Senate Investigates Secret Air Project Near North Pole

Money, Manpower Waste
Charges Discussed at Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators discovered yesterday that mechanics have been drawing wages at a rate of $12,000 a year on a highly secret air base project near the North Pole, while laborers have been earning $13,000.

Questions by Downey Rice, chief of a Senate watchdog committee, also brought out the workers collected more than three million dollars before even reaching the North Pole project is so secret that only guarded references were made to it at a public hearing conducted by a subcommittee probing charges of waste in manpower and money.

Gen. Lewis A. Pick, chief of the project, testified that the project was a "hazardous beyond anything ever encountered in the history of the United States."

The project was a "hazardous beyond anything ever encountered in the history of the United States."

Campus Picked as Setting for Films

MSC to Play Part in War of Truth

Michigan State has been chosen to play a part in the war of truth to combat Communism. The film strips, which show the practical workings of Communism, are now being prepared in the Central Michigan University and the American Council on Education.

She is the director of film exhibits and pamphlets for Creative Arts Studio in Washington, D.C., a private concern which does numerous projects for the U.S. Department of State.

Proclamation, Lincoln's Specs Go at Auction

NEW YORK (AP)—Abraham Lincoln probably would have been amazed.

A copy of the Emancipation Proclamation—a discarded copy with an error in it—has been sold for $18,000.

The document and hundreds of personal articles were part of the most important Lincoln auctions in years. It was a two-day sale of the famed Lincoln collection of the late Oliver Barrett of Chicago.

The particular proclamation was also signed by Secretary of State William H. Seward. There is no record that Lincoln ever saw the copy again after signing it.

A pair of Indian moccasins, Lincoln would never have believed it, sold for $275 as did his spectacles.

NATO May Cut Plans For Arming

Ministers Meet
With Acheson

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—The Atlantic Pact ministers pondered yesterday the possibility of revamping European defense plans in the light of the shift of Soviet pressure to Asia.

Foreign, defense and finance ministers of the 14 member nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) met here behind closed doors to hear top-level reports on the Soviet Union and its latest policies.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson was reported to have told the NATO council there are good chances for a Korean armistice before spring.

Tax Amendment Approved As Record Number Votes

Barbara Mason, Springfield, Mass., senior, yesterday, threw Van Zandt, Holland sophomore, and Don Holland, Rochester freshman are the election workers.

Proposal Passes By Majority of 985

Scores of Ballots Disqualified
For 'Suspected Irregularities'

Going to the polls in record numbers, MSC students yesterday gave the 25-cent student tax proposal a thumping 985 vote majority in an election which saw scores of ballots disqualified.

Nearly 6,000 of State's 11,449 undergraduate students cast ballots. The vote was:

For the tax: 3,422
Against: 2,437

The balloting was rerun by reports that some ballot boxes were left unattended part of the day.

"The ballots were thrown out because of suspected irregularities in some fraternities and sororities," said Ted Eck, Elections Committee chairman. He also pointed out that the disqualified votes did not necessarily mean they were irregular.

Stassen, seeking the Republican presidential nomination, said he sent the following telegram to McGrath last Monday:

In view of your key position of public trust in the present national situation I am addressing this question to you.

"I have received persistent confidential reports that you have become a millionaire during the years of your public office holding since your first inauguration as governor of Rhode Island."

"If it is true, I further ask for a general description of the principal sources of your new wealth during these years."

In a prepared address, the former governor of Minnesota told a National Republican Club dinner that "I have received no answer."

Rejoicing over the passage of the tax, Gaylord Sheets, student government president said: "This is the biggest step forward for the student body yet. The students have proven to themselves that they want a strong government. It is now our duty to justify the faith placed in us and carry out the program they want."

Student Government began immediately to prepare their tax machinery which will become effective spring term. Officials said they expected to assess students 16 cents next term.

A final decision on the assessment will be made later this term, with the money being collected during spring registration and deposited with the college treasury.

Coeds approved the tax overwhelmingly with a 1,335 to 409 vote. In men's dormitories the vote was very close.

With 5,859 votes cast the voter turnout proved to be the largest ever recorded in student body history.

Washington Gave On Buying Binge

WASHINGTON (AP)—This city today will remember the man who gave it its name by going on a terrific buying binge.

Yesterday's Evening Star has 144 pages—an all-time week-day high for a newspaper here—to list the George Washington birthday bargains.

Nobody is quite sure how this custom began. But why it started is obvious: Most government workers have a holiday on Washington's birthday, so it's a good time to get them into the stores.

Distribution Of Cards for Poll Completed

Distribution of business reply cards for the spring graduation date poll was completed yesterday, according to Gene McDer-mott, senior class president.

The poll will allow the seniors to tell whether they prefer a Saturday or Sunday commencement. Space is also provided for comments.

The Saturday graduation date was set last summer, but President Hannah agreed to delay the choice of a speaker until the results of the poll were determined.

The Registrar's Office worked with the Senior Council in addressing the cards for the poll.

Rodney Advises On Draft Notices

Col. Dorsey R. Rodney, coordinator of military affairs, asked yesterday that students who have received their first draft induction notice see him for information concerning a postponement.

"Many students do not realize that induction notices can be postponed until the end of the academic year," Rodney explained.

"Preparing to Teach" is devoted entirely to the work of Central Michigan College, and "Helping the Handicapped" features the programs of Lansing public schools and MSC to aid the physically handicapped.

Miss Williams arrived at Kellogg Center last week and will make it her headquarters during her stay here in this area. The project is expected to take about six weeks.

Nunan Named in Blast By Delaware Senator

WASHINGTON (AP)—In another blast at Joseph C. Nunan and the Internal Revenue Bureau, Sen. Williams (R-De.) said yesterday "not one dime" has been collected on tax claims of almost two million dollars against four of Nunan's law clients.

Nunan resigned as Internal Revenue commissioner in 1947 and set up a law practice.

Williams told the Senate that Nunan and others in his law firm have enjoyed a "flourishing" business in tax cases which were pending in the revenue bureau before they left their jobs there.

The four cases cited today were: Lawrence Bardin of Racine, Wis., whom Williams described as a man with "an established criminal record." The Senator said Bardin owed the government $728,608 in income taxes, excluding penalties and interest.

Alvin Bardin of Racine, Lawrence Bardin's brother, against whom the government claimed $589,191.

In all four cases the claims cover the years 1944, 1945 and 1946, he reported.

Nunan got special government permission to represent these taxpayers, since their cases were pending while he was still working for the treasury.

Wilson Ends 'Courtesy Call' With Hannah

Big Ten Commissioner Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson left yesterday after making a "courtesy call" to President John Hannah, but had no comment on the meeting.

Major topic of the discussion was the recommendations on athletic reforms recently made by the American Council on Education, according to President Hannah.

Wilson said the code submitted by the ACE would be discussed at a Big Ten meeting before April 1. If the code is adopted, it is expected to affect spring term practice and eligibility standards.

Dr. Hannah couldn't comment on what recommendations Wilson would make at the meeting, but said the only difficulties were likely to be the spring practice cuts and elimination of Rose Bowl games.

Deadline Set For Entering UMOC Contest

Today is the deadline for entering the Uplight Men on Campus contest sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity.

Two women's living units had not entered candidates yesterday, according to Wilfred Steczek, UMOC chairman.

New entries in the contest are: Clark Seneca, Kappa Delta, Bill Ken, Campbell, Dean Garter, Kappa Alpha Theta, Doug Clemmer, Gilchrist, Bob Hynes, East Lansing, Ward Overdick, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Dick Marvin, Chi Omega, Dan Heines, Alpha Phi, Rovee Benjamin, South Williams, and Bill Morgan, East Maye.

Steczek said that candidates may be entered today and that the materials for all candidates should also be turned in.

Campaigning will start Monday but votes will not be accepted until March 2.

Proceeds from the contest will go to Campus Chest.

MSC Fraternity Chapter Selected Conference Hosts

Members of the MSC chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, will host the sectional conference of the organization today at the Kellogg Center.

The meet will be a "working program," training the meet in the activities and procedures of other schools, according to Doug Stuart, Chairman of the Conference Planning Committee.

Saturday afternoon will highlight service projects, pledge training, extension, the executive committee, chapter finance, committee responsibility and leadership training.

C. W. Otto, secretary of the Lansing Chapter of Conference, will be the featured speaker Saturday night.

The national president, Purdue professor, Daniel Den Uyl, will be the honored guest at the convocation.

Elementary Education majors may make Marshall Field Study Group applications for Fall term, according to Professor T. L. Stearns, head of the department.

No man in high public office gains the favor of everyone. Not even George Washington could do it.

There were men in Washington's day who sincerely believed George was leading the nation to its doom, and they made their views public, too.

He has been described as a rather uninspired man who went steadily about his work and saw to it that the work was done. Just how true this description is, is a matter of conjecture.

A rather common saying today is, "Things would be different if we had a man like Washington in office." Maybe they would, but then again, maybe slow-but-steady George would be lost in this age of speed.

So our point is this: George Washington was an exceptional man. He led his countrymen through the most crucial periods in our history, and today he stands as an inspiration to his successors.

There are able men in America public life today. Criticism is much more widespread through the modern media of communication, however. And again, the nation faces a crucial period.

Washington, the "father" of his country came through. Maybe his "sons" will, too.

Check Setup of GI Bill Faulty. Vet's Wife Writes

TO THE EDITOR:

In regards to the veteran's GI Bill subsistence checks, I firmly believe there are two aspects that should be checked for changes.

One of these aspects was the one mentioned in the State News on Monday, Feb. 11, suggesting that there should be an increase in the checks to meet the increases in our present day prices.

The other aspect is also important. In receiving our last two subsistence checks, we found that they were from ten to twenty-five dollars less than our allotment. We were not warned of this in advance. In checking, we found that we were not being paid for registration week. But the fact remains that we must eat and live then too. To the best of my knowledge, this is the first year that the checks have been cancelled for registration week. Who is this being done now? We still have veterans in school.

After going to classes five to seven hours a day, my husband has a part time job to fill in the gap between the subsistence checks and the high prices.

The point I am trying to make is that he and many other veterans could devote more time to studying if the checks were higher and it wasn't necessary for them to work four hours extra on top of an all ready full day.

I'm not asking for sympathy. I'm asking for consideration for the many veterans who fought for us. They didn't forget us. Are we going to forget them?

Name withheld by request.

Reader Asks Criteria Used In Criticism

TO THE EDITOR:

Open letter to L. Wesley Chatman.

As one who witnessed the presentation of the term play, "Rose Without A Thorn" in its initial performance, I would like to question the criteria by which you consider yourself critic of sufficient stature to criticize in the manner displayed in the State News of Thursday, Feb. 21.

For one who writes with as poor style and little consideration of fact to pan publicly as you have, a polished amateur production, is a mediocre display of worst ineptitude.

To expect Bill Carey to resemble Henry VIII physically is ridiculous. It would be like expecting Laurence Olivier to be a photostatic copy of Hamlet and Caesar. Mr. Carey rendered a performance of the monarch in sympathy with the playwrights and director's interpretation.

For one with as little imagination as you have shown in criticizing the well-staged play, "Rose Without A Thorn" leaves one to assume that you are either (to use an over-worked adjective) a frustrated actor-director or a particularly inept source of inaccurate word usage.

Marlyn Ferguson

TO THE EDITOR:

Your critic's review of "A Rose Without A Thorn" showed little knowledge of the theater or understanding the elements which go to make up an interesting stage show and displayed mainly a desire to become a college George Jean Nathan through trashy, absurd comments which call attention to himself rather than to readers and give an intelligent evaluation of the production.

It is the critic's right to say what he likes, but a reviewer who lacks background in the theater through study or experience should make an effort to be fair and to avoid extreme, caustic, vitriolic comments.

The unfortunate "word inspired" was used to describe the performance of the leading man. With this I take extreme issue. Webster defines the word as meaning "without flavor, tasteless," and this is absurd as applied to Bill Carey's portrayal.

An actor's personality will always appear through the character he portrays and in Carey's case, to even attempt to portray the insipid would be a physical and mental impossibility. Carey is moving

Artificial Leg No Handicap Says Boxer

NACOGDOCHES, Tex. (AP)—Monty Stratton's counterpart—although in a different sport—has come forward.

Stratton was the fellow who lost a leg in a hunting accident but returned to baseball. So inspiring was the story of the ex-big leaguer that a motion picture was made of his life.

Now there's young Tom Wilson. He had an artificial leg, too, but he became a top amateur boxer.

Wilson was on the Lufkin High School football squad and his leg was broken at the knee in a 1942 spring scrimmage. Gangrene set in and the leg was amputated.

One night Tom was watching a bout between two amateurs. "The thought hit me that were I to practice and concentrate on my balance, I might be able to enter some of these tournaments," he recalls.

He now has a record of 15 victories and three defeats.

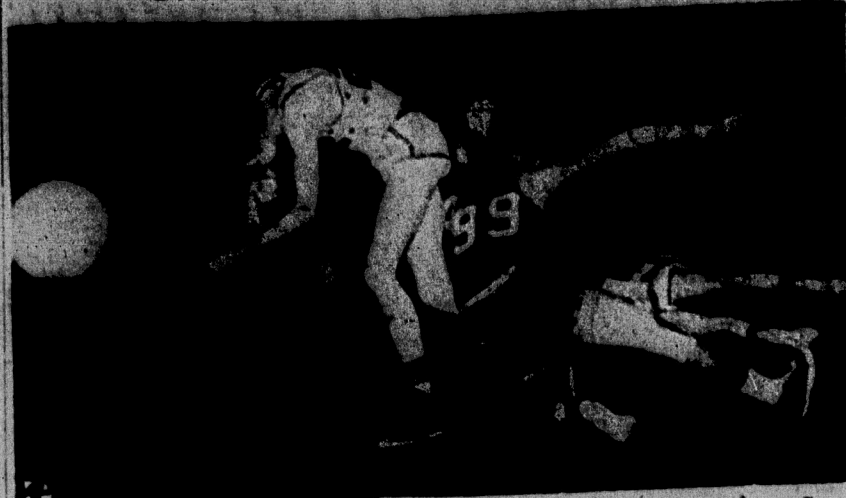

"I never feel handicapped in the ring," he says. "In fact, I feel equal to any one of my opponents."

There was much speculation and criticism the night Tom entered the ring in Lufkin in April of 1948 and his first fight. He had trained against the advice of friends who warned him to stay out of the ring lest he suffer embarrassment and injury. But as the tournament wore on, Wilson won the fans and the lightweight championship.

Then followed more fights in other tournaments. He waded through the opposition. Today he is defending champion of the Rusk Kiwanis Club and has held lightweight titles in the Jacksonville Lions Club tournament.

The handicap rule prohibits him from competing in the State Golden Gloves tournament.

Ralph the 'Answerman'

Branca, Thomson Become Banquet Hits

VERO BEACH, Ala. Feb. 19—Ever since Bobby Thomson hit "that" home run in the playoff final, Ralph Branca has been the "answer man" of baseball.

All winter he attended baseball banquets two or three times a week. The New York Giants' shining hero often was present.

"Night after night the big Brooklyn Dodger pitcher had to answer, 'what did you throw him?' and 'why?' It got a little monotonous."

Those who knew Branca as a highly intelligent, sensitive young man, wondered what the effect would be. They feared the Thomson home run might become a complex that would affect his baseball future.

Branca himself provided the answer when he appeared in the baseball writers' show at New York. After Thomson faced Branca's picture and sang a fetching duet entitled "Because of You," big Ralph strode from the wings to kid himself by singing another parody of the same song and followed with "Oh, What He Did to Me."

"I got hardened to it after a while," he said. "I don't think it will have any effect on me. Somebody had to throw up that pitch. I was it. I just tried to waste one, high and inside, and he hit it into the stands."

How about facing Thomson the first time this season? Would he try to waste another—high and inside?

"He'll be just another batter for me to try to get out," said Branca. In the excitement over the big homer that won the pennant for the Giants, it was easy to overlook the fact that Branca had a pretty good year with his 13-12 record.

Contrary to most of the Dodgers, Branca doesn't think the Giants are the team the Brooks have to beat this year. He rates the Phillies toughest because of their "deep" pitching with Curt Simmons coming back, Howie Fox, Bubba Church, Robin Roberts, and Russ Meyer.

Book Shines New Players

NEW YORK (AP)—A quick look at the 1952 American football book leaves you with the vague impression that the players might as well be in the spring and open season or in the pub they are in mind for the day and night of it. The book seems they won't have any against the sparkling players. The life history of more than 100 of these youngsters are listed in the latest opus, with the glowing set of the biographies and the respect the biographies are written by themselves.

Wrestlers Set For Powerful Wolverines

Making their last home appearance of the season, the Michigan State wrestling squad is set to meet the University of Michigan tomorrow evening at 8:45 in Jenison Fieldhouse.

Ice Squad Out to Break Minnesota Jinx

By JACK ROSE
Michigan State's hockey squad will be out to break a Minnesota jinx when they take the ice against the Gophers tonight in the first game of a two game Midwest Intercollegiate Hockey League series. Face off time for both contests is at 8 o'clock in both halls.

The Spartans will be seeking their first win over Minnesota in a series that dates back to 1925. Since that time the Gophers have whipped State in 11 contests.

In the past two years the Gophers have clipped the Spartans six straight times, four times last year and twice earlier this month in a series in Minneapolis.

By breaking a four game losing streak last weekend against Michigan Tech with a brace of wins, the Spartans brought their season's record up to 7-9 and their conference record up to 3-8. Coach Amo Bessone would like to take another pair to bring his season's average up to the 500 mark.

Johnny Mayes is currently leading the point production for the Spartans with 23, on nine goals and 14 assists. He has already bettered the previous season's record of 19 by four. Mayes also leads the Spartans in assists.

The man the Gophers will be trying to stop, however, is right wing Weldie Olson. Olson has been on a scoring rampage of late, and scored five out of the six goals that State scored against the Gophers in their last series. In the last game against Tech he scored three goals to continue his hot streak. He is second to Mayes in total points, and he leads in goals with 11.

Coach Bessone has indicated that he would alternate goalies in the series. Del Reid will guard the cage tonight while Gerald Bergin will take over the net minding tomorrow evening.

Also starting for the Spartans will be their flashy frosh line of Mayes, Olson, and Gordie King. John Thomas and Dick Lord will start behind the blue line.

The second line of Co-Capt. Bill McCormick, Hal Passerini, and Steve Raz, which has not been too effective lately, is also certain to see plenty of action.

The addition of goalie Jim Matteson to Gopher ranks has lifted their stock tremendously. After their convincing wins over State, they split a series with North Dakota last weekend, trouncing the Nodaks 9-2 in the first encounter. They have a season's record of 9-13 and have two league victories.

Pacing the Gophers in the front line will be sensational frosh center, John Mayasich, and sophomore wings Dick Dougherty and Gene Campbell. At defense Minnesota will probably start Frank Larson and John Reidehead.

Coach Bessone rates the Spartans as underdogs against the vastly improved Minnesota sextet. But he promises a couple of exciting and hard-fought hockey games against the Gophers.

Wrestlers Set For Powerful Wolverines

Making their last home appearance of the season, the Michigan State wrestling squad is set to meet the University of Michigan tomorrow evening at 8:45 in Jenison Fieldhouse.

The Spartans, boasting a record of five wins and a draw in seven starts, will be meeting a Wolverine squad that has dropped two encounters this season.

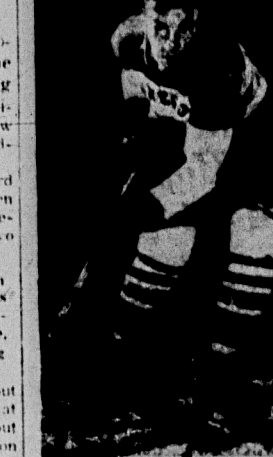

Since their two early season losses, however, Michigan has developed into a strong contender, and at the present time, rates near the best in the Big Ten.

The Wolverines were without the services of its two top men at the beginning of the season, but with the addition of Jack Gallon and Larry Nelson, the team regained its pre-season rating.

Coach Fendley Collins will probably stick with the same lineup that made the Wisconsin trip, when the Spartans took a 16-11 win over the Badgers.

Wrestling for State at 123 will be Bob Gagner, 130, Dick Gunner, 137, Ed Casalechio, 147, Vito Perrone, 157, Bob Hoke, 167, Orris Bender, 177, Dick Thornton, and heavyweight, Larry Fowler.

Pace Weekend Opponents

These three outstanding athletes will be seen against Spartan teams in competition this weekend. At the left is John Mayasich, freshman center on the University of Minnesota hockey squad which faces off tonight against the Spartans in the first of a two game series. Mayasich leads the Gophers top line and rate as one of Midwest's finest hockey players. Jack Gallon, center, University of Michigan wrestler, will go for the

Eckstrom Gives Center Slot Depth

Among the six members of the 1951-52 basketball team that are due to graduate in June is forward-center Bill Eckstrom. Eckstrom has seen action in 11 of Michigan State's 19 games this season and is one of the seven lettermen on the squad. The 21-year old senior stands 6' 3" and hails from Grant, Mich.

Bill played four sports at Grant high school, participating in football, basketball, track and baseball. He earned 14 letters as a prep and received mention on several all-state basketball teams in his senior year.

In the fall of 1948, Bill enrolled at Michigan State. He was a member of the Freshman football squad for several weeks. A lefty, Eckstrom was a candidate for the tailback slot before he suffered an injury and decided to try out for the basketball team.

Strong Gopher Team to Test State Strength

By BOB LEWIS
Michigan State's gymnastics team will make its final home appearance of the season tomorrow afternoon in Jenison Fieldhouse when they face a powerful University of Minnesota squad.

The meet, slated to get underway at 2:30, will pit two teams with identical season records, and, according to statistics, with almost identical scoring strength.

The Spartans have been unable to stop the Gophers in four years of competition, but came the closest last season when they went down by a 51-45 margin.

Under the direction of Dr. Ralph Piper, Minnesota has won more than 110 meets over a 20-year span.

Independent Cagers Reach Quarter-Finals

By DON CAMERON
The terrific IM playoff series continued last night with two more basketball teams ousted. Latest hopefuls to fall by the wayside were the Hawkey Club and Old Bucks.

Five fall men under the banner of Lansing Y crushed the diminutive Hawkey Club to reach the independent quarter-finals. The heights of the "Y" team exploded for 36 points in a wild second half as they breezed home 53-8.

In the only other game played, Brewers slayed in the thick of things with a 33-19 win. Gar Toornaman and Ted McConnell pumped in jump shots with deadly accuracy to dispose of the Old Bucks.

Toornaman collected 10 and McConnell nine to spell the difference against the outclassed Bucks. Most of the winner's tally came in the last half as they steadily gained away. Gordon Ensing was best for the Bucks with nine tallies.

Return Bout State Boxers Drill For Gopher Match

By LEN BLEWETT

With only four days remaining until the victory-starved Minnesota boxers invade Jenison Fieldhouse, Coach George Makris' punchers are stepping up the tempo of their workouts.

This match is definitely in the "revenge" class as Ray Chisholm's Gophers are anxious to atone for last week's 84-21 loss to the Spartans at Minneapolis.

The Gophers have assembled a raw and untested team made up primarily of sophomores. In the featherweight, lightweight, and heavyweight divisions, however, they have rugged contenders who have proved their worth so far this season.

Classiest of the Minnesota contingent probably is 125-pounder Neil Osthun. He is NCAA featherweight king and defeated State's Jimmy Evans last time out. Makris has been helping Evans sharpen up his punches during the week and his rematch with Osthun Monday night should be a stand-out.

Spartan Norm Andrie will have a tough time in his second match with John Randall, Minnesota lightweight. Randall is a former Minneapolis Golden Gloves champ and is undefeated in dual meet competition this year. He drew with Sam Jones, Vic Harris, and cupped a decision over John Echevarria from Idaho in addition to his win over Andrie.

The Gophers' have a top-notch man in the heavyweight bracket in Sam Orlich, a 195-pound junior. Orlich is in his first season of boxing and is undefeated. He drew with Spartan Alex Tsakiris his last time out. The bout was snipped when Tsakiris suffered a cut eye in the first round.

Makris has announced that he may do a little line-up shifting for Monday night's meet. He has stated the possibility of using middleweight Leon Hamilton, who has been idle since the match with Gonzaga last Jan. 28. If Hamilton should move to lighter weight divisions and either Herb Olson or Dick LaForge will be in action at 139 pounds.

LaForge has cupped every decision since he got a varsity berth against Fort Custer.

Abbot Swimmers Dethrone W. Shaw

Abbot's swimmers nosed out West Shaw in the final relay in last night's inter-dorm swim to take first place honors and dethrone a two-year champion.

First by Ross Thompson in the 50-yard freestyle and Ken Staigus in the 50-yard breast stroke, coupled by wins in both relays ran Abbot's point total to 49. West Shaw was a close second with 43. They were followed by Snyder with 33, East Shaw with 16, and Mason with 15.

The meet was sparked by three new records. Thompson churned the 50 yard freestyle in :24.6 for one, and West Shaw's Eugene Lohents swam a :58.2 in the 50 yard breast stroke for another.

The third mark was broken by Jim Dosed of Snyder, who swam the 200 yard freestyle in an impressive 2:15.6.

Fencers Seek Victory Over Northwestern

The Michigan State fencing team will try for its fifth victory tomorrow afternoon at the expense of Northwestern University, facing the Wildcats at 1:30 in Jenison Gym.

After an extra week of preparation, Coach Charles Schmitt's squad is expected to be in top shape for its second Big Ten clash. The Spartans will be out to repeat a 14-13 triumph over the Wildcats last year.

Northwestern has won two out of four meets this season. In conference play they have downed Wisconsin, 17-10, while losing to Illinois, Big Ten defending champions, by an identical 17-10 mark.

Only one regular, Fred Freiheit, still holds an unblemished record at the midway point of the season. However, Freiheit should have his hands full when he meets Northwestern's Dick Persellin in the top sabre pairing.

Slated to start tomorrow's meet are fencers Ray Tette, Ralph Kallmar, and George Carr; Dick Berry, Bill Pierson, and Al Walker in the epee; and Bob Bristol, Fritchett and Ray Monte in the sabres.

Jayvees Travel

The Michigan State JV basketball squad travels to Columbus, Ohio, tomorrow evening to meet the Ohio State junior varsity. Earlier in the season Coach John Remington's team defeated the Buckeyes, 65-56.

Ball Players Make a Few Words Count

NEW YORK (AP)—Sometimes a casual remark, as unpremeditated as a hiccup, gives a better insight into the character and tenacity of the person who utters it than several thousand carefully planned words.

There was a remark by Eddie Stanky before a world series game last fall, for instance. Eddie had injured a leg, and there was some doubt that he would be able to play, a doubt shared by everyone but Eddie.

"It isn't broken, is it?" he blurted, with the clear intimation that anything less than a broken bone could be put in the same inappreciating class as an itching ear.

Then there was the curt comment of Enos Slaughter when it was suggested that often he had shown unusual intestinal fortitude in playing when suffering from injuries which might send a less hardy athlete to an emergency ward.

"If you've got your heart in the game," he said in that bluff, voice, "you overlook busted fingers and such things."

Red Stand Thwarts Truce

Allies Blame Stalemate On Russia

Inspection Role Cause of Snag

MUNSAN (AP)—Communist insistence on Russia as a "neutral" inspector tightened the Korean truce talk deadlock yesterday, and an Allied broadcast laid the blame on Moscow.

In the gloomy atmosphere of fresh stalemates, staff officers agreed to return to the conference tents of Panmunjom at 11 a.m. to try again.

The United Nations staff officers for the first time yesterday told the Communists why Russia was unacceptable as one of six neutral nations which would provide teams for supervising armistice.

It was Russia's "record of past participation" in Korea. While this was not elaborated, it was obviously a reference to Russia's arming of the North Koreans for the war and its supply of guns, tanks and planes have been flowing since into the conflict.

Communist staff officers in reply argued that Russia was for peace and that the UN command position was without logic.

In the shadow of the debate over Russia, no progress was made in the talks on item three—supervision of a truce.

The Communists held firm to their figure of a maximum of 50,000 troops to be rotated by each side monthly. The Allies have scaled down their figure to 35,000 and seem unwilling to compromise further.

The prisoner exchange staff officers meeting made slight progress on a draft agreement, but there, too, the main issue has been bypassed—the question of voluntary repatriation of prisoners. The Reds want all prisoners returned. The Allies want to leave the decision up to individual prisoners.

Enlarged Midway

Spartacade to Feature Games, Shows, Prizes

The second annual Spartacade will feature an enlarged midway March 8 from 7 to 12 p.m. in Jenison Fieldhouse, Bob Scott, publicity director, announced yesterday.

The one-night event is sponsored by 48 groups, some of which have combined in pairs. Each booth is erected by its sponsors and all receipts go to Campus Chest which sets the rules of participation for each entrant.

Two trophies for each class participation and non-participation will be awarded by three judges.

The judging system is based on a 200-point total. 125 points for attractions on the booth, acts, displays, and a movie runs the number of tickets received.

Judges include an artist, a display adviser and a citizen at large. Names will be withheld to eliminate any biased decisions, Scott said.

Director Starr Koesler will narrate "Postmark East Lansing" and films of Ohio State and Notre Dame in action against the Spartans at St. Louis Tuesday.

Jack Breslin, field secretary, will attend a district meeting at Gaylord the same evening while John McGoff, assistant director of alumni relations, is scheduled to show films at a father and son high school banquet in Grand Rapids.

McGoff will be in West Branch for the Ogemaw-Arenac-Roscommon alumni meeting Wednesday. Breslin and Robert Stewart, Scholarship Director, are slated to attend the Montcalm County alumni meeting the same day.

Senators Get Bridge Bill

LANSING (AP)—Legislation sponsored in the Senate yesterday to authorize the construction of the long-debated Straits of Mackinac bridge.

The bill, sponsored by U.S. Senator Dennis J. Donohue, would allow the Mackinac Island Authority to go ahead with plans for the construction and financing of the structure, estimated to cost $87 million.

Principal purpose of the bill is to allow the authority to borrow funds from the Reconstruction Finance Commission for the construction.

New Lamps to Shed Light On MSC Paths and Drives

By PHIL GUNBY

Through the joint efforts of the Landscape Architecture and Buildings and Utilities Departments, campus drives and paths will soon receive better illumination.

Utilities crewmen under Rolf F. Noonon, electrical engineer, are erecting some 52 new lighting standards along the main campus drives and at intersections. The present lantern-type lamp posts will be installed in foot-path areas.

The new light installation is described as part of the "general expansion program" by Harold W. Lautner, head of the Department of Landscape Architecture and Urban Planning.

The present short lantern-type lamps were installed during the post-depression days. While they use the same 200-watt bulb the new lamps will use, they reflected light only about 75 feet, Lautner declared.

They will be placed in dark areas along the campus sidewalks, where their light may be best utilized, he said.
The new metal posts will be much higher than the existing ones, and the reflector equipment is much better, Noonon said.

The new fixtures have been planned for some time, but a delay in shipment of necessary cable halted operations for some time.

The new fixtures are being erected and the old ones "transplanted" as rapidly as weather conditions will allow, Noonon explained.

New Research Bureau Lists Projects, Services

Election, Propaganda Projects Underway

By MARRON TUTTLE

A comparison of Connecticut and Wisconsin in the 1952 election races; atrocity propaganda in the Korean war; and dissent-conformity in the United States are the three research projects now being studied by the newly organized Governmental Research Bureau at MSC.

The bureau was established in July, 1951, under the directorship of Dr. Edward W. Weidner, associate professor of Political Science and Public Administration, with a two-fold aim—to conduct research projects and provide public information service pamphlets.

The electoral process being studied compares the senatorial races in Connecticut and Wisconsin, where Senators Benton and McCarthy are the incumbents. The major purposes of the study are to find issues in the campaign and their uses, to discover the nature of the appeal of each candidate and to analyze the newspaper coverage of the two campaigns.

The study of the atrocity propaganda in the Korean War will include examination of definitions used on U.S. and Communist radio, frequency, periodicity, and correlation to events of the atrocity claims and comments, variations within the opposing camps, counter-propaganda and other inherent elements. The study is expected to be completed by June 1952.

The dissent-conformity project has as its objective the study of political, economic and religious dissent in relationship to civil liberties and to discrimination against minority groups. Other research projects proposed for the future include a study of administrative behavior, morale and communications; Japanese political behavior; and the American ideology.

Pamphlets for the use of the citizen and college student are now being prepared in the following areas: State of Michigan tax system; Michigan political parties and elections; democracy and communism; and the United Nations. All are written by MSC professors.

These pamphlets give a description and analysis of the various situations of public interest. The bureau was established by the college and is not a governmental agency, but plans to contract work with state, federal and local government in the future.

The bureau's concern is mainly in the area of political and administrative behavior and has a staff composed mainly of political scientists who are selected with considerable regard to training and background in other social science fields. In addition, specialists in other social science fields are working as consultants.

A research advisory committee composed of specialists in Economics, Psychology, Sociology and Anthropology, and Political Science, criticizes proposed research projects and acts as a clearing house for information concerning research in the several social sciences.

As a part of its program, graduate students are trained in advanced research procedures. A grant of $1,100 for M.A. candidates and $1,800 for Ph.D. candidates plus exemption from tuition fees, is provided for selected research assistants. Qualified political science graduate students having background in other social sciences are accepted in this training program. The office is located in Merrill Hall, ground floor.
