

State Board O.K.s Enlargement Of Macklin Field

Addition To Stadium Will Give Spartans 28,000 More Seats

State Will Play Notre Dame In Football In 1948 For First Time Since 1921

Macklin field, Michigan State college football stadium, will be enlarged to hold over 50,000 spectators, Secretary Karl McDonel, announced yesterday, following the regular monthly meeting of the State Board of Agriculture, governing body of MSC.

Athletic Director Ralph H. Young announced at the same time that football relations with the University of Notre Dame will be reopened in 1948 with a game here. The renewal of the series comes after a lapse of 17 years.

The stadium will be expanded into a horseshoe shape and will include under-stand dormitories for 800 men students, if preliminary architectural plans are followed. Construction will begin as soon as materials are available. The work will be completed in time for the 1948 season.

Young declared that the Michigan State-Notre Dame series will continue for an indefinite period. Climaxing months of negotiations between the two schools, the announcement renews a gridiron rivalry that began in 1897 and continued to 1921.

Michigan State has won two of the 15 games played between the two schools. In recent years the Spartans and the Irish have met in two other sports fields. Last year the two schools faced each other in basketball, baseball, track, tennis and golf.

The new stadium-dormitory will cost in excess of one and one half million dollars. The plans call for extending the east and west stands and adding a second deck. Self Paying

The south stands will be built up to the height of the east and west stands, while the north stands will be left untouched. Seventy five per cent of the seats in the stadium will lie between the two goalposts. The building will be built on a self liquidating plan.

Five floors of dormitory rooms, kitchens, and other housing facilities will be constructed under the horseshoe part of the stadium. Ninety-eight rooms will be provided on the first floor and 88 on the remaining four levels.

President Katharine K. Cavanaugh, president of Notre Dame, and John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State, both expressed enthusiasm for the resumption of football contests between the two schools.

Frank Leahy, director of athletics and head coach at Notre Dame, was a former assistant football coach at State in 1932 and 1933. Charley Bachman, State's head coach, was graduated from Notre Dame in 1917.

In addition to approving the expansion of Macklin field, the State Board of Agriculture accepted gifts totaling 13,400 dollars and appointed 83 new members. See STADIUM, Page 1

International students will be honored at an informal get-together Sunday evening at 7:30 in the Union ball room, given by members of Tower Guards, sophomore women's honorary, Blue Key, senior men's honorary, and Open Helmet, sophomore men's honorary. This party is being given in order that international students may become better acquainted with their fellow students.

Plans for the evening affair include a musical program organized by Don Buell, professor of speech. Other plans are being arranged by Charlotte Barr, Clemens, sophomore; Bob Cameron, East Lansing, senior; Herb Hozie, Dearborn, senior; Faculty guests to be present this gathering will be Mrs. F. J. Gollacher, Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. S. E. Crowe, Mrs. J. E. Goman, Miss Mabel Peterson and Mrs. Curtis Peterson.

TODAY'S CAMPUS

... Nice Work If

Statistics 101 is not nearly as interesting as the three credit grill hour. At least three students thought so yesterday. But Grill to save their consciences. Makers they decided to combine work with pleasure. According to their new pleasurable work, they saw 480 students enter the grill in 30 minutes, and only 307 persons left. What happened to the remaining 173 persons?

... Time Staggerers

The students without watches and alarm clocks this week are certainly in a confused state, all due to the bells in Reamont Tower. The tower continues to ring but the hours definitely off. Perhaps they are trying to adopt a new school song such as "We Didn't Know What Time It Was."

... Worn Out?

Although every newspaper likes to boast that "it pays to use space in our classified ad section," we know of one ad that may not pay. A student requested Prof. A. A. Applegate, journalism head, in the advertisement, to waive an English requirement for him. How did you make out, Mac?

... Common All

The classroom shortage has made the international center even more cosmopolitan, according to its director, Dr. Shao C. Lee. The center is obliged to share its meeting place with classes of conversational Japanese, Chinese literature and English.

Off-Campus Women's Council Approves New Organization

A new organization, the Off-Campus Women's council, was approved Tuesday by AWS to bring those women living off campus in closer contact with college activities.

The council will serve about 600 women in Lansing and East Lansing. The purpose of the group will be to present these women with the opportunities which MSC offers in both educational and extra-curricular activities.

AWA representatives in charge of off-campus affairs, Florence Dwyer and Helen Jamison, were responsible for the beginnings of Off-Campus organization.

The council is attempting to reach all women living off-campus including those working for their own and board and the women living in approved homes in Lansing and East Lansing. One representative from each group and one from each of the houses will comprise the council of 18 members.

In order to make work easier, the council has been divided into three committees. Committees and their chairmen are: social, Jane Montgomery; athletics and activities, Arveth Liekfeldt; and public relations, Virginia Crogan. Misses Mabel Peterson and Lucille Tillotson are advisers for the group.

Band To Play At Grid Tilt With Penn

Musicians To Leave MSC This Evening For State College

By BEA WILSON
The Michigan State College marching band will journey to State College, Pennsylvania tonight, to perform in the MSC-Pennsylvania State College game, Leonard V. Falcone, band director, said yesterday.

Making the trip on a special Pullman train, band members will leave Lansing at 8:45, arriving at State College at 11 a.m. tomorrow. On the return trip, the band will leave State College at 6:25 tomorrow night, pick up the football team at Altoona, and arrive at the Pere Marquette station at 8:30 Sunday morning.

All meals will be served on the train except breakfast, which will be served at the Union on the band's arrival in East Lansing.

During the half period the band will perform a particularly difficult maneuver; they will form an oval derrick, then spurt out the top, leaving in their places paper plumes planted in the ground. The plumes serving as the outline of the derrick, the band will then form the word "Penn" beneath it.

The band will play the "Pennsylvania Polka" while forming the derrick, and the song "The Nittany Lion" while forming the word "Penn." Concluding, the band will form the letters MSC and play the Alma Mater.

Remember Me? Former MSC Coed Hits 'Slick' Pages As 'Slick' Model

Michigan State college upper-classmen will recognize the lovely features of Louva Bell, former MSC student, appearing in this month's issue of Redbook.

Before mixing her modeling career with marriage, Louva attended State during the school year of '44. While on campus she gained recognition through activities in Studio Theater group, and was pledged to Alpha Gamma Delta.

In the spring of '45, Louva married Jack Buehler, and moved to Los Angeles, where she was put under contract to the Blue Book model agency.

Louva posed for such well-known artists as Earl Cordey, and has appeared in numerous pictures with her husband. Recently she was one of several models chosen to take a publicity cruise on Dana Andrew's yacht.

Veterinary Honorary Holds Annual Banquet

Alpha Psi, veterinary honorary, held its annual banquet honoring 11 new members last night in the American room of the Olds hotel, with Dean Ward Giltner acting as toastmaster.

State veterinarian C. F. Clark made the main address with each new member giving a short talk before the group.

Bill Jackson, president, stated that formal initiation will be held next week.

Corps Sponsors Take Active Part In ROTC

When Corps Sponsors were first made a part of the military life at MSC the Wolverine of 1921 wrote "... a new custom was innovated in the fall term that brings charm to the military work that has not before existed.

"This custom is the election of Coed Sponsors for each of the units and the regiment. These sponsors take part in all the ceremonies and social events of the military department. They bestow all honors and take an active part in all activities." it concluded.

Since that time their duty and importance have become a tradition except for the war years when advanced ROTC classes were discontinued. They are chosen each year from senior coeds who are selected as candidates by women's dormitories, co-ops, sororities, off-campus houses and ROTC students' personal entries.

Primary requisite is personality backed by beauty and scholarship. Coeds who have been nominated as candidates will be honored at a reception in Union ballroom on Oct. 23.

At elections held during the following week sponsors will be chosen. Rehearsals for installation ceremonies climaxed by a picturesque service during intermission at the Coronation ball on Nov. 1 will fill the schedule.

Advanced military students will form an honor guard at the ceremonies. Colonel John L. Whitehall, commandant of ROTC, will perform the honors, assisted by his wife, the former May E. Ranney, Cavalry Corps Sponsor in 1922.

8,000 Veterans on Campus

Choice Of Four Groups Open To All Vets

By JIM PIOWATY
Michigan State college has approximately 8,000 veterans enrolled this term, and these vets, representing all branches of the service, male and female, have four veterans' organizations to choose from. The four vet groups serve to continue the bond of common interests developed in the service, and are of two types.

The American Legion, and the American Veterans committee, are of the general type, drawing from all branches of the service. The Parachute club, and the Marine group, "Semper Paratus," have membership requirements limiting them to ex-servicemen and women of their special branches or allied groups.

The American Veterans committee, organized on campus last year, also draws students from all

Bobbies Find Part Of Loot In Gem Theft

Thug Drops Portion Of Wally's Jewels Along Golf Links

LONDON, Oct. 17 (AP) — London police combed night clubs tonight for a trace of expert thieves who climbed a drapery into the Duchess of Windsor's country apartment, looted a "considerable portion" of her glittering $1,000,000 jewel collection and left part of it scattered on a nearby golf course.

A friend of the Duke of Windsor and his American-born wife said from $20,000 to $100,000 worth of rich gems were taken late yesterday from the second-story boudoir at Endam Lodge where the royal couple were guests of the banker and international industrialist, Earl of Dudley.

Exchange Telegraph agency said, however, it understood the value of the stolen gems was $800,000 and that $120,000 had been recovered. The Duke's friend said all the stolen jewels were insured.

Detectives announcing the recovery of a "certain amount" of the loot said the loot was found in a Gladstone bag on the Earl's golf course overlooked by the Duchess' boudoir window. Other pieces of the sparkling array were scattered in the grass, the detectives said.

AVC To Aid Voters With Notarization Of 'Absent' Forms

Karl Mikko, president of the American Veterans committee, announced yesterday that a certified notary public, employed by the college, will be at the AVC registration desk in the Union from 9 to 5 today and Monday through Wednesday to notarize absentee voters' registration forms.

All registration forms must be notarized before being returned to the city or township clerk. Mikko said that many students are returning their registration forms unnotarized because they believe that they should be in before October 16.

It was only the postcard requesting a registration form that was required to be in by this date. However, he concluded, the registration forms should be returned in time to allow voting officials to send the absentee ballots out and have them returned by the voter before the election deadline.

Town Girls Will Hold Social Get-together

Town girls will stage a social get-together for all women residing in Lansing and East Lansing private homes in the Union ball room Wednesday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The main activity of the evening will be bridge. All those interested are requested to sign the list on the bulletin board in the Women's lounge.

Weather Blanks Frosh Turnout At Class Rally

Foul weather last night destroyed high Student council hopes for a record turnout to the freshman class meeting in Music auditorium. Although approximately one hundred persons attended it was a poor showing for the largest freshman class in college history.

Dick Carveth, Student council representative, acted as master of ceremonies and presented the 19 candidates to the group.

Polls Ready To Receive Class Vote

Students Must Have Both Activity Books, I-D Cards to Ballot

By MORTON D. SMERLING
Seven booths will be placed in various places on campus today for the primary, class-officer elections. Students are reminded that they must have their activity books as well as identification cards in order to vote. Complete checklists are not yet available from the registrar's office.

The booths will be located in the Union, Olds hall, Horticulture building, College auditorium, Agriculture hall, Morrill hall, and Demonstration hall. Student council elections committee chairman, Charles Bachman, jr., has announced that the polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. for the voting.

Student council has prepared 8,000 ballots for the election, 1,500 each for senior and junior class voting, 2,000 for sophomores, and 3,000 for freshmen.

Council President Tom Loring urges every student to vote. "Only in this way," said he, "will those elected represent a majority instead of a minority of their class."

Candidates were warned at the council meeting last night that they are subject to disqualification if they commit any infractions of the election rules, especially regarding the size of campaign posters.

Pete Navarre, Monroe freshman, received permission from the council to re-activate the Independent Students' association on campus. The organization was discontinued during the war.

Candidates for the various offices that appeared were: President — Bob Howell, Gene Sisson, Walter Sumner, Evell Rader, Don Buell, Jr., and Dick Simpson.

Secretary — Shirley Minter, Ron Gilbert, and Nancy Hanson.

Treasurer — Ed Pino, Jim McCartney Dawn Ziegler, and Bill Cameron.

Among veterans' social organizations is the Parachute club, founded last spring for men who were paratroopers and men interested in gliders. Willard Pearson, Norway sophomore, is the club's president. Membership stands at 44, but Pearson expects to have 100 members by the end of the school year.

SIR HUBERT WILKINS

"Over and Under the Polar Regions," will be the subject of Sir Hubert Wilkins' lecture to be presented in College auditorium tomorrow at 8 p.m.

The lecture will be illustrated with colored motion pictures of the polar regions.

Captain Wilkins, the only explorer to use a submarine under the Arctic ice, has made seven expeditions to the polar regions in the last 25 years. His next expedition also will be in a submarine.

Wilkins holds the distinction of several exploration "firsts." He is known as the first to discover new land from the air, and the first to cross the Arctic ocean by airplane.

Besides being the first and only Arctic explorer to use the submarine, he is also the first to fly over the Antarctic continent.

Frank Buck of "Bring-em-back-alive" fame will give the third World Adventure series on Saturday, Oct. 26.

Orchesis To Begin Dance Workshop For New Acts

Orchesis, women's modern dance honorary, has resumed its fall activities with the institution of a dance workshop and a fall dance program.

Women students interested in the dance workshop, which is held Tuesdays from 4 to 6 p.m. in the Women's gym must have completed at least one term of modern dance, or have had some studio training in the dance before attending the college.

Participants in this workshop may work for from one to three credits, or may attend the class for no credit. WAA points may also be earned at the workshop, if no credits are received for the course.

Orchesis is formulating plans for the year's activities, among them several small dance programs for various campus organizations and a possible return performance of the ballet pantomimes which were presented last spring.

Jackson Urges Coeds To Join Spartan Reserve Band

Women students are urged to join the Reserve band, Don Jackson, assistant director of bands, announced yesterday. Due to the misunderstanding that both bands enlist only men, coeds have failed to try out.

Jackson said that he is sure that there are some interested in joining. The band has swelled its proportions since the first appeal for members was made, but few women have joined. Those interested are asked to contact Don Jackson in Room 118, Music building.

A Place To Study?

Students have complained that they cannot study in the library while others create a disturbance visiting with their friends. Any kind of noise or disturbance is accentuated by the overcrowding now prevalent in the library. Surely with every available seating space in demand, there can be no room for idlers or noise-makers.

Any student who abuses the decorum of the library with loud talk or social "chit-chat" is unwittingly offending his fellow students working there with more serious purposes in mind.

The library is a place for study. Let's keep it that way.

End Of The Road

Herman Goering and 10 other Nazi criminals have finally been dealt their due, the fat boy by his own hand in cowardly suicide, the rest at the end of a rope.

Justice is difficult to administer, especially when the accused must be made to answer for the sufferings and torments of untold millions. Death seems hardly penalty enough for the heinous crimes they committed, for the fields they fertilized with human flesh and bones, for the slavery and degradation they imposed on their fellow men.

War-making has been stripped of its honor and glory. Hereafter, bemedaled generals guilty of waging aggressive war are to be considered common murderers and shall be meted out comparable punishment. These are the findings of the Neurenburg court.

Vanquishing the Nazis has been a costly business. Many Americans lost their lives in the process. The stakes were great, but the price was dear. Would that it were not in vain, that we can keep the peace we have attained.

"If ye break faith with us who die,
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields."

TO the Editor:
Recently, a ski club was organized under unusual circumstances. There is no snow and the nearest ski jump might be the campus nursery slide. I admire such enthusiasm.

I wonder why some students with a yen for organization have yet started roller skating and chess clubs. I would even like to see these two additional methods for toughening acrobats in our curriculum. They have an advantage over many sports because they are sugar-coated with music. Also, they are very popular.

Position "live" of ballet is well portrayed by Charles Chaplin's feet, and in comparison to the skater's spread eagle step is the true cure in the world for pigeon toes. The jumps and spins should appeal to the dancing while the romantic can enjoy the sway and graceful glide of the dance.

Gracefulness, alas, is becoming a lost art. It would not be surprising if some simple freshman brook up an cantered mink, on being asked why we are occasionally called a cow college, should reply that it is probably on account of the bovine walk of cows like mink!

Surely, the Ballet Russe has come in as that there is poetry even in the way a performer walks across the stage.

I shall be the first happy victim if these clubs are started.

Graciously yours,
D.S.B.

Tale of Woe; or all he wanted was a date for a cup of coffee before his three o'clock.

Woe: "You can't win. Had a whole hour before class and decided to call Margee for a quick cup of java. Went downstairs in the Union and saw three lines and knew they had three phones at the other end. Got eager and joined one string."

"At 2:30, I became hopeful, only five ahead of me. Dogs got tired so sat on steps but people walked all over me. Took off my coat and juggled it with my books for 10 minutes. At 2:55 I got one. Yeah, that's right, I got a phone."

"But here is the payoff. Get this, the line was busy. You can't win. You just can't win."

Moral of tale: When can the Union building get more telephones?

During the past two weeks our office has received a number of such inquiries. Five or six more free telephones in the Union building would be of great service to a large number of students. We suggest the Union management look into this.

With an all-time high registration figure in Michigan voters almost certain, it is expected that more Wolverine voters will cast ballots this year than ever before.

Time is growing short for student voters who have to have their ballots mailed to arrive at local polls by November 5. There are a number of candidates who are unfamiliar to most voters. And issues which many do not understand.

To help students voting this year, the News is printing a series of political articles. In these stories we take a definite stand; however, the main objectives of the series is to inform readers about issues at stake and to acquaint them with the candidates.

Livestock Mart Music Industry

Full With Inflow Gives Pay Boost

Of Best Cattle To Petrillo Men

CHICAGO, Oct. 12 (AP)—Meat exploded onto the nation's livestock markets today in the largest numbers in 10 months. When the storm was over virtually all price balloons except those on top grade cattle had collapsed from $100 to $100 a hundred pounds.

Most commodities likewise were deflated, including butter, eggs, poultry, wheat, corn, oats, and cotton lard, soybeans, and flax kept out of the storm area, however, and moved to new high ground.

Some markets, such as Oklahoma City, were swamped with so many animals the yards couldn't handle them. Others of major importance were on the receiving end of miles-long lines of trucks filled with beef roasts, pork hams, and lamb steaks on the hoof.

Prices which had set new records only yesterday receded steadily almost with every new truckload, particularly on hogs and lower grade cattle.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12 (AP)—James C. Petrillo announced late today agreement on a 37 1/2 percent wage increase for musicians who make recordings had been reached at negotiations with members of the industry.

No agreement has been arrived at in demands for wage boosts for musicians making electrical transcriptions. Petrillo, president of the AFL American federation of musicians, said.

Previously Petrillo asserted he had asked 50 per cent increases for artists making recordings and transcriptions. An industry representative said recordings were made principally for home and juke box use and ran at the rate of 66 revolutions a minute, and transcriptions were chiefly for radio use and played at 33 revolutions.

Petrillo added that he would meet with members of the transcription industry in Chicago next Tuesday for further parleys.

Spartan Grads GRIN AND BEAR IT

Asked To Hunt For Old Books

A plea to graduates and former students of Michigan State college is being made to help alleviate the serious book shortage at MSC. They have been asked to dig around in attics and bookcases for books they used when in college. Books secured in this manner will be given to the veteran free of charge.

The need is particularly critical for a dozen or more texts, including Jones' "Economic Geography", Kierzek's "Macmillan Handbook of English", and Giesecke's "Technical Drawing."

An enrollment that exceeded by 2,500 the 16,500 students that were expected, room strikes, and paper shortages are some of the reasons that have been given for the shortage.

Books that are no longer in use will be placed in the reference library. All of the books will be re-used during coming terms.

The campaign has been launched by Veterans Administration, State College Book store and Public Relations department.

"Of course you're worth more than you're getting, Garfinkle, and I repeat, what industry needs is more men like you!"

Dorms Will Entertain At Coed Open House

Radio And Hard Times Parties, Union Dance, Top Social List

Radio parties and open houses highlight tonight's calendar of social events.

Coeds from all the women's dorms will put out the welcome mat from 8 till 12 and all men students are invited. Chairman Jo Ann Schaefer has announced that West Mayo will follow a hotel theme for their party. Their dance floor will be decorated in the Hawaiian room and color will be served as refreshment. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. McGuire of the Foreign Language dept. and Mr. and Mrs. Carl S. Gerlock of landscape architecture will act as patrons.

East Mayo Theme
The East Mayo party will carry out a fall theme using pumpkins and cornstubs as decorations. Their patrons will be Prof. and Mrs. Charles McCarty of the chemistry department and Mr. and Mrs. C. Irwin of the English department. Social Chairman Marilyn Lustig stated that the evening program and color will be served as refreshment. The chairman for the party will be Mr. and Mrs. A. Thoma and Mrs. W. H. Combs of history and political science.

North Hall
The evening entertainment for North Hall will consist of dancing and refreshment, according to their social chairman, Rita Woodson. Patrons for North Hall will be Mr. and Mrs. H. Black and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. DeForest, of the written and spoken English department.

The Phi Beta Phi are having a radio party at their house tonight from 9 till 12 and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Maxwell of business administration and Mrs. Nell Bartlett, their house mother, will act as patrons. Margaret Jury, social chairman, announced the dancing and cards will provide the entertainment.

Theta Radio Party
The Kappa Alpha Thetas will entertain their dinner tonight with a radio party at their house from 9 till 12. According to Barbara Rice, chairman of the party, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wymagden of the economic department and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kennedy of the speech department will be patrons for the evening.

The Phi Delta Thetas are entertaining with a hard times party from 8:30 till 12. The discussion will correspond with the theme of the party and dancing and cards will provide the entertainment for the Phi Dels and their dates. Richard Handley, chairman of the party, stated that Joseph Gonske of the Algebra office at Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sklar's in the English department will act as patrons.

More Radio Parties
Chairman Edward Cohen of Alpha Epsilon Pi announced that Mr. A. Tubek of the biology dept. and Mr. and Mrs. M. Solomon of the biology department will act as patrons for their radio party tonight from 9 till 12. Dancing and cards will be the entertainment and fall decorations will be used as the theme.

The Finance Board has slated an all-college dance in the Union ballroom from 9 till 12 tonight. There will be no advance sale of tickets for the dance but the tickets will be on sale in the ballroom. Joe Beyer, chairman of the dance, announced that Bob Stenberg and his orchestra will provide the music. The grill will be open for the affair.

MSC Studio Theater Will Present Show
Harold Hansen, director of Studio Theater, stated at tonight's Wednesday night that the organization will put on a variety show for the women's meeting of the Jackson Kowans club on the evening of October 24.

OPA Says 'No Boost In Rent'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP) — Ivan D. Carson, OPA's deputy administrator for rents, issued the flat statement today that "There will be no general rent increase." And just as firmly, housing expediter Wilson Wyatt said that (1) price controls will remain on building materials, (2) the $10,000 ceiling on new homes for veterans will stand indefinitely along with rent ceilings on new houses, and (3) limitations on non-housing construction will be extended beyond the end of this year. At the same time the Civilian Production Administration announced two programs intended to help meet the goal of 2,700,000 new living units started by the end of 1947. One is an order to channel lumber supplies into areas where demand is greatest. The other promised "all possible assistance" to private firms planning 100,000 aluminum factory-built houses next year. Leaving a conference with President Truman at which he reported on progress of the housing program, Wyatt told reporters preliminary estimates show that about three times as many dwellings were completed during September as in January. An earlier report set January completions at 28,800. This would mean 86,400 homes finished in September compared with 62,800 in August.

Honor Bestowed On Jean Proctor By Honorary

Members of Mortar Board held a special meeting Wednesday evening at which time Jean Proctor, Detroit, senior, was initiated into their organization. The service was held at the home of Mrs. A. G. Kuttner, of East Lansing, Mortar Board alumnae, and president of the Faculty Folk club.

Miss Proctor, who was unable to be initiated into Mortar Board last spring, will now take an active part in all activities planned by this honorary.

Following this program, a short business meeting was held and further plans were made for the completion of the Dean's list which hangs in the upper lounge of the Union.

Spartan Forestry Club To Sponsor Planting As War Memorial

In commemoration of forestry students who lost their lives in World War II, the MSC Forestry club will present a memorial planting tomorrow at 1 p.m.

The ceremony will take place on a plot of ground along Hagadorn road, adjacent to the Toumey virgin woodlot. Here, club members, assisted by Dr. T. D. Stevens, club faculty adviser, will plant native trees and shrubs of Michigan, creating an open area arboretum.

At the entrance to the newly contrived arboretum a bronze plaque will be erected as further tribute to the fallen foresters.
