Hazard Pay Criticized By Douglas

Gen. Vandenberg Attacks Change

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) blasted the pentagon's system of extra hazard pay for some military men yesterday saying it places a "price tag" on morale of fighting men and creates a "super-elite."

He announced he is introducing legislation to equalize such pay, now ranging from $30 a month to over $200, based on rank.

His bill would cut it to not more than $50 a month, with rank as basis for paying it. He said he is in favor of abolishing it entirely.

He declared the Air Force system of paying $50 to $210 a month in hazard pay, and the Marines' insistence on taking only volunteers, creates "snobishness" and is unfair to the infantryman, whom he called the "neglected man."

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief of staff of the Air Force, and other high ranking officers have testified before a senate preparedness subcommittee that reducing extra hazard pay for flyers would seriously handicap the Air Force recruiting program.

The anxiety of the Air Force over the possibility of a serious shortage of flyers has been heightened by a wave of stay-down strikes by airmen who have refused to take up their planes.

Douglas, who enlisted as a Marine private in World War II and came out a lieutenant colonel with battle scars and decorations suggested increased insurance benefits for death in line of duty, and more liberal disability payments, as alternatives to incentive or hazard pay.

At his news conference Vandenberg listed three causes for the present stay-down strikes. He said a rising death rate in military flights, insufficient hazard pay for airmen and the fact that reserve officers who were recalled to duty thought they were being asked to do more than their share, were mostly responsible.

U. of M. Honors Queen Juliana With Degree

ANN ARBOR (AP)—New possessor of an honorary degree from the University of Michigan, the Netherlands' Queen Juliana headed West yesterday to carry her goodwill mission to Pacific Coast cities.

The Queen, with her husband Prince Bernhard and other members of their party, finished a four-day visit to Michigan when they stepped aboard a U.S. Air Force Constellation bound for San Francisco.

A day on the Michigan campus wound up their stay in Michigan. The spirit of informality which colored the royal couple's entire Michigan stay also was evident here.

Ignoring the close timing of their busy schedule, the couple stepped over to talk to some of the students and stood chatting for 10 minutes.

They were particularly interested in meeting graduate student Karel F. Botermans of Wassenaar, Holland, and his American wife, Dorothy, who said they had named their three-month-old son after Prince Bernhard.

Sawyer Sets Steel Owner Meeting

Murray Expects Full WSB Wage

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer has summoned the private owners of the seized steel industry to a meeting in his office this morning—perhaps to tell them how much the government will boost workers' wages.

Sawyer, government boss of the seized industry, said he would meet later today with CIO President Philip Murray. Murray said he expects the government to "impose" the full amount of the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) recommendations.

Murray told a National Press Club luncheon he would take nothing less than the 36-cent-an-hour recommended by the WSB. He indicated, however, there would be no strike by the CIO steelworkers if the government gave him less.

"I have never struck against the government in my life," Murray said. "That question would have to be decided at our union convention in Philadelphia next month."

President Truman, the target of continuing bitter attacks on his seizure of the mills, told a news conference that he and not Sawyer, would have the final word on the amount of a government-directed pay boost, if any, for Murray's members.

Gifts, Grants To College Total $104,075

Gifts and grants totaling $104,075 were received yesterday by the Board of Agriculture, according to Karl H. McDonel, secretary.

The largest single grant was $20,000 from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation. The funds will be used to sponsor the Eighth International Conference of Agricultural Economists being held at Kellogg Center this week.

From the will of the late Walter O. Briggs, the college received $10,000 for the Walter O. Briggs scholarship fund.

The Office of Naval Research gave MSC $9,933 to be used by the Department of Mathematics for a study of dynamics.

To continue isotopic research in the Department of Horticulture, the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission gave $9,500.

Seniors to Don Caps, Gowns For Swingout

The 42nd annual Senior Swingout will take place on May 26, at which time seniors will don their caps and gowns for the first in a round of senior activities.

The Swingout tradition originated in 1910 when the class held the first parade of seniors.

The parade, led by the class officers and the MSC Marching Band, starts at Agriculture Hall and circles the campus to the various schools. At each stop graduates of that school join the parade and proceed to the Auditorium for a program.

The program includes such activities as recognition of graduates with the highest point average, welcoming the alumni organization, and election of alumni officers.

Morris Asks New Federal Honesty Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—Newbold Morris, ousted three weeks ago as No. 1 sleuth in the Truman administration, announced yesterday drive, proposed yesterday creation of a permanent federal agency to enforce honesty in government.

Morris, addressing the convention of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE), declared he still does not know why he was fired. Saying he still believes President Truman sincerely wanted an effective government clean-up campaign, Morris said:

"The only explanation I can offer is that there exists a political system in the United States which is so deeply entrenched that even the President couldn't stand up under its weight."

Morris made no mention of former Attorney General J. Howard McGrath, who fired Morris and was let out of President Truman's cabinet the same day.

Chairman Robert Rabebeck of the Civil Service Commission appealed to the approximately 400 editors to refrain from blanket denunciation of government employees in such terms as "tax eaters" and "bureaucrats."

"You must try to inject pride and not poison into the public service," he said. "To let the public know what they're buying with their tax dollars, to help them discover that government is their neighbor."

MSC to Train Management For Aeroquip

MSC will launch an eight week training program Saturday for top management personnel of the Aeroquip Corporation in Jackson.

The purpose of the program is "to help the company increase its operating efficiency," according to C. W. Schoepfer, Aeroquip personnel manager. The program is under the direction of the Department of Business and Industry of the Continuing Education Service.

Airman's Relatives To Fight Sentence

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Relatives of an Air Force co-pilot sentenced to prison for refusal to fly said yesterday they planned to fight his case — to the president if necessary.

Friends and relatives joined the wife of Lt. Verne Goodwin in protesting his two-year prison sentence.

As this step developed in Goodwin's behalf, Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg told newsmen in Washington a "so-called" stay-down strike of flyers was a "temptation to a tempt."

Goodwin, 29, is a native of Peabody, Mass. He refused to fly in a C-124 transport plane to England last December. He said he feared it would have caused his wife to lose their unborn child.

Vandenberg's comments were about a more general situation of which Goodwin's case was a part.

The Air Force chief said publicly against a "small" number of airmen "is not indicative of anything as great as seems to appear on the surface." He said he didn't believe the trouble would continue because the Air Force stopped recalling reservists involuntarily five months ago.

Goodwin was convicted of insubordination by a military court at Biggs Air Force Base here Wednesday. He was sentenced to two years hard labor, dismissal from the service, and forfeit of pay.

In Dallas, Tex., another Air Force officer charged with refusing to obey orders is Lt. Lt. Robert P. Hasbrook, 28, a bombardier. He was charged this week at Randolph Air Force Base, San Antonio, with willful disobedience of a lawful order, failure to comply with the order, and with being AWOL from April 9-April 12. He was one of six officers at Randolph who reportedly have refused to fly.

Forum to Air Campus Chest

Spartan Forum will feature a discussion of Campus Chest activities tomorrow afternoon at 2 on WKAR.

Bob Evin, Birmingham sophomore, will act as moderator. Dick Arnold, New York senior, will represent the student body.

Campus Chest members to participate will be Dick Guenther, Grosse Pointe junior, Janice Anderson, Wilmette, Ill., junior, and Horatio B. Lewis, Birmingham junior.

The program is sponsored by the College YMCA.

Warm Weather Scheduled to Stay

"Generally springlike," predicts the weather bureau, as today's temperatures are scheduled to soar to the 70's, and students will head for the nearest sundek.

Plenty of sun and warm breezes put topsails under cover, when the mercury peaked at 68 yesterday. A repeat performance is expected today with tonight's low around 40.

Ag Board Accepts Resignation

Varner Appointed To Extension Post

The retirement of Dean Lloyd C. Emmons of the School of Science and Arts was accepted yesterday afternoon by the Board of Agriculture.

Dr. Milton E. Muelder, head of the Department of Political Science and Public Administration, was named to succeed Dean Emmons.

Also appointed yesterday were: Dr. Edward W. Weidner as new head of the Department of Political Science and Public Administration, Dr. C. R. Moore as director of the Large Animal Clinic, and Dr. Chester A. Lawson as head of the newly-created Department of Natural Science in the Basic College.

All of these actions are effective July 1.

Durwood B. Varner, former extension specialist in agricultural economics, was named director of the Extension Service. He will take the place of C. V. Ballard who retires Sept. 16.

Dean Emmons has been here for 43 years. He joined the staff as a mathematics instructor in 1909, and was named director of Liberal Arts in 1934 and dean of the School of Science and Arts in 1945.

He has served as chairman of the athletic council for many years and was instrumental in MSC's admission to the Big Ten in 1948. Dean Emmons was granted a one-year retirement furlough prior to official retirement July 1, 1953.

Dr. Muelder, recently appointed by Gov. Williams to the Michigan Civil Service Commission, has been here since 1935. He served in numerous planning and administrative capacities as a civilian with the U.S. Navy and Army during and after World War II, including the directorship in 1948 and 1949 of the education and cultural relations division of the U.S. Military Government in Germany.

Holder of M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Michigan, Dr. Muelder returned to MSC in 1949 to head the Department of Political Science and Public Administration.

Dr. Weidner has been at MSC for two years, and has directed the Governmental Research Bureau since 1951. He has co-authored four books and written numerous articles for trade journals in the field of government.

Dr. Sales will take over the Department of Surgery and Medicine from Veterinary Dean C. F. Clark, who remained a department head after becoming dean last year on the death of Dr. C. S. Bryan.

Dr. Sales received his D.V.M. degree from MSC in 1915 and joined the staff three years later. He has been a director of the Small Animal Clinic since 1945.

Dr. Moore received his D.V.M. yesterday.

Harriman, Kefauver Gain New Support

Truman Names No Favorites, Declines Role as 'Kingmaker'

By The Associated Press

The scramble for the Democratic presidential nomination intensified last night as rival factions viewed over the front-running candidacy of Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Highlighting the confusion was the withdrawal of Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois as a potential "compromise" choice for the Democratic presidential nomination.

President Truman, still displaying any desire to play the role of kingmaker, had kind words at his weekly news conference for the fledgling boom of his foreign aid chief, W. Averell Harriman.

Truman said he considers Harriman qualified to be president, and called him one of the country's most patriotic and able citizens.

He said, too, that he was sorry Gov. Stevenson decided not to run.

Asked about Kefauver, the President said he didn't think it was up to him to analyze all the candidates — then said quickly that he is very fond of Kefauver and that Kefauver came to see him before opening his campaign.

Truman also went on record as saying a Southerner could be nominated and elected—if willing to run on the Democratic party platform.

Kefauver has said he would abide by the Democratic platform, even if it contained a plank for compulsory enforcement of a civil rights measure. He has said he personally doesn't favor compulsory steps, however.

On other fronts:

1. A number of New York State Democrats sought to launch a boom for Foreign Aid Director Harriman as a candidate to carry on Truman's "Fair Deal" programs. There were predictions that such a boom might develop into a "stop Kefauver" drive.

2. With the eastern boom for Harriman scarcely under way, Senator Paul Douglas (D-Ill.), a top midwest Democratic leader who has sometimes differed sharply with the Truman administration, threw his unqualified support to Senator Kefauver.

3. Senator Harry Byrd (D-Va.), long a powerful figure on the southern political scene, came out in the strongest terms to support his Dixie colleague, Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia as "the strongest candidate" in sight.

Very Few Cheat, Say Students in Poll

How many students cheat on examinations?

Very few, in the opinion of a majority of college students. Students across the nation were recently polled on this subject by the Associated College Press National Poll of Student Opinion.

They were asked: "In your opinion, how many students, if any, make a practice of cheating on tests and examinations about every body?"

About 200 MSC students were included in the nationwide sample.

The results were:

Very few	51%
About one-fourth	24
About one-half	12
About three-fourths	1
Almost everybody	1
No opinion	7

Opinions on cheating vary from campus to campus.

"We have an honor system," explained a coed at Wheaton College, Mass., who thinks that very few of her fellow students cheat.

A student at Regis College, Mass., had a similar opinion but a different explanation.

"There's hardly any cheating here," she says. "We're proctored and wouldn't have the chance to cheat if we wanted to."

Either there is more cheating at large schools, or students there are more aware of it than at small schools. Baylor University, Texas, typifies big school opinion, with 35 per cent for "very few," 36 per cent for "about one-fourth" and 16 per cent for "about one-half."

Syracuse University is even more extreme. Only seven per cent of the students there feel that "very few" cheat, while 49 per cent think at least half of the student body make a practice of cheating.

A graduate student majoring in psychology in the South had this to say about cheating on her campus, "Lower classmen—nearly always; upper classmen—not so much."

And an engineering junior at the South Dakota School of Mining and Technology declared, "The majority of students don't actually cheat; however, most of them do look over old exams before taking their tests. I don't call this cheating."

A Look at Taft

Senator Taft brought his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination to Lansing this week affording us a close look at the views of the man called Mr. Republican. Taft put forward a program that in his own words represents a basic change in policy from the "utter failure of Mr. Truman's administration."

His program is positive in the sense that it presents a definite alternative to the Administration's foreign policy. It is a reversal of the Truman idea of collective security.

Taft declared that "that basic thinking behind the defense program is wrong... because it is perfectly clear that we cannot possibly afford a standing army sufficiently strong to engage Russia on land."

The senator pinpointed his program by saying, "Our own security must be our first concern. We must be strong in our own right. If we are strong enough, many other nations will be begging to become our allies."

Taft and his supporters consistently deny charges of isolationism leveled against him.

His method of maintaining "Our Liberty" as stated in one Wednesday address given in Lansing is to build up armed strength at home.

He made no mention of any battle against the ideology of communism with ideas of our own, with our own propaganda of democratic living.

Taft would combat communism and maintain our liberty by first giving up top priority to the building up of an Air Force able to maintain control of the air over this continent surrounding the oceans. The force could be fully able to deliver atom bombs for the destruction of Russian bases, fuel, supplies, communication lines, and manufacturing plants.

"Russian bombers might get through to us," said the senator, but "I would not be fatal if we build up the proper intercept force."

With the accomplishment of this goal and with our "priority number two" Army and Navy, Taft proposes "to defend Japan, Formosa, the Philippines, Indonesia, and Great Britain as long as they desire defense against a communist attack."

He accused the Democratic administration of having established "Stalin in full control of 800 million people in contrast to 1941 when Stalin ruled 180 million subjects," but he would have us withdraw support from most of the remaining free people.

Throughout his speech, the senator seemed to take more warfare for granted. He did not stress the point that an ideology such as communism does not weaken because of threatening guns, but because of another ideology which can overpower it.

Although his discussion of government economy was well come, he seemed to lack interest in a program to battle with the Reds.

Taft's speeches are never a complete picture of just what a man's policy would be after a successful election. However, if the senator from Ohio followed his promises to the letter he would be retreating from the pattern of American foreign policy that has been forged to meet the realities of the present world situation.

The Dean's List
By DEAN WAKEFIELD
State News Editor

With a lack of serious presidential timber in either major party, the race for the highest office in the land is what you might call wide open. At least it's not as cut and dried as most presidential nomination runs for the roses in the past two decades.

In fact, the situation right now is a feat plumb for an enterprising bookie with a little capital and some fetching odds.

Taft was in Lansing Wednesday, and from the way he talked, I gathered he was bitter about something. Mr. Truman had done this should-win Mr. Taft lots of votes, since many people seem to have a thing or two against old HST.

But back to the odds I was speaking about a paragraph or so ago. I have devised a chart which I believe to be rather reasonable under the circumstances which prevail. Any resemblance to old copies of the daily racing form, Hialeah or Aqueduct, is purely coincidental.

REPUBLICANS	ODDS	COMMENT
Taft	2-1	Lost last three starts
Eisenhower	2-1	Rack after a rest
Warren	25-1	W. Coast favorite, untried here

DEMOCRATS	ODDS	COMMENT
Kefauver	8-1	With TV set as running mate
Russell	10-1	Thirteen South's best
Harriman	20-1	Needs foreign aid
Rockefeller	50-1	Aging but steady
Williams	100-1	Stepping out of his class
W. C. Clegg	100-1	Supreme dark horse
Kerr	100-1	Chomping at the bit
(Your Choice)	6-5	Hard to beat

NON-PARTISAN	ODDS	COMMENT
Governor Sheets	10-1	National debt to 1
Scratched	—	Truman, Stevenson, Connally, MacArthur

ODDS will change as the betting continues, but the favorites will remain basically the same. No odds are final. Most important to remember is that no jockeys are up as yet. It'll be a tight race right down to the wire. Chances are it'll be a two-horse race, but you can never tell about these horses.

French Fear Slow Agreement

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

Among the last matters to be settled before West Germany becomes a working partner in the European defense program is France's desire for an Anglo-American guarantee that Germany will not be permitted to change her mind after rearmament.

Or rather, the question really seems to be how France will be satisfied without that guarantee. In the first place, nobody seems to have a very clear idea of how such a guarantee could be made. In the second place, there is no indication in Washington that it is believed necessary or practical.

France is afraid that Germany, after once committing troops to the new European army, might take a notion to pull them out and start a war with Poland with the Communist side in.

Home Ec Department Hosts Ryukyuan

By LIZ TANNER
Five home economists from the Ryukyuan Islands arrived at MSC yesterday to spend a week visiting the various departments and classes in the Home Economics School. From there they will go out in the state to visit in different homes and communities.

The group includes Mrs. Kimiyo Onaga, a professor at the University of the Ryukyus, Mrs. Aya Arakawa, Mrs. Kiku Miyata, Mrs. Yukiko Shimamoto, and Mrs. Take Shimizu, all connected with home economics in high schools. Mrs. Marilyn Torrey of Washington, D.C., will act as interpreter.

During their stay, they will live at Wells Hall. Mrs. Onaga will visit Robinson House to observe co-operative living. A dinner in the Union Monday and a visit to the International Club are slated.

Sponsored by the Institute of International Education, the group has observed in California, Washington, D.C., New York and Berea, Ky. The purpose of their trip is to see first hand what American life is like and how Americans think and behave.

Their impressions of America include an amazement at the vastness of the United States, and how the men accept women as equals. They think American women are very fortunate to have such a large amount of household equipment and to be spoiled as they are by their husbands.

Miss Jeanette Lee, assistant to the Dean of Home Economics, and Miss Ruth Peck, assistant state home demonstration leader, are in charge of planning the program and arranging the group's stay in Michigan.

Wives to Attend Baby Care Classes

Spartan Wives mothercraft interests group will begin a series of six classes Monday nights on the care of infants. They will be held at 8 p.m. in the Wives Clubhouse.

Mrs. John Norton, R.N., will conduct the classes. They are sponsored in co-operation with the Lansing Ingham County Health Department.

Subjects of the classes will include hygiene, nutrition, giving of baths and preparation of formulas for the infant.

The floral trimmings are used with pearls and with neck scarves. They add a touch of color and spring highlights.

Last Functions Senior Dance To Feature Music Of Johnny Long

Johnny Long and his band will play for the Senior Ball in the Auditorium May 23, according to Jack Brennan, dance chairman.

The Ball, to be held the week-end before classes end for seniors, will be one of their last major social functions.

Committee chairmen are: patrons, Jean Sweeney, Maple City; programs, Sally Williams, Middlefield, Ohio; decorations, Mel Drummond, Detroit; tickets, Jim Sleak, Bay City; and publicity, Jim Totten, Detroit.

'Y' Members To Meet at Spring Convo

Students representing five colleges throughout Michigan will attend the annual spring district conference of the YMCA and YWCA this weekend.

The convention will be held at Clear Lake Camp, Dowling Mich. Friday through Sunday. It will feature a series of group meetings to discuss the purpose and organization of the college 'Y'.

Approximately 20 members and directors of the organizations are expected to attend. Those representing the YMCA of MSC are: John King, Chicago senior; Glyn Dee, Haven; Colgate junior; Eliot Wong, Honolulu freshman; Dick McNeil, Lansing sophomore; and Lester Dobson, executive secretary of the campus YMCA.

The Agricultural Education Club will hold an annual Leadership Training camp at Waterloo Recreation Area, near Jackson, this weekend. Clyde Beatty, of Cassopolis, and Lynn Healey, of Holland, both working in vocational agriculture, will speak to approximately 50 members.

The camp and the Agricultural Education staff will plan the club's activities for the coming year as part of the training program.

Spring Opener Calls Track Team into Action

By BOB LEWIS

Michigan State's outdoor track squad will get its first taste of Big Ten competition for the spring season tomorrow afternoon when they travel to Columbus, O., to participate in the Ohio State Relays.

Among the conference squads will be Illinois, Michigan and Ohio State plus the U.S. Air Force team.

Captain Karl Schlodman has had a week of sunny weather to round the squad into shape for Saturday's meet. Previously, the team had to be content with indoor warmups.

On the basis of time trials during the past three days, Schlodman has selected the following as probable starters:

In the sprints are Chuck Roland, Bill Hervey, Louie Vargha, and George Henderson. Leading quarter mile candidates are Capt. Dick Henson, Ray Dosky, Jim Ellis, Norm Harwick, Lee Jones, Lyle Garbe, Steve Little, and Vargha. Micky Walter, Dick Jarrett, Jim Keyford and John

Offense Riddled U. of M. Grid Drills Open

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Twenty days of opportunity open here today for aspiring University of Michigan football players.

Daily drills until May 17 will give Coach Bennie Osterbaum and his staff a pretty good idea of what they have to build on. The 28 returning lettermen will figure prominently in the picture. But there's many a chance open for any of the 100 candidates expected to turn out for the drills.

Osterbaum would like to prepare a two-division squad of 22 players for the fall campaign that opens against Michigan State Sept. 27.

All of the defensive line except end Russ Ostermann will be back but the offensive picture is punched with graduation holes. Regular offensive end Lowell Perry, currently working with Coach Don Canham's track squad will be back in the fall, and quarterback Test Toper and Center Dick O'Spaughnessy will report today.

But from there on, the offensive jobs will go to the men who make the best showing.

Golf Team Set For Broncos Saturday

Golf coach Ben F. Van Alstyne will begin his 21st year of coaching the Michigan State College team as they meet Western Michigan tomorrow at East Lansing.

Van Alstyne has had very little opportunity to check his team, the weather being as it has for the past month, but that is not a sign of weakness. Although some of the top men of last year are gone, in fact, only captain Jack Zint, Royal Oak, and Carl Mosack, Detroit, are still around, the golf team shapes up as a pretty fair club.

David Mancour, Grand Blanc, and DeNeal Hartman, Ft. Wayne, Ind., will be counted on heavily as will Charles Davenport, Midland, Doug Hill, Ann Arbor, O., and Harold Ware, Mason, are two more who should turn in creditable performances.

Couch Hits Books

Tommy Kaulukukui, Honolulu, T.H., who was head football coach at the University of Hawaii three years ago when the Spartans met that team, is now a graduate student at State and is assisting in the backfield coaching this spring. He returns to Hawaii in June.

Hard hitting Bob Ciolek, only lefthanded batter in the lineup, will bat in the high important cleanup spot for the Spartans.

Dick Massuch, Spartan assistant coach, will take over the fourth slot for the alumni defense he will play in right field.

George Rutenbar, manager of the alumni outfit, said yesterday that the team would be full strength with the possible exception of Marty Hanson, slated to play stopper for the alumni, may not be able to get away from his in Flint.

Kobs had not decided on exact batting order yesterday, said today's practice will give him a better idea of to arrange his hitters. Another workout is scheduled for tomorrow.

Two Homers Spoil Hal's Debut; Dodgers Continue Hitting Spree

Les Moss and Bobby Shantz pitched the reborn St. Louis Cardinals to a 2-1 decision over the Philadelphia Phillies in the last two innings of the game.

Hal Newhouse's back about and keep the pitcher with a 3-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers yesterday.

Fears rapped winning pitcher, their teammate for nine hits but most were scattered singles.

The third straight game pitcher to go the route, Newhouse, who had not started since last July 14, was fairly effective until the eighth inning. Then Moss, with two strikes on him, drove a 400-foot homer into the upper left field stands. Aside from the two homers, Newhouse permitted only three hits.

Newhouse, with only one of their 1951 personnel still in the roster, tied the score at the fourth inning. Marty St. Louis Cardinal last doubled to left and Nieman got a single to center field the night.

Tigers were able to bunch hits in only one inning, the second. Johnny Groh singled to Steve Sanchez drove a homer into the third base bag. Newhouse's scratch single scored Nieman scored Groh.

St. Louis took over the starting after Nieman's homer and retired the side.

and play dead today when 5-foot 6-inch Bobby Shantz pitched Philadelphia to a 2-1 decision over the World Champion New York Yankees.

Shantz not only scattered nine hits, but also gave his team the lead run with a timely single in the fourth inning.

An existing 1-1 deadlock at the time was broken when Shantz's single sent veteran second baseman Pete Sudler home from second base.

The win gave the A's an even break in the two-game series.

Philadelphia's victim was pitcher Eddie Lopat.

RUM HITTING?

BOSTON (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers swept their first 1952 series yesterday by over powering the Boston Braves, 3-2, behind a 17-hit attack. During the three games here, the Dodgers totaled 48 hits for a sensational 3.28 team batting average.

As was the case in the two previous games, Manager Charles Dressen started a four-hitter against the Braves.

Trubessmen, the veteran Johnny Schemm, who gave up seven hits.

Carl Furillo, with four singles, and Andy Pafko, who doubled, led the Brooklyn attack.

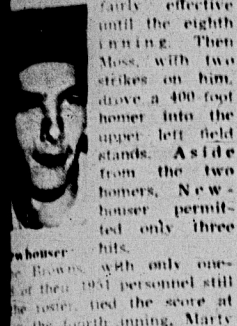

Manager Tommy Holmes tried to put some righthanded punch in his lineup but the Dodgers ruined that strategy by scoring six runs before the Braves did all of their tallying in the sixth inning.

The Dodgers belted Gene Conley, the six-foot-eight rookie, for 11 hits and four runs before he retired in the fifth. Conley was yanked for Bert Thielen after Pafko homered and Gil Hodges doubled. pitcher Eddie Yuhas. They scored in each of the eighth and ninth innings after the Cardinals had pulled into a 3-3 tie in a seventh frame that promised to be highly profitable until pinch-hitter Pegnuts Lowrey fell down on the base line.

After Muir yielded St. Louis' eighth and final hit to Steve Bilko, first up in the home club's ninth, he was replaced by the veteran Ted Wilks, who prevented further scoring.

ROOKIES PRODUCE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Faye Thronberry, a 20-year-old rookie Red Sox outfielder, hit a 410-foot lous loaded home run yesterday as Boston beat the Washington Senators, 9-2.

Thronberry came through in the sixth inning to break up what had been a pretty pitching battle between another Boston rookie, Bill Henry, and the Senators' Don Johnson.

Johnson soon left the premises altogether. Henry allowed only one hit through the first six innings, but he finally weakened and was relieved at the start of the ninth inning.

Nevertheless, he turned in a sparkling five-hit job to win his first major league game.

RYAN STARS

NEW YORK (AP)—Connie Ryan, a former Giant who came to Philadelphia by way of Cincinnati last winter, cracked a home run with two out and a mate aboard in the top of the 11th inning to give the Phils a 5-3 victory over the New York Giants yesterday.

Ryan's blow came off George Spencer who had relieved starter Larry Jansen after the Giant had fought back from behind to deadlock the game at 3-3 and force it into overtime.

The Phils had forged ahead in their half of the ninth, snapping a 2-2 tie when Del Ennis singled, was sacrificed to second and scored on a single by Ryan. The new Philly second baseman also figured prominently in his team's two-run spurge in the seventh.

The Giants had broken up a scoreless pitching duel between Jansen and Howie Fox in their half of the sixth when Wes Westrum cracked a bases loaded single that put them ahead 2-0. The Phils quickly evened the count in their half of the seventh on singles by Ennis and Ryan, sandwiched around a double by Bill Nicholson and an error by Jansen.

Jim Konstanty, third Philadelphia pitcher, received credit for the victory, his first since last July. It took a defensive gem by Ennis in the 10th inning to help him out of what would have been a bad situation for him.

With one out, Willie Mays caught hold of Konstanty's slow pitch and sent a screaming drive that was headed for the left field bullpen. Ennis, running at full speed with his back to the plate, reached out with his bare hand and made a spectacular catch of winning barrage, which Cleveland led with the St. Louis Browns for the American League lead, was topped by Luke Easter's first homer of the campaign. It was a 425-foot wallop in the fifth inning off Al Widmar.

Widmar, third in a succession of White Sox pitchers who disappeared to Bobby Avila. That and Easter's clout were the extra base hits.

The Indians had six successes in the second inning, three run bulge.

Widmar was shaky on defense, committing three errors. He was in the seventh when he pitched to the Cleveland Sox runs that sliced lead to 4-3.

Wrestlers Seek Berths In Olympics

AMES, Ia. (AP)—A 42-year-old San Francisco veterinarian marked himself as a serious contender for a place on the U.S. wrestling team this summer in the opening round of the final Olympic trials here yesterday.

De Melvin A. Northrup, former national AAU champion, handled Larry Ten Pas, Waukegan, Ill., high school lad, with ease in a 141-pound clash.

Northrup pinned his younger opponent in 12 minutes, 55 seconds.

The strong 147-pound class produced a host of top-flight battles. Besides the aggressive De Northrup, Keith Young, six time AAU champion, Tommy Evans and John Fletcher, member of the 1948 Olympic team, loom as strong possibilities to win the class.

Fletcher of Warren, R.I., kept his record clear as he pinned Bryan Rayburn of the University of Oklahoma in two minutes, 40 seconds. Young and Evans each picked up one penalty point although they won by decisions.

Young, of Blue Earth, Minn., scored a unanimous decision over Barton Downs of the U.S. Navy whose home is Kennel Square, Pa. Evans, the NCAA champion at 147 pounds, took an easy decision from Newton Coppel, Neb., rancher who won the AAU title recently.

The four-ring mat circus is being scored under the weird Olympic formula of penalty points. One demerit is given for a decision win and three for a loss either by decision or fall. A total of five penalty points eliminates a wrestler from the meet. In short a fall is needed to escape a demerit.

The finals will be Saturday night.

CARDS STUMBLE

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The rookie-studded Pittsburgh Pirates won their first game of the season yesterday by beating the veteran but fumbling St. Louis Cardinals 5-3 in the last of a three-game series.

The Cardinals committed three errors, and two Pittsburghers were unearned. Rookie southpaw Joe Murr was the winner.

Held to six hits, of which Ralph Kiner collected three, the Pirates pinned defeat on rookie relief

Rocky Feels Lonely

Joey Maxim Next? Ray Says, 'Maybe'

CHICAGO (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, who sweetened his world's middleweight championship by melting Rocky Graziano in three exciting rounds at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night, yesterday was being pinned to accept a match with Joey Maxim—world's light heavyweight champion.

The bout, if made, was slated to be held either in New York's Yankee Stadium, probably on June 25, or in Chicago.

Robinson, with his manager, George Gairford, was offered the match at a meeting attended by Jack Kearns, Maxim's manager, Truman Gibson, secretary of the governing International Boxing Club, and James D. Norris, president of the IBC.

Robinson bolted the meeting and returned to his hotel, declaring that Kearns "wanted all the money."

"I might take the match if they talk the right terms," Robinson added.

After his emotional knockout of Graziano, Robinson in his dressing room, indicated he wasn't interested in boxing the 175-pound Maxim.

Yesterday Gairford said that Robinson would go through with the match if he (Gairford) signed for it.

"If the price is right, I'll sign," Gairford said, "we cannot afford to miss up a payday like that."

The basis of 21,495 paid attendance released by the IBC, and the $200,000 fee for radio-television rights, Robinson collected $79,631.25 as his 30 per cent share of the total take.

Graziano pocketed $67,192.21, amounting to 25 per cent.

Graziano left for New York at 4 p.m., CST, with Robinson taking a train also for New York a half an hour later.

No one knew a loser. Graziano said ironically as he visited the IBC offices to pick up his check, "If I'd won I'd stuck around for a few days."

College Group Silent So Far

HOT SPRING, Va. (AP)—The annual meeting of the National Association of Collegiate Commissioners, which opened here yesterday, probably will produce no verbal fireworks before Saturday morning.

Asa Pethwell, Association president, predicted last night that discussion of the quadilateral recommendations of the American Council on Education, a special committee on athletic rules, likely will not come before then.

Research of what action is taken by the Association it will not be limited on any conference. The commissioner will merely agree on principles they believe beneficial for college athletes and will recommend that their respective conferences adopt such proposals.

Dikes Hold Back Omaha Flood

River Expected to Reach Flood Crest by Morning

OMAHA (AP)—Protective dikes which so far had spared the twin cities of Omaha and Council Bluffs, Ia., from a Missouri River flood disaster were subjected to the worst, or near-worst, the river could offer last night.

Residents of this populous metropolitan area watched tensely to see whether the hasty levee-reinforcing job which an army of workers accomplished this week was up to the test.

The crest was expected by morning.

There was a feeling in Council Bluffs, from Mayor James F. Mulqueen down to the men working on the levees, that the battle might be won. The same guarded optimism prevailed in Omaha.

But it was touch and go. The unprecedented mass of water, constricted into a bottleneck formed by the cities, pushed with terrifying force against the protective works.

Every hour brought new troubles, and yet new hope.

Water pushed against and spilled through the dashboard which tops the concrete flood wall along Omaha's industrial riverfront. Pumps lifted the overflow back into the channel.

Engineers dusted off every trick in the flood-fighting book.

Levees were so saturated they oozed water. One army engineer described them as "jelly-like" from the soaking. Light afternoon rain softened the tops and access roads, hampering the movement of sandbags and equipment.

Out of water's reach, no matter what happens, were some 34,000 of Council Bluffs' 40,000 residents and another 5,000 across the river. These are the folks who abandoned their homes in fear of the worst, leaving nearly three-fourths of Council Bluffs and the entire East Omaha and Council Lake, Ia., and across the river ghostly vacant.

Religious Poll Conducted by Club Leaders

Leaders of various religious groups on campus have conducted a student poll during the past week to determine what religious beliefs MSC's students hold. Results of the poll will be used by leaders in the "Christianity 101" series, which starts with lectures in People's Church tonight and tomorrow and ends with Sunday afternoon's lecture in the Union Ballroom.

"Christianity 101" is being jointly sponsored by the Christian Student Foundation, Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, Lutheran Student Association, Canterbury Club and Gamma Delta. The objective of the talks is to present students with an intellectual approach to religion. No attempt will be made to sell religion to those attending.

Previously Greenberg had served as circulation manager of the Spartan.

Senators Ask Radio to Gear For Campaigns

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators are appropriating that television and radio time will be used for their favorite programs are back of out this fall for election campaign speeches.

They asked the radio and television industry yesterday to leave some open program space in the months ahead for political campaigning.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) said that otherwise, if programs are scheduled and the time is blocked out, the time likely would be empty.

And that would be too bad, because of the radio or television (as happened also) to be an available voter.

This came up at a subcommittee hearing on television and radio.

Officials of the National Broadcasting Company and the Columbia Broadcasting System said the program scheduling suggestion is a constructive one.

Joseph V. McFerran, executive vice president of NBC, said the cost of time for TV broadcasts of NBC's interconnected network of 32 stations is $7,200 for 30 minutes. This is for about 150 spots, 15 minutes and Saturday and Sunday afternoon.

Adrian Murphy, president of CBS radio, said the senator's suggestion would be a "practical" one. He said the CBS radio network is $14.10 for 15 minutes.

But it is not clear how much of a regular program and scheduled program they are set for the non-commercial, but pocket expense for time and advertising commitments.

So the idea of leaving blank space in program schedules for the months ahead to give candidates paid programs, but also might save them money, Monroney explained.

TV—No See?

Sets Won't Receive College Television

By JIM SMALLEGAN, State News Associate Editor

Ever hear of a TV station with no one to watch it?

Some of the colleges get an ultra-high frequency television station there will be a name set in the Lansing area that will be able to receive the programs.

The fact is, said Dr. Arnold Hutton, director of the Television Research Department, every set that will eventually receive ultra-high frequency TV will have to be converted from the present frequency band.

There is a real big conversion to the ultra-high frequency band. These kinds have been used for them. There are no UHF television stations in the Lansing area, according to Hutton.

This is the wreckage of a giant 10-engine B-36 bomber which faltered and crashed on takeoff at Fairchild Air Force Base, Spokane, Wash., killing 15 of the 17 men aboard. The huge craft, world's largest bomber, crashed through a fence at the end of the runway and burst into flames in a farmer's wheat field.

Stubborn Convicts Stay In Prison Print Shop

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—A stubborn band of 69 convicts last night refused to budge from the New Jersey State Prison print shop and convicts in another state prison 10 miles away set off a quickly halted riot described by an official as "probably in sympathy."

The convicts in the Trenton Prison still held four jail employees as hostages. Two of the hostages suffer from heart disease.

At Rahway Reformatory an undetermined number of convicts started a disturbance which guards stopped within a few minutes. The group became "noisy and unruly" about 2 p.m., "probably in sympathy" with the Trenton gang. F. Lovell Bixby, deputy commissioner of institutions and agencies said.

As the rebellion at Trenton went into its third day, the convicts demanded that surrender.

Prison authorities decided against any positive action to remove the convicts in the print shop for fear of reprisal against the hostages.

How long the convicts could hold out was questionable. They are without water.

Medical supplies have been sent in for the hostages and Warren Carter said he also has been supplying eight sandwiches at mealtime for the hostage jail employees. It was not known, however, whether they actually were getting the food.

It is not the present West Germany of which France is afraid. She is afraid of a Germany sufficiently strong to physically break such agreements as the Schuman Plan.

The natural effect of any sort of Germany breakaway would be to call into play the factual forces which now operate under the Atlantic Pact, France, Britain and the United States are the core of the pact. History and the facts of life assure that they are not going to run out on each other.
