Working for Compromise - Senate Makes Progress on Bricker Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. ... of California, Republican of the Senate, announced Thursday night "substantial progress" has been made in the Senate on the Bricker amendment to curb the President's veto powers.

Congress and the several states," the senator from Ohio said. Expressing "unalterable" opposition to the Bricker plan, Eisenhower has said it would hamper seriously American relations with foreign nations in a period of high international tension.

Wednesday goes along with the Bricker amendment in providing that any international agreement which conflicts with the Constitution shall not have any effect. Eisenhower does not object to this idea.

Participants in the latest search for a compromise were Knowland, Sen. Lyndon Johnson, the Democratic floor leader; Sen. Ferguson of Michigan, chairman of the Republican Policy Committee; Sen. Millikin of Colorado, head of the GOP Conference of Senators; and George, who is the senior Democratic member of the Foreign Relations Committee.

George said that if an agreement is reached he would be willing to sponsor the substitute measure, along with other senators. The substitute he introduced Wednesday goes along with the Bricker amendment in providing that any international agreement which conflicts with the Constitution shall not have any effect.

Why A Male Stronghold?

Students at the Home Bowl agree it was a colorful and exciting spectacle. Part of the pageantry, they say, was the cheering activity of the men and coeds on the Union bleachers.

Who aren't coeds on the MSC cheerleading team? ... But when men returned in numbers to the campus at the end of the emergency, the "war work" was over for the women, and cheerleading again became an exclusive activity of men.

Lack of sufficient interest by women is one of the reasons given for the end of coed cheerleading. When the sustained effort and practice wasn't forthcoming, apathy contributed to killing the project.

Tradition had been another explanation for continued male control of the activity. Excepting the limited wartime athletic programs, Spartan fans have become accustomed to seeing male students' loud yells. They may also have developed a feeling that women's place is in the stands.

If cheerleading is to become a coed activity, thought should be given now to changing the program for next year.

Letter to the Editor Ticket Sales Questioned

To the Editor: I suspect foul play in the distribution of J-Hop duets. But fear not, lots of tickets will be available through the Classified Ad section of the State News. The Juniors were allowed to buy duets in advance. That is only fair. After all, it is their dance.

According to my arithmetic calculations based upon the information presented on the front page of your issue Thursday, there were 100 tickets for the Friday night portion of the dance left to be sold today. Sales were to start at 1 p.m. I rushed over to the Union at 2 p.m. to find that they were completely sold out. Therefore, I presume that 100 tickets were sold in an hour.

I find this hard to believe, unless perhaps some group of individuals was able to buy up a large block of them to sell at a future date at exorbitant prices. To profit by the misfortune of others seems to be the accepted thing to do here at MSC, but when this type of action is applied to social events too, it has gone just a bit too far.

Dohoney, Wells, Neal Pro Football Teams Get Three Spartans

Center Jim Neal, end Don Dohoney and halfback Ed Wells were all selected by professional football teams in the annual player draft held at Philadelphia.

Neal was picked by the Detroit Lions, defending champion in the NFL, Wells was signed by the Washington Redskins and Dohoney was drafted by the Chicago Cards.

The Lions went "back crazy" at the annual National Football League player draft—but their No. 1 choice was a comparatively unknown rookie from Rice Institute, Dick Chapman. An undrafted champion, the Lions had lost their entire 15 pro class. They chose Chapman, a 6-foot-6, 265-pounder, as their first selection.

Their No. 2 pick was Neal, it's possible that coach Buddy Parker will groom Neal to replace the retired Vince Lombardi. But it was back when the Lions went for.

Hockey Team to Host Gophers In Two Games This Weekend

By MIKE CARR
Spartan hockey coach Amo Besonne has finally found something to write about.

Despite the misfortune that has plagued his team this year, Besonne finds consolation in the fact that he has come up with adequate goal-tending for the first time since he took over the coaching in 1952.

The biggest reason for this new-found strength is the play of a short curly haired youth, Eddie Schiller. Schiller has been playing brilliant hockey the last three games of the road and will make his home debut when the Spartans take on the Golden Gophers from Minnesota tonight and Saturday night in the ice arena.

Last Friday's game at Minneapolis saw the Gophers do everything but pick up the puck and carry it into the goal in an effort to foil Schiller. Minnesota fired a phenomenal 50 shots at the goal, but the hustling Schiller frustrated the opposition by kicking out 45 of those shots, as State dropped a 4-5 decision in the last 17 seconds.

Minnesota will enter the rink with what Besonne describes as "the best balanced team in the league." One of the leading assets of the Gophers is their All-American center John Mayasich. Last year he broke the league records for goals, assists and total points to rank as one of the outstanding men in the league.

The pucksters will take the ice with about the same lineup that started last week. Besides Schiller at the goal, there will be Joe Sauve and John Thomas, team captain, on defense. The front line will consist of Chuck Waks at center and Weldie Olson and Dave Hendrickson at wing. Hendrickson had his big Delta Tau Delta had a good night at the foul line scoring 12 out of 19 tries to take a 32 to 17 decision from Alpha Epsilon Pi. Al Budner parted the nets for 13 points for the Deltas, while Bob Rifkin netted 11 for the losers.

Wrestlers Open Home Schedule

Spartan wrestlers open their home schedule Saturday at 2 p.m. in Jensen Fieldhouse against the Buckeyes of Ohio State.

OSU has won two dual meets this year, with Baldwin Wallace and Findley College. They haven't had a conference meet yet.

Last year the Spartans beat them 25-0. The Buckeyes have only four wins returning from that squad and only have improved with their additions.

Big gun for the Ohio Staters is Capt. Dick Whittaker. Last year he won OSU's only bout with MSC, against Larry Fowler. Fowler won't get a chance for revenge though. Whittaker has moved to the 177-pound division this year.

'Mural Sidights'

All students signed up for the badminton tournament will play tonight at 8:00, 7:30 or 7:45 according to Frank Breen, mural director. To find out the time they are scheduled, students are requested to call the 133 office, extension 687.

Thirty-seven have signed up so far for the largest turnout for a badminton tourney ever recorded.

The Spartan Badminton Club will hold its weekly playing session on Saturday, 1:00 p.m. at the Women's Gym. Both members and non-members are invited to come and play. Election of officers will also be held at this time.
