Blacks Bring Br's Nature's Tricks To Play Havoc With Students

Mother Nature may decide to take a backward bound today when the cool, spring breezes turn into cold, wintry blasts. The weatherman has promised another day to sport those flaky alibers. Showers or snow flurries are predicted with a high of 40.

Orchestrals Bill To Include U of M Team

Evolution, Mexicana Set to Dance Rhythm

The Orchestral Modern Dance Honorary will present its annual review at 8:15 Friday night in Fairchild Theater. Participating in this year's event will be the University of Michigan's Choreographers' Workshop and the Michigan State Madrigal ensemble.

Included on the program are Lewis Carroll's "Jabberwocky" and Copeland-Greene's "Fantasia Mexicana."

The Evolution philosophy will also be choreographed. Songs by the Madrigal ensemble "Sing We and Chant It" and "Alexander" will be choreographed by Orchestral members.

One-third of the review will be devoted to an explanation of the essentials of Modern Dance accompanied by demonstrations by the dancers.

Dr. Marvin Semm of University of Michigan's English department wrote the poetry for the program. Jim Whittaker, Metamora senior, assisted by Pat Jones, Detroit sophomore, are the choreography directors.

No-Turn Trial Set for Abbott Intersection

Left turns from Grand River Avenue onto Abbott Road will be banned during a 30-day trial period starting April 20, according to Charles F. Pezz, chief of police.

The ban is part of an experimental control program set up by the police and traffic commission to clear up serious traffic congestion in East Lansing. Under the plan, approved by the city council, all Grand River Avenue traffic will be routed past the Abbott Road intersection to prevent traffic jams by cars waiting to make left turns.

The new change will be indicated by signs at the intersection and enforced by police officers, Pezz said. Studies will be made on the effect of this regulation during the 30 day period.

Living Units to Get Carnival Sketches

Living unit representatives for Water Carnival will get their preliminary float sketch back at a general meeting tonight at 7 in Union room 31, according to Ann Cahill, theme chairman.

Changes in the plans will be explained and the carnival rules given. Continuity and song choices may be turned in tonight, Miss Cahill said. The deadline is April 28, when final float plans are also due.

Exchange Student Appreciates MSC

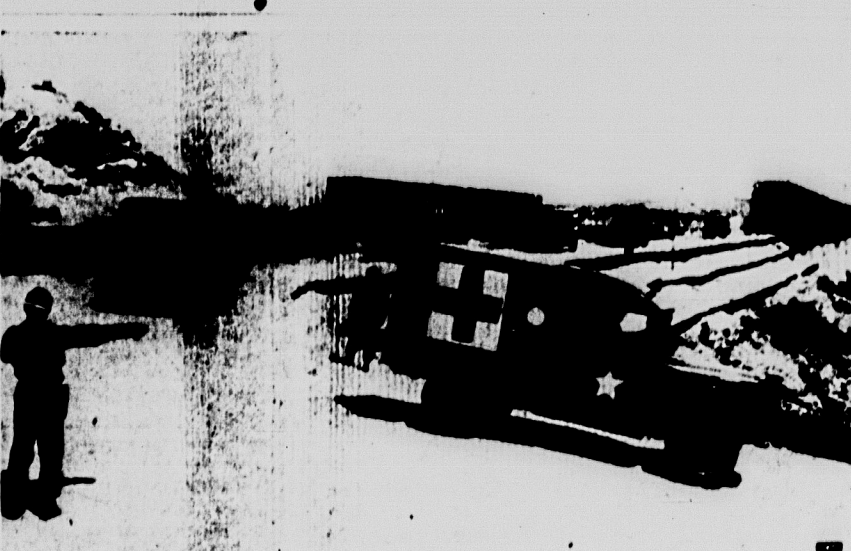

By BOB GROOM
Are you looking forward to leaving Michigan State College? At least one student doesn't.

"About all I did for 18 months was try to find some way to get back," Richard Erhardt explained.

Big and blond, 22-year-old Dick is from northern Austria. Drafted into Hitler's army in 1944 at 15, he was captured by the Russians, and spent six months in a prisoner of war camp.

"I don't like to talk much about it," Dick said, "because part of my family still lives under Russian rule."

United Nations ambulances take a practice run over Freedom Gate bridge near Panmunjom in rehearsal for the forthcoming transfer of sick and wounded POWs. The project is termed "Operation Little Switch."

Wounded Cover Supply Move

Reds Use POWs as Shield

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The Communists used convoys of disabled Allied prisoners heading southward Wednesday to shield huge military supply movements and drove off U.S. spotter planes with furious anti-aircraft fire.

The first convoy of sick and wounded Allied prisoners was due to reach Kaesong, Red armistice headquarters, Thursday for exchange beginning Monday. Two other convoys were enroute over roads jammed with Red military traffic.

U.S. reconnaissance planes located two of the convoys Wednesday. One was seven miles north of the Korean Red capital of Pyongyang and the other still was deep in North Korea, near the oil-bombed bridge and rail center of Sinanju, 50 miles below the Manchurian border.

There was no sign of the third convoy the Reds have said is on its way.

Cascade Plane Crash Draws Investigation

SEATTLE (AP)—An investigation was begun Wednesday into the crash of a chartered troop-carrying plane early Tuesday in the Cascade Mountains with the loss of six lives.

Nineteen persons survived the disaster as a thick growth of towering trees apparently provided a cushion for the crash of the crippled plane.

One of the aspects certain to come under Civil Aeronautics Board investigation was the report by some of the survivors that the Miami Airline DC-3 turned back to Chicago for a four-hour engine repair job on the flight westward. One of the plane's last radio reports before the crash told of the failure of one of its two engines during a night snowstorm over the Cascades.

Circling low to take a close look and to photograph the prisoner convoys, pilots and they were driven off by savage anti-aircraft fire. One pilot said he had never before seen so many Communist jets on the move over Korean skies.

At the other end of the repatriation road, 770 Chinese sick and wounded from Cheju Island staged a 2 1/2-hour sit-down demonstration aboard an Allied repatriation ship at Pusan. They left sullenly but without violence, only after U.S. guards came aboard with fixed bayonets.

The prisoners through spokesmen made numerous demands, such as allowing one of their leaders to go ahead and inspect prisoner facilities.

The incidents deeply disturbed Allied authorities anxious to bring off without a hitch next week's exchange of 600 Allied sick and wounded, including 120 Americans.

Meantime, a U.S. Prisoner of War Command spokesman said the number of Chinese sick and wounded to be repatriated may be increased from 700 to 930. He said besides the 770 Chinese brought from Cheju there were 160 disabled at a prison hospital near Pusan who want to go home.

There was no official confirmation and it was not known if this would affect the overall total of 3,000 Reds to be exchanged. The Allies have announced that 700 Chinese and 3,100 North Koreans would be sent home.

There was still no word from the top United Nations committee, Gen. Mark Clark, on the immediate resumption of full dress armistice talks as demanded by the Communists.

In Washington, the State Department said a reply to the Communist proposal still is being drafted and that so far no instructions have gone to Clark.

The Communists have not dropped their old insistence on full repatriation of all 132,000 war prisoners held by the Allies, but have proposed that those unwilling to be directly repatriated be handed over to a neutral country for a just solution of their cases. The U.N. Command has 4,000 prisoners who say they will resist return to Red rule.

AWS May End Use of Study Table

The possibility of discontinuing the study table system was weighed at an AWS meeting Tuesday night. Representatives also elected Ann Martineau, Mass. sophomore as secretary, and Joyce Bergeron, Wyandotte sophomore as treasurer.

AWS meetings and activities representatives will check on the fall and winter term averages of girls on study tables to see if any improvement was made.

If the research shows no improvement in grades for either winter or spring term, the study table requirement may be abandoned.

Joint Committee To Decide on Budget Little Optimism Shown For Immediate Approval

By STAN STEINBORN
State News Capitol Reporter

The fate of Michigan's plans to start construction of a new library will probably be known today. The joint Senate-House committee considering capitol outlay requests plans to make public today its proposed part of the 1953-54 budget bill.

The recommended appropriations for new buildings and major repairs will be sent to the Senate Appropriations Committee and the House Ways and Means Committee where they will be studied and eventually sent on to the whole Legislature.

Michigan State originally asked for $16,874,730 to be spent on seven new buildings including a library.

Five million dollars of that for the library of which Governor Williams recommended only $1 million be appropriated this year. At the time news came of the announcement of the committee's decision there was little optimism at the capitol that any money for the library would be appropriated this year.

Rep. Arnell Engstrom (R- Traverse City) member of the joint committee, said he did not see much chance of the library being approved.

Rep. T. Jefferson Horle (R-St. Louis) another House member of the group, said that there were three criteria which the Legislature had to consider before authorizing money for any new construction.

First, he said, was the need for the building; second, whether the building was needed.

Hannah Calls Eisenhower Talk Important

John A. Hannah, assistant Secretary of Defense, said Wednesday that President Eisenhower's talk today will be one of the most significant statements out of the White House since the early days of F.D.R.

Hannah, assistant secretary in charge of manpower and president of Michigan State College, made the comment at a dinner for the Michigan Legislature at the college.

He said he had seen drafts of the address to be televised and broadcast at 7 p.m. today, and advised every member of the Legislature to get close to a radio or television set.

Bill Proposing NSA Tie-Up Referred to Committee

By MARY LOU BERNECKER

Student Congress appropriated $1,700 of student tax money, over half the student fund for spring term, for the Helot and organizational grants-in-aid allocations Wednesday.

The bill proposing affiliation of Michigan State student government with the Helot Student Association, was referred to Congress business and affairs committee for investigation what benefits the affiliation will give the student body, what alleged Red background financial difficulties exist in

Versatile Grandmother Captures Video Spotlight

Television Fascinates Mrs. Lynch

By SUE HENDERSON

There is an old adage that says "the older you are the more you learn." And there's no student on campus that takes her learning quite so seriously.

Mrs. Augusta Lynch, 72-year-old grandmother majoring in business and real estate.

However, Mrs. Lynch's curriculum is not entirely filled with reading, writing and arithmetic. She has found time to fill her life with many hobbies and interests, and after an absence of years, she is now completing her education.

As guest of the "Welcome Traveler's" television show during spring vacation, Mrs. Lynch received gifts including a suitcase, a watch, a purse and a year's supply of shampoo.

The feature which I most enjoyed was watching the television scenes of the program," she said.

As a cost, Mrs. Lynch is taking senior and graduate courses, horticulture classes and real estate law and merchandise classes are filled with mostly young women, she says are very lively and co-operative.

Mrs. Lynch feels that MSU's academic program offers a generally good opportunity for anyone in any line. And as for an studying goes, she likes to get her home work done and so she's free to spend time as she pleases.

Student activities help broaden one's life and prepare you to get on with the world with greater poise and understanding, Mrs. Lynch says. "By participating in organizations you become capable and have a greater awareness of world problems which will aid you in later life," she said.

"Dating," she stressed, "is an important part of college life. Student marriages also are common as well as willingness to live together although the going is hard. Married students have an opportunity to learn life's lessons and adjust to marriage."

During her earlier schooling Mrs. Lynch attended Ferris Institute and has always remembered the advice of Prof. William Ferris, former Michigan Governor. Mr. Ferris stressed originality, she said. "He is fond with meeting people and you show friendliness first, it is easy to make friends."

A former photographer for the Grand Oregonian and Seattle Intelligence, Mrs. Lynch enjoys dancing, reading, and playing cards. Her favorite dances are the waltz square dance, which she hopes to study next year. She hopes to be a student guide visitor on campus this spring.

A Modern Twist

'Tween Us Coeds

By JEAN CURRAN
State News Women's Editor

Campus fashions change but white holly socks are always in style. I noticed this when I first came to State and now, four years later, I have seen saddle shoes, white bucks, angora sweaters, and now shawls hit popularity, but the majority of coeds still stick with white holly socks.

One professor on campus announced in his class that all coeds who weren't wearing white socks would be excused from the examination that day. None of the coeds got up to leave.

I have even asked, "why just white holly socks?" from people not attending college. Is it a national style throughout college campuses?

State coeds gave the following reasons for wearing them: everybody else does, they are neater looking, easy to care for, more convenient and will go with any color, my boy friend likes them and colored holly socks look like something from out of high school.

In any event the style sticks with us and I'm not for changing it any.

Spartacade Limits Social Festivities

Clawless Tigers to Start Houtteman in Opener

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers' hard luck right-hander, Art Houtteman, will pitch the opening game at Briggs Stadium today against the Cleveland Indians.

Houtteman, who had an 8-20 record last season, has been trying to work off a sore arm and hasn't done much pitching this spring.

Hal Newhouse originally had been slated to open the season here but he was one of the casualties of Wednesday's flaccid game, though he didn't get into the game. He pulled a muscle on his right leg while running in the outfield before the game.

LANSING AND EAST LANSING

In his last appearance, against the Cincinnati Reds Sunday, he yielded 10 hits and eight runs in six innings. Mike Garcia 21-14 will be on the mound for the Indians.

In spite of the poor showing Tuesday night, the Tigers will have only one change in the starting lineup today. Manager Hutchinson disclosed. He said Matt Batts will replace Johnny Bucha behind the plate.

The Tigers are opening their home season with all kinds of troubles. Ned Garver, who was slugged for three doubles, two singles and four runs in the opening inning Wednesday, became a casualty. He is limping around on a tricky knee which sidelined him in the third inning.

First baseman Walt Dropo and third baseman John Baumgartner suffered bruises from head to knee as the result of a sixth inning collision in a chase for a pop fly.

Garver is to be examined at Ford Hospital to see if an operation is needed on his trick knee. Ted Gray will accompany him to the hospital for a new check on his sore pitching arm.

But in spite of the Tigers' poor prospects, Detroit baseball fans are expected to turn out 40,000 strong for the opener at Briggs Stadium at 2 p.m. today.

Solly Hansen, St. Louis Cardinals shortstop, hits the dirt as he is caught in a rundown between second and third base in the sixth inning against the Milwaukee Braves at Milwaukee Stadium Tuesday, opening game of the season in that city. In on the play are Braves third baseman Ed Mathews (61) and shortstop Johnny Logan, who made the tag. Braves won in the tenth inning 3 to 2.

Bad Weather Cuts Major's Schedule; Yanks Beat Shantz

A combination of cold and rain hit the northeastern portion of the United States Wednesday and the inclement weather caused cancellation of the Detroit-St. Louis, Chicago-Cleveland baseball games in the American League and the St. Louis-Milwaukee and Cincinnati-Chicago contests in the National circuit.

In games played, Brooklyn triumphed 4-2, the Philadelphia Phils took the measure of the New York Giants, 8-1, and the New York Yankees blasted Bobby Shantz and the Philadelphia Athletics for a 4-1 conquest.

Gene Woodling wallowed a pair of runners in the eighth inning to break up a shut-out pitcher. Phils' pitcher Shantz, who charged in for a double swing his best, double swing Mize with the winning run.

Woodling's ground two hit came with two out and runs on first and second in the seventh following a single by Mike Mize and a walk by Rayner. The blow struck Mize and Hooper who crossed the plate when shortstop Eddie Jones hit Philie's relay and the past catcher Joe Astron.

Curt Simmons pitched a hitless game in a 14-inning effort on four New York Giants pitchers with a pair of strikes a double to lead the Philadelphia Phillies to an 8-1 victory at Connie Mack Stadium.

Favorites Capture Lead In Ladies' Golf Tourney

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Favorites, with the exception of Oregon's Grace DeMoss, came through in expected fashion Wednesday in the first round of match play in the Women's Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament.

Miss DeMoss, from Carlsbad, lost out on the 19th hole to Mrs. Frank Donaldson of Anaheim, Calif., who failed to qualify for the Trans-Miss here a year ago.

(Meanwhile, the gallery stars played successfully over the 6,345-yard par 76 Arizona Country Club course.

Heading the procession into the second round were defending champion Mrs. Lyle Bowman of Richmond, Calif., and medalist Barbara Romack of Sacramento. Mrs. Bowman scored a 4 and 2.

Perhaps the hottest match saw Pat Garner, Midland, Tex., winner over Joan Nelson from the University of Arizona at Tucson one up on the 19th hole.

Lansing Product Freshman Mat Star Turns in Rare Feat

It isn't every day that a nineteen-year-old college freshman wins a N.A.A.U. wrestling championship and when a freshman is from Michigan State, he is worth talking about.

The grappler in question is young Jimmy Sinadinos, who won the 136-pound N.A.A.U. championship at Toledo last weekend.

A graduate of Lansing Eastern High School, Sinadinos was a member of his prep school's wrestling team, serving for two years on the varsity. During that time he won the state crown for the 127 pound class and finished second in the district Olympic tryouts.

CHUCK MADSEN

With his eye on Wayne State's baseball coach, Kobs sent his charges a seven-inning intrasquad game Wednesday night.

Impressed with the work of three outfielders, Kobs named Dick Risch and Capt. Kobs. The trio garnered a total of three hits in the short game.

Court Clears Spivey Of Perjury Charge

NEW YORK (AP)—A year-old perjury indictment against William Spivey, former University of Kentucky basketball star, was dismissed Wednesday, an action which, in effect, cleared him of accusations growing out of the game-fixing scandal.

The district attorney's office said it saw no use in trying the case again. A trial jury deadlocked on the charges last January, voting 9-3 for acquittal.

In Lexington, Ky., Spivey said he hoped to return to the university to obtain his bachelor's degree.

Spivey, seven-foot former All-America player, was the only one to stand trial among 32 players from eight schools involved in the scandal. Most of the others pleaded guilty or turned state's evidence.

Cancer Hits MacPhail, Bowie Head

Sports Promoter's Speech Restricted

BALTIMORE (AP)—Larry MacPhail, dynamic sports promoter facing trouble with police and racing officials for his outspoken manner, Wednesday was reported to be suffering from cancer.

Teery said MacPhail had consulted Dr. James Moore in New York City Tuesday and been ordered not to talk for two weeks.

Ohio Relays Forecast Michigan, Illinois To Annoy Spartans

By RON SMITH

With only three more days to prepare his trackers for the Ohio Relays in Columbus, Spartan Coach Karl Schlademan is turning an eye toward the rosters of rival representatives.

Schlademan, who predicted a third place Big Ten finish for the Spartans, is well aware of the strong squads being groomed at Michigan and Illinois, Ohio State, reportedly rough in the relay events, is of a dubious quantity. They may extend the Spartans plenty of trouble.

In the meanwhile, Ohio State Coach Larry Snyder is making plans to continue the Ohio Relays in Ohio Stadium. The event was resumed last year after a 20 year lay-off. In addition to Ohio and Illinois, Michigan and Northwestern will also represent the Big Ten.

Other definite entries are Baldwin-Wallace, Wayne, Michigan Normal, Pittsburgh and Miami U., small college powerhouse of the Mid-America conference.

Eleven of the meet records were established last year, but two of these, the four-mile relay and the hop, step and jump, will not be in competition this year.

(Continued from Page 1) money is available for the construction, and third, the amount of work the building department will have to do.

Hoxie added: "I believe it is members of the committee feel that a new library is needed in Michigan state, but whether or not we have enough money is the chief problem. Michigan will be $90 million in the red by July 1 and both houses of the Legislature are presently working hard on revenue bills to reduce that debt.

MSC's original request was for $333,750 for cattle and sheep barns, $4,283,125 for an Animal Industries Building, $7 million for a School of Education Building, $3,823,750 for a School of Business Administration Building, and $250,000 for a Power Plant Building.

Governor Williams recommended that the college request be divided among the various state-owned industries, such as the Michigan School of Education Building.

Hoxie commented that in the committee's consideration of the agency's original request and the Governor's recommendations were considered.

Group to Plan Program For Park Improvement

Thirty-two men from cities throughout the United States and Canada will assemble at Kellogg Center from April 19 to 26 to work on a program for the improvement of public parks and recreation facilities in this country and Canada.

In the group will be 16 park executives, three public health representatives, four men from commercial firms and nine MSC staff members.

During the eight-day intensive workshop the representatives will prepare the manuscript material for three technical booklets. One publication will cover the design, operation and maintenance of public picnic areas and facilities.

The second will deal with park sanitation-toilet facilities and garbage and waste collection and disposal. The third will be on barriers—fences, walls, and timber, stone, earth, and plantation types of barriers.

Arthur Wilcox of the college's Department of Land and Water Conservation will be editor of the three publications after the general content has been prepared. He is a specialist in park management.

The project has been developing for several years, with Michigan State College doing much preliminary study and research under the direction of the Agricultural Experiment Station.

Merchants To Discuss Parking Snag

East Lansing merchants will seek solutions to business district parking problems at the city council meeting Monday night.

2. A proposal to reduce the time limit on Grand River Avenue parking meters to increase parking turn-over.
3. A proposal to adjust the parking meters in the municipal parking lot to increase the revenue of parking facility and get more revenue bonds to build more parking lots.

Congress

(Continued from Page 1.) A maximum of $500 was appropriated for organizational grants. A debate arose over affiliation with NRA, which would cost student Congress $300 a year for national and regional dues. Rep. Dick Meyer (Married Housing) moved that a committee be appointed to look into NRA.

"The Congress has been investigating NSA for the last four years," said Rep. Steele (Lansing).

Congress speaker, Lewis, answered queries on what benefits the student body would derive from affiliation by stating:

"The association, like this student government, can not dispense concrete benefits. It does offer many services such as international affairs, United Nations, and UNESCO information."

Steele charged that from information he could collect at last year's national NAA meeting which he attended, the group was $15,000 in debt, because it moved its national headquarters to Boulder, Colo., after being promised "free office space, secretaries, everything."

"The gentleman who made these campaign promises in an effort to bring NSA to Boulder, lost the election. NSA had to buy equipment on credit, and finally moved its headquarters to Philadelphia."

Steele added, "Whenever I have asked an officer of NSA about the organization's financial difficulties, I have been answered, 'The debt is being liquidated.'"

Charging that there is a possibility of Red infiltration Steele said:

"The Reds are now on the outside trying to get in. The organization is getting smaller year by year. Red infiltration is very easy. The governing body of NSA is the National Executive Committee."

"This group can make any policy or declaration they want to. Put one Red into office, or two or three, and no telling what can happen since the whole power is centralized and there are no elections."

Lewis, who has taken considerable interest in NSA made a press statement Wednesday night, saying:

"The financial difficulties of NSA incurred in 1950 when a dock strike in New York City stranded 4,000 people who were on their way to Europe on an NSA-sponsored tour. The loss was $15,000."

"This debt will be entirely eradicated this year," he said.

Lewis called the Communist charge, "impossible," explaining that "NSA was heavily endorsed by the American Association of University Professors, American Association of Women and Student Personnel Administrators."

He added, "NSA is a clean bill of health from the Justice Department's subversives, the House of Representatives and Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security."
