

THE FLOOD

Diploma Mills

By BILL JOHNSTON

AMERICA TODAY IS experiencing an unprecedented educational boom with over 1,700,000 persons studying in 668 approved universities and four-year colleges throughout the country. However, a growing number of prominent educators are becoming increasingly unhappy about the whole situation.

Cries of alarm have been raised within the past six months by noted university presidents and interested spectators over a growing tendency towards educational mass production. Harking back to the good old days when a college education rounded the square, this increasingly vocal group contends that too much emphasis is being placed upon the now almighty degree.

Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of Brown university, is the latest member of this growing fraternity for the debunking of the college degree. In a signed article which appears in the current American magazine, Dr. Wriston complains that "the importance attached to a college degree has reached the point of absurdity in many fields."

In his article, entitled "What Good is a College Degree," the eastern university president points out that there is a growing tendency on the part of business, industry, and even some government agencies to make a degree a prerequisite for a position. This, he claims, places a false value upon the degree.

Burgess Johnson, in an article which appeared recently in the Boston Globe, stated the problem a little differently, but with the same effect. He acknowledged that universities and colleges throughout the nation are operating under terrific handicaps, and are coping with double enrollment nightmares magnificently.

But, he says, "there is a widespread attempt on the part of returning veterans to reshape the colleges to fit their own purposes, and their failure to realize just what a college is for. They are eager and hard working, beyond question; but what they are after is a college degree."

Both Burgess Johnson and Dr. Wriston place the blame for this horrible ambition squarely upon the near-ridiculous emphasis business and society today place upon the degree. The college student of today is missing, or forgetting, in his pursuit of a specialized education, that "a college is an institution where minds are enlarged and personalities developed."

A primary function of a college long has been to give training both socially and intellectually, but too many returned veterans today are trying to turn the college into a trade school. They will leave their alma mater "lacking all social aspects, all polishing of student by student, and all training in campus leadership and in human adjustments."

Dr. Wriston believes that such a condition threatens real education and "is a menace to our democratic way of life." He feels that there is a greater need in the world for "citizens with a broad enough outlook to lift their eyes from their own job and both understand and serve the community, the nation, and the world," rather than persons with specific skills.

These serious indictments against post-war education in America accentuate the fact that a college degree today is about the social equivalent of the high school diploma of 25 years ago. The masters and doctors degrees have taken over where the bachelors degree once ruled as the acme of educational success.

It's good to have concerned thinkers such as the above mentioned gentlemen warn against today's "diploma mills" and the over-emphasis being placed on "going to college," but what can be done?

You can't deny the young of America a college education, and it's certainly not the fault of the college if because of overcrowding and inadequate staffs, the social and thought aspects of an education are neglected. Nor can you blame the veteran, who lost so much time he feels he has to hurry through his education and get started in business.

Out in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Byron Hollingshead, the young president of Coe college, has developed a solution which may give students time to think. Students are given a day off now and then to study, talk to their teachers or "just sit and think through" some of their academic and social problems. Faculty members help out by holding informal conferences, "preferably over a cup of coffee in the grill."

Sounds like a good idea, but Coe college doesn't have 13,000 students. It might be surprisingly successful at Michigan State. However, although the grill on such days undoubtedly would be filled with visiting profs and interested students, so would the local golf courses and establishments where coffee comes only with a dinner.

A Job Well Done

The State News offers its congratulations to the Student council elections committee in general, and John Cox in particular, although not a member of the council, but chairman of the group, for the successful primary elections held Wednesday. Volunteer workers, who helped count the landslide vote, also deserve praise.

In order that the final voting might pass without incident, the State News suggests that two steps be taken by the election committee:

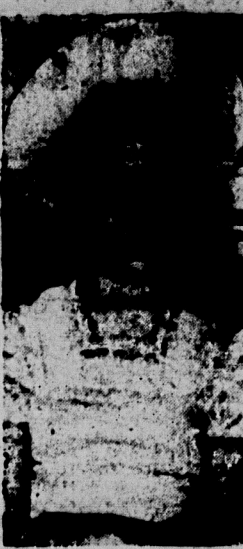

1. All ballots should be printed in alphabetical order. This is the fairest method and would end any adverse comment.

2. No soliciting of any kind should be allowed to take place within 100 feet of the polls, as specified in election rules.

By marking the Union floor with chalk, or other removable substance, showing exactly how close supporters and candidates might advance to solicit this last idea could be accomplished.

If these are followed, the State News is sure the 1947 student elections will not only be the biggest, but also the best in the history of local politics.

Vets Planning To Marry Must Notify VA In Advance

By SUE FIDWATT

Considering that June is not far off, Charles Cashin, VA contact officer, this week advised veterans contemplating marriage to notify the Veterans administration contact office, in Demonstration hall, several weeks in advance of their coming marriage.

It is a popular misconception that the increased allowance is paid from the date of marriage regardless of how long after the event the VA is notified. This is not true.

Increased subsistence allowances are paid to married men living with their wives (not divorced or separated) or to a man with a dependent. Increases are effective from the date of marriage or the date of application, which ever is the later date.

After marriage it is necessary to submit a certified copy of the public record, obtained from the county clerk of the county in which the marriage took place, or a photostat of the marriage certificate.

If a photostat is used it must show the county clerk's signature or the church seal along with the signature of the officiating official. If previously married, evidence of dissolution of the previous marriage must also be submitted.

Cashin suggested that vets desiring to receive the $50 payments beginning with the date of their marriage notify VA several weeks in advance.

Man Rams Autos; Damage To Total More Than $750

Fred Curtis, 44, of Lake Odessa, while driving on Grand River early yesterday morning, ran into four cars owned by State students and caused a total damage of over $750.

Curtis said he was driving west on Grand River at 3:30 a.m. yesterday when the bright lights of an automobile driving on the wrong side of the boulevard forced him into a row of cars parked between Delta and Orchard streets.

The four students whose cars were involved are: Rollo Baker, Allen sophomore; Don Wideman, Belleville freshman; Bill Zageinewer, Newberry sophomore; and Harold Forsythe, Saginaw freshman. The damage to their cars ranged from $50 to $300.

Curtis received leg and chest injuries but was not hospitalized.

Elections, Activities Keep Spartans Busy

Polls Jammed As Record Crowd Votes In Primaries

The hot winds of spring campaigning blew long and loud last week over the campus, and reached their climax Wednesday when student voters crowded the polls to participate in the primaries for student council and class officers.

Election workers were kept busy the day long at their desks, with the pictures at left and lower left showing the congestion in the Union where the balloting was the heaviest.

The term play actors meanwhile had problems of their own, as "Joan of Lorraine" rehearsals were accelerated in anticipation of opening night May 20. At right Mary Ellen Christensen, Flint junior who portrays Joan, and Al Beck, Muskegon senior playing the part of director, go through a scene.

Three MSC students pooled their abilities to take a fourth-place tie for national honors in a merchandising contest sponsored by the Reader's Digest. Bob Antley, Lansing senior, at lower right, receives a $50 award check from Fred Congrove, Reader's Digest representative, while Al Brandendorfer, Lansing sophomore; Joe Ruse, local magazine distributor, and Pat McCarthy, East Lansing junior, look on.

Home Ec Style Show To Feature Clothes For Vacation Time

Cocds Will Model Travel, Play, Street Fashions In "Summer Silhouettes"

A fashion show, "Summer Silhouettes," will be given in the Little Theater of the Home Economics building, Tuesday at 8 p.m.

The program will be presented in four scenes: travel clothes, play clothes, street and evening wear, and bridal wear. The styles are being furnished by a downtown department store.

The students enrolled in the textiles, clothing and related arts course in sales promotion in retail stores are producing the four-scene show for experience in all phases of promotion.

Art Majors Also

The course is open to students majoring in business administration or art, as well as those majoring in home economics.

Onalie Laird, Flint senior, is general chairman of the show. Working under her are Ruth Killmaster, Chassell senior, assistant chairman; Kay Bendle, Flint senior, as publicity chairman; Caroline Baumgard, Lansing senior, in charge of stage settings; and Jerry Johnson, Grand Rapids junior, costume chairman.

Models Listed

Shirley Young, Greenville senior; Rachel Bailey, St. Louis senior; Helen Young, Niles junior; Dawn House, St. Louis senior; Ann Lowing, Battle Creek junior; Caroline Baumgard and Martha Christensen, Grand Rapids senior, will model.

Shirley Czachorski, Flint junior, is chairman of that committee. The show is open to the public.

SWL Plans Skits, Sets Up Islands For '47 Carrousel

"Nautical but Nice" is the theme of the 1947 Carrousel which will feature a Spring Cruise. Spartan Women's League will sponsor the program in the Union ballroom on May 23 at 8 p.m.

Heads of departments, serving as governors, and their wives will be seated at tables scattered throughout the ballroom to represent islands.

Besides providing entertainment, the purpose of the annual Carrousel is to give the student body and the faculty an opportunity to become better acquainted outside of the class room.

Master of ceremonies, Clark Reid, Ypsilanti junior, will introduce two faculty-student skits.

Photog Group Seeks Model In Contest

The 1947 Photogenic Girl contest, conducted by the Society of Photographic Illustrators, is again looking for the most photogenic woman in America. Last year's contest, the first of its kind, was won by Korky Kelly and Nancy Gahagan.

Regional headquarters will be located in department stores throughout the country. The stores will be announced later by Anton Bruehl, president of the society.

The contest is open to any woman in America between the ages of 17 and 25. Entrants must obtain and fill out a standard application giving their measurements, coloring, etc. All applicants must send a full length snapshot or photograph of themselves.

In order to qualify for the competition, every woman must agree to remain in New York for one year after winning. First prize is a guarantee of $5,000 in model fees for the first year.

Four other women chosen as runners-up will receive guarantees of $4,000, $3,000, $2,000 and $1,000, respectively in model fees for one year.

Applications may be obtained by writing directly to the Society of Photographic Illustrators, 486 Lexington avenue, New York, N. Y.

MSC Coods Organize Voters League

"Because we believed that the privilege of citizenship carries with it certain responsibilities, including the intelligent use of voting, we decided to organize the League of Women Voters," said President Marge Alexander, Denton sophomore.

This is the first campus organization of women voters in Michigan. The group was called together at the request of Mrs. Le-belle Olson, committee of women, in her office. The presidents of both the state and the national organizations attended.

The league does not support any candidate or political party. There is no age or political requirements. The local organizations decide which issues to support and which to oppose. On the basis of their decisions, the state and national leagues make up their platform.

Although the LWV does not support any political groups, it does ask its members to become active in any party of their own choice.

The purpose of the campus league is to let women know the issues of the present, and to point out to them a course of action.

Officers of the campus chapter include Miss Alexander, as vice president, June Mitchell, Pontiac senior; secretary, Gretchen Bush, Washington junior, and treasurer, Vivian City, Detroit freshman; Peggy Swihart, Yonkers, N. Y. sophomore, is the publicity chairman. Experts in various fields will lecture at the meetings, held the first and third Wednesdays of every month.

Spartan Pitchers Rated Highly As Team Piles Up Victories

Freshman Hurler Bloch Drops Sport For Studies

By BUD LAWSON

Freshman pitcher Lou Bloch dropped from the Michigan state varsity baseball team early this week, to "devote more time to his class work," according to Coach John Kobs.

Bloch, a righthander from Fordson high school, Dearborn, is an engineering student, and decided he would cut the squad to devote some time to work, as well as to his studies.

Baseball coach John H. Kobs watches from the dugout as the Spartans drill on Old College field. His current team has a record of 12 wins and 3 losses.

Kobs has been working overtime with his pitching staff, which despite the loss of some pinch-hitters, is one of the best in college baseball, and one of the best in the nation.

which he hopes will carry him into the first NCAA playoffs to be held here in June.

Dieters Better

Dick Dietz, another freshman moundsman, has been working on a case of pneumonia and a working back into condition, and may possibly be ready late in the season.

Veteran right-handers Robin Roberts and Keith Siffert, along with Don Harris, a freshman speedster, are enough to drive opposing batters' eyes looking out of the holes, besides the development of freshman Neil Rickett and Red Morgan to bolster the club.

Kobs indicated earlier this week that he would go along with Harris against Western Michigan Saturday, and the entire pitching staff will be ready to go by that time.

Indoor Practice

Assistant coach Al Kierke was with Kobs in Jensen gymnasium yesterday while the team worked out there because of the "unseasonable cold weather." Main object of the strategy: eyes last evening was, of course, the pitchers. Kierke, who starred in football, basketball, and baseball during his undergraduate days at State, led the Spartan hitters in 1933 with a mark of 430, made on 86 times at bat, a mark which hasn't been topped since.

Gridmen Drill In New Plays

By BILL PEARSON

Working out in November-like weather, the football squad went through a long scrimmage yesterday afternoon.

Despite the cold winds, close to 100 players were present at the practice. In order to keep as many men as possible warmed up, four different eleven were in action in two separate scrimmages.

Assorted Plays

In addition to straight single-wing and T-formation plays, flanker, man in motion, and end-around maneuvers were experimented with during the drill.

Quarterback Gene Glick, and right half Bill Spiegel were the main stars of the games. George Gierke proved as hard as ever to bring down once he was past the line of scrimmage. End Rex Parsell recovered punts in the back from the backfield men for his hard blocking.

Practice Pass Defense

String practice is slated to wind up one week from today, and Coach Eugene Munn says that he will concentrate on work on the overhead game during the remaining drills. This will give the players an opportunity to improve both their passing offense and defense, the latter having been a notable weakness of last season's eleven.

Since Mackin field has been reserved this week, it will no longer be possible for the team to hold their Saturday afternoon scrimmage there. However, Munn stated the usual two-hour workout will be staged tomorrow, probably on one of the regular practice fields.

Cubs Take Twin Bill

PHILADELPHIA, May 8 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, backed by Andy Patkos, two-run homer, scored six times in the eighth inning today to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies 6-1 in the nightcap after taking the first game 2-1 before 3,549 fans.

Track Team To Vie With Penn State

By WALLY SCHRAMM

Established as pre-meet favorites, Michigan State's track squad, 20 strong, will leave at 2:30 this afternoon for State College, Penn., to meet Penn State tomorrow afternoon. Although Penn State ranks high in the East, Coach Karl Schladowman's team has compiled an impressive record against tougher opposition. Spartan winning times and distances have been consistently better than those chalked up by the Nittany Lions.

While Penn State was rolling to an easy 82½-48½ win over Pitt last week, the Spartans were whipping a tough Notre Dame aggregation, 76-65.

Lions Have Distance Stars

On the strength of over-all depth and balance, the MSC tri-clads rate the nod over Penn State, which has most of its strength concentrated in the long distance runs, where IC-4A champs Jerry Karver and Curt Stone handle the mile and two mile, respectively.

In the broad jump, Penn State topped the Pittmen Saturday with Dan Haggar's 21 feet, 8½ inch leap. Freddie Johnson, Spartan star, has consistently soared over 24 feet. Last Saturday he went on the record books with a new varsity and State field mark of 24 feet, 5½ inches.

Mueller Shot-Put Favorite

Johnson also tied Hugh Dawson for first place in the high jump, rolling over the crossbar at 5 feet, 9½ inches. Penn State hid Bill Reynolds and Chuck Krug being for first at 5 feet, 8 inches.

Further comparison shows that Krug shared top honors in the shot put with a heave of 46 feet, 3 inches. Michigan State's Johnnie Mueller has done 47 feet on several occasions this year. Mueller holds the Spartan varsity standard of 47 feet, 4½ inches.

Coach John H. Kobs "hands down" a few pointers from the umpire's chair at the Michigan State courts to three of his star racket-wielders (left to right), Al Reynolds, Jack Rhinoleon, and Roger Cenna. Dahlgren is well pleased with the Spartan's record to date of nine wins against four losses.

Intramural Net Tournney Opens Despite Weather

Played in cold wintry weather, all first round Inter-fraternity tennis matches on the college courts last night were won in straight sets.

Bob Schweitzer and Howie Seale, representing Phi Kappa Tau, pounded out a 6-2 win in the first set with Bob Holmes and Lee Morgan of Farmhouse. Holmes and Morgan came back strong to extend the Phi Taus in the second set. Seale and Schweitzer finally pulling out an 8-6 win to take the match.

ATO Beak Kappa Sig

Alpha Tau Omega's dyes of Don Evans and John Van Wagoner whipped Ed Lash and Bob Moore of Kappa Sigma, 6-2, 6-3. Playing for Delta Tau Delta, Norman Schmitzer and John Schoder won easily over Ted Gordon and Harry Snyder of Alpha Epsilon Pi, 6-1, 6-2.

For Delta Chi, Tom Gaule and Dan Daniewski combined to take Carl Franz and John Friedrich of Delta Sigma Phi in identical 6-3.

Intramural Games Feature Long Distance Sluggers

With the thermometer showing the temperature to be in the low thirties, the Chieftains and the Mugwumps shed their fur-lined parkas and ear-muffs, to play their scheduled softball game on Old College field, last night.

The Chiefs struck early in their 7-3 victory, scoring three runs in the second frame, when Smiley Strang walloped a long home-run into deep center field with two men on. With the bases loaded in the Mugwumps half of the third, Byrnie Spewak knocked out a three-bagger to tie up the score.

In the next inning the Chieftains staged a four-run rally, driving Mugwump pitcher Don Casson out of the box. He was replaced by Dave Wakefield, who quickly retired the side. Hurler Norm Kacporowski then bore down and allowed the Mugwumps only one more hit and the game ended with the Chiefs leading, 7-3.

The other game between the Accounting Dept. and the Military Dept. was forfeited by the latter. Banging out eight hits, five of which were good for extra bases, the Foresters shut out the Nomads, 13-0, in the first game on Amnis field. Forester's pitcher, Lawrence Barkle, allowed but two hits, as he whiffed six Nomads.

First baseman, Ted Maupin, led the hitting slugfest banging out a triple and a double. Bob Malleron was on the mound for the losers, with Ray Friend behind the plate. In another shutout, Blackbirds made four hits good for three runs as they defeated Myrt's Marauders, 4-0. Bud Seewenback, pitching for the victors, allowed five hits, but he kept them well snared. His battery mate was Earl Clupper. Joe Krabera batted for Myrt's and hit a 3-4 double, did the catching.

In the other game of the evening, Newman edged out a 2-1 win over the Marines. Leon Hess was the winning twirler with Bob Johnson on the mound for the losers.
