United Nations Hear Truman State Fears Of War Unfounded

As The Sun Goes So Goes WKAR

The industrious farmer who goes about his chores from sun-up till sun-down has nothing on the hardy clan of broadcasters who give forth from WKAR everyday. Their daylight hours are busy ones, too, for the operating license station holds from the Federal Communications Commission designates it as a daytime unit only, and when the sun meets the western horizon WKAR and the sun go out together.

R. J. Coleman, station head, said yesterday that steps are being taken to open the way for a broader permit, but that such action is contingent upon hearings now in progress before the FCC in Washington, and won't be finished till next year. He expressed doubt that any favorable decision on the matter would be reached before the start of spring term.

During October the station comes on the air at 7 a. m. and signs off at 6 p. m., while in November the hours will be shortened to 7:30 a. m. and 5:15 p. m. December's short days will cut the schedule down the hours from 7 till 5, and not until January will they begin to expand once more, when the signing off hour will be extended to 5:30 p. m. By April the station will once more be operating on a 12-hour basis, from 7 till 7, which will continue through the summer till the advent of autumn's shorter days will again whittle down the broadcast period.

Coleman explained that the station cannot go on the air the instant the sun rises, for Old Sol carries the moment of his rising from day to day. The FCC sets a "mean hour" for the month as the average time the sun rises, and the stations follow this time from month to month. The same procedure is followed in signing off.

Michigan Vet Group Meets At Wayne U.

The first annual convention of the Mich. Student Veterans' Association will be held at Wayne University tomorrow and Saturday. All student veterans are invited to attend the meeting and program, accord to Sam Bass, association president and U. of M. law student.

The association is composed of veteran groups of 23 Michigan colleges. Each group sends delegates to a monthly meeting and problems and ideas common to all Michigan student veterans are discussed. The Michigan State college post No. 408, American Legion, represents the MSC veterans.

The convention opens tomorrow at 3 p. m. at Mackinac union of Wayne University and at 4 p. m. J. F. Campbell, rehabilitation and education director of the Dearborn VA, will speak. A business meeting will follow and a dinner will be served at 6. In the evening Ray Anthony's band will furnish music for a dance in the Fountain ballroom of the Masonic temple.

On Saturday George Edwards, president of the Detroit common council, will speak. The remainder of the day will be spent in business, with a luncheon scheduled for noon.

President Warns Against Spread Of War Rumors

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 (AP)—President Truman welcomed the United Nations General assembly to the new world today with a firm declaration that fears of a third world war are "unwarranted and unjustified" and a stern warning that war rumors must be checked lest they impede world recovery.

The President, in a 2,600-word address, broadly restated American policy to the delegates of 51 nations as the assembly launched its first meeting in this temporary world diplomatic capital in an elaborately decorated hall on the site of the 1939 World's fair.

Mr. Truman told the assembly—and through it all peoples—that the United States would back the United Nations "with all the resources that we possess."

Mr. Truman, introduced by Paul-Henri Spaak, Belgian foreign minister and assembly president, agreed with Prime Minister Stalin in deploring talk of a new war.

"Lately we have all heard talk about the possibility of another world war," he said. "Fears have been aroused all over the world. These fears are unwarranted and unjustified."

The President also made it clear that:

1. The United Nations was created to preserve the peace and not to make it.
2. That the United States stands behind the veto right of the five great powers in the U. N. Security Council, with the condition added that the principle of unanimity among the five powers imposed upon them a "special obligation" to seek agreements to fulfill their responsibilities. He said that "the exercise of neither veto rights nor majority rights can make peace secure."
3. That the United States will "work patiently for peace by every means consistent with self respect and security."
4. That two of the greatest obligations undertaken by the United Nations toward removing the fear of war remain to be fulfilled.

Rules Changed For Parties, Activities

Beginning Monday, Oct. 28, new student faculty committee rules will be enforced. These rules were changed at the meeting of the committee held this week to enable a larger number of students to use the over-taxed facilities on campus.

All parties must be registered in the Counselor of Women's office by Tuesday night of the week preceding the week of the party. Chaperones must be registered by Thursday noon of the week preceding the party week.

Root Speaks On Tax Bill, Says Unfair

House Solon States Result of Tax Bill 'School Disaster'

LANSING, Oct. 23 (AP)—Rep. Elson V. Root, of Bangor, chairman of the House Education committee, declared today the sales tax diversion amendment on the November 5 ballot was intended for the benefit of a "few large cities, mostly 15-mile cities" and would contribute nothing to equalization of educational opportunity in Michigan.

If it passes, Root said, 170 school districts which levy no local school taxes and depend entirely on state school aid will receive twice as much money from the state as they do now. Another 904 districts which require only a four-mill local school tax to supplement primary school fund grants from the state probably will be able to escape local school taxes entirely.

Asserting the amendment would lead to an "educational disaster," Root said:

"From a total education standpoint, there is no fairness in the proposition. The University of Michigan, Michigan State, Michigan Tech, colleges of education, schools for the handicapped, special education, and to junior colleges, vocational education, rural agricultural school aid, adult education, and aid through the office of county commissioner, as well as appropriations to keep the teacher retirement fund sound—all depend upon appropriations from the public till."

"For the public schools to take a position that would impoverish the state and make it difficult for these other important educational agencies to be properly funded is unthinkable."

Rezoning Proposal Passed On To Township Council Without Recommendation

Lack of interest on the part of proponents of rezoning on Harrison road have very nearly killed the proposal which would permit the construction of a store building to serve the quonset, trailer and apartment area on South Harrison road, Prof. Charles W. Barr, chairman of the Ingham county planning commission declared yesterday.

Kreiser Plays Final Concert For Students

Violinist Fritz Kreiser ended his two-night visit at College auditorium before an enthusiastic audience last evening. The first part of his program consisted of Beethoven's "Kreutzer Sonata" and Mendelssohn's "Concerto in E Minor."

Although Fritz Kreiser is one of the better interpreters of Beethoven's sonatas, his great popularity rests largely on his own compositions. His vast output contains many charming melodies, but they can't be heard incessantly without losing a great deal of their sparkle, while each performance of a Beethoven sonata is as exciting as the first.

Fritz Kreiser's performance of the "Kreutzer Sonata" was as excellent as anyone could hope to hear. But what a memorable concert it would have had been chosen another Beethoven sonata and one by Mozart or Caeser Franck!

The "Concerto in B Minor" by Felix Mendelssohn, light and ever lovely, was an effective foil for the intense "Kreutzer Sonata." Kreiser's reading was void of the dose of saccharine that lesser artists often give this work.

For the final section of the program, Kreiser played three of his own compositions. In the concluding number, he proved his versatility by venturing into the Spanish rhythms of DeFalla's "La Jota."

To satisfy the audience who demanded still more, the artist played three of his old standbys: "Old Refrain," "Humoresque," and "Caprice Viennois"—P.C.

Cafeteria To Be Open To Everyone Saturday

The Union cafeteria will be open to anyone who wishes to eat lunch or dinner there on Saturdays, Leslie Scott, union manager, announced yesterday.

When Scott made this announcement he remarked that it was meant for Saturdays only. The large number of students leaving the campus over the weekends makes this arrangement possible, he said.

Norwegian Student Recalls Guerilla Days

John Gunderson, Norwegian freshman, recalls vividly his participation in the active Norwegian underground during the war, while attending business college in Frederikstad, Norway.

Joining the underground movement in January, 1943, Gunderson spent the following 20 long months leading a dual life. He attended classes during the day, while his early morning hours were occupied earnestly working with 19 other young men compiling information concerning troop movements, blowing up Nazi boats and oil tankers, and damaging bridges. During the latter months of the war he directed refugee ships, with Jews and Norwegians aboard, from Norway to Sweden.

One particular incident, Gunderson recalled, occurred during a stormy night while aboard a small boat a few miles from the town of Hala. He and his companions were following the route to Sweden when suddenly several German patrol boats discovered them, threw on their search lights and began directing fire at the small craft.

'No Strike' Ballot Booths Ready At Four Locations

Booths will be open at four places today for the final election of class officers: Union, Library, Agriculture hall and Olds hall. Students wishing to vote must present both their activity books and identification cards.

Pep Meeting Set For Tilt

"Tomorrow night's pep rally is all set to go," according to Rolie Young, Lansing junior, who will act as master of ceremonies. The rally will start at 7 in front of Women's gymnasium.

Coach Charley Bachman will be on hand to address the crowd. Various members of the football squad, including George Guerre, Russ Gilpin, Horace Smith, Steve Sieradski, Ed Sobazak, and Don LeClair, are also scheduled to put in an appearance.

The occasion will be sparked by offerings from the MSC Reserve Band, under the direction of Don Jackson. The Alma Mater and the Fight song will be played among other numbers.

Young urged students to come out and sing "MSC Shadows," an old favorite at Michigan State. Buzz Hart will be at the piano. The words are:

MSC, we love thy shadows
As the twilight silence falls,
Flushing deep and softly piling
O'er ivy-covered walls.
Beneath the pines we'll gather
To give our hearts to thee,
Sing our love for Alma Mater,
And thy praises, M-S-C.

Members of the cheering squad will lead the crowd in college yells. They include: Bob Turner, captain, Rolie Young, Bob Smith, Dick Beals, Bill Harris, Jack Bates, and Frank Aldrich.

Cadets Will Elect Sponsors Today

Election for Corps Sponsors will be held in the Union ballroom at 1 p. m. today. Don H. Hall, election chairman, announced yesterday. Advanced ROTC students who cannot be there at that time may vote at a booth on the lower deck of the Union.

Pictures of the candidates, complete with name plates, are on display in the showcase at the door of the Union cafeteria. Each advanced student will vote for an honorary Colonel and a sponsor for his individual branch of service.

All advanced students should vote, Ball emphasized. Votes will be tabulated this evening, and 8 p. m. is the deadline for ballot.

Easton Elected Prexy Of 'Semper Parv's' Marine Vet Group

"Semper Parv's," the newest veteran's group on campus, held an election of officers at its meeting last Tuesday evening. William Easton, Grand Rapids junior, and organizer of the group was elected president. Easton served as both an enlisted man and an officer. He is a Pacific theater veteran.

Also elected were Frank Stanlow, Detroit freshman, as vice-president; Mary Ketchum, Richmond freshman, secretary, and Constance Cortright, Lansing junior, as treasurer.

Borgeson is an out-of-state student, coming from Chicago. He is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity and majors in Business Administration.

The widely publicized battle between John Cox and Joe Pernick, sophomore presidential candidates, has made this campaign the most hotly contested of the election. Cox hails from Buffalo, N. Y., and is majoring in mechanical engineering. Pernick, a Detroit man, is majoring in Labor Relations.

Both candidates spent over three years with the army. Both became prominent in campus affairs as a result of service on the investigating committee which inquired into the rise in dormitory fees last spring.

Bill Spiegel and Bob Howell round out the slate of presidential aspirants. Spiegel, who comes from Birmingham, is a member of the varsity football team. Howell is a Lansing man and is majoring in Business Administration. One of these two men will preside over the freshman class.

A tie for second place in the primaries between Thomas "Doc" Egan and Don Borgeson necessitated placing three candidates on the Junior class presidential ballot. Bill Page, studying under the school of Science and Arts, led the field in the primaries by 17 votes.

Page at present is vice president of the Union board, secretary of the Varsity club and a member of Psi Upsilon fraternity. "Doc" Egan, a Phi Delta Theta, is best known for his work behind the counter in the Union grill. He also is majoring in advertising.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TO THE EDITOR:

It is my stand that the Michigan Action Committee is a political organization and should not be allowed to organize on this campus.

The innovation of such a procedure would leave us open to requests from all political minded groups. In a short time, this campus would become a political hotbed. A tremendous amount of time would be wasted in the life to rival the numerous scandals that occurred at Columbia University in the year that the war was being waged. The infamous reputation of having harbored the nation's most rabid enemies of the American way of life.

To me this is the IMMINENT DANGER of granting a charter to any political party or organization. This is a sincere request for all students, especially the PAC, to consider it as a political danger.

Keep this campus clean, keep power packed politics out!

John C. ...

TO THE EDITOR:

As one of the candidates for the office of sophomore class president, I have taken an independent stand.

Throughout the past two weeks my campaign material has been circulated in this campus by myself, and my campaign manager Buckshot Burns.

I am not a member of any political group on this campus. Much concern has been expressed by some students about my stand regarding my reported support of supposedly radical groups. I believe no class officer should have arbitrary power over any campus organization.

Again I stress the fact that I am not a member of any political group in America. Any student in this campus has a right to make his OWN political decisions. Let these minority groups organize and each student decide for HIMSELF. I repeat my stand is INDEPENDENCE.

Lost And Found Department Gives Spartans Free Service

By HELEN RINGLE

Going, going, gone is the byword in MSC's most misunderstood division, the Lost and Found department.

Located at cafeteria level in the Union, just opposite the checkroom, it is under the direction of R. C. Van Valkenburgh, senior hotel administrator.

No Payment

Van Valkenburgh says that some people have the mistaken idea that payment is necessary for the return of lost articles. This is not true. Any article turned in when properly identified by the owner will be returned gladly, free of charge.

All of the buildings on campus cooperate in turning articles found each day into the Lost and Found.

Every type of article imaginable is represented in the Lost and Found collection, including: books, jewelry, women's scarves, food's uniforms, rain coats, tennis presses, eyeglasses, notebooks and parts of ROTC uniforms. Also waiting to be claimed is a big Indian blanket, left at the stadium at one of the games.

Every three months there is a general housecleaning in the department as it is impossible to keep

Two Texts Arrive At Vets Office; More Needed

The two books in greatest demand due to acute shortage this term are now available at the demonstration hall book store. Social Science Vol. II and the Macmillan Handbook both arrived yesterday, according to Nelson Ecklund, book store manager.

A hampering shortage for English Fundamentals, by Kierzek and Emery, is still being felt by the Servicemen's Institute. This book is obtainable through regular sources.

To aid vets needing this book Tom King, director of veterans affairs, requests that all veterans who have taken the course and do not need the book, turn them in to the book store. Credit will be given for books turned in to demonstration hall.

Although there are still a number of books that have not come in yet, Ecklund stated, "the situation is clearing up and book supply looks much better for next term."

Students' Wives Plan Get-Together

Tonight from 8 to 10 all wives of students are invited to attend a get-together in the Union ballroom. Eighteen hundred invitations have been sent out under the sponsorship of the Veteran Students' Wives League. Mrs. Walter Griffith has announced.

Mrs. Stanley Fredrickson is in charge of refreshments and Mrs. Robert Shumkus is planning the entertainment. President and Mrs. John Hannah are planning to attend with other members of the faculty.

The league has been divided into three groups, homemaking, social, and service. Tentative plans under the social division include a style show, bridge tournament, dinners, and at least two programs a month.

Have you noticed the flashy red canvas awning on the Feltz home? Erwin and Jacque will assure you that it is an architectural masterpiece. Several collapses proved how not to make it. They feel fully protected from the elements now.

Mrs. Barbara Radcliff, the health service nurse, is having an organizational meeting at 2 p. m. on Tuesday in the recreation hall for expectant mothers who are interested in prenatal classes.

There was a personal interest in prenatals hunting this year. The birds had been feeding all summer on the gardens out here.

The Co-op has its store building, and is ready to start moving in. For further information about membership payments, a representative will be in the recreation hall every evening from 7 to 9 p. m.

Maxine and Harvey Jensen are having hassenpfeffer tonight thanks to the luck of Bob Johnson, and the good will (?) of his wife Marion. What a commotion that poor rabbit stirred up.

Popular Songs

Becoming accustomed to American popular song is the hardest step in Gundersen's adjustment. Typical of Norway is the fisherman's waltzes and the sailor songs, while in the United States sentimental "moonlit" songs hold sway demanding an entirely different listening ear.

Campus life in the United States is highly approved by Gundersen. Attending classes with men students is not a novelty for him as colleges in Norway are likewise co-educational. However, multiple chances to participate in activities outside the classroom, what fascinates him and already is an enthusiast of the International club.

Abbot Precinct Schedules Dinner

Another tradition will be revived this evening at Abbot hall when the men of Precinct 17 will hold a dinner in the lower dining room at 6.

The dinner is a stag affair for the purpose of getting acquainted. A short program will be presented.

Dick Guathier, social chairman of Precinct 17, has prepared place-cards and will seat the men so as to insure the maximum number of introductions among the men not acquainted with each other.

Dave Dawson, precinct counselor, feels sure that the revival of this custom will continue to thrive at Abbot and he hopes that other precinct counselors will follow suit in planning and giving similar dinners.

Jayvees Leave In Quest Of Fourth Win

"We expect plenty of opposition against Wayne Friday." Coach John Kobs commented regarding his next Junior Varsity football game. He stated that Wayne had improved greatly since the previous State-Wayne tilt, which State won. Johnny Polonak, sensational halfback, will still be missing from the lineup with a bad shoulder. Injuries will also bench Spartan right end Joe Lee, quarterback Ed McCallum, halfback Bill Rawlings, center Art Adamczyk, and right tackle Louie Okle. Kobs believes that Okle will be lost for the rest of the season. These injuries were developed in a series of scrimmages which have been held lately to determine the possibilities of some of the boys who haven't seen much action as yet. Kobs expects to take forty players with him Friday. He hopes that he will have the use of Bob Krostel and Bob Neller, backs, who were advanced to the varsity after turning in spectacular performances last week against Notre Dame "B" team. It is also expected that Harry Fike, varsity reserve tackle will be available. Also on the black side of the ledger is the showing of a new fullback, Jack Gilman, who, according to Kobs, is a bulldog on defense as well as an excellent punter. Kobs has not as yet been notified of the site of Friday's Wayne-Jayvee contest.

Spartans Preparing 'M' Tickets Strong 'T' Defense

Before sending the Spartans through a lengthy practice yesterday in preparation for Saturday's invasion by Cincinnati university, head coach Charley Bachman admitted he was wary of any psychological team let-down following last week's victory over Penn State. The feeling of the coaching staff is that the team will have to be "up" all the way to conquer the Rhinelanders after checking over reports of coaches Jake Dahlgren and Al Kireher who watched Cincinnati defeat Ohio university 19-0, Saturday night. Picture Fixating Bachman and his aides were pleased after watching motion pictures of Michigan State's triumph over Penn State. "Although the pictures showed that mistakes were still being made, they were of the minor variety, and nothing that couldn't easily be corrected," the mentor said. The varsity squad sharpened its defense against the T-formation with a scrimmage against a "white" eleven using horizontal plays, and then polished its own ground and air offense against the same team. A brief signal drill wound up the final heavy scrimmage for the team before it plays Cincinnati. Quarterback Bob Fischer has joined the injury ranks and will be lost for Saturday's game. Fischer suffered a torn chest cartilage in the first quarter against the Nittany Lions and may be out of action three weeks. Along with Fischer on the sidelines will be center Pete Pusi, still unable to don a uniform since receiving a painful back sprain against Mississippi State, and Pete Fornari, another quarterback who may be kept out of the game with a dislocated finger. Wednesday's practice showed a tentative first string made up of Huey and Balge, ends; Conner and Pletz, tackles; LeClair and Bagdon, guards; and Bob McCurry at center. The backfield quartet included Gilpin at quarterback, Guerre and Chondola, halfbacks and Steve Stradzki, in the fullback spot.

'M' Tickets Go On Sale Next Week

Student tickets for the Michigan State - University of Michigan football game, to be played at Ann Arbor November 9, will go on sale Monday, October 28. L. L. Primodig, assistant director of athletics, announced today. Distribution of tickets will be handled the same as for our home games, that is: Seniors on Monday; Juniors on Tuesday; Sophomores on Wednesday and Freshmen on Thursday. The tickets may be secured at the ticket office in Jenison fieldhouse from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily except Saturday when the office is open only until 12 noon. Activity ticket No. 9 and 50c tax is necessary to obtain a student ticket. If additional tickets are desired they can be purchased for $3.00 each. In explaining the ticket situation for the Michigan game, Primodig pointed out that the University's season sale was so large that officials there are unable to provide seats for students in a location between the goal lines. A total of 20,000 seats have been reserved for sale to students, alumni and faculty of State. Of this number 2,500 are between the goal lines and these have been sold for some time. The remaining 17,500 seats, located just beyond the goal line, will be available to activity ticket holders, as well as to the public. University of Michigan students will be in a similar location, with the big bulk of seats beyond the goal lines, Primodig said.

Unbeaten Harvard Named Top Defensive Squad

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 (AP) — Unbeaten Harvard, whose line has thrown opposing ball carriers for losses five times greater than their net gains, stands today as the stubbornest team in college football. While the quality of their opposition could hardly be rated a par with the best in the land, the Cantabs have held their foes to an average of 17.8 yards per game to take their first place in the defensive rankings of the National Collegiate Athletic bureau. The Crimson forward wall has held the ball carriers of Connecticut, Tufts, Princeton and East Guard for losses totaling 23 yards, permitting their net gains totaling exactly 35 yards in 112 plays — an average of 8.8 yards per game. Davidson Drops Out Davidson, the leader in total defense the past two weeks, dropped completely out of the picture after Saturday as Harvard climbed into fourth place. North Carolina State, which has posted an average of 121 yards per game in four games, retained No. 2 position among the defensive leaders. Navy, meanwhile, continue to lead in defense against forward passes. Four opponents have completed only 11 passes in attempts against the Middyies, a total of 90 yards or an average of 22.5 per game. Ratings in the department are based on the average yardage, rather than the number or percentage of completions.

What's the Rush? Tape Indicates Lions Weakness

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 (AP) — Want to know what's wrong with the Detroit Lions? The Lions, who have lost all four of their National Football League games so far, have a record of minus one yard rushing as the sum total of their four contests, official league statistics disclosed today. University of Cincinnati football fans have chosen the game with MSC Saturday as their annual "Migration Day" and to help observe the occasion in a fitting manner the Cincinnati marching band will follow their team and perform on Mackin field. The band and U. of C. followers will travel to East Lansing on a special train. That the Bengals will have a sizeable cheering section is indicated by the fact that eleven hundred tickets were sent to Cincinnati for advance sale. The band, directed by Merrill H. Van Telt, is composed of six-recent pieces. It will be led by Don Paynter, drum major and Patricia Hasey and Mary McFarlen, drum majorettes. Also accompanying the band will be Miss Betty Detemio, chosen as this year's sponsor for the organization.

Penn Tackle Wins AP Award

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 (AP) — A former Marine lieutenant, once believed killed in action on Okinawa, won the "Linemen of the Week" award in the week's Associated Press poll of outstanding linemen on college gridirons. He is Bernie Gallagher, tackle on the unbeaten and untied University of Pennsylvania eleven. Standing 6 ft. one-fourth inch in height and weighing 213 pounds, the 24-year-old Gallagher gained the top spot by his work against Virginia. All the Penn coaches feel that he has played better than any lineman on Franklin field this season and that he is outstanding in every respect. Two ends, All-America Hubert Bechtel, of Texas' mighty Longhorns, and Frank Jenkins, of Penn, came in for a high measure of praise. Knox Ramsey again played a stellar game at guard for William and Mary. He spent most of the afternoon in the Washington and Lee backfield and achieved the goal of all linemen by intercepting a forward pass and springing 50 yards to payoff territory.

Cox goes on to say "My intention is to keep this campus free from domination by any political party or group."

In rebuttal we say: 1. PAC is not a political party. It is an independent political organization.

2. Students interested in free and open discussion will not let any organization dominate them.

3. PAC shall include among its endeavors an effort to make student government more than just a race for titles.

4. If there is a desire to free the campus organizations from domination of such groups as PAC, Inter-Co-op council, and independent men and women will be encouraged to grow both for opposition to the long standing social club control and stimulation of creative action.

PAC is bringing to question this stand by a candidate for class office as a point of principle and is not endorsing either of the nominees. However, we feel that it is encouraging that the stand taken by Mr. Cox was immediately opposed by his opponent, candidate Perneck, for the same office.
