

Spartans Set New Record with 16th Straight Win

Left halfback Don McAniffe, captain of the Michigan State football team, put the Spartans back into the game after the Wolverines of Michigan leaped to a 13-0 lead in the first quarter Saturday at Ann Arbor. Minutes after the Wolverines scored their second touchdown, he carried the ball on a 70 yard touchdown jaunt to start the Spartans on their scoring spree.

The Michigan State band, performing for the first time in its dazzling green and white uniforms, spells out a gigantic "M" in honor of the University of Michigan. Leonard Falcone's outfit also spelled out YOST, famed Wolverine athletic director, and BENNIE, for Coach Osterbaan, who was team captain in 1927. The numbers were in commemoration of the 25th anniversary of the huge Michigan bowl.

Billy Wells, Spartan right halfback who replaced Vince Pisano in the second quarter, breaks through Michigan's defense to score MSU's third touchdown midway in the second period. Making a grab at the first fumbled ball is Frank Howell (15). Michigan's right halfback, while Paul Dekker (81), Michigan State right end, comes in to make a block.

Automatic Stencil Students Paint Streets Green In Ann Arbor

An over-sized home-made stencil stood in an Ann Arbor police station early Saturday after two MSC students were found painting streets with large green MSC's.

A barrel, with letters cut in the sides, was mounted on bicycle tires and an axle. Three gallons of rubber base cement paint and three gallons of water seeping through a blotter of rags impregnated the huge letters every two feet for about four blocks near the University stadium.

The students who started their stenciling at 4 a.m. were released after a warning and assurance that they would be reported to College officials.

Police said the water paint would rub off with a street cleaner.

Nearly Completed

Organizational changes in the offices of the Counselors for Men and Women are nearing completion, according to a recent statement by Tom King, Dean of Students.

The new assistant in charge of women's organizations is Mrs. Lillian M. Lee, former Adviser to Men's Co-ops.

Munn Praises Yeweic For Quarterback Job

By TOM RYAN

Spotting a fired-up Michigan eleven 13 points, Michigan State's football squad rolled back for 27 points to defeat the Wolverines Saturday at Ann Arbor for the third straight year and extend their victory streak to 16 straight wins.

Tom Yeweic, making his first start at quarterback, and a new offensive line, Michigan State's two biggest question marks, were both superb Saturday at Ann Arbor.

Munn praised Yeweic's game Saturday and at the Junior from Conemaugh, Pa., continues to play throughout the season as he did Saturday, the quarterback problem is solved.

"He did a superb job, especially for a fellow making his first start in a college game," Munn pointed out.

Last season Yeweic had only 20 minutes of playing time, most of it while he was punting. Only Don McAniffe and Vince Pisano were back in the starting offensive lineup against Michigan this year. The other ends, Paul Dekker and Doug Bolo, tackles Gordie Seer and Joe Klein, guards Frank Kuch and Bob Brenth, center Dick Tamburo and Yeweic were all replacements for graduated seniors.

Wayne Benson started at fullback last season against Michigan but Dick Panin gained the nod this year.

Except for ends Don Dohoney and Ed Luke, the defensive line was also making their debut as a starting unit. Larry Fowler and Jack Morgan worked at the tackle posts while Don Schenck and Henry Bullough were the guards.

Both Dohoney and Bullough made frequent tackles and looked impressive on defense.

Ed Timmerman, Doug Weaver and Dick Tamburo, all lettermen were the linebackers with Weaver and Dick Panin.

Cadet ROTC Changes Curriculum

Branches Replaced
By General Course

Seven specialized branches of Army ROTC will be replaced this fall by a comprehensive general course in Military Science and Tactics, according to Col. C. C. Clemensen, Professor of Military Science.

Branch General Instruction will incorporate Military Police, Armor, Ordnance, Artillery, Signal, Quartermaster and Infantry classes into a three-year reserve officer plan. Students desiring special assignment in any branch will state preference during their third year in ROTC. Final assignment will be determined by the Department of the Army, Col. Clemensen stated.

Beginning this year, first, second and third year courses will be in Branch General Instruction. Fourth year course will remain specialized until 1953.

The ROTC Department changed its 36-year-old curriculum upon orders from the Department of the Army. The change will increase effectiveness as a primary source of officers for the regular army and army reserve, added Col. Clemensen. Branch General Instruction is a trend in college ROTC programs.

Police Require Auto Permits

With the fall term of school starting and the student traffic as heavy as usual, the Campus Police this week requested that students take special notice of the parking permit, which went into effect last night.

To replace the congested areas on campus the police have asked that all students have a student parking permit before they try to park their car on the campus. Permits may be obtained from the campus police office on South Campus.

First violation of the ban will bring a fine of $15, second violation will cause a fine of $50, and the third offense will mean expulsion from school.

State's Mighty Mite on the Rampage

A 5'9", 175-pounder, Wells showed that he could take it as well as give it as he is brought to the ground with a bone-crushing tackle by Jim Bolog, (22), University of Michigan defensive right tackle. At the left is Jim Neal, (31), MSC center, and Paul Dekker, (31), star right end for the Spartans. By his performance Saturday Wells gave indication that he will be a strong contender for All-American honors, this year as well as next season.

er and Tamburo shifted out on the right side.

Ray Vogt, Rex Corless and John Wilson shifted off at the defensive halfback positions while Jim Ellis played safety.

Michigan set up its first touch-down when safety Lowell Perry, who also doubles as a punter, returned one of Yewie's punts 24 yards to the MSC 49 yard line.

In five plays the Wolverines scored with Ted Kress carrying over for the final five yards on an end run.

Two minutes later quarterback Ted Topor passed to Perry for a second touchdown on a play that covered 38 yards. Russ Resnick converted to put the home team ahead 13-0.

State's Jim Ellis returned the kickoff to the MSC 50 yard line and on the next play from scrimmage, McAuliffe took off on his long jump that put the Spartans right back in the game. Evan Slonek, the pony fullback, converted for State to make the score 13-7.

Yewie then put on an exhibition of passing as State drove toward its second touchdown early in the second period.

He hit pony left halfback LeRoy Bolden for 23 yards and then found that Ellis cracked a converted halfback, and hit him for a 39 yard pass. He left the ball on Michigan's four yard line. Bolden ran wide around right end for the score. Slonek missed the extra point attempt, leaving the score tied.

Billy Wells, who saw action in both the regular and pony backfields Saturday, scored next for State. He poked the drive, which was aided by a 29 yard pass from McAuliffe to Dekker. Wells then hit up through the center for the final 19 yards and the Ted Slonek converted to put the Spartans ahead at halftime, 20-13.

Wells was the team's leading ground runner, averaging more than seven yards per try. He was also in the lineup during each of Michigan State's touchdown drives.

Bolden scored again, taking a four yard pass from Yewie on the left flat. Although the Spartans penetrated deep into Michigan

Tigers Drop 104th Game To End Year

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, who got up the season by regaining a 5-2 lead over the Cleveland Indians, today lost their last game, 4-3, to the Yankees.

The last place Tigers, trying vainly to pick up the 50 mark in the season's win column, were able to collect only seven hits off the combined offerings of Cleveland pitchers Jack Runk, Ed Whitely, and Sam Jones.

Rookie rightfielder Dave Phil drove in three runs with a home run during the initially four-run rally in the sixth inning.

Backed out the victory, Ted Gray went all the way for Detroit, losing his 17th against 12 wins.

The setback was No. 104 for the Tigers, easily a record for a team that never had finished in the American League cellar before.

Uniform Costs Soar

Football Manager Has New Problem

When a Michigan State football player is submerged in a big pile-up, not only will team physician Charles F. Holland wipe but also equipment manager Erwin Kapp.

While Dr. Holland will be thinking in terms of bumps and bruises, "Kapp's" sole concern will be the condition of the player's gear, cost of which has now risen to an all-time high of about $140 per complete uniform.

A torn jersey may have to be replaced at a cost of $12, a bent helmet may mean a loss of $10, while a shoe replacement runs about $20. This kind of expense makes the maintenance of playing paraphernalia an expensive proposition.

Besides the high cost involved, the job of outfitting a team is a big one from the standpoint of time. During a fall season, as many as 225 young men are issued uniforms and pads at one time or another with many representing lengthy fitting sessions.

Sizes for the many parts of the uniform vary in great degree. For example, Spartan Paul Dekker uses the largest headgear, size 7 1/2. On the small side, halfback Ray Vogt takes size 6 1/2.

Big Paul also has the biggest shoe, wearing size 14, while to the other extreme, a number of Spar-

Tommy Aquino, New York sophomore, and Gladys Constantine, Groesbe Pointe senior, also did several comedy songs.

Both fraternities held open house during the evening and refreshments were served.

"The two fraternities want to express thanks to the East Lansing city council for permitting the dance," said Rabe.

Special Seminar To Feature Talk On Atom Smasher

Dr. William H. Moore of the Brookhaven National Laboratory, Upton, Long Island, N.Y., will speak at a special physics seminar today, it was announced by Chihiro Kikuchi, associate professor of physics. Dr. Moore's topic is "The Basic Theory of the Cosmion."

The cosmion, a super-atom, was completed this June after three years of planning and is located at the Brookhaven National Laboratory. It now holds the highest record of any man-made proton produced for every production, averaging roughly five times more than the amount held by a cyclotron of the University of Chicago.

The lecture is open to all interested and will be held at 4 p.m. today in the conference room of the Physics Mathematics Building, Professor Kikuchi said.

Take It Off! Lettermen Warn High School Award Winners

"Get rid of that high school letter or run the risk of being thrown into the Red Cedar" was the ultimatum offered to students who sport athletic awards on campus, by Steve Little, Varsity Club secretary, this weekend.

This warning was in keeping with traditional Michigan State custom that only those athletes who actually won letters through participation in MSC sports should have the privilege of wearing them on campus.

The first Varsity Club meeting will be Wednesday at 7:15 in room 35 of the Union. All members will be required to attend and junior letter winners who wish to join the organization are also invited. Little said.

The chief purpose of the meeting will be to plan a dance following the Notre Dame football game on Nov. 15.

BOTH contain only those proven ingredients that make Chesterfields the best possible smoke: the world's best tobaccos, pure, more costly moistening agents (to keep them tasty and fresh), the best cigarette paper that money can buy — nothing else.

BOTH are much milder with an extraordinarily good taste and, from the report of a well-known research organization — no unpleasant after-taste.

BOTH are exactly the same in all respects. There is absolutely no difference except that king-size Chesterfield is larger — contains considerably more of the same tobaccos — enough more to give you a 21% longer smoke, yet costs little more.
