

VA Pays Veterans' Expenses On Basis Of Cost To College

By JIM FERGUSON

"Michigan State college has done more for the veteran students than any other college in the country" was a statement made by Dr. F. W. Reeves, administration expert of the University of Chicago, during a recent visit to campus.

TODAY'S CAMPUS

... Sign the Pledge

"I'll never touch another drop" a group of college men swore as they sat in one of the local pubs. The reason for their "swearing the Pledge" was a case direct from Last Weekend. As the boys were cheerfully sipping their glasses, a hot streaked down from the shadows of the rafters. It was some time before the boys would believe that the hat was real and not one of those little pink ones.

... Indirect Method

A worried student was having difficulty determining whether he or a former renter would be occupying his room this fall. Unable to get anything definite after asking his silent landlady several times, he decided to try a more indirect method.

Not at Using one of the Un-Home ion phones, he called his home number, and asked for himself. Not recognizing his voice, his landlady told him he wasn't in.

"Well, could you tell me if he will be living there this fall?" the student asked.

"No," said the woman quite definitely. "My old rummer is returning."

"Thanks," he answered. "That's what I wanted to know."

... In the Hole

Several visitors on campus were watching the coop shovel operators digging a big hole in this beautiful campus. Before long, the usual question came up concerning what they were digging for. The answer was quick although probably incorrect. "Oh, this is where they're going to put the sunken gardens."

LAUNDRY TO CLOSE

No laundry will be accepted at the college laundry between Aug. 15 and Sept. 9. The laundry will be closed from Aug. 26 to Sept. 8, inclusive.

Committee To Present Co-op Plan To Administration Authorities

The non-profit cooperative store took a step further toward becoming a reality Wednesday evening at the meeting of interested students and faculty in the trailer camp with the selection of a steering and planning committee.

The main purpose of the committee is to draw up as complete a draft of the cooperative plan as possible for presentation to Pres. John A. Mannan by next Tuesday, and subsequently to the State Board of Agriculture. It is necessary for the board to approve the plan as the store according to present plans will be located in the trailer camp on college property.

Chairman of the newly elected steering and planning committee is Harvey Jensen of Royal Oak. Other members of the committee include Robert Fisher, James Tansola, Jack Crew, Darlyle

The facilities, instruction, administration, and benefits for the student veteran cost money, and the college is financing its veteran program through a plan with the Veterans administration whereby the expense of the vet's schooling is met by the VA on a cost per credit basis.

A veteran taking 17 credits last winter term in the schools other than veterinary medicine, cost the college $114.84, for which the Veterans administration was billed at the end of the term. This figure is based on the costs of $5.97 per credit plus a $13.33 service fee, which covers such items as hospital and lecture series expenses, according to Prof. Tom King, head of the office of veteran affairs.

Costs for veterinary students amounted to $11.33 per credit plus the service fee, making a total of $26.58 per term if the student carried 17 credits. The college has agreed to pay all cost over the $300 limit set by VA, but the veterinary students must buy their own books.

According to King, all tax supported colleges and universities are operating under a cost basis plan with full consent of the Veterans administration. The difference between the costs for the college and the tuition received from non-veteran students is paid by the State of Michigan and amounts to nearly $300 a year per student.

The effect is that the tax burden is shifted from the state to the national government. Figures on the per credit cost were arrived at by independent auditors.

In addition to the $300 difference between costs for non-vet students and tuition, there are other added expenses applying to the veterans. The college has found it necessary to open a complete new office and hire a large auxiliary staff to administer the veterans' program and handle the paper work.

A great deal of money is tied up with the government because the VA will not permit the billing of costs until the end of the term, and even then takes many months to reimburse the college.

Watters, and Charles Marshall. Also appointed because of their experience with co-ops were Prof. Henry Larzaler, campus co-op adviser, and Jerry Smith, of Inter Co-op council.

Other duties of the planning committee will be obtaining specific cost and operating estimates from the college purchasing department, conducting a search for a prospective manager and appointing representatives from each trailer section.

To date there have been 140 positive answers to the questionnaire circulated last week with more coming in all the time. The committee will hold an open business meeting Monday at 8:30 p.m. in the trailer recreation room.

The meeting was called by Robert Elett, commander of the campus American Legion post, and was later turned over to the elected committee.

Summonses Increase During July; Campus Police Issue 260 Tickets

'Police Collect $305 In Fines

By PHIL SPELMAN

Police Chief Arthur Brandstetter revealed yesterday that traffic violations on campus are increasing and that of 260 summonses issued during the month of July, 41 persons failed to appear at the police station in answer to the tickets.

Brandstetter stated that these license numbers have been referred to the Secretary of State, and that a list of the owners of the automobiles has been obtained. A thorough check of these drivers is being conducted.

Both the East Lansing and campus police are solitary island

All college classes will be discontinued and all offices closed Wednesday in commemoration of Victory day. The State News will not publish its usual Wednesday hour next week.

Women will be granted 12:30 permission on Tuesday night, A.W.N. announced. Wednesday night they will receive 10:30 permission.

President Truman's campaign to reduce traffic violations and accidents, the chief stated. Students with automobiles at school, Brandstetter said, are slowly turning the privileges of every-one by abusing the rules of campus driving. Brandstetter also stated that second offenders will be dealt with harder in the future.

To date MSU students have paid fines totaling $395 for the tickets written in July. Investigator Charles J. Becker of the campus police stated late yesterday that the figure will rise considerably when the 41 overdue summonses are finally cleared.

In Justice court $195 has been paid for violations of state regulations, and over $200 has already been paid to the Student Loan fund for college violations.

Wives To Sponsor Picnic For Vets

The East Lansing park is the place chosen for the picnic to be held Sunday, Aug. 18, for all veteran students and their families. Sponsored by the Veteran Students' Wives club, the picnic will give the married students a chance to get acquainted.

The picnic will start off with a ball game at 3:30 p.m. Fifty-three is the time set for eating. The wives are requested to bring their favorite dish for the pot luck and enough sandwiches for their families.

Chairman of the picnic committee is Mrs. John Olsouk. Although it not formally organized as yet, the Veteran Students' Wives club has been holding meetings since last spring. These meetings have been open to all veterans' wives.

Those who need directions to get to the park or transportation should meet at the west entrance of the Union at 3 p.m.

Play To Precede Regular Movie On Saturday

The first and only dramatic exhibition to be presented on the campus during the summer quarter will be offered at Fairchild theater tomorrow night at 8. "The Violet," a one-act comedy by Ferenc Molnar, French playwright, will be featured in one of its few U. S. presentations, with William Butt, instructor in written and spoken English, sponsoring and staging the performance.

Staging of the comedy will precede the showing of the movie, "A Star is Born," which previously had been scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. Admission to the play will be the same as that for the movie, for students the presentation of their activity books.

The setting for the drama is Budapest. Leads will be handled by Irving Haggart, Flint sophomore, and Polly Moehliman, Huskies senior.

The movie was one of the 10 selected by a committee of directors and producers as representing the best in movie entertainment.

State Man Heads Co-op League

Gerald E. Smith, present treasurer of Elsworth house, was recently elected president of the newly formed North American Students' Cooperative league at the national conference of campus cooperatives.

The North American Students' Cooperative league represents the federation of 4,000 students through five regional federations, Pacific coast, Central, Northeast, Midwest, and the Canadian. The conference was held in Milwaukee last month.

Smith, one of the eight organizers of Elsworth house in 1940, serves on the four-man Inter Co-op Council.

Abbot Men to Sponsor Radio Party Tonight

The only social activity scheduled for this weekend is the Abbot hall radio party that is being sponsored by precinct 14 tonight. Favorite bands and singers on records will provide music for the evening. The dancing will take place in the lower lounge.

Entertainment of ping pong and pool will also be supplied in the recreation room. The grill will remain open for the evening.

Patrons for the party are Mr. and Mrs. Lou Zarza and Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Dickerson, Chairman Bob Tansey announced.

Happy Smile

PRESIDENT TRUMAN shows a pleased smile after hearing that the candidate he favored had defeated Rep. Roger C. Slaughter in Missouri primaries. Regarding Slaughter, Truman had said "It he's right, I'm wrong."

BULLETIN

President Truman vetoed a bill late yesterday which would have allowed Secretary of Commerce Henry Wallace to sell to Michigan State college the property now occupied by the United States weather bureau. The college had desired the location of the bureau for part of its expansion program.

The cost of the building as well as its importance were cited by the President along with the present expense and difficulty of replacement as reasons for the veto.

King Criticizes FPHA Rental Arrangement

Speaking before a meeting of the American Veterans committee Wednesday night, Prof. Tom King, counselor for men and veterans adviser, criticized the Federal Public Housing authority policy on basing rentals on family income rather than on building and maintenance costs.

According to King, the FPHA has been setting rentals of campus housing units under their supervision by finding out how much money individual families earned. Rentals would then be based for each family in compliance with its ability to pay.

"The housing situation will be critical for at least three months more," King said during the general forum on housing. He further predicted that housing for married students would probably not be available on any large scale before winter term.

AVC announced that it is completing arrangements for an open forum meeting to be held Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Home Economics auditorium.

Teamwork Spells Victory In Abbot Softball Game

A sparkling fielding performance on the part of Floyd Reed, Precinct 15 center fielder, which enabled his teammates to clinch a 2-1 victory over Precinct 12, was the highlighting feature of the Wednesday night softball tilt.

Jim Rudy was on the mound for the 15-men and pitched a good ball game allowing only two hits. But the score might have been different if it hadn't been for Reed who made two sensational catching catches of hits that otherwise would have meant extra bases.

Both teams battled in the third inning and from there until the fateful seventh, when Precinct 15 scored the game-winning run, the hits were limited, both teams failing to get a man into scoring position.

Don Walz did the pitching chores for Precinct 12 and pitched right along with Rudy until the seventh when the 15-men got to him for three hits and a base on balls to score the winning run.

Joe Dobberteen made up the second half of the battery for Precinct 15, while Curt Gould did the back stopping for Precinct 12.

Hitches Shutout

Precinct 11 suffered its fifth defeat of the season and Bud Shields his fourth as Jim Norberg, pitching for Precinct 16, shutout the 11-men while allowing only two hits. His mates got off to an early lead, scoring three runs in the second inning and one in the third, and with the final out the score stood 4-0 in favor of Precinct 16. Behind the plate for Shields was Don Beshketoor with George Shamir doing the catching for Norberg.

Precinct 17 went on a hitting spree early in their game with Precinct 10 scoring four runs in the first inning which was enough to win the ball game, but added three more in the next two innings making possible a 7-1 victory over the 10-men.

Konich Limits Hits

Precinct 10 scored once off of George Konich in the second but from there until the finish the outcome was never in doubt as Konich held them in check at all times.

Ralph Schneider was on the mound for the loser's with Dick Montague doing his catching, while Bob Smith completed the battery for Konich.

In the Wells hall league things went into a three-way tie as Wards B, D and F scored lopsided victories over their opponents.

Wells Massacre

In the wildest game of the season, Ward B massacred Ward E 22-5. Lynn Conway, Svanjes and Humphrey Johnson paced the Ward B attack with home runs. Johnson's coming with the bases loaded, Conway and Svanje formed the winning battery with Ed Storms and Sterling Platt pitching for the losers and Eugene Goldfader doing the catching.

In another free hitting contest Ward F thumped Ward A to the ### Weather Sex?

Cards Spell 13's Perfect Record

A softball team from North Williams Tuesday night exploded the theory of women being the weaker sex when they defeated a highly touted Abbot precinct 13 squad.

The precinct 13 men took to the field full of confidence after defeating the best that Abbot ball could muster against them and compiling a winning streak of five games in as many starts.

Before many innings went by the score board, it was very evident that the 13-men were becoming worried and they settled down to serious business. But the boys recovered to late and with the final out the coach stood on the high end of an 8-7 score.

Gone were the smiles and laughter that had been so prevalent among the Abbot men before game time, for it was a bitter pill they had to swallow.

Sally Graeger was the individual star of the game and it was her staid performance at first base that killed many a possible hit for the men and made the victory possible for her team.

Officers Club Prepares To Resume Corps Sponsors Staff Fall Term

Detailed plans are now under way for the election of corps sponsors for the coming year, Robert Sturgeon, Chicago, Ill., junior and president of the Officers club, announced yesterday.

Each year advanced ROTC students choose a senior cadet to act as honorary lieutenant colonel for each branch in the department, with a honorary colonel to head the staff.

Last year corps sponsors elected only for spring term, were the first since advanced military classes were resumed after closing during the war.

Plans for the coming year will include a coronation ball during November, at which time the sponsors will be presented to the campus with appropriate ceremonies. This year's staff will include representatives for six branches and an honorary colonel.

Applications for the "spit staff" work plan for student veterans will be received at the placement office until Thursday noon, 800e Bldg., sponsor of the plan, announced yesterday.

College Obtains New Faculty Members

A total of 85 new professors and instructors have been hired since the ending of last spring term. Pres John A. Hannah stated yesterday.

Some of these have already started work during the summer term while others will begin this fall.

The full 10-week summer quarter which was started during the war, will be continued indefinitely, according to Pres. John A. Hannah.

In prewar years a six-week summer term was held, but as a result of the demand for year-round schooling, the college has decided to continue the full summer quarter.

Veterinary and engineering courses which required full year work during the war are being put back on the three-term schedule, and courses in these schools will be arranged to enable students to pick up courses needed to regulate their schedules, Hannah stated.
