THE SQUARE CORNER

At It Again

By PAT MCCARTHY

EVER SINCE A SLIGHT RUN OF UN-complimentary commentary between the Spartan magazine and the State News last fall relations between the publications have been little more than strained cordiality. Here in the lower reaches of the Union basement it was thought that members of the Spartan staff had been set aright as to what constituted a humor magazine. But now it appears that the Spartan still considers the State News an object of humor.

To show that the State News is sincerely solicitous about correcting this gross misconception, we have taken Charles Gable, editor of the MSC Astonisher, most flagrant example of the magazine's editorial policy, and put him to work as one of our night editors in hopes of saving his journalistic career.

THE FACT THAT THE ASTONISHER is an annual feature of the Spartan must be considered before being too harsh in our judgment. However, that the Spartan should also consider the Literary Supplement a subject of humor is nothing less than atrocious. Why, the supplement has hardly begun work on its fourth issue.

It is one of the few examples of serious student work on campus. And to make fun of something that is serious, why, that's sacrilege.

And to take up another point which Editor Con Williams mentioned in his Touch and Go column. It concerns the advertisement of a sale of knowledge of the whereabouts of one of the scarce and final copies of the ancient ancestor of the Astonisher. We do not feel that Mr. Williams' offer is fair, regardless of the exorbitant ten dollar fee he asks. The reason we say this is because that copy is in the State News files.

THE REASON THAT THE EZEMA went under the axe was its indiscreet choice of a picture under which to run the names of the Board of Agriculture. The picture is in itself harmless, we think. Merely a stock photograph of three healthy looking draft horses, with the caption of "Latest Photo of Senior Members of State Board."

The fact that the photo was taken from the after quarter may have had some bearing on the matter.

In addition were stories headed such as "Dean Conrad Goes Nuts Again" (Miss Conrad was dean of women at the time) which probably did not evoke too much appreciation among members of the administration and Ag Board at that time.

The story of the Ezema winds up with a "happily ever after" and the editors of the publication being tossed out of school on their respective ears.

Now we could draw a moral to this story but we think that it is already pretty obvious. (Be discreet about picture captions.)

Library Displays New Design Show

Currently on display in the Library is a pictorial exhibit on design. The exhibit, prepared by the Museum of Modern Art in New York, depicts the use of such factors as space, color, volume, line contour, and texture in design. The exhibit is located in the showcases on the main floor of the Library.

Contentions that some elements of the proposed bill gave the commissioner "unusual powers" were denied by Governor Sigler at a press conference yesterday. He said that they were "not unusual powers" and that he thought it was a "very fine bill—the only way to get at things." He added that he thought it was an "effective method of meeting the present situation in this state."

Warning Out To Dog Owners

Saturday, April 10 is the deadline for Spartan City dog owners to register their pets, according to the Spartan City Pet Control committee. The committee also reminds pet owners that suitable fencing must be completed by the following Saturday, April 17.

WENCH WANTED

As You Like It 'Whistle Bait' Needed In Play

Don Buell, director of dramas, issued a special call for coeds to try out for the Spring term play, "As You Like It."

"We are on the verge of producing the play in the style of the old Elizabethan theater, using an all-male cast," Buell said.

The four women's parts offer distinctly different characterization, according to Buell. He described the parts in order as "the masculine type, whistle-bait, local yokel, and a cute little country wench."

An extra tryout has been scheduled for room 101 Home Ec building from 1:30 to 5 this afternoon. The last tryout will be held in 301 Home Ec at 7:30. However, Buell announced, special reading can be arranged for anyone who cannot attend the regular sessions.

"As You Like It" is one of the simpler Shakespeare scripts, Buell explained. It is a light "escape" drama.

"We will be forced to change the play if enough women can't be found for the parts," he added.

UNDERCURRENTS

By BILL PEARSON

FOR the second straight year Spartan athletes have won 25 out of 26 events in each of the three major winter sports.

Boxers, Chuck Davey and Ernie Charboneau, newest Green and White champions, fought their way to titles at Madison, Wis., Saturday night. Dick Dickenson is the 1948 N.A.A.U. wrestling king at 136 pounds.

Michigan State's top freestyle relay foursome of George Hoogerhyde, Jim Dak, Abel Gilbert and Bob Allsopp swam the 16 length distance in 3:31.9 to bring home the N.A.A.U. relay trophy from the recent meet at Ann Arbor.

A year ago Davey, Hoogerhyde and grappler Gale Mikles each won national titles. No other college approached these performances either this year or in 1947.

Michigan and Ohio State dominated the 1948 swimming championships. Wisconsin gathered four crowns in boxing and the Iowa A.A.U. was the top team in the N.C.A.A. wrestling tournament. None of these schools, however, had first place honors in even two of the three championship meets.

Michigan was the victor in State's three 1947 titlists who managed to win individual honors. Saturday he won the national title. He successfully defended his 135 pound weight class position last year, while in 1943, as a national champion he took top honors at 127 pounds.

Ernie Charboneau, little Ernie Charboneau, was first in the 112 pound flyweight class. Ernie gained experience and confidence for his title effort by fighting at 125 pounds during the dual meet season.

Hoogerhyde earned his mat championship by wading through matches with the very best other collegiate wrestlers in the nation. Dick was undefeated in dual freestyle wrestling.

Hoogerhyde's consolation to Coach Fenley Collins was a Spartan title in the 127 pound class. Mikles was edged out in the finals on a technicality.

Hoogerhyde won a national swimming title at the N.A.A.U. meet. This year he did not defend that title, but he did swim in the 220, 440 and 880 yard events.

The 220 yard event set a new collegiate record of 2:09.1 in the 220 trials but was beaten in the finals in a closer race. In addition to that effort and his part in winning the relay crown Hoogerhyde also placed in the 440 and 880 yard events.

The Michigan Met street tank squad was fourth in the nation. Wrestling Mentor Collins and Boxing Coach George Mackis kept their teams to runnerup spots in the N.A.A.U. meets. Mackis rates a special pat on the back for his first season as ring coach at MSU.

FOR MEN ONLY - USGA Says No To Babe's Application

NEW YORK, April 6. Politely but firmly, the U.S. Golf Association advised Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias today that her application for membership is not desired in the National Open championship at the Riviera Country Club, Los Angeles, June 19-22.

The U.S. Golf Association has always been opposed to the inclusion of women in the men's championship. The golfing fathers, taking into account the fact that the women's game is a different one, have always been opposed to the inclusion of women in the men's championship.

First Scrimmage Held By Gridders

With three days of outdoor practice under their belts, 200 spring football candidates held their first scrimmage under the watchful eyes of head coach "Biggie" Munn.

Before the first contact drill of the year started, however, Munn divided the squad into two groups of approximately 100 men apiece with the hope that the smaller groups would exceed ball players scrimmaged for approximately 30 minutes, paying special attention to the basic running and passing plays of the Munn system.

Offensive Team Chosen
A team composed of Warren Hacy and Hank Minarski at the end, Pete Fusi and Hal Vogel at the tackle, Ed Bagdon and Don Mason at the guard post and Don McCurry at center with Jim Schuchman at quarterback, George George and Lynn Ghanstrom at full back and Frank Waters at half back was the first squad to take the offensive in the initial series of plays.

Festival Features World Tour

By HELEN RIEGEL.

"Understanding among nations" will be the theme of the fourth annual International Festival for which foreign students on campus are practicing and rehearsing daily at the International Center.

The opening scene of the festival which will be given in the Auditorium, April 17 at 8 p.m., will be Lake Success, N.Y. An American and a Canadian at the UN Assembly listen to quarrels among the nations.

The two students then take a tour of the world to visit various countries and see how they live and get along among themselves.

First stop for the traveling duo will be Honolulu, Hawaii. The Hawaiian group, led by George Ariyoshi, Hawaiian junior, will sing native songs and dance the hula.

Singapore, China, where the Chinese will dance, sing and present a Chinese opera, will be the second stop on the tour. Daniel Kong, freshman, is chairman of this group.

At Bombay, India, the Indian group will feature a guest, Parimoth Pithik, from the University of Michigan. Dances including a stick dance—and songs will entertain the visitors here. Leader of the India group is G. Venkatachalam, India sophomore.

The Olympics is the theme which the European group is presenting as the two students stop at Geneva, Switzerland. This group is headed by Marta Tyse, sophomore, and Anita Wehtje, freshman, both from Norway.

Four stops in Latin America and the Caribbean area will be next on the itinerary. In Sao Paulo, Brazil, the traveling pair will watch the Samba dance and in Africa a Caribbean dance by Morris Henderson, Virgin Islands sophomore, is scheduled.

The pair will see dancing in Panama, and in Cuba, Roberto Fortier, Puerto Rico, freshman, will give a native dance of the workers on the sugar plantation.

Highlight at the end of the trip will be addressed by Dr. John A. Hannan, president of MSC, Dr. Shao C. Lee, head of the International Institute and George Vayionis, freshman from Greece, president of the International club. The scene will be depicted as taking place in the new Memorial Center here on campus.

The festival, given under the auspices of the International Center, is under the direction of Alice Mershon, DeWitt sophomore. The International club is currently putting on a drive for new members. Anyone interested is asked to attend the next meeting of the club.

$4300 Netted By Red Cross

The $3,600 collected in last month's faculty-employee Red Cross drive surpassed last year's total by $700, Dean Rodney said yesterday. The separately conducted student drive gathered $735, also more than last year said Rodney.
