

PUERTO RICANS SHOOT FIVE CONGRESSMEN

Michigan's Bentley Critically Injured

Four Others Hurt as Nationalists Open Fire From Gallery of House

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Five Congressmen were hurt—two seriously—when Puerto Rican spectators in the House gallery cut loose with wild pistol fire from their seats Monday afternoon.

Critically injured is Rep. Alvin M. Bentley of Michigan's Eighth Congressional District.

The gunmen and their woman companion, Puerto Ricans from New York City, were overpowered and captured immediately. They are reported to have shouted "Free Puerto Rico" and to have waved their national flag before starting to shoot.

House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) said they were part of a busload of Puerto Ricans who had come to the capital Monday. He said around 20 of them have been taken into custody.

Four of those who fired on the House were held on $100,000 bond Monday night on charges of felonious assault with intent to kill. The four, three men and a woman, were arraigned before Cyril S. Lawrence, U. S. Commissioner for the District of Columbia.

At police headquarters, the Puerto Ricans were identified as members of the nationalist party in Puerto Rico. Two other members of this party tried to assassinate President Truman in 1950.

A police order late Monday ordered detectives from many parts of the city into New York's Puerto Rican section.

Edgar E. Scott, deputy chief of detectives, said these persons are being held in connection with the shooting: Lolita Lebron, 34, New York City; Rafael C. Miranda, 25, New York City; Andres F. Cordero, 24, New York City; Irving Flores, 27, New York City; Montes Rivera, 20, Tampa, Fla; Pablo Mateo, 18, Tampa, Fla; Israel Rivera, 23, Deerfield Beach, Fla.

The Riveras are brothers. The names of the others in custody were not disclosed immediately. Tom Kenamer, House doorkeeper, said the woman had scribbled: "I take responsibility for all."

Like the attack on Truman, today's shooting took place without the slightest advance warning.

At 2:31 p.m., the placid scene was turned into the wildest confusion. The Puerto Ricans were seated in the gallery above and to the left of the speaker's desk.

Physicians attending Bentley said earlier that his condition was serious but that he "probably is out of danger."

They said a single bullet which entered his right chest and came out the left side of his abdomen had pierced both his lungs.

Bentley was conscious throughout the afternoon and talking, an assistant, Elwood Brake, said after leaving the bedside.

Insurance Gathering To Hear Discussion

About 500 Michigan farm insurance representatives will hear a discussion on ways of increasing sales at today's closing session of a two-day seminar at Kellogg Center.

Georgia Named Site Kelloggs Plan Center in South

Construction of a second Kellogg Center will begin at University of Georgia next September as a result of success of the Center for Continuing Education here. The Kellogg Foundation recently announced plans to build a second center at the university $2,300,000 for construction of the building, patterned after East Lansing's Kellogg Center.

The rest of the funds for the building, estimated to cost $4 million, will be provided mainly by the Georgia Legislature. The cost of the center is double the cost of MSC's building because of higher construction costs, officials said.

A group of Georgia architects planning to visit Kellogg Center to study the building. They will live at Kellogg at two days to get the "feel" of the diversified building.

September of 1951, when the center was opened, the Kellogg Foundation announced it would not finance any future buildings. The foundation's policy that money would be spent on educational programs rather than buildings.

Officials said the outstanding success of the Center for Continuing Education brought about change of policy for the foundation. Some education leaders in the Kellogg Center building to build—probably in the West or Northwest—depending on the success of the first project.

The MSC-innovated name of "learning education" will be used by the Georgia Center. It will be the first school in the country to term education for out-of-school adults "continuing education."

The Georgia building, which is ready for use next year, will bring to present plans, will be from the MSC Center in East Lansing. Georgia's building has 200 guest rooms connected with MSC. A communications center with television and radio facilities also be incorporated into the building.

Several southern states will be visited by the Georgia Center. The Michigan's Kellogg Center concentrates solely on Michigan. The Georgia Center also will be accommodations for study in energy, music and art. University of Georgia has no school. Michigan State hotel use Kellogg facilities for

High of 30 March Still Like a Lion—Cold and Snow

Spartans can at least hope March will go out like a lamb as they face snow flurries and below freezing temperatures today. March winds will add to the frozen feelings, with the mercury between 20 and 30 degrees above zero.

Third Building Finished New Apartments Opened to Families

Only one family, Mr. and Mrs. James Fore and their 13-month-old son, out of the 12 families scheduled, had moved into the recently completed third apartment building for married students by 5 Monday afternoon.

Fore, a senior business major, and his family lived in the barracks apartments until their recent move to Apartment A.

With only the bed yet to be moved, the only thing that seemed to worry Mrs. Fore as she surveyed her new apartment was how she'd fill the large wardrobe closet that covered one wall of her bedroom.

Among the features that pleased Mrs. Fore were the color scheme, the arrangement of the kitchenette, and the small terrace and front lawn which she says her young son will enjoy.

Although designed with only one bedroom, the apartments may be rented to couples with one child. Mrs. Fore said she plans to turn the large bedroom almost entirely into a bed-playroom for her son.

This building was the last of three built as pilot models for a 100-unit housing development in the planning stage. Construction on the rest of the group should begin in the near future. Ray D. Lamphar, director of married housing, said.

Applications may be made at any time for the one-bedroom apartments in the planned development, according to Tom A. Dutch, director of housing. Application date for the 14 two-bedroom units in the new building will be announced before the end of the school year, he said.

Some of the new apartments will be furnished but the exact number has not yet been determined. The apartment building now being moved into is the one out of the three that was not furnished.

Historian to Talk At Club Meeting

Prof. Carleton J. Hayes, visiting distinguished lecturer in history from Columbia University, will discuss "The Making of a Historian" at a History Club meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in 221 Physics-Math Building. The meeting is open to the public.

Dr. Hayes was honored by the humanities department at a dinner Monday evening at Kellogg Center. He spoke on "History in the Humanities."

Little Books Worth Lotsa Dough L-C Series Rated as 'Bigtime'

Your student activity book can furnish you with between $55 and $80 worth of entertainment in free admissions to the Lecture-Concert series.

At least, it costs the college $40,000 each term to bring guest artists to the campus for the series, said Dean Shirley E. Crowe, director.

Crowe said that an average of 40 productions of all kinds is presented every term on a non-profit basis. He stated that $70,000 has been spent on the series since its inception this year.

Working on posters for the student government tax campaign are Phyllis Head and Janet Sullivan, artists, and John Clancy, government director of information services.

Kickoff Today Tax Campaign Begins

A band concert in the Union Concourse today will form the kickoff in the campaign to support the student government tax. The tax will come up for a final vote at spring term registration.

Sponsor of the concert, which will last from 2:30 to 5 p.m., is the Fresh-Soph Council. Ray Robertson's band will entertain, and Howard James, president of the freshman class, will emcee.

The government will start its campaign Wednesday with a display in the Concourse. Three tables and numerous posters will portray major phases of government activity.

The display will run through Thursday this week and three days next week.

Divisions of the presentation include government representation of student opinion, direct student benefits and organization aid. John Clancy, director

Two Districts To Elect Congressmen

The last elections for Student Congress representatives in a term will be held Thursday in the Phillips Hall and East Lansing districts.

Candidates running in the two districts are Donald Shurtz and Ron Weger, Phillips, and Gerald Arborend and Madelyn McCray, East Lansing.

East Lansing voters will cast their ballots in the Union Concourse from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Phillips residents will vote in the dorm at dorm-designated hours.

Automatically elected to Congress because only one position came in from his district was Max Deans, Bayde Hall.

According to Justice Dunphy, elections commissioner, two seats in married housing are still vacant.

of government information services, said.

Presented under the first division, expression of student opinion, will be posters showing the campaign for the library last year, plans for the 1965 Centennial year, support of the MSU bill and discussions with faculty and administration.

Direct benefits posters will show pep rallies and dances, the small loan fund, high school cooperation, bowling shoes and support to the Helot and STUN.

Cartoons on the organizations table will show the eligibility check, organizational files and the grants-in-aid program.

Art work is being done by Janet Sullivan, Elmhurst, Ill., freshman, and Phyllis Head, Pontiac freshman.

Other features of the display will include the mimeograph machine, and pictures of Doc Moom, last year's Miss Big 10, and Jan Samson, this year's queen, to represent special projects.

According to Clancy, Student Congress members and executives will be on hand to explain government operations.

Mimeographed sheets entitled "Here is the Story on the Tax" will be distributed at the display. The paper gives details on all government projects.

Concert Ticket Distribution To Begin Today

Tickets for a joint concert by Jan Peerce and Thomas L. Thomas will be distributed from the Union Ticket Office beginning at 9 a.m. today.

Students may exchange activity book coupons for reserved seat tickets to the Lecture-Concert series program, scheduled for the Auditorium March 9 at 8:30 p.m.

Thomas, a baritone, has appeared in more than 600 concerts in the United States. Peerce has been one of the leading tenors of the Metropolitan Opera for 12 seasons.

Exam Scheduled For Civil Service Ranger Positions

The United States Civil Service Commission has opened application for a park ranger examination to 600 spots in national parks, recreation areas and monuments.

A booklet presenting a condensed version of the mimeographed sheets is now at the printers and will be distributed to living units sometime next week, according to Dave Hyman, government president.

Wisconsin Free Throws Help Beat Cagers, 79-56

Badgers Cop Both Ends of Season Series

Michigan State's basketball team absorbed a 79-56 defeat at the hands of Wisconsin Monday night, at Madison as the Badgers sank 29 free throws during the game.

Winning, Wisconsin was to sweep both ends of the game series, winning 57-33 earlier in the season.

State entertains the Wolverines in the season finale for the clubs, Saturday night, in Mason Fieldhouse. State has overall record of 9-13.

The win pushed Wisconsin into place ahead of Northwest. The Badgers have a 6-7 lead mark and an overall show-of 12-9. Wisconsin ends its season at Minnesota Saturday night.

Daily Guard Tony Stracks and Guard Bob Weber missed opportunities at the free throw line as the Badgers set a new season fieldhouse and Big record.

Wisconsin took the lead at 5-1 a minute of play and was headed, being atop the strata at the end of the first 17-10, leading at halftime 20- and 47-30 at the end of the periods.

The Badgers threw up a strong case which was a major factor in the final decision. Coupled with it was the Spartans' inability to drop in field goals with consistency. They counted goals from the floor in the period, one in the second, and the third, but finished against Badger reserves with only one in final period.

Top scorer for Wisconsin was Bob Cable with 22 points, eight from free throws. Don Peterson most effective for Michigan State with 13 points.

Williams Sidelined By Broken Shoulder

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Slugging Ted Williams, the highest paid player in baseball, broke his left shoulder Monday in the first 10 minutes of spring training and won't be able to lift a bat before the season opens.

The Boston Red Sox outfielder stumbled and fell while chasing a sinking fly off the bat of Hoot Evers.

"I tried to turn a somersault," Williams said. "But I fell heavily smack on the shoulder. I felt something snap."

After a rapid clubhouse examination by Dr. Russell Sullivan of Boston, a winter fishing companion of the ball player, Williams was hustled to the Sarasota offices of Dr. Michael Di Cocco for X-rays.

"X-rays show the break is in a quite satisfactory position," the doctors announced in a joint statement. "We will have to X-ray again in three or four days. The shoulder must be in a cast for a minimum of three weeks. He cannot lift his arm or swing a bat for six weeks."

East Shaw Cage Title Won by '6'

By BURT BROOKS

East Shaw 6 won the East Shaw championship downing E a 2 1 Shaw 9, 32 to 23 in the only intramural cage game on tan Monday night. As a result of the win the East Shaw 6 outfit meets West Shaw 4 at 9:40 tonight for the Shaw title.

The victors led all the way, and the outcome of the game was never in doubt. The Pre-empt 7 quintet built up a 9-5 first quarter lead, and upped their total to 18-13 by the half.

At the end of the third stanza East Shaw 9 was trailing 24-16. Though the losers came within five points a couple of times in the closing minutes, they never really threatened.

Ron Davis of the losing East Shaw 9 was the game's top scorer with nine points. However, the winners had better all-around scoring punch with both Greg Maronich and Dick Ross hitting red markers. They were ably supported by teammates Glen Smith and Jim Donaldson who who notched seven apiece. Ches Hollie rounded the victors scoring with a bucket for two points.

Scoring for the losers were Don Elstein six; George Hane five; Mel Boltz two; and Jim Hirst one.

East Shaw 6 won the game from the court, hitting 14 baskets to the vanquished five's 9. The winners also had a better free throw record 4 of 7 tries to 5 of 11 tries for the losers.

Other places were Jim Angell and Paul Allen, second and third respectively in the side horse; Ed Doherty, second and Gordon Melencamp third in the trampoline. On the horizontal bar, Len Efron took second and Allen third while Melencamp took second and Efron third on the parallel.

With 32 students participating, West Shaw Hall won the Dorm table tennis title Monday night with a total of 16 points. Phillips finished second with 11 points while Butterfield and Snyder tied for third.

"CAMPUS CLASSIFIEDS - HIGH READERSHIP"

Williams Sidelined By Broken Shoulder

Williams had arrived at the official opening of spring training less than a hour before he was hurt. One of baseball's greatest sluggers, he had not yet touched a bat but had gone directly to the catcher to hammer up. He had caught only a couple of balls before drifting in easily for Evers' fly.

As the ball began to sink Williams speeded up, appeared to stumble and then fell directly on his shoulder. He is left-handed.

Just how much of the season he will miss could not be determined immediately. Observers pointed out it will take him time to get in shape even after the shoulder heals completely.

Manager Ken Bowden was just an disappointed as Williams, who is paid a reported $100,000 for his services.

"It hurts me almost as much as it hurts him," Bowden moaned. "I feel terrible about it. It's just as if I'd broken my own shoulder."

Williams has been hurt seriously twice before. In spring training in 1941 he suffered a bone chip in his left ankle and missed the opening of the season. When he got back in the lineup he went on to hit .406, his best major league average.

In the All-Star game at Comiskey Park, Chicago, in July 1950 he crashed into the left field wall and broke his left elbow, forcing him to miss most of the rest of the season.

Williams was recalled by the Marlins early in the 1953 campaign and served in Korea as a captain. He returned to the Sox in August and batted a sensational .407 in 37 games, slugging 13 home runs.

The entire upper portion of Williams' body was placed in a cast. Jack Fadden, the Red Sox trainer, said Ted "will be able to run as soon as the pain leaves his shoulder, the cast won't interfere with running."

Conference Track Finals Meet Friday

Records in Danger In Many Events

Several Big 10 track records are in danger when the conference holds its 44th annual meet at Champaign, Ill. Friday and Saturday.

Pete Gray, Michigan, and Gene Maynard, Illinois, ran three-tenths of a second under the conference record in the half-mile a week ago when they tied in a dual meet. Their time was 1:52.4.

Illinois' Ron Mitchell has bettered his conference high jump mark of 6'7", already this year with a leap of 6'7 1/2".

It is a cinch that three new records will go down in the books because three events have been added to the card. They are the 300, 600, and 1,000-yard runs. No times for these events have been posted in these by the Big 10.

Big 10 figures show that the records in the 60-yard dash, 440, 70-yard high and low hurdles, and the mile relay are also in danger even though they haven't been equaled or surpassed yet this year by conference runners.

BASEBALL MEETING SET There will be a meeting of those out for freshmen baseball, Thursday at 4 p.m. in room 315 of Jenison Gym if has been announced.

Boston Pops To Play in Aud Tonight

Soloist Featured in Liszt Concerto

Marches by Wagner and Sir Edward Elgar will open and close the program of the Boston Pops Tour Orchestra tonight in the Auditorium. The concert begins at 8:30.

In-between Wagner's "Entrance of the Guests" from the opera "Tannhauser" and Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstance" will be seven other popular concert selections.

The Overture to "Oberon," the Largo from Handel's "Xerxes," the suite from the ballet "Galle Perlesienne" by Offenbach, Liszt's "Concerto No. 1 in E-Flat for Piano and Orchestra," the "Overture Solenne" (1812) by Tchaikovsky, selections from Cole Porter's "Kiss Me Kate" and "Jalisco" by Gode will also be under the baton of conductor Arthur Fiedler.

Pianist Ruth Slenczynska will be guest soloist with the orchestra. She will be featured in the Liszt concerto.

A former student of Bachmannoff and Coriol, Miss Slenczynska has taught at the San Francisco Academy of Music and appeared with the San Francisco, Minneapolis, Detroit and Cleveland symphonies. In Europe she has been heard with the Budapest Opera Orchestra and the Paris Symphony.

Tickets for the concert tonight have been sold out since last Tuesday. Lecture-Concert series returns have asked that students return tickets they will be unable to use to the Union Ticket Office so that they will be available to others.

Jobs Open For Draft Eligible Men

More Companies Desire Applicants

Company placement officers still are interested in interviewing those students likely to enter military service, according to Robert C. Clark, assistant director of the Placement Bureau.

Most companies, Clark said, are making allowances for draft or reserve obligations. The qualified applicants are being hired with the understanding that their work will be interrupted by service with the armed forces, he said.

Frequently, vacation and seniority rights accumulate while the new employe is serving in the armed forces, Clark added.

He also said about five per cent more companies are sending interviewers this year, which means 70 different companies monthly.

The Placement Bureau's alumni division is available for graduates who want to job-hunt, or look for a new job in service. Applications to the alumni division may be made by mail, Clark said.

left of the speaker's rostrum, so that they were facing the unsuspecting congressmen.

Quickly came the shout, the shots, the flag waving, so quickly many congressmen didn't even realize it was anything more than a prank.

But there was Bentley, on the floor. Jenson, unconscious, lay in a pool of blood. Davis was down, holding his ankle. Fallon and Roberts were holding their wounds.

It was over so soon no one even knew how many shots were fired. Twenty to 25, some said. Others said at least 30.

One shot dug a hole in the House's new ceiling. Others rang from the Republican to the Democratic side of the chamber. The mahogany desk, at which the Republican leaders sit, was hit. Splinters hit Rep. Arends (R-Ill.), the assistant GOP floor leader.

Three house members who also are physicians, Reps. Judd (R-Minn.), Fenton (R-Pa.), and A. L. Miller (R-Neb.), hurriedly gave first aid to the victims.

The repercussions were immediate.

Many members called for a closer inspection of visitors. At present, there's only one command given spectators: no cameras. No one is searched.

The Senate galleries were cleared. In a little over a half hour, it, too, recessed.

A White House reception was called off.

President Eisenhower, informed of the shooting, telephoned Martin to offer any assistance possible. He also sent a White House aide, Homer Grubbs, to the offices of each of the wounded to offer any possible help.

In Kansas City, former President Truman said: "I am sorry to hear about it. I hope none of them—the congressmen—are seriously injured. It's too bad a thing like that could happen."

And in San Juan, the capital of Puerto Rico, Gov. Luis Munoz Marin called the shooting an act of "savagery and unbelievable lunacy."

"The whole people of Puerto Rico," the governor said in a statement, "are deeply indignant because of this savage and unbelievable lunacy which does not express in the remotest way the peaceful and decent nature of the people of Puerto Rico."

Jan Somers Runner-up for 'Life' Cover

Jan Somers, Miss MSC and Miss Big 10, almost made the cover of this week's Life Magazine.

The Elmhurst, Ill. sophomore queen was contacted by Life after a staff member saw a picture of her in a newspaper. The picture was in conjunction with the Miss Big 10 title she copped at Northwestern University in January.

Several pictures of Miss Somers were sent to the magazine. Later she was notified that she was runner-up for the cover selection. About 100 pictures had been taken by a staff photographer sent from New York to East Lansing.

None of the pictures will be used inside the magazine, she said.

Schools Close; Drivers Stranded

By The Associated Press

writing of winter's snow in gusty winds kept an estimated 100,000 Michigan school children at home, indirectly deaths and stranded motorists.

Three deaths in southern Michigan also were charged to storms that dumped inches over it and Michigan. Upward of a thousand motorists were stranded on roads between Windsor and Detroit.

Eastern Michigan's snowing in Sunday night storm dumped 10 inches in Detroit to 15 inches in the Thumb.

Some freezing temperatures statewide alleviated somewhat during the day, but snow which puddled in a new hazard in an area. Colder was the trend for today.

Another inch to two inches is forecast for Michigan the weekend by the Weather Bureau. It said it would continue today and Friday would fall generally between Friday and Saturday.

Rising temperatures meant for Thursday and Friday, but the outlook for Saturday and Sunday is "cloudy."

Bert Bouvert, 73, of Bismarck, Mich., died of exhaustion Monday morning making his way from a stalled car to a farm Chippewa Sault Ste. Marie. A sheriff's car, and a small snow plow down going to his aid. The plow finally cleared a path, but Bouvert was dead of a heart attack. He died in Romulus Township of Detroit. Albert LaRocca died a few hours earlier, having been struck by a shoveling snow.

Bert Potts, 53, a State Department employe at Detroit, was struck and killed by a car as he handed a briefcase to a car on a hill on US-23 Sunday.

Dakland Postler counted 18,000 school children missed school because couldn't get through snow. Schools in Charlevoix, Benzie, Emmet, and Troy Township closed. Only a portion of schools through to schools at Orion and Waterford.

Eight inches of snow they piled up to four and five feet temporarily north of Lansing to plug cleared spots.

Huron (Bad Axe), 60, the tip of the Thumb, buried 16 1/2 inches and all schools were closed. In localized instances impassable until late in the day. In some places new snow to plug cleared spots.

Twenty-five schools in Port Huron County closed, as was several in Tawas, Lapeer and Vassar counties. Mason County and Alcona County schools were closed in 16 schools.

Four hours it was feared with three children in the storm outside, which got 12 inches in the double-barrel nature Sunday and Monday the four managed to get away to a farm house. A drift-stalled automobile was found abandoned and were found safe at 10 p.m.
