TODAY'S CAMPUS

Who's Funny?

Today's Campus is getting mad. In the old days, the anonymous funny bits of the State News had a monopoly on the humorous news. But now it seems that half the readers turn to the classified advertisements for their laughs. How would you Bob hope, such as the mysterious "X-19" and "Hollis," like to write for Today's Campus?

Fritzed Him!

It's hard to believe, but one of our fellow students, who admits to being a bit of a nut, was half way to the auditorium the other night when he found out that Fritz Schuler was not going to show copies of the Michigan-Army football game.

Kickback

A freshman took his biology prof out to hunt pheasants. The prof wasn't much of a gunner and the gun kick broke his nose. Nobody is happy, and midterms are coming.

MSC Faculty Help In Drive

Community Chest soliciting of MSC staff members is being conducted this week. It was announced by A. J. Clark, chairman of the committee set up by Pres. John A. Hannah.

Comm-Fac Members For The Best Drive

C. L. Brown, W. J. Davis, Mary Dehart, Paul S. Mills, Thomas H. Ogden and L. B. Scholl. Also included are O. C. Smucker, Glen D. Stewart and G. M. Trout.

Sixteen health, recreational, and social agencies serving Lansing and vicinity are financed by the vigorous yearly campaign.

Two of the groups, the College YMCA and YWCA, are specifically a part of student activities.

Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA and YWCA are national organizations under the Community Chest drive. Others are the Social Service bureau, Salvation Army, and Volunteers of America.

Clark revealed that local groups are the Michigan Children's Aid society, Lansing Children's center, Greater Lansing Visiting Nurse association, St. Lawrence Hospital, Central Clearing house, Council of Social Welfare, and the Lincoln Community Center.

Veterans' Groups Hold Meetings; Legion Donates To Welfare

The Michigan State college post of the American Legion is planning to spend the $500 collected in its poppy campaign last spring on child welfare in the trailer camp, it was revealed at the Legion meeting last night.

The group of 60 veterans that attended the meeting took advantage of the presence of Ray Krisher, rotary public, to get their terminal leave papers completed.

Krisher is vice-commander of the East Lansing Legion post.

Also discussed were plans for the Legion sponsored all-college dance which will be held in the Union two weeks from Friday.

The dance will be semi-formal, and old Dick Charles will furnish the music.

The previous club meetings' main topic of discussion last night was the contribution of plans for an all-college dance.

It was decided that a new college ruling on the use of ballrooms by social groups.

An amendment to the constitution also was passed which definitely opened the club not only to freshmen but also to ex-college students.

The American Veterans committee at its meeting last Tuesday evening made a resolution opposing the state house. It was felt that a house at this time would be unnecessary and not worth the effort and cost.

All the members of the Veterans as much as it could at a later date.

OPA To Cut More Price Controls

Ceilings on Non-Food Items to Be Lifted Prior to January

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—Another major amputation of price controls — this time in the non-food field — was under way today within the OPA. One informed official who would not permit use of his name said it is expected to match the action of last midnight which yanked price lids from all foods and drinks except sugar, syrups and rice.

"We are trying to round out all these actions for announcement by Nov. 1 or before but it's a big job and we may not hit that deadline," he said.

Announcement Before Election

The announcement is expected before the Nov. 5 elections. It will be another step in the decontrol process President Truman speeded up when he removed price ceilings from meats and livestock. The general aim is to reduce controls to the minimum before the new congress convenes in January.

Some congressmen and candidates of both parties have threatened to kill off OPA. Administration leaders hope to maintain ceilings on rents, automobiles, building material, some basic low-cost clothing, many durable goods, and scarce items such as sugar and soap.

Coed Debate Team Needs Volunteers For Talk Tours

Women on campus interested in debating are encouraged to come to the second meeting of the varsity women's debate on Monday at 3 o'clock in room 143, Auditorium.

The debate group holds discussion meetings and tournaments, traveling to many midwestern colleges, including Minnesota, Nebraska, Missouri, and Illinois. Last year, the debate team went to Iowa City, and this year's plans call for trips to Iowa and Bowling Green, Ohio. On these trips, broadcasts are made.

Questions for debate are chosen by the American Speech association, made up of Pi Kappa Delta, Tau Kappa Delta, and Delta Sigma Rho. The question compiled for this year is: "Resolved that labor should be given a direct share in the management of industry." B. J. Knittel, director of forensics announced.

Party Deadline

Social chairman of organizations are asked to send their first, second and third choices for winter term party dates. No petitions for winter term parties will be received after Nov. 1. Mrs. Dorothy Liberty, Secretary of the student-faculty social committee, has announced.

The petitions are for parties to be held outside of the residences and include term parties for sororities and fraternities.

Registration should be sent to the secretary at the Council of Women's office in the Union.

Pep Rally Tonight Will Attempt To 'Skin Bear-Cats'

The "jelled" Michigan State college football team will receive a "skin the bearcat" pep rally tonight at 7 at the west entrance to the union when the regular Friday night pep rally kicks-off.

"It's Spartans proved last week against Penn State that we are clicking now," Rolfe Young of the cheer leading staff said, "and I hope the student body will prove to the team that it is clicking too. The more persons at the rally, the better we will click."

The rally will feature songs and yells for the team.

Attlee Charges Soviets With 'Suspicion' Wall

BRIGHTON, Eng., Oct. 24 (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee charged today that Soviet leaders were building up a "wall of ignorance and suspicion" between the Russian people and the rest of the world and said earnestly "we must hope for a change."

In an address before the annual convention of the British Trades Union Congress, Attlee assailed bitterly the "misrepresentation" which he said was practiced by the "communists, their dupes and fellow travelers." He accused them of following this standard:

"If in any part of the world the communist party, by no matter what means, is in power — that is democracy. If anywhere, the communists fail — however fair the conditions — it is regarded as fascism."

Apparently stung by a resolution before the Trade Union Congress — backbone of his labor government — criticizing British foreign policy, Attlee startled the convention with a denunciation of Soviet policies which closely paralleled Winston Churchill's "iron curtain" allegations.

Soviets Block News "It is one of the tragedies of the world situation that the Soviet government appears deliberately to prevent intercourse between the Russian people and the rest of the world," Attlee said.

"They are not allowed to know what is being done and thought by their fellows in other parts of the world. The growth of personal friendship between individuals is frowned upon. The Russian newspapers give fantastic misrepresentation of the world outside Soviet Russia."

"A wall of ignorance and suspicion is being built up between the nations. One would have thought that the rulers of Russia, proud of their achievements in peace and war, believing that their system is the best for the workers, would have welcomed every opportunity of closer intercourse between the workers, but a contrary policy is followed."

Truman Refuses Intervention In Miners Strike

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—President Truman refused today to be drawn into an immediate showdown with John L. Lewis, but political aides speculated that the coal crisis may yet force him to plunge into the current election campaign at the eleventh hour.

At a news conference, the president had no comment on Lewis' implied threat of a walkout by his 600,000 soft coal miners on Nov. 1—four days before the congressional elections. Mr. Truman said the matter was being handled by Secretary of Interior Krug, boss of the government seized mines.

In response to other questions, the president did not close the door to active participation in the political war, merely reiterating that he had no speaking plans at this time.

Democratic leaders, who cannot be named, told reporters later that the question whether the chief executive will do any campaign speaking depends on developments within the next four or five days.

They did not elaborate on this, but politicians expressed belief that if the coal crisis continues, the president may decide to take the stump.

The strike threat, it was agreed, poses a difficult political problem. In addition to its possible effect on consumers, there is the question on whether the row may sway miners' votes.

Researchers Find Potato Control, Peach Variety

Continuing a research policy that has made Michigan State college famous, researchers have announced the development of a new peach variety and the discovery of methods of controlling potato size, shape and quality by irrigation.

The peach variety, named Fairhaven, is of an earlier maturing strain than the Elberta, according to Stanley Johnston, director of the South Haven Experimental station, where the variety was developed. The new trees show signs of vigor, productivity and little susceptibility to winter injury.

Crowe Plans Study Hall In Auditorium

Bad Weather Will Force Students to Study Indoors

Plans to use College auditorium as a study hall during the day for students not in classes are being formulated now, Dean of Students, S. E. Crowe, stated yesterday.

The auditorium will probably open in two or three weeks for study use. The threat of bad weather, which will force students indoors from study posts under the trees, has forced action on the matter, Dean Crowe said.

The use of the auditorium would have to be suspended during convention meetings. As yet, full plans for the study hall have not been worked out. It is anticipated that professors would be required to maintain a quiet atmosphere.

Illustrating the crowded study conditions on campus, which the use of the auditorium is expected to relieve, a complaint comes from the assigned reading room of the library. Librarian Jackson Towne stated students who are not doing assigned reading have been using the room.

GI Insurance Office Moved To Columbus

The National Service Life Insurance premiums of World War II vets should now be sent to Collections Division, Veterans Administration, Branch No. 6, 52 South Starling Street, Columbus, Oh., VA announced yesterday.

The new address for insurance premium payments is a result of VA over-all decentralization program, dividing the country into 13 areas.

Remittance envelopes for premium payments will be sent to all vets holding policies in advance of the due-date, as soon as files are organized.

Insurance officials announced this week that after Nov. 1, the new Columbus, O., branch office will be in a position to answer all inquiries pertaining to insurance accounts of vets residing in the Michigan, Ohio, and Kentucky area.

Vets writing for information on insurance should include complete information, specifically full name, present address, policy number, service serial number, date of discharge, and birth date.

Michigan VFW Convo In Lansing Saturday

The Michigan Veterans of Foreign Wars will hold their annual meeting in Lansing Saturday and Sunday at the Hotel Ohio, State Commander Arthur Greig announced yesterday.

Advance reservations indicate that over 1000 members will be present to hear national VFW commander-in-chief, Louis E. Starr, discuss such topics as the bonus, membership, and other VFW policies.

Fraternal Songsters Greeks Serenade Lady Loves

Among the most inspiring traditions on the Michigan State campus is that of fraternity serenading. Almost any evening throughout the week some fortunate girl's dorm or sorority is visited by a group of the fraternal choruses from one or more of the 17 fraternities on campus.

The custom may be on the romantic side in celebration of a "pinning" or an impromptu serenade for fun and the sake of college customs and traditions.

An interesting example can be found in the Sigma Phi choral activities. According to Don Burgess, the Sigma Phi webster hard at their stings, and lastly by serenading every Monday night after fraternity meetings. When asked his opinion regarding serenading Burgess replied, "It's genuinely uplifting — everyone enjoys it."

Bob Furze of Kappa Sigma claims an unusual bit of vocal endeavor for his fraternity in a quartet composed of Keith Joliffe, Gale Miller, Bill Camp, and Dan Weingarten. These brethren under the crest of Kappa Sigma invariably steal the show at serenades, says Furze. But the rest of the gang is always on hand to share the applause.

Fraternity songs, such as the "Sigma Phi" and "Sweetheart Song" are the most popular renditions of all houses, but Ralph Thompson of Theta Chi maintains that the singers of his house

Lie Asks UN For Stand On Franco

Mexico Leads Fight For Veto Revision At UN Assembly

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 (AP)—Secretary-General Trygve Lie, mindful of the bitter debates among the great powers on the Spanish question, called upon the United Nations assembly today to take a stand against Generalissimo Franco to remove what Lie suggested was a serious obstacle to the smooth progress of the United Nations.

Immediately after Lie's oral report to the assembly, Mexico led off the general debate with a strong demand for elimination or modification of the veto powers of the five permanent members of the United Nations Security Council. Dr. Francisco Castillo Najera, Mexican foreign minister and chief delegate, declared the veto harmful to the unity of the United Nations.

Lie in his statement, which was a supplement to his written report covering activities up to Aug. 1, said the assembly "can do a valuable service by giving comprehensive guidance to the organs and member states of the United Nations, regarding their relationship with the Franco regime."

He referred to the resolution last winter in London by the assembly.

Truman Stops Deportation Of Estonians

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—President Truman, calling anew for the United States to admit more European political refugees, personally intervened today to prevent deportation of 48 freedom-loving Estonians who crossed the Atlantic in small, open boats.

In a statement expressing admiration for the "courage and determination" of the Estonians, whose country has been taken over by Russia, Mr. Truman said: "This is the type of pioneering spirit that built this nation."

He directed the state department to "explore all avenues toward enabling this group to remain here."

His order was issued a few hours after Attorney General Clark halted — at least temporarily — an immigration order which gave 18 of the Estonians a choice between leaving this country or being deported.

This group landed at Miami, Fla., on Aug. 31. Since then others have arrived at Miami and Norfolk, Va.

Just what the state department could do to help the Estonians remained undetermined immediately. The immigration regulations were put in force when it was discovered that the Estonians had not obtained entrance visas because of over-subscription of the Estonian immigration quota.

Diebert, Borgeson, Cox, And Spiegel Top Class Lists

Scarcely 14 per cent of the student body turned out to vote in the class officer election yesterday, despite the publicized urgings of the candidates.

On the senior class slate, Glenn Diebert was elected president, Margaret Fridmold, vice president, Betty Card, secretary, and Harold Rockwell, treasurer.

Don Borgeson placed out both William Page and Thomas "Doc" Egan for the junior class presidency. Borgeson and Egan had tied for second place in the primaries. Other juniors voted into office are July Longnesker, vice president, Margaret Lyons, secretary, and Dick Mineweaver, treasurer.

The spirited campaigning of the sophomore presidential candidates showed up in the election returns. Together, they more than doubled the balloting from their class as compared with the primary vote. John Cox won by 72 votes.

Sophomore vice president is Lou Goers, and Barbara Davies is the class secretary. No candidates qualified for treasurer. This office will be filled during the Student Council freshman representative election scheduled for later this term.

Sophomores: Cox 337, Pernick 265, Goers 355, Oviatt 247, Davies 300, Pierson 287.

Freshmen: Spiegel 230, Howell 112, O'Rourke 184, Sessions 155; Hanson 229, Gilbert 113; McCartney 214, Ziegler 127.

The necessity for presenting activity books at the polls in order to vote was in large measure responsible for keeping the vote down. Student council members commented. The election board was forced to use activity books because checklists of student enrollment were not available from the registrar's office.

One councilman, who refused to be quoted, angrily took issue with the STATE NEWS for the Apethy campaign it conducted. "You probably did more harm than good with that 'Apethy' stuff," he declared. "I think that there are a lot more people around here sympathetic with Apethy than you might imagine," he said. Other council members declined comment.

Campus Cyclists Will Be Checked On Rules Of Road

Chief Charles Pegg of the East Lansing police force announced yesterday that all students who ride bicycles on campus must obey all traffic regulations regarding the use of bicycles and motorcycles on campus. "Recently," he said, "there has been a great laxity in observance of these rules, but in the future students will be liable for all infractions of the laws reprinted here in part."

"No person may be carried upon a bicycle or motorcycle except on a firmly attached or regular seat."

"Bicycles and motorcycles may not be ridden more than two abreast."

"Bicycles must be equipped with a front lamp—visible for 300 feet and a rear lamp or reflector visible for 200 feet."

Cyclists are also warned about riding against the normal traffic direction. This has been the most common violation and will be carefully checked in the future.

Michigan Vet Groups Lose Housing Fight

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—Representatives of four Michigan veterans' groups were turned down today on their plea for removal of virtually all housing controls but were assured of a study of building conditions in the state.

Charging that a flourishing black market existed in construction materials, the delegation sought elimination of price ceilings and priorities on builders' supplies and new home price limits. It asked, however, that rent Wilson Wyatt as restructuring that control be continued.

National Housing agency officials quoted Housing Expediter Charles E. Young as saying:

Spartans Cautioned On Overconfidence

By JACK WOODEN

Still fearing that the Spartans will be "down" for the coming battle with Cincinnati, Coach Charley Bachman put his squad through a lengthy conditioning drill yesterday. Heavy scrimmage sessions are over for the week.

There is great respect for the powerful Cincinnati team among the coaches, but they feel the team may still be riding the crest of last week's upset victory over Penn State. This same mental condition was in evidence in Michigan's defeat by Army.

Build For Peaks

Every coach tries to build his team to "peaks" for the important games. Notre Dame pointed to Illinois at the start of the season, and is pointing for Army, or to stay closer to home, as Boston College drilled for a "peak" against Michigan State.

The most important game on the Spartan schedule is Michigan, but before Michigan State can build for the Wolverines they must hurdle Cincinnati and Kentucky.

Build For Peaks

The Spartans reached this desired mental condition against Penn State, and sparked by George Guerre they gained an important victory. After such a game the natural letdown follows, and that is what bothers the coaching staff.

Coach Bachman expressed satisfaction with the halfback combinations. George Guerre will probably start at left half but Bachman praised Russ Keeler's play against Penn after viewing the motion pictures of the game, and expects to use both players to the best advantage.

Build For Peaks

At the other halfback spot Lynn Hamilton will alternate with the feet-footed Horace Smith.

Smith blossomed as a left handed passing artist in the Penn game in addition to his running. Hamilton continued to be one of the Spartans' top pass-receivers.

Build For Peaks

Len Laska, 180-pound end from

Cleveland is lost to the team for the balance of the season as the result of the leg injury sustained in the Penn State game. Pete Funn, first string center, is still out of uniform, and two quarterbacks, Bob Fischer and Pete Fornari remain on the injury list.

The Cincinnati team will outweight the Spartans in both the line and backfield. The Bearcat line will average between 268 and 275, compared to about 263 for Michigan State. In the backfield the Spartans at an average of 185 will give away nine pounds per man.

AP Selects Big League All-Star '9'

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 (AP)—World series performers dominated the 1946 major league All-Star team chosen for the Associated Press by 122 baseball writers on the big league circuit.

Seven of the 11 players selected were members of either the Boston Red Sox or St. Louis Cardinals.

The Red Sox were represented by four men, the Cards ranked next with three, and there was one each from Detroit, Cleveland and the New York Yankees, making the American league a 7-3 majority.

Voting on the players was started before the World Series had been completed and late yesterday. About half the ballots are ready since the vote is closed.

Eight Were Seniors

Of the 19 men selected, including two pitchers, eight were former seniors. They are: catcher, Hal Naylor, Boston; first baseman, Stan Musial, Cardinals; second base—Bobby Doerr, Red Sox; third base—George Kurovski, Cardinals; shortstop—Johnny Pesky, Red Sox; catcher—Aaron Robinson, Yankees; pitchers—Hal Newhouse, Tigers and Bob Feller, Indians.

No player was chosen unanimously. But Ted Williams was named in all but two of the 122 ballots. Bobby Doerr ranked next with 117 votes for second base.

Newhouse Topped Pitchers

Hal Newhouse topped the pitchers with 102 votes, 17 more than Feller, who received the other leading spot. Stan Musial of the Cardinals received the fourth highest number of votes. He got 96 votes. Elmer Rice, first base, the real for center and right fields.

The closest race was for third base, with Kurovski nosing out George Kell of the Tigers 57 to 55. The widest divergence of opinion involved the receivers, nine receiving support. Robinson won, with only 32 votes.

The biggest surprise was the failure of Hank Greenberg to receive a single vote. The Tiger first baseman, who led the American league in home runs and runs batted in, got off to a slow start and finished strong, but the great all-around work of Musial overshadowed that of all other first sackers. Mickey Vernon, Washington's stylish first base guardian, got 24 votes to rate second.

THE STATE NEWS FOOTBALL PREDICTIONS

By CHUCK STRATTON

Your old professor of prognostication calls this week's class to session exclaiming, "Well can you tie that!", referring of course to those three deadlocks that upset what might have been a fairly respectable showing on last Saturday's grid guesses.

Yale - Cornell, Michigan - Northwestern, and Ohio State - Purdue played stalemates while Holy Cross, Alabama and Indiana let us down, leaving the corner with only a measly four accurate selections. Discarding the ties and figuring on a basis of seven games, the old slide rule told the sad story, a .571 batting average which plummeted the reason average down 24 points from 100 to 87.

But alas fellow gamblers, what was and what is are two different stories, so button up your blazers as you grab a seat on the 50-yard line for the fifth weekly swing around the nation's football fields, and at Tuscaloosa, Alabama, it's Alabama vs. Kentucky.

Alabama vs. Kentucky — Look for the Crimson Tide, ebb tide last week, to be on the rebound and engulf Kentucky's Wildcats. Knoxville, Tenn., shows Tennessee vs. Wake Forest. Bob Neyland's Vols look like a good bet at the moment. Wake Forest has a dangerous "little" team, but obviously sent up to the task of stopping Tennessee. Choice must go to the Neyland men.

Tulane vs. Mississippi State — A last look at the South and it's Tulane vs. Mississippi State. This is the spot for a form reversal, but the fact is Tulane has shown only flashes of brilliance thus far. Maroons have grinding ground attack and McWilliams in the hole, so watch out! I'll say Mississippi State. An inter-sectional battle at New York.

Army vs. Duke — Had, had, had! Black and Black Knights from high on the Indiana Army, took against the game but out-clashed Bluebirds to make it workhorses on Michigan State's football team. In the Spartans' first four games, the pair appeared under fire in 168 and 167 minutes respectively of a total 235 minutes. In Michigan State's 19 to 16 victory over Penn State, each outlasted his mates in the game with 59 minutes apiece.

Spartan halfback George Guerre is rated eighth in the nation among punters. In State's four games played thus far he has punted 15 times for an overall average of 41.7 yards.

MSC Varsity Sport Shorts

Sports Editor Lyall Smith of the Detroit Free Press had this to say upon receiving Halback George Guerre's work in punting Michigan State to its 19 to 16 victory over Penn State. "Way should! Guerre punts the spark that ignited the flame of Michigan State's attack! Isn't George from Flint?" Answer: George.

Powerful Spartan Junior Varsity Eleven Meets Wayne In Quest Of 4th Straight Win

Things shouldn't be too tough for the Michigan State Jayvee football team in its quest for victory number four when the Spartans meet the Wayne university 'B' team on Keiser field in Detroit this afternoon.

The MSC Juniors already hold a 3-0 decision over the hapless Tigers and will be heavy favorites to trample the Detroiters once more. So far this year Coach John Kobs' club has rolled up 195 points in its trio of contests.

Included among the Spartan victims are the Irish from Notre Dame's reserve team and Central Michigan.

Kobs' main worry today will center around his signal callers, Bob Oting, who has started all of the previous games at quarter, has been moved up to the varsity.

Glen Hatfield, who alternated with Oting, has missed three drills this week due to the death of his grandfather, and may not be in shape to take over. Bob Welter will probably get the starting nod at quarter.

Teaming with Welter will be Halbacks Bob Krestel and Jim Westby, and Fullback Milford

Jones. Against Notre Dame last week Krestel ran wild, gaining over 100 yards.

In the line Kobs will open with Ed Maier and Gus Ploch at ends, Bob Maldegan and Harry Vogler at tackles, Rog Bessy and Bill Pearson at guards and Frank Prker at center.

The 1947 WOLVERINE

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 (AP)—The U.S. Golf Association announced today it had accepted an invitation from the Franklin Hills country club, Franklin, Mich., to entertain the 47th Men's Amateur Championship, Sept. 22-27. It will be the 47th National tournament.

The Association also announced it had accepted an invitation from the Memphis, Tenn., country club to entertain the 48th Men's amateur championship in 1948. Dates will be fixed later.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 24 (AP)—For the second time this month a throng of 85,938 grid fans will jam Michigan stadium to capacity this Saturday to watch the Wolverines risk their Big Nine football title hopes against up-and-coming Illinois.

Michigan ticket officials announced this afternoon that the last seat had been sold and that the crowd would equal the attendance at Michigan's game with Army two weeks ago.

Because the practice of erecting temporary seats along the sidelines has been abandoned the capacity figure now falls 470 short of the stadium record of 86,408 fans who watched Michigan and Notre Dame play in 1943.

As the Illini prepared to board their plane plans cancelled because of a pilot's strike, the Wolverines staged their last hard drill for the important battle, specifying defense against the running of trackster Claude (Buddy) Young and Julie Rykovich and the passing of former Tulsa star Perry Moss.

The Wolverines, with the return of Guard George Burg who was hurt in the Army game two weeks ago, will be at full strength for the Illinois tussle, 32nd in a series dating back to 1880. Michigan has won 22 of the 31 previous meetings and lost nine.

Michigan, one of the Big Nine's last two unbeaten teams, must retain its form of the Army game two weeks ago to successfully turn back Illinois' challenge.

All-College Mixer To Feature Tonight's Social Activities

Kelly Opposes Proposal No. 2

LANSING, Oct. 24 (AP)—Governor Kelly today came out against controversial sales tax diversion amendment on the November 5 ballot, declaring the proposal would cripple operation of the state's program of veterans education.

"The people are confused, having been misled that this is a proposal to distribute one-third of the sales tax among local units of government and school districts," he said, "while in reality, as has been pointed out and never denied, it is a proposal to divert two-thirds of the sales tax, which is the state's principal source of revenue."

He said if would force the state to return to local units of government the cost of many activities now carried by the state and would require the state to find new sources of revenues.

Intermission Entertainment To Include Hawaiian Group

An all-college mixer will top the bright-light billings for tonight's social activities as Dick Charles and his orchestra beat out tunes for dancing from 9 to 12 in College Auditorium. Jointly sponsored by Blue Key and Mortar Board, the affair will include tag dances for both men and women.

Intermission entertainment will feature Wallace Nagao and his Hawaiians, the Kappa Sig quartet, and Buzz Hart's swing combo. Tickets are on sale at the Union desk and the Administration building and will also be on sale at the door. Johnnie Helbig, Cleveland Heights senior, and Don MacPhail, Detroit senior, have announced. MacPhail said that further talent is being sought for future mixers.

Public Works Spending Tops Truman Limit

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—President Truman announced tonight that federal spending for civilian public works this fiscal year will exceed the $900,000,000 limit he set last August by $165,000,000.

Mr. Truman's statement also said that no further military spending cutbacks "are under consideration at this time."

The President recalled that in August the overall federal public works program had been cut from $1,000,000,000 to $900,000,000 requiring a saving of $700,000,000.

He said further study of this program by Reconversion Director John B. Steelman and Budget Director James K. Webb "has indicated the necessity for increasing the expenditure limitation for the war department corps of engineers from $95,000,000 to $130,000,000, with an additional limited provision for new projects approved (by Steelman) and for the Department of Interior reclamation program from $85,000,000 to $110,000,000."

These increases previously had been announced by the budget bureau.

Saving Possible
Mr. Truman said that these hikes, together with an increase of $13,000,000 for the Tennessee Valley Authority and $5,000,000 for the agriculture department, "are the only increases in the expenditure limitation on federal construction projects which have been authorized to date."

He added that "were it not for increases in programs over which I have no authority to place limitations, a saving of $630,000,000 would be made good."

This compares with an original goal of $700,000,000.

Senator Warns Against GOP Win

DETROIT, Oct. 24 (AP)—Sen. Pepper (D-Fla.) said here today a Republican victory in Congress in next month's elections would carry with it an "inherent danger" of American imperialism in the future.

The impending elections, Pepper told a press conference, will determine whether the United States will progress on both the domestic and international scenes or "slip back" into "another depression" and isolation.

Ike Suggests Bradley For Chief Post

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who has been mentioned as a possible new ambassador to London, today discussed a report that Gen. Omar N. Bradley might succeed him as army chief of staff—but quickly emphasized that he wasn't making any predictions.

Eisenhower's four-year term as chief of staff is not due to expire until Nov. 19, 1948, but there have been rumors among army men that he might be named ambassador to the Court of St. James to succeed W. Averill Harriman, recently made Secretary of Commerce.
