MIGs Shoot Down Jet In U.S. Zone of Germany

U.S. Denounces
Daylight Attack

WIESBADE, Germany (AP)—Two Communist MIG 15s roared out of Czechoslovakia Tuesday and shot down an American F-84 Thunderjet on routine patrol over the U.S. zone of Germany, the U.S. Air Force announced. Another American fighter plane escaped the chattering guns.

Lt. Warren B. Brown of Henderson, Colo., emerged with only scratches as he parachuted into a Bavarian woods 15 miles from the Czech frontier. His F-84, an early type of jet outclassed by the Soviet-built MIG 15s for at least three years, crashed and burned out.

Lt. Donald C. Smith, of Marysville, O., Brown's flying mate on the patrol, saw back in the second F-84 to the Fuerstentumbrunn Air Base, near Munich, without having fired a shot.

U.S. High Commissioner James B. Conant denounced the attack as "a grave incident, a gross violation of the U.S. zone border by satellite or Soviet aircraft." He said he was confident the U.S. Air Force in Germany "will know how to deal with any further incursions of this type."

The United States government ordered the U.S. ambassador to Prague, George Wadsworth, to draw up in his own words "the strongest possible protest" to Czechoslovakia's Communist government.

President Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, said in reply to a question that the White House had no comment.

Secretary of State Dulles, arriving at Washington Airport from a weekend trip to UN headquarters at New York, told reporters there:

"We take a serious view of the situation and have instructed our ambassador in Prague to make the strongest possible representation. Meanwhile we are looking into the situation further."

The attack occurred in brilliant sunshine Tuesday morning at an altitude of 12,000 feet—a little more than two miles.

Professor to Deliver Paper Before Seminar

Dr. Victor E. Smith, associate professor of economics, will deliver a paper on "Linear Programming as a Theory of the Firm" before the staff and graduate students of the University of Illinois Department of Economics at a 4 p.m. seminar Thursday.

June 2 Center Part May Grace Royal Hair

Where, when a lady is wearing a crown, should she part her hair?

"In the middle," says M. Emile, who dresses the hair of Queen Elizabeth II.

Whether the queen will do it that way for her coronation on June 2 he does not know, for despite his great authority in his field, the Queen of England is not obligated to take orders from him. But his remarks also apply to women wearing tiaras. The tiara despite passing favor this year isn't the kind of thing a gal wears frequently but next time you get the urge, remember M. Emile's advice.

Convos Begin Activity Today

Nearly 700 persons will be on campus today to launch a week of conference activity that will bring 10 groups to MSC under the program of the Continuing Education Service.

Largest groups are Michigan Business Education conference Friday and Saturday with an expected attendance of 300, and the Commercial Flower Growers conference, to attract about 200 on Monday and Tuesday.

Other meetings will be the Insurance Sales Institute today; Asphalt Paving conference, Thursday; Turf conference, Thursday and Friday; Insurance Vocation day, Friday; and Stone Fruit Virus conference, Friday to Sunday.

NEWS IN BRIEF

U. of M. Receives Cancer Grant

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A $20,000 grant to the University of Michigan from the American Cancer Society was announced here Tuesday by Dr. Albert C. Furstenburg, dean of the University medical school.

Raiders Slash Red Trenches

SEOUL (AP)—Allied raiders struck at dawn Tuesday and slashed into Communist trenches at two points on the rain-soaked Korean front, killing or wounding scores of Chinese Reds in bitter hand-to-hand fighting.

Russia Hints No Policy Change

MOSCOW (AP)—Prime Minister Malenkov phoned Joseph Stalin's body in the Lenin Tomb Tuesday and declared the party leader's successor is to pursue peace. There was no hint of change in policy toward Korea, however.

Plea: Unconstitutional Judiciary to Hear Appeal by Staser

Lee Staser will appeal his removal as freshmen president to the All-College Judiciary on the grounds that the action taken against him was unconstitutional.

Staser said, "The constitution does not state that the officer is to resign. The eligibility ordinance reads, 'any officer not having or maintaining an all-college 2.0 scholastic average, shall not remain in office.' The constitution does not state how the officer is to act on this matter."

According to Staser, "The law could be interpreted to read that the office would be vacated, or the officer become inactive, until his point average is once again a 2.0 or better. I am in firm agreement with this statement because I think, a person elected by the class should be given every opportunity to serve the class."

Staser said that he asked Jack Strasser, new freshmen president, to take over his duties but not his title at winter registration.

"Ellwood Voller, assistant dean of students, men's division, and I decided that turning over the responsibilities of the presidency to Strasser was the right thing to do," Staser said.

Congress May Decide Direct Vote

Another Pends
Signature Check

By JOHN CLANCY

Proposal No. 1 which calls for the direct nomination and election by the student body of the student government president is expected to be introduced to Congress this evening by representative Don Hoisie, fraternalist.

Proposal No. 2, requiring the student government president be nominated by Congress and elected by an all-college vote, will come up, if enough signatures can be rechecked and verified before the meeting.

A rebuttal of all the signatures on the petition was started last night against a list from the Registrar's Office. The student directory was used in the first check.

Proposal No. 2 will be reported out as favorably by the committee of Congress Business and State Affairs if it comes up before the Congress.

The eligibility bill and the Big Ten constitution will be on the agenda also.

Bob Bolo, president of the student government, said that he was going to ask Congress to hold up the eligibility bill until a decision was reached by the Judiciary on Lee Staser, former freshmen class president.

The committee of Congress Business and State Affairs said they are going to refer three other bills to the Congress for tonight's meeting. They are: a bill requiring class and student government officers to take an oath of office; a Student-Faculty Social committee bill, and the styles committee revised bill.

Two bills are expected to be reported out of the finance committee. One calling for $200 to be given to STUN, an organization which helps students buy used books, and a bill asking for $200 to buy books for the Assigned Reading Room.

Wilson Hints New Korean Line Offensive

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson hinted Tuesday that improved ammunition supplies may soon permit the U.S. Eighth Army to lash out on the offensive in Korea, perhaps using giant new shells to blast the enemy out of deep bunkers on the long stalemated battlefield.

Wilson did not say that such an offensive actually would be launched. He spoke guardedly of an ammunition build-up sufficient to enable the field commander to embark on a "more active type of operations" if such a step should be decided upon.

Wilson testified at a closed-door session of the Senate Armed Services Committee, and his statement was given to newsmen.

The cabinet officer's comment swiftly aroused conjecture that at least a limited offensive may be in the offing in Korea. It came as top Pentagon leaders split wide apart in answering charges by Gen. James A. Van Fleet, retiring Eighth Army commander, that serious and at times critical shortages of ammunition have pinched American troops in Korea for the last 22 months.

Wilson Given Check for Scholarship

John Wilson, Lapeer senior and defensive halfback on the Spartan football team received a $500 check from the Central Michigan Alumni Club at a dinner Tuesday night.

The money is to augment Wilson's grant of approximately $1,400 a year as a Rhodes scholar to study at Oxford.

President Al Beuerle presented the check at a dinner in the Union attended by club directors.

In his response, Wilson told club directors he will sail for England Sept. 30 and will use the money for travel and incidental expenses not covered by the scholarship.

Effort Made To Reconcile Utility Service

JACKSON (AP)—A rush effort to avert a threatened statewide Consumers Power Co. strike was undertaken Tuesday.

Chairman William Haber summoned a meeting here of his state fact-finders at two big locals of the CIO's Utility Workers Council voted to strike.

The union has hinted at striking in defiance of the state Tripp-Bowling law requiring 30 days notice of a walkout. The union claims the law is unconstitutional. Consumers Power serves a population area of about 5,000,000 in southern Michigan with gas and electricity.

The union is conducting a strike vote this week of all its 24 locals.

Two-Day Stand Scheduled Symphony to Present Semi-Classic Songs

Semi-classics and musical comedy will outline the program of the Boston Pops orchestra March 17 and 18 at 8:15 p.m. in the Auditorium. Arthur Fiedler will conduct.

Hilde Somer, Viennese-born pianist, will be featured soloist in the two concerts.

Since Fiedler's first open-air Esplanade concerts in Boston in 1929, the orchestra has gained a repertoire of about 400 musical works.

Miss Somer, who has made seven coast-to-coast tours, will sing Liszt's "Hungarian Fantasy for Piano and Orchestra," and on March 18 will sing Debussy's "Variations on a Nursery Air."

The first night's concert includes selections by Berlioz, Thomas H. Strauss, Chabrier, Tchaikovsky, Liszt, Ravel, Mason, Anderson, E. Strauss and Wagner.

Miss Somer, who has made seven coast-to-coast tours, will sing Liszt's "Hungarian Fantasy for Piano and Orchestra," and on March 18 will sing Debussy's "Variations on a Nursery Air."

All veterans will be placed on the new veteran list in the same chronological order as their names appear on the old list. This list held all the names of veterans and non-veterans who were applying for married housing.

These revisions were made recently by the Housing Committee. Veteran priority on barrack apartments will be made effective April 1. All veterans who have applied for married housing should contact the housing office and reapply as a veteran. Any veteran who applies for married housing should bring with him his discharge papers, marriage certificate and birth certificates of his children.

Because more than 300 families are awaiting assignment to married housing, the committee has found it necessary to limit the individuals who are eligible to apply.

Non-veteran male students who have earned 92 credits and attained first term junior status before they will be permitted to apply for married housing. This became effective Tuesday.

All undergraduates who were eligible under the old system and who have previously applied for married housing will be retained on the non-veteran list. They will be assigned barrack apartments as their names reach the top of the list. This includes those families now living in trailer village.

Trailer assignments have been discontinued since Feb. 21, 1963. The trailers will be in use until they can be found for the families now occupying this housing which was constructed in 1946.

Apple Pie ala Chapman 'Johnny Appleseed' Celebrates Birthday

By BOB ANDERSON
Today is Johnny Appleseed Day and Michigan, sixth state out of 35 in commercial apple production from 1880 to 1885, can thank Johnny (John Chapman) for the introduction of today's apple varieties.

The crab apple is all we would have today if it weren't for what he did. Chapman had a vision of a better world and he tried to make it so.

ing apple seeds from cider mills in early settlements and followed covered-wagon trails, planted and gave away seeds throughout Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Iowa.

Described as a small, wiry man, he walked the country barefoot, dressed in a suit of old cloth made in the village and buckskins in the woods. On his head he wore a hat, the like of which he also carried in his pocket.

A great lover of nature, he made sure there were no ants or worms in a log before throwing it on the fire. He didn't want to deprive them of a home. Once he crawled into a large hollow log to spend the night and found it already occupied by a sleeping bear. Rather than wake the bear, he crawled on to look for another sleeping place.

During his travels he also carried a small notebook, in which he recorded the names of the plants and animals he saw.

the Indians had taught him. He planted his orchards by hand over hundreds of miles of country and at times returned to prune the trees. He died March 11, 1847.

Some say Johnny got his fanatic love of nature and trees after being hit in the head by a horse at the age of 21. But however it happened, Johnny did the footwork for a large American industry and great American custom, apple pie.

Council Names Class Treasurer

Senior Council last night voted Dave Miller, Cleveland Heights, O., senior, class treasurer. The office was left vacant when Frank Creager, Three Rivers senior, resigned on Feb. 18.

Roger Summers, Charle, Ia., senior, was named to fill the vacancy on Senior Council.

Senior Office Hour this week will honor English language.

Just About Anything Don't Be Languid!

By PHIL GUNBY State News Associate Editor

My gosh, men, look at that calendar! We haven't a minute to lose.

Are you studying for finals? Who said anything about that? I'm thinking about the coming beach season.

It may not seem that way at 8 a.m. these days, but spring is just around the corner. The Tigers are displaying the habit of winning baseball games, the swallows are returning to wherever they return to this time of year, and (listen closely) the voice of the turquoise shall shortly be heard.

But our problem, gentlemen, is of course to cut a dashing figure on the beach during the lighter moments of the spring term. Unless you've been training all winter, some exercises are in order.

For the pleasantly plump: a. Practice laying down your knife, fork and spoon three times a day—shortly after picking them up.

b. Either schedule your classes on the top floors of Berkey and Home Ec, or arrange a schedule which takes you back and forth from South Campus five or six times a day. (Or else go out for the cross-country team; it's about the same thing.)

c. Volunteer for extra ROTC drill periods. (Well, it was just a suggestion!)

d. Get yourself a girl friend. Just worrying about her antics will take off four pounds per week.

On the other hand, if you happen to be constructed along my lines (so that when you turn sideways, people ask: "Where did he vanish to?"), here is another set of training rules:

a. Carry a poly sci book to class every day (or half the pills they give you for a cold at the Health Center). Muscles will appear in no time.

b. Substitute a steak for every cup of coffee you'd normally drink, and mashed potatoes for daily cigarets. This will put about 70 pounds on your frame in three or four days.

c. Practice deep breathing. (This can be done while sleeping in class, thereby killing three birds with one stone.)

d. Swimming (which you won't be doing if showing off on the beach) is good exercise, so stroke across one of East Acre's mud puddles every morning before breakfast.

But the time is short, men. Beach season will be on us before we know it. The time to get in shape is now. Let's show these coeds they aren't the only ones who can sport a snazzy chassis.

Death Claims Former Detroit Governor, 79

DETROIT (AP)—Former Governor Alexander J. Groesbeck, 79, three-term Republican chief executive of Michigan, died Tuesday in a Detroit hospital of congestive heart failure. He served as governor from 1921 to 1927, his tenure marked by vigorous activity during which he changed the entire system of state government.

In recognition of his service, the Michigan Legislature passed a resolution of sympathy to his family and regret at the loss of a "great governor."

Gov. Williams issued a statement saying "Michigan has lost a true elder statesman in the passing of Alex J. Groesbeck."

"Personally," Gov. Williams said, "I shall miss his support and presence. He was one of our greatest governors. His six years in office as chief executive coincided with Michigan's growth as the center of the automotive industry and the mass production capital of the world."

"His death gives the present generation cause to remember that Michigan's present greatness is not an accident but flows from the wisdom and leadership of men like Alex J. Groesbeck who were not afraid to blaze new trails for the public good."

Counselors To Take Part In Conventions

Harold Sponberg, assistant director of the Placement Bureau, and Paul L. Dressel, counseling director at MSC, will take active parts in the combined conventions of the American Personnel Association and the National Association of Deans of Women, March 29 to April 2 at a Chicago hotel.

Dr. Dressel will discuss "Current Trends in College Testing Programs" and Sponberg will head a section on "Placement Services in Big Ten Universities." Both meetings are scheduled by the American College Personnel Association, one of the major divisions of the American Personnel and Guidance Association.

More than 2,000 personnel and guidance counselors are expected to attend the conventions and discuss problems related to "Human Resources and Manpower Utilization."

Illini, Indiana Dominate All-Big Ten Cage Team

Ferrari Gets Second Team Domination

CHICAGO (AP)—Big Ten coaches Wednesday unanimously chose Ohio State's Al Ebert and champion Indiana's one-two offensive punch Bob Leonard and Bob Leonard of the 1953 Associated Press Big Ten team.

State's sophomore Al Ferrari was named guard post on the second team. Ebert and Leonard shared the first-team honors of every conference coach. Other two all-star choices were Chuck Meneel of Minnesota and Irv Beharas of Illinois. Meneel was picked up, though he accumulated vote totals.

Points were allotted for a team choice and one for a player choice. Ebert, Schlundt, Leonard all received 20 points. Meneel got 17—seven for three seconds—three seconds—three seconds. Reference coaches never had the opportunity to survey the field. This season for the first and only the last time, each Big Ten team played every other team twice. The 18-game program created so many scheduling difficulties, however, loop athletic chiefs decided to revert to a 14-game schedule for each school.

The race mentors put Schlundt at his regular center position and Leonard and Meneel at their regular guard posts. Ebert, a center, and Beharas, normally a guard, were shifted forward.

Team choices besides Leonard were Deacon Davis, Iowa; El Kalafat, Minnesota; four John Kerr, Illinois; center Jim Bredar, Illinois; Bredar and Kerr were the vote-getters on this quintet and nine points, respectively. Schlundt, the 6'10-inch sophomore who smashed all Big Ten individual scoring this season, was a virtual certainty since early in the season he poured in a steady stream of baskets in every game and, under pressure, was poised and sharp.

Al Ferrari Honored At Basketball Banquet

By KEITH MILLER

The awarding of the team's most valuable player award to sophomore forward Al Ferrari featured the third annual Press, Radio, and Spartan basketball banquet held Tuesday evening at the Famous Grill.

AL FERRARI

The Famous Grill and Paul's Automotive sponsored the event as they have the radio broadcasts of the basketball games over the past three months.

Presenting the award to Ferrari was Michigan State Athletic Director Ralph Young. Upon receiving the prize, the new Spartan scoring champion announced, "It's the most significant trophy that I've ever received and I want to thank everyone for making it possible. It's pretty wonderful."

Erik Furseth, one of the three graduating seniors on the Spartan quintet, was named captain of the 1952-53 squad. Individual awards were given to the players and Coach Pete Newell and assistant Coach John Bennington received gifts for their fine work over the season.

Several speakers keyed the fact that since Newell and Bennington arrived on campus, State has vaulted from seventh to fifth to third in the Big Ten standing over a three year span. One speaker went on to say that following that line of logic, one can easily see where the team should finish next year.

The season is now officially concluded and Newell will travel to Chicago next week to help draw up a 14 game conference schedule for next year.

In a recent meeting, conference leaders decided to drop the controversial 18 game state, which was in use this season for the initial time.

The Spartans had an overall record of 13 wins in 22 starts with 11 victories and seven losses in Big Ten competition.

Features of the season were the fine play of inexperienced players as Ferrari, Dick Westling, Bob Armstrong, Bob Devenny and Jim Schlatter, the third place standing in the conference, the 90-63 win over Kansas State and Ferrari's breaking of Bob Brannum's scoring mark.

As far as next season goes, Newell will have his entire starting lineup from the last half of the past campaign, losing but three men, forward Furseth and guards Gene Rhodes and Bob Johnson.

With several fine freshmen approaching varsity competition, the Spartans will be well stocked to tackle the '53-'54 slate.

Veeck Denies Plan to Move St. Louis Team

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Bill Veeck, president of the St. Louis Browns, denied recently reports that he is seeking to move his American League franchise to Milwaukee.

"I'm not even considering it and won't unless someone makes me a fabulous offer," Veeck told newsmen after a half hour conference with league president Will Harridge.

Veeck said he and Harridge discussed the refusal of New York, Cleveland and Boston to schedule home night games with the Browns because of Veeck's insistence that his club share in television receipts.

Milwaukee Invitational Beckons Eight Thinclads

The wind-up of the indoor track season sends eight Spartans to Milwaukee for the Milwaukee Journal Invitational meet.

Coach Karl Schlademman is sending a two-mile relay team composed of John Walter, Dick Jarrett, Ed Barr and John Cook.

Lou Vargha and Bill Brendel will team up with Cook and Jarrett for the mile relay.

Besides the two relay teams Henry Gillis will enter in the high hurdles and freshman sprinter Ed Brabham will run unattached in the 80-yard dash.

According to Schlademman there is a strong field entered in the two mile relay. Georgetown University is the favorite to win but will be pressed by Illinois, Indiana and State.

Schlademman said, "There are some good teams but we can finish anywhere from first to fourth."

Spartan ace miler, Jim Kephford is out of the meet with a pulled leg muscle.

Independent Champs

This year's Independent League champs, the Old Timers, moved into the final as a result of their two-point victory over Snyder 17 last night. The Old Timers have been forced to beat two teams twice due to replays. The latest of these protested games was played Monday night as the Old Timers slipped by the Indians for

East Shaw 2, Old Timers Advance Into IM Finals

By PAUL PETERSON
The Old Timers and East Shaw 2 will meet tonight at 6:40 to determine the All-College basketball championship as a result of their victories Tuesday night.

The Old Timers had a tough time of it but were able to edge out a two-point victory in the final minute as they downed Snyder 17, 35-33. Trailing by three points at the end of the first period, 10-7, the Old Timers came back hard in the following stanza as the lead changed hands seven times, the half ending 19-18 with the Old Timers on the long end of the count.

Snyder just about fell apart in the third quarter as they were stopped completely from scoring. During that same period the Old Timers added ten markers to their side of the score to lead 29-18.

Snyder 17 got back on their feet in the final quarter and made a real game of it as they outscored their opposition 15-5. But the last minute drive faltered. The Old Timers clung tightly to a two-point lead as the game ended.

Dick Berg of Snyder was high scorer with 16 while Stan Baxter dumped in 14 for the winners.

In the other game of the evening, East Shaw 2 defeated Sigma Nu in another close game, 29-21. East Shaw held the lead throughout the entire game holding Sigma Nu to a free throw in the first quarter as they marked up five points. Sigma Nu's first field goal came midway through a rough second period which ended 16-12.

The last quarter saw Sigma Nu come within two points of tying the game as they trailed 18-16, but John Matsock's four buckets during that period put the game on ice for Shaw. He totaled 12 points for the night to lead the scoring for both teams.

MSC Concert Band Lists Ensembles In Sunday Program

The Michigan State College Concert band, under the direction of Leonard Falcone, will present a concert March 15 at 4 p.m. in the Auditorium. Highlights of the program will be woodwind and brass ensembles.

Appearing midway in the program will be the eight clarinets playing the difficult "Perpetual Motion" by Niccolò Paganini. In this composition, the usual violin passage is replaced by the clarinetists. This particular transcription was made by Nicholas Falcone of Ann Arbor, brother of the director.

O'Neill Play Chosen for Spring Play

Eugene O'Neill's comedy "Ah Wilderness" has been chosen as the spring term play. Tryouts for the plays are being held in Fairchild Theater, tonight and Thursday night. One rehearsal will be held before the close of this term and rehearsals will begin next term April 1. Any eligible student is welcome to try out, director Don Buell stated.

According to Buell the roles include a "mellowed father," a traveling salesman, a Liberty Lou and a college freshman who can read the "Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam" and make it stick. O'Neill was writing from his own past and "Ah Wilderness" is a kindly yet humorous portrayal of life in 1910 as lived by a prospective college freshman.

Casting will also be held for the Truman Capote drama, "The Grass Harp," which Theta Alpha Phi is planning to offer as their spring show.

Meeting Planned for Fraternity Sing

Isotope To Benefit Housework

Research with radioactive isotopes is increasing its importance in the home. Isotopes, post-war by-products of the atomic energy program, are making housework easier. Isotopes are revolutionizing the home.

Dr. Lester F. Wolterink, who coordinates the research, says that isotopes have a long history known to science before the war.

"It is like pouring a little bit of magic into the home," Dr. Wolterink says. "Electronic instruments that enter the tissue of the home are making it more comfortable and more efficient. Scientists are making use of the chemical reactions of isotopes."

With equipment costing as little as $100, a housewife can trace the flow of water in her pipes. Dr. Wolterink says that isotopes are being used in the home to detect leaks, to find out why a stove won't heat, and to find out why a refrigerator won't cool.

As MSC research has increased and the projects are now under way, the use of isotopes in the home is becoming more widespread. The end-result of this research is a more comfortable and more efficient home. The health hazard of isotopes is minimal, and the materials used are safe. The use of isotopes in the home is a new development in the history of science.

As part of the research, isotopes are being used to find out why a stove won't heat, to find out why a refrigerator won't cool, and to find out why a housewife's housework is so hard. The use of isotopes in the home is a new development in the history of science.

A Little Bit

Students staff has found an unusual predicament. They want to "study" but they don't want to "study." The predicament is a result of the "study" they've chosen. They've chosen to "study" from the "study" they've chosen. They've chosen to "study" from the "study" they've chosen.
