KEEPERS OF THE KEYS

B & G Men Main in Open Door Policy With 8,000 Keys

By Shirley Burnett
Ford Ankney and Phil Gregg, buildings and utilities, handle one of the biggest jobs on campus—the servicing and maintenance of more than 8,000 keys to college property.

Each major building at State has required from 200 to 350 duplicate keys in the past, but there will be a different system employed with the new campus constructions.

Duplicates of master and sub-master keys will be on file in the Buildings and Utilities department, other duplicate keys will be cut when they are needed by a special new machine.

Locate Lost Keys
“We make a real effort to locate lost keys for their owners,” said Ankney. “Each day we check with the Lost and Found to see if any stray keys have been turned in. They are registered, the number on the key with the number on our records.”

“After we discover to what building and room the key belongs, we call the manager of that particular place and ask him to have the key picked up.”

Rush Calls
Every day the department averages four or five calls on locked files, doors, etc. The office staff they answered a rush call from Phillips-Stevler hall. One of the men had gone to take a shower, locking himself out of his room, and his roommate locked in. Neither had a key. Lost and found keys are replaced at the rate of about 500 each month.

“Oscar! Get the Dentyne Chewing Gum—it's a date!”

“I'm way ahead of you, Pat—I asked for Dentyne Chewing Gum while you were still talking over the phone. Show me any date who doesn't fall for that clean-tasting, long-lasting Dentyne flavor! Dentyne's got everything. It even helps keep teeth white, too!”
