

UNO Heads Predict End Of Iran Crisis

Russian Officials Agree to Remove Troops In Iran

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—Virtually complete settlement of the critical Iranian case at tomorrow's United Nations Security council meeting was predicted tonight by officials who believed that Russia's guarantee of removal of her troops would be satisfactory to the Iranian government.

Kept On Agenda

Whether Secretary of State James F. Byrnes will take the lead in proposing that the issue now in effect be shelved though kept on the agenda, could not be definitely learned.

However, it is known that American officials feel that the Iranian crisis substantially ended today.

Russian Letter

The basis of tomorrow's settlement was described as contained in the assurance given in Soviet Ambassador Andrei Gromyko's letter to the council today that Soviet forces will be withdrawn from Iran within six weeks and that the removal is not connected with any negotiations over oil and other subjects.

Coupled with this is the fact that Iranian ambassador Hussein Ala said that if Iran could have unconditional assurance of the withdrawal of Russian forces—by May 6—it would readily agree to having the council halt proceedings on the case.

Bill Page Sets International Club Schedules Constitution Voting Date

Bill Page, Muskegon sophomore and chairman of Student council elections, said last night at council meeting that balloting of the entire student body for the group's revised constitution will be scheduled from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the lower deck of the Union Thursday, April 11.

General meeting of all State News reporters and students interested in working on the paper will be held today at 5 p.m. in room 7, Union annex, Marion Heckel, editor of the State News, announced.

The new form of the constitution appeared in yesterday's State News. Major change in the paper is found in article four concerning the membership to the student governing body.

Size of Group
First, a specific set of numbers for the size of the group has been set to avoid an unwieldy amount of persons for working smoothly and to still insure sufficient representation.

Housing classifications are no longer important for representation, and the new arrangement provides that all members on the actual governing board will

Decorations To Include Foreign Costumes

Jules Klein and his orchestra will play for the Cosmopolitan ball, all-college semi-formal dance sponsored by International club.

The dance will be held in the Union ballroom from 9 to 12 midnight Friday. The affair has been limited to 300 couples.

Late Permission

State women who attend the dance have been granted 1 a.m. permission by AWS judicial-legislative board. The committee stated that no corsages will be permitted.

Patrons for the ball are Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Lee, Mrs. Isabelle Genon, and Mrs. Bernard J. Knittel.

Decorations will include a large replica of the International club pin, and figures in foreign costume done in a red and white scheme. The dance programs will be done in gold.

Variety of Entertainment

Several acts will make up the entertainment, which has been provided for intermission, consisting of specialty acts, a women's trio, a men's trio, and a South American dance.

A well known band leader, Klein has played at famous hotels throughout the country, and holds a record-run engagement at the Hotel Statler in Detroit.

News in Brief

MIO, Mich., April 3 (AP)—Rain late today supplied the finishing punch to end the worst series of forest fires to sweep Michigan's lower peninsula in years.

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—The Administration's emergency housing legislation emerged from the Senate banking committee today carrying two key provisions — $600,000,000 for building material subsidies and price ceilings on existing houses. Both were rejected by the House although President Truman called the subsidies the "very heart" of a program intended to bring about construction of 2,700,000 homes in 1946 and 1947.

Bob Strong To Play At Prom

Bob Strong's orchestra will play at the freshman and sophomore ball, informal dance to be held in College auditorium from 9 to 12 midnight Saturday.

Co-chairmen Joann Dodge, East Lansing sophomore, and Ed Ruzinski, Fenton freshman, announced that final arrangements are being made for this postwar return of the all-college dance.

Musical Career

Bob Strong's new orchestra reached the height of success rapidly, due mainly to the extensive musical career of its leader.

Strong began the study of violin and piano at the age of seven, later adding to his skill the saxophone, French horn, clarinet, and oboe.

After leading a campus orchestra at Kansas State, he played all six instruments over station WGN and the Mutual network in Chicago.

Separate Groups Meet For Marriage Lecture

"Biological Aspects of Marriage" will be discussed this evening at 7:15 in two separate meetings of men and women attending the marriage lecture series.

For this third lecture, men will meet with Dr. C. F. Holland, college health director, in room 130 Morrill hall. Women will attend the lecture in Music auditorium with Dr. Lydia Lightring of the MSC physical education department.

Congress Draft-Battle To Affect Future Policy Of ROTC At State

By DON BALL
Military life is coming back into force on the campus these days as evidenced by the men in OD drilling in front of Demonstration hall.

The future policy of the ROTC is vague, however, because of the unpredictable outcome of a battle now in Congress over extension of the draft act, Lt. Col. Gerald Peterson, adjutant, reveals.

If the draft is continued, members of the basic division of the ROTC, composed of freshmen and sophomores who have not had military service, will become eligible for conscription by their local boards. Colonel Peterson explained that this was because most basic military men are in the draftable age group, over 18 years of age, or will shortly reach this age.

ROTC Deferment

At the present time, he declared, there is no provision for the deferment of ROTC basics, but many educators are advocating a system whereby they would be drafted, then returned or left on the campuses to continue their studies. In this way, it is planned that the men could study and also receive military training in units similar to the wartime Army Specialized Training program.

In contrast to this, some leaders believe in a year or two of active military training at regular army installations and then have drafted students return to college.

Advanced Classes

One hundred and thirty men are enrolled in advanced military classes this term, according to Captain Elroy A. Solem, personnel officer of the Department. This is almost three times the number that were taking the course last term.

Colonel Peterson declared that all men who have served in the armed services during the war are eligible to enroll in the advanced class, regardless of their student classification.

SWL Announces Ticket Sale For Annual Carousel

Tickets for the annual College Carousel will go on sale tomorrow morning. They may be purchased at the Union desk and at the accounting office, and they will also be distributed to dormitories, and fraternity and sorority houses, according to Phyllis Kelley, Fenton junior.

Sponsored by Spartan Women's league, the College Carousel is scheduled for Friday, April 12, and will be held in the livestock pavilion. The carousel was started on campus by SWL as a means of fostering relationships between faculty and the student body.

An informal "Country Fair" theme has been chosen for the carousel and Dora Jean Lindbloom, Detroit junior, chairman of the decorations committee asks that the guests dress casually.

Mass Production Prevails

Individualized instruction is fast going by the board in the wake of unprecedented enrollments. Mass production techniques are taking over.

With more than 8,000 in attendance at State this term, with overcrowded classes and an understaffed faculty, the student is becoming less of an individual and more of a unit in an assembly line on the way to graduation.

Is this trend inevitable? Are we doomed to rubber-stamped instruction?

Handicapped by the sheer weight of numbers, the professor can hardly be expected to cater to the individual needs of the students.

Two remedies might be suggested. More and better classroom facilities are needed, and, more important, sufficient additions to the faculty to keep pace with the number of students.

The building program is on the way, but does the administration also plan to reinforce the faculty with needed personnel?

Along with record-breaking enrollments, we must not lose sight of our faculty requirements.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

TO the Editor:

It's too late now, but wouldn't it be possible to streamline the present system used for registration of social function before the college social calendar is made up for the coming year?

Currently, the office of the dean of women gives permission to organizations that hold week-end affairs; however, they are seldom in the position to advise on open dates for the auditorium, since college-sponsored functions, such as the lecture series, are registered only with the secretary's office.

It would help no little bit if this office would notify the office of the dean of women at the beginning of the term of the functions to be held in the auditorium. This would give the office of the dean of women a definite schedule to go by, and would help prevent unnecessary embarrassment of all parties concerned.

Affairs of State

By LIZ CORRY and THAIS LUCAS

EVERY day more Spartans show signs of making plans for their future. This fact isn't shown only by the filled class rooms, but also by the increasing number of diamonds and passed fraternity pins.

Concluding the list are William Straith, Pleasant Ridge sophomore; Roy Tassinare, Detroit freshman, and Richard Forbush, Rochester freshman.

Richard Seebers has recently been elected the president of the ATO fraternity. Seebers is a junior at State and comes from Detroit. Vice-president, Albert Martin, is a Detroit junior. Other officers elected at the meeting were treasurer, Russell Crafts, Davidson junior, and secretary, Merle Smith, Rockford, Ill., junior.

Elections at the Sigma Chi house have placed the gavel in the hand of Fred Meyer, Fair Haven senior, and Bob Roland, Detroit sophomore, has been chosen vice president. Pledges will now be trained by Russ Abbot, Medford, Mass., sophomore, and George Lowley will record the minutes of the meetings.

Book Shortage Hinders Veterans; Situation May Improve By Fall

"Though most books have already been distributed, we are still hampered by the book shortage," Tom King, director of the Office of Veteran affairs, stated yesterday.

Books have been made more easily available to veterans this term than last, as the book situation improves. "But the book situation must still be regarded as critical," he maintained.

The college is now placing orders for books and supplies for fall term. By that time, it is hoped, there will be sufficient stock on hand to meet student needs.

Intent on improving the distribution system, King asserted that "we are looking for any way that can help get books out to students as quickly." Several proposals are now under consideration, he said.

However, after dropping the initial set 5-7, McGrath steamed back to outplay Porter 6-1, 6-3 in a match lasting two and a half hours. Both players demonstrated a tigerish spirit and a consistency that was even tiring to watch.

In the other consolation match Dick Young, unable to outdrive Carl Frans, had to be content to play a strategic, waiting game. It didn't work as planned, because Frans held service continually and broke through Young's defenses to win 6-3, 6-3.

To be played between intercollegiate matches at a later date is the Spartan varsity-faculty match. Well known faculty members that will oppose the regular team are John Clark, Stuart Gallacher, John Ramsey, Bonnie Stewart, George Steinmetz, and perhaps Hans Leonhardt or Col. Dorsey Rodney.

Joe Gembi's Fired, Hackett Is Hired As Wayne Coach

DETROIT, April 3 (AP)—Wayne university, Detroit's member of the newly organized Mid-America Conference of Municipally-Governed institutions, today named John Hackett, former University of Detroit end, as head football coach, replacing Joe Gembi, who was given an opportunity to remain as associate professor of the physical education department.

The university thus gave its answer to recent demands of Detroit high school coaches that they be given a voice in selection of the school's athletic staff.

Hackett, a former coach at Detroit Catholic Central, has been a teacher at Northwestern high school since his discharge from the navy. Herbert L. Smith, named as one of three assistant coaches, coached Cooley high before enlisting in the navy.

Rounding out Wayne's four-man football staff for 1946 are Joel Mason, Western Michigan college graduate, who played professional football for five years with the Green Bay Packers, and Joe Tuszkowski, who has been Gembi's assistant.

Emphasis On State Hurlers As Initial Tilt Draws Near

Coach John Kobs set all gears in motion this week by putting his Michigan State nine through their daily drills in preparation for the coming home 18-game season.

The Spartans will play host to the Badgers from the University of Wisconsin in a two-game series on April 19 and 20.

By winning nine games in the Dixieland tour the Spartans stretched their undefeated string to 16 games. The last setback came May 19, 1945 in the first game of a doubleheader with Ohio university, when the MSC nine dropped an 11 to 4 decision to the Bobcats.

Watching Moundmen

Coach Kobs has been spending most of his time the last few days with the Spartan hurling staff, trying to groom some of his hurling prospects for starting roles.

In the nine games played so far this season, Kobs has depended upon the strong arms of Joe Skrocki, veteran Spartan chucker, Keith Steffee, number one hurler of last season, and Sophomore Bill Page. Skrocki took the honor with three wins while Steffee and Page both were credited with two victo-ies each.

Robin Roberts, varsity basketball star, and George Killmaster who put in a brief appearance on the vacation trip may be ready for starting assignments when the regular season gets under way.

Rutenbar Back in Shape

Jack Stallings, stocky right hander and Darrell Couey were each credited with a win apiece. Couey won his by hurling one inning as a sub. They are two more of the outstanding candidates for the mound position.

Outfielder George Rutenbar seems to have recovered from the ankle injury which benched him after the second game and is now ready for a starting assignment. Rutenbar's injury caused the switch which sent Jack Breslin to the outfield in order to bolster the team's batting average.

Wonch, Naab Set For Texas Relays

Representing Michigan State at the Texas relays to be held at Austin, Tex., Saturday, will be record-holder Ted Wonch in the pole vault assignment and Leonard Naab, javelin thrower.

Athletic Director Ralph H. Young will travel to the contest with Wonch and Naab so that Track Coach Carl Schlademan can keep the rest of the cindermen in top shape for the meet scheduled for April 20 at Columbus, Ohio.

By entering Michigan State trackmen in the Texas Centennial contest, it is hoped that Texas will send contestants to the 25th annual Michigan State indoor matches next year.

Truman Says Coal Strike Dangerous To Progress

Unemployment Hits Low Mark

WASHINGTON, April 3 (P) — President Truman said today that production for American civilians has already zoomed to record-shattering heights, but warned that prolongation of the coal strike would wipe out that progress.

The output of goods and services 'is still going up' after attaining a level higher 'than ever before in the nation's history,' Mr. Truman reported, employment is 'building up steadily' and wage payments have climbed back to near the V-J day level despite strikes.

The President issued his statement in releasing, at a news conference, a rose-tinted quarterly report prepared by Reconversion Director John F. Snyder.

Snyder said civilian production had hit a $150,000,000,000 annual rate in the quarter just closed — 'unprecedented in our peacetime history'—and would go 'several billion dollars' higher by midyear. He went on:

The jobless now number around 3,000, and will not average more than 3,500,000 in the next three months.

This compares with official fears of 8,000,000 out of work by summer.

The present council is made up to include 12 ex-officio members such as presidents of Union board, AWS, IFC and PanHel who cannot hold office or do the actual council work.

New Board

To provide some outlet for this type of member, a board of activities will work directly under the governing council.

Classes are more widely represented in the Basic college is given a ratio standing on this revised governing group.

Second major change in the constitution comes in article seven where all the school elections are outlined. Under this, the membership of the council and of class officers is based on the number of credits students carry.

Holding Elections

The system of holding elections early spring term will go into effect next spring under this 1946 constitution. Officers and new council members will be elected late this term, however, and their terms will be shortened next year to get this new policy into practice.

With the Basic college system, Michigan State has a rather unique student body. Pres. Helen Fisher, Grand Haven senior, commented. Consequently, constitutions from other schools provided little help and the council's constitutional committee had to spend two terms setting this revision up.

Coed Exhibits Will Feature Varied Items

Student planned and executed exhibits will be featured from 7:30 to 9 in tonight's Home Ec open house.

Toys and play equipment made from waste materials will be a high point of the child development department. Drums constructed from tin cans and inner tubes will be displayed as well as a doll house built from ammunition crates.

Experimental Cookery

Work in experimental cookery will be demonstrated and explained by foods majors. In addition there will be a table displaying correct table service.

The history of a dress will be shown from the preliminary designing through the draping and construction work.

Related Arts

Related arts stenciling, block printing, and home planning will be demonstrated by crafts majors.
