Puzzle: Pros and Cons

Spartan Prestige Not Seen by Many

With anticipation filling the air as ballot time nears in the Big 10, opinion in many circles has picked up tremendously since the Spartans' chances for a Rose Bowl bid.

The fact that MEC has clinched a slice of the title with a 5-3 record boosted Spartan stock by a heavy margin. Did the Illinois upset fall with a 34-7 drubbing at the hands of Wisconsin? Many midwest critics think so. Here are some of their comments:

Bob Russell, Chicago Daily News: "Michigan State stands today as the No. 1 choice for the Rose Bowl... Illinois' hopes were blighted... the 1953 to 1 that the probation will be lifted at the Big 10 meeting in December."

Harry Stapler, Detroit News: "Although they are wisely staying quiet, the Spartans now have the more solid Rose Bowl group."

Watson Spoolstra, Detroit News: "Selection of Illinois would have this rebuttal: 'Illinois is going downhill. The Wisconsin game proved that. They don't have the versatility of the bench of Michigan State. Illinois has twice been in Pasadena. It wouldn't be fair to send them again.'"

Gene Kessler, Chicago Sun-Times: "If Michigan State... and UCLA clash in the Rose Bowl, this game could determine the real national champion."

International News Service: Reports from several Big 10 athletic directors indicated Tuesday that Michigan State's present probation status will not influence their voting on selection of a conference representative."

Lynn Smith, Detroit Free Press: "There is evidence that the tide is turning in favor of the Spartans."

Probation, Big 10 Attitude Critical

A big black question mark still stands in the minds of many viewers—both objective and biased—of the MEC chances for a Pasadena bid.

First year members? Probation? Big 10 bias? These are all taken into consideration by a number of alert sports-writers who see a maze of difficulties facing the Spartans as they await a conference vote. Here are some typical opinions:

Lynn Smith, Detroit Free Press: "A bigger black to the Spartans than an Illinois victory is that finger to be placed on the scale of the other schools in the conference... Most pressure of these schools has been high whenever Michigan State, and football, has been mentioned."

Watson Spoolstra, Detroit News: "An MEC choice would bring these arguments: 'Illinois has done better against common opponents, particularly Purdue and Michigan. Besides, why pick a school that is under a cloud?'"

Jack Mabley, Chicago Daily News: "You'll hear that one team or the other has more friends in the conference, but no one knows for sure whether the Rose Bowl vote will be determined by friendship or merit. There's no injustice done, whichever team is chosen."

Tom Branagan, Associated Press: "However, two other considerations might work against selection of Michigan State: 1—The Spartans are on Big 10 probation because of certain recruiting practices. 2—They are in their first year of Big 10 competition."

Hal Middlesworth, Detroit Free Press: "So the Spartans... can only wait and hope—that Northwestern will trip Illinois and that the probation... will not influence the voting on their Rose Bowl fate, tie or no tie."

Goodbye, Senior

The end of the line. Twelve seniors on Coach Biggie Munn's football team will reach that point Saturday afternoon as far as scheduled games are concerned.

All 12 have put in a lot of time and effort during their four years in college. There have been many good games and many bad ones. They have learned a lot about themselves and their teammates.

In three years of varsity competition, this group has won more games than the Spartans record in 1952. Such a record justifies a lot of pride.

The winning team is only incidental, however. The Spartans are proud of the seniors for contributing to the Michigan State team.

One More to Go

Three down and one to go. After publishing a trio of special football editions, the State News will round out its Sunday morning coverage of the Big 10 grid contests this week.

The tabloid edition will deal with season finales of MSC and other collegiate football powers. It will attempt to give a comprehensive picture of how the Saturday outcomes will affect the Rose Bowl picture and the final national standings.

West Shaw 3 Wins Finals Berth; JFU-Snyder 12 'Blacked-Out'

By VINCE AGUL West Shaw 3 fought its way into the All-College finals with a convincing 28-14 victory over Butterfield 5. The Shaw team will meet the winner of the JFU-Snyder 12 game which will be finished tonight, due to a short circuit which caused the lights to go out with 5 minutes remaining. JFU was leading Snyder 12, 21-13 at the time of the "Black-out".
The remaining five minutes and 58 seconds will be played at 6 on Old College Field.

West Shaw received the opening kick-off and on the first play from scrimmage, Doug Shaw punted 40 yards to Al Beers for a touchdown.

After the ensuing kick-off, Butterfield came right back, and on the first play from scrimmage John Krogman threw to Bob Jimilo for a tying TD.

In the second quarter West Shaw took the lead once more.
Again it was Bruce who started the scoring play by passing to Arnie Rottman who threw to Tom Zimmerman for the counter.

making the score, 14-7.
In the third quarter, the Butterfield team bounced back to tie up the game. Again it was Krogman to Jimilo for the score.

West Shaw again jumped to a seven point lead when Rottman ran the ball to the Butterfield 20 and Tom Flynn passed to Zimmerman for the tie-breaking touchdown.

West Shaw put the game on ice when Flynn passed to Rottman for a touchdown to make the final score, West Shaw 3, 28 and Butterfield 5, 14.

In a non-playoff game, the Raiders whipped the Fall Bearers, 28-6.

Basketball courts will be open for reservations the rest of the term, starting Monday night. The courts will be reserved in one hour periods 6:30-7:30, 7:30-8:30, and 8:30-taken next Monday for Monday and Tuesday of next week.

ROLETSNE Predictions

By JACK WALKER
State News Sports Editor

The column has shrunk, you say. Yes, it has. But so have the averages.

This should be an appropriate ending to the Lushwell Follies of 1954. We've had fun, but we hope you never bet on our choices — unless you put up counterfeit money.
To give our crystal ball a decent burial, here goes . . .

First we offer the three "sure" things: Northwestern over Illinois, Alabama over Maryland and Iowa over Notre Dame.

Now for the difficult ones:
Baylor over Duke, Ohio State over Michigan, Kentucky over Tennessee, Wisconsin over Minnesota, Pitt over Penn State, Rice over TCU, UCLA over Southern Cal.

Yale over Harvard, Indiana over Purdue, Princeton over Dartmouth, Missouri over Kansas, LSU over Arkansas, Oklahoma over Nebraska, Detroit over Tulsa, Oregon over Oregon State.

After those first three, it wasn't so bad, was it?

Sophomore and junior men interested in managing the swimming team should report to Cal Phillips in the pool office at 4:00 Tuesday.

Knight, Postula—No He But Plenty of Gridiron

By NEEZ CASE

When the Spartans clear out their 1953 football schedule, whether it's this Saturday against Marquette, or Jan. 1, in the Rose Bowl, they will lose the services of two little-known but highly regarded ends.

Seniors Dale Knight and Bill Postula close out their college careers along with 19 other Spartan griders.

Knight, who attended St.
John's High School, played in the backfield during his prep days. As a back he was awarded All-Conference honors, and made several All-State teams in Class B.

Dale was in the backfield on the State freshman team also, but the next year he was switched to end to take advantage of his line-backing. He was plagued with injuries his sophomore and junior years and was hit hard by this year's limited substitution rule.

The six foot, one inch, slender is enrolled in Phys Ed, but will have to delay any plans he might have for a career until after he serves out his term in the armed forces.

Knight, a 190-pounder, participated in four different varsity sports while in high school, and maintained a stout "B" average.
He gained All-Conference honors for his work on the basketball court as well as on the gridiron.

Dale is 20 years old and lives with his wife in married housing.
Postula first enrolled in the University of Michigan, but after his freshman year he transferred to State so he could be closer to his home in Detroit.

With a 20-year-old career under, played five years of college for the Spartans before this year. He brought a fine high school record with him but the competition was too tough for him to win a starting position. He has played well in spots, however, and many observers think he has showed signs of steady progress since he had year here.

While at Marshall High, the six foot, two inch, 170 pound end, took part in basketball and track.
In 1952, Postula won the conference and regional high jump competition and finished second in the state meet.
