

Memorial Center Plans Take Shape

Ex-Servicemen, Alumni Voice Approval As Homecoming Nears

By BOB BURNS
The Michigan State College Memorial Fund program is gradually evolving into a well organized project under the direction of Joseph E. Goude, '41, Assistant Director of Alumni Relations.

Club Gives Varieties

Studio theater began a full scale of activities with a performance of the studio theater variety show at a meeting of the Educational Mutual Benefit club at the Women's club in Lansing last night.

The cast was led throughout the show by master of ceremonies Clark Reid, Ypsilanti junior. Other members of the cast included Walter, center from Ypsilanti, and a number of other members.

Council Plans Open Forum

A committee of the will conduct a series of open forums on campus announced yesterday. The forums will be held in the Student Center building, or in any of the State House.

Parity Showmen To Get Auditions

Applications for variety entertainers will be held today from 4 to 8 in the Little Theater of the State House.

There's More To Flowers Than Smell, Bud!

It is possible to consider a breach of etiquette for an ambitious young suitor to call on the girl of the hour without a bouquet of posies. But alas, the modern day "Juliet" must be either sick or dead before her "Romeo" shows with "La Fleur's Case Was Breach."

Concerning the financing of the Memorial center Goude said, "A plan of giving to the fund will be introduced to alumni and friends of the college in the near future. The Memorial center will cost over $300,000 and construction will begin as soon as the fund program is completed and the needed building materials can be secured."

The only financial plan which would ever give State a chapel and new international center would be one of student, alumni, and friends support since these buildings possess no source of self-liquidating income and would not be covered by state appropriations.

Goude stressed the fact that this project not only has the enthusiastic support of the alumni but also of the returned servicemen now attending State. Many of these men were classmates and in some instances comrades in arms with those who are to be honored by the memorial.

All graduates and students with senior classifications are to report to the placement office in the following order. Today, A-F; Tomorrow, G-L; Thursday, M-R, and Friday, S-Z.

but also of the returned servicemen now attending State. Many of these men were classmates and in some instances comrades in arms with those who are to be honored by the memorial.

United Nations Will Consider Moving Quarters To Geneva

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 4 (AP)—A new move to take the United Nations headquarters back to Europe and settle it permanently in the League of Nations palace at Geneva loomed as a possibility tonight in the UN assembly.

UN sources said that Soviet Russia, which once vigorously opposed Geneva and anything connected with the old League of Nations, was ready to ask that the assembly consider the Swiss city among the possible headquarters sites.

Russian sources added that the Russian position crystallized when it became known last week-end that the United States decided finally abandoning its neutrality on the home issue, had asked the assembly to put the home-site offers of New York City and San Francisco up for debate by the delegates of 51 nations.

The battle is expected to be resumed tomorrow at 1 p.m. CST, when the powerful steering committee of the assembly meets here to take up the site question, the Spanish case and other problems.

Meanwhile, the UN Security Council dropped from its agenda by unanimous vote the long-dormant Spanish case and gave the assembly the green light for whatever action it wants to take toward Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

There was little debate in the council after Dr. Oscar Lange of Poland offered a resolution to remove the case from the council calendar. Brazil, the United States, France, Soviet Russia, Great Britain and Egypt quickly voiced their support and the vote was taken.

LANSING, Nov. 4 (AP)—Local draft boards in 27 northern Michigan counties today went on a part-time basis as part of the program of reducing expenses.

which mean "Let's take a chance on happiness," while all the time you're only trying to say "You're a wonderful friend."

The Hawaiians also use this unspoken language in the form of the Lei with which they welcome and bid adieu to those who visit their island. This custom is becoming popular in the U. S. now that the men are back. The idea of "Lei" around their necks is always acceptable.

Battle Ends In Michigan

With election officials anticipating one of the largest crowds in off-year election history, thirty-five million voters from all over the country will go to the polls today to choose governors, senators, representatives and local officials and to decide issues which have been pending during the war years.

Today's election will decide whether or not President Harry Truman will be faced by an anti-state Congress in the last two years of his term of office.

In Michigan, it will be one of the most important in history when issues so received as much publicity as the personalities involved. Amendments to the state constitution, which are usually considered as ammunitions for an election campaign, have this year been in the foreground.

Most controversial have been proposed amendments 2 and 3. Proposal No. 2 would provide for the diversion of one-third of the state sales tax, half to the schools and half to the cities, counties and townships.

Proposal No. 3 is the so-called GI bonus amendment. If passed the state government would borrow $370,000,000 in revenue bonds to pay the veterans of World War I $10 for every month of service spent in the U.S. and $15 for every month spent overseas.

Candidates for state governor, Jim Sigler (Rep.) and Murray D. Van Wagner (Dem.), have been conducting colorful campaign tours throughout the state for more than a month.

Van Wagner has centered his campaign on his past record as governor, from 1940 to '42; Sigler on his record as special prosecutor in the state graft clean-up.

Both have favored the GI bonus. Sigler has declared himself strongly opposed to Proposal No. 2, while Van Wagner has not committed himself on this issue.

American Veterans committee officials pointed out yesterday that many students would take part in the voting, or had already done so by means of the absentee ballot.

Members of the campus Junior Farm bureau were host to some 600 rural young men and women from 40 Michigan counties at a party in the women's gymnasium, closing the 11th annual convention of the Michigan bureau.

Vet Wives To Hold Fashion Program

Current fashions from negligees to children's rompers will be shown tonight at the veteran-student wives Style Show. The program will be held in the Little Theater in the Home Ec. building from 8 to 10 p. m., according to Ruth Fredericksen, chairman of the home-making division.

Senator Attacks Budget Plans

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, a candidate for reelection in today's congressional elections, is pictured wearing the ear phone of the simultaneous translating system tried out by the UN in the opening meeting of the financial committee in Lake Success, N. Y. Vandenberg last week attacked the proposed UN budgetary plan which called for 50 per cent of the administrative costs to be paid by the U.S.

Denver Digs Out From Blizzard

DENVER, Nov. 4 (AP)—Denver started digging out today from under a 26-inch snowfall, the city's worst in 33 years, and attempted to get vital services operating even before the snow stopped falling.

Schools were closed, the state capitol was shut down and the city council called off a scheduled emergency meeting.

Emergency snow removal crews worked on the city's streets, where thousands of automobiles and delivery trucks were stalled. Funeral services were called off. Garbage disposal was stalled.

Transportation from the south—where the storm struck almost as hard as in Denver—was almost at a standstill.

No buses were running and trains were hours late. The snow caved in roofs of some buildings in Denver, including that on the plant of the Monitor, a weekly newspaper.

Adding to the situation was a butchers' and grocery clerks strike, which has shut down more than 100 large food stores in the city. Except for milk, no shortages of food were reported.

Seven deaths were listed in the wake of the storm—one of them Mrs. Eva Sobey, middle aged Castle Rock, Colo., widow who froze to death Saturday night while on route to her children. Virgil Wilson was killed in a traffic accident at Pueblo—where the storm was described as the worst in the weather bureau's 59-year history. Four persons died in Denver trying to start snowbound automobiles and one man suffered fatal injuries in a fall on a downtown street.

Twin boys were born unattended by a physician at a snowbound ranchhouse seven miles northwest of suburban Arvada at the height of the storm early Saturday. Both boys were born unattended.

OPA Boosts Mors Prices
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—OPA boosted paint prices today, promised increases or complete decontrol for soap, and took effective other actions designed to aid business and industries.

Ceilings were raised an average of 34 percent, at the manufacturing levels, on all paints sold over the counter. Retail prices will go up even more because distributors and retailers may tack on their customary profit margins.

Both Parties Optimistic

The American people determine by a verdict of votes today on shortages, strikes and other issues of a congressional election campaign that has hoisted Republican victory hopes to the highest level in more than a decade.

Some 35,000,000 voters are expected in the polling places to make their pick of 1,065 candidates for an even 500 major offices. Not since the late Franklin D. Roosevelt began performing his political magic in national elections in 1932 has the GOP been so optimistic.

Control of congress for two years at least, with its impact on the course of the administration, is the big, immediate stake. Fifteen states appear to hold the key to what will happen in the senate. These and another eight seem likely to determine the political alignment of the house.

The election weighs heavily, too, on the 1948 political fate of President Truman and men from whom Republicans may choose their next candidate for the White House. The voters also select the governors of 33 states.

Both the Democratic and Republican high commands stood pat on the usual forecasts of victory. Each read into prospects of a record vote in an off-year election omens favorable to its cause.

No confident were the Republicans that this is their year that they differed only on the size of the majority by which they claimed they would rule the next senate and house. Not since 1930 have they held the upper hand in the house. They last had a senate majority in 1932.

Democratic forecasters saw somewhat varying prospects. Some had conceded during the campaign that they felt the off-year election trend against the party in power had set in.

With 39 senators now, the Republicans need a net gain of 10 seats to capture control. In the house they have to add 28 seats to their present 192.

Democratic campaign leaders have forecast that the Democrats, who now have 235 members in the house, will wind up with "at least 231."

In another statement for the Associated Press, Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Ohio, Republican campaign director, forecast a minority.

George H. Earle, who travelled widely in the Balkan and Mediterranean area during the war, will speak on the subject "Must We Clash With Russia" Thursday night at 8:15 in College auditorium.

A former governor of Pennsylvania, Earle has also held many diplomatic posts, among them United States minister to Bulgaria. He was the personal representative and observer for President Roosevelt in 1933, and again during the war until 1945.

Students will be admitted to the lecture, a regular program of the lecture-concert series, upon presentation of coupon I from their activity books, and identification cards.

Visit The Polls Today

What's in a vote? Why all the to-do about elections and voting?
 Too many of us minimize the importance of casting the ballot. Too often we hear the pessimistic croak, "My one vote doesn't mean anything, anyway."
 Our representative, democratic government is based upon the sovereignty of the people. Every citizen has the right to take part in the government by voting. Not to vote is to relinquish this right.
 Staying away from the polls encourages minority rule and strikes at the heart of popular government. Not to vote is to relinquish the power of government to those who do vote.
 The ballot is our instrument of government. The obligation for using it rests upon all of us.
 Take part in your government. VOTE!

LETTERS to the EDITOR

TO THE EDITOR:
 With so many students now on campus and the population of East Lansing rising from year to year, it seems the college could make some kind of a proposal to the city of East Lansing to have a train station built to serve both the college students and the citizens of East Lansing.

This proposal hardly seems unreasonable considering the great popularity the trains now have with the present streaming facilities installed. In fact, it seems almost necessary and hardly to be considered a favor.
 If such a station could be built, for instance at the railroad intersection at Harrison road, and this station need be nothing more than a wooden frame shelter, I'm sure it would be more than appreciated by all who could take advantage of this facility in that it would mean both students and residents could reach dormitories and homes with more convenience and in less time.
 As it is now, students are obliged to pay ridiculous taxi fares from Lansing and those who choose to ride buses are almost sure of being passed up at least once. When they finally do reach campus they may or may not squeeze themselves in and certainly can find no room for luggage on the already overcrowded buses.
 These inconveniences hardly seem necessary in a town of this size and the proposal to build a train station for college and town use is certainly worth consideration.

the "brilliant rest posters" that have been urging Michigan voters to reject the bonus. The issue was debated by the members during their recent meeting, and was decided by a majority vote. It is the policy of the AVC to be active in behalf of its beliefs, determined after conscientious discussion by the members.
 Once decided upon, they are backed up by action.
 Yet organizations have attacked the B bag and other grips, outlets as a means of doing something about controversial issues other than giving off steam. Many did not like the message presented by the posters, and that is their privilege. But opinions are of little effect minus units of action. AVC presents itself as a forward-looking union of citizens, yet more interested in America than in special privilege of any kind. Fellow ruptured ducks are invited to AVC's Tuesday night meeting with the hope that they might like the idea of being part of a veterans outfit that does something about what its members decide is best.

Vet Receives GI Financed Automobile
 A veteran Infantry platoon sergeant, Darrell Jones, is the first wounded veteran on campus to receive a government financed car. Jones, who was wounded in the European theater, took possession of the automobile yesterday.

The usual lack of service due to the war and continued shortages took a pleasant turn in this case. Jones' automobile dealer in Muncie, Indiana, flew up to Lansing to get him, flew him back, and delivered the car all equipped and ready to drive.
 Jones is one of the few campus vets eligible to receive a government paid-for automobile. His general feeling about the matter was summed up when he said, "I have never been happier in all my life." Chafing from the old Ford to a new Olds six has been a real morale booster for Jones, and his girl doesn't seem to mind the improvement either.

Affairs of State

They say when you haven't anything else to talk about you can always talk about the weather. All there is to say is, you better get out those red flannels 'cause it looks like there's going to be some cold days in November. On second thought there is always something to talk the breeze about at MSC and here are the latest reports.

The Phi Kappa Tau welcomed five new members to the brotherhood recently. The new initiates are Bob Jennings, Howard City Junior, Bob Brown, Oxford sophomore, Chuck Dickey, Detroit sophomore; Art Gaultrey, and James Brown, Mt. Clemens sophomore.

There are ten new officers of Lambda Chi Alpha chapter to wear the Cross and Crescent. They are: Bill Wagon, Lansing; Bob Smith, Mt. Clemens; Earl Macdonald, East Lansing; Ben Jordan of Eton; Harold Bates from Lansing; Dan Hahner of Toluca, Oklahoma; Russ Roberts from Detroit; Tom Lightbody, Detroit; Fred Koppa of Detroit; and Owen Shagler, also of Detroit.

Ten new diamond-shaped Sigma Alpha Epsilon pins will be sported on campus by a group that went active recently. New officers are Bill Hahner, Clark sophomore; Ron Stevenson, Lansing junior; and Al Ward, Ashokola, Ohio, junior. Others include Bruce Leavitt, Lansing sophomore; Lee Paul, Michigan Center freshman; John Schott, Davaragie junior; Bob Green, Morenci junior; Bill Hunt, Emmet, Ark., senior; and Bill Van Housen, Chicago, Ill., sophomore.

The Sigma Chi's have increased their members indirectly. Three members are now proud fathers. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Robert announce the birth of their 7 1/2 pound girl, Deanna Owen Robert, Mrs. Eckert, formerly Barbara

Powerful Third Period Wildcat Attack Smothers-Spartan's Half-Time Edge

Kentucky's 39-14 Win Marks Fourth Loss Of Year For State

By CHUCK STRATTON
When Paul "Bear" Bryant took his Kentucky Wildcats to the locker room at noon Saturday, trailing Michigan State 18-14 at half-time, it is a good guess to remind his players that the North won the Civil War.

Whatever sort of cheer talk he dashed out to the Wildcats, it paid off handsomely. All they did was run the second half kick-off 85 yards to a touchdown, and then continue with a relentless assault that produced three more touchdowns and bury the Spartans under a 39-14 final score.

Good Coach Charley Bachman, reviewing the game yesterday in his office before practice, said the Spartan team that went down to defeat Saturday played its finest game of football of the season. This will further attest to the power of Kentucky, especially rated the class of the Southeast.

It was a hot named "Dapper" Pease who was anything but, on Still field Saturday as he personally conducted a one man raid on the injury filled Spartans. All he did was score four of Kentucky's six touchdowns.

Phelps scored both the Wildcat's first half touchdowns, sprinted 85 yards for the MEC goal line with the second half kick-off, then wound up the day's

Rumors Spiked About Leahy's Secret Star

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 4 (AP)—There have been reports current for some time in football circles that Notre Dame has a secret weapon named Emilio Zaleski who would be untied for the Army game next Saturday.

Don't believe it. Next year—maybe you, because of GI Ennis has the makings of one of those cut-throat slugging types who would be just what the doctor ordered on the bowdlerized runner the Irish have been lacking this year.

But for Saturday's game, you can take it right from the fellow who knows best—Irish Coach Frank Leahy—Ennis not only won't start but probably won't see the game at all.

The reason of course is that, having joined the squad only a week ago, the head boy who's making good is generally a gridiron "underdog" member.

But that doesn't mean Leahy is disappointed about his half-operation. Department because several of the "underdog" types in his squad are showing signs of being ready to go.

They, too, have one such operator as Pop Funnell, the full-back and Red Stone of half and of course, there's Johnny Lynch. As a matter of fact, when Leahy's himself who don't you know?

'S' Harriers Place Second At Loyola Midwest Meet

In their first year of competition in the annual midwest cross country championship meet held Saturday at the Loyola university stadium in Chicago, Coach Lauren P. Brown's Michigan State squad was nosed out of first place by University of Illinois by a scant four points, 43-47.

Individual honors went to Ray Baker of Wheaton college whose 17.46 for the three and five eighth mile course beat John Tomney of Illinois by less than a foot.

Jack Dianetti, freshman from East Rochester, New York was the first of the local team to cross the line, finishing in third place in 18 minutes and 31 seconds. He was followed by Jim Gilbord, Royal Oak, in eighth place in the field.

Other MSC runners and their showings are: Walt Mack of Buffalo, team captain, eleventh; Ed Kiezenski, thirteenth; Kevin Higgins, fifteenth; and Robert Sewell, seventeenth.

Although they finished in runner-up position in the field of nine teams, Coach Brown feels satisfied with the showing his team made in view of the close scores of the first two teams and the relatively high scores of the

Maroons Ban Negro Players; Game Dropped

RENO, Nev., Nov. 4 (AP)—The University of Nevada Board of Athletic Control voted unanimously today to cancel a football game scheduled with Mississippi State college because of the inability of the two schools to arrive at a mutual agreement regarding participation of Nevada's two negro stars in the contest.

The game was scheduled for Nov. 16 at Starkville, Miss., and the board agreed to leave the date open on Nevada's calendar.

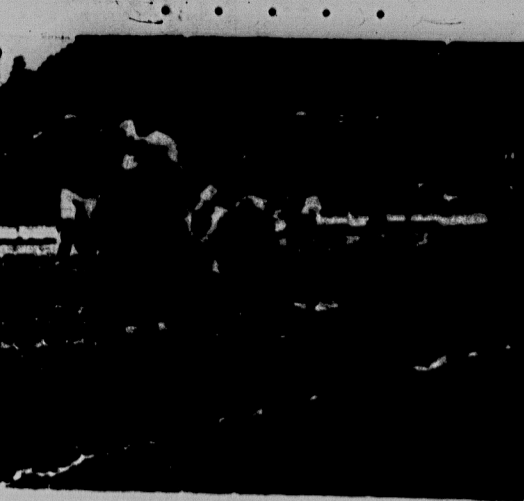

Mississippi State Athletic Director C. R. Noble had telegraphed that the southern school "could not violate southern tradition" by putting whites against Negroes on the athletic field.

Nevada end Horace Gillem and back Bill Bas are Negroes.

The original agreement stipulated that if either school cancelled the game it would pay a forfeit of $3,000.

The Nevada athletic board instructed its athletic director, Joe McDonnell, to try to get Mississippi State to agree to cancellation of the game without demanding the forfeit. The western school's athletic board went on record as favoring cancelling the game outright, regardless of the forfeit.

Tick-Tocks, DZV's Maintain Top Scores In Independents

Leading contenders for the independent loop crown, the Tick-Tocks and DZV touch squads continued their winning pace in rumping to lopsided victories over the Jenison All Stars and Boozers, respectively, on the intramural fields last night.

Tony Rhodes' aerials broke the Jenison squad's back as he hurled five of the winners' six touchdowns. On the receiving end, Al Maksimovitch snagged one, Duncan Licha, two, and Orvel Baum, two. Maksimovitch also countered on the run back of a kick Jim DeVries crossed for the losers' only score on a kick-off return in the third quarter.

The DZV brotherhood racked up the top score of the season as it shut out the Boozers with a 51-0 count. Joe Nelson played the Elsworth house stomped on the Hedrick co-ops to the tune of 32-0. Myrt's Marauders fought to a 20-13 win over the Wolverines as Dave Lamsden sparked the winners with his offensive play.

The Fletcher-Spiller combination checked for the Shadows to rout the Lansing Independents 20-6. Urey house went one touchdown better to drop "349" Division 25-6. Mike's Church Boys forfeited to the Characters to give them a 2-0 win for the records.

Return Tilt Saturday Offers Koba Chance To Square Series

By CHARLEY GABREL
Hoping to avenge last Saturday's defeat, the Spartan Jayvees began drills last night for the return game with the U. of M. reserves.

The Kobamen will undergo more injury-shifting this week, turning while Bud Carrigan is added to the sidelined list. It was a tricky, alert Michigan team which overpowered the Spartans, 26-6, striking twice in the second quarter and once in each succeeding period.

Although Friday's rains had left the field soggy, the turf was firm enough for normal or to Michigan's case, above-normal play.

The Spartans won the toss and elected to kickoff. Before the Wolves attack was running smoothly, a fumble gave State the ball on the "M" 45. After State failed to move the ball, a penalty and John Dowell broke up a Michigan attack.

The penalty was for clipping, and nullified most of a 50 yard pass gain, while Dowell threw John Ghindia for a 13 yard loss to complete the checkmate.

In the punting duel which followed, State came out on the short end, as "Red" Gilman's boot went out of bounds on the 29. Three plays by Jack Lantz brought the ball to the 18 as the quarter ended.

As the second quarter opened, Tom Kuck slashed through tackle for the score. Irv Wisniewski's point attempt was good. On the first play after the kickoff, Joe Bogart's sleeper pass was intercepted by Ghindia, who galloped 25 yards for the TD. Wisniewski's kick was good.

The next Wolverine drive was thwarted by Herb Webber, who played a bangup game at quarterback, as he recovered a fumble on the 50. Bogart passed to Ed Maier and John Polonack then carried the ball to the 17. Kuck intercepted and brought the ball back to the 37. Then Dick Poole recovered an "M" fumble for State.

Bogart's pass to Flack, plus runs by Polonack, Webber and Bob Neiler brought the ball to the one, from where Tarasewick took the ball over. Two plays later the half ended.

Michigan again received, took the ball on the 31, and went over roll down the field. Shortly after the quarter ended, Kuck passed to Jim Holgate for 36 yards and the score. Again the kick was blocked.

State got another opportunity, as Dick Nebeker threw Ghindia for a 24 yard loss, giving the Spartans the ball on downs on the Michigan 41, but an aerial campaign failed to click. As the game ended, State had the ball near midfield.

Since Coach John Kobs used a mass substitution system against the Maize and Blue, the Spartan offense was built around several players, with Bogart, Polonack, and Tarasewick showing well while Dowell and Gilman turned in good defensive performances.

French Group Schedules Talk

The second in a series of lectures under the auspices of Tricolors will be given by Miss Keshishian at the International Center tomorrow night at 7:30. Miss Keshishian will talk on Syria and Lebanon, where she lived for over 20 years. The speaker will emphasize the modes of living and the ways of the people in these and other Mediterranean countries.

Having traveled in this area, Miss Keshishian has a knowledge of seven languages including Turkish and Arabic. Miss Keshishian is a graduate student in Home Economics at MSU and is acting as an instructor in advanced French.

The first lecturer in the series was Joseph-Joseph Le Junker, who presented a talk on his native country, Brittany. Le Junker, also a graduate student, is majoring in mathematics.

Persons interested in this series are invited by the club to participate in the activities at the center tomorrow night.

CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP The lecture on "Practical Christianity" by Kenneth Taylor, editor of HIS magazine, sponsored by the Spartan Christian Fellowship, will be held in Music auditorium Thursday night at 8:15 instead of the Home Economics Little theater, as originally scheduled.
