... To Kill or Not

Professor Hans Leonhardt told members of his comparative government class they should brush up on their spelling. The cause for his disturbance was that a student had spelled "assassination" incorrectly: "assination." Leonhardt thought it was perfectly asinine.

... Reddy Kilowatt

Dr. William Kimmel's lecture in history and music class was cut short by the sudden screeching of a record-player. Turning the machine off, he mentioned the abundance of static electricity lately and asked if anyone knew the cause. A voice from the back of the room quipped, "It's the collection of Quirt paintings in the art gallery."

Noted Artists
To Play Violin,
Harpsichord

Alexander Schneider, violinist and Ralph Kirkpatrick, harpsichordist, long known for their performances of chamber music, will present a concert at 8 p.m. Monday in the Music auditorium, according to Roy L. Underwood, head of the music department.

Schneider was, until recently, a member of the Budapest String quartet, and Kirkpatrick is recognized as America's most eminent harpsichordists, both in solo recital and ensemble programs.

This duo of celebrated artists play some of the finest eighteenth century music, that of Bach, Mozart, Handel, Couperin, Tartini, and others.

Schneider and Kirkpatrick made their first transcontinental tour in 1944, under the auspices of the Coolidge Foundation of the Library of Congress, and have since made two other tours, bringing to a total of nearly 50 the concerts played in the first season.

Their program will include three Sonatas, in A major, F major, and D major, by Mozart, and two Sonatas, No. I in B minor, and No. II in E major, by Bach.

Frosh, Soph Class Elections

Stassen Sets
Four Phases
Of U.S. Policy

Speaking on the subject "Responsibilities of Victory," Captain Harold E. Stassen emphasized to his audience in College auditorium last night that the United States should make clear the policies it will pursue in world affairs.

"All the nations have their responsibilities," he pointed out. "We in the United States should think through our responsibilities in the world and proceed realistically, with hope and confidence" in their fulfillment.

Stassen discussed four phases of American responsibility in the postwar world.

1. The United States should give continuous and vigorous support to the United Nations organization. This is no guarantee of peace, but would be establishing a "beachhead" of peace.

2. "We must definitely commit ourselves to a domestic policy" that would go along with the other nations in carrying out the "will of the peoples of the world who want peace and economic progress."

3. A determination of our atomic policy. The speaker recommended that the manufacture, possession and use of the atomic bomb be outlawed; that a system of inspection and control be instituted; and that scientists working on atomic experiments be registered.

4. The establishment of an Annapolis or West Point of diplomacy to add to the personnel of the state department more able, effective and better trained young people to carry out our policies in world affairs.—M.D.S.

in 206 Horticulture building for the freshman group and 130 Morrill hall for the sophomores, according to Dale Brown, Sebawaing senior, and will begin at 5 p.m.

The Spartan Victory Loan fund, a fund of money collected from dances, penny voting, and various campaigns held during the war years, was discussed at length, and the council recommended that the fund of over $2,000 be made available to any regular enrolled man or woman student.

Preference to Vets

Preference for distribution of the loans will be shown to returning service persons, John McCaughna, St. Charles senior and fund committee head, said.

The fund, established in December, 1942, was directed primarily toward students who left MSC to enter service and have since returned. It was designed so that for 10 years following the end of the war, veterans would be given preference, with students who have attended State a year also eligible.

Fund By-Laws

Requirements for the fund by-laws include, (a) a 1.0 all-college scholastic average, and (b) previous attendance at MSC for three terms. This second prerequisite was amended last night to read that the previous attendance could be waived at the discretion of the scholarship committee in the case of veterans.

Loans are limited to $100 per term, with a maximum total of $200 allowed for each student borrowing. When the loan is taken out, a note is signed which would come due one year from the date of the borrower's graduation. No interest rate will be charged for the first six months, McCaughna said, but a four per cent rate will start after that period.

International Center Forms
Hub of Foreign Student Life

Located across from President Hannah's home on Faculty Row is the International center, one of the most interesting places on campus.

This hub of foreign student life is supervised by Dr. and Mrs. Shao Chang Lee who have devoted a great deal of time and effort in making it a real home for students. Their hospitalities go even to meeting the foreign students when they arrive on campus and housing them for a few days until they become situated.

Friday night the center resembles

Michigan Bell Telephone
To Interview Women

Michigan Bell Telephone company, of Detroit, will be represented on campus tomorrow. Placement Director Tom King, has announced. Miss Roberta Taylor will interview women business administration seniors who are interested in personnel work.

King added that appointments with Miss Taylor may be made by calling placement office, Ext. 525.

bles a meeting of the UNO though much more informal. China is represented by 22 students, Brazil 4, India 5, Canada 11, Costa Rica 6, Panama 2, Ecuador 5, Cuba 2, Columbia 2, one each from Peru, Honduras and Haiti, and several others from various countries; in all, a total of 75 foreign students. In addition there are many nieces and nephews of Uncle Sam who are members of the club.

Friday nights are the fun nights. Sometimes the Friday night meetings are held in the Union because of the large turnouts. They consist of planned entertainment or the students provide their own music, sing their native songs and do native dances. The best rhumba teachers on campus will be found at the center on Friday nights.

One Sunday in almost every month is set aside for open house. On the remaining Sundays there are evening programs. These programs are open to all interested students and members of the faculty, as are most of the meetings of the center.

Midterm Enrollment
Swells Registration
To 7,139 Students

At the midterm registration of Monday and Tuesday, 103 men and 20 women enrolled. This makes a total of 123 new students, 81 of which are returning veterans. These figures include some short course students.

The most recent registration figures show that there is now a total of 7,139 students enrolled in Michigan State college. There are 3,650 men, 2,300 of that number being veterans, and 3,489 women students.

Soviet Vice Commissar Andrei Vishinsky declared in a statement to the council that he would not insist on a declaration that British troops in Greece were a menace to world peace, as he had originally charged, nor that those troops should be withdrawn immediately.

Britain Accepts

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin then announced Britain would accept a formula for settling the dispute which was drafted originally by the United States and introduced tonight by Russia. It provided for having the council drop the case with a statement by President Norman J. O. Makin of Australia, and pass on to the next business.

Both Vishinsky and Bevin assured members of the council that their main aim was for unity in the interest of world peace and stated individually their willingness to make concessions to that end.

American-Drawn Plan

Vishinsky put forward the American-drawn formula after he had flatly rejected a compromise advanced by Makin, and instead presented this plan:

1. That the council make no formal resolution of the Greek case.

2. That Makin as president of the council should make a declaration of the situation.

3. That this declaration should state that the council has taken note of statements made by the delegates of the Soviet union, the United Kingdom and Greece.

LETTERS To The Editor

To the Editor:
To add to the list of petty grievances of various members of the student body, I propose another. This is the matter of carelessly cutting across campus wherever the way seems shorter or the mud shallower. Granted that the unseasonal weather changes have made the turf soggy, yet is it necessary to plod across every saturated grassy plot?

This and the other grievances that have been brought to light in the State News spring from one source—student spirit. This hackneyed expression is the crux of every adverse condition that has been mentioned at State.

The tradition of Michigan State college is one of a united student body and of friendliness reigning paramount. But the situation has changed. Now the student body is subdivided into various pressure groups, social groups, and classes. This unprecedented subdivision of the student body has led to negligence of the Spartan tradition.

No group should take the responsibility of flaunting tradition for inconsequential personal satisfaction. Allegiance to the school must be supreme if we are to have winning teams, a beautiful campus, worthwhile traditions, or personal pride in the fact that we are students of State.

What this school needs is not more "keep off the grass" signs, or editorials on "smoking on campus," or more inducement to athletes to obtain better teams. What this school needs is unification and elevation of the esprit de corps. All things spring from this: traditions are honored, friendliness enhanced, student participation increased, athletic prowess strengthened, and pride grows in the individual to say "I am a student (or graduate) of Michigan State college!"

If this panacea seems too simple, we only need look to the spirit of such schools as Harvard, Princeton, Notre Dame, or many others. Our school is only as much as we make it; it is not the product of appropriations of the legislature or winning football teams. These things do count, but only secondarily. Primarily there must be a will and a spirit that unifies the student body against all subversive opposition. How is your SPARTAN SPIRIT?

Robert Vosburg

Affairs of State

By TONI EBNER
and
SALLY CLARK

NOW that the midterm exams are over with and the books can be put away for another three or four weeks, things in this department are beginning to hum. Wonder why it is that people can't concentrate on both affairs of the mind and heart at the same time. Anyhow, things are starting to happen around here, so we'll get down to business and let you in on Mr. Cupid's latest victims.

In the engagement department Violet Schwartz, Flint freshman, received a ring Friday night from Abe Myers, also of Flint. Abe has just recently been discharged from the army.

Mary Kleinhans was busy over the weekend adding another ring to the one she was already wearing. She and Bob Thaden were married Saturday at Peoples church. Bob is a Delta Sig, and has just gotten out of the army. Mary is a senior from East Lansing.

With these hasty gems of romantic gleanings the tide of news turns to Greek letter activities. Five new Alpha Chi activities are wearing the lyre for the first time. New initiates are Marion Cannon, Toledo, O., sophomore; Virginia French, Niles sophomore; Millie Lowe, Buffalo, N. Y., sophomore; Doris Pick, Grosse Pointe junior, and Betty Lou Harkin, Marquette sophomore.

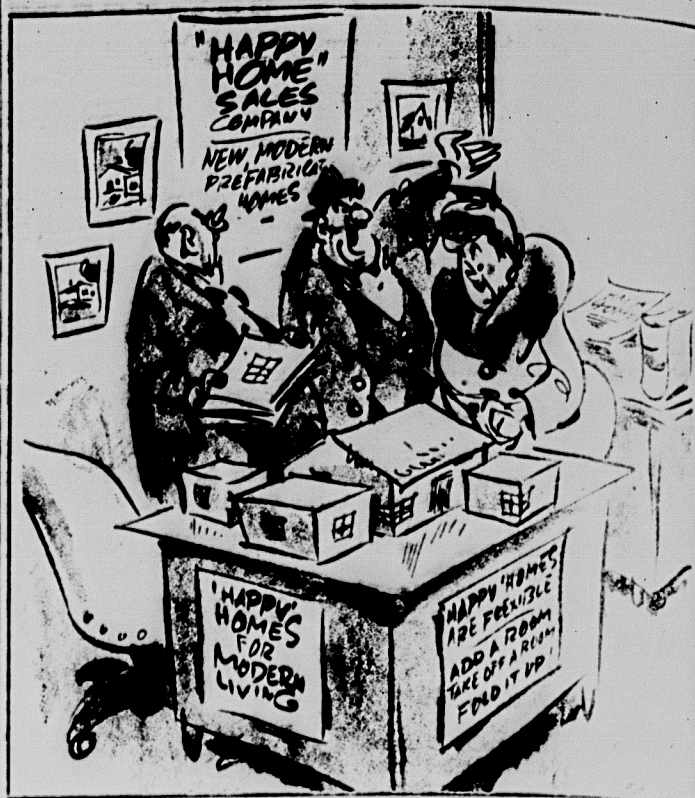

Sorority pins are getting more numerous as the term rolls along. The Chi Os have three new activities. They are Pat Crane, Detroit sophomore; Virginia Gilhooly, East Lansing sophomore, and Gray Campbell, Rapid City sophomore.

The bright star of Sigma Nu has meaning for new initiates Donald Coddington, Jackson freshman; Wilbur Hart, Jackson freshman, and Dick Poole, Cincinnati, O., freshman. Completing the roll of new activities are Charles Holland, East Lansing freshman, and Kent Esbaugh, Grand Rapids freshman.

With even more gusto the SAs were busy with a matter of pledging this week. In this category are Amien Carter, Saginaw freshman; Lane Stone, French

Wayne Cagers Invade State Court Tonight

Home from the season's roughest road trip, Michigan State college cagers will take on the formidable Wayne university quintet tonight at 8 in the Jenison fieldhouse gym.

Victors in seven out of 14 games, the Spartans are aiming to better their 500 average. A not too profitable southern road trip saw State drop two games to Kentucky and Notre Dame, and cash in on a victory over Cincinnati.

Wayne's Tartars, who lost to State three weeks ago, provided stubborn opposition throughout the initial tilt with the Spartans, and it wasn't until the end of the affair that State managed to pull the game out of the fire for a 53 to 47 victory.

State's spark plug trio of Sam Fortino, Robin Roberts, and O. L. White have chalked up 402 of the squad's 710 points. These men, along with the rest, have sparked the Spartans through the worst of the season.

Wayne's squad, ranking among the potential favorites among the lesser lights in the midwest, recently dropped a tilt to Cincinnati. Since State defeated Cincinnati, critics are inclined to favor the Spartans in this game.

Coach Van Alstyne reported another center candidate working with the squad, Jack Wulf, 6-foot, 6 1/2 inch Chicago boy, who just graduated from Senn high school in Chicago, entered college in the midwinter quarter and is already working out with the squad. Wulf was one of the leading scorers in the Chicago high school league.

Open Letter To State Fans:

This is to come to the rescue of Shorty Krall.

He takes a terrific "riding" from the crowd during home games, and since we think Shorty's a pretty good fellow, we feel it's unfair to throw up a lot of raucous remarks everytime he sets feet on the court.

It's not that way on road trips. That is when he is free to do his best. Anyone who has been on a trip with the team will tell you that Shorty is the boy to watch when the team needs rallying. Who can ever forget the way Shorty bottled up DePaul's all-American George Miken. Miken made 23 points that night, but when Shorty was guarding him Miken could only break away for four baskets.

And it was Shorty who saved the Wayne game on Jan. 15 by rallying the team with his hard and terrific backboard work. The recent road trip that saw the Spartans play Kentucky, Notre Dame, and Cincinnati also saw Krall in his best role.

But when Shorty is home he just can't live up to his usual performance. The crowd doesn't do him justice by constantly "riding" him on the floor. Shorty is a big boy and slightly conscious of his size, but he plays a sportsman's game, and we're for him.

So let's cut the jeers and boos short. Certainly he deserves a better break than that.

Certainly Dig Up Classy Handles For Their Teams

By MARGE McRAY

What's in a name? Women basketball enthusiasts have turned up with team titles that are anywhere from the hearts and flowers stage to the flora and fauna category.

Janet Hill, Pat Mulligan and Ethelyn Smith, members of one of the teams, report that while sitting around trying to think of a name for their team they came to the conclusion that a fast and snappy name needed a fast and snappy name and thus the "Steamteam" came into being.

Pi Beta Phi Has 'Darts'

The Pi Beta Phis modified their arrow into a dart and call their team the "Darts," according to Julie Mackey. Other outstanding members of the team are Pat Coombs and Marilyn Mead.

One of the clubs is miss-named, according to Jeanne Bertelsen, who assured us that their name, "Lonely Hearts," was a carryover from last year and not true at all this term.

Includes 'S' for State

Wanting to include the name of their house, Potter house, and also the name of the college, the Potter House girls came to the conclusion that "Spots" fitted their need. Betty Sawyer is sports manager for this team with Helen Jeffords the team's star.

Jean Cunningham reported that their team was named after their sorority flower, the violet and thus the name "Violets."

It seems that there's a rumor that physical education majors are hearty and certainly members of this campus are Spartans. So one hardwood group came to be called the "Hearty Sparties". Among the best of its players are Gloria Oster, Doris Pick, Marion Duncan, and Helen Nussdorfer.

Slippery Slickers

Ruth Arner, Lu Coolman and Mary True are all members of the "Slippery Slickers" team and report that it was the name of one of the girls high school teams.

Probably the most startling and fantastic name, the "Purple Passions" has after all a very logical source.

Spartan Freshmen Poised To Break Collegiate Tank Marks

Michigan State college swimmers, heading for the University of Wisconsin, not only have their minds set on beating the Badgers Saturday, but Coach Charles McCaffree's boys hope that two new records will fall to Spartan glory.

Howard Patterson will be out to break the freshman intercollegiate 150-yard backstroke record of 1:37.9 set by Paul Herron, of Stanford university in 1939. Also the 400-yard relay team—comprising Patterson, John DeMond, James Quigley, and Robert Allwardt—has its guns set on the freshman relay record.

Patterson, one of the big point-makers on the State team, is undefeated in backstroke competition this season. He broke his old varsity meet record of 1:40.4, bringing it down to 1:39.6 in the meet with Michigan last Saturday night.

The 400-yard intercollegiate freshman freestyle relay record is 3:42.0, set by Brown university in 1941. State's relay team has beaten this record by close to two seconds. However, that is when Zigmund Indyke swam with the crew. Since Indyke is ineligible to compete for this mark, Patterson will fill in the vacancy.

McCaffree expects to take 15 men to Wisconsin. Present plans call for the squad to leave Friday afternoon and return Sunday.

Men scheduled to make the trip are Patterson, Willard Coolley, Paul Seibold, James Thomas, James Quigley, Robert Allwardt, Abel Gilbert, John DeMond, Zigmund Indyke, Don Dunbar, Dudley Harned, Dean Waters, Allyn McCormie, Enrique Rendon, and Harland Dodge.

State Riflers Win Over Five Schools

The Spartan rifle team outshot five colleges in telegraphic meets on Jan. 26 and Feb. 2.

Shooting ten men on a squad in prone, kneeling, sitting, and standing, the Spartans compiled a 2,693 series against Ohio State's 3,598 and University of Illinois' 3,650. Shooting a five-man team the Spartans ran up an 1,382 series against University of Michigan's 1,695 and University of Chicago's 1,868.

In the meet with Massachusetts Institute of Technology on Feb. 2, Spartan riflers shot an 1,863 series against their opponents' 1,339.

McCaffree's boys hope that two new records will fall to Spartan glory.

Rendon and McCormie, two newcomers to the squad, will swim in the freestyle department, but McCaffree has not yet decided in which events to place them.

Navy Ring Team To Test State In Initial Meet

By MARTY HANRAHAN

"Condition will be the prime factor when State takes on Ottawa Naval Air station this coming Saturday evening," says boxing Coach Lou Zarza. "We may not have the experience but we have the condition and enthusiasm, and that's what wins college meets."

The mitt coach is highly satisfied with the condition of his Spartan boxers and has been working them extra hard the past few days, keeping the boys keyed up for the opening meet against Ottawa this Saturday in Iowa.

The lineup for the first meet has been announced by Zarza and barring any late casualties, these men will carry State colt-Tierney and Doug Heath, at 127 ors into Saturday's match.

In the lighter classes, John pounds, featherweight class, and John Martin at 135 pounds, will represent State.

Johnny "Chief" Crapton, 145 pound welterweight, Barney Glowicki, at 155 pounds, and Jim Deniger, a 165-pound middleweight, will carry the Spartan hopes in those divisions.

Mike Bielaczyc, light heavyweight at 175 pounds, and Lloyd Coon, 200-pound heavyweight, complete the State lineup.

Zarza announced also that Chuck Calkins, one of MSC's best boxers in 1942-43, reported yesterday and will be ready to box for State in the second meet of the season Feb. 16 against Syracuse.

New Bowling High

Steffee Heads Bowlers With 235

Keith Steffee, bowling for the Alpha Tau Omega five, took over command of the high individual game bracket Tuesday night by racking up four spares and seven strikes in a row for a 235 game. The lead was previously held by Doug Fetz, Sigma Nu, who had a 233.

However, Steffee's high game was not enough for the ATO keggers to beat the Delta Sigma Phi outfit. The Delta Sig men won every game which was good for three points and then added another point for total pins.

Leading the winning team was Pattee Luman, who came up with a 128 series. High point man for the losers was Steffee with 518. At the same time, the ATO bowlers rolled off a match with Delta Chi, due to a discrepancy in the schedule. By virtue of John Potts' 455, Delta Chi split with ATO at two points each.

Over on the other side of the aisles, Sigma Nu took four points from Lambda Chi Alpha, with George Kinas leading the winners by rolling a 503 series.

Dick Kieppe, former Spartan footballer, replacing Doug Fritz who has left for the service, was second high for Sigma Nu with 479.

Leading the losers was John Markham who had a total of 418.

CIO, GM Strike Rests On Steel Settlement

Wage Issue Remains Deadlocked As Parties Discuss Minor Points

DETROIT, Feb. 6 (AP) — Special federal mediator James F. Dewey today expressed the opinion that the "steel strike must be settled before the General Motors strike can be settled."

Dewey's statements came after another two-hour session between representatives of the CIO United Auto Workers and the strike-bound GM corporation, whose production lines have been idled 78 days by a strike of 175,000 production workers.

The meeting, which Dewey said "brought the parties closer to agreement" on minor contract points, was held in the absence of UAW President R. J. Thomas and Vice-president Walter P. Reuther who were in Washington for a Thursday meeting called by CIO President Philip Murray.

Neither GM nor the union issued any statement after the meeting today, but Dewey reiterated his Tuesday declaration that he "thought something would come out of Washington within the next few days to speed this thing up."

Asked if wages were discussed today, Dewey said, "the wage problem is always shelved in favor of other contract points."

THE WAA basketball tournament is fast reaching its climax as the end is now in sight with just a few remaining games. As the blocks stand now the Slippery Slickers and Willie's Terrors hold top position in block one, both with four wins and no defeats, while in block two the Colts are also on top with four victories.

In block three the Abbot Exs have pushed everyone else out of the lead with four victories and no defeats. The Dribblers and Floorburns are having a battle royale for the crown in their block with Floorburns suffering their first defeat this week.

The real competition seems to be in block five as there is a four way tie for first place. In the struggle the Hearty Sparties, Sanford house, Lonely Hearts, and the Steamteam are hoping for the final crown. While in block six the Winssockies are the undefeated team thus far.

The results of the games that were played this week are for block three, a victory for the Abbot Exs over the Berries by the score of 34-4, and the Wildcats badly clawed the Violets with the score of 20-2.

In block four two of the teams suffered their first defeat. The Alpha Chi Omegas were defeated for the first time, losing their game to the Dribblers, 2-0. Another heretofore undefeated team was the Floorburns who lost to the Darts, 37-21.

The Hearty Sparties are still showing their strength and took a game from the Steamteam, 21-17, while in block six the Winssockies plowed Robinson house under with the score of 33-6.
