Cleaners in Lansing Suffers $40,000 Loss from Fire

By ALEX LAGGIS
State News Associate Editor

An estimated $40,000 blaze in the heart of downtown Lansing swept through the two-story American Laundry company building last night.

The fire got off to a roaring start and sped through highly inflammable first floor like lightning. By the time the alarm was turned in, the interior was a total loss. Firemen concentrated their efforts on saving the adjoining buildings.

Firemen answered the first of three alarms at 8:35 and within seven minutes had the flames from the burning laundry building under control.

Fire officials credited a thick fire-retaining wall for saving the two nearby buildings. Firemen were slightly injured in fighting the fire. Fireman Robert Bailey received a cut on his head and was being treated at the hospital. Fireman Tom Decker was overpowered by smoke and was revived by the inhalator squad.

Extensive damage was caused to equipment and to laundry in the building. The fire gutted out the first floor and basement. Smoke and damage ruined practically all stock stored on the second floor.

Fire officials said they would begin an investigation today to determine the probable cause.

High Schools State Annual Music Contest

More than 3,000 high school students, representing top high school bands and orchestras in the state, will be on the MSC campus Saturday to participate in the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Festival.

More than 50 high school bands and orchestras, rated in the first division of regional competition last year, will be playing continuously from 7 a. m. to 11 p. m.

The second session of the festival will be held May 3, when an additional 300 students from more than 50 schools will round out the competition for state prizes.

During the day, bands and orchestras will be performing in the Auditorium and Jensen Fieldhouse Gymnasium, and in the Lansing high school auditorium.

The festival is sponsored annually by the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association.

Ike Wins Popularity Poll in East

Backers Intensify
Drive for Votes

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Backers intensified yesterday a drive to solidify an eastern bloc of Republican presidential delegates behind Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on his strong ballot showings in New York and Pennsylvania.

The five-star general of the armed forces swept to about a 675,000 vote victory over Sen. Robert A. Taft, his chief rival for the nomination, in Tuesday's Pennsylvania presidential popularity poll. The poll is not binding on delegates.

But Taft, who had kept his name off the ballot and had asked supporters not to vote for him, got a national record write-in of 172,829 with 36 precincts winning. And Taft seemed likely to get a substantial share of Pennsylvania's 20 delegates.

In New York, Eisenhower was assured the support of about 70 of the state's 96 nominating votes by supporters won in Tuesday's primary there. Taft got three, and the views of 17 are not known. Six more will be selected later.

On the basis of present tabulations made by the Associated Press Taft—in the nation-wide picture—leads Eisenhower 233 to 209 in delegates, with 693 needed for the nomination at the Chicago convention.

The tabulation is based on delegates pledged, instructed, favorable or willing to state a first ballot choice.

Judge Issues Order Against Anti-Red Law

DETROIT (AP) — Federal Judge Arthur F. Lederle yesterday issued an order restraining Michigan from enforcing her new anti-communist law, the Trucks Act.

The judge issued a temporary injunction on the plea of William Albertson, secretary of the state Communist Party, who claimed the law was unconstitutional.

The restraining order will remain in effect until a panel of three federal judges conduct a joint hearing May 20. Judge Charles C. Simons of the U.S. district court of appeals at Cincinnati is expected to hear the case.

As passed recently by the Michigan Legislature, the Trucks Act requires all subversives to register with the state police and sets up penalties for 10 years imprisonment or $10,000 fine for non-compliance.

GM Executive To Give Talk At Exposition

MSC's fourth annual Engineering Exposition on May 9 will feature Charles L. McCuen, vice president of General Motors, and general manager of Research Laboratories Division, Detroit, as the main speaker. He will talk on "The Challenge of Engineering's Second 100 Years."

Industrial exhibits and displays, open houses in all departments of the MSC School of Engineering, and projects of student branches of engineering professional societies will be the main features of the event.

Other highlights include the showing of engines and turbo-jets, and the testing of automobile engines. The theme for this year is "Preview of Progress."

Movies will be shown throughout the exposition in Olds Hall and the auditorium. Most phases of the Engineering School will be in operation.

Gov. Williams Assures Prisoners; Officials to Meet Terms Asked

Hostage Guard Harold Carrier emerges from Cell Block 15 as former gang leader Earl Ward (left) watches the process. Deputy Warden Vernon Fox (right) has led the negotiations with the prisoners and seems to carry their faith even though the bargaining seems to be getting worse with time. Carrier was released earlier to "show the good faith" the mutineers have.

Student Congress members agreed to make specific expenditures of $1,190 by an 18-2 vote last night.

- Appropriations for the following items will be made:
1. New typewriter, $75.
 2. Public address system, $200.
 3. Mimeograph machine, $315.
 4. Bowling shoes, $350.
 5. All-college mixer on tennis courts, $750.
 6. Office labor, $90.
 7. Elections, $90.
 8. Sufficient funds to cover expenses for all special guests at a Student Congress banquet.

New office equipment will be available to college organizations and free bowling shoes will be provided for students. Other bowlers will pay a 10 cent rental fee, which is expected to cover future repairs and replacements.

Before the appropriations were approved, Pres. Gavriel Sheets reported to members that the Congress had $1,358 remaining from the college grant. He explained that recent operating expenses cut the figure to $1,330.

Last night's appropriations totaled $1,190, leaving $160 for miscellaneous expenditures and banquet purposes.

The members agreed to have the banquet committee name a special guest list which will include local "dignitaries." Congress members will pay for their dinner.

Four students were appointed to fill Congress vacancies. They will serve until the new Congress is inaugurated.

Foreign Grad To Get $1,000 Scholarship

Adopted by MSC

An Estonian graduate student "adopted" by the Michigan State College student body two years ago, has been awarded a $1,000 resident scholarship by Harvard University to continue graduate work in philosophy.

The student is 23-year-old George J. Palviste, driven from his homeland by the Russian invasion of Estonia in 1944. Without family or funds, he fled to Germany, where he completed high school and enrolled at the University of Cologne. He came to the United States in 1950, largely through efforts and funds of the Displaced Persons Board of the MSC Student Congress.

Instructors were so impressed with his undergraduate work that he was made a graduate assistant in philosophy in September, 1950. Scheduled to receive his master's degree in philosophy this June, Palviste also is president of the Student Philosophy Club on campus.

Palviste will use the Harvard scholarship grant to continue work toward a Ph.D. degree in philosophy. He plans to secure U.S. citizenship and work in this country as a writer and philosophy teacher.

Tree Planted For Old Alum

A 1905 Michigan State College graduate will have a tree planted in his memory in Howell, Friday.

The ceremony will honor Clarence Arthur Reed, who died in Lakeland, Fla., in January, 1950. Reed instituted the nut-culture program for the U.S. Department of Agriculture and was in charge of nut tree research for many years. He was born in 1850 on a farm just south of Howell.

Reed received both his bachelor of science and master of science degrees from Michigan State College and worked with the department of agriculture from 1904 until his retirement in 1947.

Mutiny Command Taken By 'Crazy Jack' Hyatt

By ARNOLD SPELLEN
State News Reporter

JACKSON — Hopes for the safe release of nine prison guard hostages dimmed last night when "Crazy Jack" Hyatt took control of barricaded Cell Block 15 at Southern Michigan Prison.

The new leader threw out the personal effects of two of the hostages. After hurried conferences with the convicts, Hyatt ordered the guards to remain in the cell block. Wardens Julian Friess and John J. Fox were ordered to remain in the cell block.

All available state police were ordered to the prison following the new development. Prison authorities prepared to storm the section on indication that the guards had been harmed. Four mobile stretchers were wheeled into the corridor nearest Block 15.

Earl Ward, the convict who boasted he had complete control over the mutineers, was apparently unharmed in the coup that put the high-strung Hyatt in control.

Hyatt, who once attempted to escape from Marquette Prison by using Gov. Williams as a shield, remained a demand to the warden that Williams be called in for negotiations with his group. He was informed that efforts were being made to contact the governor.

Earlier Warden Friess had his first meeting with Ward and his cohorts who remained behind the bars of the cell block. The conference lasted 45 minutes with the warden promising to bring the governor's offer to the prisoners.

BULLETIN

JACKSON, AP—Gov. G. Mennen Williams gave 169 mutineers at Southern Michigan Prison late last night his personal assurance that their demands for peace terms would be met. Officials said the move might restore order in the big prison some time today.

The governor sent a letter to prison officials approving their acceptance of the mutineers' 11-point manifesto if that is the only way to restore order.

Instead of personally going to the prison, the governor sent the letter. The mutineers made the condition that the letter first be published in a newspaper.

The text of the letter was given the Detroit Free Press which agreed to publish it so that its final edition could be sent to the mutineers immediately.

Both Friess and the incarcerated convicts often raised their voices. Friess reported that he had come as close to a settlement with the prisoners as he had in the past. The warden was unable to convince the men that their grievances would be adjusted and no reprisals made against them.

The holdouts released the second guard in two days in return for the treatment they were being accorded. Officials delivered food and newspapers to the block in an effort to demonstrate their good faith and to protect their men held as hostages.

Guard Harold Carrier emerged from the cell with a broad grin on his face and soon after was in the arms of his weeping wife who maintained a three-day vigil in the prison office.

Troopers and guards exist on sandwiches, coffee, and cigarettes because there is no place to cook a hot meal even if they had time to sit down to one.

The memory that will take a long time to forget is of a man's rain-soaked shoes lying outside Cell Block 15. The owner of those shoes lies in critical condition in the prison infirmary after being beaten and stabbed.

Riots Bring Light to Prison Life

Comedy, Pathos
Dominate Scenes

By BOB POPA
State News Reporter

Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson provided the stage for a strange mixture of comedy and pathos during the last few days of prisoner rioting.

Many events in prison life came to light that would normally pass unnoticed, things that the average citizen cannot conceive when picturing life in a prison.

Such as a woman sitting dejectedly in the prison's main lobby waiting for news of her husband who is being held hostage in Cell Block 15.

The crowds of reporters and photographers made their time waiting for something to break. A trustee with an extremely noisy pumpcart comes down the corridor and reporters jump while photographers grab for their cameras. The ensuing confusion when they find that there is no news and will have to resume their waiting.

Then there was the prisoner who asked a guard to put him in a different cell because his temporary cellmate refused to talk to him.

Guards at the prison had nothing but praise for state troopers who took charge Monday afternoon. "Prettiest night I ever saw when they came marching in," a tired guard said.

Johnny Crockett, a convict in Cell Block 15, swagged about the office dangling keys for that section on a chain. He was carrying a long knife in his belt.

A guard worried about holding his job as recreational officer because the gym and equipment had been almost wholly destroyed by fire and water.

Prisoners called from their cells for a reporter to get the "true story," while their cellmates threatened to cut the reporter's throat if he came any closer.

Prisoners ran about the yard during the early parts of the riot, playing musical instruments. They wore parts of uniforms taken from the unarmed guards that were in the yard when the rioting began. As one writer aptly put it, "It was a real Roman holiday."

Earl Ward, leader of the rioters in Cell Block 15, protested "brutality" by guards and then clubbed a fellow convict with a hammer when he refused to cooperate with the rest of the group.

Dorm Teams Get Run-Happy

By JACK ROSE
Intramural dormitory softball got off to a flying start last night as 22 teams swung into action. The contests were played around the campus and one squad won on a forfeit.
Highlighting the activities was Mason 1's 16-14 thriller over Mason 2. Tied 14-14 going into the final frame, Mason 1 came up with two clutch runs to ice the contest. Al Scowcroft clubbed a triple with two men on to give the game to the winners.
Frank Swift of Mason 1 started on the mound as he came in to hurl the last three frames and threw the third strike past six Mason 2 batters. Al Bass with a homer and a single led the Mason 1 offensive attack while Ron Rolfe and Bob Hansen also chipped in two hits apiece for the victors.

Abbot 12, 7; Abbot 10, 6
Abbot 12 thought they had the game sewed up in the top of the fifth when they led 6-2, but Abbot 10 came back to score four times and knot the score at six all. But Abbot 12 was not to be denied and picked up the winning tally in the bottom of the fifth when Glen La Ferle scored from third after Toby Lewallen's long fly to the outfield.
E. Shaw 4, 16; E. Shaw 10, 1
Jim Rowe, E. Shaw 4 pitcher, was the shining star last night as he hit and pitched his team to a brutal 19-1 lashing over E. Shaw 10. The star hurler not only set the opponents down on one meager hit, but he also slammed out a long home run in the top of the fifth to aid his own cause. Rowe put the whiff of seven batters during his outstanding hurling reign.
Abbot 17, 16; Abbot 16, 3
In another high scoring runaway encounter, Abbot 17 blasted Abbot 16, 16-3 behind the steady pitching of Louis Gulick. Hits were plentiful in the contest as Ralph Radford, John Christensen, and Don Focher all pounded out three safeties for Abbot 17.

E. Shaw 9, 11; E. Shaw 3, 9
Lyle Schroeder allowed eight hits and was wild in giving up a few walks, but solid hitting by his teammates gave E. Shaw 9 the punch to kayo E. Shaw 3, 11-9. Ken Blackwell plastered a homerun with two mates aboard to pace the victors. Jack Trudeau with three singles and Jerry Chipman with two, also contributed to the E. Shaw 9 attack.
Scores of other intramural softball games last night:

Abbot 14, 6; Abbot 15, 4
Mason 4, 7; Mason 3, 2
Mason 5, 8; Mason 6, 5
Abbot 13, 5; Abbot 11, 3
Swans 2, 2; No-Hitters, 1
Mason 6, 5; Mason 3, 0 (forfeit)

Boston Scores Victory Against Yankees; Tigers Give Red Rolfe 'Confidence' Vote

BOSTON (AP)—Given only his third starting assignment since the 1950 season, Ellis Kinder, the veteran relief specialist, yesterday hurled the Boston Red Sox to a 3-1 victory over the New York Yankees with a five-hit performance.

And while he was so doing, the Red Sox slugged Alie Reynolds for eight safeties, including a homer and a two-bagger by Ted Lepcio and a pair of doubles by Jim Piersall, another rookie infielder.
Kinder was in trouble only once. Gil McDougald opened the fourth by hitting a topped ball that pulled Walt Dropo in from first base. It went for a hit because the initial sack was left uncovered.
Johnny Mize then dropped a bleeder single behind second base and McDougald scored as Gene Woodling hit into a double play.

Lepcio's two-bagger and Sammy White's single provided the first Boston run in the second. In the next frame, the Soxers bunched Piersall's first two-bagger with Vern Stephens for their second marker. Lepcio's four-bagger, his second such Major League blow, came in the seventh.
Johnny Mize then dropped a bleeder single behind second base and McDougald scored as Gene Woodling hit into a double play.

RED ROLFE

He is proud of his players, who, in the face of an eight-game losing streak, have given him a rousing vote of confidence in a secret meeting.

The session, held in the Comiskey Park dressing room before the game with the White Sox yesterday, was a rarity in baseball.
A Cleveland columnist, Gordon Cobbledick, had written that the Tigers possessed "an anti-Rolfe feeling" bordering on rebellion in the ranks.
Freddie Hutchinson, Detroit player spokesman and player representative of the entire American League, shooed Rolfe from the park locker room and called a team pow-wow.

Tennis Squad Drops Alumni In Final Drill

By BILL FARRISH
An alumni team, headed by Frank Beeman, who coached Michigan State to the Big Ten tennis title last year, bowed to the varsity in a practice match yesterday afternoon.

Beeman, now a lieutenant stationed with the ROTC department, found Stan Drobac, one of his former pupils too tough to handle as he lost in two straight sets, 6-4 and 6-1, in the No. 1 singles pairing.

This was the squad's final test before opening the season Saturday against Western Michigan.
Drobac won the No. 1 spot by his impressive showing on the recent Southern tour. Coach John Friedrich said that there are one or two positions still up for grabs and there may be changes before the season goes too far along.

Rolfe, who knew of the Cobbledick story, went to the press room, not knowing what his players were going to do.

Then Hutchinson emerged with this statement:
"We feel that such reports of dissent are unfair and we are back of Rolfe 100 per cent. He cannot be blamed for our losing showing."

"He is a good manager. He has been wonderful to all of us while we have suffered this bad luck at the start of the season. We want to refute the story from Cleveland. If there is any blame for the Tigers' showing, the players shoulder it themselves. We are for Rolfe all the way."

Rolfe, a disciple of Joe McCarthy as player and coach under the former great New York Yankee skipper, was almost overcome with his players' action.
Long recognized as an intelligent and affable veteran in the baseball business, Rolfe has been accused of an aloofness reminiscent of McCarthy. He firmly believes that a manager should be hired help, that his station engenders respect rather than familiarity.

This trait has been blamed for what feeling may have existed among the Tigers during spring training.
"If a manager can't grin in the face of derogatory reports, when he is striving to win his first game of the season, then he doesn't belong in the major leagues," philosophized Rolfe after the players' meeting.
"I know how my players feel about me now and I'm not worried. I think they are a great bunch of fellows."
A survey of the team indicated that all were ready to take the blame for their slump and that they were closer to Rolfe at the time than at any other.

Western Wins

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Western Michigan's track team won its first outdoor meet this season yesterday, defeating Bowling Green of Ohio, 100-5 to 30-5.
The Broncos took firsts in 14 of the 16 events. Four meet records were bettered by Western.

Baseball Nine Opens Big Ten Drive With Weekend Series Against Ohio State, Illinois

Under again by frigid weather, Michigan State's baseball team began preparations yesterday for a heavy weekend schedule, which will include a single with Ohio State and a doubleheader with Illinois.

Weather threw the third game of the series off when their game with Wayne was halted in the fourth inning due to rain. Game was fairly effective, but the Spartans were in trouble in the second with two errors on second base and one out. Carlson hit himself out by getting a double to ground into a double play.

Rich Southern trip batting, got the only Spartan when he slammed out a home run in the first inning.

Michigan and the Illinois Spartans come to the stadium for the first time in the series. Michigan State will take the first game of a single game series on Saturday for the first time.

The three games the Spartans are facing the two games that finished one-two in the Big Ten race. The series took the place with 10 wins and only two losses, and Michigan State is in the Big Ten playoffs. Michigan State is in the playoffs either, having come out with a 9-6 record, winning eight of the last 10 games.

Gymnasts Compete in AAU Meet

Five Michigan State gymnasts will be competing against the country's top performers at the National AAU meet and Olympic trials Friday and Saturday at State College, Pa., home of Penn State.

Heading the delegation is Capt. Bob Feldmeier, the Spartans all-around ace, who is gunning for a berth on the U.S. Olympic team. Feldmeier rated ninth in the all-around results last year and will have to make one more notch to make the eight-man Olympic team. In the NCAA meet last month he was a seventh-place finisher.

Another all-around performer, Carl Rintz, will concentrate all his efforts for this meet on his specialty, the side horse. Rintz placed sixth on the side horse in the NCAA, but constant workouts during the past month have sharpened up his routine and he could be a surprise in the side horse competition.

At Hannas, John Walker and Tom Mullineux are slated to see action on the trampoline. The duo went undefeated during the dual-meet season. Hannas, who with Feldmeier is the only senior making the trip, ranked seventh in the NCAA.

Mel Stout, a former MSC great who graduated in 1951, will also be seeking a position on the Olympic team. Stout was fourth in the NAAT last year.

Friday will see the large field narrowed down to the top 20 qualifiers. They will vie in the final Saturday for the eight Olympic berths.

Drake Relays to Provide Big Test for Track Team

By DON LEWIS

The Drake Relays at Des Moines, Ia., Friday and Saturday will provide Michigan State's track team with its second taste of competition of the young spring season.

Coach Karl Schladehman will take a squad of 15 men to vie against schools from all sections of the country in this 43rd renewal of the annual classic.

Following the meet the Spartans will turn their attention to the year's first dual clash May 3, against Penn State at State College, Pa.

With the season only two weeks old, injuries have started to plague the team, causing three regulars to miss the Drake Relays. They are John Corbelli, Lou Vargha, and Jim Ellis.

Corbelli, who was counted on to share the lead in the shuttle hurdle relay event, suffered a stone bruise on his left heel. Vargha pulled a leg muscle, while Ellis is hampered by a crained leg muscle. Corbelli and Ellis are expected to be in shape for the Penn State meet, while Vargha will be sidelined for two weeks. Jim Lincoln will take Corbelli's place on the shuttle hurdle team, along with Hartley, Benjamin, Hank Gillis and Bill Rensel.

Distance men who will be running the relays are Jim Keptford, Lyle Garbe, Steve Little, Jerry Zerby, John Walter, Wayne Scott and Dick Jarrett.

Little, Jarrett, Walter and Keptford will make up the distance medley relay quartet. The two-mile relay will be run by John Cook, Garbe, Jarrett, and Walter or Keptford.

The hurdle duties will be handled by Brendel and Benjamin.

Chuck Roland will be State's lone entry in the 100 yard dash and the broad jump, while Bob Carey will be competing in the shot put.

The 226-relays team will be made up of Lincoln, Little, Brendel and Roland.

Lakers Lose, 76-68

NEW YORK (AP)—Max Zaslofsky fired in nine points in the last four minutes last night as the New York Knickerbockers defeated the Minneapolis Lakers, 76-68, to square the National Basketball Association playoff series at three games apiece. The deciding game in the best-of-seven series will be played at Minneapolis on Friday night.

Navy Reports Reds Use Radar-Directed Artillery

TOKYO (AP)—Greatly improved Communist shore batteries guarding Korea's northeast coast have been shelling some American warships nearly 10 miles at sea.

The U.S. Navy reported yesterday in a survey requested by the Associated Press that this almost certainly means the Reds are using radar-directed heavy guns.

The Navy did not specifically report hits at that range, but for the first time it disclosed that 41 U.S. ships have been hit in the past 18 months.

However, casualties apparently have been light. The Navy said that, in contrast, only 10 ships have been sunk or damaged by mines but casualties were "much heavier than from shore artillery."

For this reason intelligence officers rarely obtain an aerial photo of one of the guns. The Reds are careful not to expose their guns to unrestricted counter-battery fire from destroyer guns. Neither do the Reds expose their guns when UN aircraft are in the vicinity.

House Defeats Bill to Appoint New Judges

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House took a slap at President Truman yesterday by defeating a bill that would have let him appoint 23 new federal judges.

In the first House test vote since the President signed the steel mills and evoked some demands for his impeachment, the chamber sent the administration-backed judgeship bill back to its Judiciary Committee.

The action, taken by roll-call vote of 163 to 149, means that the bill probably is dead. Few bills recommended survive to become law.

The voting that defeated the measure followed party lines with but few deviations and came after some Republicans said now is not the time to give the President more power.

Had the bill been passed and become law, the President would have had the power to nominate the 23 judges, subject to Senate confirmation.

Jazz Concert Scheduled

Union Board will present a Jazz Concert Tuesday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Union ballroom with the 25 cents admission price going to Campus Chest, announced Roger Hechels, chairman.

The local and out-of-town artists featured will include Claire Fischer, pianist, Grand Rapids graduate student, and Kenny Davis, trombonist, Jackson Junior. Bob Poetz of Dearborn will play an alto sax and Rocky Crandall of Detroit will play a string bass. Also featured will be trumpeter Jack Kuth of Flint and trombonist Dick Goldworthy, Detroit Junior.

Singers will be MSC coeds Diane Way, Pleasant Ridge sophomore and Dee Meyer, Detroit sophomore. Tom McMahon, Newberry senior, will be master of ceremonies.

Bus Company Reduces Night, Sunday Service

Bus service between East Lansing and Lansing will be reduced after 7:30 p.m. and on Sundays beginning April 27. Runs on the College-Fisher line will be on 18-minute frequencies instead of 12 minutes as now provided.

The reduction is part of a general curtailment of bus service throughout the city, which was approved by the Lansing City Council Monday night.

Officials of the Inter-City Coach Line Co. said the curtailment was asked in order to make up for losses from night bus service. The company said that it did not feel that 95 per cent of its patronage should be forced to pay a higher fare to maintain a high frequency bus service at night and on Sundays for the other 5 per cent of the riders.

Sunday runs will begin at 7 a.m. instead of 8. Daily service will continue to start at 5 a.m. The last night bus will leave Lansing for East Lansing at 12:35 a.m.

Copies of bus schedules may be obtained from the drivers. Buses on the Washington line will run every half-hour in the evenings and on Sundays. Real buses will continue their 40-minute interval schedules. All other lines will have hourly services. Schedules will not be changed for service between 5 a.m. and 6:30 p.m.

The company said it lost $24,456 annually on light bus service.

Sheets

(Continued from Page 2.) College's appropriation for the students and not so into deficit spending. Any money we do not use is turned back to the college, and does not carry over. We want to use it to benefit the students now.

No one wants a positive and careful plan for spending the students' money more than the Student Government. We plan to do this and still give the students the maximum service.

If we were to do all the other things that students have asked for, we would spend only $100 to $150 of next year's $9,000. The equipment would not arrive until this summer, and must be ordered now to have in the fall. I hope this brief run down will give a clearer picture of the situation. If there are any things you would like to have included please see your Congressman.
