

RECORD-SHATTERING CROWD EXPECTED

Spartan Five Will Attempt To End Wildcat Reign

Attendance records are expected to fall tonight when Michigan State's rump Spartan team, cast in the role of the Giant Killer, try to blast the University of Kentucky off its lofty throne as king of the nation's basketball.

Seventeen thousand cage fans are expected to stack Jentel gymnasium to the rafters for what may be one of the greatest basketball clashes of the season.

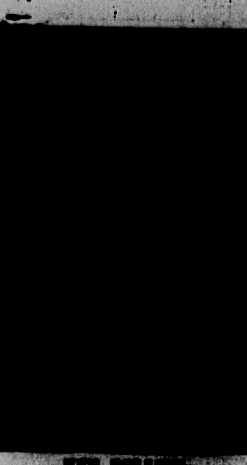

Kentucky with their best of All-American and All-American Conference stars, will be after their twelfth win in 13 starts. The Wildcats' only loss this year was a heartbreaking 69-68 setback at the hands of Temple University.

The Spartans, with a record of five wins in seven contests, are seeking their first win over the southern school since January 10, 1944, when they upset Kentucky 66-60.

Last winter the Wildcats thumped Michigan State 86-36, rolling up a 55-11 halftime lead.

Coach Ben Van Alstyne will start the same team that produced surprising victories over Michigan State, Indiana and dropped last minute decisions to Purdue University.

Spartan captain, Bob Brannum, who made All-American at Kentucky in 1944 before the war interrupted his college career, will be right at home with the Kentucky team. Brannum wore the blue and white of the southern school last season before transferring to Michigan State this spring.

Brannum, a six foot four inch center, has sparked the Spartans in seven games to date by scoring 113 points.

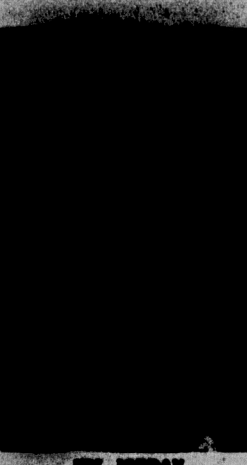

Van Alstyne will start at the forward spots, Bill Ruppel, who helped State register its last victory over Kentucky in 1944, and Bob Giesler, the Spartans' leading scorer last season.

Tony Waldron, who with Brannum paced MSC's win over Washington University last Saturday night, and Steve Brown, five foot eleven inch sophomore, will probably start the game at guards.

Kentucky, with a galaxy of stars, will in all probability use "WaWa" Jones and Cliff Barker at forwards, All-American Alex Gross at center, and Ralph Beard, another All-American, and Ken Rollins at guards.

The six foot four inch Jones, who has received All-Southern conference honors the past two years, was injured against Miami University last Monday but should be ready to play tonight.

If he fails to start, his place will probably be taken by

KEN ROLLINS

Jim Line, who stands two inches shorter. Line hit the basket on 41 percent of his shots last season for 150 points, and was third among Kentucky scorers in the first nine games this year with 76 counters.

Barker, an Indiana boy, is a big favorite with Wildcat fans for his fine playmaking and deceptive passing.

Gross, Kentucky's leading scorer last season also paced the Wildcat attack in the first nine contests this winter with 114 points. He is the biggest of the visitors, standing six feet seven inches.

Beard, the outstanding player in the nation last year in the opinion of many sportswriters, is the smallest member of the squad at five feet 10 inches, but makes up in speed and deceptiveness what he lacks in height.

Rollins, considered a clutch player by the Kentucky coaching staff, chalked up 310 points last season. The Wildcat ace made good on 31 percent of his field goal attempts and 80 percent of his free throws.

If any of Coach Adolph Rupp's starters leave the contest he has many brilliant replacements. Guard Jack Parkinson was an All-American in 1946 at the southern school, and six feet three inch forward Jim Jordan received All-American honors twice while in the navy at the University of North Carolina.

Survey Shows Vet Housing Tops Country

Michigan State college ranks among the highest in supplying housing for veteran families, according to information received from Starr Keebler, director of housing.

In a housing survey conducted by Iowa State colleges of 16 mid-western universities, MSC ranked second only to the University of Michigan in the number of PHA dwelling units. However, U. of M.'s 1,374 units at Willow Run were originally constructed by the government, while MSC's 1,100 units were built entirely by the college.

With respect to the total number of units (PHA units, dwelling units, and trailers), Michigan State and University of Michigan again led the field. U. of M. has a total of 1,650 units, while MSC is just a shade behind with 1,624 units. However, when MSC's 75 new mobile trailer units are completed, Michigan State will lead the country with a total of 1,700 units, Keebler said.

54 Campus Calls Sounded For Firemen Last Year

Ball And Chain Added By Lifer In Manacles

The East Lansing and college fire departments answered 54 fire alarms on campus during the year 1947 and college buildings and property suffered $7,748.70 damage over the year period according to the annual report issued by East Lansing.

Both the college and the East Lansing fire departments answered the calls and the East Lansing department in addition received 78 alarms from East Lansing proper.

The fires on campus endangered a valued $1,001,200 in college buildings and property and in East Lansing the valuation of buildings threatened totaled $175,107 with contents totalling $147,047.

Witnesses said that except for the war-surplus camouflage suit and shackles which Walker wore, he and his bride made a handsome pair.

Arrest Three In $130,000 Bank Theft

Informant Hears Bandits Lay Plans

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 9 (AP) — Police arrested three suspects and recovered large sum of money today a few hours after five bandits pulled the biggest bank robbery in years by taking about $130,000 from the Mid-City branch of the Federal Reserve National bank.

The holdup was an expert job — but Police Superintendent A. A. Walters said the robbers made the mistake of talking too loudly when they made their plans in a New Orleans bar.

"If we had known last night what we know this morning," Walters commented, "we could have greeted the men at the bank."

Walters estimated that a suitcase seized by police when two men were arrested contained $35,000. And detective chief Joseph Scheuring said that $30,000 was found in a paper bag in the room of another suspect.

Walters said that an informant heard the holdup being planned at a New Orleans bar. He added that the man telephoned police headquarters last night, but did not tell his story at that time because the officer to whom he wanted to talk was off duty.

Four of the five men forced their way into the bank at 7:55 a.m., as employees were arriving for work. The fifth remained in the automobile.

Hymel Amuedo, assistant manager, was held up.

Stassen Charges Hit 'Inside' Speculators' $4 Million Profit

Truth Concerning Pauley, Graham Post-War Commodity Trading Not Yet Unveiled, Committee Told

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP) — Harold E. Stassen told senators today that government "insiders" have made about $4,000,000 profits in post-war commodity trading.

He declined to name any traders who have not been identified already, saying he would leave it to the senators to bring out the "exact evidence."

Appearing before a senate appropriations subcommittee investigating the effects of speculation on prices, the Republican presidential aspirant also declared that Edwin W. Pauley and Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham have not told the whole truth about their trading transactions.

Stassen contended that Pauley, a special assistant to the Secretary of the Army, made a profit of about $1,000,000 in the market since the war, "moving in and out with never a loss."

He also said that Graham, who is President Truman's personal physician, did not lose money in the market, although his profit did not compare with Pauley's.

Graham was waiting to testify about his market activities when the committee adjourned to permit Stassen to fill a speaking engagement in Missouri.

WKAR To Air Kisimi Flying Carpet Again

Kisimi rides again! And his magic carpet is scheduled to sweep into the Music auditorium at 10:30 Monday morning. With him will come the Musicians of the Sky and the first of the winter series of "Adventures in Music" programs, broadcast over WKAR.

Kisimi is the name taken by Floyd Clark, Saginaw Junior, when he, as a mysterious Oriental magician, leads Johnny and Mary through musical adventures.

Although the entire winter series is designed to teach Michigan's school children the uses and importance of the instruments used in the orchestra, the first program will be a musical dramatization of the life of Stradivari, the famous violin-maker.

Stassen contended that Pauley, a special assistant to the Secretary of the Army, made a profit of about $1,000,000 in the market since the war, "moving in and out with never a loss."

He also said that Graham, who is President Truman's personal physician, did not lose money in the market, although his profit did not compare with Pauley's.

Graham was waiting to testify about his market activities when the committee adjourned to permit Stassen to fill a speaking engagement in Missouri.

The only other trader mentioned by Stassen was Ralph K. Davies, former Deputy Petroleum Administrator for War, whose name recently appeared on a list of traders. Stassen said Davies' activities were similar to Pauley's.

The witness, a former Minnesota governor, said that he and his staff have uncovered the names of about 11 "insiders" who — he asserted — have made personal profits through the use of official information.

"Were any members of Congress?" asked Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.).

"No members of congress," Stassen answered.

His informant, he said, was in the government. He added he does not consider it in the public interest to disclose them, although Senator Green (D-Mt.) demanded instantly: "Give us the names. Don't deal in generalities. Give us names."

Although Stassen did not say the 11 government employees he said had engaged in speculation, he told the senators he would disclose them "later" from which he could develop "the exact evidence."

In answering the question made Tuesday, Chairman O'Mahoney said: "I don't think you would want to name them."

Stassen said he would not name them.

He said he would not name them.

The same motivating factor responsible for basic college comprehensives is the basis for the present trend toward nationwide examinations for admission to graduate schools, business, and industry, according to Dr. Paul Drenzel, chairman of the Board of Examiners.

The last part about basic college comprehensives was reported by Dr. Drenzel, in a speech given at the annual meeting of the Board of Examiners.

Spartan Swimmers Meet Purdue Today

Abel Gilbert Freestyler's Ineligibility Blow To State's Squad Balance

By JACK WORTH
Spartan Coach Charles McCaffree, whose squad opens this season against Purdue university here this afternoon, has announced the ineligibility of freestyler Abel Gilbert.

The loss is a serious blow to the Spartans' all-around balance. The smooth-stroking swimmer is the mainstay of the squad, and was McCaffree's star in the 220 and 440 freestyles until George Hoogerhyde developed championship midway through the 1947 season.

McCaffree replaced Gilbert with straight victories in the freestyle, including an upset win against Michigan, in the sixth meet, with Wisconsin returned to Eau Claire, Wis., to compete in the American championship. Hoogerhyde came into the team this afternoon.

Coach McCaffree will use his national champion, George Hoogerhyde, and Roger Miller as entries in both the 220 and 440 yard races. Hoogerhyde shattered Gilbert's record for both events last year, with 2:10.8 in the shorter race, and 4:03 for the 440.

McCaffree's strongest bid for national honors will be breaststroker Keith Carter, who claims a record of 29.4 at 100 yards. Carter is also a very good swimmer, and will be an entry at any distance.

Spartan breaststroker Dave Selman, A.A.U. champion in 1945, is behind Carter in last year's meet, won by Michigan 24-20.

Madley Relay
Buldermakers' 300 yard relay squad is one of the best in the country. Winners of the Spartans last year, the trio of Carter, Ted Salomon and Jack Dilley finished second in Michigan in the NCAA championships.

Michigan State will have almost the same team that swamped the squad last season. The important change is Dunlap in place of the departed Cooley.

Dunlap will swim the backstroke in the 300 yard relay. He is looking for a record of 1:07.77 in the 100 yard race, and a 2:14.4 in the 200 yard race.

Duke meets Ted Salomon in the 100 yard sprint. Salomon's record is 1:07.77.

MSC Enters College Gym Competition

Central Michigan Opponent Tonight For New 'S' Team

By JES MILLER
The Spartan varsity gymnastic squad will meet its first intercollegiate opponent tonight when the Chippewas from Central Michigan come here for a tilt after the Spartan-Wildcat cage battle.

Some concern among squad members was caused when Ivan Towns and Jack Parker, both in the trampoline event, were injured in Thursday's workout.

Parker will be able to appear tonight, but Wayne Hartigan is ready to substitute if Towns' knee injury does not warrant his appearance.

Another replacement is George Newcomb who will take over Pat Carnahan's spot on the side horse.

Because of the difficulty and the strength and endurance necessary, it is hard to keep men in the side horse.

John On Side Horse
One of the most steady workers in this piece of apparatus is Arnold Nelson who will be number one man on the horse in tonight's contest.

Events slated for tonight's encounter will include carems and cissor cuts on the side horse, landstands and front somersaults on the parallel bars.

On the mats, the tumblers will be doing forward somersaults or flips, backward handstands, and backward somersaults. Most of these stunts are done in combinations and series and require a maximum of timing and dexterity.

The trampoline event will feature stunts and combinations of them. Included will be front and back flips, somersaults, twists and turns.

Points are scored by every man entered in an event. First place is six points; second, five points; third, four points; fourth, three points; fifth, two points; and sixth, one point. A total of 43 points can give a win to the team.

Coach George Szypula stated yesterday that the team has made wonderful progress during its three-month training period but said that to predict the outcome of any of the meets would be impossible.

The Chippewas had their first taste of intercollegiate competition when they met the University of Michigan gymnasts at Mt. Pleasant last night.

Michigan took the meet in a 50-30 win with Bob Wiloughby scoring in five of the six events.

Hack Coplin, Wolverine high-bar artist, was out because of a fractured wrist and Bob Schoendube, another scheduled starter, had chicken pox.

Rickey Gives NCAA Hands-Off Promise

Says College Athletes Will Be Taken Only On Loss Of Amateur Standing

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP) — President Branch Rickey of the Brooklyn Dodgers called on the nation's institutions of higher learning today to abolish professionalism in college athletics and promised that Major League baseball would keep hands off college players who remain true amateurs.

Appearing before a joint session of the National Collegiate Athletic Association and various coaching groups meeting here in connection with the annual NCAA convention, Rickey declared: "The statement that the colleges are making more professionals every year than are employed in the professional field—if true—does not affect the obligation of the professional clubs to leave these amateurs alone."

But your position looking to solution would be stronger if your own house were in order. If the man is, by the definition we have accepted, not an amateur—then you are not entitled to play him and particularly so since you made him a de facto professional."

Rickey's assertion came on the eve of NCAA's most important business session in its history, a session in which it will vote on a series of proposed constitutional amendments designed to make it a regulatory body with power to purify athletics in some 400 institutions.

If the amendments, termed the "Sanity Code" by their backers, receive the necessary two-thirds vote for approval, the NCAA will become a national conference and assume the responsibility for eliminating the subsidization of athletes in colleges within its influence.

The climax of Rickey's talk came when he suggested counter-measures to replace a proposal submitted to the Major League recently by the American Association of College Baseball Coaches and tabled by both baseball circuits.

The tabled proposal advocates adoption of a policy that no college players will be approached until they complete their varsity eligibility, similar to that now employed by professional football.

Officials On Defense
"He's put us right back on the defensive," declared Everett (Eppy) Barnes of Colgate, former president of the Baseball Coaches Association. And his comment was typical of others heard among his fellow members.

Earlier, the group had heard Dr. George Zook of Washington State.

600 Arabs Attack Two Settlements

British Soap First Move From Syria

JERUSALEM, Jan. 9 (AP)—Six hundred Arab guerrillas in the first major invasion across the Palestine border from Syria—attacked two Jewish settlements in upper Galilee today and were beaten off by British troops and planes, the Palestine government said.

The British-administered government disclosed that it had asked its minister in Syria to make representations to the Syrian government concerning the attacks.

Three Jews were killed and eight others were wounded in the Arab attacks which centered on a finger of Palestine extending northward between Syria and Lebanon.

Veterans Direct Operation

According to some unconfirmed reports the operation was directed by Fawzi Bey Al Kaukji, veteran Arab warrior and leader of the bloody uprising of Arabs in Palestine a decade ago.

He has been described as a commander of the Arab People's army, the volunteer guerrilla force recently organized in Arab countries surrounding Palestine to fight the projected Holy Land partition. Jewish sources said they presumed the Arab invaders were members of the People's army.

(Arab informants in Cairo expressed the belief that the Arab volunteers said to have been involved were not members of the People's army but were Palestinian youths who have been training in Syria. They said the force probably was that of Abu Ibrahim Al Nafthir, also one of the leaders of the 1936 Palestine revolt.)

First Firing From Hills

After firing from the Syrian hills near the border and from Tel El Quasi the Arabs penetrated into Palestine and threatened their way between the Jewish settlements, the British army said. The invaders blasted water installations, particularly the pumps at Dan, the Biblical northern boundary of the Holy Land.

Jewish informants declared the invaders sped across the frontier in trucks and struck in two waves at the settlements. British troops rushed into the battle area from Metullah, a northern frontier post. The original British contingent was reinforced within a short time.

British troops sent to Dan were fired upon from the hills, the army said. Other troops broke through an Arab road block and found Elor Suddi surrounded by Arabs.

Silberer Opens Winter Series Of Musicales

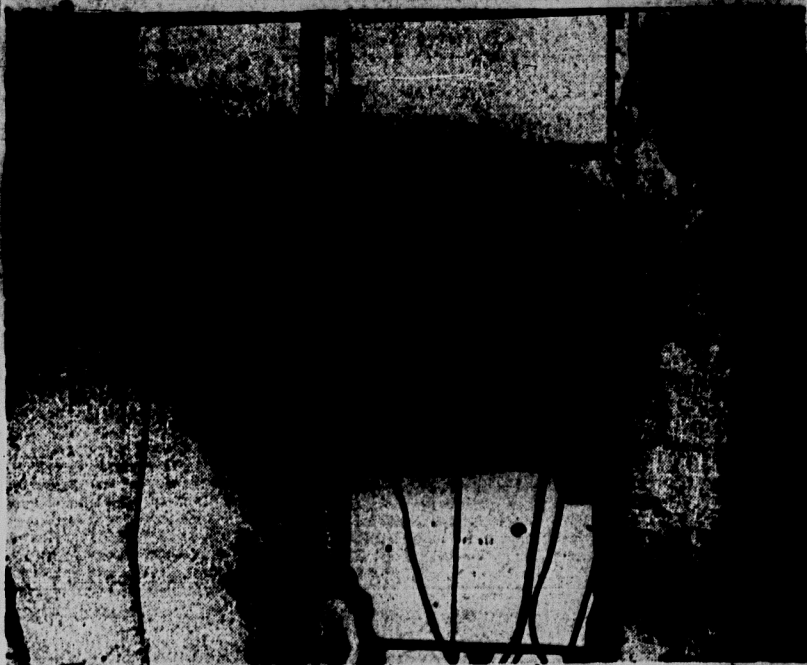

Howard Silberer will open the winter series of concert sponsored by the Music department of music with a piano recital of romantic and modern compositions in the Music auditorium at 8 p.m. on Sunday.

Silberer, an instructor in the Music department, is a native of Bushnell, Ill.

Haydn's "Menuetto" and "Sonata in D Major" will be featured numbers on the program. Silberer has chosen Schumann's "Sonata in F Sharp Minor" for the second part of his recital, followed by "Nocturne in A Flat Major" by Chopin.

The performance of "Dance," "Homage to Haydn," and "L'ile Japonaise," three of Debussy's modern impressionistic compositions, followed by "Three Preludes" by Gershwin, and "Prelude and Fugue" by Maxine Gold, will conclude the concert.

Pi Sigma Alpha Flying Educators Make Business, Industry Study In Honorary

Michigan State's chapter of Pi Sigma Alpha, political science honorary, was installed Wednesday evening by Charles W. Shull, chairman of the department of government at Wayne university and retired president of the national association of Pi Sigma Alpha.

The new Michigan State chapter, Alpha Omicron, is the thirty-ninth chapter in the country and, following Wayne university, becomes the second chapter to be installed in Michigan. Requirements for Pi Sigma Alpha are a "B" average in at least fifteen credits of political science and an all-college 1.0.

Members elected to the new honorary last spring included nine faculty members and ten students.

Faculty members initiated from the department of history and political science were LeRoy Ferguson, Carroll P. Hawkins, Marshall M. Knappen, Hans Leonhardt, James W. Miller, and Robert D. Seltzer. William P. Cumb, head of Public Administration and J. Oliver Hall of the Social Science department were also initiated.

Student initiates include Bob Applegate, Detroit senior; Jean Clark, St. Louis senior; and Charles Jensen, Lansing junior. Students who have graduated include Wayne Botje, Traverse City; Louis Calkins, Hoolett; Gordon Chamberlain, Jackson; John Clark, Bernhard's Bay; Gloria Crawford, Detroit; James D. Shaffer, Tawas; and Regal Slainbury, Charlotte.

Flying Educators Make Business, Industry Study

A week-long flying study of business and industry by 200 leading school administrators is to be staged under the auspices of MSC and Air Age Education Research, during February.

An outgrowth of "flying classroom" trips for Michigan educators during the past two summers, this tour is the first national event of its kind.

Horn Heads Tour

Organized to help "bridge the gap between business, industry and education," by Carl H. Horn, MSC professor, the tour will start in Chicago on Feb. 15, and end at Atlantic City the next weekend in time for the opening of the School Administrator convention there.

Educators will converge in Chicago in DC-4's coming from Fort Worth, San Francisco, and Los Angeles. Others will come in by train.

To Visit Industries

Businesses and industries in Chicago, Detroit and New York will be visited, including Carnegie Steel, International Harvester, Sears-Roebuck, Marshall Fields, Swift & Co., Chrysler, General Motors, Ford, Kaiser-Frazer, LaGuardia field, American Airlines, and the N.Y. Stock Exchange.

Also on the tour agenda is the United Nations meeting.

Similar trips have brought out that "business and industrial leaders are as uninformed about education as educators are uninformed about big business," Professor Horn said.

"Their problems are not only parallel, but interrelated, especially in regard to personnel which schools produce and business and industries employ; neither can solve its problems without the cooperation of the other. It is

Coed Rushing Season Opens February 4

The first movement of formal winter term rushing will begin Tuesday when all women interested in rushing must register.

Doris Woodward, LaGrange, Ill. junior, Pan-Hellenic representative in charge, said that registration will be conducted Tuesday and Wednesday, January 12 and 13, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on the upper deck of the Union.

In order to rush, the coed must register, and to be eligible, women must have an all-college one point, and a one point for fall term. Rush booklets will be distributed at the time of registration.

Formal rushing will begin Jan. 17, and end Feb. 1, with preference dinners on Feb. 4.

YARDWARD'S CORNER

With the purpose in mind of speeding up the processing of delinquent substance checks, the Veterans' Administration Guidance Center here has set aside Friday, Jan. 9, for interviewing of all veteran students whose checks are overdue.

In Information Division of the Veterans' Administration, Columbus, Ohio, has released a clarification of the law providing for subsistence payments to veterans taking education or training under provisions of the GI Bill.

The law provides that wages and subsistence for a veteran without dependents may total $175 monthly. For a veteran with dependents the total is $200.

This does not limit the actual wages or salaries which veterans may receive. If wages and subsistence combined exceed the limitations, subsistence payments are reduced accordingly to keep within the ceilings. If wages exceed the limitations to the extent that no subsistence can be paid, veterans may still continue education or training under the GI Bill.
