

Break in Cold Wave Predicted Today; Record Set in State

Record early November cold wave and snowstorm is break today as temperatures are expected to rise as much as 36 degrees.

National snow flurries are also predicted by the U. S. Weather Bureau at the Lansing airport.

Warmer weather is predicted for Friday afternoon, but a comfortable day when MSC meets Saturday afternoon.

Record in snowfall for the area was set yesterday when 7.5 inches of snow fell in 24 hours. Another inch is expected today.

Drifts, great puddles of snow and more flurries of snow predicted the state that a long, cold winter ahead, dispatch said yesterday.

The bitter cold wave—parallel in recent Michigan—hit nearly a week ago. At least 38 persons have died in related causes.

Men have died in traffic jams on slippery, slushy streets. In the snowstorm that hit the Lower Peninsula on Wednesday, at least 10 men died of heart attacks while shoveling snow.

Flurries that came with the weather claimed nine persons in a storm which crashed in a storm on Tuesday. A 70-year-old boy fell in the ice and drowned.

Men were killed in the upper and in the western section of Michigan—particular Grand Rapids area. To the east the snow was thick but it was so slushy that it stalled traffic over the area. The traffic jam in Grand Rapids was called the worst in the city's history.

At schools throughout the state, especially those in areas, were forced to close. In Grand Rapids, and Ingham counties, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, and other areas, and were some of those that reported high absenteeism.

Many telephone lines were knocked down.

Snow Crews Struggle to Clear City

Record Fall Keeps Equipment Going

By MARGARET FULLER

East Lansing snow removal crews have been working around the clock since Tuesday night to clear streets and sidewalks of the record November snowfall.

John M. Patriarche, city manager, said the crews would keep plowing the streets until they were cleared. They plowed streets in the business district for the second time last night.

Two trucks equipped with plows plus the city grader have worked continuously from 8 p.m. Tuesday plowing and re-plowing streets. Four trucks have been in use hauling snow away since 1 a.m. Wednesday. Another truck was added yesterday afternoon.

Patriarche said the city was "more or less prepared" for the storm. The city would have been better prepared in three weeks, he added.

The 21-man crew had plowed the streets once and about 75 per cent of the sidewalks by yesterday afternoon.

This morning two plows will start clearing sidewalks while Patriarche said.

Crews concentrated on clearing the business district streets last night because plowing in that area was hampered by traffic during the daytime. If the snow continues today plows will be able to keep up with the snowfall once they catch up, Patriarche said.

This has been the most difficult snowfall to clear away since 1944, Patriarche said. He explained that its wetness and heaviness added to the difficulty.

Snow cleared from East Lansing streets has been dumped into the Red Cedar behind the Women's Gymnasium.

Patriarche asked that people walk rather than drive in order to prevent traffic tie-ups and permit snow removal.

Forms to Omit Holiday Meals

Dormitories will remain open during Thanksgiving vacation. No meals will be served, according to Emory Foster, maintenance director.

Dormitories and food service will be open because of the football game during vacation, Foster explained. Union cafeteria will be open during the vacation, he added.

Closing hours will be in the women's dorms Thanksgiving. Dorms will close at 10 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Wood Contest Prize Offered

Biggie Munn will award a coveted trophy at the pep rally tomorrow night.

The Spartan mentor will give the prize to the living unit winning the annual wood-gathering contest.

The trophy, a football signed by the members of the MSC grid squad, is now on display in a showcase at the Union south entrance.

"All MSC living units participating in the contest are reminded that the wood must be taken to the bandshell Friday afternoon so it can be weighed," said Jim West, Memphis, Tenn., pep rally chairman.

The rally is sponsored by the Wolverine.

City to Expand Power Plant

Lansing Approves Bond Issue

Two new Lansing councilmen were elected as a $6 million utility bond issue received overwhelming approval in Tuesday's election.

Ald. Samuel Brown of the first ward and Ald. Eno M. Helms of the eighth ward were unseated by Glen E. Dean, owner of the Dean Hardware, and Marion W. Bayles, an Oldsmobile employee. Dean won with 276 votes as against Brown's 252 while Bayles took 236.

In a special election of the first ward to fill a vacancy created by a resignation last spring, Milo W. Ward, owner of Ward's Shoe Store, defeated Ted Mowrey, manager of Michigan Motor Freight, with 328 votes against Mowrey's 206.

Cobo Wins Mayor Post in Detroit

Michigan Elections Show No Surprises

By The Associated Press

Michigan's municipal elections Tuesday showed no surprises—except for the weather. A heavy snow and sleet storm kept most of the voters at home.

The final returns yesterday had the races coming out just as most political observers said they would.

In Detroit, Mayor Albert E. Cobo was re-elected three-to-two over Edgar M. Branigin, who had heavy backing from organized labor. It was a non-partisan election, as in the other municipalities, and had no bearing on political trends.

The Detroit results, however, again showed that the CIO and AFL, or organized labor generally, are unable to swing a mayoralty election in the highly organized industrial city.

Cobo, campaigning on a platform to give the Motor City a business-like government, defeated labor-backed George Edwards two years ago. Edwards, now a probate judge, was a former CIO United Auto Workers organizer.

In the campaign this fall, Cobo was attacked by Branigin for the way he handled Detroit's 50-day Public Transit strike last spring. Cobo had aroused labor resentment by invoking a state law to fire transit employees during the strike.

The final count gave Cobo a 55,261 margin of victory. Cobo got 168,106 of the 290,951 ballots cast. Branigin got 112,845.

Other Detroit incumbents were re-elected, including Louis C. Miriani, city council president. He held a slim lead of 1,220 votes for the post over Mary V. Beck, the only woman to serve on the council. She was re-elected to another term on the council.

Dearborn's blustery Mayor Orville L. Hubbard was re-elected in the only municipal balloting that brought out a sizeable portion of the electorate.

He won his "sixth" successive two-year term by defeating Altonney Carl C. Matheny 16,960 to 11,201. About 60 per cent of Dearborn's registered voters went to the polls as against about 36 per cent in Detroit.

In Jackson, Mayor James N. Hesse was re-elected. He defeated Albert H. Herbert N. Newman 4,854 to 3,590. The voters rejected a $1,200,000 bond issue to buy property for an off-street parking system.

In Kalamazoo, Glenn Allen, a World War II veteran, was chosen mayor under the procedure of giving the office to the commission candidate polling the most votes.

Truman Challenges Russia to Accept Disarmament Plan

Raymond Moxie offers Sherry Simpson new clothes at the urging of Suzanne Sullivan in an effort to win him away from the "public house" and entangling alliances in the first of four productions of the Studio Theater production, "Playboy of the Western World."

Studio Theater Comedy Lauded as Success

By LEWIS W. CHATMAN

In January 1947, when John Millington Synge's play, The Playboy of the Western World, had its premier, theater-goers of Ireland left the theater proclaiming that it was "unpatriotic, that it was irreverent, and that it was immoral."

Last night, Studio Theater's first performance audience was certainly not of that opinion.

"The play is a comedy, even though the incident may seem morbid, about a village parson and the girls who love him because of his act."

"The story of the play was said to be based on an incident which actually happened in the west of Ireland, but it would not be fair to tell the plot as a great part of the excitement is in watching the play's denouement."

The Playboy is a hero, his heroics set a symbol, and for that reason he must be played with fire and gusto. Daniel Simpson creates that fire and imparts that gusto.

The roles that Daniel Simpson undertakes have been memorable regardless of the play itself, and in this he seems to wear it with comfort of a fireproof slipper.

In his characterization, it was a pleasure to see Thomas Hickey be consistent by submerging his own exuberant personality for the good of his role.

Memorable performances were given by Suzanne Sullivan as the Widow Quinn, though not a flawless one, and Emily Freeman.

Beulah Lenhoff, who looked his part, seemed restrained most of the time and only once demonstrated the substance of Sherry. Ann Neuchin, who displayed no stage fright, was a willing and conscientious performer but hardly sure or inspired as Pigeon Mike.

The sure hand of a positive director, John Jennings, was evident. Moxie was properly staged and sustained, artfully staged, and compact as a symphony.

The set by Wilbur Dorsett is a delight in that he scarcely overlooked a prop in establishing the period.

English Prof Elected to Head Group

Dr. Carlson Hamilton of the MSC English Department was elected president of the new Michigan College English Association at its first meeting Saturday.

The meeting was held at Michigan State Normal College in Ypsilanti.

Dr. Hamilton, one of the organizers of the association, defined its aims as "improving preparation of college English instructors in graduate schools and improving the quality of English in high schools and colleges by opposing the encroachments of social science and emphasizing intellectual and emotional discipline in English studies."

The organization is affiliated with the National College English Association.

Representatives attended the meeting from the University of Michigan, Wayne University, Detroit Institute of Technology, Mercy College, Aquinas College, Western Michigan College, and Marygrove College.

The general topic will be discussion of the results of a survey regarding changes in English and foreign language requirements in Michigan high schools and colleges.

Big Ten Government Convo Slated Here

Four representatives from the Student Government were named as delegates to the Big Ten Student Government Conference to be held at MSC Nov. 13, 14 and 15, at last night's session of the Student Congress.

The appointments were made at the recommendation of Bob Cobo, general chairman of the conference.

The four delegates are: Norm Poplawski, chairman of the Spartan Spirit Committee; Ted Egan, chairman of the Elections Committee; Ken Berman and Laurel Fountain.

Although there are only four official delegates to the conference, the entire Student Congress as well as other governing bodies on campus will be invited to sit in on the discussions.

Gaylord Sheets, Student Government president, reported that letters explaining the proposed student tax measure will be sent out to the various organizations on campus. He also urged representatives to assist in explaining the tax in their own living units. As yet no date has been set for a student vote.

Sheets also appointed a committee to meet with Dean of Students Tom King today to discuss a proposed all-college dance Friday night following the pep rally for the Notre Dame-Michigan State football game.

In other business a temporary charter was granted to the Les Gourmets, a restaurant management organization, and bills to grant final charters to four other organizations were referred to the Organizations Committee.

Dr. Otto Slated to Speak to SAE

Dr. Louis Otto, professor of automotive engineering, will discuss the highlights of the Society of Automotive Engineers Detroit Engine Convention held in Chicago at the meeting of the local SAE chapter tonight.

The meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m. in Room 33 of the Union, according to Jim Albrecht, SAE chairman and publicity chairman.

Also slated for discussion are final plans for the annual field trip to the Chrysler Ethyl Corporation scheduled for Nov. 14.

World Hears President Call Method 'Foolproof'

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman challenged Russia last night to accept a "foolproof" disarmament plan under which United Nations inspectors would police each country's forces and weapons, including atom bombs.

That is the path the free world prefers to take toward real peace and security, the President said, but added:

"We will do it the hard way if we must—by going forward as we are doing now to make the free world so strong that no would-be aggressor would dare to break the peace."

Mr. Truman's bid for the Kremlin to join in "this great enterprise for peace" was made in a radio and television address to the nation, and was beamed throughout the world by the Voice of America.

It was a follow-up and expansion of a proposal which the United States, Britain and France jointly had made a few hours earlier for submission to the UN General Assembly in Paris.

The first step in the plan would be a great inventory, or census, of each nation's military strength.

This would be followed by cuts in armaments, and ultimately by the outlawing of atomic weapons.

Heretofore Russia has balked at the continuing outside inspection which Mr. Truman in his speech and the three nations in their UN proposal made the basis of their plan.

The president took note of that record and asserted:

"Any nation which is not willing to agree to this plan, and to carry it out, is not really interested in disarmament."

He took note, too, of the gloomy history of our negotiations with the Soviet Union, and said it is true that "we have experienced much bad faith, deceit and broken promises."

Nevertheless the effort must be made because it is "the right thing to do," Mr. Truman said. "We cannot permit the history of our times to record that we failed by default."

The President coupled his proposal with an implied promise that a share of this country's savings from reduction of the arms burden would be devoted to peaceful improvement of the lot of people.

If that could be reduced—if the burden of armaments could be lessened, new energies and resources would be liberated for greatly enlarged programs of reconstruction and development," he said.

He called that "the only kind of war we seek is the war against want and human misery."

The President laid his main emphasis on the call for "an honest, continuing inventory of all armed forces and armaments, including atomic weapons." "No country can afford to reduce its defenses unless it is sure the other fellow is reducing his at the same time," he said.

Police Pick Up Two in Snow Fight

Two students were picked up by Campus Police last night during a snowball fight between Snyder and Phillips dormitories.

Sgt. Leon Fagan of the Campus Police said the students were picked up for throwing snowballs at a police car. Their names will be turned over to Dean of Students Tom King, he added.

Six windows were broken in Phillips Hall, according to A. W. Siraanni, resident advisor. Several windows were broken in Snyder, students said.

About 100 men were involved in the fight between the two dorms. Later about 70 men from Snyder and Phillips battled the same number from Mason and Abbot.

Campus police made several unsuccessful attempts to break up the snowball fights. Patrolman William Hanson came close to suffering a severe eye injury when his glasses were knocked off by a snowball, Fagan said.

Windows Broken in Snyder, Phillips

Wells Hall crowds were eating dinner last night, when a fire alarm sent them out into the snow.

Alarms at midnight were common, but this was an odd time for safety measures, thought the shivering crowds as they poured out of the dorm.

The bell clanged on as bewildered women returned to their rooms and police and firemen fought smoke.

Peace fifteen minutes later still left the mystery unsolved as campus fire inspector, Richard Bennett, and Mrs. Edward Blackman, housemother, turned off the master switch.

Engineer on Sale Today

MSC's engineering magazine, The Spartan Engineer, will sell its November issue this morning in Olds Hall and the Physics and Math Building starting at 10.

Featured article is a story about the Engineers' Ball which will be held Saturday night.

Issues of the magazine may be obtained Friday in Olds Hall and the Electrical Engineering Building.

The Spartan Women's League is assisting with the sales.

Editorially Red Jitters

The past few weeks have provided us with an interesting and somewhat disheartening demonstration of a too prevalent state of mind in America today.

The example was provided at the University of Chicago when Dean of Students suspended the Chicago "Maroon" and removed its student editor.

In a letter to Editor Kimmel, Dean Strozier stated, "Your action in sponsoring and attending the East Berlin Youth Festival demonstrates your lack of qualification to edit a free and independent newspaper."

He further declared the "Maroon" would remain under suspension until the Student Government provided for the election of a new editor.

Kimmel was elected editor last spring by a two-thirds vote of the staff as provided for in the "Maroon" constitution.

In reply the Student Government charged Strozier with violating the Student Bill of Rights, approved by his own office and the University Board of Trustees.

They quoted the clause guaranteeing "The right to establish and issue publications free of any censorship or other pressure aimed at controlling editorial policy with the free selection and removal of editorial staffs reserved solely to the organization sponsoring these publications."

They also pointed to provisions of the Bill upholding "The right of every student to exercise his full rights as a citizen in forming and participating in campus, local, national or international organizations."

We believe that Editor Kimmel did not use proper discretion in sponsoring the Communist inspired rally. Moreover Dean Strozier through his precipitate action has tarnished the reputation of the University of Chicago as a stronghold of academic freedom.

Our reaction toward Communists and suspected Communists has been too often governed by fear. In allowing ourselves to be carried away by hysteria we are subverting the very principles we seek to preserve.

Dean Strozier has done so. Since then the "Maroon" has elected a new editor, Kimmel having been refused the right to register full term because of "mediocre" grades.

And so the issue has blown over. But one more deplorable example of hysterical reaction toward real or fancied Communist influences has been added to the record. A record that does not speak too well for all of us.

Universal Problem

For the third time this quarter, Minnesota students had to buy a new sociology text. The professor of the course wrote the book himself. It has been revised twice this quarter, and 27 times since it first appeared in print. At $6.75 a throw, the whole deal appears rather ridiculous.

Letter to the Editor Student Ventures Definition of 'Pseudo'

TO THE EDITOR: A recent editorial took a pot shot at pseudo-intellectuals. "Pseudo" is a prefix meaning "false," but which also carries the connotation of "pretention." This is a neat, safe, and superficial generalization, which Mr. Lang mistakes for iconoclasm.

Actually it is a McCarthy, or a Goering technique used to discredit something which one does not understand. Perhaps Mr. Lang has been rebuffed in a few conversations, or maybe he is the worst kind of pseudo-intellectual, a species known as the "All-American-boy-holler-than-thou" type.

The fact is that State is a great college, but it is in danger from the insidious attacks of a group whose pervading force is felt everywhere, the anti-intellectual. Mr. Lang, in order to avoid being taken for an anti-intellectual should either produce a list of names, or humbly apologize to those who have any pretense to intelligence.

If I may be permitted to make a suggestion, perhaps Mr. Lang should form a committee to interview all those who would like to take part in a non-football discussion. He could issue little intellectual tags to those who passed his examination, and the problem would be solved.

Young Seeks Congress Help

Editor's Note: The following letter was addressed to Gaylord Sheets, Student Government president, who passed it along to us. Thinking that perhaps it better expresses its thought than an editorial could it is here printed in full.

Dear Mr. Sheets: I am writing this letter to appeal to you and your organization in regard to our own students taking the flags from the top of the students bring bad repute on the newspaper through the stands in the sections the students occupy.

We love flags in the student sections each game. At the last game, there were four flags taken by students. It is a shame that a comparative few of the students bring bad repute on the entire student body. Can you appeal to the students occupying the sections where stealing may be taking place to stop the theft?

It is impossible for us to have a man at each flag. I do not believe in asking too much for the students near the flags to aid us in stripping practice.

Unfortunately, the rolls of paper usually hit some unsuspecting person wearing glasses with the result that the glasses are broken and on of these times someone is going to lose an eye.

I want to assure you that any action the Student Congress may take will be greatly appreciated.

College Historian Digs up MSC's Past State Nearly Becomes Boys Vocational School

Michigan State College once narrowly missed becoming a reform school, according to Prof. Madison Kuhn, college historian.
Back in the days when the school was struggling along with an enrollment numbering in the hundreds and funds not much higher than that, the governor threatened to move the Boys Vocational School to campus and transfer the students and faculty to, of all places, the University of Michigan.

This threat hung over the heads of the "Aggies" until 1900 when enrollment boomed to 1,000. Not until then was it deemed practical to keep the school in East Lansing.
Dormitory food wasn't had in those days, but they didn't always have it. In the diary of one of our pioneers it is revealed how food for the dorms had to be shipped back because the college couldn't pay for it.
On top of all of this, those iron men of yesteryear were required to do various chores about the campus such as feeding the stock, routing out stumps, logging, and cutting the firewood used to heat dorms.

These are but a few of the many facts about MSC's rise to prominence that Professor Kuhn has dug up in eight years of research.
In compiling all this material, he has collected photostatic copies of student letters and diaries found in museums around the state, read the minutes of faculty meetings and the Board of Agriculture, and talked to old grads and faculty members.
Although the early days of MSC were a struggle, Professor Kuhn pointed out that the school has much to be proud of. Being the first land-grant college in the country, Michigan State set the pattern for all other land-grant schools that followed.
As these colleges were being organized, representatives were sent here to study the methods used. Many faculty members were sent to the new schools to teach. Thus the ideas and methods used here were adopted throughout the country.
At present Kuhn is writing a book on the history of Michigan State which will be completed for the 1955 college centennial.

Hosts over 50 Programs Recitals Varied in Auditorium

By RURY OLSER
Next time you stand in line a couple of hours for concert tickets and you're gone before you get yours, don't be too disappointed. Just take advantage of the more than 50 musical events sponsored each year by the MSC Music Department.
Among the varied attractions sponsored by the department are senior and graduate recitals, faculty recitals, and glee club and symphony concerts.
All applied music majors are required to present a recital as a graduation requirement. Graduate students present recitals in lieu of a thesis.
Open to the general public, most of the programs attract a large audience to the Music Auditorium where they are held.
Topping off these presentations is a guest artist series featuring prominent figures in the music world. In past seasons such names as Lotte Lehmann, Isaac Stern, and the Budapest String Quartet have appeared.
Attendance at the guest artist series is compulsory for music majors and they must attend at least 80 per cent of

Student Music Tastes Sought

Members of the Union Board Music Committee are conducting a poll to determine what type of music is most popular among students.
Anita Doyle, Lowell senior, chairman of the committee, says the poll is intended to help the committee choose records for the music room and for dances held in the Union.
The committee is questioning scattered groups of students, the chairman explained, and will continue the survey for several weeks. Facilities aren't large enough to conduct a college-wide poll, she said.

History of Rings Includes Legend of Snake Jewelry

The history of rings includes every conceivable type of ring, but among the most fascinating is the snake ring that Queen Victoria received from Prince Albert. According to the Jewelry Industry Council, it was a gold snake composed of fourteen hinged joints, twelve of them set with one diamond to each joint; the handle was enameled in black and white, and the head joint passed through a loop in the tail.
Others are learning the American Way of Life in their associations with MSC students in dormitories, classrooms and extra-curricular activities—all of which are available to them.
Most of the foreign students, states Cordray, accclimate themselves rapidly to their new environment and obtain the maximum of knowledge from their academic and social relationships.

Popular with many are the recitals held each Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5 where the opportunity is given students to play their own original compositions.
Besides the regularly scheduled recitals, the department receives many outside requests from organizations wanting ensembles and soloists to appear on their programs. An especially large number of requests is received for appearances by the band and glee clubs. However, such showings are limited by the college.

Porpoise Opens Show in Jenison Pool Tonight

Porpoise fraternity's eighth annual water show will open tonight at 8:15 for a three night stand at Jenison Field House pool.

This year the water pageant is dedicated to the Varsity Club, and during the show members from each of the 13 varsity sports will be dressed in their competitive uniforms.

Aqua-Mentors Splash T-V will feature both varsity and freshman swimmers in relay and individual exhibitions in freestyle and medley. The program lists 20 variety acts.

Porpoise Queen, Donna Quist and her court, Sally Gibson, Carol Needler, Donnie Stark, and Diana Forsythe, will reign over the three performances.

Jack Hellweke, Bob Hynes, Bob Wightman and Al Brudner will do a musical swim to "Rhythm Stokers." "Count Von Weltzmannburger of Old Vienna," assisted by Bruce Aldrich, will give a knife throwing exhibition.

Don Reynolds will attempt to break his unofficial world's record for underwater swim.

During last year's show, Don swam 100 yards underwater.

Ray Williams, who appeared in the Miami Water Pollies, will do a comic diving act in "The Atomic Age." Bruce Aldrich, winner of the fraternity's outstanding swimming award last year, will swim. Hal Shoup, an All-American choice last season, Clarke Scholes, Big Ten, NCAA, NAAU 50 and 100 yard freestyle champion and Bert McLachlan, Big Ten 440 freestyle winner last year will be among the stellar performers.

Varsity divers, Ken Cayne, Jerry Lockwood, Jack Hellweke, Jack Landman, and Lou Michaud will do comedy and fancy diving in "Dead End Kids," "Aerial Art" and "Diving Acrobatics."

Coeds have been granted a half-hour extension for the show.

HARRY TAMBURO

Another Tamburo in Grid Spotlight

There's an old adage kicking around, "like father, like son," but in the Tamburo family of New Kensington, Pa., you can add "like brother, like brother."

Harry is the most recent addition to the Spartan squad through the courtesy of the "Tamburo's." He follows brother Dick, a linebacker on this year's state grid team, and Sammy, an All-American end in '47 at Penn State.

As a sophomore, Harry stands 5'11" and weighs in at 188. Green and White fans had an opportunity to see the 23-year-old defensive back in action against Pittsburgh.

'Weather Eye' Kept for Notre Dame Tilt

Gridders Adjust to Snow, Cold; Grounds Crew Has Troubles

Couch Biggie Munn ordered his Michigan State Snowmen out into the cold again last night as he kept a weather eye on predictions for the Notre Dame weekend.

"We're not overlooking anything for this one," Munn said. "We'll be out there handling the ball in the snow and the cold just in case we get more of the same on Saturday."

Munn has been dividing his afternoon workout about equally between the steam-heated field-house and the adjoining practice field.

Some new plays have been added to the Spartans roster during the week but Michigan State had mostly been rehearsing the same attack that paid off for the six wins so far this season.

"This stuff has all been proven in the fire," one of the assistant coaches explained. "You don't change your basic attack until you're convinced it isn't getting results."

Rockfield Coach Red Dawson

has been doing most of the work with his secondary defense within the confines of the fieldhouse.

Dawson scouted Notre Dame against Navy but said he saw little that was new during the game. "If they had anything new they were keeping it under wraps," Dawson said. "But the weather was such that they couldn't try anything very fancy."

Michigan State groundkeepers, meanwhile, were worrying about the condition of Macklin stadium. Five trucks and a crew of 30 men worked throughout the day digging snow off the tarpaulin that was spread out earlier this week to protect the turf.

The workmen made the first attack on the snow with scrapers but had to "give up and start shoveling when the machines started ripping up the canvas.

Irish Defense Closes In

Pisano Now All-American Candidate

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Associated Press National Board of 11 All-America nominators took a good look at the college football field yesterday and added 48 names to the list of 78 players eligible for first and second team honors at the end of the season.

The Associated Press All-America teams—both offensive and defensive reflecting the modern trend of play—will not be chosen until after the big games of Dec. 1, assuring that this will be a team based on the full season.

Included in this list were Vince Pisano, MSC right half, and Don Coleman, who was previously mentioned as a leading All-American tackle candidate.

State Win Streak Helped by Creamer's Pivot Play

By TOM RYAN

Michigan State began its 12 game winning streak by defeating William & Mary, 33-14, Oct. 14, 1950.

On the same date, 210-pound Jim Creamer stepped into the offensive center position, and although MSC won all 12 games just because big Jim was in the lineup, his play has been a major factor in the Spartans record of 12 wins against no defeats.

Like the rest of the varsity offensive line, Jim is playing his last year at Michigan State. Creamer hails from Flint, where he played center for Coach Guy Houston at Northern. He was named to the Saginaw Valley team in his senior year, 1946.

Jim also earned names in both basketball and baseball at Northern.

The Flint senior will be the first center to play for Michigan State since 1946. Arizona University, which MSC won, 61-7.

"It was my first college game and I intercepted a pass and ran for a touchdown rate that along with my starting position on the team my biggest thrill," said Creamer, who was 17 in high school, has made the switch to a pivot man, which requires accurate passes back to the back.

Line coach "Duffy" Duggan sums up Creamer's play as points out that "Jim is a rangy type of fella that is to fill the MSC center position he's always in there trying."

Excellent End, Says Dawson Bobo Top Replacement for Offensive End Spot

By JACK ROBE

When Capt. Bob Carey completes his football career at Michigan State College at the end of this season, the Spartans will have a king-sized replacement in Doug Bobo, 21 year old junior from Reed City, Michigan.

As End Coach Earl Edwards puts it, "Doug's physique of 6'2" and 195 lb. is well suited for the offensive end position. Bobo has shown his adaptability for an end by making some sensational pass catches and very fine blocks."

Edwards also says, "Doug is a master at faking the defense out of position and I consider him very capable to take over Carey's end spot next year. All in all I consider him an excellent end."

Last year, Bobo traveled with the varsity squad and barely missed his letter. So far this year he has alternated with Paul Decker on both offensive spots. These two should give the Spartans a terrific punch at the end next season.

While attending Reed City High School, Doug won letters in all four major sports, compiling an amazing total of thirteen. He won four letters in football and three each in basketball, baseball, and track.

Reed City had very good seasons in the grid sport while Doug was playing, compiling a 7-2 record when he was a senior. He received All-State honors in both football and basketball, and set a school high jump record with a leap of 5'10".

When it came to selecting a college, Doug was undecided between Michigan State and the University of Michigan. But he liked the curriculum for his

Snow Forces Calling of JV, IM Games

By JOHN CORNELI

So you think you're having a tough time with all the snow! It may console you to know that you've been joined in your grief by dozens of athletes whose schedules have been disrupted by winter weather.

Leading the parade of stoppages due to weather is the cancellation of the Junior Varsity football game between Michigan State and Notre Dame which had been scheduled for Friday afternoon at the Old College Field. This was announced yesterday by J. V. Coach Dan Devine.

Friday's game would have been the last home stand for the Spartans, who now have only one game remaining on their schedule. The Jayvocs meet Notre Dame on Friday, Nov. 16, at South Bend.

Then, consider the poor harriers. They've been practicing conscientiously all winter in spite of the elements—all eleven inches of it—only to be faced with the possibility of having their Saturday home meet with Notre Dame called off.

Cross-country master Karl Schlademan is conferring with Notre Dame officials, and final word on the situation is expected soon.

The intramural footballers were

Newsman Pick 'All-Stars' From State Legislature

By CLIFF WELLS
A while back the original press corps was asked to pick an all-star team of 19 state representatives selected for outstanding ability and accomplishment.

The newsmen who cover Lansing legislative sessions for the state's largest newspapers and wire services were asked to give their opinions solely on the basis of the representatives' demonstrated ability and records of getting things done.

The newsmen were also asked to submit a brief comment explaining why they thought the legislators deserved the choice.

Let's see if your opinion would be the same as some of the state's crack reporters who chose "Capitol Hill."

Latest below is the all-star team composed of 19 legislators chosen out of a field of 100.

Arnold Ripstein, R-Troy, was chosen "Representative because of his ability. True to his word on both sides of the question."

Ed Carter, D-Detroit, "Fair but on his feet and a credit to the Democratic party. Excellent orator presents his argument fairly and for the same reason he would give to others."

Edward E. Jones, R-Birmingham, "Able to get to the heart of a bill. Highly principled. Could use more time like him in the legislature."

Belle G. Smith, R-Tipton, "Smart, hard-working, loyal to his party and anxious to do a good job for the state. Sincere, honest, not all common in his thinking."

Edward Carroll, R-Mt. Clemens, "Able effective on legislative floor. Most important legislation. Sharp, hard to figure out but certainly effective."

Michael O'Brien, D-Detroit, "Good solid legislator. True to his word in principle rather than all party."

Wade Van Vleet, R-Kalamazoo, "Has a long legislative career when it comes to constitutional legislation. His word is good, when legislative but when things are done on non-party matters, takes the right way."

Walter A. Knox, R-Sault Ste. Marie, "Able to get the legislature to pass difficult legislation."

Mrs. Martha W. Griffiths, D-Detroit, "The smartest lady from either party to sit in the house. Sharp, intelligent, eloquent and resourceful."

Louis C. Cranston, R-Lapeer, "Highly principled, willing to depart from party at moments of fair play. Can't be outwitted on any issue."

In 1934-35 the Institute of Agriculture Engineering, Oxford, England, investigated the performance of windmills as a means of generating electricity.

Opera Troupe to Give Two Performances

The New York City Opera Company is Michigan State College for a two-night stand Nov. 19 and 20.

Monday night the company will present Giacomo Puccini's classic "Madame Butterfly" the drama of a Japanese girl in love with an American naval officer.

Tuesday's performance will feature an English translation of Serge Prokofiev's "The Love for Three Oranges." The opera is a parody on romantic plays, centering around the prince of a fairy-tale kingdom and his search for an enchanted princess during which love and virtue triumph.

Frumber and director of the New York City Opera Co. is Louis Edlund, credited with "the most attractive and entertaining showmanship in the field in America" and with a more modest approach to the time honored form, bringing it nearer to the theater.

Edlund will conduct "Madame Butterfly" at the college Auditorium. Julius Rudel will conduct "The Love for Three Oranges."

Student tickets for both performances will be distributed at 1 p.m. today at the second floor, theaterium of the Union.

Charles Davis, 25-year-old Chicago Negro poet, will compete with other poets at the University of Illinois...

Police Arrest Milwaukee Bank Robbers

MILWAUKEE—Three men who snatched $22,000 in Milwaukee's biggest bank robbery in 17 years were captured with the lot a few hours later yesterday morning in Illinois.

The four were seized without resistance by two Lake County, Ill., deputy sheriffs—minutes after they learned they had eluded pursuers and were in no danger of capture.

Two of the three men rode the 40 miles from Milwaukee to the Illinois state line crammed into the trunk of the car. At the state line, they got back into the car with the others, only to be nabbed by a suspicious police squad and escorted a few miles further on.

FBI agents from Chicago said later that all the money had been accounted for and that the four would be returned to Milwaukee.

Blood Donors Sought Among MSC Students

An appeal was issued to MSC students yesterday for blood donations for Korean casualties.

Red Cross officials said that since the war talks began, civilian casualties have dropped drastically, while casualties are still pouring in, according to Arthur Leach, chairman, Green Helmet, sophomore men's honorary, who has been taking registrations since Thursday and will continue for two weeks.

Students can register in the Union theaterium on Thursday and Friday this week and next week in Organization Room 1 of the Union. Civil representatives will be appointed to promote the cause in the women's dorms, Leach said.

A schedule has been set up for the women's dorms. The representatives will be in West Tower today from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. and South Williams Friday.

Next week they will take applications in North Williams, Monday; South Campbell, Tuesday; West Wednesday; Mayn, Thursday; and London, Friday.

A mobile unit will be set up in the gym going from 8 a.m. to noon and from 1 until 4 p.m. on Nov. 19 and 20.

Leach explained that students under 21 must have their parents' signatures before they can donate. All donors must register for a specific time as the crew can handle only 10 persons every 15 minutes.

Congressional Seat Open for Lansing

Dave Miller, speaker of the Student Congress, announced yesterday that there is a Congressional vacancy in the Lansing district.

Any student living in Lansing and interested in running a Congressional seat is urged to apply. Miller added, "Prizes are available in the Student Government office on the third floor of the Union."

If two or more persons are nominated a special election will be called. If no one nominates, Miller will appoint a representative from the district with the approval of the Congress.

Seniors Asked to Give Back Questionnaires

Out of 500 questionnaire cards sent to seniors who graduate fall term, only 174 seniors have returned commencement cards.

Richard A. Burnett, head of the Commencement Committee, said, "The cards ask seniors if they will participate in fall graduation, how many guests he will have, and the number of announcements they will need. Commencement will include graduate students obtaining their doctor's or master's degrees."

Graduation, Nov. 24, will be changed from Fairchild Theater to the Auditorium if enough students respond to the cards, Burnett said. He urged seniors who expect to graduate fall term to return their cards.
