TODAY'S CAMPUS

. . This World

A lengthy discourse on the evils and corruption of the corporation, there were three minutes of prayer in a social in the Peoples church.

. . Mission To VII

The pledge sneaked around the infirmary hospital, tried all the windows and finally found that one was open. He lifted it cautiously, peering back over his shoulder every time the window went up another inch. He went over the sill and inside—right into the cashier's cage. Then the nurse started to bark. He retreated to the open window—looked out to see if anyone had been around. A cop's nose against his made a good answer.

"What are you doing in there?"

"I was looking for a rabbit to take home in my baby carriage."

Students See FEPC Hearing In Senate

By JEAN FAGAN

Approximately 50 Michigan State college students last night attended a Senate labor committee open hearing on a Michigan Fair Employment Practices commission.

They heard the case for an FEPC argued by representatives of interested groups all over the state including Georgeal Addes, international secretary of the UAW-CIO.

The speakers stated that there are three arguments for a state FEPC bill:

1. A state FEPC would eliminate unfair discrimination in the field of employment.

2. The bill would put into practice the democratic American principle of judging a man for what he is, not his color, race, or religious beliefs.

3. The proposed bill is a workable law comparable to the FEPC now in operation in Massachusetts, New York and New Jersey.

Representatives from church, labor and farm groups gave the support of their organizations for the proposed legislation.

Dr. M. F. de Cruz, from Percy Jones hospital, former Michigan State student, spoke for the veterans at the hospital in favor of a Michigan Fair Employment Practices commission.

Groups

Other groups represented included the Detroit Urban league, the Farmers' union, the Michigan Council of Churches, the Lansing League of Women Voters, the Michigan Newspaper guild, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and the Michigan Lawyers guild.

Because of a clause in the Michigan statutory statute, if the legislature rejects the present FEPC bill it will go on the next popular ballot to be decided on by the voters of the state.

Radio Workshop Will Air Drama 'Drink Of Water'

The speech department's Radio Workshop hits the airwaves this afternoon at 4 p.m. when Prof. [illegible] Calloway presents his [illegible] in another half-hour show, "A Drink of Water."

Mary Procassi will take the lead part of Clare Mayo in the psychological melodrama, with Shirley Foreman taking the other lead part of Ryan. Minor roles will be filled by Fred Vincent, Bill [illegible], Chuck Baer, Scott Booth, [illegible] Erickson, C. F. Holmes and [illegible] Hoffman.

[illegible] Spoth, graduate student, has been given the job of music supervision for the productions for the rest of the year, while Ken [illegible], another graduate, will be assistant director. Joseph Callaway, director of radio education, will produce and direct the show.

Next week's Workshop will offer an unusual production in the form of "The Mighty Barnum," with another cast.

Facultymen Debate U.S.-Soviet Question

By PAT McCARTHY

That the "United States has never made a whole hearted attempt to understand the needs and wants of the Russian nation" summed up Dr. Hans Leonhardt's argument that America should not continue its policy of "friendly firmness" towards the USSR as presented by Dr. Marshall Knappen.

The two members of MSC's history and political science department locked horns over the question "Resolved: The U. S. should continue the present policy of firmness towards Russia," last night in the Music auditorium before a full house of students and members of the American Association of University Women.

Russians Refuse To Talk

Doctor Knappen stressed the point that the U. S. had made overtures to Russian representatives since the end of the war and were never given a reply. He maintained that the present policy towards Russia offered lesser risks than one of all out co-operation with the Soviets.

In this he held that past experience, its intervention in the Balkan political melee, showed that if Russia were given a free hand with her own foreign policy she would only continue to seek to enhance her nationalistic tendencies towards becoming a world dominating power.

U. S. Policy Solves Nothing

Doctor Leonhardt replied that the present U. S. policy towards Russia had solved no problem whatsoever and that in maintaining it America ran greater risks than if she were to seek some other solution. He held that the only hope of this solution lay in understanding the Russian needs and demands and seeking to co-operate with them, but not without first making known our own needs and demands as a nation.

In the open discussion that followed it was brought out by a former member of the U. S. occupation forces that the American, French and British armies were just as strict in enforcing the "iron curtain" on the occupation borders as were the Russians.

LOIS GOERS
Sigma Chi Sweetheart

The familiar strains of "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" floated into the Kappa Delta sorority house last evening, signifying that their candidate Lois Goers, Farmington sophomore, had been chosen the Sweetheart of 1947.

Miss Goers lives at South Williams. Her activities include the vice presidency of her class, representative to AWS activities board, WAA, the Steering committee, Tower Guard, an all-college 2.8 grade point average. She was notified of her selection during a personal phone call from crooner Perry Como who also announced it on his program.

Miss Goers will be officially crowned sweetheart at the formal dinner and ball which will be held at the Women's club in Lansing Saturday evening.

Orators To Enter Contest Tuesday

A contest to determine the winner of the National Intercollegiate Speech league oratorical contest will be held Tuesday evening in room 49 of college auditorium. There will be separate contests for men and women. The winner of this contest will represent MSC in the state contest. The winner of that contest will then represent Michigan at the national oratorical contest to be held at Northwestern university.

Other colleges competing in Michigan are Albion, Alma, Calvin, Mt Pleasant, Hillsdale, Hope, Kalamazoo, Michigan State Normal, and Western Michigan College of Education.

Persons interested in entering the contest should contact Charles Hampton of the Written and Spoken English department.

Entomologists to Talk

The entomology department of Michigan State college will present a series of radio talks beginning Monday. The program will be heard at 5:30 p.m. over WKAR and will continue every Monday thereafter through March.

Council Hears Poll Report

"No funds have been allocated specifically for the purpose of student polling" explained Professor Duane Gibson last night to the Student council in outlining plans for the Social Research Service.

Gibson said that this fact was holding up operation of the Department of Sociology and Anthropology plan scientifically to poll student opinion.

He said that a similar plan has been in operation at Oklahoma A & M and that they have been operating on funds donated by faculty members.

Acting on the absence policy for the third straight week, the council appointed an official committee to request permission of the college administrative board to present the student case directly to the faculty.

The delegation was instructed to bring back a written statement from the Administrative board. Jerry Warren, Dick Beals and Margaret Foster were appointed to the committee.

Don Lamont presented a request from the National Association for the Advancement of Col-

Governor Sigler Accepts J-Hop Invitation

Governor Kim Sigler is shown above accepting an invitation to attend the 1947 J-Hop from the junior class president, Don Bergman from Chicago, and Dave Broderick from Grand Rapids, chairman of the dance. The semi-formal affair will be held on Feb. 14 and 15 in College auditorium. Elliot Lawrence and his orchestra, featuring Jack Hunter and Rosalyn Patton on the vocals, have been booked for both evenings.

Michigan Bill For Vet Bonus Passes Senate

LANSING, Jan. 29 (AP)—Despite a hold-up in the House, legislation to issue $270,000,000 in bonds to pay the veterans bonus passed the Senate today and appeared destined to become law next week.

House members, plagued for the second day with major and minor amendments to the bill, sent the measure back to the military and veterans affairs committee.

The committee in a hastily-called meeting after the session voted to let the House bill die and report favorably at Monday's session on the bill passed today by the Senate. The measures were virtually identical until four floor amendments were made to the House measure.

Senate Passes Measure

The Senate passed the measure on a 31 to 0 vote but not without first discussing the financing of the bond issue.

"We shouldn't kick this bill around," Senator Harry F. Hittle, East Lansing, Republican, objected. "Quick passage will save the taxpayers thousands of dollars by getting the bond issue on the market before other states work out their bonus plans."

'Or' or 'Nor'

The House spent nearly half an hour arguing about changing the word "or" in one place in the bill to "nor." The change was adopted.

"This thing is a mess, as it now stands," Rep. Lewis G. Christman, Ann Arbor Republican declared. "I propose turning it back to the committee to let them bring it into line with the bill the Senate just passed."

The bill proposes issuing bonds at interest up to 2½ per cent to pay the bonus. Temporary bonds were provided for to circumvent a year's delay in printing the permanent steel-engraved bonds.

Portal Case To Resume

DETROIT, Jan. 29 (AP)—A United States district judge will resume hearings Thursday on the controversial Mt. Clemens Pottery Co. case, which led to a $4,000,000,000 floodtide of portal pay suits by labor against industry.

Phillips-Snyder Opening Delayed Until Spring

Plans for the opening of Phillips-Snyder hall, new men's dormitory, on Feb. 1 have been canceled due to unforseen problems in finishing the dining room and kitchen, Secretary Karl H. McDonel announced yesterday.

Opening date has been set back to "the last of the term," with no definite date named. A plumber shortage has been one of the chief causes of the delay, McDonel said. Other holdups are a shortage of marble for shower and toilet installations and a lack of some minor parts of the kitchen set-up.

Rooms on the upper floors are virtually finished, McDonel reported, and the kitchen and dining rooms are progressing satisfactorily.

No ceremonies on new buildings will be held until the structures are entirely finished outside and in. Since Snyder hall will be the first to be occupied, Phillips hall will have to be completed before the building is dedicated.

The building will house 660 men with three in a room on the first and second floors and two in third floor rooms. Very few changes were made from the plans of Mason-Abbot hall, their sister structures, when the new dormitories were started, McDonel said.

The current building program is being held up in only a few minor cases by shortages of building materials at present, McDonel declared, in contrast to a few months ago when materials were the chief problems of the contractors.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Traffic Toll Less in 1946

LANSING, Jan. 29 (AP)—State police today reported 1946 traffic deaths, contrary to expectations, were 33 per cent less than in 1941.

A prepared statement credited education campaigns and the "carry-over effect" of wartime speed restrictions. "Car owners found they could get where they wanted to go at lower rates of speed," the statement said.

Total 1946 deaths were listed provisionally at 1,420, as compared to 2,133 in 1941, and 1,156 in 1945.

Stalin May Ask New Pact

LONDON, Jan. 29 (AP)—An official informant said today that Britain expects Prime Minister Stalin will ask for a general military alliance to replace the British-Soviet mutual assistance pact against Germany, and that there was no reason to believe he would be turned down.

The present mutual assistance pact, which Stalin has said is "weakened" by reservations, provides for military cooperation between Britain and Russia only if either is attacked by Germany or one of her satellites. It remains in effect until 1962.

YWCA Opens Drive For New Members

A membership drive for all women students, staff and faculty members and sponsored by YWCA began Monday. Plans are also under way for the formation of a new council in which all co-ops and other units will be represented. Duplicate programs are being held Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in Peoples church.

Marshall Abandons Attempts To Mediate Chinese Arguments

Army, Marine Forces Evacuated From Headquarters By Order

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP)—The United States suddenly ended today a year's effort to mediate between China's warring factions and announced that most of the remaining marines and army forces would be pulled out shortly.

Secretary of State Marshall's action was announced simultaneously here and at Nanking.

It put squarely up to the Chinese themselves the task of working out their salvation and raised a big question mark over future United States policy toward China.

Both among diplomats here and at Nanking it was viewed as a likely signal for the start of the full scale civil war brewing between Chiang Kai-Shek's nationalist government and the Communists in North China.

Specific Decisions

The specific decisions announced by the State department in an early morning statement were:

1. Ending American connection with the committee of three set up under Marshall's chairmanship last February to try to end China's internal strife.

2. Ending this government's connection with the Peiping executive or "truce" headquarters which supervised the execution of agreements to cease fighting and demobilize armed forces.

3. Withdrawal of American personnel connected with the headquarters as soon as possible.

Evacuation of 9,000

The windup of the mediation effort means the evacuation of more than 1,000 army officers and men at the truce headquarters along with an estimated 8,000 marines who have guarded and serviced the headquarters and its lines of communication.

Withdrawal of American forces in China has been urged by Soviet Russia and agitated by some Chinese students, but there was not a hint among diplomatic authorities that the American action was aimed at placating either.

With the departure of the 9,000 army men and marines only a relative handful of American armed forces will remain on Chinese soil.

Trudi Schoop Will Appear In Ballet

Trudi Schoop, the comic ballet artist, follows basso Ezio Pinza into College auditorium tonight in the third event this week in the winter lecture concert series. Miss Schoop will offer her original ballet "Barbara" at 8:15 tonight.

"Barbara" concerns a young shop girl who becomes romantically involved, loses her lover, meets a painter, and finally ends up in a circus. The last scene of the ballet is entitled, "Barbara, the Dancing Clown."

Miss Schoop plays the title role in the pantomime. She will be accompanied by Nico Kaufman, her music director and composer, and Kurt Sulger.

Reserved seats are still available for both performances at the Union ticket office on the lower deck.

Since the Draper-Adler program is an extra on the lecture concert series, tickets may be purchased in the Union or at Budd's music store in Lansing.

Paul Draper, the tap dancer, and Larry Adler, the harmonica virtuoso, will appear in College auditorium Monday night at 8:30. The pair will perform both solo and duet numbers.

Sophomores Set April Date For Class Party

The Sophomore ball will be held April 18, John Cox, class president, announced. Due to difficulties in obtaining an orchestra, the dance was postponed from winter term.

Co-chairmen Lois Goers, Farmington, and Charles Smith, Birmingham, will act in accompaniment with Bob Ramsey, Detroit, as program chairman, and Fran Reilly, Decatur, Ga., as publicity chairman. Marian Stone, Detroit, and Marge Schlomer, Detroit, head the patron committee.

Ag Students To Compete In Primary

Primary elections for class representatives to Agriculture council will be held tomorrow in Ag hall, Byron Carpenter, council president, announced yesterday. The voting booth will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in front of Dean Anthony's office.

It will be necessary to present a student identification card at the booth to vote, Carpenter said.

Two candidates from the junior, sophomore and freshman classes will be chosen. The final election will be held Friday, Feb. 5, at the same time and place.

Since there are only two candidates, this will be the final election for the two senior men—Bob Currey and Douglas Berlin.

Junior class candidates are Jim Burnett, Tom Anderson, William F. Walton and Allen F. Vincent.

From the sophomore class there will be three candidates: Harold Weaver, John Baker and Orville Bissett.

Freshman class candidates are Ed Foster, Don Poole, and Albert Peffers.

LOW DOWN ON NEW SET-UP

Spartan Comment Varies On New Grill Addition

By BOB STEARNS

Student opinion on the state of the Union grill is divided. In a recent mass interview, your State News reporter received the following replies to the question, "How do you like the new set-up in the grill?"

"I like it as long as it's the grill," said Jan Bell, Schenectady, N. Y. junior.

Emery Carlson, Highland Park junior replied, "a great improvement, but not enough room for the number of students."

"Depends on whom I'm with," was the answer given by Liz McSherry, Battle Creek senior.

"It's serving more students, so I guess it's okay," said Carl Stewart, Detroit sophomore, "but I don't like the way people leave their books on the tables while they go after cokes."

Mary Ann Bowman, Royal Oak junior, offered, "Suits me fine. More people—more party, and congestion is natural."

Don Stonebreaker, sophomore from Grosse Pointe Park thinks the grill "should have room for dancing to the jukebox, and more of a college atmosphere—cartoons and pennants on the walls."

"The set-up is far superior to other college grills I've seen," is the opinion of Betty Zinser, Grand Rapids freshman, and John Woodruff, Dewitt senior said, "I like it. It has character, personality, and atmosphere—but not enough room."

Just the opposite came from Walter Bourque, Detroit sophomore. "The new change has completely wiped out the atmosphere," while Joe Carland, Owosso freshman contributed, "It's like bargain day at Macy's."

Pat McCourtney, East Lansing freshman, said "It's lots more sensible and convenient and the service has definitely been speeded up."

Lester W. Scott, manager of the Union, says that "the grill in the new Union building depends entirely on student opinion. It will be designed the way they want it."

Dorm Residents, Greeks Exchange Meals Tonight

Hitting the midterm breathing spell, the Spartan social calendar this week lists a profusion of exchange dinners and a few scattered weekend term parties.

Setting a new precedent in joint dinners, men from Mason-Abbot's precinct 17 will entertain coeds from South Campbell tonight and the dorm women will reciprocate.

Following along the dinner line, the Alpha Gams and Delta Sigs will pay homage to Emily Post at their exchange dinner tonight, while the Sigma Nus and the Gamma Phis will also play host to one another at a similar dinner.

WKAR Wins Plaudits As Radio Pioneer

By DAVE ROOD

Deep among the upper confines of College auditorium, surrounded by their soundproof studios and buried deep in drifts of abandoned program scripts, the more persevering seeker may find the staff of WKAR, Michigan State college's 5,000 watt radio station, busy in their appointed task of bringing to the listening public of Michigan varied programs of public interest, service and enjoyment.

The station boasts a proud history that can be traced as far back as 1917, when the electrical engineering division of Michigan Agricultural college spent their spare time puttering with the grand-pappy of them all, a wireless set which they had put together themselves from scrap material and baling wire. From this meager beginning the station has grown to its present size, with modern equipment and highly trained personnel that enable it to enjoy a high ranking as one of the best college public service stations in the nation.

Received License

The station was licensed by the federal government on Aug. 18, 1922, to operate part-time on 250 watts, and in April 1925 increased its wattage to an even thousand. The building and grounds department assumed the technical side of the station when it was licensed, while the programming was taken care of by the publications office. This two-sided situation was resolved in 1939 when the college created the radio department, put in all new equipment, installed the station in its present studio and named Robert J. Coleman as director. The station was given a daytime permit by the FCC at the same time, and its power raised to its present level.

WKAR has long been outstanding in pioneering achievements in the radio broadcasting field. It was one of the first stations in the country to broadcast a play by play account of a football game, when back in 1923 it accounted the efforts of MAC against the University of Chicago. In 1925 organized courses in agriculture were sent over the air waves at night to an enrollment of over 3,000, in the first experiment of its kind in the nation.

Early Times

It was the first station in the state to go on the air at the unearthly hour of 6 a.m., a venture which has proven its worth by the adoption of early morning programs by most other stations. In 1943 WKAR began early season announcements of warm days when the maple sap would run, helping the maple sugar industry in Michigan to show a profit of $888,000 in a year when the rest of the nation's sap sugar production was below normal.

WKAR is primarily a public service station that designs its programs for a state-wide listening audience. Its listener area takes in 73 per cent of the state's farms, and 87 per cent of the state's total population. Its power rating is surpassed in Michigan only by WJR in Detroit.

New Plans

Plans for expansion of broadcasting hours are being delayed at present, pending the outcome of clear channel hearings by the FCC in Washington, which will resume in February. A Frequency Modulation license application has been on file since last March, and is expected to be approved soon.

The station has a staff of 34 including 17 students. Twenty-one members of the staff are veterans.

HERMIE SAYS

By TOM SHERIDAN

WHAT THE DICKENS NEWS WELL, we've all heard this phrase a hundred times. Most recently it has been followed by some method that might get our basketball team back to winning ball games. Just sit back, kids, and I'll give you my idea on this subject and it shouldn't hurt anyone's feelings.

With the recent departure of Al Kawal, who had been handling the junior varsity reports, there is room for an assistant on the basketball staff. I'm taking this opportunity to name my candidate for the position.

Back in 1929 Michigan State had an all-American player in the personage of Chet Anderson, one of the most game and best liked athletes ever to appear on this campus. He's my choice.

For those who don't know Anderson, I'd like to scan back over the years and give you a thumbnail sketch of his career. He came to State from Gary, Indiana, in 1926 with a reputation as a classy ball handler and foot man.

In his junior year he was kicked from court to court for his play and that season was named all-American. It looked like big things for the MSC backcourt team the following year but fate stepped in and almost ended Chet Anderson's career.

While working on campus during the summer vacation of 1929 Anderson suffered a [illegible] which unfortunately spread throughout his body. An athlete par excellence standing 5 feet 9 and weighing 150 pounds in the best of health, Chet was [illegible] to be barely 100 pounds.

Chet was near death many times during the next four months, but his fighting heart never took the count. Slowly Chet was out of the crisis and gradually regaining his health. When Anderson reentered basketball the doctors shook their heads and said he would never play again. Little Chet thought differently.

[illegible] Chet was back on the basketball court and again made an all-American team. He was captain of the 1931 Michigan State basketball team.

During the war he was with the marines after being discharged Chet signed with the Detroit Falcon professional basketball team and he's playing with them now.

Navy Offers Tests For Engineers Again In May

Civil engineers seeking appointment as junior grade lieutenants in the Navy Civil Engineer Corps have the opportunity of taking a new examination which will be held in May, the Bureau of Yards and Docks has announced.

The new examination was established because many applicants failed to get adequate notice for the test to be given in February. It will be designed to test general engineering knowledge and will require two days.

Candidates must be between 20 and 30 years old, must be graduates of an accredited engineering college or university, must have had three years professional experience in engineering, or related active military service, and must be citizens of the United States. Those who will have completed the three years experience or service by July 1, 1937, may be accepted.

Applicants can get full details from the Naval Officer Procurement office in their area.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

TO THE EDITOR:

The ruling of the Veteran's administration concerning deductions from annual leave pay for [illegible] allowance of men under the G. I. Bill seems to us to be quite unauthorized. The G. I. Bill is an act of Congress and as an act of Congress it is necessary to amend it to the best of our knowledge.

An act of Congress was never sent to amend the original bill to permit [illegible] years in subsistence payments from $50 to $65 per month, and an act of Congress was necessary also to limit a veteran's monthly earning to $300 in order to [illegible] subsistence allowance. When then can the Veterans administration take pay away from the veterans on account of sick leave from classes? In this way they are using no control whatsoever to check on one to sickness or emergency. The usual ruling on vets by the college administration shows that the [illegible] and the [illegible] that [illegible] a veteran student more [illegible] in college as long as he satisfies the requirements of the college.

In this country we have a democracy which does not level [illegible] punishment [illegible] concerning the mistakes of men discharged that a veteran has to abuse the use which is [illegible] to [illegible] to put the punishment which we deem the rule to be.

College Landscape Men Begin Winter's Work

By PAUL HALL

Members of the Buildings and Utilities department are shifting and Utilities department will shift from snow plowing to digging as they go about one of their most important winter tasks.

Trees of all shapes and sizes will be moved around the campus this winter in an effort to keep the landscape in shape with the progress of the building development.

Badgers Open Jenison Stay Friday; To Face Ohio State, '46 NCAA Kings

Back in Jenison pool after highly successful trips to Indiana and Illinois, Michigan State's powerful swimming team is preparing for a home stand of six successive meets.

Spartan fans will see the team in action Friday night against the University of Wisconsin. The Badger meet is the first at Jenison since Coach Charles McCaffree's men posted a 60-24 score against Charley Keating and Cincinnati, to open the season.

Coach McCaffree attributes the recent victories of his team to excellent physical condition. "These other boys can't stay with us," McCaffree said. "They're not in top competitive form yet."

Spartans Win Easily

Since dropping a tough decision to University of Michigan's powerhouse, the Spartans have registered easy wins over Purdue, Indiana and Illinois, leaving a score of shattered records in their wake.

Wisconsin will be followed by a Wayne team which is in a process of rebuilding after the university dropped the sport in 1944. Wayne, led by Bill Prew, NCAA 50-yard champion who is back this year, was one of the pre-war collegiate swimming powers.

Iowa State comes to East Lansing Feb. 14, followed by the 1946 NCAA champions, Ohio State, Feb. 22.

Iowa State Beat Minnesota

The Iowans gave evidence of real strength this year with a recent 43-41 triumph over Minnesota. An Iowa State freshman, Bob Watts, broke six records in his first meet, winning three events, the 100, 220 and 440.

The Buckeyes of Ohio State have what is probably the strongest team in the country for the second straight year, and one of the finest teams in collegiate swimming history. As Coach McCaffree comments, "They're loaded."

Ohio is led by Bill Smith, world record holder in the 220 and 440 yard free style, and NCAA champions Halo Hirose, 100 yard free style, Miller Anderson, high and low board diving, and Jack Hill, 220 and 440 yard free style. Smith has just returned from service this year and is rapidly rounding into shape.

Buckeyes NCAA Champs

In winning the 1946 NCAA championships the Buckeyes also annexed the 300 yard relay title with a time of 2:57.0, or about eight seconds better than the fastest Michigan State time this year.

Bowling Green and Detroit Tech will compete here Feb. 28 in a three-way meet.

Halfback Denies Story; Expects Degree

Russ Reader denied yesterday he was considering a return to Michigan State college to play football next fall because there had been a change in the coaching staff here.

This was contrary to an Associated Press story yesterday which said Reader in a recent talk with head coach "Biggie" Munn had hinted that he would forgo professional offers to return to MSC because of the coaching change.

"My being in school next fall depends only on one thing," Reader said. "If I receive my degree before fall, I will look for a professional football job. If I do not have my degree at that time I may try for the college team," he said.

Syracuse Record Bodes Ill For State Punchers

Everything points to a rough time for State's boxing fortunes when Lou Zarza leads his boys to Syracuse Feb. 8 for their first meet of the present season. Syracuse, always one of the toughest teams in the country, and usually tops in the east, has already demonstrated its power in the first three matches.

Their first clash with North Carolina at the Midwinter Sports Carnival in New Orleans Dec. 27 ended in victory, as did their match with the Coast Guard academy Jan. 18. Syracuse came out of its tangle with the West Point leathermen with a hard-won tie.

Stars stud the twenty-one man squad that Orangemen coach Roy Simmons has put together. Five former letter men are back on the squad: Jerry Auclair, 125; Vinnie Byrne, 135; his brother, Bill, 165-165; Harold Wells, 145-155; and heavy John McAndle. Auclair was '43 NCAA champ at his weight.

The boys from Syracuse won three and lost two in last year's revival of intercollegiate boxing.

Roy Simmons is the first and only boxing coach that Syracuse has had since taking up the sport. He formed the first team there in 1925, and has guided the school's fistic destinies ever since.

The record books are loaded with marks set by Simmons' coached teams. They won their first Eastern Collegiate Championship in 1931 and have continued the habit a matter of seven times, the last win being in '42.

The veteran mentor has a record of 70 wins, and 21 losses over the years. Many of the men he has coached have won or placed in NCAA meets.

Spartan Wrestler Farms Talents To Local High School

Farming out his wrestling talents, Gordon Cole, Birmingham junior, is coaching the East Lansing high school mat team this season. Cole's team has one win and one tie under its belt already.

Now in his third year as a varsity 136 pound wrestler for Fendley Collins' Spartan squad, Cole took over the East Lansing team this year at Collins recommendation. His Trojan squad has defeated Everett high school and tied the Sexton squad.

Next scheduled meet for Coach Cole's team is Feb. 16 when Everett comes to East Lansing. Jackson and Battle Creek high schools will also compete against the Trojan mat men.

Revised Lineup Of Swordsmen Will Face Irish

By JACK O'HARA

Coach Charles Schmitter, State's fencing coach, has juggled his lineup in preparation for the bout with the Irish this Saturday in the Women's gym at 7 p.m.

Schmitter was unable to give any advance information on the strength of the Irish team, but said that he expected a "typical hard fighting team of good sportsmen."

Bill Lacey has been moved to the number one foil position, followed by Al Kwartler and Dennis Murphy. Jacob Venema, who took all three of his bouts last week against Wayne, will fence first against the Irish epeemen. Ed Pepper and Chandler Washburn will follow Venema in the match.

In the sabers, Jack Connell will lead off, followed by John Findlay and George Custer.

Schmitter revealed a letter from Captain William J. Hammond, ex foil expert from State. Hammond is now in Germany and said that he had fenced an exhibition bout in Offenbach last November. He said that he expected to represent the United States team in an invitational meet at Baden-Baden in the near future.

Hammond won his letter in 1940 as a mainstay of the Spartan team. He was runner up in the foil championship in the midwest that year.

DOWN THE SIDELINES

By CHUCK STRATTARD

ED Pogor, the man who directs the college intramural program gets our nomination as one of the busiest men on the campus these days.

Ed assumed the intramural job at the beginning of fall term and since that time his desk has been flooded with hundreds of names of teams and individual participants in the all college sports program.

He took the position at a time when the campus was reaching flood tide stage with returning soldiers who brought back with them a desire for athletic activity in all fields.

If the job of keeping these men and their teams scheduled in all sports has been a big one up to now, it will probably grow bigger in the future. No one realizes that more than Ed Pogor.

Fall term he directed 80 teams in the touch football league, and he wasn't too busy to oversee tournaments in swimming, golf and archery.

Proof that the program under the former Michigan State footballer is gaining momentum, is evident in the intramural basketball tournament now in progress. Ed told us yesterday he had a record list of 121 teams entered for first round play in the tourney.

Seeing this program through is not enough for Pogor. He has plans for handball and table tennis championships plus ice relays in the near future.

Spring term track and softball play will hold the spotlight under Pogor.

Maybe his proficiency in handling this staggering sports parade comes naturally. He's a man with a competitive background gained both here at Michigan State and with the navy for three and a half years.

Pogor played three years of football under Charley Bachman from 1937 to '39. His sophomore year he played guard on the Michigan State Orange Bowl team that met Auburn on New Year's day 1938 in Miami.

In 1940 he coached Lansing St. Mary's high school football team and returned to the athletic department of his Alma Mater in 1941.

His next big promotion came with Uncle Sam's prolific fleet. Pogor was attached to General Douglas MacArthur's liason group in Japan, and with the rank of Lt. (J.G.) he was a member of the General's honor guard when the Japanese signed for peace aboard the U.S.S. Missouri.

Now he's back where his love for competition began. He'll keep the intramuralites busy.

Graziano Refuses To Reveal Men Who Attempted Bribe

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (AP)—Rocky Graziano, terror of the middleweights in the ring for the last two years, refused to tell who offered him a $100,000 bribe because he apparently feared "gangsters and gamblers," district attorney Frank S. Hogan said today.

Striking back at repeated statements by the fighter that the district attorney's office had twisted information he supplied in an all night grilling last Saturday, Hogan said he was certain the attempted bribe "wasn't as casual as Graziano lets on."

The district attorney broke the sensational ring scandal Monday with an announcement that Graziano had been offered the bribe to throw a fight scheduled for last Dec. 27 with Reuben (Cowboy) Shank of Denver.

Rocky feigned a back injury to avoid going through with the fight, Hogan said. The bout was cancelled Dec. 24.

After Hogan's announcement, the knockout specialist declared "they put words in my mouth" and "tried to make this thing sound like the real business."
