900 Tickets Remain For Senior Ball

McIntyre Features Singer Nancy Reed At Friday Affair

Tickets for the Senior ball will go on sale this morning to all students after 625 were purchased by seniors yesterday. Chairman Don McNeill, Detroit, stated:

This leaves over 900 tickets to be distributed among juniors, sophomores and freshmen for the ball, which will feature Hal McIntyre's musical organization.

A half hour of McIntyre's live will be broadcast over Lansing's WJLM radio station from 11:30 until midnight. Tickets will have two weeks' permission for the party.

Doing the singing for McIntyre's outfit will be Nancy Reed, discovered by a rival band leader, Miss Reed, whose home town is Pittsburg, was brought to the attention of McIntyre by Vaughan Monroe, studied music.

While studying music in New York, Miss Reed picked up pocket money by singing and playing the piano at a spot called the Cafe Umbriago. It was here that McIntyre happened to hear her.

He hired her as an intermission singer for the Hotel Commodore where he was playing at the time. When Monroe's engagement closed and he left town, Miss Reed was still carrying the keys when McIntyre and his band stepped into the Commodore.

By this time, Nancy was singing with her instrumental activity. Immediately upon hearing Miss Reed, McIntyre knew he had a find. He signed her on the spot and since then Nancy Reed has become one of the top band vocalists in the business.

Thursday, March 6 at 7:30 p.m. in room 206, Hort building.

'Winterset' Praised As Fairchild's Best

Critic Acclaims Acting, Staging, During Term Play's First Night

Dignity, stature, and music of language were strikingly evident in Fairchild Theater last night as the Drama department presented the first performance of Maxwell Anderson's WINTERSSET. Very rarely does a campus or any other amateur production offer such a high quality of dramatic material, capable direction, sensitive interpretation, and magnificence of setting as Don Buck, his cast, and his staff provided.

Billingham Stars

Alex Dillingham as Max Eugene Goldfarb, as Truck Mark Bucher as Garth, John Cottrell as Judge Grant, and Richard Finney as Shadow, played at all times and provided the strongest support for each other.

The tremendous second act with each of them present on the stage attained that dramatic tension and excitement that only the theater can create. Dillingham, as he reached his father, reached his and the play's climax.

Chapp, Faulstich Stand Out

Anthony Chapp as Estrada and Frances Faulstich as Miriamme too, stood out, particularly as the rivaled. The rest of the cast formed a perfect background for the principals and did much toward the successful creation of the varied moods of the play. Clark Kent and Clinton Stroebel made the most of small parts.

Many scenes stuck in the memory the charming street scene with its pathetic gaiety and the odd assortment of dancers, the babbling of the judge, teetering on the brink of sanity, the gruesome return of Shadow, and the

College Band Schedules First Concert Of Year

Under the direction of Leonard Falcone, 90 students will play in the Michigan State college band's first public concert of the year, this Sunday at 4 p.m. in the College auditorium.

Falcone, professor of music at the college, said that the program he has arranged will be one of the most ambitious ever to be presented by the band. "The return of many students to the college with excellent musical training makes it possible to present a well-prepared musical organization for the appearance before the student body and general public," Falcone added.

The program will include such beautiful and popular compositions as Brahms' Second Symphony, from which the band will play the Third movement, and "On the Trail" from the Grand Canyon Suite by Ferde Grofe.

Also on the program is Grieg's famous Piano Concerto, the band transcription for which was made by Nicholas D. Falcone, brother of Leonard Falcone and retired director of the University of Michigan band.

The band will end its program appropriately with the Finale from Dvorak's Fifth Symphony, popularly known as the "New World Symphony." The work was named because its themes were gathered when Dvorak made a trip to America in 1892.

Others in the cast include Chester Bear, Dearborn senior, as Tom; Marion Hoffman, East Lansing graduate student, as Mother; Fred Vinroot, Chicago senior, as Dad; and the parts of the three women will be played by Felice Brezny, Detroit junior; June Scams, Muskegon freshman; and Helen Tillis, Wheaton, Ill., senior.

Doris Spoth, Cleveland graduate student, is in charge of the music and sound is under the supervision of Ken Hemminger, East Lansing graduate student.

Be It Ever So Humble

Whether they are dreaming of a little grey home in the West or a white bungalow in Michigan, Spartan wives are planning tomorrow to hold the step ladder while hubby climbs up and tacks a "Home Sweet Home" sign on a freshly painted wall all their own. To help make these dreams come true and become well planned homes, Spartan wives are going all out to learn about home building.

Charles Barr, of the landscape architecture department, will lead a series of discussions on several phases of the home under the title "Home Building and How" the meetings will begin Monday, at 8 p.m. in room 206, Hort building.

Wife Owns Half

Under Michigan laws a wife owns one-half of her husband's property. Spartan wives are interested in making their 50% materialize into well selected and well planned homes.

The meetings will begin with a discussion on selecting and buying the land. Other topics for later meetings will be investigating the Title and Deeds, City Versus Suburb or Country Living, and Restrictions in Michigan and Other States.

Restrictions will be considered carefully to make future home builders conscious of limitations in building. This will prevent them from building and then discovering their homes do not meet building restriction requirements.

Barr will also discuss where to put driveways, sidewalks, rose gardens, arrangement of rooms in relation to sun, selection and planting of trees and shrubs suitable to the site and building, and even the position of the garbage can, if he is consulted.

Plans to be shown

Barr has numerous films and slides that he will show on the fields in which he is an expert. Approximately 30 wives have already signed up to attend the meetings. About 20 more wives can be accommodated.

At the first meeting it will be decided how often the meetings will be held. For further information call Florence Reagh, 4-5444.

Belgian Police Open Fire On Marchers

BRUSSELS, Feb. 26 (AP)—A demonstration by former Belgian prisoners of war demanding payment of bonuses turned into a riotous battle today in which 50,000 marchers broke through police lines, trampled and crushed each other and only were stopped by machinegun and rifle fire from behind the steel fence of the parliament building.

A day long condition of siege of the parliament building was not broken up until tonight when a ring of armored cars, machineguns, gasmen and troops finally restored order in the angry throng and the cabinet members were able to emerge from behind their locked doors.

Unconfirmed reports said a dozen people were killed but an official of the ministry of the interior said only one person was dead as the result of a heart attack. Unofficial estimates said 100 were injured but the ministry placed the list at 40. St. Pierre hospital authorities said four patients and 20 police and civilians were admitted for wounds and "many more" at other hospitals.

Fiery Lava Rampages In Sicily

ROME, Feb. 26 (AP)—A fiery stream of lava, bubbling from a new crater in the side of Mount Etna, was reported in press dispatches from Sicily today to have branched into separate forks which rolled threateningly toward several communities.

While the villagers fled in panic, Italian authorities rushed motor vehicles to Castagna and Passo Piccare to assist in the exodus if the flow continued, the dispatches said. They added that the molten mass has surged to within a mile and a half of Passo Piccare, first village in its path.

Quiet Since 1928

The eruption of the Sicilian volcano, relatively quiet since 1928 when it destroyed the village of Mascata, was said to have begun late yesterday when the lava blasted out the new crater.

The Home newspaper Giornale D'Italia said the fiery flood began advancing in a stream 300 yards wide at a rate of about 70 yards an hour, and that when it reached the plain of the Danubio, at an altitude of about 1,600 yards, it broke into the three forks.

The meandering mass was said to have built up to a depth of 20 yards in some ravines.

Perks Menace Village

The correspondent for Giornale D'Italia said the general flow of lava was headed toward Colabasso and Guarola and that two forks menaced Passo Piccare, a small outlying portion of the community of Castiglione Di Sicilia.

The Italian news agency Ansa reported that rich forests already had been destroyed by the surging mass.

White House Calls Debate 'Misleading'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—The White House today called "most unfortunate and misleading" the implication of the debate on Palestine in the British House of Commons yesterday.

The statement, handed out by Charles G. Ross, press secretary, said the discussion in Commons tended to leave the impression that American interest in Palestine "is motivated by partisan and local politics."

In the debate Foreign Secretary Bevin asserted that President Truman wrecked a chance for settling the Palestine issue by issuance of a statement during the 1946 campaign calling for immediate immigration of 100,000 Jews into the Holy land.

The White House said Mr. Truman's statement of last Oct. 4, merely reaffirmed the attitude toward Palestine and Jewish immigration which the American government "has publicly expressed since the summer of 1945."

He is credited with saving the lives of four persons when their boat overturned in Missaukee lake last September.

Vigas was vacationing on the lake when he heard cries for help. The youth rowed a half mile to rescue two men and two women who were clinging to an overturned craft.

Vigas received his award Wednesday night at the Veterans Memorial building from Mrs. Hugh Bond, chairman of the Americanism committee.

A student in business administration at State, Vigas is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

HERMIE SAYS—

26 Cent Notebook Does It

By TOM RIORDAN

IT TAKES A COMPLAINT FROM OUR sports editor to get the started on a column. In preparing to take notes for the State News all-college bowling tournament, he found it necessary to invest 26 cents for a notebook in which to enter all the figures.

This might have seemed like a big loss to Chuck, but he'd be repaid many times in watching the Spartan bowlers enjoy themselves while putting on $115 in prize money a week from Saturday.

The State News pin affair is the only one in the nation sponsored by a college newspaper. Last winter when the first Classic was staged all those who complained were loud in their acclaim and expressed the opinion that they'd like to see one every year.

Alas! That time passed for a while in the Union when many of these include 12 maple leaves which would handle various bowling leagues.

It was originally stated that the alloy would be finished sometime this year. But shortages and other problems kept coming up and we're still waiting for the new Union alloy.

However, someone that will be a reality in the affairs of the annual State News Classic can be carried on them. Then, too, a tourney for the bowls can also be held, which now is all but impossible.

New Social Setup

A PROPOSAL to the Student Council is in the making which advocates complete reversal of the social setup at Michigan State. The council will soon present President Hanna with an outline of what the student body would like to have in the future.

There are two objectives the council would like to accomplish. First, it wants students to be completely free of the student council, with no members acting only in an advisory capacity. Secondly, the student governing body desires to have the major campus activities spread over the school year instead of being done in one term.

The first objective will need a lot of clarification and "talked over" between council representatives and the administration. The second aim is within the council and should be implemented before next fall.

The State News feels that staging two or three all-college parties each term is the best way of insuring a good social activity each quarter and abolishing the possibility of a "one dance game" into the year because of a bad year.

Finally, the council on the basis of an order is a minimum stream of students and out social life a "full stomach" of parties. This is not the object of having parties and dances. They are to provide entertainment and relaxation in studying—and show them around.

Square Dance Party To Offer Pre-Event Instruction Period

Square dancing will be the featured activity at the pre-event party given at the Union on Friday night. The party is sponsored by the Phi Kappa Phi chapter and the Phi Kappa Phi chapter. The party will be held at the Union on Friday night, 7:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m.

THURSDAY — "Is God Cruel?"

ALL STUDENTS INVITED

IF ALL THE STATE NEWS COPY about MSC elections was laid end to end, it would probably reach to Okemos and Back, but here we go on this subject. This time a really valuable suggestion has been made.

It comes from Miss Mabel Peterson, assistant to the counselor of women, who brings forward an idea about a new method for future voting. Instead of limiting ballot casting to the Union, set up polling places in dorms and in certain centrally located sorority and fraternity houses.

A common fallacy that everybody on campus passes through or close to the Union every day is rapidly being disproved. From this false idea grew the popular conception that by setting up a booth in the Union everyone would have access to it.

That's one of the reasons why there has been such a lack of voting in local elections. By devoting the campus into districts and establishing a voting booth in each of the old bag-a-bag of light building, would more than likely be better.

This plan would run for election officers, and in my mind, such experience for students would be invaluable. One of two organizations on campus as chosen by Student Council could handle the tasks of setting up zones, establishing voting booths and turning them.

It's something worth thinking about.

Another Solution

Tuesday a suggestion was made by the State News that the Penn State boxing meet be staged before the Michigan basketball game Saturday night because so many of the 10,000 expected fans will be present from one to two hours before tipoff time.

Leman E. Hunsaker, assistant director of athletics, stated in reply that due to the fact gate attendants will not arrive on duty until 6:30 and that students would have to be moved out of the reserved section before the basketball contest, this idea would be impractical.

This still leaves unsolved the problem of providing entertainment for the "early birds" many of whom will arrive when the gates are opened. Something should be done to keep them away from the time from 6:00 on.

This is an opportunity for some campus organization to whip an hour's show together using Spartan talents, possibly pulling up of the local swing bands to donate its services and having some live around with a show can be built.

News is as hard to hold as quicksilver, and it fades more rapidly than any morning glow.

Crew Rescued Off Ecuador

BALBOA, C. Z., Feb. 26 (AP) — The Grace line steamship Lookout reported tonight that she had taken aboard all the 41 crewmen of the 10,266-ton tanker Royal Oak, which was abandoned in a sinking condition off Galera Point approximately 20 miles from Esmeraldas, Ecuador.

The Lookout's account, relayed by the navy to the Boy Scouts, agents here for the tanker, did not say whether the Royal Oak still was afloat.

Planes and ships rushed to the assistance after the tanker wireless a series of distress messages. The Lookout, which apparently reached the scene first, reported sighting an explosion and three small lifeboats on the horizon.

RIOT

Heavy canes and clubs were swung and a metallic clanging sounded as they landed on gendarme helmets. Bottles flew and flashed in the sunlight. Men fell, banners shook and then crumpled.

In the center of the solid-packed hiving men and women swayed unable to keep a footing. Piercing screams cut through the roar of the infuriated crowd, as those at the front tried to fall back before the blows of the gendarmes and those in the rear tried to push forward.

Automobiles were overturned, and the gendarmes opened ranks to clear the path of the mob.

Charges on Rioters

At that moment mounted police charged. The horses reared high and crashed into the pack of people. The force of the charge was great after gaining a few feet. The cavalrymen fell back, and the torrent of humanity poured into the pavement square.

New lines of mounted troops and armored cars with machineguns waited there behind the closed ranks of the police. A volley of shots and the chatter of machineguns ran splashing through the crowd. The firing appeared aimed over the heads of the crowd, but men began to drop on the wet pavements.

The rioters, however, a former prisoner of war, told the cabinet.

Nobody regrets it more than I, and I do not blame the people. They have been waiting for more than two years for the remainder of the promised payment.

He said total outstanding payment would be 4,000,000,000 francs ($80,000,000).

Prime Minister Camille Hunsaker said the government already had paid out 7,500,000,000 francs ($150,000,000) and issued an order postponing another demonstration scheduled for Sunday.

This still leaves unsolved the problem of providing entertainment for the "early birds" many of whom will arrive when the gates are opened. Something should be done to keep them away from the time from 6:00 on.

This is an opportunity for some campus organization to whip an hour's show together using Spartan talents, possibly pulling up of the local swing bands to donate its services and having some live around with a show can be built.

News is as hard to hold as quicksilver, and it fades more rapidly than any morning glow.

Swish on your way Mermaid!
by Elizabeth Woodward
America's foremost authority on young people's problems.

In a world without mirrors...and men...YOU should better "beautify" that! For us land lasses, who watch its reflection in the eyes of the observer. So out of our way! You were born beautiful...we have to work at it. It's a strain and a struggle to be as sleek as you are...streamlined...as graceful with our pedal extremities. We're up against eyebrows that straggles...shiny noses...limp lips...collars that wilt...polish that chips...and clothes that rumple. Our dreams of details can spell DREAMS! Why fret, you ask? Why not take it easy? Why not let well enough alone? Some of us weren't born with faces that launch a thousand ships. Some of us draw voices like foghorns. Some of us displace more than our share of room. Some of us were dealt out hair like seaweed. Who settles for that...is what we want to know! Not when we can do something about it! Maybe we can't alter the basic shape of our faces and figures. But we can carry and groom them until they fool a few folks into thinking we're beauties. Not rule of thumb beauty. We want to be interesting to look at...and interesting to know. That means a slick exterior...the handbag look. And inside...no frowns thinking...no goosy emotions...no overembarrassed personal relationships. We want no rough edges...we want to be manufactured to the ears! And that takes work! But it's worth it when THAT GLOW comes into a man's eyes. But you wouldn't know about men, would you, Miss Mermaid?

Short-cut to keeping that Oh! so sleek exterior

Physics Colloquium Reveals Magnetic Power Of Atom

The nucleus, heart of the atom, continues to make the best subject matter for many students and scholars today. The Physics Colloquium has taken up the subject of the nucleus this term and will present Chihoro Kikuchi, assistant professor of physics and astronomy, today at 5 p.m. in room 108 physics building. Chihoro will talk on the origin of gamma rays, a follow-up to the previous discussion of alpha and beta particles. The physics department is not afraid to admit that the material covered in the physics colloquium is highly technical. Take, for example, the problem of which one physics instructor says, "a bomb is a little baby, while a neutron is a little nuttiness." Discussions of nuclear physics began summer term when Kikuchi brought in speakers to give background material and general theories on the subject. Physicists claim that even nuclei have magnetic personalities, and so nuclear magnetic moment made up the series of talks last term. Discussions of natural and artificial disintegration are being given this term. Ralph B. Howersox, associate professor of physics and astronomy, who was responsible for winter term speakers, will end the series on Thursday, March 13, with a talk on nuclear cross-sections. Arrangements for the six speakers next term will be made by Beryl H. Dickerson, associate professor of physics.

Affairs of State

The planos in fraternity and sorority houses are already being given a workout in anticipation of the "dings" next term. Rumor has it that one's listening isn't safe unless it's looked up in a bygone-proof safe. It's a gaudy state of affairs, aimed at lifting sopranos, booming basses, and in general, bawling around. Members of Omega Alpha fraternity will be getting an extra practice in this weekend. In connection with their installation as Delta chapter of Delta Tau Delta, they will be installing the national fraternity at Michigan. Omega and Delta Tau Delta are helping teams for MSU. The Delta Tau Delta will celebrate the victory at becoming a Redlock Saturday night. Snelling suits, in fact, of Frank Sinatra's fainting, have already been ordered. The newest list of Delta Gamma chapter includes: Joyce Young, Lansing junior; Joan Tyndall, Lake City sophomore; Frances Trestrail, Iron Mountain junior; and Joyce Bush, Hallett senior, who were formally initiated Saturday. Joyce Bush acquired another pin over the weekend when she accepted Miss Howers's Sigma Chi emblem Sunday. She must have heard that old adage: Two pins are better than one. However, by the way is a rumor from Adrian. The Chi Omega girls formally initiated four new members, too. The now fully fledged Chi Omega girls are: Doris Smotherman, N. Myrtle sophomore; Barbara Roth, junior; Betty MaLachlan, Evans sophomore; and Kit Moss, Plymouth freshman. The happy quartet thumbed their noses at older broods and admired their new pins last Sunday.

Members of Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity Got Out the Ballot Boxes

The Kappa Sigma, too, pulled down their shades Monday night and held annual elections.

Heading the new regime is Bob Noren from Chicago, Ill., who was elected Grand Master. Grand Preceptor will be Richard Collins, Grand Rapids, junior. Al Reynolds, East Orange, N. J. junior, will be collecting the money, and Bob Harrison, Detroit sophomore, will be writing in the secretary's book. Grand Master of Ceremonies is Dick Best, a junior from Flint.

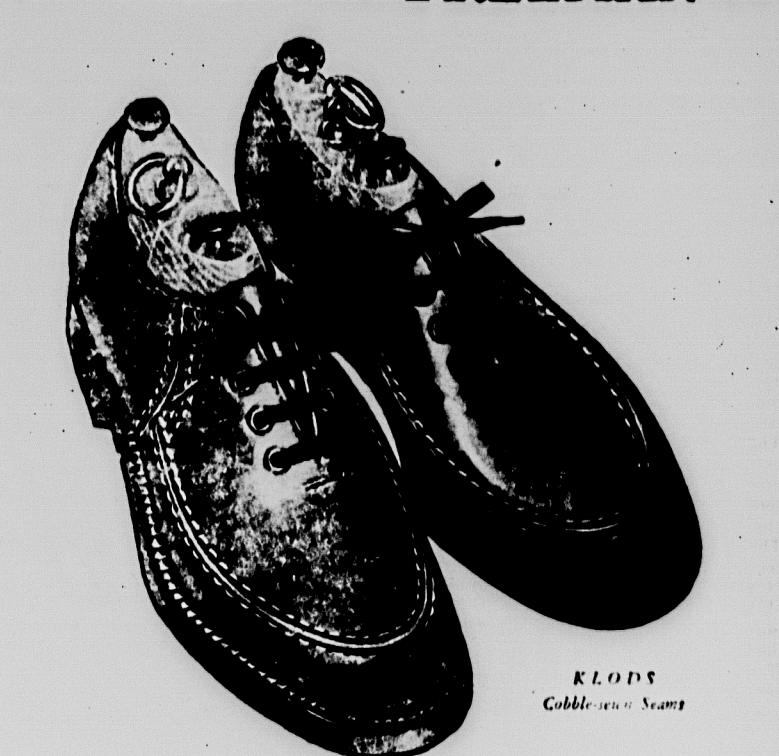

Last Sunday was a big day for Alpha Omicron Pi pledges.

Boker from Battle Creek; and sophomores Madeline Mitchell, Detroit; Jeanne Ewing, Bath; and Barbara Beranek, from Grosse Pointe.

Schools Close Completely In Buffalo

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 26 (AP)—Buffalo's 7,000-pupil education system is expected to be completely shut down tonight for the effects of a snow storm of 1940 at its 1947 opening.

The Board of Education, in its third storm session within 24 hours, declared a state of emergency and school superintendent Robert T. Faust immediately announced that the schools open today would not reopen.

The three-day-old strike, the first in the city since 1935, had closed the schools.

The board's action followed a renewed appeal to Mayor Bernhard J. Doyle by the teachers' union.

Navy To Offer Commissions In Reserve

Former enlisted men in the navy and coast guard who were never eligible for commissioned rank during the war but who were highly qualified as officer material may win a commission now through the new naval reserve recruiting officer announced yesterday.

Eligibility for a commission hinges on enrollment in the inactive naval reserve and two years satisfactorily completed in an accredited college of education of equivalent level.

A traveling recruiting unit for the naval reserve will be at the Union today tomorrow and Saturday of the week. Lt. Jerry Faber, Naval Reserve recruiting officer announced yesterday.

No physical or mental examinations will be required, he said. Members of the inactive reserve can now be called to active duty except through a national emergency declared by Congress or of their own volition.

Applicants for the reserve must present their honorable discharge from the army, navy or their component. During their last assignment here, he said, many former members of the different services and their former possibilities were confined in the unit.
