TODAY'S CAMPUS

... One, Two

Prof. Raymond Gonne didn't like the idea of the chairs in one of his psychology classes being numbered from 100 to 1 instead of the usual way. So he had his students rearrange the chairs to satisfy his sense of mind. Passerby no doubt thought it was a class in practical psychology.

... At Plymouth

Did you hear about the student who went to a Religion class four times before he found out it wasn't a course in American Literature? But there really wasn't much difference. The English class was discussing Puritan writings.

Dupre To Lead Concert List Of Musicians

Marcel Dupre, organist, will lead the list of performers to be presented by the music department in their concert series. Dupre will be presented on Oct. 21 at Peoples church, and his program will include the works of classical and contemporary composers.

The Fantasy in F Major by Mozart is a perfect example of the beautiful, precise formal music which identifies the classical period. The excellent counterpoint, the variations have the graceful perfection and charm of Mozart's most lovely music.

Two selections by Bach and two of Marcel Dupre's own works will be featured in the organ concert. Majestic and grandeur pervade the Fantasy and Fugue in C Minor, and the chorale: Jesus Christ Our Savior, is typical of the serene beauty for which Bach's chorales are famous.

Inspired by the great life of his father, who was an organist of Saint-Ouen church in Rouen for 30 years, Dupre composed the symphonic poem, "Evocation," of which the finale will be heard. Compositions by Richard Keys Riggs, C. M. Widor, Frederick Marriot and Jeanne Demessieux will also be played by the organist.

On Oct. 25 Betty Stone, pianist, will be presented in her senior recital, and on Nov. 3 and 19 J. Murray Swanson, bass, and Harry Present, pianist, will be presented at the Music auditorium.

Cheney To Speak For Art Lecture

Sheldon Cheney, world known art author and critic, will be the first speaker in the fine arts lecture series sponsored by the art department. Cheney is scheduled to speak at the Music auditorium on Oct. 18 at 8:15 p. m.

All seats are reserved and season tickets must be purchased in advance at the college ticket office.

Cheney's topic will be "Modern Movements in Painting." The latter half of his lecture will be devoted to colored slides of well known paintings.

Cheney has written such books as "Impressionism in Art," "A World History of Art," and "The Story of Modern Art." He is known as the original founder and former editor of the Theatre Arts Magazine. Cheney has also written "The Theater: 2,000 Years of Drama, Acting and Spectacle" and "The New World of Architecture," the result of many years of

St. Louis Cardinals Take Sixth World Series Crown

Few Attend Junior Class Meeting

Sophomores Meet This Evening

Junior class last night in their first class meeting of the year in Music auditorium followed the precedent set by the seniors the night before. Almost nobody showed up, even several of the candidates for office were absent. An optimistic junior counting the audience stated that 52 persons were present. Last 10 Minutes

Fifteen of the 24 prospective class officers were able to make the meeting. The meeting lasted exactly 10 minutes in which all the candidates present were introduced and further announcements were made regarding electioneering methods.

Charles Bachman, Jr., chairman of the Student council election committee who presided over the gathering, stated that already illegal practices had been discovered in connection with campaigning. One of the candidates had prematurely used a photo on a campaign poster. This is against council regulations.

Aspiring office holders must submit their photos to the Union desk sometime before Thursday at 6 p. m. in order that they may be posted by the council in the Union.

A sophomore class meeting will be held tonight at 7 in Music auditorium for the same purpose, to give class members a chance to see and hear their candidates.

Work Continues On New Building Of Engineering

With the excavation of the new electrical engineering building nearly completed, plans are being made for the foundation work on the foundation which is being erected between the chemical engineering laboratory and the Red Cedar river, will begin as soon as a complete analysis of the test borings has been obtained.

All usable equipment from the present engineering building will be transferred to the new site, and other such equipment as switchboards will be purchased. Preliminary plans as to the extent of new purchases are vague, for it will be at least a year before the building will be in use.

Professor M. M. Cory revealed, however, that the department is going ahead with plans for a radar demonstration room to be housed in the tower of the fifth floor. Whether these plans materialize depends on the possibility of obtaining a set of radar equipment from the government.

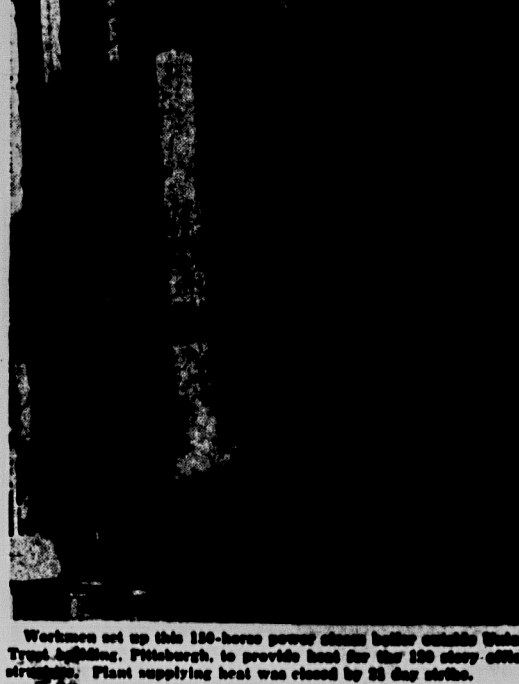

WKAR To Feature Children's Hour

In a new approach to the children's hour, WKAR has inaugurated a program for the youngsters in the form of its new feature, the Bookmobile Lady.

Every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday a quarter hour of stories, playlets, poetry, hobby, talks and a weekly riddle is presented in an entertaining and instructional way by Mary Ellen Christensen, a junior from Mt. Morris who portrays the Bookmobile Lady. The program is aimed at the 5 to 14 year age group.

The main objective of the feature is to create interest in the Michigan State library's statewide bookmobile service, which through the medium of a well-stocked library on wheels, visits remote sections of the state where no permanent library facilities are available and brings books to the children of such districts. The program is presented in cooperation with the Michigan State library, with production under the direction of J. Kenneth Richards and his assistant, Robert Kamin.

Portable Power, Postwar Style

Workers set up this 150-horse power diesel boiler outside Union Trust Building, Pittsburgh, to provide heat for the 150 story office structure. Plant supplying heat was closed by 25 day strike.

Voting Registration Ends

Married Vets Eligible To Vote Local Polls
Married veteran students are now eligible to vote at the coming fall election if properly registered. Tom King, campus VA head, has announced. Authorization for the procedure was obtained by President Hann from the state attorney general.

The only stipulations are that the registrant must not be registered in his home town and must show satisfactory evidence of residence in this area. All married veterans living within the East Lansing city limits may register with the East Lansing city clerk. Those living outside of the city limits and in Meridian township must register with the township clerk at Okemos.

Veterans and their wives residing in the Lansing township, which includes the trailer camp area, must register with Justice of the Peace Montgomery whose residence is on Michigan Avenue, Lansing.

Jackson's Report Calls Nuernberg Moral Advance

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—Justice Robert H. Jackson said tonight that "the Nuernberg trial may constitute the most important moral advance to grow out of this war."

In a report as U.S. chief prosecutor, Jackson told President Truman the trial and the decision condemning 11 high Nazis to death "do more than anything in our time to give to international law what Woodrow Wilson described as the kind of vitality it can only have if it is a real expression of our moral judgment."

"We cannot doubt, that they strengthen the bulwarks of peace and tolerance," he added. "The four nations through their prosecutors and through their representatives on the tribunal, have enunciated standards of conduct which bring a new hope to men of good will and from which future statesmen will not lightly depart. The standards by which the Germans have been condemned will become the condemnation of any nation that is faithless to them."

The White House made public Jackson's report tonight as the hour approached for the execution of 11 Nazis convicted at the trial. Jackson, reigning as U.S. chief counsel for the prosecution, said any report would be incomplete which failed to take account of the "general war crimes work that remains undone." A very large number of Germans who have participated in the crimes remains untried, he said.

Stocks, Prices Soar As Control Leaves

Politicians Anxious To Know Voter's Opinion On Future Meat Solutions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—Cattle prices soared today and the stock market shot up on the prospect that America's whole structure of wage and price control is toppling fast. President Truman's reluctant push that sent all livestock and meat controls to the scrap heap had swift and sweeping repercussions.

NEWS In BRIEF

Council Split Over Spain
LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Oct. 15 (AP)—The United States and Great Britain split with Russia today in the United Nations security council over a Polish proposal which would bar Franco Spain from appearing before the international court of justice as a non-member of the United Nations. Egypt's delegate, Mahmoud Bey Fawzi, stood beside the United States against the Polish resolution after the council unanimously approved a resolution which would, in effect, permit Franco Spain to plead before the high court.

Hunters Find Few Birds
LANSING, Oct. 15 (AP)—Michigan hunters moving in nearly a half million strong on choice pheasant areas of the state today, found opening day luck "not much improved" over last year's poor shooting.

Conservation department officials said however, that the 10 a. m. opening held down the first day kill and that the delayed starting hour made it difficult to compare the shooting with last year.

Paris Conference Adjourns
PARIS, Oct. 15 (AP)—The Paris Peace conference, boycotted in a dramatic 11th hour withdrawal by the Yugoslav delegation, adjourned this afternoon, and many delegates left immediately for the forthcoming meetings in New York of the United Nations general assembly and the big four foreign ministers.

The conference was declared officially over at 5:28 p. m. by French President Georges Bidault, after the delegates had given final approval to the official record of draft treaties with five former Hitler satellite nations — Italy, Rumania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Finland.

Two Killed In Train Crash

RUSSELLVILLE, Ky., Oct. 15 (AP)—The southbound Memphis section of the Louisville and Nashville railroad's Pan American passenger train crashed into a heavily loaded trailer truck today and left the rails, killing the two-man engine crew and injuring 16 others.

Foreign Students Like Us

Punjab, a northwestern province of India, has sent MSC three of its most notable students: Mohammad Jamil, Atma Singh, and Jawant Singh who are now calling Mason hall home and orienting themselves to the newness of American life.

Somby on the S. S. General Jordan, they arrived in San Francisco on Sept. 18, and spent several days with the education officer of India, during the city and visiting Californian universities.

Atma Singh and Jawant Singh are not related as most students on campus are led to believe. Their last name, Singh, denotes the religious sect to which they belong—that of the Sikhs. Mohammed Jamil is a Moslem; one may see him on campus minus a turban and turban for Islam does not make either compulsory.

Although Punjabi is the language spoken in Punjab, English is the medium of instruction in the schools and colleges. Consequently their comprehension and mastery of English is exceptional. While in India the three men were members of the state university system studying at the Un-

Brecheen Equals Record With Third Series Win

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 15 (AP)—An almost unbelievable piece of base running by Enos (Country) Slaughter and stout-hearted relief pitching by Harry (The Cat) Brecheen in the 9th inning enabled the St. Louis Cardinals to pull out a thrilling 4 to 3 victory today in the deciding game of the World Series.

Cedar Co-ops Get Store On Harrison

The Red Cedar Co-ops have finally succeeded in procuring a building for their store, Bob Fisher, board-of-directors member, has announced. It will be located on the corner of Harrison Road and Kalamazoo, next to the fire station.

Emery Foster, director of dormitories and food services, and Ray Lamphear, housing director for married veterans, were instrumental in securing the building. A prefabricated structure, it will be of the emergency housing type used by the military. The store will stock dry groceries and produce, as well as meat, Fisher said. Merchandise will be available only to co-op members.

A desk will be placed in the Union this week for the benefit of interested persons seeking additional information about the co-op and how to apply for membership. It will be open evenings from 4 to 8 p. m. Another information post will be stationed in the recreation hall of trailer village from 7 to 9 p. m.

"We have close to 100 members already," Fisher stated. "Our immediate goal is 200."

Crowd Enjoys Ballet Russe Performance

College auditorium was packed last night for the final performance of the Ballet Russe, which presented three popular productions of the repertoire, Mozartiana, Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme and Rodeo.

Mozartiana, orchestrated by Tchaikowsky, will long be remembered for its delightful classic grace. It was composed of five scenes: Claque, Menuet, Prigitera Theme et Variations, and Adagio. Perhaps the high spot of the evening was Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme, adapted from Moliere's classic comedy of the same name. The production last night caught most skillfully the repressed and relishing humor of Moliere's play. Natalie Krasovska and M. Michel Kacharoff displayed a high degree of skill and polish in the leading roles.

In search for a purely American work, Ballet Russe commissioned Agnes de Mille, choreographer, Aaron Copland, composer, and Oliver Smith, artist, to produce a ballet that glorified the culture and traditions of the Southwest. Nora White delighted the audience in her portrayal of the Rancher's daughter in Rodeo P. C.

Studio Theater To Hold Tryouts For Acting Group

Tryouts for all students interested in joining Studio theater will be held tonight and tomorrow night from 7:15 to 10 in room 40 of College auditorium.

Harold Hansen, director of the organization, has announced that this year the group will produce some modern three act plays as well as the one act pieces usually presented. Also planned is a performance of the old time melodrama, "The Drunkard."

Last year's members need not try out again but should appear at the tryouts and indicate that they wish to continue active participation. The first meeting of the year will be held on Oct. 31, at which time election of officers will be held. Students requiring further information should call Hansen at Ext. 202.

A meeting of everyone on the State News staff will be held today at 5 p. m. in the Staff News office.

inexplicable reason he "froze" and held the ball just long enough to enable Slaughter to slide in under the throw.

Brecheen Snuffs Sox Rally
As exciting a championship play-off as perhaps ever was fought out ended some 10 minutes later as Brecheen quelled a last-ditch Boston rally and retired the last three batters in succession with the tying and winning runs on the bases.

Brecheen, by relieving his close pal, Murry Dickson, in the eighth frame and getting credit for the triumph, became the ninth pitcher in series history to win three games.

In addition to social activities, members will listen to a prominent leader in the business world each term. Advisors for the year will be Professor E. A. Goh, head of the department of business administration, and Professor M. E. Dickerson.

Meat And Politics

Selfish politicians, says President Truman, are to blame for the meat shortage. In a radio address to the nation Monday night, he laid the responsibility for wrecking the effectiveness of price control on some few congressmen who put their own interests before that of the people.

By lifting controls on meat, Truman made black market prices legal. We will be getting meat all right, if we can pay for it. Our only hope for meat at reasonable prices rests on increased production, when supplies will sufficiently meet demand so as to bring prices down.

Well, here's hoping!

Equally important, perhaps, if less evident, is the timing of this administration action. With elections scarcely a few weeks off, it should be easy to see how political expediency played its hand in removing meat controls. The people want meat, so the President gave it to them, regardless of price.

Public opinion pollers freely predict a Republican landslide into congress this fall. Truman is striving desperately to stem the tide. If he fails, the country will have a Democratic administration opposed by a Republican-dominated congress. An interesting predicament, if ever we saw one.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

TO THE EDITOR

At last the communistic wave have swept into the State News and from other highly respected positions, such as president of Student Council. It seems unbelievable.

Let everyone take that attitude — what do we care about the public schools and primary education as long as we get what we desire?

Think a minute, Mr. President of Student Council what good will this college or any other college be if we don't support our public schools in a better manner and at once? Teachers are underpaid, equipment and textbooks are outdated, fewer students in college are enrolled in education courses than ever before in the history of this nation.

Only a better educated world will secure a lasting peace and it will be a little too late to teach anyone his freshman year in college if proper training by responsible teachers in primary schools is neglected due to the lack of funds.

The members of the Student Council are overstepping their bounds by telling students how to vote. Are we as a student body going to continue to do nothing about such matters? This is a state-financed college — let's not forget it and try to keep out of politics. Instead how about both sides on every issue?

THE Lobster Shift

By HELEN GOVER

In the past years the University of Michigan has followed a plan that we can well inaugurate on ours in regard to big dances featuring name bands. Dances planned for two nights with either the same band for two nights or different ones. Tickets are limited to one per person, thus giving more couples an opportunity to get in on the fun.

College auditorium will hold at the most some 1,500 couples and then it's crowded. With a study body of over 13,000 it is a small percentage that would be able to get tickets for a one-night event such as the J-Hop and the Senior Ball.

Along the same line it might not be a bad idea, in fact it would be a very good idea for the class officers as soon as they are organized to get their date for the dances set and sign their orchestras. It's never too early to get the name of a good name band on the dotted line.

Monday night the turnout for the senior campaign rally was poor. Just a handful turned out for the speeches in the Music auditorium. Of course, it was Monday night and there were meetings for the sorority and fraternity members, but that was no excuse for every senior student on campus should have been at that meeting, backing his candidate.

The situation was even worse last night at the junior meeting when less than 50 persons made the trek over to the Music building.

What's the reason for the failure of these meetings? Is it because the student body did not have the opportunity to become informed of them? Last week at least three stories ran to the effect that such meetings would be held.

The fault lies with each individual student who wanders around in his own little world letting the other fellow do it and then is the first to gripe.

Frankly, I'm a little discouraged with the students rooting for "Spartan spirit" and more representative government who haven't enough interest in it to do more than talk.

WELL! Oil May Be Here If You Dig Down

If anyone should care to fathom the undetermined, there is a deep possibility that oil exists beneath the campus. Wells beneath Lansing within a radius of 25 miles, but the rocks bearing oil in these areas are not a part of our sub-strata.

It is the opinion of the experts that anyone would be sunk if he tried to sink a well on campus. Oil would probably not develop, but some government official would undoubtedly come along and inquire if the excavators had a building permit.

However, China is the limit, and geologists believe that oil occurs at 6,000 feet. That's a lot of negative altitude. Socony, Shell, Texaco, etc., will probably distill potatoes before going that low.

MSC College Students Plan Club For Sailing Enthusiasts

Nautically minded students will now be able to further their interests through the recently organized Michigan State Sail club.

Joining the already large group of special interest clubs on campus, the sailing club received official recognition from the Student Council and faculty board only last week.

In keeping with the sailing organizations located on campuses throughout the country, the MSC club hopes to acquire a small fleet of sailing dinghies to be used on nearby Lake Lansing. Due to the qualities of these dinghies there will be a high degree of competition in racing as well as a prolonged season of sailing. The group expects to have races each weekend until late fall and then resume the schedule in early spring.

Invitational Races

The club is also looking forward to having invitational races with other schools nearby, including the University of Michigan which has had a sailing club for a number of years. Long range plans include participation in the national collegiate regatta with such schools as Harvard, Yale, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Cornell.

To encourage membership in the organization plans are being made to have a sailing school this winter for those interested in learning the fundamentals of the sport.

Spartans Pointing For Victory In First Road Game Of Year

By CHUCK STRATTARD
Determined to get back into winning ways after two successive defeats, the Spartan football squad will Monday evening and then return to contact work in Tuesday's scrimmage session, in preparation for Saturday's first away-from-home game of the season with Penn State.

210 pound Maroon center who did a smart job of line backing and diagnosing Spartan plays also received credit.

Kick-off

Kawal agreed that the kick-off department is still woefully weak and a search is still underway on the practice field for a hefty toe that can get the ball to the opponent's end-zone on kick-offs.

"These poor kick-offs are hurting us a great deal," Kawal said emphatically, and added, "On many of our kicks we're spotting the other outfit as much as 20 yards on their return, and that's putting us in a hole at the outset."

Booback Plays Well

Speaking for the end play, Lou Zarza nominated Ed Sobczak as having turned in a very satisfactory performance against the southerners.

"Sob" played a good game. He was there on pass receiving, he got down field under punts, and was a stand-out on defensive work, and it looks very much like he has won himself a starting berth against Penn State," Zarza said.

Injuries Plague Squad

Most serious injuries in Saturday's defeat came to center Pete

Fusi, who suffered a strained back, and end Barney Roscopp, who was removed from the game early in the first quarter with a wrenched knee.

Fusi was out for practice but the coaches rested him while his team mates ran through their signals Monday. The big center complained that it still bothered him to bend over the ball. Roscopp was not at practice, but it was hoped that he would be ready for the Nittany Lions next week end.

Changes in Line

As a result of the injuries to these two key players, plus the fact that the coaching staff is still searching for the strongest front line working unit, last night's practice resulted in a general shakeup in the forward wall which will take the field at State College, Pa.

Jack Pietz has been moved into Jack Harris' left tackle position, and he will team with end Warren Huey and the retained guard Don LeClair on the port side of the line. Either Bob McCurry or Ray Weitecha will fill in at center if Fusi isn't ready Saturday.

On the right side it will be Ken Balge or Ed Sobczak at end to team with Alger Conner who has been shifted over from his guard slot, and Ed Hagdon, 200-pound Dearborn freshman who has won a starting assignment at the position vacated by Conner.

This afternoon's scrimmage will be of a heavy variety and the team will taper off with a light workout here Thursday before showing off for the east late that day.

Cards Win Sixth Title

threatened to pull his weary arm out of its socket.

York Slags
Rudy York opened Boston's last desperate inning with a single to left and speedy Paul Campbell was sent in to run for him. Bobby Dwyer followed with a liner into left on which Campbell pulled up at second, and Manager Eddie Dyer held a worried conference with Brecheen. He decided to leave the Cat to his task.

Pinky Higgins could do no better than ground into forced play at 2nd on which Campbell scooted to third. Roy Partee popped up to Stan Musial at first, and then Brecheen bled down for that final out on pinchhitter Tom MacBride.

Wings Open Card Tonight

DETROIT, Oct. 15 (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings called upon three newcomers to start them up the record 60-game, National Hockey League ladder in tonight's first-rung encounter with the revamped Toronto Maple Leafs.

Of 15 Red Wings who donned uniforms for last year's opener, only seven will be on hand to begin the longest Detroit season in 21 years of league competition. Last year's schedule included only 30 games.

Toronto in Name Beat

Toronto has also shaken up its team considerably in an effort to lift itself above fifth place, where the Maple Leafs finished the 1945-46 season behind the fourth place Red Wings.

Besides being the earliest opening in Detroit's hockey history, it is also the first time in many years that the Wings have begun a season in midweek. As a result, advance ticket sales have been somewhat below Olympia Stadium's sellout capacity of 14,000.

New Defenseman Named

With the veteran Detroit defenseman, Jack Stewart, sidelined by illness, Manager Jack Adams said Doug Baldwin, who played a part of last season with Toronto, will fill the opening nod along with the regular defensemen, Harold Jackson and Bill Quackenbush.

Two other newcomers, center Bill Taylor formerly of Toronto, and left wing Roy Conacher, who came to Detroit from Boston, will appear in the No. 1 line. Eddie Bruneteau will be at right wing.

Adams picked Harry Lumley as his starting goalie over the veteran Johnny Mowers, who, he said, needs a little more lumber in after his return from service.

Mural Golf Card Ready

The schedule for this fall's all-college golf tournament, Saturday, October 19, has been announced.

To be held at Grosbeck golf course, Grand River and Otto avenues in Lansing, the meet has drawn 67 entries. These have been arranged in threesomes, and any player not able to compete as assigned is asked to call Ed Pogor, ext. 623 and other arrangements will be made. Golfers failing to appear at assigned time must be disqualified. The tournament will be decided by medal score, with Grosbeck club rules in effect.

On The Rebound

BY BILL SONNENBORN
YESTERDAY'S editorial has brought a bale of comment to the office, from both the MSC student body and from local newspapers.

The Detroit Free Press ran a story which quoted me at great length on this subject. Probably no one was more startled or surprised than I to see my name and opinions on their sports pages.

The quoted comment misrepresented my views and opinions and were not my thoughts or words.

Following are some of the letters received yesterday:

To the Editor:
I WAS one of the booring mob at Saturday's game. However, I didn't realize how it would be taken by the non-partisan observers until the next day. On Sunday, in three different papers, I read where MSC rooters had boored and "jeered" Russ Reader, the college's hope. Of all the horrible mistakes that have ever been made, this to my way of thinking is the greatest.

This is not only my opinion, but the opinion of many others to whom I have placed that question. The boos were not directed at Reader, but to anyone in general responsible for the removal of Spartans doing a good job. This is not given as an excuse.

This is meant as a public apology to you, Russ, from some badly misunderstood but loyal fans. We're sorry.

H. N. Bowles and friends.

Fallon's Boat Wrecked
DETROIT, Oct. 15 (AP) — Albin Fallon's hopes of breaking the American hydroplane speed record suffered a setback today when his Miss Great Lakes crashed in a trial run on the Detroit river.

The driver, Dan Foster, and the mechanic, Louis F. Meier, were hurled 40 feet into the air but landed clear of the boat. Fallon, watching from a cabin cruiser, came to their rescue and took them to a hospital, where attendants said their injuries were not serious.

Coast guardsmen who towed the damaged craft to shore reported seeing it suddenly spin around, squirt into the air and drop back into the water.

To the Editor
SATURDAY'S demonstration by Spartan fans at Macklin field was one of the most unjust, un-sportsmanlike, and disgusting out-breaks in the history of college football.

We have been attending football games in high school and college for the past 10 years and never have we had the misfortune to hear a player booed and ridiculed by home town fans. Unsportsmanlike conduct on the field is one exception, but when an athlete is in a contest giving his best for his team and Alma Mater one cannot ask for more.

Russ Reader, leader of State's attack for the past two years is the target of the unthinking fans. Didn't it enter the heads of those intellectual Emstens that a passer must have protection to complete passes and that a ball carrier must receive good blocking to pave the way into pay dirt. Reader had neither good protection nor good blocking Saturday.

"Mowers is by no means out of the picture," Adams explained. "He won't be traded or shipped out of Detroit. He'll be on hand and his chance will come if and when Lumley fails to meet expectations."

As a result Toronto team will offer goalie Turk Broda and a No. 1 line of Syl Apps, Bill Ezrin, and Harry Watson, the latter an importation from Detroit. Bookies make up a large part of the rest of the team.

Only four Detroiters are listed on the Spartan grid roster. They are, Pete Fornari, from Southfield, etc., Russ Gilman, Cooley, Charles Nystie, Northwestern, and Bob Maltjegen, Redford.

Famous Coach Says: 'I'D RATHER COACH THE PROS'

A celebrated referee from college football tells why he thinks he's better off — both spiritually and financially — coaching a pro outfit than he ever was on the college campus. His name: Jim Connaman, fabulous coach of the Chicago Cardinals. His reasons are both enlightening and amusing, and he gives 'em to you straight from the shoulder in his lively article entitled I'd Rather Coach The Pros in today's issue of The Saturday Evening Post. Still another reason why, if you want to keep posted on the world of sports, you can't afford to miss a single issue of the Post.

Ardent Sports Fan

Atma, who received his B.S. in agriculture and M.S. in horticulture at the Punjab Agricultural college, Lyallpur, is an ardent sports fan. Taking time away from studying and experimenting with frozen fruits and vegetables in India, he pursued his favorite games: volley ball, soccer, and basketball.

Food, not only fulfilling one of the basic needs, but also being one of the finer things in life, has become a problem for Jamil, Atma, and Jaswant. A mealtime schedule in India includes breakfast, lunch, evening tea at 5 p.m., and dinner about 8 or 9 p.m. Being unaccustomed eating a hearty dinner so soon after lunch, they cannot consume a complete meal. But at 8 or 9 p.m. they are famished. The type of food Americans eat, likewise, is in direct contrast to that served in India, where dishes are highly seasoned and more often fried.

Scientifically Prepared Food

Practical Atma comforts the other two, however, when they begin to visualize steaming plates of curry and rice, by reminding them that, after all, the American food is the most scientifically prepared in the world.

Though arriving in the States only a month ago, Atma, Jamil and Jaswant are already becoming accustomed to their new mode of living.

Musician To Play At Auditorium

Fritz Kreisler, world renowned concert violinist, will come to College auditorium next Tuesday and Wednesday nights at 8:15.

Tickets for the performance are now available to all students at the ticket office in Administration building.

Ohio Mother To Speak Here

"Who's Afraid of Babies" is the topic which Mrs. Joy Seth Hurd, mother of 15 living children and grandmother of 14 will speak to all campus women tomorrow.

At 52 Mrs. Hurd is an outstanding mother. She was nominated Ohio Mother of 1946 by the American Mothers' Committee of the Golden Rule Foundation. She was also selected as Catholic mother of 1946 by the National Conference on Family Life.

Mrs. Hurd is talented in music and trained in voice and ballet.

She has appeared on many programs in which John McCormack was soloist. At present Mrs. Hurd is devoting her attention to nation-wide appearances on Family Life programs.

Beth Murphy, Flint senior, chairman of the program and Gerry Murphy, Flint senior, will introduce the speaker. The program is sponsored by the Newman Club and will be held in the Union ballroom. Peggy Hayes, Birmingham junior and Marge Heller, Detroit junior are in charge of publicity.
