

PanHel to Sponsor Convo For All State Sororities

Women's Groups To Show Exhibits Of National Altruistic Projects

Tonight the PanHellenic council is sponsoring a sorority convocation in the Union ballroom at 7. Each sorority group will exhibit the altruistic work sponsored by their national organizations.

Exhibits will be judged this afternoon at 5:30 by a committee of three judges, two from the Interfraternity council advisory board and one from the Interfraternity council.

Basis of Judgment

Exhibits will be judged on the following points:

1. Appearance.
  2. Expression of the work as to the achievement of the goal.
  3. Originality.
- A first and second prize of $15 and $10, respectively, will be awarded this evening to the winning sorority.

Guest Speaker

Included in the entertainment this evening will be a speech by Miss M. M. Prescott, manager of the central office of Kappa Delta in Springfield, Mo.

Miss Prescott is a graduate of Drury college. Graduating with an AB cum laude degree, she taught social science in the Springfield school system for a number of years. Miss Prescott's official duties with the national sorority have been treasurer of the student loan fund and chairman of the national organization for the past five years.

Honored Guests

Honored guests for the convocation will include Mrs. John Hannan and Mrs. Isabelle Gonon, counselors of women.

Hostesses for the convocation include Mrs. V. E. LeRoy and Mrs. Charles Bachman, Pi Phi; Miss Dorothy Mitchell and Miss Jeanette Lee, Alpha Chi Omega; Mrs. Marshall Converse, Gamma Phi Beta, and Mrs. John Zatalo.

TODAY'S CAMPUS

...One is Born

Frank Romanik, Cheboygan sophomore, still has a red face from the last episode in his gambling life. While sitting in Carr's grill of an evening, Dick Every Potter, Kalamazoo junior, suggested that they flip for the price of the coffee consumed—"Head I win, tails you lose." "Okay," said Frank, trustfully, "but not with that penny."

...Blow Gabriel Blow

All was serene in a basic English class the other day when the door burst open and a tardy student barged in. "My name's Wilton," he proclaimed. A voice from the rear yelled, "What do you want, trumpets?"

MSC Limits Coed Enrollment

'Little Foxes' Opening Night Scheduled for Tomorrow

Lillian Hellman's "The Little Foxes," produced by the department of speech and dramatics, will open Thursday evening in Fairchild theater under the direction of Paul E. Geisenhof of that department.

Audra Hatch, Kalamazoo sophomore will play the leading feminine role of Regina.

Other Roles

Others playing roles will be Dorothy Ann Lye, Birmingham senior; William O'Brien, Lansing junior; Shirley Caswell, East Lansing senior; and Robert Morgan, Lansing freshman.

Two other performances will be given Friday and Saturday nights.

"The Little Foxes," which ran on Broadway in 1939 is sponsored on campus by Theta Alpha Phi, national honorary dramatics fraternity. Prof. C. H. Nickle of the speech department designed the sets.

Story of the South

The drama is a story of the South during the economic dislocations which occurred in that region at the beginning of the

French Woman To Talk Tonight

Mademoiselle Cecile Rabut of Paris, France, will speak to members of Le Tricolore tonight at 8 at the International center. The subject of her talk, which will be given in French, is "France of Today and Her Hope for the Future."

Mlle. Rabut is a graduate of the law school of the University of Paris and has been working in the field of child psychology. She has come to America to study juvenile courts and juvenile delinquency on an International Fellowship grant offered by the Association of University Women.

While investigating the public and private child welfare agencies in this area, Mlle. Rabut is staying at the college as a guest of the Union.

All interested members of the faculty or student body are invited to attend the talk.

War Writer Sees Lack In The Country

"We will not win another war, or be equal to the conflict now in the world, unless we find some positive force that we lacked during World War II," was the message William Bradford Huie sought to impart to his meager audience in the College auditorium last night.

"Unless we do this, we will lose our souls and deteriorate from within," Huie maintained.

From his experience as a war correspondent and navy lieutenant, the speaker discussed the 14 million Americans who fought in World War II, describing what they hoped and thought.

Huie asserted that there is little reason to believe a revival of religious feeling and impulse has come from the war. "The chaplains were the most futile group in the war, because this was not an emotional war," he declared.

It was his opinion that America found the strength to fight and win World War II, not from any emotional drive or positive purpose, but from an overwhelming superiority of machines and material, youthful soldiery, and the American team spirit. —M. D. S.

MSC Radio Workshop To Present NBC Show Over College Station

MSC Radio Workshop will present one of a series of National Broadcasting company scripts on the women behind the lives of the great men of history today at 4 p.m. over WKAR.

The radio play, "The Lady Hamilton," will be under the direction of Sue Averill, Birmingham senior, and the general supervision of Prof. Joe A. Callaway of the speech department.

Pauline Moenlman, Muskegon Heights junior will play the role of Lady Hamilton. Chuck Anthony, Bay City sophomore will be the announcer and narrator.

The rest of the cast includes John Fitzgerald, Grand Lodge sophomore; Ken Hemmeter, Saginaw junior, and Marion Parker, Grosse Pointe junior.

Dr. R. M. Olin's 14 Year Dream Materializes In Health Center

The MSC health center, now a well equipped hospital, was at one time located in what is now the Alice Cowles house. In February, 1925, a fairly modern health center opened there.

Since the enrollment at Michigan State at the time was only 800 students, a 35-bed hospital seemed large enough. Within a few months the facilities of this building were overtaxed.

Plan New Building

Dr. R. M. Olin, director of the hospital from the time of his appointment in April, 1925, began talking and thinking about a new hospital building. Over the years several plans were formulated but no adequate means of financing them was found until 1938, when construction of the present hospital began.

The completed structure, bearing Doctor Olin's name, officially opened in September, 1939, finished at a sum of $265,555. The costs were financed by a PWA grant of $112,000 and a loan of $137,000 to be retired from student health fees for ten years. MSC's State Board appropriated $15,000 for the equipment.

Accommodates 60 Patients

Olin Memorial center accommodates 60 bed patients and an overflow up to 70. It is completely equipped to care for clinic patients, all types of illnesses, as well as surgery patients. The hospital maintains a staff of three full-time physicians, headed by Dr. C. F. Holland, director; 20 graduate registered nurses, three of whom are part-time; a registered laboratory technician, as well as a registered X-Ray technician.

During war years, with the presence of air cadets on the campus, 50 hospital beds were set up in the Union, but since that time, the health center has been adequate.

*Male Applicants To Receive First Consideration

Freshman women students will have a difficult time finding a place at MSC fall term. Women entering will have to find a place other than college residences in which to live.

In a letter sent to principals of all Michigan high schools and out-of-state principals who have already applied for their students, R. S. Lanton, registrar, has explained the housing situation as it will exist on the campus next fall term.

Men Given Preference

The situation of housing is acute on the campus. While every effort is being made to take care of the male enrollment, the same assurance cannot be given to women students. The new women's dorms now under construction may not be completed by the beginning of the fall term.

One is expected to be completed by September, but this will be used to house the women now living in Mason hall and in fraternity houses that will have to be vacated by that time.

Off-Campus Housing

Any woman who can provide her own housing in East Lansing or Lansing will be admitted to the college.

With the numerous returning servicemen making application to the college, many of whom are not residents of Michigan, Lanton has asked the cooperation of the high school principals to help get all the applications for admission to him immediately.

Holding Applications

The office of the registrar is now holding applications of admission from many out-of-state students. They will be notified as to whether they can be admitted to MSC by June 1.

Male graduates of the Michigan high schools will be given preference over the women students, Lanton added. Otherwise the restrictions on enrollment will follow the plan that was announced earlier.

YMCA-YWCA Speaker To Talk on Problems Of Race Prejudice

William E. Hill, field representative of the American Council of Race Relations, will address a joint meeting of the YMCA and YWCA at Peoples church, tonight at 7:15.

Hill was formerly a race relations adviser to the United States Housing authority and project manager with the Pittsburgh Housing authority.

The American Council field staff, of which Hill is a member, aids communities in meeting local race relations problems and provides a national clearing house for the exchange of experiences and information in the race relations field.

Union Board To Fete Grads

Union board will act as host to the winter term graduating class at an informal dinner which will be held Tuesday at 6:15 p.m. in the Union ballroom. Jack Breslin, president, announced.

All Graduates Eligible

Seniors who expect to graduate winter term should leave their names in the Union management office in the Union building by Saturday noon if they are able to attend the dinner, Breslin added.

Because of frequent changes in address, some seniors may not receive invitations to the dinner, Breslin emphasized that any senior who will graduate winter term may attend by leaving his name at the Union office.

Spartan Varieties

Spartan Varieties will again take to the air from 4 to 4:30 during the Saturday afternoon Party-Party. In addition to spotlighting Chi Omega and Delta Zeta, the broadcast will feature the premier performance of an original popular song written by Bonnie Behler, Grand Rapids senior, and sung by Chi Omega Jeanne Blamford.

Larry Frymire, WKAR program director and master of ceremonies for the program, assures everyone that the difficulties with the acoustics in the ballroom have been corrected.

Dick Snook's orchestra will provide music for the program and dancing. There will also be tables for card games, and refreshments will be served.

Senior Announcement Orders Close Today

The final day for ordering senior graduation announcements and invitations is today. Orders will be taken between 1 and 4 p.m. in the lower deck of the Union, according to Maryrita Mulvihill, Grand Rapids senior.

Orders placed will arrive near the middle of next term, Miss Mulvihill said. A notice will advise seniors as to the exact date.

Student Council To Give Dinner For New Officers Of Frosh, Soph Classes

A dinner will be held in honor of the newly elected officers of the freshman and sophomore classes next Wednesday instead of this Friday as previously announced by the Student council. The affair will be held in the Union sun porch at 6 p.m.

The dinner will be similar to the one which the Student council held in honor of the junior and senior officers immediately after their election.

LETTERS . . . . To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE — All letters to the editor submitted with the intention of being published, must be signed by the writer. If he does not want his name to appear with the letter, it must be indicated. No letters will be considered for publication unless the writer is known. The opinions expressed are those of the writers and not necessarily those of the editors.

TO the Editor:
Once there was a lecture room full of a hundred attentive students. In that class it was the lecturer, not the ventilation, that kept the students awake. However, there has been a majority of less fortunate students who have had to resort to reading their newspaper in order not to fall asleep. This is in part due to the fact that the administration has so modestly hidden the identity of the profs from the enrollees.

The express desire of many students is to know whom their profs are going to be before enrolling in classes. Therefore, the object of this letter is to request that the instructors be listed in the schedule pamphlet.

Since students differ in their ability to learn under different types of instruction, it is to the advantage of both the student and the professor to be matched according to the students' needs. Any prof who knows that his students have selected him as their instructor will try to live up to their expectations of him. In this way the standard of teaching will be raised.

If a professor for several consecutive terms has an increasingly small enrollment in his courses, it should be obvious to the administration that his services are no longer needed if he continues in the same manner.

The head of a Basic college department illustrated this point when he said that the reason that the instructors were not listed was that there would be a lack of proportion in the classes. This bears out what we have in mind.

Since we are here for an education and since some students can learn more from certain profs than from others, why not help them by allowing them to choose their instructors.

There is still time to list the profs in the spring term schedule books.

Pat Elliott
Sally Bailey

TO the Editor:
I do hope somebody will settle this quibbling about morals, manners, cigarette butts and traditions, so that a little thought and newspaper can be devoted to less serious matters such as "Why is a college education?"

While we are debating about whether or not to sow the campus-grasses with the evil weed, widows in Europe are watching in agony while their children die of starvation, disease and exposure. And politicians and the war department are wondering how to keep the atom bomb from scorching their fingers.

What are you going to do about it? The people who pay the taxes that keep you in school might want to know some day.

Let us make up our minds as to whether a college is to be a merry-go-round for gossip, a laboratory for more and better gadgets, a hot bed of keeping up with the Jones' attitude, or an institution that inspires and educates humanitarian leaders.

The world campus needs putting in order very badly. It can be done if we have enough religious leaders, scientists, philosophers, biologists, and psychologists to help us eradicate disease, hatred, greed and intolerance. It is up to you and me and the next fellow. How about it?

That Does It

By MARION HECKEL

ONCE upon a time 5 ft. 7 inches didn't seem too tall, but after stretching that entire length over selected slippery spots of the campus twice in one day (along with the better part of my fellow students) there is no debate now . . . that is just too much person to get so black and blue.

With all the dirt being dug up currently over the construction projects going on in all directions, seems like a practical idea would be to use some of Mother Earth on the sidewalks and give the pedestrians traction for their between-class traveling. It would be easier to walk on dirt coated ice than sit on ice coated earth.

Class attendance, obligatory versus the Oxford or optional system, came in for a bit of discussion in an editorial of yesterday's paper, and many comments having been wandering around over the matter.

Looking at the situation from both angles is difficult, but shows that doing away with the present system of being allowed the same number of absences as credits would benefit both students and faculty. It would give

AWS Plans To Elect New Officers

Women To Vote For Board Heads At Elections

Members of AWS have set up a tentative slate for new officers which will be checked for eligibility and will be set before the entire women's student body for election Tuesday, between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Running on the tentative ballot for president of the Activities board of AWS are Betty Middleton, Birmingham junior; Gayle Oratt, Washington, D. C., junior, and Jean Proctor, Detroit junior.

Judicial Board
Candidates for president of the Judicial-Legislative board of AWS are Gloria Capuano, Detroit junior; Margaret English, Dearborn junior, and Peg Frimodig, East Lansing junior.

Other officers will be elected for each group by new AWS members.

Women Who May Vote

Women students from all classes may vote with the exception of first term freshmen, on presentation of student identification cards on the lower deck of the Union.

Sophomore members of AWS elected under the direction of Jean Moxey, Detroit, are in charge of AWS elections.

YWCA to Hold Final Ballot

Members of YWCA will vote for new officers today from 9 to 11 a.m., 2 to 5 p.m., and from 7 to 9 p.m. in the second floor of Peoples church according to Polly Flaishans, Flat Rock senior, president.

Candidates for president are David Blake, Charlevoix sophomore, and Elizabeth Dean, Lansing junior.

Secretary Candidates

Running for secretary are Betty Bach, Morristown, N. J., sophomore, and Marjean Kettner, East Lansing sophomore.

Joe Conrad, Flat Rock sophomore, Shirley Schumhl, Grand Rapids junior, and Margaret Wilson, Grand Rapids junior, will run for the office of treasurer.

Must Pay Dues

Only members who have paid dues will be eligible to vote.

According to Miss Flaishans, there will not be a YWCA cabinet dinner this evening.

Dybwad to Speak To Open Meeting Of Home Ecs

Home management and child development majors are sponsoring an open meeting tonight at 7:15 in the nursery school, at which Dr. Gunnar Dybwad will speak on child welfare agencies in Michigan, according to Barbara Weiss, Jackson senior.

Dr. Dybwad is supervisor of the children's division of the State Department of Social Welfare.

Before serving in his present office, Dr. Dybwad supervised home finding at the Michigan Children's Institute in Ann Arbor and also directed clinical services at the boy's vocational school in Lansing. Prior to coming to Michigan, he worked in prisons and reformatories as a custodial officer and in research.

He has visited more than 125 penal, correctional, mental hygiene and children's institutions both here and abroad. Besides

ALPHA DELTA THETA

An Alpha Delta Theta meeting will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p.m., Marge Yerkey, president, announced. Dr. L. M. Snyder, Lansing physician, will be the speaker. Freshman med techs are invited to come at 8:15 p.m.

Women's Phys. Ed Club Announces Plans For Joining National Group

The women's physical education major's club is making plans to affiliate with Delta Psi Kappa, national professional physical education fraternity for women, according to Markine Traynor, Swartz Creek senior, president.

In order to become an active member, Delta Psi Kappa requires a 1 point all-college average and 1.3 the term preceding initiation.

Group Advisor

Miss Thelma Bishop, assistant professor of women's physical education, is the adviser for the group.

In order to finance their going national, members of PEM club are sponsoring a rummage sale. Co-chairmen of the sale are Helen Nussdorfer, Lansing sophomore, and Marion Duncan, Grosse Pointe junior.

Plan Petition

Women who have been working on the petition to go national are Doris Pick, Grosse Pointe sophomore; Vera Schweifler, Grand Haven senior, and Isabelle Firth, Jackson senior.

At present, any woman physical education major can become a member of PEM club. This organization exists primarily on a social basis.

According to Miss Traynor, if PEM club goes national it will be the second women's professional fraternity on campus which is not classified as an honorary. Alpha Delta Theta, women's medical technician group, was installed last spring term as the first women's professional fraternity at State.

It's beyond comprehension why a "lobbysnoozer" cartoon is needed for it isn't usually believed that a person can find enough solitude in the Union to snooze. But it seems that they do. The favorite spots seem to be wherever the weary students can drop into a chair in the lower lounge, men's lounge, or a davenport in the mixed lounge. It's becoming a tricky journey to hop, jump, and sidestep over long legs and size 11s when trying to make progress around the Union. The Union is supposed to be a center of activity, not a convenient place to sleep away the free hours. This is the fourth in a series of cartoons sponsored by Union board.

Organization Chooses New Officers

Dick Snook, Grand Rapids senior, was elected vice-president; Orville McDonald, Grand Rapids junior, secretary, and more, treasurer. Decrease in student membership during the war promoted faculty member participation in fraternity functions. With the return of student members, however, students will again be more active.

the faculty an incentive to improve and liven their lectures, and provide the students with greater freedom in deciding whether their classes give them enough to demand constant attendance.

Granted: there would still be a certain percentage of students who would skip classes, but they would hinder themselves because a college person gets only an equal return on what he puts into his work.

Also granted: That the teaching profession is understaffed at the present, and perhaps future additions to the MSC staff would require practice and more training to keep up with such an improved system.

But such an improvement would be a logical move for Michigan State, in its ever increasing state, to make.

For many years the college employed a truant office to act as the watchtower over students who didn't attend classes. Then a attendance committee was devised to act in a similar capacity. They would meet for hours on end, discussing the various cases of students who had missed classes, and deciding whether or not the excuses were adequate. Both types had extremely rigid rules and regulations.

Then during the middle of the last decade the present attendance rules were arranged granting MSC students cuts up to 25 per cent of the class meetings.

Previous to the war, agitation over the attendance system was aroused several times, but was finally postponed for the duration. But the war is over, and State is rapidly becoming a Big School. The time's about ripe for an investigation and possible revision.

Ideas for a dating bureau on campus, which might logically be directed or sponsored by AWS, or SWL, or even PanHel or IFC, could probably include a modification of something done at West Virginia university.

A waiter in one of the women's dorms there decided to write a book dedicated to all the wolves on his campus. He has included information on all coeds such as height, weight, measurements, color of eyes, hair and other points usable for considering a date.

He didn't get the material by himself, but had agents stationed about the campus to collect it, probably would have been so busy getting material he had been the sole collector that he would have never had time to do any writing. Regardless of that, though, something a similar line could work beautifully on the banks of a frozen Cedar.

France Declares Franco Dangerous

Government Asks French-Spanish Border Closed

PARIS, Feb. 26 (P) — The French government, declaring the present situation in Spain constitutes a "danger for international security," today closed the French-Spanish border, effective Friday.

The government was reliably reported planning to follow up its "moral gesture" by calling on the United States and Great Britain to join France in an international crackdown on the regime of Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

Closing Border

The closing of the border, ordered and increasing popular demand for action against Franco amounts to a rupture of economic relations between France and Spain.

French officials, however, admitted that their step alone would be of little practical effect unless accompanied by action in Washington and London.

U. S. Aid

Officials said they counted on American nations following or participating in such action, but added that they did not expect many Latin American states to act independently of the United States.

Should Washington and London refuse, a government spokesman said, France will probably ask the United Nations security council to take action against the Franco regime as a threat to international security.

Out of Nowhere—

By DEE DEARING

TRAVERSED down the road a piece the other night to see our friendly foes wrestle. After slipping and sliding the perilous miles to the little hamlet of Ann Arbor, nestled in the heart of Law Quad, we searched out the stadium. It wasn't heralded by a big brawny statue, which just goes to show that they don't drink enough milk.

We sat down, hiked up our blue jeans, shifted our straws to the other corner of our mouths so we could cheer for good old MSC.

Heard a few comments about the "cow college" but just rolled them off like water, because I was feeling real smug about all of it and know that in a short time they will be eating those words. As far as I'm concerned it's just a lot of canned milk.

Had to restrain myself ladylike fashion from turning around to the University-ites perched in back of us and sticking out my tongue with a nice "Yah, our stadium's nicer than yours!"

I really like you, you Big School you, but you live on the wrong side of the Red Cedar.

Always have had a big dream about going to some professor's home for tea. Before I came to college it seemed like real big stuff. Maybe Harvard's got the monopoly on it. But as every term comes to a close I leap to my seat in classes and gaze dogfacedly at the prof just hoping and hoping that he'll say . . . "Well now, how's about youse people dropping in Sunday for a spot of tea." My height of ambition is to balance a teacup on my kneecap and have an informal, impromptu, unrehearsed visit with the keepers of the cuts.

Might have been imagining things, but I swear that all week long I've been hearing people scream to others hello you big character. Naturally I worked with lightning precision, scrambled down to the Snews office, strapped my typewriter onto my scooter and took off after the candidate. But have been touched with a spot of the gout lately and usually I lost.

Besides, that is a terrific way to try to fill a column.

Some souls have placed the names of their character friends tenderly in my care. Friends of Betty J. Smith, of Mason hall, have declared her as a thoroughbred character and the same goes for Joyce Armstrong, Howie Neale, Vern "Chuck" Kleine, and Joe Mulholland. My personal candidate is Ma Dearing who taught soldier Dearing push ups and moved the garage around to the side of the house and made a porch out of it.

State Out For Fifth Win Over Big Ten Opposition

Spartan Quintet Meets Wisconsin Friday In Final Game

By MIKE LE PERE

Taking the last week of workouts for the final tilt of the current cage season, Michigan State college hard-wood men will look forward to the Wisconsin game Friday night in the Jenison fieldhouse as a great finale to a great basketball season.

Spartan cagers came back from Madison with a victory under their belts, but the players as well as the coach know a repeat performance over the Badgers this Friday night will be a tougher proposition, since the locals will be playing under pressure from a bitter Wisconsin quintet.

Badger losses this year were the result of two or three points, and although the Spartans, through clever ball handling and precise timing, won the game 59-48, no one knows better than the squad that Wisconsin has one of the most potential ball clubs in the State schedule.

Badger Spirit High

"I think the Badgers should be complimented for their fighting spirit and fine sportsmanship," said Coach Ben Van Alstyne. "Those boys have had bad luck throughout the season and when they have to lose to such teams as Indiana and Michigan by only two or three points, you know the boys are really in there trying."

The Spartans have moved out into one of the best teams in the country during the current campaign. With a handful of returning vets and inexperienced players, State cagers have blended into a top-notch ball club that brought such notices as these from out-of-town sports writers:

"Coach Ben Van Alstyne of the Spartans missed his calling. He should have been a magician, for he sent a basketball team onto the floor here Saturday night that performed more tricks with a basketball than a monkey can do with a pole." (By Hank Casserly, Madison, Wis., Capital Times sports editor.)

"Michigan State has a corking good team that owns tremendous speed, plays devil-may-care fire-wagon ball at all times, and is as good a set of ball handlers and passers on the Notre Dame floor this year."

Loss of Subs

As Van Alstyne said repeatedly, the reason for the Spartan losses this year was a lack of sub man-power. Most of the seasonal games were won or lost by the first string simply because the sub situation was so acute. The strain of a tough season was just too much for the cagers at times.

For the final tilt this Friday night, Van Alstyne plans to start out his regular line of Sam Fortino, and Bob at forwards, Steve at pivot slot, and Ollie White at center.

A final victory will give the Spartans a record of 15 victories out of 18 Big Ten competition.

Team Shaping Up

Baseball Coach Kobs Predicts Another Good Season In '46

Beginning his twenty-second year as head baseball mentor, Coach John Kobs expects a great year from his Spartan ball club in 1946. Last year Kobs men ran up a percentage of .750 while winning twelve games and losing four. With most of last year's regulars back plus returning veterans who have played on Michigan State ball teams in the pre-war era, Kobs has a definite reason to be optimistic.

Practicing every afternoon for the past four weeks in Demonstration hall from 4 till 6, the candidates have been taking strenuous sit-up exercises with plenty of hitting and fielding practice under the watchful eye of Kobs. Although it is still early to determine who will be on the starting nine when the season opens, the following men have shown up particularly well in practice.

In the infield and at first base Jack Breslin, Battle Creek senior; Bob Phillips, Muskegon junior; and Bob Leetka, Cadillac junior, have the inside track. At the keystone sack there is Nick Gregory, Chicago sophomore, who was a regular last year and Don Teeple, Deckerville sophomore, who last year was a regular.

On the outfield, Saginaw senior, Sturgis junior, and Spartan senior, have the inside track.

Behind the bat, be Carl, from Wyandotte, and Walsh, from starting.

Racketeers Working Hard

Net Men Set Gears In Motion For Coming Tennis Season

Good pre-season tennis slanted from the rackets of the Spartan net team over the weekend as eight candidates turned out for long practices on the Jenison basketball court.

Starting Friday Night

Coach Charles Ball had his most prominent material and at work, and Saturday night Sunday gave many of the others an opportunity to get in as much as 12 hours practice.

Highlights of the practices were the smashing games of Dave Phillips, Herb Hoover, John McGrath, and Roger Cessna. Last week's and on Bob Malaga, Bob Ballard, and Dick Young along with art from Grand Rapids completed the squad.

Colorful Team

Thus far the few practices have shown that the Spartans will be a highly colorful team as all the boys like to hit the ball and show their shots into the net for hitting volleys or hard over-heads. The hardest hitters on the squad are Dave Phillips and Bob Malaga with McGrath and Cessna close behind.

Herb Hoover's volleys, the best in the squad, and his brainy net play have stamped him as a consistently fine singles and doubles man. In 1942 Herb was one of State's winningest players.

Indoor Championships

The best singles of the year have been played by Roger Cessna and Dave Phillips. Therefore, it is an encouraging sign for the two netters who will be Michigan State's singles entries in the Michigan Indoor Tennis championships to be held at Hamtramck high on hardwood March 2-3 and 9-10.

The competition in this tourney will be terrific as Captain Bob Dixon, a nationally ranked star, and State stalwarts such as Kimbark Peterson, Al Hetzer, and Gene Russell will no doubt keynote the seeded list.

When Cessna and Phillips return home, they'll rejoin the practicing team that will take over the Jenison fieldhouse court for two weeks beginning Sunday.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

By BARBIE ALLEN

MEET dual swimming meet between Kalamazoo and MSC will take place in the Women's gym tonight at 8. As the final dual meet is being held at the same time, the dual meets will be run off between a major class competition.

Among Kalamazoo's team of eight swimmers, Virginia Baldwin and the Ensign twins, Jane and Barbara, have competed against ISC swimmers in recent AAU meets.

The fastest aqua women on campus are entered in the affair. They are Edna Hartman, Doris Pick, Betty Rypsan, Ruth Garret, Betty Smarik, Perry DesRivers, Jane Hite, Lois Soderquist, Barb Shipton, Ramona Wernet, and Doris Baird. Donna "Sunny" Madlock may swim if she is released from the hospital in time.

Miss Hartman and Miss Madlock hold all records except the 100-yard freestyle.

Miss Mary Thompson is Kalamazoo's coach, while Miss Lois Swanson is the Spartan coach. Lydia Lightning is the honorary referee, while Miss Dorothy Smith will referee the events. Spectators are admitted free.

The time for the first of two intercollegiate telegraphic meets has been sent in to Purdue university, sponsor of the central district to which State belongs.

Ruth Garret's time in the 40-yard breaststroke of 32.5 was best, with Doris Pick, Barb Shipton, and Betty Smarik also making fast time.

Last year MSC took a first in the 100-yard freestyle and the medley relay in the district. The next meet will take place by March 10.

THE block playoff leaders for the badminton doubles have been determined with Mary Severns and Jean Long the top couple in block 1. Block 2 winners are Jane Hite and Poppy Clark.

Aileen Carey and Marge Wells lead in block 3. Doris Taubert and Marilyn DeWitt took the top honors in block 4.

Helen Nussdortter and Gloria Oster are the block 5 experts. In block 6 Peg Frimodig and Lou Dowd lead. Nadine Cogan and Elaine Brandt took the top position in block 7.

These couples will now fight it out for the championship, starting today with the final match scheduled for Monday.

IN the interclass basketball tournament the freshmen trimmed the juniors, 29 to 11. Clarine Cardwell was the high pointer. In a close game the sophomores edged out the seniors by three points. Lou Coolman paced the sophomores with three baskets.

Tomorrow Last Day To Enter Classic

Tomorrow will be the final day for entering the State News all-college bowling classic, which will be held on the Spartan alleys Saturday from 12:15 until 5.

All men on campus are eligible to enter and may sign up at a desk in the main lobby of the Union any time today or tomorrow.

Spartan cage center, BILL "SHORTY" KRALL, has worked his season's total scoring up to 114 points to rank fifth in the MSC individual tally-making race. He will play his last college game against Wisconsin Friday night.

Sigma Nu Natators Take First Races In IFC Matches

Splashing forward into the second day of the Interfraternity swimming meet tonight, the squads will fight for places in diving and the 100-yard freestyle.

Sigma Nu took an early lead in last night's opening action, with 25 points, while Phi Delta Theta is next with 19. Psi Upsilon with 10, and Alpha Tau Omega has 5.

Bob and Jack Carrier, Jim DeMond and Bud Hall made up Sigma Nu's winning 100-yard freestyle relay, with Psi U second, Phi Delta third, ATO fourth, and SAE fifth.

Sigma Nu swept the first two places in the 50-yard breast-stroke with Arlon Quigley taking first, and Jack Carrier second. Glenn Johnson, Phi Delta, finished a strong third, Russ Reader, Psi U, was fourth.

Coming back strong in the 50-yard freestyle, the Phi Deltas pushed Bob Thoits and Ace Wilson into first and second respectively. Jim DeMond and Dick Poole, Sigma Nus, settled into third and fourth berths, while Bill Elmers, ATO, grabbed fifth place.

State To Face Irish, U. of M. In Track Tilt

By JIM CARR

Coach Karl Schladehan has been putting his Spartan speedsters through their paces this past week in preparation for the coming triangular meet with Notre Dame and University of Michigan in Ann Arbor Saturday night.

The Spartans met the powerful Wolverine and Irish teams three weeks ago in the Michigan State relay, and at that time showed enough potential power to cause the big schools to worry.

Tough Race

Jim Fraser will face his toughest race of the year when he will be matched with Hugh Short, Michigan ace middle distance man in the 440-yard run.

Short, a transfer student from Georgetown university, is a returned serviceman and was national intercollegiate champion in the 440 and ICCA 660-yard champion.

Won First Time

Walter Mack, who last week ran and won his first college two-mile race, will be gunning for a victory over Charles Birdsall, Michigan's Western conference distance champ. Mack has been constantly improving in the last few weeks and should provide a big threat.

State hurdlers, Bob Carrier, Hal Mayhew, and Russ Reader, will be out after revenge victories from Wolverine Elmer Swanson. Veteran Swanson took the carnival hurdle events without too much trouble.

Hume Twins Again

The Spartans will get a look at the famous Hume twins, Ross and Bob, who will be favored to take top honors in the 880-yard run for the Wolverines.

State will be a definite threat in the pole vault with veteran Ted Wonch hitting his prewar stride with the bamboo. Against Wayne Wonch did 13 feet, 5 inches, and just missed 13-8, which would have set a new fieldhouse mark.

From past performance Michigan will be in the role of favorite and should not have too much trouble in taking enough points to clinch the meet.

Floor Now Available For State Men Students

All male students may now have full use of the Jenison intramural basketball floor now that all men formerly living in the fieldhouse have been moved to other quarters.

Assistant Director of Athletics Lyman L. Frimodig stated that seven new basketballs will be at the disposal of the student each afternoon and in the evening until 8. To draw a ball the student must leave his identification card at the desk immediately in front of the locker room.

Weekend to Feature Formal Dances

Campus Groups Plan 11 Parties; To Include Radio Parties at Three Sorority Houses

Eleven parties deck this weekend's social calendar, and of the group five will be formal term parties.

Friday night the Alpha Chi Omegas and the Chi Omegas will combine their efforts and give a joint formal dinner-dance, which will take place in the Hotel Olds ballroom.

Three Sororities Combine

On the same night three other sororities, Kappa Alpha Theta, Alpha Phi, and Pi Beta Phi, will hold their term parties in the Union ballroom. Jo Gruel, Detroit senior; Joyce Johnson, Detroit senior; and Sue Coleman, East Lansing sophomore are in charge of planning the latter affair.

Merrellyn Bird, Dearborn sophomore is chairman of the Robinson house term party which will also be held on Friday night. The Delta Zetas and the Sigma Kappas have planned radio parties which will take place at their respective houses on this same weekend night.

The final Friday party will be given by the members of Elsworth co-op. The forestry cabin will be the scene of this affair.

The Sigma Nus and the Sigma Alpha Epsilons have their joint formal term party planned for Saturday night. The Kappa Kappa Gammas have selected the same night for their term party. The Kappa party will take place in the American room of the Hotel Olds, and Jayne Meier, Detroit senior, is the dance chairman.

"Stardust Ball" will be the theme of Saturday night's third formal dance which will be given by the Women's Cooperative league. Polly Hanson, Woolaston, Mass., is in charge of this affair which will take place in the Union ballroom.

The Alpha Gamma Deltas have a radio party slated for Saturday night, and the Sigma Chi pledges have also planned a dance.

Major Estes To Speak To Faculty Members On Varied Topics

Maj. Charles T. Estes of the U.S. Conciliation service, Washington, D. C., will address members of the Written and Spoken English department tonight at 7:30 in room 49, College auditorium.

Speaking on the subject, "Communication in Labor-Management Relations" Major Estes will discuss principles of communication, psychology and mental hygiene as applied to personnel problems in business and industry.
