

Freshman Winners Announced

Scholarship Given In Writing Contest

Winners of the writing contest in communication skills were announced Wednesday by Benjamin B. Hickok, chairman.

All freshmen enrolled in the course were eligible to compete for honors.

The first prize—a $55 tuition scholarship—was awarded to Louise Manns of St. Louis for her character sketch entitled "Herbie."

A similar $15 credit certificate was given to Craig Gibson of White Plains, N. Y., who placed second with "The Greatest Communication," a short story.

The three winners will appear in the May issue of the Spartan humor magazine, to go on sale Tuesday.

Special Certificates of Award for excellence in writing investigative papers were awarded to Emma Hall of Norway for "The Possession of Edwin Arlington Robinson," Barbara Boyd, Riverdale, Ill., who submitted "The Japanese New Year," Robert L. Stephenson, Cassopolis, "A Fight for Freedom," Fred Powell, Lansing, "What Is a Newspaper?" and John Henke, Bay City, "The Moon of India."

Other certificates were given to Miss Manns, St. Louis, for a character sketch called "Bus Travel," James Bedford, Lansing, "That Snake Dance," Marvin E. Eide, Auburn, Ind., for "The Snake Dance," and "Exit of a Clown," William E. Redmond, Jackson, Mich., for "Part-time Drunkards," and "The Snake Dance," Carolyn Angell, Dearborn, "Night of Longing," and "The Snake Dance," and "The Snake Dance," and "The Snake Dance."

The committee of judges included Don Blume, editor of the Spartan, Frank Thompson, literary editor of the Spartan, Murray Cray, Radford, Kuskokum, Charles M. Linkletter, and Wade Thompson, instructors, and Hickok, assistant professor, all of the communication skills department.

Three proposals from the traffic commission were passed by the City Council last week.

Approval was granted for a traffic survey regarding the use of parking on Abbott Rd. between Grand River and Albert St. The survey will cost $157 and will last until June 1.

The Council agreed to place a permanent traffic island at the corner of Albert and Abbott. For the time being a temporary sand island has been in use.

Council members also accepted the proposal to install permanent "No Left Turn" signs on Grand River on to Abbott between the hours of 4 and 6 p.m. The city has been using temporary signs.

Leisenring Gives Credit Explanation

The credit requirement for graduation was clarified recently by Leisenring, recorder.

Students who began their college work at Michigan State College or elsewhere in the fall of 1952 are required to complete the program and the revised number of credits for graduation.

Students are expected to meet the specific requirement for graduation other than total number of credits, according to the registrar's office at the time they enter a school, he said.

The new program, which changed the number of hours from 120 to 124, was announced in 1952. At that time, the number of credits for three of the hours was changed from 120 to 124.

Army Report

that if Schine got an overseas assignment it would "wreck the Army" and Stevens would be "through as secretary of the Army."

Wednesday's testimony went to the heart of the Army's charge that McCarthy and aides sought by improper means to get favored treatment for Schine. The McCarthy camp counter-charges that Army officials used Schine as a "hostage" in an effort to block an investigation of alleged Communist infiltration.

Adding said the Jan. 21 meeting with Brownell, Sherman Adams and others was held because the McCarthy committee was demanding the Army produce members of its Loyalty Security Screening Board for questioning.

Junior 500

Coeds to Sponsor Pushcart Entries

Good sponsors of the pushcarts which will race in the Lambda Chi Alpha "Junior 500" Pushcart Derby May 15 have been announced by Larry Dailey, Dearborn sophomore and race chairman.

On race day, the 27 sponsors will ride with Derby officials in a convertible parade from the Lambda Chi house to the starting point of the race.

KD's, Theta Chi's Hold Ball Game and Picnic

Kappa Delta sorority members recently defeated the Theta Chi basketball team 12 to 8.

Following the game, the two chapters held a picnic at the Kappa Delta house. The Theta Chi chapter sang several selections for the group.

Fraternity Review

Greeks Undertake Community Projects

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a weekly series of articles dealing with the activities and histories of the fraternities on the MSU campus.)

By MARIAN MINTON

MSC's spirit of friendliness and cooperation has found its way across campus and into fraternity life along with other Greek traditions.

One of the prize possessions of the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity is its award for outstanding work in the community. Services the Delta Sigs performed included work in the Boy's Vocational school and cleaning hospital lavatories. This term they are coaching elementary school track teams.

Two national traditions which are kept by the local chapter are the Carnation Ball during winter term and the Sailors' Ball during spring term. Other Delta Sig traditions include a parents' day and a lawn party on the night of the homecoming game.

Delta Sigma Phi was founded on campus in 1931. Members of Delta Sigma Phi observe "help week" by washing walls, scrubbing basements, chopping wood and doing other manual duties for widows and invalids.

Delta Sigma Phi members are all enrolled in the School of Business and Public Service. The fraternity sponsors speakers for the chapter and all college programs. The men also take many field trips during the year.

Homecoming, founders' day dinner and baseball games with other Michigan chapters are among other traditions. The fraternity also holds an annual Rose Queen Tea and Rose Dance.

Delta Sigma Phi was founded nationally at New York University in 1907 and locally in 1949.

A ring, as a tribute for outstanding leadership and service, is presented each year at the Spring term party to an outstanding Delta Sigma Phi senior. The fraternity also awards a key to the MSC senior in the field of business who has the highest point average.

Delta Phi Delta has the distinction of being the first fraternity established on MSC's campus. The Delta was founded nationally in 1859 and locally in 1937.

Among the fraternity's traditions is an annual Christmas party for blind children co-sponsored with Delta Delta Delta, Delta Tau Delta and Phi Beta Phi also sponsor the Christmas tree-lighting ceremony.

A traveling trophy between the MSC and U of M chapter is awarded to the chapter whose varsity team wins the MSC-U of M football game.

Other Delta traditions include Parents' Day, Dads' Day, picnic and baseball game with the Alpha chapter, a newspaper published for alumni and the Quadrillon Formal sponsored in cooperation with Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Kappa and Phi Beta Phi.

Senior to Receive Scholarship Key

Delta Sigma Phi will award a scholarship key to the senior who receives the highest grades in the business and commerce field at a luncheon May 14 in the Union building.

German Weigand, dean of the School of Business and Commerce, will present the key.

The tradition of presenting a scholarship key is followed by all 33 chapters of Delta Sigma Phi, national fraternity of men in business administration.

Foreign Students Feted By Sorority Members

Four foreign students were the guests of each sorority on campus Tuesday night. The students were entertained as part of International Week activities.

The U.S. Steel industry spent $5,000,000,000 for plants and equipment from 1945 through 1953.

Spartans Rated Tops In Big 10 Grid Season

(Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of articles dealing with the Big 10 football season.)
State News Sports Editor
By CHUCK MILLER

The 1954 Big 10 football championship may well be decided in the first game of the season, when two of the top contenders, Iowa and MSU, clash at Iowa City, Iowa.

The game will be one of the toughest on either team's schedule, and perhaps the toughest.

The reasons are obvious. At the conclusion of last year's season, the Hawkeyes were rated as the most improved team in the league. They handed consecutive 26-0 and 27-0 shutouts to Purdue and Minnesota, and wound-up one of the Hawkeyes' most successful campaigns in years with a 21-21 tie with the Irish from Notre Dame.

Michigan State's record speaks for itself.

Losing only a 6-0 upset to Purdue, the Spartans came back to share the title with Illinois in their first attempt, and went on to add Rose Bowl glory to their already glimmering record.

And, with 21 members of that team returning, Michigan State will be very capable of defending its title.

The depth of the Spartan team of the past has been very significant in their winning ways, and this year's team will be no exception.

Saturday's annual Green-White game proved that State will be loaded with sophomore talent next year.

Illinois' title-sharing team is not so fortunate.

In fact, with the way things stand now, the Illini seem almost out of the picture.

Fifteen lettermen returned to Coach Ray Eliot. However, only three of them were regulars last year.

A new development, if it becomes a reality, could ruin what "chances" Illinois does have.

There is a strong possibility that J. C. Caroline, a unanimous All-American last year as a sophomore, may be ineligible next year.

He did not take part in the inter-squad game which closed the Illini spring season, because he was hitting the books in an effort to make up seven hours credit he lost during the winter. It seems that the speedy half-back attended to many business in his home, that he missed a lot of classes. So, now he has to make up the work during the summer. If it were any more than it is now, he'd be out of school already, is the word from Coach Eliot.

Without him, the Illini's chances seem pretty slim. Even if he is able to play next fall, Eliot will have to come up with a few miracles "to fill every spot except the left guard, quarterback and fullback positions."

If Woody Hayes can produce a good pair of ends and a full-back, the Buckeyes of Ohio State will be one of the conference "toughies."

OSU has 28 lettermen returning to rank tops in that department for the entire league. A few breaks and they could go all the way.

Other than MSU, Iowa, and OSU, Wisconsin is the best bet for the title—on the law of averages alone.

The Badgers have been in contention going into their last game for the past five seasons. Although they have the smallest number of returning veterans—13, the holdovers are in key positions. The most notable returnee is their All-American fullback, Alan Ameche. With the help of a good crop of first-year men they could sneak away with the title while the top dogs were fighting it out.

Purdue's Bollermakers should be one of the most improved teams in the league. Their chief (and only) claim to fame last year was the stirring upset of the Spartans, and players that logged 74 per cent of the playing time in that game are back. The Purdue-MSU battle, scheduled for Oct. 26 at Macklin Field should be quite a game.

Minnesota is another potentially good team. The loss of their all-arounder, Paul Giel, hurt the Cornhuskers, but Coach Murray Warmath has 20 returning veterans to work with.

The remaining three teams—Indiana, Northwestern, and Michigan—will probably fight it out among themselves to evade the collar.

Northwestern, last year's cellar-dwellers, appears to be the strongest of the three, with 25 lettermen. Coach Bob Voigt's biggest problem will be to improve his team's defenses. Last year, the Northwestern offense scored 30 times to overpower the Wildcats' capable, but feeble punch.

The Hoosiers, who finished ninth with a 1-5 record, have 15 lettermen back, including six starters. They could be one of the surprise teams of the conference, depending on whether Coach Bernie Crummins can find strength at the tackle and half-back spots.

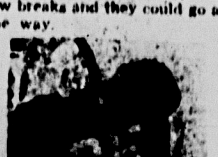

Going way out on a limb (and so early too) I pick the Spartans to win their second straight title. However, I feel that it is a pretty sturdy branch. Iowa will be second, with Ohio State, Wisconsin and Purdue rounding out the first division.

Minnesota and Illinois appear even for sixth and seventh place, followed by Northwestern, Indiana and Michigan.

This is all determined on what has been presented on paper, and with all faith that there will be no "Thermopolis" next fall.

Television Appearances Ruled Out for Bannister

NEW YORK (AP)—Great Britain's Roger Bannister flew to New York Wednesday to tell American television fans about his record-breaking 2:55.4 mile but instead found himself the baffled center of a hostile over amateur rules.

Three hours after the young medical student's 5:25 a.m. CST arrival at Idlewild Airport, the British Information Office abruptly announced all appearances for the great miler on commercially sponsored programs were off.

John Russell, director general of the B.I.O. in New York, said:

"The question was raised about the propriety of Bannister's appearance on a sponsored program. Rather than take any chances with jeopardizing his amateur standing we decided to cancel the engagements."

The 25-year-old Briton was brought here specifically by the sponsors of Columbia Broadcasting System's network show, "I've Got a Secret." The program was scheduled Wednesday night.

Bannister made the trip, he said, "with reluctance" at the suggestion of the British Foreign Office, which felt this was a good opportunity to publicize that nation's new athletic hero and to improve American-British relations.

Originally he was booked to this country under an assumed name—Richard Bentley—and the whole thing was to be kept secret until he appeared on the panel show.

His secret: The first man to break the four-minute mile.

But the story of the venture leaked out Tuesday and subsequently the mile ace was booked on other big network shows, including Dave Garroway's "Today" and "Tex and Jim" Thursday over the National Broadcasting Co., and a sports show over the American Broadcasting Co. Then the entire schedule was called off after a friendly tip from Dan Ferris, executive secretary of the U. S. Amateur Athletic Union, and a series of frenzied transatlantic telephone calls to the Amateur Athletic Assn. in Britain.

West Shaw Leads Dorm Track

With the first day of competition finished, only three men's dormitories have managed to score in the annual Summary Track Meet.

Wednesday, West Shaw took only one first in four events but added up a three point total. They had 50% points in the 400 and 800-yard runs, a 100% point in the 1600 and 3200-yard runs.

The most points were won by the recently defeated Michigan State team, who took first in the 100-yard dash, 200-yard run, 400-yard run, 800-yard run, 1600-yard run, 3200-yard run, 5000-yard run,
