

Jose Iturbi Will Feature Classical Compositions

Jose Iturbi, piano virtuoso, conductor, composer, and motion picture star, will play a group of America's favorite classical compositions tonight at 8:15 in the College auditorium. This concert will be a special number, not a part of the college lecture-concert series.

Iturbi, born in Valencia, Spain, was a child prodigy, and taught adult pupils at the age of seven. He was graduated from the Paris conservatory at 17, and later taught in the Geneva conservatory.

Arrived in America

Arriving in America in 1929, he made his name famous after only a three month concert tour, and eventually made this country his home, continuing his yearly concerts. In 1936, Iturbi became musical director of the Rochester Philharmonic orchestra, a post he held until last year.

He has been highly successful as a film star, having already played in "As Thousands Cheer" and "Music for Millions." His latest, "Holiday in Mexico," will soon be released.

Concert Includes

Part I of Iturbi's concert program will include three of Chopin's most popular compositions, Polonaise in A flat, the Fantasia Impromptu, and the Scherzo in B flat minor. Beethoven's beautiful "Moonlight Sonata," and "Arabesque" by Schumann will also be performed.

Part II will consist of the famous Hungarian Rhapsody No. II, by Liszt; Debussy's "Clair de Lune," and the brilliant, modern composition by Gershwin, "Rhapsody in Blue." Debussy's "Doll's Serenade" will also be included in Part II.

Foster Will Conclude Marriage Lectures

Tomorrow night at 8:15 Dr. Robert Foster from Merrill-Palmer school in Detroit, will speak in Music auditorium on the marriage lectures currently being given.

Theme of the evening will be "Adjustments after Marriage" with the sub-title of "What makes marriage successful?"

Last of a series of five talks given this term, these lectures are sponsored each spring term.

3,400 Fans See Bob Riggs Win Net Exhibition

Michigan State students got a taste of top national tennis play last night in Jenison fieldhouse when Bobbie Riggs, midget professional net champion, outslugged older and more-experienced Don Budge, a fellow Californian, in straight sets, 6-1 and 7-5.

Altogether 3,400 spectators watched Riggs make it 14 match wins over Budge, who has taken only four, in their current tour, which is billed as deciding the championship of the United States.

Riggs Looks Better

The cannon-ball serve and smashing backhand of Budge looked good, but Riggs was just a little better, punching back everything the lanky redhead threw and then adding a little of his own.

Riggs favored high lobs, deep into the back court, while Budge tried to keep the play low and fast. The little winner won the crowd's favor by his duck-like walk and confident smiling attitude.

Faunce Takes Sabin

In the evening's preliminary matches handsome John Faunce of Hollywood, outlasted his smaller opponent, Wayne Sabin, in their first set, 7-5, and then won the second easily, 6-1.

For the evening's finale Budge and Faunce teamed and grabbed the first round, 6-2, but their foes, Riggs and Sabin, put on a terrific battle to nab the next 7-9, and then they took the final set, 8-6. The affair finished at 11:35 p.m.

Michigan State is indebted to the women's physical education department for bringing this outstanding event here. Miss Dorothy Parker and Miss Lucille Dailey, of the department, arranged the program.

The troupe moves to Grand Rapids where they will play at the civic auditorium tonight.

Vet Office Discloses Procedure to Obtain Credits in Military

The Veterans' Affairs office announces that there has been some misunderstanding as to the procedure for obtaining military science credit.

All men must take a copy of their discharge to one of the counselors in Demonstration hall and have a form made out which will evaluate their amount of credit. The amount received will depend on length of service and whether or not the individual had a commission.

Faculty To Work On Housing Needs

Seeking to meet faculty housing needs, the Faculty Housing association at its meeting last week decided to take a poll of all staff members.

Once exact needs are determined, a program of action will be launched to satisfy these needs, Walter Abell, president of the association and professor in the Art department, declared.

The Faculty Housing association was organized because many new staff members have been having difficulty finding housing for their families.

According to its newly adopted constitution, the organization rooms for themselves and their spouses to:

1. Determine the immediate and long-time housing needs of the faculty and staff members of Michigan State college.

2. Study the various possibilities of meeting these needs.

3. Actively promote, and take such action as may be deemed advisable to aid in satisfying such needs.

Elbert Bowen, East Lansing graduate student, was selected to portray Grandpa Vanderhof, and Margaret Morrison, Newberry junior, will be Penelope Sycamore, the mother.

Leading Roles Are

In other lead roles are Joyce Westfall, Detroit freshman, as Alice Sycamore, and David Lucas, East Lansing junior, who plays young Tony Kirby Alice's beau.

Pauline Monroe, Lansing junior, appears as Essie Carmichael, the daughter, while Rhoda, the Negro servant, is portrayed by Marjorie Miller, Royal Oak sophomore.

Playing the father role of Paul Sycamore will be Robert Ballard, Jackson senior. Mr. DePina, an iceman who has resided with the family for seven years.

Enrollment Tops All-time Figures

With prospects of greater enrollment in view, college registration reached the all-time peak of 8,142 students at the last stragglers registered at Administration building last week, Robert L. Linton, registrar announced.

Credits numbered 3,519 while the men's total stood at 4,932.

Applications being received daily indicate that the fall term count will exceed the 10,000 mark provided adequate faculty members can be obtained to handle the increase. The classroom and housing situation should be sufficiently handled by that time to handle the enrollment jump.

Far in excess of the usual summer school enrollment of 1-2,000; the total is approaching 4-600 for summer quarters, Linton stated.

TODAY'S CAMPUS

A Little More Than

Jimmy Dalton, Lansing freshman, has a word to say about a lunch diet in the grill. Referring to the single sandwich and drink that Peggy Frimodig, Lansing junior, disposed of yesterday, he remarked: "If she eats much less she is going to need suspenders to keep her outfit up."

La Cucaracha

Narrowly escaping the crush of her professor, Jean Smith amazed her emotion-stricken classmates in the physiology lab Wednesday by capturing an elusive cockroach.

After placing the hexapod in a folded paper for safekeeping, she couldn't keep from furtively looking at the beast all through the period. It seems Mrs. McHugh is also enrolled in entomology 201.

College Carousel Offers Evening Of Fun Friday

College Carousel, an informal evening of fun for students and faculty will take place Friday night at 7:30 in the Pavilion. Sponsored by Spartan Women's League, the carousel is an annual affair directed towards fostering a closer relationship between faculty and students.

Entertainment for the evening is being planned by co-chairmen Pat Sayles, Alliance, O. sophomore and Jeanne Meserva, Chelsea senior, and will employ the talents of both students and faculty.

The proceeds from this year's carousel will be donated to the World War II Memorial fund which has just been established on campus. Tickets may be purchased at the accounting office and the Union desk. Tickets will also be distributed among dormitories and sorority and fraternity houses.

Cutting Policy Offers Challenge

Major topic of conversation lately has been the subject of installing the policy of unlimited cuts without automatic reduction of the student's grade.

If faculty action allows this policy to be instituted, they will be voting themselves more responsibility in their classes. They will have to make the substance of their courses such that the student will either find it necessary to attend the course to comprehend the subject, or make the course interesting enough so that the student will regularly attend of his own volition rather than fear of another cut being marked against him.

This question constitutes a challenge to the faculty as well as the student, who will find that assignments may be increased considerably in some cases to attract more frequent attendance, and a challenge to MSC to become a college which recognizes student freedom and responsibility.

Affairs of State

By LIZ CORRY and THAIS LUCAS

WALKS along the Red Cedar, tennis rackets, golf clubs and rainy days are evidence that spring term is once again in full swing. This spring weather has not only brought MSC Spartans out in the fresh air but also caused an over-abundance of pinnings and engagements.

Two fraternity pins now have happy new owners. Theta pledge Jeanne Proffitt, freshman from Cass City, has received the first, and hers came from Frank Miller, of Flint. Frank is a Phi Tau Alpha who is now overseas with the army. Marty Keyes, Port Huron senior, has been wearing a Theta Tau pin beneath her Pi Phi pin since Saturday night. It was once worn by Walt Parker of Houghton.

Jewelry business obviously isn't suffering any postwar relapse, as more diamonds are seen everyday. Just last Thursday night Pi Phi Margaret Grave, who is a senior from Royal Oak, received one of the sparklers from Lt. (j.g.) Ragnar Arneson of Ann Arbor.

Bill Wagar, ex-army lieutenant from Flint, recently bestowed a ring on Beverly Wilson, Flint freshman. Their plans include a wedding in August. A third finger left hand decoration has also been passed from Norm Flemington, freshman from Birmingham to Nora Kolstad, who is a Kappa Delta, also from Birmingham.

Marie Ann Miller, Plymouth senior, is proudly exhibiting her ring which came from Bill Schultz, who also hails from Plymouth.

Spring vacation proved to be a red letter week or two Delta Zetas, Carroll Bratz, senior from Adrian, got a diamond from Bob Adams, Jackson freshman, while Jane Coon, Detroit junior, received a diamond from Bill Morrell of Detroit.

Wedding vows were spoken by Pat Sarkin, Alpha Omicron Pi. See AFFAIRS, Page 4

SC Baseball Team Idle; Varsity, JVs Plan Games

Spartan baseball players will get back to work this afternoon after missing yesterday's practice because of wet diamond and cold weather. Intrasquad games will continue with emphasis on the hitting.

Wench Tops Vaulters in Texas Relays

Under a blistering Texas Saturday, Spartan star Wench pole-vaulted to feet to be for first place in Texas Centennial Relays at Austin. Wench set a foot, seven and one-half Michigan State indoor record last winter. State's other contestant, Leonard Naab, was set back the 102 degree temperature and placed seventh with javelin throw of 185 feet. Naab holds all Spartan records in this event including throw of 202 feet, one inch which was made in the outdoor Central Collegiate of 1942.

Cessna In Top Spot in State Net Team as Hoover Loses

By BILL SONNEBORN
In the finals of the varsity intrasquad round robin net tournament Saturday afternoon, Roger Cessna took over the Spartan net after one spot by blanking Hoover in the first set and saving him but one game of second.

Second place of the numerical of the State tennis team will be decided when Bob Maloney meets Hoover to complete position lists.

Maloney will meet Hoover by use of his win over Dave Hoopes, who secured the number one position in a feature match Saturday afternoon against Jack Grath.

Grath and Carl Frans hold five and six slots, and close to them are Ben Porter, Young and Mike Yatchman, who are expected to challenge for a position on the team.

This week's attention will be directed to doubles play with a series of matches to determine the first four men will be selected and in what order. The present set-up has Cessna and Hoopes together and rating the team with a slight edge over Maloney-Hoover combination.

League Still Short; Officials Card Revealed for Softball, Tennis

Intramural director Lyman Armstrong has announced that entry list for the Intramural softball league will be kept open Wednesday noon in hopes of signing two more clubs, thus making two blocks of five each. Softball loops will swing action next week. Wells and six clubs will play on Wednesday evenings. Abbot's nine teams will meet on Tuesday. All college championship events will be announced later. Intramural tennis will also start Monday, April 15, with games on Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, with the season ending May 9.

Abandons Plans

ANTONIO, Tex., April 8 — Mickey Owen, Brooklyn pitcher, stopped a few miles of the border today and, in a minute decision, abandoned plans to play in the Mexican League.

Saturday the varsity will meet the Jayvees in the first of a series of intrateam contests. The JV club is under the watchful eye of Al Kircher, assistant to Coach John Kobs. The junior club has already been the producer of several varsity candidates.

This afternoon Kircher will pass out suits to his more promising players, but indicated that a man was still on the squad as long as he kept coming out to practice.

While the chilly weather forced baseball out of the picture for the day, Coach Charley Bachman sent his charges through a lusty two-hour drill, half of that time being devoted to scrimmage session.

"We'll be scrimmaging every night now for the rest of the spring drills," Bachman stated. The high point of the off-season training will come Saturday, May 11, when a regular game will be staged on Macklin field.

To give all the Spartan baseball fans a good chance to see their unbeaten varsity in action, Coach John Kobs has called for a double header to be played next Saturday on the old college diamond.

The varsity nine will be divided into two groups, the regular team will meet the regular junior varsity team while the varsity reserves will take on the junior reserves. Both contests are supposed to get under way at 2:30.

Due to the present cold spell Coach John Kobs last night called both teams indoors for a class room session which centered around coaching signals and blackboard drills.

The Spartan teams have always been crafty base runners and this was demonstrated on the present southern tour when the Spartans were out hit in several games but by taking advantage of the breaks and clever base running were able to squeeze out victory.

Michigan School Bands Will Compete At State

First State-Wide Musical Event Since '41 Includes 62 High Schools; 4,000 Students

Sixty-two Michigan high school bands and orchestras will meet at Michigan State for a massed music festival Friday and Saturday. Roy L. Underwood, head of the music department, stated that this is the first state festival held since the annual meetings were discontinued in 1941.

The event, in which nearly 4,000 young musicians will participate, is sponsored by the Michigan School Band and Orchestra association.

Bovee To Be Chairman

Kenneth Bovee, Oxford, president of the organization, will act as chairman of band and orchestra events, and Everett Kissinger, Holland, vice-president, will act as chairman of solo and ensemble competition.

Friday 513 young people will take part in the solo and ensemble activities in which they will play against a standard rather than against each other. The events are scheduled in different sections: piano, woodwind, brass, stringed, and percussion instruments, and baton twirling.

Groups To Be Rated

In the band and orchestra competition on Saturday, eight orchestras and 54 bands, grouped according to size as Class A, B, C, or D, will participate.

Each band or orchestra, all of which received first or second division ratings in district festivals, will play five selections.

The group will choose one number and a march. In addition they will perform a required march, and sight-read a march and an overture. An accepted standard will be used as a basis of judging as in the solo and ensemble competition.

Leonard Falcone, associate professor of music, will be the local chairman for the festival, while Forrest Rinehart, music director of East Lansing schools, is housing chairman.

Niagara Falls on Wax

Thunderbolts, Niagara Falls, Deussenberg automobiles, and bubbling brooks have all been put on wax by regular companies. Recording equipment is even set up in some of the larger zoos.

Callaway emphasized, however, that manual effects are more favorable because of the ease with which they are cued.

The hero of a story, or instance, rides to the rescue on a galloping horse, which comes into being when two toilet plungers are beat against the chest of a sound effects man.

Rain Pours

Should he be caught in a rain storm, birdseed would be poured on different surfaces, such as cellophane, parchment, and sheets of tin, to indicate varying intensity.

Cellophane is used, too, for the effect of a crackling fire. Squeezing it slowly will turn the flames into frying bacon and eggs.

Auto Wreck Complicated

Many gadgets for noise are triumphs in electricity and other sciences, but very often the studio is a veritable junk yard. An automobile wreck is simulated by dropping tin cans, a stove pipe, and steel bar into a box of broken glass.

Although listeners are onto some devices, Callaway stated, the artists of noise-making continue to come through with even more sounds and ways of producing them.

PLAY

Other Players Include

In the role of Donald, Rheba's beau, is John Ballenger, Flint junior. The department of Internal Revenue is represented in "You Can't Take It With You" by Jerome Fallon, Tupper Lake, N. Y., sophomore.

Mr. Kirby is Alice's boss and Tony's father. His part is taken by William O'Brien, Lansing junior, and his wife will be Eleanor Wozniak, Detroit sophomore. Charlotte Forsythe, Lansing sophomore, is cast as the Grand Duchess Olga Katrina.

Three Parts to Fill

Buell stated that three minor character roles remain to be filled, while a few changes in the present casting may be effected.

"You Can't Take It With You" was the Pulitzer prize play in 1936. After a long successful run on Broadway and on the road, it became one of the hit movies of 1937.

The action of the play takes place in the living room of the Martin Vanderhof home in New York city.

Russia, Britain Approve Plan For Big Four Peace Parley

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP) — Russia and Britain have agreed to a meeting of big four foreign ministers beginning in Paris, April 25, Secretary Byrnes said today. Byrnes disclosed that foreign ministers Molotov

Russia and Bevin of Britain had replied affirmatively to his proposal for the meeting, but said he had not yet heard from France.

The Secretary of State proposed the big four meeting of foreign ministers last Friday in an effort to avert postponement of the 21-nation peace conference scheduled to open in Paris not later than May 1, under terms of the Moscow big three communique of last December.

At his news conference today, however, Byrnes declined to say whether the peace conference could open on schedule. He said the foreign ministers would have to make the decision if they decide to hold their advance meeting April 25.

At his news conference Byrnes also
