Stassen Runs Close Second

COLUMBUS, O., May 4 (AP)—Candidates backing Senator Robert A. Taft led in 11 and supporters of Harold E. Stassen were ahead in six of 23 contested delegate races in early returns tonight from the Ohio GOP presidential primary.

Taft's nine candidates led the field in a ten-man race to pick nine delegates at large. But Stassen had entered only one candidate in this field, only that single place was among the 23 being contested.

Reports from eight districts—each taking two delegates—gave Taft a lead in ten and Stassen backers in six. Stassen Gets Industrial Vote

The NEWS IN BRIEF

New UN Plan Put Before Congress

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—Blueprints for a new stronger United Nations—without or without Russia—were laid before Congress today by a group of Republican and Democratic representatives. They differed in some details but the broad outlines were the same. Let the U.S. take the lead in a move to rebuild U.N. with the big power veto weakened and the peace-keeping authority of the world organization greatly strengthened.

Construction Balance Sheet

"The college that refused to wait."
"The college that set the pace in post-war building."

Thus the Milwaukee Journal recently described Michigan State College in a full page illustrated article.

MSC's progressive building program, was related in prose and picture — how State paced the nation's colleges in bringing its educational program up to date; in providing facilities for the post-war rush of veteran students.

Last week the Michigan legislature adjourned, leaving Michigan State and other state-supported institutions high and dry, without funds to complete their respective building programs.

It is the Senate which must be held responsible if bare skeletons are left to dot the campuses of the state. It was the Senate which rejected House attempts to vote funds promised to complete these structures.

Not all senators can be tarred with the same brush. Among others, Sen. Harry F. Hittle (R., East Lansing) fought to gain approval of the appropriations bill.

A way out of this situation remains. Action can and will be taken on the building appropriation bill if a concerted demand for approval is directed toward Lansing by the taxpayers.

The legislature reconvenes May 20 for its final session. Traditionally, no important action is taken at this last meeting. The lawmakers merely gather to check on the governor's disposal of bills passed earlier in the session.

However, this is election year. This year political profits are measured in net votes gained. If a small surplus on the books of the state treasurer, achieved at whatever cost, will gain those votes, the senators can be expected to act accordingly.

In their mad scramble to show such a surplus, the majority of the senators overlooked their obligation to provide minimum facilities for the education of the sons and daughters of their constituents. Students deprived of classrooms and high school graduates denied a college education because of lack of space cannot be expected to view this as good business.

Unless the voters talk to the senators in a language they understand—the language of the ballot box—this blunder will be allowed to stand.

This concerns you and your school. You can help get that appropriation if you will write your senator and the folks back home. Our parents pay the taxes, they deserve to know how their money is handled.

THE SQUARE CORNER

The Administration Speaks

By PAT MCCARTHY

THE SPARTAN ROUNDTABLE ENDED its first complete year of monthly meetings Monday night. President Hannah raised the question of whether or not the Roundtable was carrying out its purpose of replacing the now extinct all-college convocation.

We think it does. Aside from the fact that the Roundtable provides a good meal and the only good coffee in the Union, it provides a badly needed liaison between students and what is vaguely referred to as the administration.

The group is composed of the heads of as many organizations as thought to include wide-spread student membership. The old convocation is impossible now with 14,000 students and no place to put them all at once. The Roundtable was the answer.

It gives the student leaders a chance to put the administration on the spot, a chance to find out what goes on behind the scenes. It provides a far too rare opportunity for students to find out what goes on with the MSC administrative members. They have a habit of doing things without letting the students know the reason why, which often leads to strong feelings and irritable tempers. And quite often they have good reason.

The Roundtable only begins to fill in this lack of coordination, but at least it is a much needed start. Any student who has ideas of a better set-up for this purpose or suggestions for making it better, write us a letter. We will be glad to pass it along.

MALCOLM "GOOD-MORNING" BINGAY may have his troubles over a new office at the Detroit Free Press, but at least he's in his new office. The new publications row atop the Union annex has been slated for completion ever since the first of January. But the Spartan, Wolverine and State News are still casually scattered about in odd corners of the Union.

Bingay had the DAC cafeteria aromas to contend with in his old quarters. The State News office is opposite the Union cafeteria. For the past three and one-half terms we have had to contend not only with the distracting odors but the doubly distracting sight of the long reaches of the food counter.

But now the new offices are imminent and we are not devoted to the temporary (five weeks short of a year) quarters, to say the least. The present location does have the advantage of being close to the grill, but then, as the cafeteria, it has its disadvantage of distraction.

But the removing of the offices to the third floor of the annex will keep people from spending every 55 out of 56 minutes in the grill. That is to say, if the people who help us through our daily problems don't begin to spend 56 out of 56 minutes in the grill.

It is all in a way very discouraging to be weekly prophesied that the new offices would be done ever since the first of January. However our old friends, the contractors, bricklayers, weathermen, plasterers and office outfitters did not leap to our service in the expected manner and consequently we are still temporarily quartered.

Reader Reactions To Nowak Speech:

Parsnips To The Senator; 'Please Leave Us Alone'

TO THE Editor:

State Senator Nowak, Democrat (they say), from Detroit, has finally been allowed to speak on the campus and he spoke in a manner designed to touch the hearts of the people of America.

According to Senator Nowak, the people of the European countries after the war had but three choices; they could again be ruled by a Fascist regime similar to that imposed by the Nazi; they could sit back and let large imperialistic nations such as Great Britain, France, and the United States exploit them economically by financing their reconstruction and industries; or they could turn to the land, nationalize their industries and rebuild their shattered economic structure.

These countries are taking the third choice—purely their own choice and not really communistic. Well, not very much anyway.

That is the true situation in Europe according to Senator Nowak. He was there and he should know. Oh, yes, here is still a group of freedom-loving people left who believe in a democratic form but they have been forced into the underground, we were told. Senator Nowak, and most of his audience, considered it quite a joke that he should have been invited to one of these underground meetings and nearly, ev-

Next: Defender Rests His Case

TO THE Editor:

In the article entitled "One Active Group," which appeared in Tuesday's issue of the State News, there were two highly slanted sentences that I feel need qualification.

The sentences: "The chances are that a more representative group would not have fallen in so wholeheartedly with Nowak's ideas on handling of the Russian situation," and "The answer to communism vs. democracy may not be as simple as it sounded Friday night in Senator Nowak's speech."

First of all, Nowak did not present any ideas on handling any situation, much less the so-called "Russian situation." He merely pointed out (as his talk was entitled) "What is Actually Happening in Europe."

Secondly, the term, "Russian situation," should be qualified so that everyone knows what is meant by that term.

Thirdly, the Senator did not contrast or compare the two ideologies at any time in his speech nor did he attempt to apply any "simple" solution to "communism vs. democracy." I have stated that the Senator did not attempt a solution. That is true, but he did relate his experiences in Europe, minus flowery language and minus solutions.

Yours for better reporting,
Lee Kerby

POST GRADUATE PLAN

For the first few years of professional or business life most new graduates find their responsibilities quite heavy and their income comparatively light. A few years will improve matters but during that initial period the going is none too easy.

The Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada offers a special plan to meet exactly this situation. It provides full protection from the start but during the first five years the premium is very low. At the end of five years, when the assured's income will normally have increased, the premium also increases.

State Host To Lions In Dual Track Meet

Only Home Appearance For Team

Penn State, double title winner at the recent Penn Relays, will be the guest of the Spartan track squad Saturday afternoon at 2.

This meet will be the first and only home appearance that the team will make during the track season and the men of the Green and White are out to put their worthy opponents through the mill.

Penn State, always a top track and cross-country power, brings its well balanced team against a Michigan State squad that is still somewhat riddled with injuries.

John Johnson, quadruple threat man, and Bob Kritzer, dash specialist, are still doubtful starters as Coach Carl Schlademan said before.

Sport Skills' Ball Throw Starts Today

Baseball throwing contest in the Sports Skills events will be held this afternoon and Friday from 1 to 5 in front of Demonstration hall. Competition in this event will continue through Monday, Wednesday and Friday of next week at the same time and place.

Prizes will be awarded and points toward the all-events title will be given for both accuracy and distance. The accuracy test is judged on the basis of five throws from the regulation pitching distance, and a maximum of 15 points may be earned.

Points in the distance test are added up at the rate of half a point per foot, to a maximum of 125 points. Harris F. Beeman, director of Sports Skills, advised all men who have taken part in previous competition to consider entering this event. A throw of 250 feet would place the winner high up in the running for the all-events award.

Beeman also said a 250 foot throw would satisfy one of the requirements for membership in Sigma Delta Psi, national honor society, athletic fraternity.

The 100-yard dash, last week's event in the all-college competition, drew so few entrants that it will be postponed in the near future, Beeman said.

Third Victory

Frank Minninger took his third straight victory in the Abbot hall pocket billiard tournament last Thursday night by defeating Don Seroffe 75-40.

In the previous round on Tuesday night, Minninger won over Ken Jackson by a score of 75-64. The matches are being held every Tuesday and Thursday night at 6:30 in the Abbot hall recreation room.

New Spartan Sports Show Opening On WKAR Today

Bob Shackleton, WKAR sports director, begins his new "Spartan Sports in Review" show this afternoon at 5. Taking over from former Michigan State Athletic Publicity Director Nick Kerbawy, Shackleton will incorporate several new features into the program.

On-the-scene tape-recorded broadcasts of major sports events on and off the campus will be highlighted on this new sport show.

For the first program Shackleton went to Walnut Hills country club for the MSC-University of Detroit dual golf match, and described the event's highlights. This will be included in Shackleton's general description of the match of today's program.

Next week the sportscaster said he will bring sports fans an account of the MSC-University of Illinois tennis match, broadcast from Champaign.

Taking his microphone behind the batter's box at Old College field, into the secret football practice field, and to the side of the swimming pool in Jenson field house, Shackleton hopes to cover the Spartan sport scene with colorful and up-to-the-minute descriptions and interviews.

Arab Leader Warns UN Of New Terrors After Mandate Ends

Hints British-Trained Legion May Try To 'Pacify' Palestine

LAKE SUCCESS, May 4 (AP) — King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan told the United Nations today the calamities in Palestine will reach a pinnacle of horror after May 15.

The Trans-Jordan monarch hinted his British-trained Arab Legion will attempt to "pacify" Palestine after the British give up their mandate over the Holy Land in mid-May.

Representatives here of other Arab countries quickly backed up King Abdullah with indirect threats of action by their governments and with attack on what they called Jewish outrages in Palestine.

Several delegates complained the recent U.N. assembly of Palestine is talking too much and doing nothing about the problem.

Approves Cuban Plan
The assembly's political committee finally approved a Cuban plan to throw all proposals on Palestine to a 12-nation sub-committee.

Jobs Open

Applications for carriers and other positions will be received by the State News circulation department. Leave name, address, telephone and student number. State desire to work now or at the beginning of fall term.

The vote was 33 to 7, with 13 abstentions. The United States and Britain favored it, Russia voted against it.

The sub-committee was ordered to make recommendations on a provisional government for Palestine. Named on the sub-committee are China, Poland, Norway, Argentina, Cuba, Belgium, France, Guatemala, India, Russia and the United States.

This action meant the sub-committee will consider the U.S. plan for a U.N. trusteeship and Britain's suggestion for a caretaker regime to hold office until a permanent settlement is made.

Andrej A. Gromyko, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, blasted once more at those delegates who want to throw out the Nov. 29, 1947 assembly decision to partition Palestine. He called on the U.N. to expel "uninvited guests" in Palestine who are fighting the assembly resolution.

Abdullah Picked To Lead
Persistent reports from the middle East say Abdullah has been picked by Arab countries to command an army that may enter Palestine as the British retire.

NOT MEETING EXPENSES Trailer Residents Hear Operating Loss Report

By DON BALL

Over 250 trailer residents crowded into their recreation hall Monday night to learn that their camp is operating at an $18,000 loss.

They were also told adequate speed limits cannot be enforced on camp roads.

Camp president Jim Tew, Rice Lake, Wis., sophomore; the trailer council; Ray Lamphear, head of married housing; and Lt. Charles Latter of the campus police presented problems and answers.

Revenues $120,000

Tew told the group that camp revenues average $120,000 a year, but expenses are not being met.

Operating like a town hall meeting, residents had ready access to the floor. Their questioning of Lamphear and council members resulted in a committee to investigate and prepare a breakdown of operational expenses.

In addition Tew said that proceeds from Bendix washers will in the future revert to the college to meet electricity and steam expenses.

To Lose Athletic Fund

Until now these proceeds have
