Campus Communists Should Be Approved, Faculty Group Says

Officials Believe Action Would Prevent Excessive Organization Functions

By ALMA EVA
Communist party club, if organized on campus, should be approved by the college faculty, Dean of the Faculty, F. C. Crowe said yesterday.

It was raised by Tom King, secretary for men's affairs, at a meeting of the faculty last night.

If such a club were organized it would have to state its aims and objectives, Crowe continued. Any political party which is officially on the Michigan State campus should have a right to organize on campus, he said.

To Bring In Open
Crowe said he felt it was better to have such groups recognized and in the open than to have them working subversively.

The AYD, an alleged Communist organization, was not recognized last year by the faculty because it was felt that the true aims were not stated in its constitution.

Progressive Dismissed
The Progressive party, headed by President John S. Crowe, was also dismissed at the faculty meeting. It was felt that the party was not a true organization.

Trapped
Crowe said this on the faculty's case on administrative management. He said that he set up a question which he thought of funny when he was with 10 years experience. He said that he had never given a description of a job. Then the in-laws happened—Combs and received one of their duties. "Now how do you suppose to fill out?" asked the present assistant.

Jews Kill Thirty Arabs In Palestine Warfare; United Nations Debate

UN Rejects U. S. Plan To Send Aid

LAKE SUCCESS, March 5 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council late today rejected a United States proposal which would have committed the council to an all-out aid in Palestine.

Instead, the council voted to ask the big powers to consult and then say what instructions the council should give the UN Palestine Commission.

These instructions would bear on implementation of the UN assembly's partition decision of last Nov. 29.

Off the floor, Britain quickly declined to take part in the big power consultations.

That left it up to Russia, the United States, China and France. They will meet Monday in the Russian delegation's New York office at the invitation of the Soviet delegate Andrei A. Gromyko.

The council acted after the Jewish agency told in effect that Palestine Jews were determined to go ahead with creation of a Jewish nation in Palestine—with or without UN help.

The resolution which the council finally approved by a vote of 4 to 3 bore resemblance to the original UN proposal submitted last week by chief UN delegate Warren R. Austin.

These Voted
Voting for the UN resolution as finally amended, were the United States, China, France, Russia, Belgium, Canada, Colombia and the Soviet Union. Britain, Argentina and Syria abstained.

During the day the UN resolution was revised sharply in an attempt to meet Soviet objections, and then the council rejected three of its seven paragraphs. The rejected parts included the controversial paragraph 1, which Austin earlier had declared was a test for partition.

Should Accept Request
The gist of this paragraph was that the council should accept the assembly's request to take the necessary measures for implementation of partition and to declare that any effort to block partition by force constituted a threat to peace.

Jazz Club Concert Planned In Union

CIO Fires Bridges; Wallace Mate Asks MacArthur's Ouster

Wallace Support, ERP Opposition, Brings Bridges' Sudden Removal

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—The CIO fired Harry Bridges and Senator Taylor of Idaho suggested that President Truman fire Generals MacArthur and Wedemeyer.

Blow Aimed At Minority Influences

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—Election of the President and Vice-President of the United States by popular vote was recommended today in the Southern and Southern Democratic civil rights fight.

A constitutional amendment which would radically change the present electoral college system was approved unanimously by a House Judiciary subcommittee in a deliberately aimed blow at minority influence in major party politics.

Stop Minorities' Control.
This amendment, if adopted, would have such far-reaching effects as reducing the "balance of power" influence claimed by the American Labor Party, which is backing Henry A. Wallace's presidential bid in New York state.

Rep. Gossett (D-Tex.), author of the amendment, blamed the electoral college system for the present split between President Truman and Southern Democrats backing the President's proposals to lower some racial barriers.

"The electoral college," Gossett said, "permits and invites irresponsible control and domination by small, organized minority groups within the large pivotal states."

Two-Thirds Vote Needed.
Southerners have charged that Mr. Truman took his civil rights stand in the hope of capturing one such minority group—the Negroes in New York, Pennsylvania and several other Northern states.

To be adopted, the amendment would require a two-thirds vote in each house. Then it would have to be ratified by 36 states. Even if congress takes the necessary action, it is doubtful if enough states could ratify before next November's election.

THE DRINKING KIND Tractor Works On Alcohol

CHICAGO, March 5 (AP)—A new carburetor makes it possible to drive your car entirely on ethyl alcohol, the drinking kind of alcohol, instead of gasoline.

The carburetor, shown today to the National Farm, Thermochemical conference, has been used successfully in a tractor engine. And it could be put in passenger automobiles, said E. F. Davis, research engineer of Joseph E. Seagram & Sons, Louisville, Ky., distillers.

Alcohol is not cheap enough now to compete with gasoline as fuel in the United States. But the carburetor is one of the new developments underway against a day of gasoline shortage or cheap alcohol prices.

Two Chambers.
The carburetor has a double chamber, one atop the other. Vapor from the lower chamber enters the upper one to supply a richer mixture of alcohol to the cylinders.

The design returns 10 per cent of the engine exhaust into the intake system, to supply enough heat to vaporize the alcohol. To help starting in cold weather, always a problem with alcohol fuel, there is a "fuelizer." Some of the alcohol is ignited by a spark plug and that pre-heats the alcohol mixture before it enters the combustion chamber, Davis explained.

This still needs improvement for greater efficiency.

Two Years of Tests.
The new carburetor system has been under test for nearly two years by Davis and Prof. A. J. Meyer, director of the aeronautical research laboratory, University of Kentucky.

In 500 hours of tests, mostly at full load and open throttle, the converted tractor engine has performed well, Davis said.

Scientist Discloses New Atom Bomb Discovery

NEW YORK, March 5 (AP)—Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, famous atomic scientist, disclosed tonight that the first small pieces of a new kind of atomic bomb and fuel metal have been manufactured.

The new metal is Uranium 233, made by changing the heavy metal Thorium into Uranium. This new form of Uranium does not exist naturally on earth. Neither is it known to exist in the stars.

A small part of an ounce of the Thorium metal, Dr. Seaborg reported, has been made in the Harvard-Washington uranium-graphite, chain-reacting atomic pile. The total new metal is a few hundred milligrams.

This statement was not amplified. But it means that the atomic events which change Uranium into Plutonium, also can take more than one kind of atomic metal.

Since Thorium is three times more plentiful than Uranium, it will be the world's main release for atomic power. Uranium is so scarce that the known supplies would not keep the present-size American power industry running more than five years.

Dr. Seaborg made the disclosures in a paper prepared for his response to award of the William B. Nichols medal of the New York section of the American Chemical Society.

Council questioned the wisdom of continuing Men's Council when it appears to be an organization without any reason for existence.

Working on Projects
The council is now carrying on three projects. They are sponsorship of job placement interviews; a program of leadership training for heads of campus men's groups; and helping to assemble a student handbook.

Council advisor Faunce said that a possible duty of the group could be the control of a system of mass "activity points." This system, if put into practice, would limit the number of activities in which a student could participate.

The Men's Council itself had not yet reached any conclusions concerning the present situation. Member Robert Youngman said yesterday that only five members were present at their last meeting.
