

Two On Island' Cast Wins MSC Audience; Stage Crew Shines

Comedy Well-Suited For College Players; Sets Outstanding

By THOMAS RICE
Of The English Department.

Elmer Rice's "Two on an Island," as presented last night in Fairchild theater by the drama department, seems to this reviewer to be the most successful campus play in recent years; not by any means the best, but the one most aptly suited to the abilities and limitations of undergraduate talent.

The enormous cast gave an opportunity for many students to appear. The thinness and brevity of most of the parts gave the individual actors a chance to present highly polished and thoroughly convincing characterizations.

The result was a finished and moving performance, studied with striking interpretations. The audience responded with unusual interest and enthusiasm. "Two on an Island" is a curious play. It combines the highly stylized characters of a morality play, the philosophy of Horatio Alger, the conventional situations of a good B movie. Yet so competent is the dramatist in Elmer Rice that the audience does not feel that most of the charm of the play is the charm of familiarity; that it is little more than a repetition of banalities in character and in situation.

The taxi drivers, one Jewish and one Irish, are the traditional taxi drivers. The southern girls are the sprightly flowers of Dixie; the sailor, the sailors, and the honkymen are perfect examples of their respective types. No character is individualized, not even John and Mary, the Everyman and Everygirl of this modern morality, which is based on the morals of the Hays office and the school of sentimentality rather than on those of Christianity and the school of realism.

The production crew played a tremendous part in the success of the play. Eleven sets, skillfully planned and executed, rapid changes of set, and complicated sound effects, all resulted from their efforts.

Don Buell of the speech department, further demonstrated his directorial skill by the management of so large a cast. The play will be repeated tonight and tomorrow.

Spartan Varieties To Hold Auditions

Spartan Varieties, weekly radio show produced during winter term, need talent. Larry Frymire, director, has stated. All types of talent is needed for the production.

Vocalists, instrumentalists, musicians, story tellers and comedians are among the specific types that the show needs.

Social chairman of dorms, off-campus houses, fraternities and sororities are being asked to help make the show a success this year.

Any information leading to talent for the show or appointments for auditions can be had by contacting Frymire at Ext. 488 or 489 any day from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

HOLIDAY TICKETS

Students are urged to buy their Thanksgiving bus tickets early in order that the East Lansing bus station will know how many buses to schedule for the holiday traffic.

Commission Discusses US-16 Traffic Problem

Students and personnel of MSC may get a new kind of education if a proposal made to the East Lansing City Commission is carried out.

An education in better traffic habits for both motorists and pedestrians was suggested to the city commission by many sources at a recent meeting.

In a recent survey, the state highway department found that upwards of 8,000 cars traveled each way on Grand River Ave. (U.S. 16) or a total of 16,000 cars in a 12 hour period. In the same length of time, 30,000 students crossed the street.

The city commission has deemed the situation "serious and dangerous." At the meeting the problem was discussed but no solution could be found.

Sophomores Plan Mixer For Tonight

Jimmy Shafer To Play; Stickle To Act as MC

Smoe and Kilroy will be among those present tonight from 9 to 12 in the Woman's gym when the first class social get-together of the year, the sophomore class mixer, gets underway.

Jimmy Shafer and his orchestra will provide sweet-swing music for the affair. The dance was planned with the idea of getting members of the sophomore class better acquainted.

According to co-chairmen Charles Smith, Birmingham sophomore, and Stew Stickle, Flint

Thanksgiving vacation will begin Wednesday at 5 p. m. Registrar Robert H. Linton stated today. No new classes will start after that time. Lab classes that run from 4 to 6 p. m. will be discontinued at the discretion of the instructor.

sophomore, good intermission entertainment is in store for all attendees of the dance, whether stag or drag.

Stickle will act as master of ceremonies and among the guest performers are singer Wandamee Peters, Benton Harbor and a dance team composed of Rhea Yerkey, Goodrich, and Carmen Straw, Charlotte.

Intermission Program

Another feature of the intermission program will be the introduction of candidates for sophomore class treasurer by John Cox, class president.

Tickets have been on sale since yesterday morning, and the Union desk reports a limited supply of 700.

Not limited to the sophomore class, tickets for the mixer are being sold at 60 cents per person, and any tickets not sold at the Union desk will be available at the entrance to the Woman's gym.

Publicity Stunts

The sophomore class activities committee, a group composed of 25 committeemen, have put on an extensive campaign in an attempt to make tonight's mixer the best of this year.

Several publicity stunts to attract interest have been arranged by publicity chairman Fran Reilly, Detroit, Ga.

Patrons for the affair will be Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Kolzevski and Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Segal.

Court Takes Action On Lewis

Harvest Ball Tops Social Calendar

Highlighting a crowded social weekend will be the annual Harvest Ball. The dance will be held in the Union ballroom tonight at which time the Harvest queen will be crowned.

The dance, sponsored by the Ag council will be a semi-formal affair, and is under the direction of Stanley Atkinson, senior from Leonidas. Patrons for the affair will be Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Brown, Shiprock Shuffie.

East Mayo women are entertaining their guests at "The Shipwreck Shuffle" tonight. Dancing will be featured from 8:30 p. m. to midnight in the dining room. Mari'yn Lustig, junior from Grand Rapids, chairman of the event announces that bridge, other games and refreshments will be enjoyed during the evening.

Robinson house coeds are entertaining their term form tonight at their house, 123 Albert. The women have invited Prof. and Mrs. Orden Smucker to be patrons of the party. Sara Jane McDonald, junior from East Lansing is chairman of the affair.

Hard Times Party

Elaine Traflet, senior from Detroit and Genette Austin, sophomore from Midland are co-chairmen.

A new schedule for securing tickets for the Washington State football game will be in effect. Tickets for the game will be on sale at the Union desk starting at 8 a. m. tomorrow.

Both juniors and seniors may pick up tickets on Monday, November 23, at the Union desk. Tickets will not be open Thanksgiving day.

man for the Hard Times party at South Campbell tonight. Mrs. Dorcia Meyer, housemother and Mrs. Mary Daner, hostess, will attend the affair.

Precinct 3 of Mason hall is entertaining tonight also. Their affair will be radio party and will be held in the recreation room of the dorm. Dr. and Mrs. Luckner, and Dr. and Mrs. Devereaux will be patrons for the party.

Centerbury club has planned a hayride for this evening. Jean Chandler, junior from East Lansing, announced yesterday. The group will start from their house at 445 Abbot road and participate in an evening of fun and enjoyment.

Hyride Party

Rev. and Mrs. G. H. Selway and Rev. and Mrs. B. Cleason are patrons for the hyride.

North Williams women are entertaining their dates with a waltz-roast at Pinetum and a dance at the dormitory also. This event is under the direction of Carol Brown, junior from Detroit, Mrs. Leah Thompson, housemother and Mr. and Mrs. J. Sliver will be the patrons of the affair.

The last of the social events for the evening is a hike planned by the Spartan Christian Fellowship group with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tenny serving refreshments at their home in East Lansing. Prof. Paul De Koning and the Tennys will be patrons for the group.

Seven Steps

1—No parking restrictions in certain areas on Grand River Ave. and off-street parking for business district visitors.

2—Move the interurban bus depot to a different location where the loading and discharging of passengers would not interfere with traffic.

3—To eliminate all crosswalks except at each end of the block and have only one in the middle of the block.

4—Mark the highways with lines designating lanes, crosswalks, and stop streets. This would give added safety by warning the motorists and give better efficiency to travel.

5—The modernization of the traffic signal at Grand River and Abbot road and the installation of a signal at MSC ave. This would give the pedestrians an opening to cross in safety.

6—Widening of certain parts of Grand River. The highway dept. would consider this on a request from the city of East Lansing.

7—An educational program for students and personnel of MSC.

Union Chief Sits In Solitude

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (AP)—A federal judge started contempt of court action against John L. Lewis today but the United Mines Workers chief, in deep seclusions, still made no move to call off the strike of 400,000 soft coal miners.

United Mine Workers' Chief JOHN L. LEWIS sits quietly and remains aloof on the dire coal shortage that is fueling the nation. Lewis has been ordered to appear before a Federal court judge Monday on contempt of court charges.

Ag Board Meets, Approves, Appoints, Accepts For State

Michigan State is richer by $6,700 today, as a result of action by the State board of agriculture at their monthly meeting yesterday. In addition to accepting grants totaling that amount, the board also approved appointments of 23 new faculty members and authorized several title changes and resignations.

A monetary item amounting to $6,700 grant by the company of Battle Creek for continuation of research in dog rations. This project has been underway at State since 1938 and is conducted by the chemistry department in cooperation with the department of surgery and medicine.

First Appointment

First appointment in the newly established curriculum of recreation goes to Dr. Randolph W. Webster who was named professor of physical education. Webster comes to State from the University of West Virginia.

Approved also was the appointment of Don Cudworth, as assistant director of student housing, effective Dec. 15. Cudworth, who will be graduated this term, is a member of the Delta Chi fraternity.

H. D. Eaton was appointed assistant professor of mechanical engineering, effective Dec. 14. Eaton has 12 years of teaching and engineering experience behind him.

Promotions

Sixteen of the new faculty appointments are instructors. Seven faculty members were promoted one grade up the instructor, assistant professor, associate professor line.

Nine resignations were also approved by the State board yesterday. Among those leaving are Walter Frey, assistant professor of sociology and anthropology, to go to the University of Texas; and Hazel Racher, associate professor with the board of examiners, to accept a post at Penn State college.

New Quonset Hut Additions Okayed By State Board

Five additional Quonset huts will soon be erected on the housing area south of Jensen field house, Kari McDonel, secretary of the Board of Agriculture, has announced. Two buildings, measuring 20 by 80 feet will enlarge the reception room at the cafeteria; two will be converted to a grill and refreshment center and the last will be used for storage.

The Quonsets will be shipped from California by the Federal Public Housing Authority and will bring the number of Quonsets to 100 being used on campus for faculty and student use.

One hundred trailers will be moved in to augment the 600 now existent. This additional housing for the married students may cost $25,000.

17 Speakers Will Go To Albion For Speech Meet Saturday

Seventeen students will represent State at the ninth annual discussion festival which will bring speakers from ten Michigan colleges to Albion tomorrow morning. The festival will feature 31 groups which will participate in two discussions each, starting at 11 a. m.

The topic under consideration is "Should labor have a direct share in management of industry." Following the discussion, John L. Lovitt, manager of the Michigan Manufacturers association, and representatives of the CIO and AFL will address the group.

In addition to State, the other schools taking part in the festival include: Wayne, Michigan Normal, Albion, Western Michigan, Kalamazoo, Calvin, Hope, Alma and Central Michigan.

Spartans attending the festival were selected by Prof. J. D. Monchhof, of the speech department and include: John Irwin, Pontiac sophomore; Donald Brown, Battle Creek freshman; Fred Yockey, Alpena freshman; George Snowarth, Pontiac junior; and James Schomer, Muskegon freshman.

State faculty members who will attend and act as critics will be Harold Spangberg, William Pitkin, and Gordon Thomas of the speech department.

WSSF Leader Tells Group Of Services

An organizational meeting for the World Student Relief Fund was held at the International center last night. Students representing many campus groups such as Student Council, U and Abbot hall attended.

They heard Eleanor Durham, traveling secretary of WSSF, tell the many services and aids rendered by the fund. It provides relief to students and professors in ravaged countries throughout the world.

WSSF cooperates with national movements, UNRRA, United Nations Relief, American Joint Distribution committee, and local committees of students and professors in each of the 18 countries where relief work is maintained.

Working internationally through World Student Relief, WSSF is fully sponsored by International Student Service, Post Romana, and other world secretariats of national university federations, and World Student Christian Federation.

From students to students" is the theme of WSSF, Miss Durham said. She is a recent graduate of Michigan university where she received an education.

Only Longshore, East Lansing, is heading the campaign to raise funds for WSSF. The campaign for solicitation will be held Feb. 1 to 7, she said. Students interested in helping for the drive should contact her through YUCA headquarters in Peoples church.

Home Economics Club Will Adopt European Family

Aware of the acute needs of thousands of Europeans, members of the newly established International Fellowship group of the Home Ec club elected Wednesday afternoon to adopt an Italian family.

Co-chairman Junette Sengul, with Haven Junior, and Lenore Smith, Clawson Junior, drove the necessity for clothing of all continents and the donation of money.

There is a possibility that an Italian family will also be adopted by the club in the near future.

Christmas home clothing for Italy is only six men. He suggested twice that number would be needed for maximum enforcement and safety.

Quonset K, SN, Wells D; DZV Win Respective Loop Titles

Quonset K, Wells D, Sigma Nu, and DZV qualified last night for the All-College playoffs.

Apparently those who said the college spirit was a thing of the past did not see last night's drama and quonset playoffs, all four teams gave it their all, and played their hearts out in a constant driving spin which turned the fields into a sea of red.

Under these almost impossible conditions Quonset K fought to stay from behind, coming in the last quarter to defeat a valiant team 13-12. It was by far the best game of their season. As usual Bob Gunderson and Lou Bior were stars among stars for the victors. Bloch passed to Gunderson for the first tally and the duo reversed their positions for the last touchdown and vital extra points.

Bill Frankfield stood out for the team with both great offensive and defensive play. He tossed the first touchdown pass to end Tom Crews who later took another pass from Chuck Bartuch accounting for both of R's scores.

Wells D slithered to a 26-0 win over Mason 6 in the steady downpour. The Wellsmen won on their ability to make their plays work despite the weather. Bob Denhoter scored twice on long pass plays. End Dick Carveth scored on a short run, but the TD play of the evening was Merle Cable's 40 yard run over the mud. Cable and Jim Dunbar counted for extra points.

Sigma Nu Wins
In the great game last night, high point of the 23-19 Sigma Nu victory was a touchdown return of an ATO kickoff by Sigma Nu's Ed Lord and Bucky Walsh with a lateral exchange helping out.

Starting out with a four way exchange of punts, the Sigma Nu's tallied first with a pass from Ed Lord and Moe Sheppard. Two plays later Bucky Walsh set up another Sigma Nu score with a long run, and then tallied himself with another run.

In the second half the Sigma Nu's scored on a pass from Ed Lord to George Kinas. The ATO scores were made on passes from Ralph Mason to Russ Grant, Bill Gaylor to Jack Sprague, and Gaylor connected with Mason for the final ATO TD.

Terrapin Threatens Spartans

Shaughnessy Aiming For Revenge After Defeat Last Year

Clark Shaughnessy, one of the great coaches of football coaching, brings his Maryland team to Macklin Field tomorrow looking for revenge. Last year Shaughnessy suffered a defeat by Michigan State and Coach Charley Bachman, but with a team wearing the colors of another school, Pittsburgh.

In 1922 Shaughnessy coached Maryland, but moved to Pittsburgh the following year. Last year the Spartans emerged on the long end of a 13-7 upset over the Panthers.

Maryland Goes T
An exponent of the T-formation, Shaughnessy also employs a dual-team system, which worked so well for "Speck" Murphy, "Shorty" McWilliams, and the rest of the Mississippi State team. Maryland will use a light team, composed largely of 2045 lettermen, for offensive play, and will alternate a heavier, more powerful eleven on defense.

Panther Star
Potential star of the Terrapin offensive attack is Bill Mont, Mont regional acclaim as one of the nation's finest runners while on the 1922 squad, but was injured a few weeks ago and has not seen much action this year. He returned, however, against Washington and Lee last Saturday to complete nine of eleven forwards.

Coach Charley Bachman brought practice for the week to a close yesterday with a lengthy signal drill, starting off many old plays designed to add power to the state attack.

Starred Guard
Steve Sieradski, recovered from a recent rib injury, has returned to his fullback spot and will alternate with Frank Waters. Russ Reader, another ailing member of the regular backfield, will see very little action tomorrow.

Alger Conner is still out with an injured ankle and will be replaced at right guard by Don Armon, 1924 letterman whose play in recent weeks has been outstanding.

ONE STATE NEWS FOOTBALL PREDICTIONS

By CHECK STRATTON

"Allelujah!" shouts the professor as he breezes into the class room for the season's final lecture around the nation's football fields.

If you're wondering why all the elation, it's simply because the crystal ball came up with a grand slam last week, ringing the bell 11 times in as many attempts.

Every team the owl wagged his red flannels on came through in heroic style without even a tie to mar the record. The 1,000 record summed the season average 60 points to .764, ending 25-up, 13-down and four ties.

Proof the prof must have taken vitamin pills before last week's meeting, was ample. Tennessee scored 20 points in the last five minutes to top Boston College, 28-25, Illinois, the "Fighting Illini," living up to its name, spotted Ohio State a touchdown then battered out a 16-7 win in the mud.

Penn State gave Navy a 7-6 lead, scored again, and held off the scrappy Midshipmen to triumph 18-7. Rice trailing 6-10, turned on the heat and blasted Texas AM 27-10. Stanford won a basketball game from Washington State 27-26, and so it went.

Hoping the fickle fates of football are even half so kind to us this time, the swami rolls up his sleeves and digs into a tough batch of games starting with:

Boston College vs. Alabama—Southern teams have not been kind to Eagle football fortunes this year. No reason to suspect Alabama will let up. Harry Gilmer is near perfection in passing. Choice: Alabama.

At Cambridge, Mass., an ivy traditional has.
Yale vs. Harvard—The Cantabs have a fine team this year. They will be pointing for "Big Boy Blue" Tom New Haven. However, the Swami picks Yale, the difference being in Lewi Jackson who unfortunately for the Crimson, wears the blue of the Bulldogs. Guess, Yale-14, Harvard-0. Mid West menu shown.

Michigan vs. Ohio State—It will take a consistently good team to top Michigan. Ohio State has been up and down. Buckeyes may score more than once, but Michigan will score more times.

Purdue vs. Indiana—Looks from here like the "Old Oaken Bucket" will stay with Bo McMillan's Hoosiers another year. Injury sidelined Purdue no match for rifle-armed Ben Raimondi and company. Way down South the big attraction will be at New Orleans where its,

Notre Dame vs. Tulane—The Irish have too much and too often for the Green Wave. Notre Dame should sweep over the southerners by at least four touchdowns. Say N. D.-28, Tulane-0.

Mississippi State vs. Mississippi State—State must be rated the choice in this traditional battle for the "Golden Egg."

No. Carolina vs. Duke—Duke will have to stop Carolina's Charley Justice to top this one. That's a big order. Will be very close. Swami takes two looks into the crystal ball, then hesitatingly selects Duke.

Moving along to the Southwest we have,
No. Methodist vs. Baylor—Not much to go on here, but SMU has looked better in defeat than Baylor. Nod goes to Southern Methodist by a touchdown margin.

At Los Angeles, the winner will go to the Rose Bowl where it's.
UCLA vs. So. California—This one will be a thriller. With Ernie Case directing the T the Uclians have been unbeatable. UBC has lost once and narrowly escaped defeat on two other occasions. Strictly for the sake of keeping the Pacific Coast title race away from a deadlock windup, UCLA gets the vote of confidence.

Oregon vs. Oregon State—Jackie Leont is Oregon's guiding light in this one. Close, but Oregon rates the edge.

Since Thanksgiving cut into our last meeting, which would have been next week, this is our last visit with the Professor and his right hand man, the Swami and his crystal ball. So have a nice holiday with double helpings of turkey and all the trimmings. Bye now and thanks for visiting the classroom these past eight weeks.

Annual All-College Mat Tournament To Start Dec. 5

Michigan State's all-college wrestling tournament will begin Thursday, Dec. 5, and continue for two more days, Coach Fendley Collins announced yesterday.

The tournament is open to all students except varsity lettermen who have won in previous years. Entries will close Wednesday, Dec. 4, at 6 p.m. Interested persons should contact Collins in the wrestling room in Jensen gym room 405. Entries must workout at least five times to be eligible.

Competition will be offered in the eight standard collegiate weight groups: 121, 128, 136, 145, 155, 165, 175 and the heavyweight class. Three pounds over-weight will be allowed. Weighing in will not be required except in borderline cases, Collins stated.

The bouts will be of three two minute rounds duration. The first round will start even, the second and third on the mat.

Washington U Drops Subsidized Football

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 31 (AP) — Washington university officials, hoping that other midwest schools will follow suit, plan to resume football at the university next year with a "strictly amateur intercollegiate" team.

Under the new policy, Washington will try to win on the gridiron without offering "special inducements" to athletes and without furnishing "a Saturday athletic spectacle comparable to that now provided by many schools."

It's the first of the month—every few days.

The first few days of the month were once a time of feverish activity for telephone accounting personnel. In that short period millions of telephone bills had to be prepared, checked and mailed. But the Bell System accounting staff, seeking to level off this work peak, found a practical solution.

It's called "rotation billing."

Now in our accounting departments, a new month begins every few days. Accounts are divided into six or more even groups, each with a different billing date. This spreads the work evenly and eliminates the old last-minute rush.

This special problem, solved by telephone accountants, is typical of those which often confront management in the many branches of our business. They present a stimulating challenge to the young men with initiative and imagination who will find just such practical solutions...young men who find telephony an exciting and rewarding career.

Frosh Name Committee Chairman Bevin Urges Arms Cut

Spiegel Lists Heads Of Group To Plan Freshman Dances

Appointments of committee chairmen for freshman dances of the coming year were revealed yesterday by Bill Spiegel, freshman class president. Co-chairmen Mary Stewart, Detroit, and Doug Kelly, Williamston, will handle general plans for coming activities.

Other chairmen are Howard Proctor, Inkster, and Jim McCartney, East Lansing, tentative dates and locations; with James Keenan, Saginaw, and Ray Howard, Birmingham, in charge of decorations. Program planning will be supervised by Mary Jean MacMicken, Grand Rapids, and patrons will be secured by Betty Mae Wagner, Detroit.

Contacting and obtaining the signatures of dance bands will be the task of Dick James, Niagara Falls, N. Y., and publicity for the dances will be handled by Lytle Thompson, Lansing. Additional committee chairmen are Shirley Jedele, Ann Arbor, refreshments; and Bob Knowles, Detroit, in charge of post-dance clean-up details.

Spiegel said that tentative plans for freshman dances include a mixer in the second week of winter term and a semi-formal affair in the second week of spring term, but that these dates are subject to change depending on the availability of dance bands.

Clark, Phillips Take Honors In Extemp Speaking Contest

Howard Clark, Niles sophomore, and Rose Mary Phillips, Bad Axe sophomore, won the right to appear for State at the Michigan intercollegiate speech league contest at Kalamazoo by taking first place in the extemporaneous speaking contest Wednesday night. Second place honors in the men's division went to Richard Thurm, while Leota Calkins, East Lansing senior, took second in the women's division.

Requests Merger On Troop Info Plan

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 21 (P) — Ernest Bevin, British foreign secretary, asked "in all solemnity" today that the United Nations take up now the whole question of disarmament.

He rejected Russia's demand for information on Allied troop dispositions abroad unless it was included in such arms limitation talks.

Asks Joining of Russian Plans

Bevin told Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov of Russia, author of the arms reduction and troops information proposals, that the British government felt the two should be "taken together." Molotov and the other members of the 54-nation UN political committee listened closely as Bevin said:

"If this (Russia's troops inventory resolution now before the committee) is taken as a single contribution, we cannot accept it, but we will go along if the whole thing is taken together."

German Army Cited

Declaring in his first speech to an assembly body in the United States that his government wanted the task to be comprehensive, Bevin added:

"I want to remind this body that Hitler had no troops outside Germany but that did not stop Hitler from building an army which nearly brought the world down."

China, France, Poland and Egypt expressed their general support of Molotov's proposal that the United Nations report on troops stationed away from home.
