Frosh Lose To Varsity In Practice

By HERKIE BOWERS

Nicking three freshman hurlers for eight hits and ten runs, the Spartan varsity handed the frosh a 10-9 setback in yesterday's practice session as a warmup for the pair of games with Ohio university this weekend.

The Spartans wind up their season with the two home games against Ohio Friday and Saturday. Coach John Kobs' struggling nine will be off to atone for a double setback suffered against Ohio earlier in the season.

Main Hope
Kobs' main hope against the Bobcats lies in the Spartans' hitting power. Top candidates in the slugging department, on the basis of the last few games, are Dick Mineweaser, Ed Barbarito and Frank Bagdon.

After a slow start this year, Mineweaser found his batting eye in the last four contests and collected six hits in 15 times at bat. In the last three games, all of which the Spartans lost, Barbarito has collected for five safeties in 11 tries and Bagdon has hit at an even 500 clip with six for 12.

Big Problem
The Spartans' main problem is against the Bobcats will be the same one that has dogged the team all season—what pitcher to use.

Last night's practice game showed up the varsity mound collected nine hits.

Part of the games against Ohio Kobs plans to start Dick Dieters with freshman Lou Blush on tap for possible relief duties. The Spartan choice for Saturday may be Bob Krestel, but the decision may rest on the results of the first game.

Canoe Tilt
The Water Carnival committee announced yesterday that the canoe tilting contest will be held this afternoon at 2:30.

Four State Netmen Enter C. C. C. Match

Spartans Face Stiff Competition

By JOHN STERLING

Captain Al Reynolds, Jack Shingleton, Bob Chuck and Bob Malaga, Michigan State's four top net stars, swing into action this morning at the Detroit Tennis club as the 1948 Central Collegiate conference meet begins with its strongest field since the war.

Michigan State is out to claim top honors with four strong singles players and two top doubles teams. The Spartans seek their first victory in an intercollegiate tennis tournament since Rex Norris won singles and doubles in 1934.

Perfect Record
Chuck, State's most underrated tennis player, turned in a perfect singles record of thirteen straight victories this season. Chuck's game is always at its peak on clay.

Reynolds-Shingleton, State's top doubles team, have turned in 12 straight victories this season. The Spartan team is expected to be one of the toughest doubles teams in the collegiate meet.

Malaga-Chuck, with one double less this year, is also a very strong doubles team and expect to claim honors for Michigan State in the tournament.

Sigler Calls Aeronautics Jobs Open In Alaska

Marxism Charges To Be Discussed

LANSING, June 2 (AP)—University of Michigan heads were called today to confer with Governor Sigler June 10 on charges that a university extension course taught "Marxian" theories of economics.

Sigler said he had asked President Alexander G. Ruthven and the university board of regents to meet with him in the governor's office. The governor said he would submit to them information gathered by the state police on the charges.

Washington Comments
The accusations were made recently at a meeting of the House Education committee in Washington.

A witness criticized an adult education extension course on labor economics conducted by the university in Detroit, claiming that a labor union official taught the course, used union publications for text and presented a "Marxian" interpretation of economics.

State Police Report
The governor said he had asked state police to gather additional information on the charge.

"They have submitted to me or there has been submitted to me through them, quite a bit of information," Sigler said. "They have turned over some very interesting material, but beyond that I don't wish to say anything about it."
