to discuss any political questions, but it should be confined to strictly administrative issues.

At a meeting of the assembly's economic and financial committee, Pedro Lopez, of the Philippine commonwealth, was elected vice chairman.

College Receives Garden Project In Irish Hills

Michigan State college was recently the recipient of 227 acres of land situated in the Irish Hills near Tipton and an endowment for its operation and development. The land was given to the college by H. A. Fee of Adrian, a native and electrical pioneer of Michigan, who acquired the land in 1925.

The tract is advantageously situated on main travel arteries from Ohio and Indiana, and near large population centers of this state. Fee has been developing this land, the Hidden Gardens, for the last 20 years, and at the present time the project includes an entrance from the state highway greenhouses, and three miles of road leading to scenic spots.

Dr. H. B. Tukey, head of the college department of horticulture, is chairman of the committee charged with handling the project. Tukey announced that Fee has made an outstanding contribution to horticulture with the gardens and various decorative trees and plants he has planted on the land. The committee plans to use all the facilities available to further improve the Hidden Gardens into one of the outstanding parks of its kind in the country.

Truman Appoints Board Member

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP) — President Truman today picked Commodore James K. (Jake) Vardaman, his naval aide and a figure in the White House inter-circle, for a 14-year term on the Federal Reserve Board of Governors.

The chief executive sent the nomination to the Senate along with that of Vice Admiral Alan G. Kirk to be ambassador to Belgium and minister to Luxembourg.

Vardaman was named to succeed John McKee, who sought retirement to private life after 15 years in the public service. Kirk, upon confirmation, would succeed Charles Sawyer, who quit recently to return to private law practice at Cincinnati.

State Press To Assemble

Michigan Press association will hold its 78th annual meeting in Lansing, Friday and Saturday, Gene H. Alleman, of the journalism department, has announced.

Meetings will be held in the Spartan room and ballroom of the Hotel Olds. Lunch and dinner programs, roundtable discussions and election of officers will constitute the convention.
