SO HELP ME

Sour Grapes

By GORDON HANNA

LEGISLATORS ARE SCHEDULED TO fold up their spring session and return to the hinterlands tonight. The question uppermost in the minds of the students and college officials is whether the physics building will be completed, or remain a skeleton in the closet of the economy-minded legislature.

Prospects are that the clocks in both houses will be covered to allow the lawmakers time to pass necessary legislation and still adjourn sine die tonight.

If this happens and no appropriation is forthcoming to complete the celebrated physics building, funds must be devoted to weatherproof the parts of the structure which are already completed. No small sum will have to be expended for this purpose.

Also the college will face the problem of what to do with some 2,300 engineering students and almost 500 physics students who will have no way of completing work for their degrees.

THE COLLEGE CAN EITHER LET these students complete as much of their studies as is possible under the circumstances, or move out other students to make room for the physics students.

What will happen to the lab equipment, ordered to be placed in the physics building next fall? To put this equipment anywhere else would mean that some other department would have to give up space and some other group of students would be unable to finish their studies. Tonight the legislature will answer these questions.

UNDERGRADUATES WHO ARE WONDERING why so many tests are scheduled on May 28 will find their answer inside the front page of the spring term schedule book. May 28 happens to be the last day of classes for graduating seniors and custom says that graduating seniors do not have to take final exams, if they have passing grades in their courses.

So a little test on May 28 helps the instructor to get around this no final rule, and helps the student to remember that the spring term of the senior year at MSC is another term of learning.

IT'S GARDEN TIME AND THE GOOD wives are busily planning work for their husbands. But in a college community there is always an out for the men.

"I have to study, dear," is a familiar answer and quite effective too, when the little woman requests a few backbreaking chores around the family farm.

But gardens are one answer to the high cost of living. A few tomato plants, some carrots, a couple of heads of cabbage and a row of lettuce will easily pay for the seeds and fertilizer necessary to make the garden grow. The cost of liniment for the aching muscles and blister balm cannot be figured into the cost of gardening, because after all, a little exercise never hurt anyone, much.

Campus Campaign Rules Released By Committee; Few Changes Reported

By RON LINTON

Final student government election campaign rules were released by the election committee yesterday, putting the finishing touches on this year's election program.

The only change in eligibility requirements is that credits determining class standing shall be based on those a candidate has beginning fall term.

Credit Requirements Told

Credit requirements for class officers are: 42-92 for sophomores, 92-141 for juniors, 142 or more for seniors. Veterinary students are allowed 85-137 for sophomores, 137-187 for juniors, and 187 or more for seniors.

A candidate must have an all-college one point Student Council representative will automatically lose their seats if they move while in office.

Only mimeographed, dittoed or hand-lettered campaign materials may be used. These may be posted anywhere except within 100 feet of any poll or within any campus building where regular classes are held.

Poster Size Limited

Posters are limited to 16 square feet and can not be placed in such a manner as to disfigure property. State News advertising will be allowed but must not exceed $5 for any one candidate. No campaigning will be allowed within 100 feet of the polls.

Campaign Date Set

Campaigning will officially begin at petition deadline, 12 noon May 7. Petitions will be available at the Union desk, May 3.

Barnstorming of candidates will continue for a two-week period preceding the planned rallies on May 18 and 19.

The voters will go to the polls on May 20 to eliminate all but two candidates for each office. This year voting will be in the dormitories except for Lansing and East Lansing resident who will vote in the Union.

The final election will be May 25.

Election officials explained that the new system was being tried in order to bring out the largest possible vote. In previous elections the class officer vote has lagged.

Acceptance!

To the frustrated, dejected adolescents of the Michigan State College class of 1951:

Having translated your scrawly letter, we accept your childish challenge to meet on the field of battle (opposite banks of the Red Cedar) on the fateful May 22, 1948.

In consideration for your sublime ignorance, we will have two ambulances and five doctors waiting to tend your more serious wounds.

Knowing you as such blundering fools, we have also contacted a mortician who will dispose of your insignificant remains.

A committee has been appointed by the board of directors of the sophomore class to demonstrate to the muscle-headed freshmen that our superior intellect will triumph over your less experienced classmates.

The Sovereign Class of '50 represented by Joe Bruno, President and Dave Gordon, Sec. of War.

Post-Graduate Plan advertisement. For the first few years of professional or business life most new graduates find their income comparatively heavy and their expenses comparatively light. A few years will improve matters but during that initial period the going is none too easy. The Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada offers a special plan to meet exactly this situation. It provides full protection from the start but during the first five years the premium is very low. At the end of five years, when the assured's income will normally have increased, the premium also increases.

Women's Honoraries Will Tap Members At May Day Program

Mortar Board To Represent Senior Group

May Day, in front of Beaumont Tower, the 12 members of Mortar Board, national honor society for senior college women will tap from five to 20 juniors. The women tapped will represent senior women during the next year. Standards of the honoraries include leadership, scholarship, and service.

Mortar Board stands for more than scholarship and activities, although both are stressed. The women who receive the black and gold mortar have been selected for their spirit of cooperation shown in the rendition of services to the college and student body during their years at MSC.

Sponsor Activities
In addition to the many outside activities of each member, Mortar Board women take charge of various activities during their senior year.

They sponsor the Dean's list, a list of students earning a 2.5 or over each term, and they help sponsor Lantern Night and the Spinster Spin which take place during term. This year their special project has been a booklet commemorating the traditions of MSC.

Started Marriage Lectures
Mortar Board members are responsible for the marriage lecture series. The scheduling of these lectures was started by a Mortar Board group in 1937, and is one of the honoraries' main activities.

Last fall term, the women helped Blue Key, men's junior and senior honoraries, to organize a series of mixer dances.

Organized from Sphinx
In 1916 the Sphinx organization, which later became Mortar Board, was formed. At that time MSC felt the need for some organization among all women students, representing different organizations and crossing society lines.

In the beginning all women students were eligible to join the honoraries, but in 1923 it became the custom for only senior women to be selected.

Limited to Seniors
In 1929, after two failures to obtain a petition, the Mortar Board group was organized on campus and a charter was issued.

Since then, only outstanding senior women have been tapped and made eligible to wear the black and gold of Mortar Board.

Tower Guard Will Choose Sophomores

Tower Guard, sophomore women's honorary, will also hold its annual tapping ceremony May 1, at the May Morning sing program in front of Beaumont Tower. At this time about 35 women will receive the red and gold pledge ribbons of the organization.

Over 12 years ago the need was recognized for an organization for leadership of undergraduate women on campus.

Mortar Board Helped
Elisabeth Conrad, dean of women, Marie Dye, present dean of Home Economics, and Mary Walter, housemother at East Mayo, formulated the plans for the honoraries, wrote the first constitution and composed the rituals. Mortar Board also helped organize the group.

However, no name seemed to fit the new sophomore honorary. At the suggestion of Mrs. Robert Shaw the organization was named the Tower Guard. Several years later, when Beaumont became the meeting place, the name Tower Guard was selected and the gold emblem of Beaumont became the symbol of the group.

Membership Requirements
Tower Guard members, of which there are 25, are picked for their potential leadership for scholarship and character. A 2.1 all-college average and participation and interest in outside activities are the prerequisites.

Among the many activities in which the women participate during their year's membership, are reading to blind students, orientation of freshman women, the sponsoring of information booths on campus during fall term registration week and the work done at registration each term.

Names Kept Secret
Tower Guards help plan the Lantern Night ceremony and the Spinster Spin.

Following Tower Guard custom, the names of the women who will be selected for next year's Tower Guards are kept secret. The night before the May Morning sing, members of Tower Guard serenade each dormitory and house where the coeds to be tapped live.

HCL Surveys Query Women On Expenses

Prospective MSC coeds will now be able to determine the cost of keeping up with the new look fashions during their college years.

The problem of how big a touch to put on Dad before going off to school will be simplified through a living-expense survey, sent to off-campus women.

The survey, conducted by the Counselor for Women's Office, will include questions pertaining to the income of coeds working part time in campus buildings and private homes.

Such subjects as room and board, clothes, entertainment, health, and extra-curricular activities expenses will be covered on the survey sheet. The off-campus women will also be quizzed as to their major class, outside interests, and activities.

Co-op League Holds Installation Ceremony

In a candlelight ceremony, officers and new members of Women's Cooperative League were installed in the Hearth room of the Union Sunday night.

Miss Mable Peterson, assistant counselor for women and retiring sponsor of WCL, expressed her enjoyment in being retiring sponsor of the organization.

Robinson Wins Plaque
She also presented the scholarship plaque, given for the highest point average of fall and winter term, to Robinson house who won it for the third consecutive year. Concord house was the second highest for this year.

Retiring president, Sarah Jane McDonald, Eaton Rapids senior, gave a short talk on the ideals and purposes of WCL and introduced new president, Janet Helm, Adrian sophomore, of Ewing house.

Award For Service
Gladys Holdeman, Jackson sophomore, of Catherine Black house, received the $25 dollar scholarship award for her outstanding service and cooperation as a co-op woman.

'Y' Play Tryouts Scheduled Today

Tryouts for three one-act plays will be held in the Board room on the second floor of College house.

The YWCA invites all men and women interested to come either today between 2 and 6 p.m., or tomorrow at 4 p.m.

These plays, which include a comedy, a farce, and a tragedy, offer a wide variety of character parts. Places are open for seven men and eight women.

Coeds Slate 21 Softball Tens For Play-offs

Women's intramural softball set up in four blocks of six teams each, is scheduled in the form of a double-elimination tournament. In this way each team plays at least twice before being eliminated, until only the block champion remains.

The four blocks will then play off for possession of the softball plaque and 50 points toward the intramural trophy.

Last year's champions, South Campbell hall, has been practicing regularly to clinch their claim to possession of the cup. Sigma Kappa, runner-up from last year, also looks good and should be a major concern to the Campbellites and other aspiring teams.

AWS Grants Extra Time For Concert

The Judiciary board of AWS, has granted half-hour permission to return from Helen Traubel's concert.

The board wishes to caution women about it.

The fact that petitions are to be submitted before noon of the next meeting of the AWS board and that housemothers are all expected to be called, when a woman realizes she is going to be late in returning.

Calling hours in the dorms are 1 p.m. Monday through Saturday and 11 a.m. on Sunday. However, five minutes are allowed before these hours for a man to pick up a woman at her dorm. If a man wants more than five minutes, the woman should receive late notices.

The next leadership training program will be held this Thursday at 7 p.m. All meetings will be in the Home Economics building.

Kappa Delta Pi Plans Initiation

Kappa Delta Pi, national education honoraries, will initiate 18 new members at 3:30 Saturday afternoon in the Union organization room, Professor W. H. Noll announced yesterday.

The second initiation will be followed by a banquet at Hunt's cafeteria. Dr. Carl Horn, sponsor of the dining club, presided over the initiation.

Delegates from Western Michigan college, Central Michigan college and Michigan State Normal college will be guests of the MSC chapter.

Newlyweds Offered Honeymoon Advice

Brides and grooms contemplating honeymoons should take note of the advice offered in a magazine by the Woman's Home Companion.

The advice of 33 per cent of the magazine's readers: "Spend all the money you can lay your hands on and take a dream trip to remember all your lives." Only 19 per cent say, "Watch your pennies."

Middle-of-The-Road
Almost half, or 48 per cent, will tell you, "Steer a middle course. Have fun but remember to save enough for the gas bill as the check of plunging from a luxurious hotel into a dishpan is almost more than a newly made marriage can bear."

All the women agree on one point however: "It's not the place she goes nor how she travels that makes her honeymoon perfect for a woman—it's THE MAN."

How To Travel
On the mode of travel, 16 per cent of the married women said, "Take a motor trip." The remaining 30 per cent advised what NOT to do.

Among their warnings are: "Don't take a chance on a sea trip if it's the first time for either of you," and "Don't be talked into a fishing trip if you're not the outdoor type, nor let yourself in for a swanky resort if you can't chum or hate to put on evening clothes."

Don't Take Family
All agreed that the idea is to get away from family and friends as possible. Many recommended a honeymoon of only a few days with a longer trip later when the initial period of adjustment is over.

But a warning is added to this advice too: "Don't wait too long, they say. You may never take your trip at all if you do, and you certainly don't want children along."

Knudtzon Head Fraternity Slate
Kenneth Knudtzon, junior, was elected head of Kappa Psi Fraternity at its annual meeting at the Sigma Chi house.

Other officers elected were Gene Knudtzon, president; Robert Smith, secretary; and Larry Knudtzon, treasurer.

CONTEST RULES... Mollé "What do you say?" Contest

- Merely write, in the blank cartoon balloons above, your answers to the questions. Mail your entry to the address given elsewhere in this ad. Be sure to fill in your complete name and address in the space indicated.
- Each contestant must be a registered male student of the college in whose paper this contest is published, and each contestant must complete in all ten sets of cartoons in order to be eligible for prizes. If you did not receive a copy of this newspaper, a reasonable facsimile of the cartoon or a written description of it will be accepted.
- With Sets No. 3 and No. 8, the contestant must include a carton from a 25¢ or 50¢ tube—or from any size jar—of Mollé. Remember, only two cartons (of any size) are required, but be sure you send one in with No. 3 and one in with No. 8 of the sets.
- Only one entry will be accepted from each contestant in each set and all entries must be the original work of the contestants, submitted in their own names.
- Entries will be judged by the Reuben H. Donnelly Corporation, an independent judging organization. All ten cartoons submitted by a single contestant will be considered as a unit in judging, and the judges' decisions will be based on the originality, aptness and interest of each set. First prize winners of $80 from each school will be eligible for the Grand Prize of $500.00 to be awarded to the best series of entries from all the schools. The decision of the judges is final and duplicate prizes will be awarded in case of ties.
- All entries become the property of Sterling Drug Inc., and no return will be returned.
- All ten sets of answers must be mailed before May 14, 1943, final date of the contest. Entries with inadequate postage will not be accepted. Prize winners will be announced here the week of May 24.

Stassen Leads In Pennsylvania

Martin, Dewey Rank 2nd, 3rd In Primaries

PHILADELPHIA, April 22 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen and favorite son Senator Edward Martin battled to day for first place in Pennsylvania's Republican presidential preference primary.

Results from 2,062 of the state's 3,362 precincts cast Martin 12,963 votes in votes and Stassen 14,014 on the Republican ticket. Third place was New York's Governor Thomas E. Dewey with 10,011.

Include Philadelphia

The vote included 314 of Philadelphia's 1,354 precincts, and the first returns from Pittsburgh, 1,000.

Stassen was piled up a considerable lead in both metropolitan centers.

Democratic voters in 129 precincts gave President Truman 1,587 votes. Those votes were recorded for Henry Wallace and one for Eisenhower. Truman's name was the only one appearing on the ballot.

Martin No Campaigner

Senator Martin, who has not campaigned for the nomination, piled up a big vote in early returns from upstate communities, including Luzerne county (Wilkes-Barre). His friends had launched a last-minute drive for votes for him.

The vote was not expected to exceed 30 percent of the 2,062,972 registered Republicans and 1,750,000 Democrats.

Popularity Contest

The presidential balloting actually is only a popularity contest. A blank space for presidential preference on the Republican ballot allows a sampling of sentiment on the party's top candidates. But the 73-member convention delegation also elected today will be impinged.

Democrats also elected their 74-member convention delegation, which has been pledged to President Truman.

Pi Kappa Phi Initiates Ten

New members were initiated into Pi Kappa Phi fraternity Sunday.

Students Inspect Relic

Both juniors in geology, Mary Jane Dokeray of Grand Rapids and Jim Rattie of Brattleboro, Vt., inspect the 30 pound thigh bone of a Michigan mastodon. The bone stands in a corner of Laboratory 30 in Morrill hall.

Museums Cast Light On Ancient History

By JANET JEMANS

A bit of Smithsonian atmosphere is developing in East Lansing. Museums at MSU are growing along with the enrollment.

Over in the lower regions of the college auditorium are displays of everything from bonnets to bazookas and from mummies to mastodons. Collections of rocks, bones and meteorites line the passages of Morrill hall.

In one case in the auditorium museum is an authentic call for troops issued by George Washington. He promises his recruits the opportunity of spending a few happy years "in the service of their country."

In addition, the soldier of 1776 could return home "with his pockets full of money and his head covered with laurels."

Weapon Collection

The evolution of dangerous weapons is shown in a collection ranging from the obsolete cross-bow to the rocket launcher and the sub-machine gun of World War II. A German war flag, contributed by F. H. Myers of the State Board of Agriculture, and Japanese army flag taken from a Nagasaki plane factory by John Ball, an MSU graduate, add a bit of color to the gun collection.

If you're interested in knowing when your favorite feathered friend plans to return to East Lansing, don't miss the bird mounts. Mounted specimens remind us that the chimney sweeps are due back in their favorite haunts at the administration building this week.

Skeletons Coming

J. E. Stock, director of the museum, is now planning a collection of skeletons to compare structures of the mastodon, horse, human, dog and bat. In the process of being assembled is an almost complete collection of mastodon bones unearthed near Plainwell, Michigan, in 1945.

Dry bones, entirely disconnected, along with specimens of sea shells, shark jaws and starfish are on exhibit on the east wall of Laboratory 30 in Morrill hall. Among the bones is a 42-inch long thigh bone of a Mastodon American, common in Michigan in the period after the recession of the great ice sheet.

State Senate Still Divided On Zarichny

refused to answer a question put by a Senate committee in the proper exercise of its investigating power, said Hittle. "It is extremely unfortunate that the question had to arise in this particular case."

One senatorial reaction, reported from the closed door session, was that the Senate had gotten itself into a "hell of a mess" before it was sure it actually had a case against Zarichny. Reportedly, the debate also brought out that Callahan was the only senator who had signed the committee report which prompted Zarichny's arrest.

Sen. Stanley Nowak (D-Detroit) lashed out against the proposed action following the vote to authorize Zarichny's arrest.

The procedure is the work of a two-by-four politician who wants to run for public office again, he said. "You are proceeding against one young boy who says his political opinion is a private affair."

"You will create more distrust in that college more radicals than by anything else you can do," he said. "Do you think you are going to stop people from having ideas?"

Nowak called the un-American activities committee hearings an outrage to Michigan.

"You are making yourself the laughing stock of the nation," he told Senate members.

Should the Senate hold Zarichny in contempt, Attorney General Eugene F. Black has ruled that it could jail him until the session's final adjournment, but no longer.

Under a state law, he could also face imprisonment for not more than five years.

Truman Aide Predicts Boom

WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP)—The United States may enjoy several years of business prosperity unless the war scare grows worse, Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, presidential economic adviser, said today.

But for the long haul the years that lie beyond, the economic prospect may be termed "unfavorable," he said.

FOR THE MECHANICALLY INCLINED ROTC Offers Civilian Training

By DON BALL

With courses have expanded from the old days of drill, marksmanship and memorization of weapons. Col. John L. Whelan, commandant, said yesterday.

They now provide training and instruction which have equal application in civilian fields.

Not in Academic Curriculum

One example of this is the course in mechanical drawing. For students majoring in engineering, technical or scientific fields, it offers opportunities not included in academic courses.

Men not studying in these fields, but with marked ability, interest and aptitude in mechanical fields also find much of interest in advanced training.

Col. Whelan added:

Study Automotives

During the school year advanced students study automotive material, which includes all the rolling stock the army owns. Such studies are also important in the civilian field.

Chemistry of explosives and ballistics theory also have their application in peacetime occupations.

During summer training students have opportunities to study at one of the largest training grounds in the world during their six week course at Aberdeen proving grounds.

Students interested in advanced training may get further information at ROTC offices. Demonstration hall. Applications for enrollment in advanced courses opening next fall are also being taken.

Leadership Clinic Set To Continue Sessions

Faculty Members To Lead Groups Of Officers In Meetings Today
