

APATHY Seeks Council Post

Attention, Spartan voters! APATHY is now running for Student councilman. This favorite campus politico officially announced his candidacy at a special meeting of Student council Thursday.

Under the steam of his successful attempt to keep the primary vote down to 12 per cent of the student body, APATHY moved in on the council meeting, full force. He marshalled his staunch supporters among the other candidates to defeat the campaign rally proposal. The rally would have given each candidate an opportunity to introduce himself and make a short speech.

APATHY dealt the crushing blow in his amazing coup d'état by inveigling an endorsement for himself from the other candidates. In fact, his reception was unusually cordial, considering the intense rivalry of the current campaign.

Enlisting Indifference and Disinterest to his cause, APATHY will be a strong contender in the final election tomorrow. He also lays claim to a large constituency of smug complacents who, by their weight of vote-inertia, can give him an easy win.

APATHY's effective campaign tactics vividly demonstrate how important student spirit is in any school election.

Mardi Gras Tickets Sell Out; WJIM To Broadcast Music

Tickets for the semi-formal Mardi Gras dance Saturday night have all been sold. Although the 1,200 tickets were limited to some extent, they were completely sold out by 9:30 a.m. yesterday.

Les Brown and his "band of renown," featuring blonde songstress Doris Day and novelty singer Butch Stone, will play for the annual affair which will be held in College auditorium from 8 to 12 midnight.

TODAY'S CAMPUS

... Prestidigitation

A large yellow, yowling tomcat had been summarily ejected from the botany lab twice the other morning when for a third time the door began to slowly creak open behind the lecturer. The professor crouched to capture the culprit when in crept an astonished Dewey Gerlach, Mt. Clemens sophomore. Informed that he was being mistaken for a cat he merely put on his best feline smile and passed out his business card. It read, "It's a pleasure to be fooled by Dewey Gerlach, magician."

Spartans Defeat Detroit, 3-1

*Breslin's Single Breaks Up Contest To Give State Thirteenth Victory

By JIM CARR

DETROIT, May 13 — Michigan State turned on the pressure late in the eleventh inning when the Spartans drove across two runs to defeat the University of Detroit 3-1 here today.

In the second extra inning, Pat Peppler started the *frame by driving a single into left and then stole second base.

Candidates Bid For Positions As Councilmen

Student council candidates present the following campaign statements in their bid for office. Final elections will be held tomorrow in the Union lower deck.

Basic college — for sophomore representatives:

"I am unable to fight for your

Candidates for Student council office must turn their pictures in at the Student council office in the Union annex by 5 p.m. today.

rights physically, but with your support I will have the opportunity to engage in mental warfare against the inefficiencies of our student government."

Richard Beals.

Basic Representatives

"Basic college consists of the largest single group of students on campus, and should be ably represented. It is your duty to back your representative, and if elected, I will do my utmost to forward your ideas." — Jack Goodrich.

"What State students need is more interest in student government and a better understanding of the views, powers, and limitations of the Student council. Carefully choose your representatives according to their experience and capabilities." — Richard Prince.

Improvements Needed

"Although I cannot promise that upon election I'll have Dorsey play from Beaumont before 1 p.m. classes, I do see the possibility of other improvements. Most important, I believe, is the clarification of the policies and politics of our student government." — Charles Proctor.

"The faith to make my purpose . . ."

Theater To Show Film For Students

Following a request by Prof. Robert Adams, of the department of literature and fine arts, the film "For Whom the Bell Tolls" will be shown to the public tomorrow and Thursday afternoon at the State theater.

The picture was scheduled especially for students taking the literature and fine arts course which requires a review of this story. As the movie follows the plot of Ernest Hemingway's novel closely, it provides an opportunity for these students to cover the book.

Two showings of the film will be presented each day at 1:45 p.m. and at 4:25 p.m. Anyone may attend and regular matinee prices will be charged.

MSC FAILS

WSSF Falls Short Of Goal

With some 22 organizations yet to turn in their collections, the grand total of the World Student Service Fund drive today stood at approximately $900, falling far short of its goal of $5,000 for world student relief.

Co-chairmen Bob Butler, Trenton junior, and Gayle Oviatt, Washington, D. C., junior, explained that the remaining nine sororities, 12 fraternities, and one co-op house were expected to turn in their collections before the end of the week.

Four hundred and forty-five dollars were collected the last day of the intensive three-day drive. At the International Festival Friday night only $241 were donated to the fund. Contributions will be accepted at the Union desk until May 25.

College Symphony To Give Program; Schuster Directs

The department of music presents the MSC Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Alexander Schuster, and the a cappella choir, under direction of William Kimmel, in an all American program Friday at 8 p.m. in College auditorium.

Among the selections to be performed are Howard Hanson's Symphony No. 2 (Romantic), "Overture," by Owen Reed, and "The White Peacock" by Charles Griffes.

Roy Underwood, professor of music, will play with the orchestra and chorus Ernst Bloch's "Concert-Grasso for String Orchestra" and "Piano Obligato." This last composition is written in four movements, Allegro energico e pesante, Durga, Pastorale and Rustic Dance, and Fugue.

A composition for mixed chorus, orchestra, and baritone solo, "The Singers" by John W. Work (poem by Henry W. Longfellow), will be the concluding number on the program. This selection is the one which the a cappella choir and orchestra presented by request at the American composers festival in Detroit last Thursday. The composition won first prize in national competition.

Margaret Ramberg, Senior Piano Student, Will Present Recital

Margaret Ramberg, Muskegon senior, will give her senior recital tonight at 8 in Music auditorium, R. L. Underwood, head of the music department, has announced.

Miss Ramberg is an applied music major and has studied piano under Maurice Dumesnil, professor of music.

"Sonata," Opus 10, No. 1 by Beethoven, and "Intermezzo," Opus 117, No. 2 by Brahms, will be played. In addition "Awake, the voice commands" by Bach-Bussoni and another composition by Brahms, "Rhapsody in G minor" Opus 79, No. 2 are also on the program.

Les Brown and his "band of renown," featuring blonde songstress Doris Day and novelty singer Butch Stone, will play for the annual affair which will be held in College auditorium from 8 to 12 midnight.

1 a.m. Permission

Coeds have been granted 1 a.m. permission by AWS. Mardi Gras has been sponsored yearly by Student council but there is a possibility that the international students on campus may take the event over next year.

Radio station WJIM will broadcast a half hour of the dance from 10:30 to 11 p.m. Blue Key will tap new members for the junior and senior men's honorary during the intermission.

Lt. Gov. to Appear

Following the tapping, Lt. Gov. Vernon Brown will crown the king and queen of this year's dance; coronation chairman, Bob Butler, Trenton junior, has stated.

Voting for king and queen will be held Thursday and Friday on the lower deck of the Union. Candidates will be listed in Thursday's State News. Students will be eligible to vote for both king and queen.

Band To Present Spring Concert Tomorrow Night

Resuming its spring concerts, which before the war attracted people from all over this area, the Michigan State college band, under the direction of Leonard V. Falcone, will present an outdoor concert in the band shell tomorrow at 8 p.m.

The band, in conjunction with student singers, will perform selections from the musical comedy "Oklahoma," and the operetta, "Song of Norway."

"Oh, What a Beautiful Morning" will be sung by Robert Huber, Cincinnati, O., sophomore, and Doris Diedrich, Grand Rapids junior, Jack Stevens, baritone; Nancy Appelfhof, soprano; Bethany Beardslee, soprano; Marvin Dean, tenor; Norma Lou Gregg, soprano, and Jacqueline Walton, contralto, will present "Out of My Dreams."

Also included in the concert will be compositions by Nahan Franko, David Rose, and Richard Wagner.

Jack Breslin slapped a single into right center field, which scored Peppler with the winning run.

Breslin Also Scores

A poor throw from the outfield put Breslin on third base where he also scored when Ed Sobczak flied out to deep left.

This was the second over time game in three days for State, and helped to revenge the 5-4 set back handed the Spartans last Saturday by Notre Dame.

Keith Steffee hurled 10 1/2 innings for the Spartans, allowing but two hits and a single run while striking out three.

With the score knotted in the tenth, the bases loaded, and two out, State was relieved by Robin

Reading Hour Offers Program on Benchley

William Butt, instructor of written and spoken English, will present a program of Robert Benchley's works on the reading hour at 4 p.m. today in room 49 of College auditorium, Mrs. Moore Comper, program director, announced yesterday.

Comments on American customs and institutions will form a memorial to the popular humorist, recently deceased, who was noted as an actor and critic, as well as a writer.

Most of the selections will be from "My Ten Years in a Quagmire and How They Grew," Mrs. Comper revealed. Others have been chosen from "Inside Benchley."

LETTERS to the EDITOR

TO the Editor:
For the last two years I have heard nothing about the Student council except its shortcomings.

After the elections Wednesday, I began to doubt the truth of these accusations. Maybe the blame belongs on the shoulders of the student body as a whole. How can a student council be a representative body if only 12 per cent of the students vote? No wonder they can't or won't do what the majority of us want.

Before we blame the Student council for their shortcomings, let's correct our own faults. In other words, vote when we have the privilege. If this isn't enough incentive, perhaps it's time to force people to use the right to vote.

This amendment to the Student council constitution would force voting by the majority.

If a student fails to vote during any certain year he will be required to present a petition to the Student council signed by his class president and fifty of his classmates stating that he is qualified and should be given the right to vote. Otherwise, his name will be removed from the list of eligible voters.

It takes only five minutes to cast a ballot. If a person can't take this time to state his choice and preserve his right to vote, this right should be taken away. But this privilege is the very essence of the wonderful country in which we live. A man has the right to vote or not to vote depending upon how he feels. It is impossible under the rules of our country to remove a man's right to vote simply because he doesn't exercise the privilege.

The only way the Student council can be a representative body is to have its members chosen by the majority and the only way the majority can select the members is to get out and vote.

How about having at least 50 per cent of you show up at the polls tomorrow.

ANONYMOUS

TO the Editor:
Let us be the first to congratulate the midget mind that gestated the masterful scheme for distribution of Mardi Gras tickets.

Anyone who would so openly invite a black market by selling two tickets to each individual, when the great part of the student body was attending classes, should be presented with another hole in the head to match the one he obviously already has.

Affairs of State

GOOD news has been rumored—the cold siege is over. Yup, that's what I like about the South. If the rumor holds true, there will be warm nights from now on and the members of IFC can stage serenades to get in good voice before the sing. With the sorority sing this Sunday, Greek women can be seen tripping over to the band shell for that last minute practice. — Enough talk for now, who's in the news today?

Two Sigma Chis are boasting of their June weddings. Bob Ballard, Jackson senior, and Doris Townes, also of Jackson, will speak their vows at that time, as will Harry Sheridan, Maristee junior, and Dorothy Howell of Highland Park.

AOPi Jeanne Gamble, senior from Grand Ledge, is now the owner of an ATO pin. Art Clifton, Detroit junior, is the ex-owner.

New AOPi pledges are: Donna Maddock, San Rafael, Calif., freshman; Louise Ferguson, Dearborn freshman; and Mary E. Bostick, St. Clair sophomore.

At the Pi Kaps spring term election, Tom Baird, Grand Ledge senior, was elected president; Bill Amis, Lansing junior, treasurer, and Jack Lovett, Detroit sophomore, secretary.

The Gamma Phis have purchased a house at 314 Evergreen and will live there next year until their house on Harrison Road is built.

School of Home Economics — for senior representative:

"MSC needs a strong, unified student government and the only way to get it is for everyone to come out and vote tomorrow for his candidate." — Grace Johnson.

"I will do my utmost to represent my class in home economics to the best of my ability and to express and carry out its views. It's our organization, it's for our own good that we be well represented, and it's our duty to vote." — Irene Linck.

School of Home Economics — for junior representative:

"Last year I represented Basic college on the council; this year I would like to represent junior home economics. More than ever now, student government needs experienced, interested, and willing workers to, through the medium of the students, promote the best interests of our school." — Margaret Foster.

For Engineers

School of Engineering — for senior representative:

"Junior and senior engineers, you can depend on Tom Loring, a veteran candidate, for the handling of your engineering obligations on the Student council." — Tom Loring.

School of Engineering — for junior representative:

"As your candidate for public office, I am open to any suggestions and welcome them at any time. I make no promises, except that I will do my best to do the job as it seems right to me." — Charles Bachman.

School of Agriculture — for senior representative:

"Student council has made our student representation more democratic. Will you use your new power tomorrow? I offer you more active representation for all the departments of our school." — Mary Miller.

Revive School Spirit

School of Business and Public Service — for senior representative:

"The Student council can be instrumental in reviving the school spirit of which we were once so proud. If you're for this, I'm your man." — Paul Cline.

School of Science and Arts — for junior representative:

"The so-called 'cut system' we have here now is ineffective and old-fashioned. I intend to propose unlimited cuts for the student body. This would require instructors to make the class so interesting or instructive enough that the individual student would be obliged to attend class in order to pass the course." — David Broderick.

Army Officers Finish MSC Inspection Tour

A review of ROTC troops tonight at 5 on parade grounds in front of Demonstration hall will climax the inspection tour now being conducted by second army officers on campus.

For two days all military students have been tested in various military subjects with an hour of drill by platoons immediately preceding the parade.

Corp sponsors will accompany the inspecting officers when they enter the reviewing stand this afternoon. MSC's military band will supply marches for the three rifle companies who will pass in review.

Spartan Cindermen Down
Marquette In Dual Meet

By BILL SONNEBORN

Hopes of a confident Hilltop track aggregation were smashed Saturday when the Spartan thinclads took 14 firsts in their dual meet on Marquette's cinder paths.

Coach Karl A. Schlademan's squad broke meet records in the half mile run and mile relay events and set a new Michigan State outdoor vault mark, piling up 92 points against Marquette's 44.

Pushed by team mate Al LaGrou, Spartan Walt Maack set the half mile meet record at one minute, 56.6 seconds. Jim Fraser placed first in his 440-yard assignment, tallying a time of 50.3 seconds.

State's mile relay combination of Milford Jones, Ray Beckord, La Grou, and Fraser smashed the Hilltopper's meet record, posting the time at three minutes, 24.5 seconds for Michigan State.

An old hand at setting vault records, Ted Wonch furnished State with a new outdoor height when he matched his indoor mark by clearing 13 feet, 7.4 inches. Now that Wonch has recovered from the back trouble that presented a good showing at recent meets, he and his team mate, vaulter Bob Vosburg, will be in shape for the Notre Dame matches this week.

Jim Gibbard, State's freshman miler, took first place honors with a time of four minutes, 25.3 seconds, which was the second fastest mile run in the country last week. Gibbard's outstanding time was bested by only two-tenths of a second when Bill Leonard of Notre Dame ran the distance in Michigan's dual meet.

BASEBALL

Roberts, who promptly whiffed Remo Vielmo to end the frame.

Roberts is Winner

Since the winning runs were scored after Roberts entered the contest he was credited with the win.

Detroit took the lead in the first inning when Bob Groman doubled and scored on Pat Byerlein's sharp single. The Titans managed to stay out in front until the fourth inning, when the Spartans came through to tie the score.

Marty Hansen opened the frame by drawing a base on balls, Jack Breslin flied out to deep short stop, then Sobzeak came through with a timely double, Hansen pulling up at third. Hansen scored on Ben Hudenko's long fly to left field to put State back in the ball game.

Tom Sporer went the distance for the Titans and allowed six hits, struck out five, and issued two bases on balls.

Dick Mineweaser was the big offensive star for the Spartans by collecting two hits, a triple, and a single in four trips to the plate.

Spectators at the women's softball games are reminded that there is no smoking.

Wells A Upsets Es:
Ties For Loop Title
In Dorm Finale

Blasting through with a five run rally in the fifth inning, Wells A took Wells F, 5-0, in the feature game of dormitory softball last night.

David Thornton hurled two-hit ball, downing Wells F with ease. These same two teams will meet again at a later date in a play-off for the Wells title since each team has lost one while winning four.

Wells E went to its fifth straight defeat at the hands of Wells B, 2-1, with Dave Merrill the winning chucker.

In the wildest and one of the longest games of the now completed Wells season, Wells D upset Wells C, 13-5, in seven innings.

The game was all tied up 5-5 going into the seventh when walks and errors sent eight runs streaming across the plate. After weathering several rallies, Dick Carveth emerged the winning hurler.

Fraternity Golf
Date Announced

Intramural director Lyman L. Frimodig has announced that the inter-fraternity golf tourney will be held on May 25, at the Glenmoor golf course. A special price of .70 for 18 holes has been obtained for the meet.

Each fraternity will enter five men and the victory will go to the squad with the lowest total for four men. A medal will go to the low man of the meet, a plaque to the group with the low medal score, and a cup to the second lowest team.

All entries and fees must be in by Tuesday, May 21. In event of rain, the meet will take place the following Monday, May 27. Ground rules and schedules will be mailed to the fraternities.

After Knocking Off
Motor Wheel Nine

Journeying to Selfridge field Thursday in quest of its sixth win of the season, the Michigan State Jayvees baseball squad will be back in action after beating Motor Wheel of Lansing last Saturday, 5-1.

Zeke Vegt, Jayvee mound mainstay, hurled his third win while limiting the Wheels to six hits as his mates pounded out only nine binges.

There are still many old-timers in baseball. A player is just as young as he feels.

Ticket Sale Opens
To College Staff
For Grid Season

Faculty and college employee season tickets for next fall's seven-game home football schedule and the University of Michigan contest at Ann Arbor will continue on sale throughout the week.

Representatives in each school and department are handling the sales. Athletic Director Ralph H. Young announced yesterday.

Opening of the sale to the college staff follows the record total of more than 2,500 season tickets by the Downtown Coaches club of Lansing. This represents the highest spring sale of season tickets in State's football history.

Reservation of seats for the entire season can be made at Jensen Gymnasium when the tickets are issued. They will be ready for distribution beginning May 21.

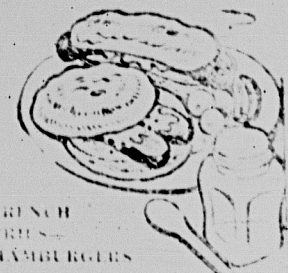

Faculty tickets are also available to the immediate families of staff members, including children of 12 school age and under. Additional season reserves for guests are also on sale, not including the game at Ann Arbor.
