GOP Holds Slim Margin

Major Policy Changes Due as 'Fair Deal' Foes Get Control of Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Major changes in the dominant political philosophy as well as the complexion of Capitol Hill appear certain when the new 83rd Congress meets next Jan. 3.

It will be the result of a switch from Democratic to Republican leadership on the strength of paper-thin GOP numerical majorities now consisting of no more than one in the Senate and possibly only two in the House.

In addition to a Republican speaker of the House and president of the Senate, arch GOP foes of "New Deal-Fair Deal" programs in almost every case are in line for committee posts with their vast powers over the shape of the nation's laws.

Late yesterday, with six districts still undecided, the GOP held control of the new House by a whisker. The Republican count stood at 220—just two more than a 218 majority of the 435 members.

The Democrats had elected 207, and were ahead in all but one of the undecided contests.

One Democratic member, Rep. Adolph J. Sabath, died early Thursday. A special election will be held in his Chicago district.

Final results from districts still in doubt may not be known for days, possibly weeks—until absentee ballots are counted or an official canvass of the votes is completed.

In the Senate, Republicans held a 48-47 edge—or 49-47, if Sen. Wayne Morse is counted with the Republicans.

Morse posed a big question over GOP control of the Senate. The Oregon senator split with the Republican party in disagreement with Dwight D. Eisenhower's conduct of the campaign, and said he would call himself an independent.

The first night featured a speech by John R. Dethmers, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Michigan. Discussing the topic, "So You're a Fraternity Man," he stressed the point that if the fraternities are going to be self-governing organizations they must stand on their own feet and enforce rules.

There were also speeches by H. E. Bissel, president of the fraternity advisors, who was chairman of the general session, and Dean of Students Tom King, who introduced Dethmers.

President's discussed the problems of interpreting social regulations of the college in terms of the social activities of the fraternities. The secretaries talked about the necessity of keeping accurate notes and maintaining friendly alumni relations.

The necessity of strong relations with the community and positive publicity was stressed by the public relations section. The treasurers discussed the problem of collecting dues.

After the individual sections a report was made to the general session.

The Thursday meeting included a speech by Joe Shaw, IFC president, who was chairman of the assembly. He introduced Don Buell, associate professor of speech. Discussing the topic, "Is There a Scholar in the House?" Buell stressed the value of the three types of members: "the brain, the brawn and the in-between-er" and the help that the various houses can give to them. He also made several suggestions on how the scholarship of the house can be raised with specific emphasis on individual problems.

The four sections included: scholarship, social, rushing and pledge training.

Alger May Ask for Recount

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams issued a cautious victory statement today while counters checked the vote that apparently gave him a third term as Michigan's governor.

For his second election in a row, the balloting was so close that most of the interested parties were holding their breaths waiting for the official canvass—and a possible recount.

Unofficial returns from all of Michigan's 4,479 precincts gave the 41-year-old Williams a margin of 7,331 over Republican Fred M. Alger Jr. This was the way the total looked: Williams, 1,422,042.

This was based on the official canvass from 116 counties, a recheck of 50 counties in all and the original returns from the other 33.

Williams, standing alone against the Republican sweep, walked softly in claiming victory.

"My deepest thanks to the tremendous number of Michigan citizens who voted for me against the weight of a Republican landslide," he said.

"The unofficial returns indicate the slender margin of victory. I believe and expect that this will be confirmed by the official canvass."

In Lansing, Alger issued the following statement: "I don't have any official figures and I'm not accepting the present figures as official until they are canvassed and made official."

Errors were cropping up with respect to the frequency of the 1950 election, when Williams looked beaten and came back on a recount to edge out Harry F. Kelly, the Republican leader.

No one mentioned the word recount loudly this time. But there were rumors that Alger would ask for one if the canvass showed him within 10,000 of Williams.

At the close of the original election counting Wednesday Williams seemed to be leading by 3,948 votes; then the changes came.

Eaton county reported a counting error that gave Alger 1,730 more. Shawansee cancelled that out with a 3,460 change in favor of Williams. Many others had minor alterations of one to 100 votes.

U. S. Supports Korean Sea Zone

Red Note Of Protest Spurned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States firmly supported yesterday, Gen. Mark Clark's creation of a sea defense zone in Korean waters and spurned a Russian protest concerning it.

The State Department will send a note to Moscow formally rejecting the Soviet protest. For the moment the American attitude was disclosed informally by department Press Officer Michael McDermott.

The Kremlin objection was set forth in a note received in Washington Tuesday and translated and studied by officials Wednesday. It followed an announcement by Gen. Clark, the United Nations commander in Korea, on Sept. 27 about the establishment of the sea defense zone.

McDermott described it as one of a "seemingly endless series of messages maliciously designed to deceive people into believing that legitimate counter measures to acts of aggression are themselves new acts of aggression."

McDermott recalled that on Sept. 27 Gen. Clark in announcing the new defense zone "set forth the reasons for his action." He described Clark's reasons as being to prevent attacks on the South Korean coast to secure his lines of communication and to prevent the smuggling of contraband and enemy agents into South Korean territories.

Clark emphasized particularly the need to prevent enemy agents from reaching prisoners of war camps set up on Korean islands. Various blood-thirsty rumors are reported to have been traced to instructions delivered to the camps by such agents.

Fraternities

One of the major problems mentioned by the scholarship committee was how to enforce study hours and the decision that the file system was used as a study aid.

The rushing committee decided to hold another meeting Nov. 16 in the Union to discuss their problems more fully and make specific recommendations to the IFC. They offered suggestions that if more cooperation between fraternities existed and if the IFC rules were stronger and rigidly enforced, some of the problems of rushing would be eliminated. A suggestion that rushing should be deferred to winter term was rejected. It was decided that a master list of all rushers should be available to all houses.

Pledge training group discussed the problem of getting pledges to spend more time at the houses and to encourage more unity between pledges and actives. Also the problem of how to stress scholastic records was brought up.

Buell said that a summary of the meeting will be sent to all fraternities and asked for suggestions concerning "another similar meeting."

Sororities to Entertain 1,200

Introductory Rush Teas Set for Saturday, Sunday

This weekend more than 1,200 MSC women are expected to attend the introductory sorority rush teas. Approximately 800 coeds went to last year's teas.

Visiting eight houses both Saturday and Sunday, coeds will have an opportunity to visit all 16 sorority houses. The teas are scheduled tomorrow from 1 to 5:15 p.m. and Sunday from 2 to 6:15 p.m.

The teas, the preliminary step in formal rushing, are divided into 20-minute periods during which coeds visit one house. In order to reach all the houses the rushers should keep within the 20-minute limit at each house, according to Joan Donkin, Pan Hel, president.

Formal rushing will officially start Jan. 7 when the coeds pick up their bids to the first parties of a 10-day series. To participate in January rushing each woman must have an all-college two point.

To aid rushers Pan Hel has established a counseling system. The counseling service will provide information on all sororities and help rushers with any problems they may have.
