... Old Soldiers

Walking into a noisy classroom three Charles Fox, instructor in journalism, off his guard last week. An ex-major never three year's standing in the army, Fox stood at attention and issued command "at ease." Veterans in the class shut up immediately.

... Weaker Sex?

The Kappas and Alpha I were having a game of ball at John Kels, Jr., East Lansing, offered to demonstrate the game should be played. A Kappa sinker fooled him, and he swung like the old Casey and fell flat on his back.

... Behind TI

While playing golf, I Sena, Detroit, senior, was hit in the head with a long drive on the person who hit it. Eight came running. Bob Ball thought the ball would apologize, but a referee could say was, "where's my ball, where's my ball."

... Hermits Couro

Hotel detectives old like this one. Brooks Thors, Detroit junior, designed all plans in his hotel architect class yesterday that had pages into the bathroom and closets, but no way to get into the door.

Green To Fight CIO For Men In Southland

WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor launched all-out battle with the Congress of Industrial Organization today to organize workers in the south.

A goal of 1,000,000 new members in Dixie within a year was announced by William Green, AFL president.

Green said a southern labor conference would be held at Asheville, N. C., May 11-12, with delegates invited from 8,600 local AFL unions already established in southern states.

Green's statement said that besides completing plans for the organizing drive the conference will take up these matters: 1. "Coordination of national and state legislative and political activities in the South."

2. "Hastening of reconversion and expansion of industrial activity in the South through union-management cooperation."

3. "Marshalling of labor forces to resist inroads of communism and subversive elements."

4. "Mobilization of labor support for the advancement of the economic and social welfare of southern agriculture through cooperation with farmers' organizations."

ROTC Officers Club To Hold Reception

Corps Candidates Will Be Honored; Witelan Assumes ROTC Command

Colonel John L. Witelan, commandant of ROTC, announced yesterday that Officers' club will hold a reception in honor of corps candidates at 7:30 p. m. in the Union hall. Elections will be held at 8:30 p. m.

Until 1943 corps sponsors were a colorful part of campus life. Each Officers' club held elections at which candidates were elected to represent their branch.

West May, North May, and North West May were elected to represent their respective branches.

Witelan, a former ROTC instructor at the University of Michigan, assumed command of the ROTC at the University of Michigan on April 22.

Leader Pleads With Miners To Aid UNRRA

NO FURTHER DELAY

Washington, April 22 (AP)—Eirella LaGuardia, director general of UNRRA, today asked idle coal miners and operators to produce 500,000 tons a month for countries being aided by her organization.

The former New York mayor said that shipments of food for starving peoples are increasing but that coal is needed to power the trains which carry the life-saving food to them.

The situation does not permit any further delay, she said in a letter to Ezra Van Horn, chairman of the National Bituminous Coal conference, and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine workers.

LaGuardia added: "UNRRA would of course be ready to pay any additional cost which might result from adjustment in the price of coal following your present discussions."

LaGuardia's request for a truce in the coal strike highlighted a day which saw the following UNRRA developments:

President Truman, calling for continuing and increasing support of UNRRA in the name of conscience, prudence and self-interest.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson saying that it would be impossible to supply UNRRA's request for 700,000 tons of coal until June 1.

LaGuardia pointing out that UNRRA's request for 500,000 tons of coal is a realistic figure.

LaGuardia and three ships have left for Europe.

Women Become 'He' When In Congress

WOMEN DON'T VOIE

Washington, April 22 (AP)—What do you call a congressman when "he" happens to be a "she"? The U. S. Congress settles the problem by calling all representatives "gentlemen," even if some wear skirts.

For the past 30 years women have been trying to gain a foothold in Congress and in politics. So far no more than nine women at any one time have been able to crash through the gates of this man's world.

Today there are only nine women in the House of Representatives, none in the Senate.

As well as dealing with problems of state women "Congressmen" have to cope with male institutions. The famous "cloak room" where members go for suits and ties is a problem.

Ladies rooms are more of a problem. The capitol was built to accommodate men, and there is only one such room in the entire building.

Women must be accommodated in the distance, often in a "cloak room" where they are not allowed to wear hats or gloves.

Women "Congressmen" must conform to dress regulations. Many of the women who have served in Congress are beginning to look like some of the former "ladies."

No hats are worn by the women in Congress, and they are not allowed to wear hats or gloves.

Why do women still vote in the national political arena? It is difficult for a woman to run for a national office in the country campaigning.

Edward C. Lindeman, graduate of MSC, class of 1911, is to be the featured speaker. Mr. Lindeman has returned from an interesting mission in Germany where he served as a liaison officer to the British army.

He has traveled extensively in Europe, the West Indies and Central America, publishing many books, and is listed as a regular visiting lecturer at several well-known American universities.

Due to the limited number of persons who may be accommodated, an ideal Friends' dinner including all members of the faculty will not be possible.

With LaGuardia on UNRRA one thing is assured, Europe will get a little closer.
