Spartan Coach Names Roberts To Pitch Against Western

By Jim Carr

Coach John Kohn has nominated Robin Roberts as his pitching selection for this afternoon's tilt as the Spartans journey to Kalamazoo to renew their series with Western Michigan college after a three-year lapse.

The last time the two teams met was in 1943 when the Broncos and Spartans met in a home and home series, each team winning a game. Western took the first game 5-0 in Kalamazoo and State took the home tilt in a close contest, 2-1.

Western has always been tough for the Kohn nine and tomorrow's game should be a scratcher. The Broncos have won four of the six games played against the Spartans so far this season, taking Northwestern in a two series and last week captured a single victory from the University of Wisconsin.

The Broncos took their first loss two weeks ago when Ohio State turned them back in a doubleheader.

If the Broncos start a left handed pitcher Kohn will use Dick Massach, the newly acquired pitcher, at first base. Massach has made brief appearances in two games this season and showed promise at the plate.

Danny Urbanik, freshman from Flint, is slated to get the starting nod at short over Marty Hansen. Hansen is also a left handed hit.

Coaches Club Works To Fill MSC Stadium

A dinner meeting in the Union dining room Tuesday evening at 6:15 will discuss the Lansing Coaches Club's plans to fill the MSC Stadium.

Following the dinner, team captains and coaches will discuss the possibility of filling the stadium which has been closed since the 1930 season.

Founded in 1943, the Lansing Coaches Club is a group of coaches from various schools in the Lansing area. The club's purpose is to promote the game of baseball in the Lansing area.

Robin H. Young, Michigan State University, is president of the club. Other members include Coach Van Dyke of the University of Michigan and Coach Hansen of the University of Wisconsin.

The club is planning to hold a dinner at the MSC Stadium on May 1st to discuss the possibility of filling the stadium.

Losing Hurler

Virgil Eric Trucks, first hurler who lost today's game, scattered 11 hits through the first 8 innings but Joe Grace's ninth inning home run beat him. It was the Detroit pitcher's first loss of the season.

Golfers To Battle Titans Saturday On Lansing Links

Spokane county linkers will engage the University of Detroit squad on the Lansing country club course Saturday. Coach Ben Van Alstyne will use a mixed selection of the lineup which led to Michigan last week.

The Titans, who defeated the Spartans last week, will start with Tom Johnson, Dale O'Brien, George Tross, Tom American, Bill Latta, Don Frank, and Jimmy Weaver.

Today's match will be between the Western, Jim Kohn, and the Spartans, who will start with Robin Roberts and Dick Massach.

The Spartans will have a tough time against the Titans, who are considered one of the best teams in the area.

Spartan Stars

MSC 'B' Club Will Tangle With 'Cats

Central Michigan 'B' is foe of JVs today on Old College Field.

By Jack Worth

Playing their first home game of the season, the Spartan Jayvees will meet Central Michigan this afternoon at 3 on Old College field.

Both teams have played and lost one game so far this year. The Spartans were outscored by Jackson Prison, 10-7, and the Beards of Central Michigan committed seven errors while losing to the University of Detroit, 7-1.

Coach Doc Marston has decided on a starting Jayvee lineup which will have two changes in the one he used in the Jackson game. The changes find Harry Paul in right field and John Elmquist catching.

The rest of the lineup remains unchanged and will have Harold Marcks and John Marakas in the outfield with Paul Dick Yafa on first. Art Berg at second, Carl Mang at third, and Arnie Samuel playing shortstop.

Pitching will continue the big question mark for the Spartans. They will start with Zek Vigt or Jim Jos. State has not seen well. Latta will start Vigt was the start.

Arid Michigan State Anglers Will Head North For Opening Day Of Trout Season Saturday

By BILL ADAMS

Trout season in Michigan trout streams may see quite a few anglers heading north to Michigan State, the early spring has seen a record number of May flies.

According to Walter F. Mendryk, assistant professor of entomology at Michigan State, the early spring has seen a record number of May flies.

"It is unfortunate that many trout fishermen confuse the Canada fly with the May fly and consequently select the wrong artificial bait," Mendryk said.

FLIES ARE CONFUSING "The May fly has two or three filaments at its tail and has transparent wings, while the Canada fly has no tail filaments and two of its four wings are non-transparent," he continued.

The stone flies make up an important part of the diet of rainbow and brown trout, and where they are present, Coachman of Professor flies should be used. If there are large numbers of May flies in the air, the fishermen should have the best luck with Drakes, Duns, or Mackerel type flies.

CAN ALWAYS USE WORMS Should the dry flies fail, hellgramites are another good early season bait. These are the larvae of the Dobson fly which resemble centipedes and can be found hid-

Hitting Solid 109 Jack Breslin Taps MSC Hit Parade

By TOM HODGA

Jack Breslin, Michigan State's ace southpaw, is scheduled to lead for the Broncos.

Hansen, one of the leading hitters on last year's team, is suffering from a falling thumb and Kohn believes a few days rest will help shake the grip.

Roberts will be making his first start of the season this afternoon. The Spartan coaching staff will be pleased with his performance in the recent Michigan game when Roberts entered the game at 5th inning and allowed only one safety and struck out four in the three innings he worked.

Capt. Ben Hudenko will take up his duties behind the plate. Hudenko at the present time is pressing Jack Breslin for the leading hitter on the State team with a .315 average.

The remaining Spartan lineup will be the same, with Ace Latta in center field, George Rutan in left, and Floyd Guest in right field.

The infield, besides Massach at first, will have either Bob Groves or Nick Gregory at second base. Harry Hughes will take over the hot corner and Urbanik or Hansen will start at short.

The Spartans will have a tough time against the Titans, who are considered one of the best teams in the area.
