and Uniform Style
Order Not Yet Placed; Group
Considers Price and Quality

band uniform committee has picked the style uni-the MSC band will wear in the future, according to Lloyd C. Emmons, chairman of the committee.
choice was made at a meeting of the committee on ber 12. But Dean Emwas careful to point
that the committee has not placed an order and is merely concerned with the
of material and price of uniforms.

College Mum On Proposed 1952 Budget

College officials remained quiet yesterday on what proportion of their proposed building and educational program might be curtailed if Governor Williams' proposed MSC budget is passed by the State Legislature.

The suggested appropriation of $1,500,000 for a new college library would guarantee completion of the first year's construction plans, according to Philip J. May, comptroller.

The budget for the college's operating expenses as proposed by the governor totaled $1,205,- 000 less than the amount the college requested. However, May pointed out it is the largest ever proposed for MSC.

The budget as submitted to the State Legislature yesterday allowed for a six per cent increase in wholesale prices over the past year.

Prices have already increased six to seven per cent. Any additional price rise would mean less buying power in terms of goods and services for the college
next year.

Surprise Government Sale Shows A Profit

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special commission set up to sell old bricks, nails and other materials from the White House remodeling job is winding up with a surprise $10,000 profit.

It tried to break even. But it took in $50,000 and spent only $40,000. The difference goes to the U.S. treasury.

Guzik Freed On Charges Of Contempt

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jacob (Greasy Thumb) Guzik, who refused to testify in the Senate Crime Committee's sensational investigation was acquitted yesterday of contempt of Congress.

U.S. District Judge Edward A.
Tamm ruled that Guzik, whose name long has been linked with the Capone gang and other Chicago crime syndicates, was within his constitutional rights in refusing to answer the committee's questions.

In granting a defense motion
for a judgment of acquittal, Judge Tamm said he reached his conclusion "with some difficulty,"
adding:

"But the court feels we are committed to a government of laws, not of men."

The ruling followed previous decisions by other judges that a witness cannot be compelled to answer questions that might tend to incriminate him.

Guzik, a pudgy, gray-haired man in his 60's, showed no emotion when the judge freed him.
Asked by reporters whether he felt "pretty good" about the outcome, Guzik replied: "Naturally
I do."

He added that the Senate Crime Investigation Committee "accused me of a million things before they called me in" as a witness March 22, 1951.

Petitions Available

Alpha Epsilon Rho, national radio honorary, announced yesterday that any students interested in membership can pick up application blanks in room 16 of the Auditorium. Applications must be in by Jan. 18, according to the group.

There have been numerous reports in Washington recently that McGrath might leave the cabinet as a result of tax scandals investigated by a House ways and means subcommittee and involving operations in the Justice Department.

Flying Enterprise Loses Gallant Fight Against Sea

FALMOUTH, Eng. (AP)—The Flying Enterprise has succumbed to the sea.

With her fate sealed in a gale that hammered her beyond endurance, Capt. Ruri Carlsen and Mate Kenneth Dancy leaped yesterday from the crippled seven-year-old
freighter into the sea,
scrambled aboard the British tug Tormen and watched the Enterprise make her death plunge.

Drops from a million dollar
cargo littered the water.

Joehorns of port craft waited in salute at this end to an epic two-week struggle against the sea.

The $711-ton, Intermarine line ship listing heavily to port since a hurricane cracked her docks
Dec. 26, started sinking about 3:30 p.m. (19:15 GMT). Within a few minutes Carlsen and Dancy were off. Her funnel dipping into the water, the Enterprise threatened to flip on her side in the boiling welts. Stern first, she finally slid out of sight at 4:10
p.m.

A small American tug
from the 11th section of her superstructure as she plunged to the bottom about 35 miles southeast of Lizard Point, where English Channel tides challenge the mariners of the Atlantic.

Stay-put Carlsen's luck had run out.

The Danish-born shipper, 37,
watched wearily from the deck
of the Tormen this end to his dream of riding the Flying Enterprise back to a safe harbor with the 1,650-ton cargo of mail, pig iron, coffee, and furniture that was stowed below
when he headed her out of Hamburg for New York Dec.
21.

The U.S. Navy invited Carlsen and Dancy to spend the night
aboard the U.S. destroyer William Keith, one of the escort vessels,
but Carlsen finally decided to remain on the Tormen.

The fog shrouded in the choppy
water of Falmouth's outer harbor about two miles from the main quay, as flashing motor car lights and the tooting of small boat whistles gave Carlsen and Dancy a last glimpse of the Enterprise as they were to get aboard today.

Among those on hand for the welcome were Carlsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Carlsen of Billerud, Denmark, the captain's birthplace. They flew to Britain Sunday.

Governor's Talk Stresses Relief Of Unemployed

Excess Profits Tax, FEPC
Advocated by Williams

By MIKE WRIGHT

Relief of Michigan's unemployment problem was the keynote of Governor G. Mennen Williams' annual speech to the joint legislative session yesterday.

The hour-and-one-half review of Williams' legislative plans for the coming year
hit hard on unemployment,
which has reached serious
proportions in the Detroit
area and other Michigan cities.

Unemployment has been caused by "dislocations incidental to the national defense program and by shortages of critical materials," the governor said. However, he added that some relief is in sight
following a Washington news-canceled rubbers in auto production. This will save 10,000 jobs.

Every effort is being made to bring to Michigan the kind of defense contracts that can be translated immediately to jobs
with existing tools and equipment, Williams said.

Speaking on education, the governor called for a minimum salary for all public school teachers, maintenance of a standard pupil-teacher ratio, increase of public school retirement funds,
and a cleanup of local district school records, some of which have been falsified.

Michigan's state colleges were not mentioned specifically in the message, but he referred to the message "message" which had specific recommendations for a $10 million building program for our institutions of higher learning and for more adequate appropriations to operate these schools.

Williams again called for an excess profits tax on industry.
He said this was the "only adequate solution" to the levying of new taxes, which are necessary to balance the budget.

He recommended that a "fair equipment practice law be enacted. "Racial and religious discrimination in employment
should be formally eliminated
in this state through fair employment practices law," said the governor.

The governor also called for a constitutional amendment to lower the voting age to 18. "I believe that our young people will acquire better habits of citizenship if they are permitted to vote
at an earlier age," he stated.

Other recommendations included an immediate addition of 150 troopers to the State Police force. Williams called for a total of 1,150 men on the force in three years.

A new addition to Michigan's penal institutions designed to ease
the crowded conditions by house-ing many of the older inmates in a "minimum security" institution was recommended as well as a constructive program to deal with sex deviates.

In addition to higher unemployment insurance, Williams
labor program included higher workmen's compensation and temporary disability insurance.
He recommended that the option to either take compensation or be free to sue a negligent third party
be given to the injured worker.

New Policy Adopted for Tax Cases

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury department has adopted a new standing policy of refusing to waive the "no refund" provision
of the Internal Revenue Code
if they voluntarily confess their fraud and pay up.

Secretary of the Treasury Say-pol announced the new policy
in a letter to the chief of the Internal Revenue Service.

Previously, the Treasury Department had been known to
waive the "no refund" provision
in some cases.

The Treasury is cutting out lengthy reviews of tax fraud cases by high officials in Washington. It wants the Justice Department, which handles the cases in court, to do the same.
But Justice officials insist their numerous high-level reviews
are needed to perfect the cases and protect taxpayers from unjustified prosecution.

A Treasury survey of 900 tax fraud cases in 1951 showed that the average case amounted to $10,000. The average amount of taxes involved was $1,000.

This was a period from the time a case first was promulgated by the courts by special Treasury field investigators, in the case it was sent to the Justice Department for prosecution.

New policies will reduce this lag to about 100 days, Treasury officials estimated.

Fraud cases will be sent straight from revenue field offices to the Justice Department, eliminating four stages of higher level review
in regional offices and in Washington.

Education at Night

Michigan State College has come a long way since it was established in 1855 by the State Legislature "to improve and teach the science and practice of agriculture." The College has been reorganized, renamed and vastly expanded during the 94 years that classes have been conducted on the campus. Its concept of education has similarly developed. Today College officials recognize the fact that the College must serve all the people of Michigan to the best of its ability.

First through the Co-operative extensive service and now through the Continuing Education Service MSC has helped thousands of residents throughout Michigan who otherwise might not have been able to receive the benefits of college education and research. Agricultural agents and home demonstration agents with offices in nearly every county have done a commendable job.

In 1947 approximately 7,000 people attended special courses and conferences at the College. During the coming year 125,000 are expected to use MSC facilities. These figures speak for themselves and the job that the Continuing Education Service is doing.

After keeping an eye on the rest of the state for many years MSC officials have at last turned their attention to Lansing residents. For the first time Michigan State Evening College is offering the more than 100,000 residents of the greater Lansing area an opportunity to attend a night school and get college credit for their work.

The program set up this term is still in the experimental stage. It came as a result of a survey made last spring in Lansing industries. College officials felt that the results of the sampling indicated a sufficient interest in evening classes to start them. More than 200 people have registered this term for 67 classes. Evening classes, co-ordinated by the educational and community services of the Continuing Education Service, are expected to be continued spring term.

Whether the program will be continued beyond then or not will depend on interest shown in it by Lansing area residents. Potentially this is another step in the right direction of serving the people of Michigan to the best of the College's ability.

Unemployment Action

It seems very understandable why Governor Williams and Sen. Blair Moody are doing everything in their power to relieve Michigan's unemployment problem. There is also little doubt that the issue, although both men are sincere about it, is a political football.

The whole problem hinges on the Democratic administration in Washington which is taking drastic measures to increase defense production all over the nation.

This means that the allotment of hard-to-get metals to Detroit automobile factories is being sharply reduced, thus cutting down production of cars and causing the unemployment of thousands of workers.

In theory, this shouldn't present a problem of unemployment, because the workers could just switch from one job to another. But unfortunately it is impossible to produce airplanes on an assembly line next to automobiles.

No one realizes the problem better than Williams and Moody, and the whole situation in Michigan reflects the Democratic administration in Washington.

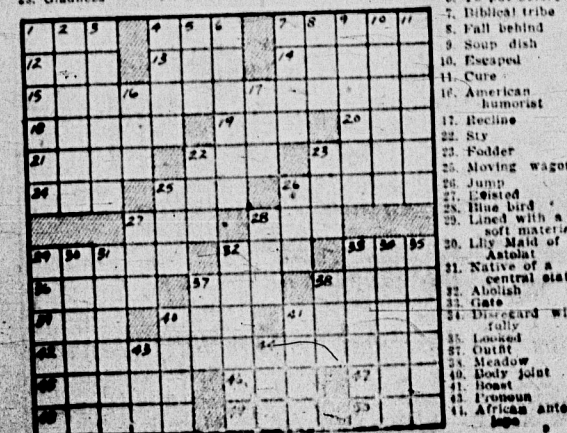

Both the governor and the senator will be going to the polls soon and it is easy to see that most of the votes will come from the factory worker in cities like Detroit.

Naturally the foremost thing in their minds is to get re-elected to office. However, both seem to be working very hard at creating more jobs in Michigan's crowded industrial areas and if they succeed they will have helped the state in a large problem and greatly increased their chances to ride into office again in the coming election.

Roberts Policy Based On Possibility Of Third War

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

President Truman and Winston Churchill said in their post-conference communiqué that Anglo-American policy is based on the premise that war is not inevitable.

But President Truman told Congress in his state of the nation message that "The world still walks in the shadow of another world war."

And if the latter is far more demonstrable than the former, there would be no excuse for the latter part of the "guns and butter" program. (It's still confused over the War Mobilization Board's determination to continue the "guns and butter" program in the face of defense production administration's plans for a big cut in household goods.)

If the second were not believed, the nations of good will could concentrate on the really fundamental business of improving the lot of man to the point where Communism would have no appeal, and could no longer be used as a war weapon by the Russian expansionists.

Churchill has expressed belief that war can be avoided. That, of course, is the whole meaning of the rearmament program.

But Truman's stress on immediate treaty is not overdue. Observers seem to be pretty generally agreed that a climax in tension will be reached in the next year or so. Nobody knows what the Kremlin will do as its propaganda efforts fail to halt the Allied defense program.

Nobody knows how Allied peoples, strained more and more by their defense outlays, may succumb to sudden impulse, under some Soviet provocation, to end all the trouble even at the expense of war. Challenges which might not be accepted in a period of weakness such as the west has just been through could produce and entirely different reaction when the strength for retaliation is at hand.

Allied diplomatic planners have not yet decided what they will do with their new strength. They are not yet planning to draw any lines and say to Russia, "Cross that and we fight." They are lying back and waiting.

Sage Advice

The "Crown" student publication of King's College, editorially advises students to fall in the "middle class" when it comes to study. This is the group, says the Crown, which is the meat between "Joe College playboys" and those who spend all their time in study. A complete education requires extracurricular activities, too, the Crown believes.

Letter to the Editor

Reader Calls Ike Editorial Mature Stand

TO THE EDITOR:

Wednesday's editorial and cartoon (Eisenhower as GOP candidate) were exciting to at least one reader weary of the unvarying editorial slaves to MSC sportmen. The Eisenhower editorial was a good indication that a college paper can include informed student opinion on significant national problems.

The college paper need not be a booster organ for local loyalties, dealing only in defensive editorials and non-controversial news releases. For the reader as well as the writer, the student newspaper can function as a vital part of democratic education.

Nor need the college editorial obediently toady to the lead of off-campus dailies—I doubt, for instance that any other journalist has made the pertinent criticism of Eisenhower's evasiveness and the GOP's consequent irresponsibility that the State News presented Wednesday morning.

Such a position means, of course that the student journalist is sticking his neck out but, if journalistic integrity means anything, it means that the responsible newspaperman is willing to take even an uncomfortable stand on questions that matter. He may be less popular than the back-slapper who echoes accepted opinion, but he is more to be respected.

Wednesday's editorial was a good step towards establishing the State News as mature journalism—a welcome change from the "Sporting News" of the past.

Formal rushing began the first of its four stages Jan. 2. The coeds picked up their bids then and chose six of the sororities to visit Jan. 2, 3 and 4.

Jan. 5, the rushees chose four of the sororities issuing invitations to them and visited them Sunday for the skirt and sweater stage.

Wednesday they attended parties at two of their favorite sororities. Following the dessert last night, the rushees are expected to turn in a list of preferred sororities. This must be done between 8 and 10 a.m. today. Rushees' lists and sororities' lists will be matched by PanHellenic alumni. Final bids will be picked up in the PanHel postoffice Saturday at 10 a.m.

CONFERENCE IN THE CLOUDS

Among the undergraduates on any college campus, you'll find the talk reaching up to the clouds. And once in a while—in a class room, around a study table, or even in a bull session—a really big idea is born.

Big ideas come, too, from the men and women in laboratories, business offices, shops. But often these professionals are exploring a path first glimpsed in college.

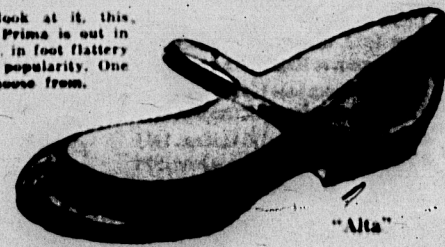

How do we know? Because of the many college people who have come into the Bell System, where big ideas and a lot of dreams have taken their place in progress. The human voice, carried along a wire, first across a town, then a state, a nation, and now the world. Music and pictures and things happening delivered into cities and hamlets all across the land by radio and television networks.

We're always looking for the men and women who get big ideas—whether they're about people, or machines, or ways of doing things. It's the only way the Bell System can keep on giving this country the best telephone service in the world.

Pucksters Play Sioux Tonight

By JACK KOLE

Smarting from two straight defeats at the hands of the league-leading Denver Pioneers earlier this week, Michigan State's hockey team will try to get back in the winning groove when they play host to the powerful North Dakota Sioux tonight and tomorrow night at Demonstration Hall.

Coach Arno Bessone, commenting on the Denver series said, "I was well satisfied with the squad's performance in the second game. With a decent break we could have won." The squad arrived home from Denver late Thursday afternoon, and the team members were very weary from the long jaunt.

The Sioux, who are coached by Cliff (Fido) Furbur, sport a 6-3-1 record for the season and boast a win over the strong Michigan Wolverines, who beat the Spartans 11-1 earlier in the season. Earlier this week the Sioux clipped Michigan Tech twice by scores of 5-4 and 5-2. The Sioux hold a 2-1 record in the Midwest Intercollegiate Hockey League and are pushing Michigan for the runner-up spot.

The Spartans now have a season's record of two wins and three losses. All three of their defeats have been in conference play. Previous to the Denver series they took two from the Ontario Aggies, and lost to the University of Michigan.

Michigan State and North Dakota first clashed in 1950, with the Sioux team walloping the Spartans 14-1 and 12-3. Last season the Spartans again lost twice—this time by 5-4 and 7-3 counts.

North Dakota has a well-tested squad, and promises to give the Spartans a terrific battle. The Sioux possess many top-notch performers, chief of whom are high scoring center Ken Johannson, and Al Finklestein, a sensational sophomore goalie. Finklestein has allowed just slightly over three goals per game thus far, and has two shutouts to his credit. They also have a top defensive star in Elwood Shell.

Other capable performers for the Indians are Ray Huot, who pulled a hat trick against Michigan Tech Tuesday night. Bud Cherkal, a freshman who scored two goals against Michigan, and Dick Burns, another promising freshman.

With Jack Sibbald and Jerry Nicoli both nursing leg injuries, Coach Bessone plans to insert Steve Raz into the starting lineup. The Spartan coach was pleased with the play of Dick Lord, Harold Passerini, and Jack Mayes in the Denver series, and praised Lord as being "the outstanding performer on both teams."

JOHN MAYES

Bessone announced that his lineup will probably consist of Mayes at center, Raz at right wing, Gordie King at left wing, Jack Thomas and Dick Lord at defense, and Del Reid in the nets. Commenting further on tonight's encounter Bessone said, "We expect to have our hands full, and we look for a good, hard game."

Newell Big Reason For Basketball Rise

By TOM RYAN

With eight wins in nine starts, the Michigan State basketball squad is off to its best season in 10 years. Not since the 1941-42 season, when the Spartans won 15 while dropping six, has a State team won more than 12 games in a season.

In 1949-50 the Spartans won four games, the season before, nine games. The reason is not that MSC has suddenly been blessed with a flood of good basketball talent in the last year or so, but it did come up with Pete Newell.

On April 18, 1950, athletic director Ralph Young announced that Peter F. Newell had been signed to replace Alton S. Kirchner as head basketball coach at Michigan State.

"We consider Newell as one of the finest young basketball coaches in America," asserted Young. "Since then many others—opposing coaches, sports writers and fans—have echoed his opinion."

Newell was born on Aug. 31, 1915, in Vancouver, British Columbia. A year later he moved to the United States. In 1935, he entered Loyola University of Los Angeles, where he was a member of the basketball squad and a standout performer on the baseball diamond.

Upon his graduation in 1940, Newell signed a professional baseball contract and played center field for Pine Bluff, Ark., in the Cotton States League. That fall, he signed up as coach for St. John's Military Academy in Los Angeles, where his basketball team football teams were undefeated in two years of competition.

In January, 1942, Newell entered the U.S. Navy. He saw service with armed guard units aboard merchant ships and later took part in amphibious operations at Manila and Okinawa. When he received his discharge in November, 1945, he held the rank of lieutenant, J.G.

Three months later Pete was appointed as head basketball and baseball coach at San Francisco University. Three years later, during the 1948-49 season, Newell's Don squad won the fancy of the basketball world by capturing the National Invitation crown, downing such established cage powers as Manhattan, Utah, Bowling Green and Loyola of Chicago.

His 1949-50 team was again invited to the National Invitational Tournament at Madison Square Garden, but lost to CCNY, the eventual tournament winner. In four years at San Francisco, Newell had attained for both himself and his school a national reputation.

Pete, then moved to MSC, bringing along an assistant, John Benington, who had captained the 1948-49 Don team. The two newcomers inherited a team that had won only four while losing 18 the season before, and was on the eve of entering the Big Ten.

Almost everyone is now familiar with the almost impossible job that was accomplished. Newell inserted a new system: the Spartans were the top defensive team in the Big Ten and fifth in the nation. His team won ten of 21 games, ending up seventh in the Western Conference.

This year seemed like another so-so season for the Spartans before the first whistle was blown. Still lacking the height and scoring punch of most other Big Ten schools, the Spartans were rated to finish seventh in the Western Conference again.

The season started, State edged past Wayne, rallied to drop Denver, defeated Marquette, won over U. of Detroit and then swept past both Dartmouth and Princeton in the Holiday tournament.

An upset victory over Notre Dame really made the experts sit up and take notice of the Spartans, who then lost to Iowa by one point but rebounded to set a new scoring record in their 33-point victory over Northwestern.

When Newell was first appointed as MSC's head coach he said, "It's a tough league I'm coming into, and I'm no miracle man. I'm hoping Spartan fans won't expect me to be. It takes time to really produce good basketball."

Maybe Pete isn't a miracle man, but most fans will be quick to agree that he's done quite a job in one and a half years. And the Spartan fans can wait a little while longer for their towel-chewing coach to lead them back up to the top.

Aggers Bid for Ninth Win

Minnesota Hosts State Saturday

Michigan State's basketball team departed by train for Minneapolis this morning for its first Big Ten game away from home this season. Minnesota will play host to the Spartans Saturday night in a key conference clash for both squads.

Both teams will be trying to better their position in the Western Conference standings. Currently Minnesota is tied for ninth place, having dropped its only conference game to first place Illinois, 52-43. The Spartans are in a five-way tie for second place after defeating Northwestern, 82-49, and losing to Iowa, which is tied for first place with Illinois, 61-50.

Both teams have enjoyed upset victories this season. The Golden Gophers knocked off Kentucky, 61-57, and State defeated Notre Dame, 66-52. Both MSC and Minnesota have also won over Princeton by six points.

Against Dartmouth, the Spartans scored a 15-point victory to Minnesota's 13-point win over the Indians in the Spartan Holiday Tournament.

At forwards, Ed Kalafat, sporting a 16.3 per game average, and Chuck Gelle with an 11.7 average, will face MSC's Bill Bower and Keith Stackhouse. Bower has a 9.5 average while Stackhouse, the team's leading scorer, has an 11.4 average.

At center, Bob Carey, who close to nine points a game will be jumping against John Wallerius. Wallerius has been watching off with Kalafat at the pivot position and has an unimpressive 3.8 average.

At the guards, Gordon Stuart, 7.7, and Sonny Means, 5.5, are teamed against Minnesota's Chuck Menzel, 12.1, and Joe Mitchell, 3.3.

Starting Lineups

Late Sports Wire..

WASHINGTON (P)—The Association of American Colleges voted yesterday to support "any program that will expose and eliminate professional athletes" in intercollegiate athletics.

DETROIT (P)—Gordie Howe took over the National Hockey League goal scoring lead by talking his 21st and 22nd goals of the season in leading the Detroit Red Wings to a 3 to 2 victory last night before 10,229 fans.

CINCINNATI (P)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association again has picked Omaha, Neb., as site of its National Baseball Tournament. The NCAAA, meeting at its annual convention here, said the tourney will be held June 12-16 this year.

NEW YORK (P)—Syracuse is the nation's highest scoring major college basketball team for the second week in a row but Kentucky's famed Wildcats are closing in fast in the race for point making honors.

Pay About $55,000

Feller Receives Salary Boost In 14th Signing with Indians

CLEVELAND (P)—Bob Feller got a pay raise yesterday and wondered if guarantee some $55,000 from the Cleveland Indians in 1952 might not be easier with Joe Dimaggio and Ted Williams gone.

"I certainly see those fellows dropping out," Feller said at his annual contract-signing ceremony—his 14th.

Ten players hit me pretty good, but Dimaggio and (Tommy) Henrich were often tougher."

With Dimaggio retired and Williams going into the Marines, the 37-year-old Feller now, as in a race by himself as an established American League star. His 230 victories against 131 defeats are more than any other active major league hurler can boast.

Paces Irish

Heading the Notre Dame basketball squad that will invade Jensen Fieldhouse Tuesday night is ace forward Leroy Leslie. Notre Dame will be seeking revenge for a 66-52 defeat at the hands of Michigan State earlier in the season.

en Events Stated

ish Clash Tops Next Week

Events are on tap for the State's athletic squads as the Spartans swing second week of the winter season. The basketball, swimming, and gymnastic teams all are scheduled during this period.

The Newell's eagles face the Notre Dame in the first of the week. Tuesday the Big Ten activity begins with Michigan at Newell's scrappy out-of-state game Irish home and away this season.

Arbor the Spartans tested by a rapidly improving Wolverine squad intent on ending a pair of 1951 losses. Last year the Green White whipped Michigan, 61-50.

Bessone's young meets the powerful intercollegiate Hockey contest at Ann Arbor. The Spartans are scheduled in the season. MSC fans will get Coach Fendley's team Friday night as the teams meet highly ranked Teachers State, third last year, dropped to Iowa Teachers.

Conference dual meets for Coach Fendley's swimming team when the Green and White clash with Indiana at Bloomington, Ind. The Spartans will be out to make last year's 56-37 win over the Hoosiers.

Saturday's meet should serve as a fair indication of how the Spartans stack up against Big Ten competition in 1952. Although lacking team depth, the MSC squad has at least one outstanding performer in each event, including champion freestyler Clarke Sholes, distance star Bert McLachlan, and backstroke Hal Shoup. All three were All-American selections last season and are important factors in Michigan State's hopes of dethroning Ohio State as Big Ten champs.

In boxing, MSC's defending NCAA championship squad meets the ever-dominant U.S. Military Academy team Saturday night in Jensen Fieldhouse. The West Pointers are particularly among the nation's top title-crowns and will be a strong test for State.

Back to defend their 1951 crown are Spartan national champions Joe Black in the 145-pound class, and Chuck Spencer in the 175-pound bracket.

The gymnastic team faces Big Ten competition against Ohio State Saturday afternoon in Jensen Fieldhouse.

The Green and White gymnastics team, although hurt by the graduation of Mel Stout, will be out to better its 1951 record when it faces a formidable position to fulfill its Western Conference championship meet.

Rumors Have More Coaches Leaving

By ALEX LAGGIS
State News Sports Editor

The rumor mill on where Biggie Munn's assistants will wind up next year is working full blast again. This time, however, there seems to be some truth behind it.

All season long, Lowell (Red) Dawson, the Spartan's backfield coach, has been rumored to be the next head football coach at Pittsburgh. With the expected appointment of Dawson early next week, the question now is when is Red leaving with him?

Latest word from Pittsburgh has Dawson definitely in it to coach the job. Dawson has already said that he was leaving Michigan State when his contract expires at the end of the season. He received additional support for the job when the Pitt Board of Trustees voted to cast its support for him. The council has one of the eight votes in the Pitt athletic setting.

Sources close to university officials insist that the Tulane Graduate will bring with him Ed Coach Earle Edwards and Freshman Coach Speed Soto. The Associated Press reported yesterday.

Edwards, who joined the Spartan coaching staff in 1949, is complicating matters even worse. The Spokane Chronicle says that Edwards will be interviewed this week as a possible successor to another ex-Spartan coach Forest Frachet. Frachet signed a five-year contract with Iowa State last weekend.

He has departed with a host of MSC coaches when he left in 1950. With Edv west Al Kiercher and Bob Flann Kiercher was State's basketball coach and Flora was line coach.

During his three years at State, Edwards has done a brilliant job with the Spartan ends.

In addition to becoming an astute teacher and coach, quiet, efficient Edwards is State's chief scout, a job which keeps him on the road most weekends and prohibits him from seeing his two players in action Saturday afternoon.

Two More Baseball Players Recalled

NEW YORK (P)—Baseball, still feeling the shock of Ted Williams' call-up, received more jolts yesterday with the news that the Marine Air Corps also has recalled infielder Gerry Coleman of the New York Yankees and outfielder Lloyd Merriman of the Cincinnati Reds to active duty.

Like Williams, $100,000-plus star of the Boston Red Sox, Coleman and Merriman have been ordered to report April 2 for physical examinations. If found fit all three will go on active duty May 2 for at least 12 months.

Down in Montgomery, Ala., Willie Mays, rookie outfield sensation of the New York Giants, was ordered to report for another test on Jan. 16. Willie failed to pass his mental aptitude test on his first try last October.

Club owners began to scan their player rosters and fret. Outfielder Bob Kennedy of the Cleveland Indians, who "laughed" Williams how to fly at Pensacola, expects to hear from the Marine Air Corps any time now. He's a first lieutenant. Al Rosen, the club's star third baseman, was a deck officer in the Navy.

Captain Al Dark of the Giants was an officer in the Marines. Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh's home run clutter, was a Navy pilot. So was pitcher Joe Coleman of the Philadelphia Athletics. That is just a small sampling, sufficient to give some idea of what might lie ahead. The draft will, of course, continue to make heavy inroads on the younger talent.

Michigan State's Pat McLachlan, Big Ten 230-lb. 440-yard free style champ, started his collegiate swimming career as a back stroker.

GOP Senators Demand Recall Of Jessup

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thirty-eight Republican senators demanded yesterday that President Truman recall Ambassador-at-Large Philip C. Jessup on the ground that the American people have "no confidence" in him.

Jessup, whose name figured in the communists-in-government charges aired by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.), is now in Paris as the No. 1 negotiator for the U.S. delegation to the United Nations General Assembly.

On the Senate floor, Senator Styles Bridges (D-N.H.) charged that President Truman in effect committed "a violation of the Constitutional relations" between the Senate and the White House by appointing Jessup to the UN post.

Mr. Truman gave Jessup a recess appointment last Oct. 22, two days after Congress adjourned. The Senate had side-tracked Jessup's nomination after a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee voted 3 to 2 to reject it.

In announcing the appointment, the President roundly denounced what he termed "partisan politics" in the Congressional row over Jessup.

Jessup, a top adviser to Secretary of State Acheson, has sworn he never followed the Communist line, never advocated measures to undermine Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's Chinese Nationalist government, and never helped bring about the Red conquest of China.

The demand for Jessup's recall today came in the form of a resolution asking the Senate as a whole to declare that Jessup "does not command the confidence of the American people."

All but eight of the 46 GOP Senators signed the resolution, and Bridges, the new Republican floor leader, asked all others including Democrats to join in.

The eight GOP Senators whose names were not listed as signers of the resolution were Lodge (Mass.), Morse (Ore.), Ives (N.Y.), Tobey (N.H.), Aiken (Vt.), Flanders (Vt.) and Case (S.D.), and Williams (Del.).

Insurance Workshops Start Today

The first of 10 training workshops designed for employees of the Michigan Department of Insurance opens on campus today.

Others will be held once a month through October.

The workshops are designed to help the employees to do their jobs more efficiently. The first group will be composed of women employees who will receive training in effective communications.

Half of the Department of Insurance office force will come to the campus in the morning, the other half in the afternoon.

The Department of Speech and of Home Economics have helped in planning the program and will contribute specialists in office problems to the workshop program.

Such matters as personal appearance and the use of the telephone will be discussed.

The workshops are sponsored by the Michigan Association of Insurance Agents in cooperation with MSC's Continuing Education Service.

Lawyer Explains Costello's Balking At Quiz Questions

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Costello's lawyer said yesterday the racketeer balked at Senate Crime probes' questions, for fear he'd land in jail.

Defense Attorney George Wolf made that claim to try to prove Costello acted in good faith and was afraid he'd incriminate himself before the Kefauver Crime Committee last March.

A jury hearing contempt of the Senate charges against the 60-year-old Costello was sent out of the courtroom while Wolf offered his arguments to Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan.

Wolf said the Senate Committee branded Costello head of a national crime syndicate that cost the government huge gambling tax revenues.

Fair Practices Act Introduced By Legislator

The "fair practices act," a labor anti-discrimination bill, was introduced in the Legislature yesterday by Rep. Cronin (R-Lapeer). If passed, the bill would eliminate practices of discrimination in employment of persons because of race, creed, color or national origin.

The measure would also set up a "Michigan Fair Practice Commission" consisting of five members appointed by the governor, with general jurisdiction and power to carry out the provisions of the act. The commission would receive, investigate and pass upon complaints alleging discrimination and hold hearings concerning the matter.

The commission may also set up such advisory agencies and conciliation councils on a local, regional, or state-wide basis, as it deems necessary to assist it in its functions.

Any person discriminated against could file his complaint with the commission.

After 14 Years, His Own Command

PORTSMOUTH, VA. (AP)—The task took 14 years. He had to win four bouts with cancer and clip miles of red tape to do it. But this week, Lt. Comdr. Edwin M. Rosenberg finally took command of his first ship.

Probably there had been no moment like it in all his life, when Rosenberg became skipper of the USS J. Douglas Blackwood, a destroyer escort, at Norfolk naval shipyard here on Monday.

As late as March, 1946, naval doctors had assured him he had no longer than two weeks to live. Rosenberg kept on living and then, after being "washed out" into retirement, had to battle his way back into the Navy.

It took an act of congress to get him back to active duty. President Truman personally authorized his reinstatement to full active status.

Now he finally has reached his goal—a command all his own.

Mr. Truman squelched these at his news conference. He not only announced his choice of McGrath for the cleanup job but said, in response to questions, that the Attorney General is not stepping out of the Justice Department.

Further labor legislation in the area of public employees was urged. Williams said the current statute on strikes by public employees fails to establish a workable means of settling grievances of public employees.

Old age assistance is too low to meet increasing needs, Williams said. He urged general revisions in the assistance act and a study of the best way to provide for the aged.

Liquidation of the Trust Fund was urged, but he said that absentee soldier's made easier.

Establishment of a Housing Commission on the governor's initiative would develop housing programs, use federal subsidy to cost housing. Williams said the report of the Michigan Authority on housing was good.

In the final part of the program, Governor Williams said that the reorganization of state's Little House was enacted.
