U. S. Said Ready for Indo Loss

Viet Nam Defeat Seen as Probable

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles is reported pressing a Far East policy which recognizes that, short of a military miracle, the major part of Indochina may be lost to the Communists.

This decision, officials said, rules out for the present any thought of sending any kind of American force to bolster the hard-pressed French in Viet Nam, where the heaviest Indochina fighting is going on.

The plan is reported based on an estimate that any "united action" plan which can be devised may be too late to save Viet Nam, the biggest and richest of the three Indochina states.

The present American strategy, it was learned, calls for the United States to concentrate on guaranteeing along with other countries the defense of neighboring Laos and Cambodia.

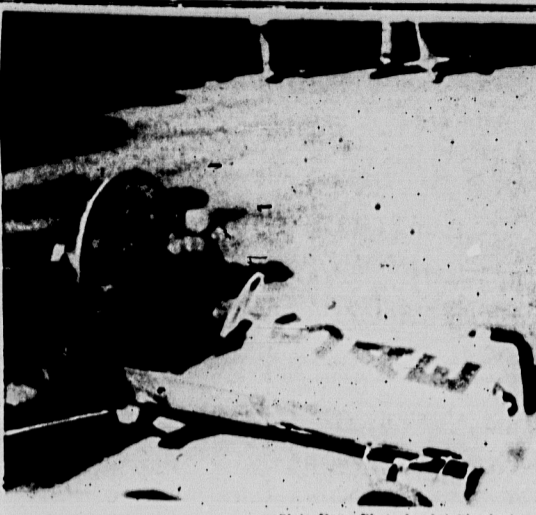

These two Indochina states have a combined population of some four and a half million people as compared to Viet Nam which has more than 22 million inhabitants including the big cities of Hanoi and Saigon.

Informants said the U. S. government attitude does not mean that this country will abandon Viet Nam, or that all hope that it will be saved has been lost. It was emphasized that massive American shipments of military supplies will continue to go forward to French Union forces there so long as there is a fighting chance the critical area can be held.

But it was said that this will be done with the realization that such steps may not be enough to prevent the Reds from conquering the area, or to keep the French from making a settlement which would allow the Communists to take over most, if not all, of Viet Nam.

If the French and loyal Vietnamese were to stage a military comeback, the American plan undoubtedly would be quickly revised to seize any new opportunity offered.

Dulles arranged Thursday to give a television and radio "report to the American people" tonight at 8:30 (EST) over a coast-to-coast network to discuss plans for meeting the Indochina crisis.

'Round Circle Drive Auto Race Opens Engineering Show

The sixth annual Engineering Exposition got off to a fast start Thursday with a micro-midget auto race around Circle Drive.

The winning car was entered by the Society of Automotive Engineers and driven by Neil Newman, East Lansing special student. His average speed was 20.4 mph for the four-lap race.

Donations Near Record Of Last Term

For the second time this year MSC has a chance to break a record for a blood drive.

Thursday, the fourth day of donations, 432 pints were collected. The total now stands at 1,857 pints, 249 shy of the winter term mark set by MSC during the winter term drive.

The mark of 2,106 is the second best mark ever chalked up on an American campus drive. It also is the best mark of 1951.

Officials of the drive admit that the only way they can break the record is with "outstanding civilian support."

"We absolutely need 200 civilian donors today," Dr. Joseph Venir said Thursday. "It shouldn't be hard, if the people at MSC respond like they did during the last drive."

Other officials expressed wonder about what had happened to the veterans on campus. "They did such a tremendous job last time, what happened to them?" one nurse who had worked in both drives asked Thursday.

ROTC officials pointed out that more than 50 per cent of the cadets had contributed.

Seaway Plan Okayed By House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional approval of the St. Lawrence Seaway after more than a half century of controversy was virtually assured Thursday night, with prospects that ships from the seven seas will be able to sail as far inland as Toledo, Ohio.

Spurred in large measure by President Eisenhower's statement that the seaway is needed for national defense as well as for economic reasons, the House voted 241-136 to authorize this country to join Canada in building the channel.

All that remains is the adjustment of minor differences with the Senate bill before sending the measure on to Eisenhower for his signature.

Eisenhower, in a statement late Thursday, hailed the House vote as "the end of a long and historic effort," he said the seaway would "contribute materially to the economic well-being and security" of both the United States and Canada.

Proponents say construction of the seaway, which will take an estimated six years, will open up the prospect of great new economic development of the Great Lakes area and the Midwest.

When completed, the 27-foot-deep channel will enable ships of the Victory and Liberty classes, for example, to pass directly from the Atlantic Ocean to inland ports on the Great Lakes. Ships of this size have a cargo capacity of 10,000 tons.

Navigation of the river now is restricted to ships with a draft of 14 feet or less because of a 46-mile stretch of rapids near Ogdensburg, N. Y.

The legislation passed Thursday permits elimination of this shipping bottleneck through the digging of a canal—the "seaway"—27 feet deep.

Hub of the weekend's activities will be Kellogg Center, where President John A. Hannah will give his welcoming address at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in the North Ballroom. He will invite parents and friends to be guests of the college for the many special activities during the school year.

Dr. Hannah's address will be followed by speeches from students.

Final Elections Set for Thursday

Bill Thistle, with a total of 295 votes, and Tom Payette, with 241 votes, came out in the lead for the senior class presidency in the primary elections Thursday.

In the other class presidential elections, Robert Brubaker and Jack Strasser were ahead in the junior class battle with 614 and 314 votes, respectively.

Andy Foeller and Howard James, with 575 and 461 votes, received the largest number for sophomore class president.

In the election results announced early this morning, primary candidates winning the senior vice-presidential berths were Dan Webster, 217 votes, and Mal Bertram, 196.

Jane Walters tallied 188 and Nan Coutech, 136 votes, in the race for senior class secretary.

Senior class treasurer candidates will be Marge Price and Sheila Harper, who received 372 and 188 votes, respectively.

Ron Smith and Daisy Sparkman topped the group running for junior vice-president. They received 190 and 179 votes.

There was no primary voting for junior secretary, because only two candidates, Mary Alice Ritchlin and Sandra Swaney, are running.

Lucille Chow and Peggy Fischer were on top with 360 and 245 votes for junior treasurer.

For sophomore vice-president, Georgia Bassett received 394, and David Kilborn, 393 votes.

Jeanne Warrington, who got 521 votes, and Nancy Matthews, with 304, will be the candidates for sophomore class secretary.

Since two candidates, Sue Rafferty and Pat Tavener, were running for sophomore class treasurer, there was no primary contest.

In the primaries held in West Shaw, William Mansfield received 247 votes, Thomas Gregors, 122; Roger Langley, 110, and Richard Lounchy, 83.

Nancy Goding and Rosemary Ann Hicks won in the primary held at Gilchrist. They received 54 and 29 votes, respectively.

At West Mayo, Diane Roub got 41 votes and Elizabeth Rose ran a close second with 40.

In the fraternity primary, Gordon Sinclair, who got 93; Robert McCullough, 77; William Walworth, 64, and Lawrence Heitsch, 41, won from that district.

Sylvia Jackson and Michaleen Telep tallied 43 and 23 votes, respectively, in the West Yackey race.

In South Campbell, Gretchen Stultz received 35 votes, and Elaine Furr, got 41.

Eleven other Congress districts will hold only final elections because only two candidates petitioned for each office. Final elections will be Thursday.

Scabbard and Blade Pledges 'Serenades' Wake MSC Coeds

By BEVERLY BUSCH
State News Editorial Assistant

Twelve Scabbard and Blade pledges have been giving coeds a thrill with their singing this week.

Their repertoire is confined mainly to "The Coed Song," ("Good Morning to You") the "ROTC Song," "Marching Through Georgia" and "Dixie."

To fulfill their pledge-week activities, the 12 men meet around 6:30 a.m. at Dem Hall, raise the flag there, march to the Union, raise the flag and then start serenading coeds dorms until 7:45, according to Kies Hagadorn, one of the pledges. Cadet officers direct them.

"We don't rehearse, but we're supposed to know the words," he said. "The pledgemaster selects different songs for each of the five serenades."

Hagadorn said they were told beforehand to make noise and not be particular about what came out. None of them has done much group singing before.

"Also, we're supposed to keep straight faces while we sing. The other day, two of us laughed and had to sing solos."

Many coeds far from being thrilled, resent having their beauty sleeps interrupted.

"On Monday, no one reacted in the first dorm we serenaded," Hagadorn said. "But we went along. Then there were some mighty choice comments."

"Trouble is, you have to stand at attention while the cadet officers are marching in front of you and you can't crack a smile when the remarks are made."

Hagadorn said it doesn't "feel good" to be yelled at in the morning by the officers for not singing loud enough.

"We're just as tired as the coeds. It seems like the officers stay up all night to get in the right mood for us."

Other duties of the pledges, who will turn active tonight, are to wear pledge bands during the week and obtain the signatures of the 40 Army and Air Force officers.

Scabbard and Blade is an honorary for which students are chosen on the bases of leadership and military potential. New members also must have at least a 2.5 all-college and 3.0 military average. (See photo on page 3.)

African Activities Described

By DEBBY HALL. Africa may seem far removed from college life to most MSC students, but unjustly so, according to Edwin Munger, American Universities Field Staff representative who visited campus.

More than 2,000 African students attend college in Africa at the present time, Munger said. College activities in Africa are very similar to those in American schools, not excluding sports, which plays an important part in the school curriculum, Munger pointed out.

International

(Continued from Page 1) Staff will speak on "Prospects for Democracy in Iran" Wednesday at 8 p.m. in 31 Union.

Wendell Westcott will play European, Latin American and North American songs on the Beatmont carillon during his Sunday afternoon concert.

May 16, an international religious program will be held in the College Chapel at 4 p.m. Speakers and hymns will represent the Christian, Jewish, Mohammedan and Hindu faiths. Also on May 16 an open house and tea for the International Club and other foreign students will be held by Dean and Mrs. Thomas H. Osgood.

International Week is being sponsored by student government in cooperation with other campus organizations.

Sunday Concert Set By A Cappella Choir

The A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Richard Klaus, music instructor, will present a concert Sunday at 8 p.m. in Peoples Church.

Soloists for the evening are Carol Muroch, Detroit sophomore; June Cannon, Petoskey senior; Peter LeGuzinski, Bay City freshman; and Richard Goldworthy, Detroit graduate student.

living and a firm democracy." Munger believes that Africa will prove to be of tremendous significance to the United States "if we will only test the good wishes of these so-called backward people and help them to develop their country."

At present, Africa already possesses rich resources in raw materials, uranium, copper, tin and industrial dyes.

When Munger is living in Africa he writes bi-weekly letters for circulation and use at MSC. He is presently preparing a textbook on the geography of Africa.

Jazz Club to Play Hi Fi Records Sunday

High fidelity, newest wonder of recorded music, will take the spotlight at Sunday's MSC Jazz Club meeting in 31 Union at 7 p.m. Bob Astor, program chairman has announced.

A demonstration of "hi fi" equipment will be presented by a Lansing dealer, who will explain how the new systems work.

Members are asked to bring only "hi fi" jazz records. The meeting is open to the public.

Lambda Chi Pushcart Again Part Company

The Lambda Chi Alpha pushcart has been stolen again.

Only this time it's more so. The Lambda Chi's, who sponsor the annual "Junior 500" around Circle Drive, found the cart missing from their house basement Wednesday night.

As annual as the "500" is the false theft of the sponsor's pushcart from its display position in the Union. This year, the real McCoy seems to have beaten the Lambda Chi's at their own game. The cart was taken as members were preparing to take it to the Union to be stolen.

England's Bannister Runs First Four Minute Mile

3:59.4 Effort Ends Quest for Record

BUD ERICKSON Spartan ace resembles Yankee

Top Spartan Hurler Looks Like Lopat

"That guy looks like a right-handed Eddie Lopat out there," said one of the observers of a Spartan baseball practice session.

The player he was talking about was Ernest (Bud) Erickson, last season's leading pitcher and one of the top members of the mound corps this year.

His comparison to the New York Yankee ace, left-hander, is not easy and he makes it in built 110, 183 pounds. Erickson greatly resembles Lopat and their pitching styles are also very similar. Bud's best pitch is his sharp-angled curve ball which, combined with a great variety of "stuff" and sharp control, gave him an earned run average in the Big 10 last year of 1.42, second best in the conference.

Perhaps the one place where Erickson differs from Lopat is that when the occasion arises, he can throw a fast ball that is good enough to stop most college hitters.

The 21-year-old senior worked as a relief pitcher for the Spartans in his sophomore year and, when the '53 season started he appeared set for another year in the bullpen.

But Erickson worked his way up to a starting position and finished as the only State pitcher with a winning record, 5-3.

If Bud is not pitching in one of the Spartans daily intrasquad games, he can be found running

OXFORD, England (AP)—Roger Bannister Thursday night ended the athletic world's quest for the four-minute mile with a monumental effort in which he was timed at 3:59.4.

Competing in his first race of the year, and on his own track at Ifley Road, the shy former Oxonian burst through the legendary four-minute barrier as a meager crowd of 1,000 watched the memorable performance during which he drove himself mercilessly through a .589 quarter-mile final lap.

Thus, the 25-year-old Briton thrust into the dust of sports history the world record mark of 4:01.4 established July 18, 1945, at Malmö, Sweden, by the great Gunder Haegg of Sweden.

Bannister also unofficially equaled the 1,500-meter world mark of 3:43 en route to his mile mark.

Bannister was pulled along through the first three laps by a fellow Oxonian, Chris Chataway, and a former Cambridge steeple-chaser, Chris Brasher.

He kept on Brasher's heels for the first two laps, and when Chataway rushed into the lead Bannister stayed with him through the third lap.

He was clocked at 57.5 for the quarter and 1:58.2 for the half.

When he passed the three-quarter mark in 3:00.5 the handful of spectators seated in the small pavilion and scattered about the field gave a lusty cheer.

Before Bannister's tremendous record can become official it must be approved by the International Amateur Athletic Federation, but chances appeared good as the meet was an official one and the race was run under standard conditions.

The track was immediately resurveyed, and the measurement showed it was half an inch longer than one mile.

Spectators and athletes surged around the exhausted Bannister after he finished.

Two officials held him erect as he regained his breath. Then came the announcement of the great time.

Bannister told reporters he had not decided to go all out for a world record until 15 minutes before the start of the race. It had rained rather heavily during the day and a strong wind had whipped the field.

But less than a half hour before race time the sun came out and a rainbow showed in the sky. It was a good luck omen for Bannister.

Record Run No Surprise To Milers

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—America's top miler, Wes Santee of Kansas, said he was "not exceptionally disappointed" to hear that the first less-than-four-minute mile had been run by Roger Bannister of England.

"Of the milers capable of doing it, Bannister is the one I'd just as soon have seen break it," Santee said. "It was a great performance."

Santee holds the American record 4:02.4, set last June.

LONDON (AP)—Roger Bannister's sensational mile couldn't have been too much of a surprise to Gunder Haegg, who had predicted the British star would be the first to run the four-minute mile "because he has brains."

In a March 13 interview Haegg said, "The four-minute mile will be run this year—it's long overdue."

"Bannister has brains. That's something you can't say about all runners. He doesn't overrate the way many runners do. You don't see Bannister burning himself out running 20 and 30 mile days."

Haegg held the then world record of 4:01.4 set at Malmö, Sweden, in 1945.

HELSINKI (AP)—Australian miler John Landy said he was "surprised" to hear that Roger Bannister was the lucky guy who went through the four-minute barrier.

"I am sure that many more will achieve similar results now that the barrier is down," said Landy, who is here to run some mile races. "Personally, I believe that the American Wes Santee will be the next to do it. I am not sure of the shape needed for such results, but I am training hard and you never can tell."

Karl Ziegenhagen receives his first professional haircut at his residence, Asher House.

The Barber Comes to Ziegenhagen

A near catastrophe occurred Thursday in the life of Karl Ziegenhagen, Ogden Dunes, Ind., freshman.

He had his hair cut for the first time by a barber, that is.

It seems that in the past Karl's father always gave him his haircuts. But spring term has been a busy one and Karl hasn't had time to go home. Finally something had to be done.

The disaster was averted by an East Lansing barber. To keep the Ziegenhagen tradition in tact, Karl didn't go to the barbershop. The barber came to Karl, who lives in Asher Student Foundation House, and performed the scalping.

Cloudy, Too No Springtime In Sight, Says Weatherman

Spartans will receive only slight relief from the unseasonably low temperatures, with a low of 36 degrees predicted for today. Today's forecast high of 52 degrees is identical to Thursday's temperature—peak. Low Thursday was 31.

The sky will be mostly cloudy with north to northeasterly winds of 10-15 miles per hour.

Birds aren't as free as the air, some species won't even cross a river or a highway.

East Lansing's Quota Set in Hospital Drive

The East Lansing school district will be classified as a separate team in the Lansing United Hospital Campaign, according to Robert Yelvington, publicity head of the campaign.

The quota for the district has been set at $2,645, Yelvington said. Dwight Rich, superintendent of schools and Charles W. Keith, Lansing teacher were named co-chairmen of the 39 workers.

The quota in East Lansing, including the college and the school division, totals $91,145.

Marquette U. Letter To Host Debaters

MSC students will be among those from 30 schools in 11 states and the District of Columbia invited to Marquette University National Intercollegiate Debate Tournament today and Saturday.

Robert Lee from Lansing, organizer and William Murray, Lansing, president, will be Milwaukee today to represent MSC at the tournament.

One of the most interesting aspects of the tournament, said Frederick G. Alexander, instructor in speech, dramatics and radio education and debate coach, is that the U.S.P.C. dealing with McCarthyism will be debated at Marquette's alma mater.

The debate question is resolved that all investigations of subversion should be conducted by the FBI.

On arrival, the contestants will receive and participate in three rounds of debate. The teams will alternate sides of the question after each round.

Fifty free tickets to "The Scarecrow," a play put on that night by the Marquette University Players, will be furnished to the entrants.

After two more rounds of debate Saturday morning, the contestants will go to the Milwaukee Braves-Cleveland Indians baseball game.

The championship game tonight will be presented Saturday night.

ing Center to take charge. Careful testing and counseling are administered at our Center and the report of the results is sent to the Registrar's Office.

We test some applicants who have been out of school for some time, usually because of military service or some other justifiable reason, who may not have had a good high school record.

Their inactivity and experience, however, enables them to obtain good results in the test, and our counseling procedure.

Transfer applicants must present a college record showing a minimum of a "C" or better average and they must be in "good standing" at the last college attended.

We try to help applicants to qualify in some way for admission. Anytime a student shows scholastic aptitude and if other qualifications are satisfactory, we are glad to admit him. In spite of all we do, however, about 25 per cent of our applicants fail to meet our admission requirements each year.

Sincerely yours,
E. S. Linton, Registrar
