Key Witness Said by UAW

ROIT (AP)—Attorney General Frank G. Millard asked today for an explanation of the "rephase" of the Walter Reuther case.

Request was made in a letter to Gerald K. O'Brien, Wayne prosecutor. O'Brien has had previous knowledge of any payment plans involving Donald Ritchie, key witness in the case, and the CIO Union Workers.

UAW collected $5,000 from O'Brien for naming of four allegedly involved in the communication attempt on Feb. 10.

As of the agreement between the union and the witness included another $20,000 to be paid to Ritchie at various times during the trial and following the trial.

Garber, chief assistant prosecutor, spoke for O'Brien. He said that O'Brien's lack of knowledge about such an agreement "easily be verified by testimony of principals during the extradition of Ritchie in Windsor, Ontario."

Garber said that O'Brien would not disclose the letter later this week. Detroit Record-Examiner Joseph A. Giffin filed a writ of habeas corpus for Ritchie, Carl Benda and Lombardo with complete murder charges.

Garber followed a motion by O'Brien. He said that O'Brien's lack of knowledge about such an agreement "easily be verified by testimony of principals during the extradition of Ritchie in Windsor, Ontario."

Spartans Willing To Buy 10-Cent Java

By LOUIS GROFF
There doesn't seem to be too much difference between a dime and eight cents to MSC students, an informal poll taken in the Union Grill indicated Tuesday.

Larry Jolliffe, Plymouth sophomore, said, "If you're going to spend eight cents you may as well spend a dime. Not that the coffee's worth it," he added.

Marilyn Mollo, Grand Rapids freshman, agreed. She said, "I'm sticking to coffee. I like it and two cents doesn't mean that much."

A Grill employee, Natalie Flood, said she thought more coffee was being bought. "Look at those tables," she said. "Since coffee has gone up they're buying more and leaving full cups on the tables."

Lloyd Bush, St. Clair senior, said, "Don't ask me, I don't buy this." There were some anti-price change reactions, however.

Phyllis Straver, Pleasant Ridge freshman, said, "I favor coffee. They're better in both quantity and quality."

Mike Hurst, Lansing grad student, added some statistics to his comments. He said, "The whole situation appeared before the committee at a closed-door session last month in connection with the State Department's budget request."

His testimony was not made public until today. The diplomatic officer attributed the huge death toll to government-ignoring starvation and political extermination. The liquidations of the public squares, where they just lined them up and turned the machine guns on them.

City to Get New High School

Voters Favor Proposal by 3-1

Final election figures Tuesday night indicated a three to one vote in favor of both East Lansing high school proposals.

When the polls closed at 8 p.m., 1,094 persons had voted "yes" on a proposal to issue bonds for building a $1,200,000 high school and 1,765 persons had also favored increasing the school tax by 2.5 mills to pay for it.

Superintendent of Schools, C. E. MacDonald, said "I think this vote will result in adequate school facilities for some time to come."

The first ballot counting was completed at 11 p.m. Three polling places were used: the high school, Bailey school and Central school.

First Session Of Ad Forum Set for Tonight

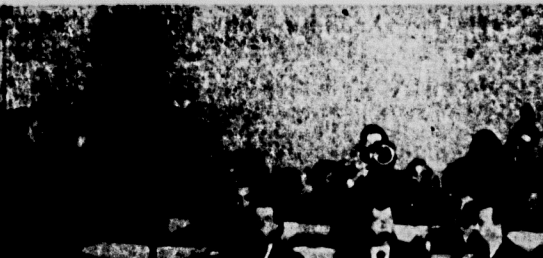

A discussion of four phases of advertising will be presented at 7:15 tonight in 216 Berkeley in the opening session of "An Inside Look at Advertising," a forum sponsored by Pi Alpha Mu, advertising honorary.

Industrial advertising will be outlined by Louis Latta, sales and advertising manager of a local industry; advertising agency work will be discussed by Mark Bottega, agency executive and sales promotion will be the topic of Paul Bohmacker, district sales manager of Capital Airlines.

A speaker on radio and television advertising from the staff of WJIM-TV has also been engaged. After the speakers have introduced their topics, a question-and-answer period will take the spotlight.

The forum will continue Thursday night when topics will be advertising art, copy, production and research. Four advertising specialists will be on hand. Tickets for both nights are on sale in the Journalism Building or from PAM members.

541 Pints Donated Tuesday

Bob Eberhart's jazz band cuts loose during its concert in the Union Tuesday night.

By DONN SHELTON
Spartans marched 541 strong Tuesday to set a new Lansing record for donations in a single day.

The 24 beds in the donation room were in constant use from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Officials of the Red Cross unit and of the sponsoring MSC Veterans Association had nothing but praise for Spartan response.

Dr. Joseph Venter, head doctor of the Red Cross group called it a "magnificent show of spirit by the students."

Of students who were signed to donate Tuesday, 140 did not show up. Much of the supply came from "on the spot" donations.

Germany Urged Against Communism

BERLIN (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer Tuesday night pledged a "tireless" fight to liberate 18 million Soviet Zone Germans from communism and begged them to "hold out" until that day is reached.

The Bonn Republic leader, addressing a wildly partisan crowd of 5,000 in this divided city, declared the Big Four foreign ministers conference was "successful" in that it exposed Moscow's policy.

It proved, he said:
1. The Kremlin wants the "status quo" to continue until she can dominate all Europe.
2. That the Americans, British and French are Germany's best friends and they acted so well in Germany's interests "that we can say, no Germans could have done it better."

To the Berliner and the East German, Adenauer asserted:
"Hold out. I beg you. I know I ask much of you. But we shall do everything in our power to help you and we'll never leave you in the lurch."
"On this side and on the other side of the Iron Curtain, the spirit of freedom and love for the people must live. Nothing can stop it. It will win and bring us together again."

Students Asked To Sign Scroll
Men's Council has initiated a campus drive to support Radio Free Europe by having students sign the Freedom Scroll from 9 to 5 in the Union Concourse today and Thursday.

Accusation Denied By Army

Statements Made During Telecast

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) charged Tuesday that a woman identified by a witness as a card-carrying, dues-paying Communist during the 1940's is now handling "top secret" messages in the Pentagon code room.

McCarthy's accusation—the latest move in his running feud with Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens—brought a quick statement from the Army.

It said the woman, Mrs. Annie Lee Moss, "never" had access either to secret codes or unclassified secrets.

Mrs. Moss's attorney said she denies ever having been a Communist. McCarthy, speaking out at a televised hearing before his Senate Investigations subcommittee, said Mrs. Moss was still working in the code room "as of today."

The Army retorted:
1. As a result of the Army's own investigation, undertaken "prior to any action by the McCarthy committee, Mrs. Moss was shifted from her $2,125-a-year job as a communication relay machine operator for the Signal Corps in the Pentagon to an "unclassified position" on Feb. 3.

2. Mrs. Moss formerly operated equipment handling "unintelligible code messages, both classified secret and unclassified," but "never" had access to the codes, to the cryptographic rooms or to the code rooms.

The Army said the coded tape which goes through the relay machines is handled outside of the code room and could not be understood even if it fell into the hands of unauthorized persons.

It said the tape itself "cannot be deciphered" — presumably without a coding machine. Emphasizing that its investigation was undertaken before McCarthy moved into the case, the Army said its checkup on Mrs. Moss was based on President Eisenhower's executive order of March 23, 1953, which directed federal department chiefs to re-examine the security status of their employees.

A spokesman said the Army's inquiry is continuing. Prior to her transfer, the Army said, Mrs. Moss worked under a supervisor with 50 other employees performing the same duties in a communications center outside the code room.

Firing a new blast in his charge of "Communist coddling" by the Army, McCarthy had said earlier that the facts about the woman's alleged Communist background should come as "no surprise to the Army."

Butterfield's Choir Sings Amid Debris

First Dorm To Have 'Arts' Room

Rooms Feature Modern Furniture

By JEAN GREGORY
Amid buzz saws, tools, and construction debris, members of the Butterfield Hall choir gather every Wednesday night to sing in what will be their Fine Arts Room.

When the room is completed next week, it will be the first dorm 'arts' room. It will be oak and have a red and black color scheme. Indirect lighting and wall-to-wall carpeting will be added. It will also be equipped with an ebony grand piano, phonograph and overstuffed furniture.

But this is just a small part of the "finishing touches" being put on Butterfield Hall.

Sleeping rooms are complete except for painting. Two men occupy a room and share a closet with sliding doors.

Each man occupying a room has a four-drawer desk, single bed, and large chest of drawers. Across one wall is a single shelf for books. Under it is a fluorescent light which provides illumination for both desks.

The rooms are also furnished with a leatherette covered overstuffed chair, two desk chairs, and white draw drapes. Floors are asphalt tile. The plastered walls will soon be painted dark tones.

One of the dorm's advantages is that its stairways are so arranged that each of the six precincts has its own entrance to the outside. This cuts down much of the noise and confusion caused by excessive traffic through main corridors at class time.

Each precinct except the two on the first floor has a study room which serves from 60 to 80 men. These are equipped with desks and easy chairs and have split bamboo window shades.

The dormitory also has two six-room apartments, for the junior and senior resident advisors and their wives. Both have modern furnishings.

Butterfield is the first to be completed of a proposed six dormitory group. Two other dormitories and the dining hall should be ready for use by next fall. The remaining four will be built sometime in the near future.

Brody Hall, the building which will house the dining rooms, main offices, and recreation room, will be located in the center of the dormitory group.

Theta Chi's select Dream Girl, Court Marilyn Telfer, Owosso junior, was chosen Theta Chi Dream Girl of the recent Theta Chi "Red Carnation" Ball.

Members of the queen's court were: Tish Parker, Lockport, N.Y. junior, Chris Peaks of Lansing, and Nancy Organ, Detroit senior.

Miss Telfer, a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority, will participate in the pushcart derby, the annual Mothers Day tea, and all official functions of the fraternity.

Bleeding of the Greeks

Phi Delt Challenge Met by Fraternities

Over 50 per cent of the fraternities have answered the Phi Delt challenge, Gene Bergel, Bloomfield Hills' junior and Ned Carroll, Traverse City junior, co-chairmen of the Phi Delta Theta blood trophy committee, reported yesterday.

After two days of donations Delta Tau Delta leads the race with 33 pints contributed. Alpha Gamma Rho is second with 24 and the Phi Delt have given 17.

Last week the Phi Delt announced that they were challenging the rest of the campus fraternities to a "bleeding of the Greek" contest. They promised that should they lose the contest, they would present the winner with a traveling trophy.

No reaction to the challenge was noted until the fraternities met their meetings Monday night Tuesday Bergel was contacted by the houses that accepted the Phi Delt challenge.

Bergel also said that the entering deadline is Friday, Groups that accepted the challenge will be announced then.

"Because of the number of people that are physically unable to give blood we have decided that all those people from a fraternity that comes up to give blood, whether they do or do not, will be counted," Bergel added.

As yet the Phi Delt have not made public any plans for presenting the trophy.

Dr. and Mrs. William Seaman were entertained recently at a dinner by Zeta Tau Alpha. Dr. Seaman is with the language and history departments.

East Mayo's faculty dinner guests for Thursday include: Everett Snyder, associate professor of natural science, and his wife, Mrs. Fredrica Neville, instructor of home economics, and her husband, Miss Alma Goetich, assistant professor of art; Miss Louise Sause, assistant professor of elementary education; and Dr. Jack Stockton, assistant professor of bacteriology and public health, and his wife.

Kappa Alpha Theta will entertain faculty and administration members at a tea Sunday afternoon.

... Optimism

Shades of spring already! The Kappa Deltas and their buddies are contributing to a "bitty bank" which they will use for a picnic spring term.

... Lights Out!

There was a light side to the darkness at East Shaw recently even after the janitor replaced all the corridor lights with dim bulbs. When the KA's weren't looking, students took out all the bulbs and sang choruses of "My Only Sunshine," and "You and the Night and the Music."

... Pledges Play

While the cat's away the mice will play—with Limburger cheese this time. When Delta Gamma came home after an exchange semester, they were met with a horrible aroma. The pledges had been busy—spreading Limburger cheese on door handles, chair bottoms and telephones. To add to the odor, garlic salt was sprinkled in the drawers.

They continued to disrupt the house by throwing shoes into a pile, taking mattresses off the beds, and painting slogans on the mirrors.

It was a cold day for the DG's as they cleaned up and aired out the house.

... Thin but Cool

East Lansing coeds are paring their waists and building up their spirits every night at a scheduled weight trimming session. The ambitious women begin with exercise and dances and conclude with a relaxing jam session and their favorite records.

A North Williams resident was all wet the other day without even knowing it. Her roommate secretly taped a "Wet" sign on her back and not until she was laughed out of the dining room did she understand.

Coed Finalists to Vie For Pushcart Queen

Ten finalists for the "Junior 500" push cart derby queen were chosen by members of Lambda Chi Alpha Sunday at a tea in the fraternity's home, 128 Haslett St.

Members of the fraternity originally nominated 41 coeds, according to Joe Windham, Ferndale sophomore and chairman of the queen's committee. They will further eliminate at a second tea from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday. The date for selecting the queen has not been announced yet, Windham said.

The coed chosen for the honor will be called the Lambda Chi Crescent Queen. She will reign over the fraternity's term party in the spring as well as the push cart derby May 15.

Kappas Awarded Scholarship Cup

For the fifth consecutive time Kappa Kappa Gamma received the Pan-Hellenic cup awarded to the sorority with the highest scholarship record. The Kappas won with a point average of 2.9.

Kappa Alpha Theta received the traveling cup for the most improvement. They rose from twelfth to fifth place among the sororities during fall term. Kappa Delta received this cup last term. This term sororities achieved the highest grades of any campus group with a 2.76 average.

THE FARM ON THE HILL SWITZWATER 216, PENNSYLVANIA

This Is Living

By MARY ALICE RITCHLIN

Two can live as cheaply as one. Statisticians may disagree, but many of the more than 1,100 MSC students who live in married housing say that it's true.

"We recently figured out that it is less expensive for two students to live in the barracks than to live separately in a dormitory," said Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Beckwith of the Birch Rd. barrack housing district.

"Not only are the rent rates reasonable but we also receive fuel, water, and electricity free of charge from the college."

The Beckwiths, typical of the barrack families, are both MSC students. Gerald is a graduate student in agricultural extension work while his wife, Jean, is a senior in veterinary medicine. Another important figure in the family is their four-month-old daughter, Vicki.

Economizing features of the married housing units consist of the Red Cedar Co-Ops, self-service laundry and Spartan Nursery. Also, there is somewhat of a "community atmosphere" among the married couples as they baby sit, exchange recipes, and aid each other in emergencies.

While the barracks themselves tend to have quite a drab appearance, the students achieve a "homelike" look by building outside barbecues, swings and planning new color schemes for their rooms.

"Most surprising to us is the fact that we seem to get more done in a less amount of time," claimed Mrs. Beckwith. For Mrs. Beckwith and many of the other married coeds, an every day schedule begins early in the morning with baby feeding and ends at the midnight study desk.

Despite sacrificing bridge games for dishes and grilling for baby sitting, MSC married students look ahead to the day when their education will be paying them.

Professor Stays After Lecture

Math Instructor On Year's Leave

By BOCK SUMMERS

The man who came to lecture and stayed for a year is the story of Prof. Gilbert de B. Robinson, an exchange professor from the University of Toronto in Canada.

After Prof. Robinson gave a lecture here last May, Prof. James S. Frano, head of the mathematics department, asked him to stay a year as a visiting professor.

Although they look just on a shell for men of their UROC candidate Roger Abell, the bells are valued in order to raise money for the MSC Fund.

Gets the Facts Student Takes Tape Machine To Classroom

Carrying a tape recorder to class instead of a notebook does have its drawbacks, but it's a sure way of getting assignments.

Getting the facts this way is something new on campus, and it all came about because of a student's broken wrist.

The student, Harold Rice, Miami, Ariz. senior, broke his wrist when he tried tobogganing for the first time several weeks ago. He couldn't take notes.

Rice also uses the recorder in his work outside the classroom. Better known to many as "Arizona Rice", he calls for square dances.

The recorder in its new capacity is plugged into the lecture room. Later Rice's wife types a verbatim copy.

From the other side of the desk, Karl Dressler, associate professor of water and conservation, doesn't think the use of the recorder has any noticeable effect on the rest of the class.

It doesn't make him nervous or more careful of what he says, either, Dressler said.

Carillon Valued at $50,000 Beaumont Chimes Ring for 25 Years

By JOAN STREADWICK

The bells are played by a clavier of levers resembling broomstick handles. The clenched fist or the foot strikes these levers which are connected to the clappers, and the clappers sound the bells.

As many as four notes may be played simultaneously by the hands and feet, and the flexibility of the instrument is demonstrated daily by Wendell Westcott, the carillonneur, who plays everything from Beethoven to Gilbert and Sullivan.

Westcott plays the carillon before and after each home football game and for such special events as the Senior Singout and the May Morning Sing.

When MSC won its Rose Bowl bid, strains of "California Here I Come" poured out of the Tower.

The first carillon to appear in North America was in 1922. The first set in the United States came a year later to Gloucester, Mass. There are now about 73 carillons in this country.

Twenty-three of the MSC bells, mostly the bass ones, have come from England, the rest from Holland.

The bells are composed of 80 per cent copper and 20 per cent tin. Beaumont's largest bell at present weighs 2,800 pounds; its smallest weighs only 20.

The new bell, soon to arrive from England, will be the largest so far in the MSC collection, weighing 3,600 pounds. Davidson said it will cost over $4,000, which was donated by parents of students. It will not be installed until the other three bells have been purchased.

Dutch Elm Threatened Scientists Work to Stop Spread of Tree Disease

In a small room in the Natural Science Building, members of the botany and entomology departments are working to combat a threat to the beauty of the campus—Dutch elm disease.

The disease, a fungus which grows in the sap wood of the American elm where it prevents the normal flow of food materials and water through the tree, was found in Detroit in 1906. Since then, it has spread to the Ann Arbor and Flint areas, but has not yet reached Ingham County.

Although there is no way to save a tree once it has been infected with the fungus, the MSC scientists have developed methods to prevent the spread of the disease.

The most effective control is based on the fact that the disease is carried by elm bark beetles. Under the direction of the entomology department campus trees have been sprayed with DDT mixture ever since 1950.

Another method of controlling the disease is to keep the trees healthy by removing all dead wood which might provide a foothold for the fungus.

Prof. F. C. Strong, of the botany and plant pathology department, who directs Dutch elm disease laboratory said that only prompt action can halt the disease's spread.

AWS to Hold Primaries On Thursday

W8SH to Get New Antenna Next Spring

The Michigan State College Amateur Radio Club station W8SH, will broadcast over a new antenna and transmitter this spring. Club members are building a new 1,000-watt transmitter and a 20-meter beam antenna on the roof of the Electrical Engineering Building.

The transmitter will furnish three times the power of the present Army transmitter now in use. The new antenna will enable club members to direct radio beams.

The club recently acquired a tape recorder to help prospective hams learn the Morse Code license requirements.

Every Saturday morning the club members send and receive messages over the Midwest College Network MSC station can use this message service by dropping messages in the club box, first floor of the Electrical Engineering Building.

Penalties to Hit Spring Term Late-Comers

Any students counting on extra days for spring vacation had better also count on some extra penalties to pay for the late registration fee.

"It is going to be necessary to have rigid enforcement of late registration fees spring quarter," according to Registrar Robert S. Linton.

Spring vacation officially will begin March 24, and registration will start March 31. First to register will be the Z's at 9:30 Wednesday morning. The Pla's will start Thursday morning, and the Gots will begin Friday, the last day of registration.

Late registration runs from April 5 until April 12 and the extra registration fee is charged during this time. This year Easter falls on April 18.

"This fee," Linton said, "is not designed as a punishment, but rather for the privilege of late registration." He said leniency was shown winter term because of the Rose Bowl, but that now he does not see how any excuses, including accidents or hospitalization, can be allowed for spring term.

In 1912, each student at MAC was assessed a six dollar "blanket tax" to help support a lecture course and athletics.

Campus Police Stop Bicycle Violations

Campus Police are stepping up a program to apprehend bicycle violators.

Lt. A. S. Ellis of the Campus Police said that only warnings were issued during the first two weeks of winter term, but now violators will be ticketed.

The chief offenses are riding on the sidewalks and riding against the stream of traffic. These are not only in violation of a local campus ordinance but also a state law, which is punishable in regular traffic court, Lt. Ellis said.

It is also compulsory that each bicycle on campus be registered. Registering is for the student's protection because it is a form of identification, he said.

Each year the Campus Police recover 95 per cent of all bicycles stolen, borrowed or otherwise mislaid, if they have been registered, Lt. Ellis said.

There is no cost for registration. The student must only notify the Campus Police of the bike's description and serial number. Then a small metal identification tag is issued to the student, Lt. Ellis said.

Senate to Debate Bonus Plan

Korean Vets May Receive State Aid

LANSING (AP)—Legislation to place a Korean War veterans bonus plan before voters was prepared for debate in the Senate Tuesday.

The Senate Judiciary Committee reported out a constitutional amendment to change the state's limit to permit an $80,000 bonus, in addition to the $275,000 World War II bonus.

But the committee struck off a proposal to pay for the bonus by a one-cent a pack increase in the state cigarette tax, now three cents.

The cigarette tax was passed to finance the World War II bonus, although it was not a part of the constitutional authorization.

That tax produces about $8,000,000 more than the bonus financing requires. The rest goes to the general fund.

Committee members said they had been assured the Korean bonus could be paid with the general fund.

The bonus would amount to $10 a month for service within the United States and $15 a month for foreign service, both between 27, 1950, and Dec. 31, 1953, with a maximum of $800.

Veterans would not be eligible for the bonus if they had received a former.

A Senate committee killed the bill to abolish the Naval Reserve.

It already had passed the House.

Also passed in the Senate was House-approved bill to make it misdemeanor to leave an icebox outside a dwelling without removing the door or latch.

The Senate confirmed Gov. Williams' appointments to the State Defense Advisory Council of George F. Leydorf, manager of Detroit Radio Station WJR; Max Gordon A. MacDonald, commander of the Michigan National Guard; Brig. Gen. S. L. A. Marshall, military commentator of the Detroit News; and the Rt. Reverend R. Pace, Episcopal bishop of Marquette.

The House advanced a re-consideration of the election laws for a vote today without any attempt to amend it to please Gov. Williams.

The Republican caucus had decided earlier not to amend the election laws as the governor had asked.

Rec. Herb Clements (R-DeKalb) in answer to Democratic questions on the floor said the Republicans believed the present election laws requiring bipartisan support "as nearly as possible" sufficient.

In conformity with an earlier House decision, the House struck a Senate amendment from the code which combined the presidential and state ballot "as nearly as possible" sufficient.

The lower chamber passed a state approved bill tightening a business receipts tax.

The bill, which now goes to the governor, includes rural electrification administration cooperation and oil and gas pipeline franchises in the tax, changes effective date from Jan. 1 to Jan. 1 and makes other minor amendments.

A bill requiring auto titles to show whether the car was ever used as a taxi or police car passed the House 77-0.

Backs Bricker Amendment

Jenner Calls U. N. Treaties Injurious

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.), backing the Bricker amendment to curb the scope of treaties, said Tuesday the United Nations charter contains "the seeds of power to deprive our states of a Republican form of government."

He told the Senate the U.N. is preparing a whole series of treaties which would operate as domestic legislation in the United States, affecting citizens in matters on which even the federal government cannot legislate under the Constitution.

The U. N. charter, Jenner contended, "has within it the pattern for making the states into satellite provinces, subject to a Congress which under the United Nations charter will have to tell them what to do."

Thus another round of debate began on the controversial plan of Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to limit the President's power to make treaties and other international agreements.

When the Senate will react, a showdown vote on the issue remained uncertain.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican floor leader, said it may be necessary to hold night sessions Wednesday and Thursday to see if we can complete this constitutional amendment.

Driver Injured When Horse Runs Red Light

DETROIT (AP)—A one-horsepower vehicle, driven by 63-year-old John Kucok, ran a red light Tuesday and put Kucok in Receiving Hospital.

The vehicle's power was supplied by a horse named George. Kucok, a Detroit Livery Stable employee, was driving to a produce market and fell asleep at the reins.

George ignored a red traffic signal and stepped into the path of George Leverette's oncoming auto. Leverette swerved to miss the horse and crashed into the wagon, toppling Kucok to the street.

Kucok suffered serious head and leg injuries. Leverette was released after making a statement to police.

George was unhurt.

Misfortune Strikes Again

Polomsky Through for Icers' Season

By MIKE CARR
It's happened again! The Spartan hockey squad, already weakened by misfortunes, learned Tuesday night that John Polomsky would definitely be out of action for the remainder of the season.

Polomsky has already missed the last six games because of a back injury, but it was not known until now just how serious the injury was.

In the Minnesota game, Jan. 29, Polomsky fell to the ice after a hard check and injured his back so severely that it was doubtful if he would play in the next series against Denver. The husky sophomore decided to risk playing, however, with the result that he fell again and has not played since.

Davey Set For Battle Of Words

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Welterweight fighters Chuck Davey and Art Aragon are ready to go at it again, but this time it will be with words instead of padded fists.

Chairman Tony Entenza of the state athletic commission called a hearing for Wednesday afternoon to inquire into the controversial decision which gave Aragon a split decision over the Michigan southpaw last Thursday.

The fighters and the ring officials, referee Mushy Callahan and judge Charlie Randolph, who voted for Davey, will appear.

A vast majority of the 10,000 fans who witnessed the fight in person, as well as most of the fight writers, thought Davey had won decisively. The crowd booted for a solid 10 minutes and the writers are still debating the matter.

Films of the match were telecast Sunday. They failed to clear up the controversy.

Commissioner Everett Sanders announced immediately after the bout that Callahan and Stone had been suspended. Sanders, in bewildering fashion, later denied, and then reaffirmed, his pronouncement.

Roberts Has Wage Dispute

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Star pitcher Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies held a lengthy conference with owner Bob Carpenter Tuesday, but the two failed to agree on Roberts' 1954 salary.

A Phillies spokesman said Roberts, who won 23 and lost 16 last year, and Carpenter, would meet again at the end of the week.

Makes Predictions Come True

Maekawa Starts Fast

By ED SLOBOSNEK
A pre-season summary of Spartan boxing prospects from MSC Information Services said Choken "Mike" Maekawa was "... an outstanding prospect... very agile and extremely fast... can recover quickly... always on the move... hard to hit."

Maekawa goes to dance and has a valuable collection of popular records. Ray Anthony is favorite.

And Maekawa, a 19-year-old physical education major from Kohala, Hawaii, has been living up to these words, easily winning the 125-pound varsity berth in the pre-season intra-squad tussles.

CHOKEN MAEKAWA
... fulfills promise ...
Boxing is his only sport at MSC.

In his first bout for the Spartans, this five-foot, seven inch sophomore scored a TKO over his Quantico Marine opponent in 57 seconds of the first round.

When he's home for summer vacations, Maekawa often takes to swimming and fishing in the ocean.

The following week at Penn State, Maekawa knocked his opponent out in just 40 seconds.

'Ah yes,' he kids, 'we Hawaiians often brave the shark with our five and a half foot spears just to catch the 150 pound ulu or uhu fish. More often, though, we settle for a 15 or 20 pounder.'

He had Kobe on the canvas for a nine-count in the second round; then went on battering him for a unanimous decision as the Idaho crowd cheered.

Besides spending hours at pool in the Union, when he isn't training, he spends hours at the pool in the Union, when he isn't training.

In addition to throwing an array of solid rights from his orthodox stance, Maekawa has developed a dazzling left uppercut and hook which he uses to great effect.

There's Still Time To Tour Europe!

Boxing since he was 15, Maekawa has a record of 35 wins (16 by knockouts), and only one loss. Under the banner of the Kohala Athletic Association, he won the Territorial AAU featherweight championship in 1951, and successfully defended it in 1952.

Space is scarce, but you still have time to make reservations for an all-inclusive, guided tour of Europe.

Maekawa was one of eight Hawaiians sent to the 1952 NA-AU Champions' Tourney at Boston. It was in the finals there that he lost his only fight, and that by a split decision.

Book now for between-term holiday spots already limited. Term ends March 24th.

At Kohala High School, which didn't offer boxing, he won nine letters while playing guard on the basketball team, left half in 130-pound football, and center field in baseball.

Spartans First to Play Indoor Soccer Tournaments

Michigan State will be the first college in the nation to play an indoor soccer tournament. Although the event hasn't been tried in colleges yet, it has proved very successful throughout the United States in the major league ranks. Of most significance is the highly impressive following televised indoor soccer is now boasting in Chicago.

This Friday evening at Jensen Gym from 7 to 9, tryouts are scheduled for anyone wishing to compete in the intra-mural indoor soccer event. Experienced or inexperienced players are invited to attend. Also, student referees are needed.

At the Friday meeting, teams will be formed from those present, the special indoor rules will be explained, and team practice will be held. Depending upon the number of teams entered, tourney finals will be held on either March 12, or March 19. Medals are being awarded to players on the winning team.
