The Campus Chest

Today you are asked to give to the Campus Chest. You will be asked to put your money in the canister and take a little green feather in return.

The green feather shows that you have done your bit toward charitable organizations for this year. You will not be asked for another contribution until next spring. There will be no other charitable drives on campus.

That's why the Campus Chest asks you to give a dollar today. You are not asked for money at any other time. The change you used to shell out for six or seven charitable drives on campus every year amounted to more than that.

During the rest of this week there will be benefits for Campus Chest, but today is the only time you are asked to give outright.

Forty-five per cent of Campus Chest money will go to two local organizations which cannot be supported in any other way: Spartan nursery and the Displaced Persons board.

It helps to see your money at work right on campus. That's where a large part of the Chest money goes. Students all over the world will be aided by the 25 per cent of Chest contributions which go to WSSP.

The March of Dimes, the Lansing community chest, and the Damon Runyon cancer fund are also represented in this year's Campus Chest.

They all need your contribution.

MSC Needs a New Library

Indications are that there will be no appropriation for a new library at MSC coming from this session of the state legislature.

This immediately raises the question by students and faculty members, "Why not?"

The cry has gone up for a new library ever since enrollment figures started breaking records back in 1945. That was six years ago.

Since then enrollment figures have remained rather constant and outmoded library facilities have remained to be a fuddle knowledge-seeking students.

Present facilities, including the departmental libraries, can seat a maximum of 1700. This roughly is 14 percent of the student body. It is estimated that a liberal arts college should be able to seat about 25 percent of its students in the library, and a technical school somewhat less.

But this isn't the greatest problem. Complaints stem mainly from the arrangement of the library facilities. The library building, built in 1927 and considered 25 years out of date, contains most of the books and bound periodicals.

While the annex, once mentioned in Ripley's "Believe It or Not" for its novel construction containing at least 28 floor levels, houses the periodical reading room, the assigned reading room, and several class rooms. This arrangement is admittedly not conducive to much study.

The new library was to eliminate all of this.

Last January funds for the proposed library at MSC were placed on "top priority" on the list of appropriations. Landscape engineers brought out their surveying instruments at the first sign of spring and mapped just where the building would be situated. Stakes were placed in the ground at the site of the proposed building. Blueprints were drawn, and it looked as though we were to have a new library at last.

But the men in the legislative chambers didn't think so.

The reason that comes from the capitol for the lack of appropriations is that with the shortage of building materials, the state's construction program has been curtailed.

The present plan is to finish up all current building, including reconstruction of the partially destroyed state office building, and not begin anything new for the time being.

Also, the governor and the legislators feel that with the uncertainty of the present world situation, enrollment figures may be very susceptible to fluctuation, and the need of a new library may not be as strong as it has appeared in the last few years.

MSC is setting up an accelerated program this summer and in the foreseeable future enrollment is not expected to drop drastically. Even if the draft cut down the number of male students, it seems very unlikely that enrollment will drop to a point at which the present library facilities will be adequate.

MacArthur Shuts Mind to Failure

By J.M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

General MacArthur holds out to the American people a very enticing prospect of being able to clear the Korean war from the books and so be in better position to meet Communist aggression wherever it occurs again.

But the General is significantly silent on what happens if his plan should fail. He is so sure of his own beliefs that he virtually refused to consider questions about what would happen if it didn't work.

Seemingly secondary with the General, but always in the background, is his belief that intensified action against China would not bring Russia into the war. He also seems to think Russia would not be much force in a far eastern war if she did come in.

Yet MacArthur described how the Russians trained the North Koreans in Manchuria, passed this real army through the North Korean border patrol and attacked South Korea.

American intelligence had known their actions but not their intentions. Then the Chinese, after MacArthur's Inchon landing, began massing their troops in Manchuria, but as MacArthur said, it is very difficult to determine another power's intentions, both with regard to the North Koreans and Chinese, the available facts did not produce an American decision to be prepared for the worst.

The North Koreans and the Chinese are now Russia's front echelons in Asia. Russia has between 250,000 and 500,000 troops in Manchuria and Siberia.

It's a good bet that she has no intention of committing them to war, since she as well as the allies must be prepared in Europe. But concrete reliance upon the belief that Russia will not "pass through" the present front echelons, as did her satellites, would be repetitiously dangerous.

MacArthur was undoubtedly a good witness for his own plan, but he left other holes, too.

One prime thing was the revelation, through the state department's effort to have part of the testimony kept secret, that relations between the United States and her U.N. allies over expanding the war in Korea have been even more delicate than was generally known.

An open split seems to have been narrowly averted. This may have been one of the several matters on which MacArthur admitted he did not have sufficient information to qualify as a global strategist.

Just A Moment

The Military

By Steve Brandorfer

This is on the military. It's directed not only at the weary ones in ROTC uniforms but at MSC coeds, also.

Let's take the coeds first, "Ladies" first, you know. What's so funny about ROTC students forced to march in Tuesday parades?

Each parade afternoon this term a large number of coeds have been on hand to view the cadets. That's gratifying.

But for some reason or other as the cadets march through the gates leading to Old College field, they're greeted with a large "haw haw." It's not one coed that does it. It's quite a number.

And each time its different faces fitted on the same variety of empty heads.

Perhaps the coeds are not ridiculing the young lads in khaki. But it sounds like it.

The advanced students are used to that kind of thing. But many of the basics aren't. They quickly develop an "I'm silly looking in this uniform" complex. Maybe they are.

But the guns on their shoulders will kill.

Some day they may have to use them for that.

Sure Herman may have two left feet. It probably looks funny to see him regimented. But the coeds of this institution who don't yet realize it, should get it through their heads that the left footed Johnnies out here are being trained for a grim business.

Now to a lighter side of the military.

A flood of books on how to pass the tests the military services are giving to young men trying to get in or out of uniform have been put on the market recently.

These books don't have any answers to specific military exams. They're just supposed to teach a person how to think to pass the tests.

OH YEAH!

Here's a sample problem.

"Assuming that the income tax law allows $500 personal exemption for single people and $200 for each dependent, and that the tax rates are 12 1/2 percent on the first $2000 taxable income and 4 1/2 percent on the next $3000 taxable income, what would be the income tax of Mr. Jones, single, who earns $5,200 a year and has two dependents. There is a surtax of 3 1/2 percent on all surtax net income, (net income after the personal exemption and dependency deductions have been made.)

You have 45 seconds, and none of your lip.

My solution.

Mr. Jones, single, should not have two dependents if he has no wife. The whole thing looks suspicious from the start.

If he has two dependents and is making $5200 a year now, he will probably soon have a wife; making three dependents.

Addition of a wife will assuredly lead to even more dependents.

So how the heck is a guy supposed to work out a problem with so many variables?

Students Thumb, Hail Strike

The Varsity News, University of Detroit, finds that students like the transportation situation better now that the street car and bus operators are on strike.

Motorists have been very generous in giving prompt lifts to students. In fact, one is quoted as saying, "I never had such service from the DSR. Besides that, the seats are softer and you're always sure of getting one."

Another added, "I can sleep fifteen minutes more in the morning thanks to the strike. I hope they never agree on wages."

An engineering student summed it up with, "This is so good I may never go back to the &(*X*Zib*) DSR!"

Red Cross Director Lauds College for Blood-Donation

TO THE EDITOR:

Michigan State College is to be congratulated for the remarkable record set by the students with their donations of 529 pints of blood. To the best of our knowledge, this far exceeds any records set by a college in a similar operation. Alpha Phi Omega did a marvelous job in organizing and scheduling the students.

I am sure that the student body recognized that the staff was working under pressure, and that the hours put in by the staff were much longer than the actual operation as seen by the student body.

We are sorry if any discrepancies appeared, but we are sure that in the light of the fine record established and the smoothness of operation, any mistakes will be overlooked.

Our next operation on the campus is tentatively established by the athletic department for later on in the month and we trust that this will go off without hitch.

The student body would like to know, I am sure, that a portion of the blood given on the three days at the college was sent out each night for Korea.

The Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity has announced the names of the candidates for the 'Sweetheart' of the year. The candidates are Barbara Vogel, a senior at Michigan State College, and Mary Ann, a senior at the University of Michigan. The candidates are expected to be crowned at the annual dance, which will be held at the Foresty Cabin on May 10.

Stag or Drag Seniors to Hold Midweek Dance Tonight in Union

A break in studying will be offered seniors tonight at the first of their senior mid-week dances, scheduled for 9-11:30 on the second floor of the Union. There will be no admission charge for the dance, termed either stag or drag by Ann Wilbur, large chairman. Senior women attending the dance tonight will be stung at the door and will be granted 12 o'clock permission, she said. Other mid-week dances are scheduled for May 16 and May 22. We have a large number of seniors will take advantage of these traditional dances," Miss Wilbur said.

New Hour Set for Sorority Sing Contest

The sorority sing has been changed to 3 p.m. Sunday afternoon in the handball, Beverly Stout and Donna McMahon, co-chairmen of the annual sing, announced. The 16 sororities will sing for the trophy which the winner keeps for the following year. The group's name is engraved on the cup. Later a small permanent trophy will be awarded to the winning sorority. The Delta Gamma now are the possessors of the trophy. Judges for the contest will be R. Cockrell, East Lansing high school; William McIntyre, Eastern high school; and Mrs. Wilson Paul. Conrad Post of the written and spoken English department will act as master of ceremonies.

Final Lecture on Marriage Slated Tonight

Mortar board will close its marriage lecture series tonight when Dr. Robert Harper of Merrill-Palmer Institute in Detroit speaks at 7 and 8:30 in the Music Auditorium on "Can We Be Intelligent about Marriage?" Dr. Harper is the author of the "Marriage" textbook used at MSU. Lucy Crampton, chairman, said yesterday. The free lecture will be open to all students, and continued students without tickets will be admitted if there is room. Preceding the address, Dr. Harper will be a guest of honor at a Mortar board dinner at 5:15 p.m. on the Union approach. Other guests will include Dean Tom King, Mrs. Isabelle Gordon, counselor for women, Lyle Thorburn, counselor for men, Nick Pagan, Dean Marie Doe, and the organization's advisors, Mrs. Donald Baell, Mrs. Emma Primodig and Miss Ethel Armelind.

THE STORY OF AN IMMIGRANT LAD WHO MADE JOBS FOR THOUSANDS THROUGH FREE ENTERPRISE

ALBERT KAHN WAS BORN MARCH 21, 1869, AT RHAUNEN, WESTPHALIA, GERMANY. HE CAME TO AMERICA WHEN 11, WITH HIS MOTHER, FIVE YOUNGER BROTHERS AND AN AUNT. THEY JOINED THE FATHER IN DETROIT.

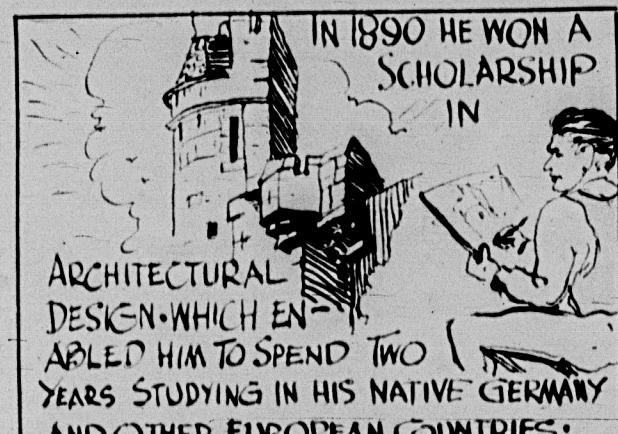

ALTHOUGH A PROMISING PIANIST, THANKS TO HIS FATHER'S GUIDANCE, THE EAGER YOUNG IMMIGRANT DESERTED THE KEYBOARD FOR A DRAWING BOARD.

WHEN NOT WORKING AT ODD JOBS, THE AFFABLE LAD WAS HAUNTING ARCHITECT'S OFFICES IN DETROIT. THOUGH EXHAUSTED BY TRUDDING FROM OFFICE TO OFFICE, HE SPENT HOURS NIGHTLY PRACTICING DRAFTING.

ALBERT GREW ILL FROM TRAMPING THE STREETS IN ALL KINDS OF WEATHER, AND NOT EATING REGULARLY. BUT, HE REFUSED TO GIVE UP. AT LAST HE WAS HIRED AS A DRAFTSMAN. HIS WORK WAS EXCELLENT, AND SOON HIS SERVICES WERE IN DEMAND.

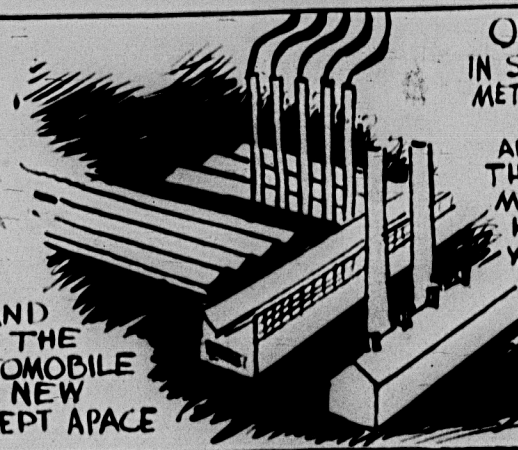

IN 1890 HE WON A SCHOLARSHIP IN ARCHITECTURAL DESIGN WHICH ENABLED HIM TO SPEND TWO YEARS STUDYING IN HIS NATIVE GERMANY AND OTHER EUROPEAN COUNTRIES.

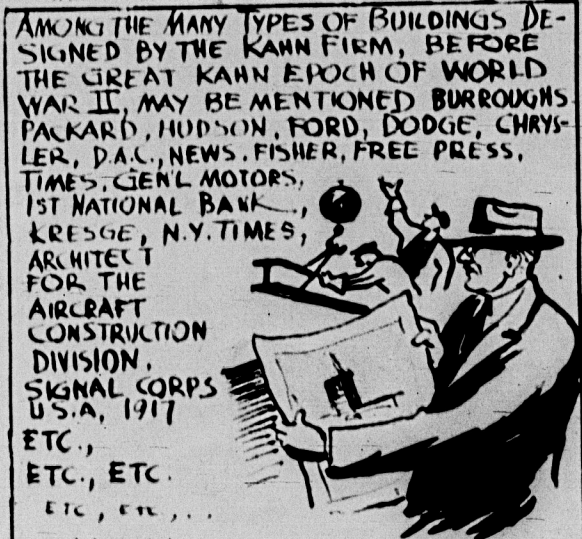

CONTINUING WORKING FOR OTHER ARCHITECTS KAHN OPENED HIS OWN OFFICE IN DETROIT IN 1895. HE MARRIED IN 1896.

KAHN LEFT NO STONE UNTURNED TO REACH THE TOP OF HIS PROFESSION AND IN SUPPLYING THE GROWING AUTOMOBILE INDUSTRY WITH NEW PLANTS HE KEPT A PACE

OF THE TIMES. HE WAS IN STEP WITH THE NEWER METHODS OF CONSTRUCTION. HIS BROTHER, JULIUS, AN ENGINEER, FORMED THE TRUSCON STEEL CO, MADE THE TRUSSED KAHN REINFORCING BAR WHICH HELPED TO REVOLUTIONIZE FACTORY DESIGN. ALBERT BECAME A DIRECTOR OF THE COMPANY ALONG WITH OTHER INTERESTED PEOPLE.

AMONG THE MANY TYPES OF BUILDINGS DESIGNED BY THE KAHN FIRM, BEFORE THE GREAT KAHN EPOCH OF WORLD WAR II, MAY BE MENTIONED BURROUGHS PACKARD, HUDSON, FORD, DODGE, CHRYSLER, P.A.C., NEWS, FISHER, FREE PRESS, TIMES, GEN'L MOTORS, 1ST NATIONAL BANK, KRESGE, N.Y. TIMES, ARCHITECT FOR THE AIRCRAFT CONSTRUCTION DIVISION, SIGNAL CORPS U.S.A., 1917 ETC., ETC., ETC.

KAHN WAS A CHEVALIER OF THE LEGION OF HONOR.

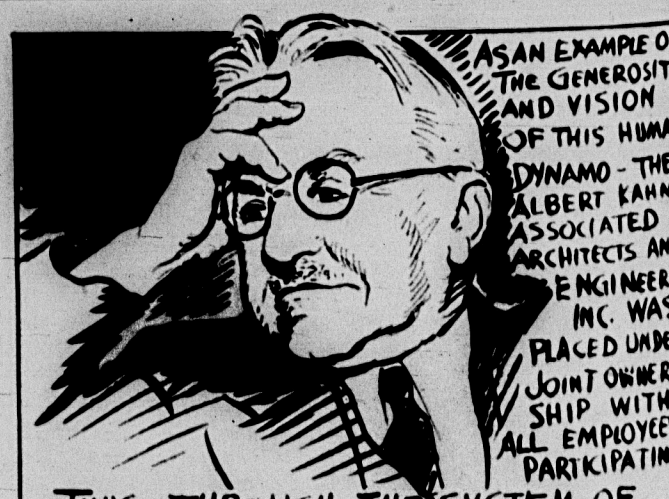

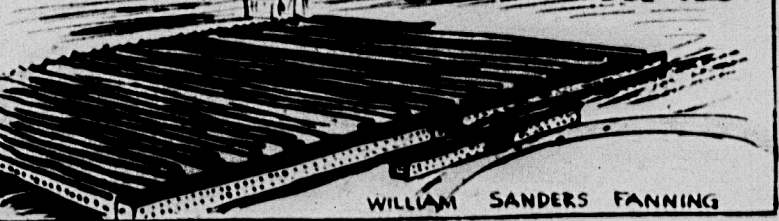

UNDER THE DRIVE OF HIS LIVELY ENERGY AND CLOSE ATTENTION TO HIS PROFESSION KAHN WOULD BE FOUND WORKING ALL HOURS EVEN WHEN DRESSED FOR FORMAL FUNCTIONS HE'D RUSH TO THE OFFICE TO PUT AN INSPIRED THOUGHT INTO SOME BUILDING. AS A MEMBER OF THE SCARAB CLUB HE'D JOIN WITH MEMBERS OF HIS STAFF IN SKETCHING FROM LIFE. A.K.A. HE WAS AFFECTIONATELY KNOWN BY HIS EMPLOYEES, ALWAYS HAD THEIR WELFARE CLOSE TO HIS HEART.

MUCH OF HIS WORLD WIDE FAME RESULTED FROM THE SPRAWLING CREATED SOVIET PLANTS HE DESIGNED FOR THE UNION. KAHN-DESIGNED STRUCTURES ENCIRCLE THE GLOBE. COPYRIGHT 1947 BY A. AND L. WELLES

IT WAS INEVITABLE THAT KAHN SHOULD BE CALLED UPON TO DESIGN THE PLANTS FOR AMERICA'S HUGE WAR PROGRAM. WITH 500 ENGINEERS AND ARCHITECTS ON HIS STAFF HE PERSONALLY DID THE PRELIMINARY LAYOUT WORK ON FORD'S WILLOW RUN BOMBER PLANT, CHRYSLER'S TANK ARSENAL, CURTISS-WRIGHT'S MAMMOTH AIRCRAFT PLANTS AT BUFFALO, CINCINNATI, COLUMBUS, AND HUNDREDS OF FACTORIES, HOSPITALS AND MILITARY BASES FROM CAPE TOWN TO KODIAK, ALASKA. HE WAS INVARIABLY IN HIS SHIRT SLEEVES.

AS AN EXAMPLE OF THE GENEROSITY AND VISION OF THIS HUMAN DYNAMO - THE ALBERT KAHN ASSOCIATED ARCHITECTS AND ENGINEERS, INC. WAS PLACED UNDER JOINT OWNERSHIP WITH ALL EMPLOYEES PARTICIPATING. THUS, THROUGH THE SYSTEM OF FREE ENTERPRISE, ALBERT KAHN, AN IMMIGRANT LAD OF 1880, BECAME FAMOUS AND PROSPEROUS IN THE FIRST HALF OF THE TWENTIETH CENTURY.

Pitchers Take Lead in IM Softball Tilts

Low hit pitching performances featured Monday night's intramural games as two no-hitters and a "daffy" two hitter were hurled. Ron Pierdon chucked a no-hitter for West Shaw 6 as he and his mates blasted West Shaw 3, 10 to 0. The victors pounded out seven runs in a big third inning.

Dale Hines pitched a no-hitter for S.C.F. as they took advantage of the breaks and beat Phil E. K. 4 to 0. The winners were only able to garner one hit but made it count.

Loses Two-Hitter
Although Lou Lafayette gave up only two hits, he found himself the losing pitcher in a "wild and woolly" contest. Lafayette who was on the mound for West Shaw 1 was virtually waited out as West Shaw 4 walked to a 9 to 6 decision.

George Hohman of Howland House hit two tremendous home runs on the Shaw diamond as he led his team to an easy 14 to 3 win over Motts. Both of Hohman's wallopers cleared the street and rolled to Shaw hall. They were two of the longest blasts of the season.

Other Games
In other games, Vandervoort defeated Lushwell, 18 to 3. Phillips 2 beat Phillips 4, 4 to 1. The All Stars defeated Asher, 6 to 3. West Shaw 2 crushed West Shaw 10, 12 to 4. East Shaw 6 whipped East Shaw 7, 11 to 5. The Monarchs edged Haslet 9, 6 to 4. The Darkhorses, West Shaw 7 and AEP's were all winners over the defeated route.

Tigers Win Again

DETROIT — Vic Wertz tried to duck a pitch at ball in the 11th inning but it struck his bat and bounced into left field for a game-winning single as the Detroit Tigers licked the league-leading New York Yankees yesterday, 6-5.

The fluke single handed rookie pitcher Ray Herbert his fourth straight victory as a relief pitcher without a defeat. Alie Reynolds, who went the distance, took his second loss against one victory.

Wertz whacked a two-run home run and drove in three runs to spark Detroit's 12-hit attack. Catcher Joe Gombig poked his third homer for the Tigers.

With one out in the eleventh, Jerry Pasky singled to left. After Dick Kyskas' first out, Pasky scooted to third on George Kelle's single to right. Then Wertz followed with his fluke single, sending Pasky across the plate with the winning run.

The Yankees, who had their eighth straight win ended in Monday's game by the Tigers, matched 14 hits off four pitchers.

The Tigers came from behind three times to tie the score.

Bower Leads 'S' Hitting Attack

By STAN KURZMAN

Latest hitting statistics of the Michigan State baseball team reveal that the Spartans' starting line-up has for undoubted the greatest .300 hitter.

After 13 games, of which State won 10 and lost 3, the "first string" lineup has compiled a .347 batting average.

The top Spartan hitter is catcher Bill Bower with a .435 average on 10 hits in 23 times at bat.

Outfielder Dick Moser has second place with a .391 average. He leads the team in three bases with two, and is tied with catcher, Chuck Johnson, in doubles production with four.

The team averages .312 or more times at bat.

Business Club Members to Meet at MSC

Michigan State College will play host to about 60 women meeting here May 12 as representatives of the Zonta club. Purpose of the conference, according to Esther Anson, vice-president and chairman-elect, is to help people know MSC so they can learn goodwill and spread interest in MSC.

They will also bring back reports of what MSC has contributed to the members of the service club.

The Zonta club is a nationwide professional business women's club. District five, including Michigan, Ohio, and Ontario will meet here.

Student Receives Art Scholarship

A Fulbright scholarship has been awarded to Marilyn Jane Stokstad, Lansing graduate student, according to Albert T. Corrao, counselor of foreign students.

The scholarship will enable Miss Stokstad to study the history of art at the University of Oslo in Oslo, Norway. It is one of 750 grants awarded by the department of state under the Fulbright act.

Air, Artillery Support Rocks Red Defenses

TOKYO — (AP) — Strong allied units pushed northward Tuesday in a double-barreled advance that carried 17 to 20 miles above once-threatened Seoul on the western Korean front.

Heavily supported by air and artillery, other United Nations forces chewed up Chinese and North Korean outpost defenses on the central and eastern fronts.

Nearly half the ground lost when the communists launched their ill-fated April 22 offensive has been regained along the 100-mile wide battlefield. The Red drive bogged down after seven days of human-sea attacks.

Now the communists were battling clumsily, like a punch-drunk fighter struggling for time to regain strength. The Reds stepped up their artillery and mortar attacks. Roads were strewn with Red minefields.

On the far western front South Korean troops gained five miles in two days, shoving the Reds north of the Kongnung river, a tributary of the Han river. AP correspondent John Randolph said communist resistance stiffened at this point, some 17 miles northwest of Seoul.

Reds Mine Highway
Driving due north of the battered old Korean capital, allied tanks chugged 20 miles up the important Uigumbu highway. Red mines littering the road were cleared ahead of the armored giants.

The Chinese still held ridge positions five miles south of that point of actual enemy contact about 15 miles north of Seoul.

There was little fighting north-east of Seoul. UN patrols engaged an unknown number of Reds just south of Kaesong, 33 miles north-east of Seoul on the important highway to Chunchon.

Fertilizer Gets Efficiency Test

Michigan is one of 20 states co-operating in an experiment to determine the efficiency of phosphorus fertilizer, according to Dr. Kirk Lawton of the soil services department.

The experiments are being carried out in various parts of Michigan, using radioactive phosphorus on oats and alfalfa, to discover how much phosphorus the plants are absorbing from the soil, and how much the fertilizer is contributing to the plants' growth.

Lawton, director of the local experiments, said that roughly 40 tests of this kind are being carried out in the United States and Canada. With information from the experiments, soil experts hope to increase the efficiency of phosphorus fertilizers.

'Les Deux Timides'

French Class Presents Vaudeville-Style Play

By WILLIAM SAGE
MSC English Department

Under the direction of Dr. Herman Thornton, head of the foreign language department, a delightful bit of comedie-vaudeville, "Les Deux Timides," was ably presented by Madame Marguerite Miller's first year class in conversational French last night in the Music auditorium.

Cecilia Scott had the leading role of Cecile. Dick Frecher was her father, M. Thibaudier. Jim Martindale and Gorer Marx were the amusing contenders for her hand. The inevitable maid was nicely done by Athie Hrakis.

The comedy was shifted from time to time by songs done in the operetta tradition.

Much credit is due the cast as well as Madame Miller as the pronunciation of these first year pupils was especially good, particularly in the musical interludes.

As an opening feature to the play, Helen Earl sang a charming old Breton lullaby. June Teth followed with a piano prelude by Debussy. Robert Graham received considerable applause for the cello number, "Anitra's Dance," accompanied by Miss Teth.
