

House Extends MSU Proposal

Name Change Bill Fast-Tracks Lies in Committee Hands

The MSU bill got a 10-day reprieve from death at Feb. 4's House of Representatives' session, but it still remains in the Educational Institutions Committee.

The House voted to keep the bill alive for another two weeks at the suggestion of the Education Committee by a 23-23 vote.

8,000 Sign Congress' MSU Petition

Government Urges Student Letters

A 400-foot petition of approximately 8,000 signatures will be presented to the Michigan legislature this afternoon in support of the proposed MSU name change.

The signatures were collected Thursday through Sunday by student government representatives in an effort to persuade the House Committee on Educational Institutions to extend consideration of the MSU bill.

Although the committee agreed to a two-week extension Thursday afternoon after hearing three Michigan State students, the student government officials feel the petition will help by showing student interest in the change.

Bill Hurst, government secretary of state, said that petitions not turned in to the government office by 2 p.m. today will not be included in the petition list.

In an attempt to build up more support for the name change, the government is also urging parents and friends of students to write the legislature.

Board Offers Fellowships to Grad Students

More than 20 professional fellowships and one postdoctoral grant are open to Michigan State grad students next year.

Applications for the grants must be filed by March 15. Details of the filing procedure may be found in the graduate catalog available in 112 Merrill Hall.

The awards, given on a competitive basis, range from $1,200 to $1,500. The largest group of fellowships are Graduate Council Fellowships provided by the State Board of Agriculture, and Agricultural Productivity Fellowships furnished by the trustees of the Michigan State College Alumni Fund.

The State Board of Agriculture supplements these awards by complete tuition, subsistence, and other expenses.

Announcements of subscriptions, fellowships and scholarships to be used at universities throughout the country are also available to students in the office of the School of Graduate Studies, 112 Merrill Hall.

Farmers' '54 Convo Said Best

Pictures Hung In Hall of Fame

"Farmers' Week for 1964 was one of the best we've had," said R. W. Tenny, director of Short Courses at MSC.

"Excellent weather, good programs and an exceptional audience contributed to the success," he said. He estimated an attendance of 40,000.

Picture hanging center to center, the program covered the week's activities in general and in detail in the hall of fame.

Keynote speakers for the event included Pres. John A. Hannah; Gov. G. Mennen Williams; John H. Davis, assistant secretary of the U. S. Department of Agriculture; and the Rev. Dr. William Alexander, former pastor and war correspondent.

WKAR-TV's evening camera gave on-the-spot coverage to Farmers' Week, and national TV coverage was given the afternoon session at which Dr. Hannah, Davis and Alexander spoke. WKAR and WKAR-FM also broadcast events of the week.

Pictures of Clark L. Brady, executive vice-president of the Michigan State Farm Bureau; George Stages, executive manager of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau; and John Stangor, Eaton County farmer, were hung in Agricultural Hall.

These three men received Distinguished Service to Agriculture awards and are the first in MSC's "Agricultural Hall of Fame."

Prof. Schobert Stated For Union Coffee Show

The controversial strike announcement will be discussed by Professor A. Schobert, assistant professor of political science at the department's office, here Tuesday at 4 p. m. in 21 Union.

MSC Develops Five-Year Plan

New Construction Budget To Reach $44 Million

A $44 million, five-year construction plan has been developed by MSC at the request of Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

The first year's program was summarized in a $14,000,700 request for capital improvements submitted by college officials Thursday to the Ways and Means Committee of the state legislature.

The long-range program is based on estimated enrollment of 20 to 22 thousand students per year by 1969, according to Philip J. May, controller and treasurer.

Most authorities expect college enrollment across the nation to double by 1970, May said.

A major item in the MSC request was $2 million for completion of the library. The governor's message to the legislature in January had recommended $1,000,000, but the MSC officials said the entire cost would probably be needed before the end of the fiscal year.

The application is expected to complete the library early in 1965, the written report said.

The governor also recommended an appropriation of $900,000 to begin work on an animal industries building.

The college asked $3,200,000 for an animal industries building to house the departments of poultry, dairy and animal husbandry.

The proposed building would be located across from the Agricultural Experiment Station. The written report also called for the new construction program.

1. $2,000,000 for a school of education building. The report pointed out that MSC now certifies more teachers than any other state-operated school.

School of Education officials in Merrill Hall at present, classes are being taught in the old Merrill Hall building. The report also called for the new building.

Important college officials, including administrators and members of the State Board of Agriculture.

Two of the five new building MSC administration are secretary member of the State Board of Agriculture.

Thetas Hold Reception For Queen

Trophy Returned To East Lansing

By BETTY BURGE

Jan Somers, Elmhurst, Ill., sophomore, walked off with the honors at the Miss Big 10 contest Friday night.

The victory is the second for an MSC candidate, although the contest has been held just two years.

This may be listed in support of MSC's claim to have the most beautiful coeds in the country.

Northwestern University's Prom. A small crowd met Miss Somers' plane at the airport Sunday afternoon and followed her back to the Kappa Alpha Theta house for a victory reception.

Miss Somers was crowned at Northwestern University's prom in Chicago.

Judges who selected Miss Somers over four other Big 10 queens were Hal Block, television humorist, Patricia Stevens, model agency head, and a Chicago columnist and his wife.

The other four schools represented were Minnesota, Purdue, Iowa and Northwestern.

Prizes include a possible trip to California with last year's Rose Bowl team and a gold cup which Miss Somers took to Northwestern Thursday and brought back Sunday afternoon.

Miss Somers said that the first thing she thought of when she was announced winner was bringing that cup back to East Lansing.

Another victory for Michigan State next year would secure the traveling trophy permanently.

Don Means, last year's Miss MSC, won the cup at the first contest.

Roses and telegrams showered Miss Somers with congratulations at the Theta reception, which attracted a large crowd later Sunday evening.

Miss Somers flew to Chicago Thursday afternoon for weekend festivities which included a round of four sorority teas Friday afternoon, dinner in Chicago, the Prom Friday night, and more parties and a tour of Chicago Saturday.

The winner was chosen after each candidate spent about 15-20 minutes talking with the judges, Miss Somers said.

First MSC notice of Miss Somers' victory was at 2:30 Saturday morning when she called the Theta house to say she had won.

Talent Tryouts Set for Tonight

Talent auditions for the United States Variety Show, "All in the Family," will be held tonight at 8 in the Union Ballroom.

The tryouts, originally set for Wednesday, were postponed.

Although all sorts of acts are being sought, comedians and singers are particularly in demand.

Union Ballroom director, Tom Anderson, chairman of the show, will be conducting the tryouts.

Applications for the show should be sent to the show office, 112 Merrill Hall, by 5 p. m. today.

211 Entered In Centennial Music Contest

Committee to Send 12 Entries to Judges

The MSC centennial music contest closed Monday with 211 songs and marches entered, according to Wm. L. Davidson, contest director.

"We received a great variety of entries from almost every state, including a reasonable number from MSC alumni and students," Davidson said.

The college committee will choose 12 numbers to be submitted to the final judges, who are James Melton, Fred Waring, Arthur Fiedler, Paul LaVelle and Henry Weber, musical director of WGN in Chicago.

Winning contestants in the song and march divisions will share $1,000 in prizes.

Members of the local committee are Roy L. Underwood, director of the division of fine arts; Leonard Falcone, director of bands; H. Owen Reed, professor of music; Richard Klatt, professor of music; Stanley G. Fina, music instructor; Robert J. Coleman, director of radio, and Davidson.

Just About Anything Unique Week

This should be quite a week for everybody in Spartanland.

Mid-terms. A show-down on the Michigan State name change. Ray Anthony and the 2-Flap. Adds up to quite a week on the motions, wouldn't you say?

The week got off to a good start Sunday with the return of royalty, Jan Boners—the second "Miss Big 10" in history, and the second straight coed from MSC to earn the honor—came back to a big welcome from her Spartan friends at Mason Hall and elsewhere all over the campus.

A number of weeks are being held in honor of the first team to answer winning the points. Otherwise, a team wins or loses points according to the ability of its members to answer questions primarily designed to test general liberal arts knowledge.

Moderator Allen Ludden (in New York) makes some of the questions a "toss-up" with the first team to answer winning the points. Otherwise, a team wins or loses points according to the ability of its members to answer questions primarily designed to test general liberal arts knowledge.

The winners get $500 for key members and an opportunity to appear again. The losers receive individual points.

A number of Big 10 universities have already taken part. MSC will probably have to wait around for a while as usual, but again as usual, Spartans will probably do very well when and if they get the chance.

Oh yes... don't forget to send that valentine.

Student Congress is suffering from growing pains. Expanded to 52 members, the Congress is now too large to handle its work efficiently. Executive committees, first organized as small, closely-knit groups, are now trying to operate with up to 14 members each.

Student Government President Dave Ludden has proposed a reorganization of Congress into districts. At present, larger districts such as Lansing, East Lansing and some dormitories have 10 Congress members each. 254 members would be elected to the Congress, compared to 100 voters.

This would cut Congress to two-thirds of its present size.

Both Congress members and the general student body have been showing a decreasing apathy toward Congress affairs. Weeks after the last election, Congress seats are still unfilled because no one had the interest to get 75 names on a petition.

Reducing the number of Congressmen elected will give each post added prestige. This factor may stir up interest where other tactics have failed.

Only about two-thirds of the present Congressmen attend meetings now, so why should the group's activities be bogged down by deadwood members?

Limited Congress membership does not assure a better membership, but it's worth a try.

Letter to the Editor Just What Is Dignity?

To the Editor:

I feel the letter written by "A Student at Michigan State College" warrants a reply.

The letter states, "I find it hard to conceive that Michigan State should be called a University because this is a title of scholastic dignity and State as yet, has not reached those heights."

If the student meant by "scholastic dignity" the fact that State does not have a school of law or one of medicine I think he should have in mind that there is dignity in any scholastic field whether it be education, home economics or forestry.

As for the confusion about the identity of the schools, it would be nothing new. When I told life-long Michigan residents I was coming to Michigan State they made comments like, "Ann Arbor's a pretty big city."

And when I have referred to the U of M, many people say things such as, "Biggie Mann sure has a football team!" The confusion has been there a long time and renaming State, Michigan State University might wake a few people up enough so they will bother to find out which school is where.

Editorially Hardwood Hardluck

Pete Newell will have to start chewing two towels if his Spartan cagers continue to play in the shadow of misfortune.

Despite their fine showing against one of the nation's top teams, the Indiana Hoosiers, the MSC five lost another hairline verdict Saturday — 79 to 74.

It was generally called their best effort of the year, even in losing. The tough-luck Spartans deserve a pat on the back and an admonition to "go and get 'em" Feb. 20.

Close Not Enough as Spartans Triumph

Wrestlers Pin Purdue, Iowa State

Michigan State's track team opened its indoor season with some impressive early season performances in the AAU meet at Ann Arbor.

Spartan relay teams topped two events and finished second in three others. Doug Stapp, a freshman, took the high jump in a leap that was only a hair under the meet record.

Coach Karl Schlademan expressed satisfaction over the team, since he considered the meet to be only a trial run for the winter events of the season.

A quartet of All-American topplers, Harlan Benjamin, Henry Gillis, Joe Savadi, Jr., and John Corbell, won the easiest title of the meet. Their 240-yard shuttle hurdle team was the only entrant and became the automatic champions. In an exhibition, race their time was 23.4.

State's sprint medley squad took the lead at the start but never relinquished it to take credit in seven contests. In the 400-yard relay, the Spartans took the lead in the conference's tally maker Michigan's Tuley Schlademan 13 times enabled him to slip in 11 free.

MSC Days 3-4, 3-2 Pucksters Beaten Twice by Denver

Michigan State's hard-luck hockey team dropped a pair of one-goal decisions to the Denver Pioneers, 3-2 and 5-4, Friday night and Saturday afternoon.

In the first meeting of the two teams, Spartan wing Steve Galt got a pass from Chuck Vain on a faceoff in Pioneer territory and fired it into the net at 10:04 of the second period.

Denver had it up and then went ahead in the third period when Larry Johnson and Brian Williams. With only three seconds remaining in the game, defenseman Steve Wood pushed the puck past goalie Bill Berg to force the game into overtime.

In the extra period, Dickson hit the cords with a rebound at 3:16 to end the game.

In the second contest, the first State goal to be played in the afternoon, the Denver offense found goalie Eddie Schiller a

Gymnasts Get Behind Rintin Top Ohio State

Displaying a much improved team spirit, the MSC gymnasts edged Ohio State, 2-1, Saturday.

Stager scored a 10 with over 100 points on the vaulting horse. Gunning scored two points on the pommel horse and Cook scored two on the bars.

The Spartans were down to 15 points after the first two events. Stager, Gunning, and Cook placed in the vaulting horse to put the Spartans ahead 10-0. Stager and Cook on the bars gave the Spartans a 2-1 lead.

Spartan headscorer, John Dudeck set a new pool and varsity record in the 100-yard contest. The last Friday night at the Michigan State stadium, Dudeck set a new record of 50.2 seconds, established by John Dudeck.

"It was a good mark," Dudeck said. "They had a good pool and they gave us a ticket."

Caffree said that the Spartans did as well as they are capable of doing, but that he hopes team can improve even more by upcoming meets with Ohio State and Michigan, probably the toughest teams in the league in and year out.

Coach Aldrich said the Spartans' 150-yard individual history followed by Larry Johnson.

Hoke won the big match of the evening. He trounced Jim Sinadino, the opposing NCAA champion in their division, 9-1.

Sinadino won the only fall of the evening when his opponent injured a shoulder and couldn't continue. The Spartan was ahead 7-2 at the time.

Casalicchio won 6-0, Tompe 7-1, Abraham, 7-0 and Ferraro 2-1 for the other Spartan wins.

Illini Fencers Head Spartans Fourth Defeat

Tickets will be required to enter the gymnasium for each event.

Thinclads Shine in AAU

Michigan State's track team opened its indoor season with some impressive early season performances in the AAU meet at Ann Arbor.

Spartan relay teams topped two events and finished second in three others. Doug Stapp, a freshman, took the high jump in a leap that was only a hair under the meet record.

Coach Karl Schlademan expressed satisfaction over the team, since he considered the meet to be only a trial run for the winter events of the season.

A quartet of All-American topplers, Harlan Benjamin, Henry Gillis, Joe Savadi, Jr., and John Corbell, won the easiest title of the meet. Their 240-yard shuttle hurdle team was the only entrant and became the automatic champions. In an exhibition, race their time was 23.4.

State's sprint medley squad took the lead at the start but never relinquished it to take credit in seven contests. In the 400-yard relay, the Spartans took the lead in the conference's tally maker Michigan's Tuley Schlademan 13 times enabled him to slip in 11 free.

Technical Sales

A major in glasses and a minor in technical knowledge—these were the primary requirements for a salesperson in the old days. But these really never met the need for a man selling the products of chemical technology.

Today, the chemical applications of Du Pont's new products and products are a need for technical salesmen. They are needed in many different technical environments. These men must be familiar with problems in chemistry and engineering applied to such fields as plastics, ceramics, textiles, and many others.

Du Pont technical men are engaged in various types of technical sales activity. In some cases they are required to handle all phases of the project naturally gave a good deal of satisfaction to the customer as well as Du Pont.

In another case a customer wanted to reduce carbon contamination of arc welding rod stock. A Du Pont technical service man suggested changes in cleaning procedure that lowered contamination by 50 per cent. The new process also reduced metal loss during heat treatment—a benefit that was then offset the cost of the new cleaning equipment.

Technical men interested in sales work usually start in a laboratory or manufacturing plant where they can acquire needed technical knowledge. Depending on their interest and abilities, they may then move into technical sales service, sales development, or stock sales.

In any of these fields, the man with the right combination of sales aptitude and technical knowledge will find interesting work, and exceptional opportunities for growth in the Du Pont Company.

Match Supply Soon to Expire

Starters, the end is near—end, that is, of the old "war bond" matches given free in the Union and University buildings. The present supply is scheduled to run out at the end of this school year.

Several varieties of matches were purchased in 1947 or 1948. They have been used at the rate of 100 cases a year. With 20 matches to a case and 2,500 sold in a case, this adds up to 20,000 matches a year, or 60 million matches over the last six years.

The college bought the World War II surplus matches for the cost of transportation. This is why the college has been able to offer them without cost.

Lyle Thurman, purchasing manager of the local store, said he doesn't know of any present arrangements for getting more free matches.

Building

Proposed are buildings for the School of Business, Basic College, conservation, a new library, a center, agricultural research and food technology, civil engineering, and a general service building.

The request pointed out that 30 per cent of all teaching at MSC is being done in quarters and other temporary buildings.
