To Elect Speaker Also Student Congress Votes For President Tonight

By BETTY ZUEGE
Next year's student government president will be elected tonight.
And the fate of bowling clubs and Campus Chest may be decided.
Meeting at 7:30 in 31 Union,
Student Congress representatives will cast ballots to name the president, Congress speaker, speaker pro tem and secretary.
The meeting is open to all students.
Candidates for the presidency are: Kies Hagadorn, Alma Junior; Bill Hurst, Fort Lauderdale junior; and Jack Subar, East Lansing junior.

Running for speaker are: Pat
Callahan, East Lansing senior;
Don Hadden, Otsego sophomore;
and Bill Wurm, Highland Park,
Jr., sophomore.

Speaker pro tem candidates are: Bill Jackson, Jackson sophomore; James Bell, Lansing junior;
and William Mansfield, Madison,
Wis., sophomore.

Nancy Jo Shafer, Port Huron junior, is the only candidate for secretary.
The election will end week-long official campaigns by the candidates. Nominations for the offices were Thursday night.
Three issues stand out in the presidential race. Bowling shoes, a big question in passing the student government tax in 1951, has been revived.

Originally the government appropriated $670 to provide free shoes for Union bowlers.
If the practice is to continue,
another appropriation will be needed next year.

Homerun Provides Margin

Game Halted — In Fifth by Rain

By DONN SHELTON
Yet, but happy, Michigan State's baseball team looked forward to the College World Series at Omaha, Neb., Tuesday in a rainstorm.
Jack Brown's third inning homerun, with Dan Brown on base, provided the margin for the Spartan victory.
Heavy rain halted a scheduled 9 1/2 hour game after four and one half innings. The game was also interrupted for 15 minutes by rain after the second inning.
The win gave the Spartans a berth in the NCAA College World Series, June 10 through 14 in Omaha, Neb., as the District Four representative.
Ohio suspended the scoring with a single run in the second inning.
Dick Murphy, Bobcat All-American outfielder, led off the inning with a single, off Michigan State starter Walt Gostyko.

McCarthy Proposes 'Lie' Tests

Army Questions Exhibit Honesty

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army side filed a new challenge Tuesday at the honesty of an exhibit by Sen. McCarthy, McCarthy denounced the challenge as "dishonest" and proposed that all principals in his dispute with Army officials submit to lie detector tests.
Joseph N. Welch, counsel to the Pentagon officials, voiced "deep-seated" suspicions about the genuineness of 11 memoranda submitted as the work of McCarthy aide Roy M. Cohn and Francis P. Carr.
Welch asked that an independent expert on documents be called in to pass on these memos, which Cohn said were directed by himself and Carr at various times between last Oct. 2 and March 11.
The memos recited what the McCarthy camp terms improper attempts by the Army to use Pvt. G. David Schine as a hostage to induce the McCarthy investigating subcommittee to call off its "probe of alleged Communists in the Army."
Although Welch did not say so, he evidently was attempting to show that the documents were not "spot memos" dictated at the time of the alleged improper Army actions, but were prepared in a hasty after the Army accused McCarthy, and aides of pressure tactics to obtain preferential treatment for Schine.
However, Welch withdrew his request for an expert to examine the documents, after Ray Jenkins, special counsel to the Senate investigating subcommittee, told him the FBI already has advised that such a close whether the memos were typed at the time they were dated or later.
Welch uttered his challenge in cross-examination of McCarthy's personal secretary, Miss Mary Duvall. She said she personally typed the documents on the dates stated, although she said she had "no independent recollection" of having typed any of them.
McCarthy accused Welch of "misconducting" the blue-eyed Miss Duvall and of attributing perjury to her. He demanded Welch take the stand and tell under oath whether he had some other evidence, other than the memos, to prove exactly what they purported to be.
Then the Wisconsin senator urged lie detector tests for all the key figures—himself, Secretary of the Army Stevens, Cohn, and Army Counselor John G. Adams. Adm. he volunteered to take the test first. Nobody took him up on the lie detector proposal.

Yule Plans Studied in Summer

College, City Starts Contest

By DERRY HALL
Santa Claus in June was the topic between student government and the East Lansing Merchants Association Tuesday.
Board of Directors members of the Association and three student government representatives made plans consisting of a contest between living units to vie for the best Christmas display. Entrants in the contest will arrange displays along the eight islands on the mental section of Grand River Ave.
The East Lansing Board gave approval to the plan presented by Dave Hyman, president of student government.
The contest will continue as an annual event. If it is accepted by the students, living units will be notified fall term of specific details, Hyman said.
Student government agreed to supply the displays and publicity for the contest since the Merchants Association will finance the lighting and the trophies, which will be presented to the first place winners.
The scenic decorations will be judged according to two categories, religious and humorous themes. Although men and women living units will work together, separate trophies will be awarded.
Tommy Aquino and his 10-piece band will provide musical accompaniment for floats and entertainers in the show.
Members of the Aquino band, which made more than 200 appearances this year, half of which were free, include students Roger Topfiff, Paul Greenback, Duane Smith, Bill Robertson, Ed Stalio, Ernie Funtel, Ron Brown, Floyd Grandel and Terry Schalte.

Practical in Drafty Rooms Cap, Gown Date to Medieval Era

By TEDD WHITE
The college graduate of 1954 wears a cap and gown because of some cool medieval scholars.
Because of drafty study halls, students wore the gown to keep warm. It was this starting factor, plus a little tradition, that prompted the wearing of the cap and gown today.
The cap and gown have been worn in England for several centuries. In 1895 the Intercollegiate Commission, a group of leading American educators, met and drafted a code regulating the distinguishing features of the caps and gowns for different degrees.
The code was adopted by 95 per cent of the colleges and un-

"Behind the scenes" work for the 2,147 graduating seniors' commencement, at 4 p.m. June 6, is hearing completion.
President John A. Hannah and Karl H. McDonel, secretary of the Board of Agriculture, personally signed 1,767 of the diplomas over the weekend.
The diplomas will be handed out in the east concourse of the Stadium according to school, type of degree, honor, and included in the diploma will be a membership card to the Alumni Association, an Alumni Register and a return postcard for the Alumni Office files, on which information will have to be filed in by the graduate.
Also in the diplomas will be spring term grades, a transcript of the students credits and a teacher's certificate, where earned.
Diplomas for the class of '54 have a new look, according to the Learning For the first time the covers which hold the diplomas have printed covers, he said.
The exercises, scheduled for Mackin Stadium, will be held in Jensen Fieldhouse in case of rain.
If the program is held in the Fieldhouse, diplomas will be distributed on the gymnasium floor.
If there is any doubt as to where commencement will take place, the Commencement committee will make the decision by 3 p.m. Sunday. Announcement will be made over radio stations WKAR and WKAR-FM at 4 p.m. and at frequent intervals thereafter.
Candidates for degrees will be excused from regular final examinations if the following conditions have been met:
1. Their total record at the close of the preceding quarter is 2-point or better, and
2. All deficiencies have been removed two weeks previous to June Commencement.
Final exams could have been given however, providing they were given before June 1.

Oh, They're At It Again

Dr. Ralph Bunche, recently interrogated before the United Nations' loyalty board in regard to statements questioning his loyalty, has been cleared by a unanimous vote of the board.

Detroit-born Dr. Bunche, who delivered a commencement address at MSC several years ago, is a distinguished citizen of this country who has contributed much to international relations. He was awarded the Nobel peace prize for his skillful mediation of disputes over Israel.

The necessity for him to appear before a loyalty board to clear himself of vague and irresponsible charges is more than ridiculous. It is saddening.

Dr. Bunche is only an example of outstanding U. S. citizens who have had to suffer the indignity of appearing before a loyalty board. The better the record, the more suspect the individual becomes in this era of the hunt for security risks.

The fact that he has been cleared of all suspicion does not mitigate the situation.

He has received bad publicity and undoubtedly in the eyes of many citizens, his reputation has been impaired. One conspicuous failing of the press nowadays is to give more space to the charges of guilt than to the statements of innocence.

It is vital to the security of this nation that Communists who are methodically planning the overthrow of the government be exposed.

The diligence of the FBI and the loyalty boards in ferreting out these threats to national security cannot be questioned.

But their efforts are not worthwhile when the spotlight of suspicion is focused on those whose social and cultural contributions to the U. S. have been unassailable.

Another Chance

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a reprint from a recent issue of the Daily Iliad student daily at the University of Illinois.

The granting of a new trial to Mickey Jellka by a New York court opens the door to a great opportunity to the press of America.

The appellate court granted the new trial on the grounds that the partial exclusion of the press and public from the trial deprived Jellka of a fair and impartial trial, since only the prosecution side of the evidence was published.

Although New York papers, including the Times, protested the order, most newspapermen did not press the issue, feeling freedom of the press does not necessarily mean the right to print truth and to cater to a natural interest.

Yet the treatment by a large part of the press of the trial was far from satisfactory. By printing incomplete and in some cases, inaccurate statements, the trial aroused more curiosity than a complete coverage would have. Time has shown that the greatest way to stir interest is to hide the facts and let the imagination run wild.

So now the press gets another chance.

The whole sordid mess starts over again. The time of harlots, procurers, and social peaches forms again.

It is to be hoped that the press will demonstrate the responsibility that is so necessary for preserving its freedom. Sensational play of the coming trial would be a blow to the privileged position the press holds via the First Amendment. These are times when this position must be firmly entrenched. Only through the press can Americans express their ideas and receive important news.

There is no room on the front page for a wealthy playboy turned parasite.

Interpreting the News

By J. M. ROBERTS JR., Associate Press News Analyst

The Communists appear now to be intent on turning Geneva into a double Panmunjom.

When they first agreed to call a meeting of opposing military leaders to discuss the possibilities of a truce in Indochina there was a certain lightening in Western circles.

That was what French Foreign Minister Bidault had been trying to do—get the discussions out of the stalemate into which they fell in the first days of the conference.

Now, however, the Reds have amplified their position. It's all right for the military to start discussing military problems, but they are not going in this time, they say, for a separation of military and political problems.

At Panmunjom the Allies refused to discuss political settlements for Korea until after the shooting stopped.

Without the political problems, which, however, the Reds constantly tried to inject, the negotiations took two years before the shooting was stopped.

There is still no slightest sign of a political settlement. The Allies had hoped to do better than that this time in a cease-fire.

For one thing, they had the threat of American intervention in Indochina as a weapon, whereas American intervention, and her unwillingness to spread the war directly to China, were facts of the Panmunjom atmosphere.

Today, the Reds have the problem of preventing an extension of the war which they are not believed to want. The Reds know the Allies don't want it either, but are faced with the danger of underestimating Western determination to defend Southeast Asia, and of "massive retaliation."

They see Britain and France holding back from an alliance which would have two objectives, depending on circumstances:

- 1—To guarantee truce if one is made at Geneva. 2—To intervene if no truce is made.

Last week the British and French gave strong indications they weren't going to fool around at Geneva forever unless prospects began to look better. Much depends on which side decides first that its time is running out.

The Allies, looking through the smokescreen at the Red military buildup for further aggression, may be the side which will have to decide that first.

PAYdirt Facts vs. Attitudes

By Pat A. Yaroch, State News Editor-in-Chief

Just before I left on my Memorial Day weekend, I stopped into the State News office where I found a letter to the editor that disturbed me.

It was signed "A Campus Secretary" and related the experience of a woman working in one of MSC's offices. It seems that things didn't go too well for one male student in his dealings with the secretary and he blew off with "Well, what do you think you are here for if it isn't to serve the students?"

The lady went on to point out that this wasn't an unusual experience for her and for her clerical friends. She also pointed out that she was only working until she could afford to attend classes here at State.

Maybe the letter isn't worth this comment; but when it is combined with other experiences that each of us has witnessed on campus, it is upsetting.

I don't know the circumstances of this individual case. Perhaps there was some reason for the student to make the remark—but it is highly unlikely and the attitude it represents is what is disturbing.

As you all know, MSC is a land grant college. It is also a state college which means that a large portion of the operating finances come from legislative appropriations.

So much of the money comes from state funds that each of us here on campus is benefitting from $1,000 each year and above the small tuition that we pay.

These appropriations support the theory that MSC is for the students; but it isn't for the students in the manner implied by the student's reply. It is here so that a large number of us that couldn't afford an education in any other school can have one and so that the education will be equal to that of any college or university in the land.

I'm sure the student who made the remark didn't mean to be offensive. Perhaps he didn't even think before he said it. But the idea that the college is here for his benefit and for his use or abuse evidently was imbedded in his mind.

He isn't the only one who thinks in that distorted way. He has friends in every living unit and classroom on campus. I hope this bit of comment will make those of us that now feel that way stop and think a bit.

Most likely it won't. We probably will just keep on acting like spoiled children and abusing those that would like to partake in the benefits of MSC but can't make it yet.

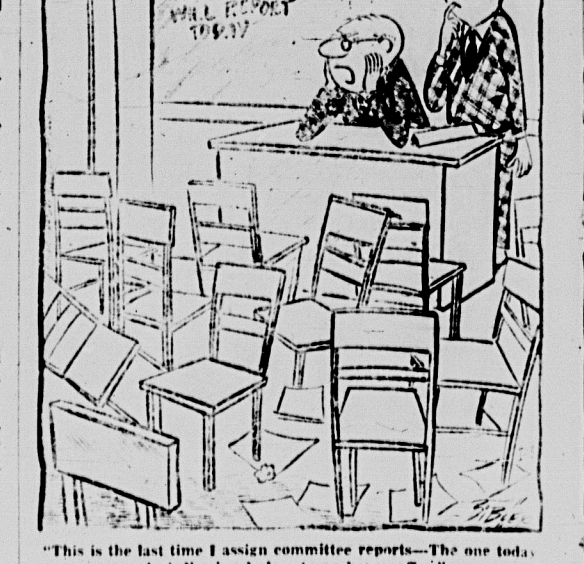

So, I'll just put away my soap box. Preaching seldom accomplishes much and I've already wasted too much of your time.

The State News welcomes letters of general or local interest from its readers. Letters presenting untruths as facts, considered libelous, defamatory, in poor taste or exceeding practical publishing limits, will be withheld at the discretion of the editors. Fraternity Review

Greeks Recognize Leadership, Service

(This is the sixth of a series of weekly articles dealing with the activities and histories of the fraternities on the MSC campus.)

By MARILYN MINION

Outstanding achievement does not go unrewarded by Phi Kappa Tau, Pi Kappa Phi and Psi Upsilon. These fraternities award members for service and scholastic standing.

The Phi Kappa Tau pledge classes award the outstanding active with a pledge paddle. The Thomas Stevenson award is given to the outstanding pledge and the pledge's name is carved on a plaque.

Although the award given to the graduating seniors is a toss in the Red Cedar, the award for the junior with the highest scholastic standing is a traveling trophy. The Phi Kappas also honor their president by hanging his picture in the fraternity house.

Phi Kappa Tau was founded nationally in 1906 at Miami University, Oxford, O., and locally in 1924.

Among the fraternity's traditions are Mothers' Day, Daddy Day, the "Dream Girl" Formal, spring term party and a pledge-party. The Phi Kappas also hold an annual Beta Theta Pi Phi Kappa Tau day, which includes a picnic, softball game and a tug-of-war across the Red Cedar River.

Other annual activities include a senior picnic with a softball game between the seniors and undergraduate active and a football game with the U of M chapter the day the two schools' varsity teams compete in football.

The Phi Kappas also publish an original newspaper and assist in teaching elementary school track teams. The fraternity recently hosted the annual Domane conference of chapters in Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and Michigan.

A house tradition of Phi Kappa Tau is not to walk on the fraternity seal which is patterned in the front hall floor.

The outstanding pledge of Phi Kappa Phi is awarded a traveling trophy. The fraternity also awards the "senior of the year" with a gold key.

Pi Kappa Phi was founded on campus in 1925. The national fraternity was founded in Charleston, S. C., in 1904.

Pi Kappas are well known for their traditional straw hats worn by pledges. The hats are loaned almost weekly for the use of some campus organization. Pi Kappas claim to have initiated the idea of "dressing up" MSC fraternity pledges.

Among the fraternity's traditional social events are the French Caberet party, Parents Day Banquet, Christmas party for underprivileged children and the pledges' party for active. The Phi Kappas also choose a Rose Ball Queen who reigns over the dance and the fraternity activities throughout the year.

Each fall, the Big 10 Pi Kappa Phi chapters challenge each other to a football game on the same day their respective varsity teams play. The winner of the chapter game receives a school pennant with the date and the game score on it.

Members of Psi Upsilon fraternity award their outstanding pledge and inscribe his name on a paddle which hangs in the Psi U house. The national fraternity awards the outstanding junior in the chapter.

Psi Upsilon was founded nationally at Union College in 1832 and locally in 1943.

Among the fraternity's traditions are the annual Psi U-Alpha Phi football game, get-togethers with other Big 10 schools and the annual U of M-MSU Psi U party. Mothers' Day, Daddy Day, Apollo party and a Christmas party for underprivileged children are other annual affairs sponsored by the fraternity.

The Psi U's sponsor faculty speakers in the chapter each week and help coach elementary school track teams. Another of the fraternity's projects is to paint the "Plus Fifty" old peoples club in Lansing.

Chi Omega Coed Proves Dreams Can Come True

By KAREL-MARI KLEINHEKSEL

Dee Meyer's professional radio and television career verifies that old saying about childhood dreams coming true.

Miss Meyer, who sings on WKAR-TV, has 12 years of radio and television work behind her. A Chi Omega member and Detroit senior, she appears each day on "Campus Matinee" with two other students, Tommy Aquino, Rochester, N. Y., junior, and Mac Morrison, Detroit senior.

She also travels to Detroit to make commercials which will eventually be sent all over the country.

Miss Meyer started her radio work at the age of 10 by auditioning for a Detroit station's children's program without her parents' knowledge. She held a solo job on that program for two years before switching to solo and choral work on another program.

When she was 16, Miss Meyer joined the Don Larch Chorus and later became soloist on the "Make Way for Youth" program.

At 17, she turned professional after singing for shows and conventions under the coaching of Paul LaVoe. She had a daily show, "Anything Goes," over a Detroit station.

Dee passed up an offer to sing with Fred Waring that year to enroll as a freshman in speech at Wayne University. Besides her school work, she now has two TV shows and a radio program each week.

Another professional offer came the next year from Harry James but Miss Meyer decided to study radio and TV at MSC. It was here she met Tommy Aquino, her favorite accompanist, and the two of them have been doing campus and charity shows together ever since. Their most recent appearance was in "Tentative," the Union Board variety show.

After she turned down a two-year contract with Ralph Flanagan in the summer of 1952, she worked on her own Detroit TV show, "Melodies in Money," and returned to MSC in the fall.

One of Dee's biggest thrills, she said, was singing in a Detroit charity show when she was a freshman. Also of the thrill were Arthur Godfrey, Rosemary Clooney and Frankie Laine.

Another thrill was flying to Texas for a USO show with Art Stroman and Gracie Moran when she was freshening in California between her freshman and sophomore years.

"I'm scared every time I step up to sing," Miss Meyer said.

But her most embarrassing moment was at a summer resort.

"I was just about to begin the chorus of 'It's Magic' when the whole band jumped up and shouted, 'It's magic! I laughed so hard I couldn't go on.'"

Dee says she doesn't come from a singing family. "In fact, my dad, my uncle and father are better than me, although my mother plays the piano very well."

Miss Meyer is best known for her singing of the "Trolley Song." But her real favorite is "My Ideal."

This summer Dee will appear in variety TV advertisements.

State Studies Gypsy Moths

LANSING (AP)—New colonies of Michigan's gypsy moth infestation were discovered over the holiday weekend, but the pests apparently are still confined to the greater Lansing area, C. A. Boyer, a state agriculture department official, said Tuesday.

The other limits were set by discoveries of two new colonies late last week. These limits are the north city limits of Lansing on the north, Park Lake Road and US-16.

Gov. Williams called for an emergency meeting last week of the "Little Legislature" to appropriate money for aerial spraying of a three-mile radius of the infested area with DDT in the hope of stamping them out before they spread further.

Children to Act In 'Toyshop' Play

By JACKIE OLDHAM
Children doing theater for children. That is what Toyshop Theater will present Friday in the first of four performances of "Indian Captive," according to Director Ann Clark, graduate assistant in children's theater.

Toyshop Theater is an exclusive organization whose members are children in MSC's Children's Theater, which includes the touring Spartan players.

Toyshop Theater, however, is not made up of college actors like Spartan Players.

The speech department-sponsored group contains only children, MSC students can get in the picture, but only as technical advisors, supervising the children.

Eight students in advanced theater courses will take part in the term's play, Charlotte Chorpenning's "Indian Captive." Performances are scheduled for 8:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Fridays, and at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturdays.

Scenery for the play, based on the true adventures of a pioneer girl taken captive by Seneca Indians, was designed and is supervised by Joyce Kennedy, Grand Rapids junior.

Jack Wapper, Lansing sophomore, and Harold Blacher, Detroit junior, are in charge of stage lighting.

Paul Dader, Ballton Lake, N. Y., senior, and students from a college costume and makeup Junior dues of fifty cents make them eligible for ushering duties.

Fifty members tried for parts in the term's play. The children and use scripts at first Miss Clark explained they hold creative freedom. The situation is explained to the children, and they act it out by themselves.

Toyshop Theater members come mostly from East Lansing, Miss Clark said. MSC students usually volunteer for their work, although it is sometimes a class assignment.

Children's Theater Director Joel Davis and Miss Margaret Peterson, assistant director, alternate with Miss Clark in directing Toyshop plays.

The shows are not open to the public.

Members can attend any of the performances by showing their membership cards. Each member also received guest tickets which they can give to parents or friends.

As for the MSC students, "no matter how they feel about Toyshop Theater when they begin," said Miss Clark, "they are very enthusiastic by the end of the term."

John A. Beale, 1946 MSC forestry graduate, was recently named chief forester and assistant director of conservation for the state of Wisconsin.

"Once we have established sufficient funds to sponsor our group we can finance our own team to some underdeveloped area of the world."

Also honored at the parade were eight members of the AFROTC rifle team. Each of the marksmen received a silver rifle award.

The AFROTC rifle team this year topped the Army ROTC team for the fifth straight year. Col. Harry Gorman, professor of military science and tactics, presented Col. Bond, professor of science and tactics, with a rifle competition trophy.

Col. Gorman also presented Col. Bond with the blood donation plaque, won by the AFROTC in this year's blood drive.

Col. Bond was honored by AFROTC Drum and Bugle Corps with a special march, named in his honor and dedicated to him.

Written by John Haney, Milwaukee graduate student, the march was played by the Drum and Bugle Corps. A copy of the march was presented to Col. Bond.

Col. Axel Altsburg, head of the air university inspection team visiting MSC, was the review officer for the parade.

Two Spartans Chosen For Exchange Living

By KEARA PISKITEL
Two Michigan State College students will be among approximately 300 college students taking part in the International Farm Youth Organization plan of "exchange living" this year.

They are Rhoda Kelly, Lansing sophomore, and John First, Ionia junior.

The IFYO is sponsored by the national 4-H club headquarters in Washington, D. C. No government funds are used in the financing of this program, which sends American college students to live in homes of farm families throughout the world and provides for students from other countries to live in American farm homes.

The program lasts for about five months. Miss Kelly and First will leave for Washington sometime in June. Orientation programs acquainting the students with the entire program have been planned for them during their stay in the nation's capital.

The entire group will sail for Europe about June 30. There they will separate into sections headed for the particular countries they will visit.

Miss Kelly will spend the major portion of her time visiting a farm family in Greece. First will go to Israel. When they return home in November, they will travel throughout the state telling about the IFYO plan and the countries they visited. Student participants in past years have talked before campus organizations.

The exchange students are nominated by each county 4-H club. The final selection is made by the state 4-H club office in Ag Hall.

Three MSC faculty members were elected to the chapter's board of directors. They are Carl Horn, professor of education, Claid Bosworth, of continuing education, and Hubert Brown, assistant professor of farm crops.

Webb Howard, associate director of the group, spoke to interested persons representing Lansing and East Lansing.

World Neighbors is attempting to establish training centers throughout backward countries to train the people in more effective living. It stresses feeding and clothing the needy.

For the first year the Lansing chapter will work mainly to obtain contributions for the national organization, "Dave Noble, treasurer of the chapter, said.

Tigers Nip Orioles, 4-3; Branca Gets Third Win

Bengal Attack Sparked by Tuttle's Hits

BALTIMORE (AP)—Ralph Branca pitched his third straight win and drove in a run as the Detroit Tigers defeated the Orioles 4-3 Tuesday night in the rubber game of their three-contest series.

Bill Tuttle and Branca led the tiger attack, each getting two hits in the 11-blow rampage. Vern Stephens' fifth home run of the season knotted the score, 1-1, in the fourth.

Branca allowed eight hits in 7 2-3 innings before being replaced by Dick Marlowe, who saved the game by giving up one single and no runs in the final 1 2-3 frames.

Lou Kretlow started for the Orioles, but lasted only four innings. He gave way to Mike Blyzka before retiring a hitter in the fifth as the score stood 2-1 for the Tigers with the bases loaded.

Blyzka yielded the last two tallies to the Tigers when Frank Bolling greeted him with a double. Kretlow sustained his fourth loss against no wins as he gave up six hits.

Bauer Collects Four RBIs
NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Bauer drove in four runs with a home run and single, and rookie right hander Bob Grim turned in his first victory as the New York Yankees defeated the Washington Senators 6-3, Tuesday.

After the first "rain-break," pitcher Chuck Gorman stepped from the dugout to see if it was raining safely protected by a miniature pink umbrella.

Had the game been rained out, the Spartans would have been automatic winners. By a press-box agreement the winner of the first game would be the series winner if Tuesday's game was cancelled.

Walter Alston, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, was graduated from the University of Miami (Ohio) in 1934.

Weather Unkind
Water Wonderland Dismays Bobcats
Monday's heavy rainfall and Tuesday's rain (which eventually ended the game) probably left the Ohio U. Bobcats looking somewhat askance at the Michigan license plates, which boast proudly of our "Water Wonderland."

When the umpires suspended play at the end of 4 1/2 innings, a 30-minute wait was required.

The opposing teams spent the time sitting on their benches, trading comments across the diamond.

Chief among the Bobcat suggestions to the Spartans who were leading and apparently victors in the game was not to forget to take the dry ice to Omaha.

Ray Collard, Spartan outfielder, silenced the Bobcat bench the loudest and pointing to the scoreboard, shouting to the Ohio U. bench, "There's our talking."

Giel declined to go into detail except to say he was "definitely considering" it.

Giel indicated he expected to sign a contract to play football or baseball during the next 10 days.

At Evanston

Seven Spartans will represent the Western Conference in the Big 10-Pacific Coast Conference meet June 15 at Evanston, Ill., as a result of their performances in Saturday's Big 10 meet at Lafayette, Ind.

They are John Cook, miler; Kevan Gosper, 440; Ray Eggleston, broad jump; John Corbelli, high and low hurdles; Ed Brabham, 220; Joe Savolain, shuttle hurdle relay; and Dave Hoke, 880.

In order to make the Big 10 squad a contestant must finish in the first three places in the conference meet. Only Savolain, who finished fourth in the 120-yard high hurdle, failed to meet this requirement, but he was chosen because the running of a shuttle hurdle relay requires four men.

Only conference champion Illinois and runnerup Michigan, who will send eight men each—not including a relay team—have more qualifiers than State.

Gosper's 48.2 in the 440 preliminaries places him, along with Lou Variglia, as hope in State track history. Coach Karl Schildebrand said that he thought Gosper ran even faster than in the finals while losing to Illinois' Ralph Fessenden, however, his time was not official.

One of the big upsets in the Big 10 meet was when Cook beat Michigan's John Riss in the mile.

Sophomore Dave Hoke's 1:54.8 in the 880 earned him only a third but Schildebrand reported that the winning time of 1:52.8 by Illinois' Gene Maynard was just out of this world, when the wet track and brisk wind is considered.

Eggleston, with his best broad jump of the year Saturday served notice that he will be among the leaders in the coming meets.

Billy Herman, Brooklyn Dodge coach, was the second baseman on 10 straight National League All-Star teams.

Czech Breaks Two Records

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Czechoslovakia's Ernst Zatopek shattered two more world distance records Tuesday, making three records in as many days, when he ran the 10,000 meters in 28 minutes, 54.2 seconds. He broke his own 10,000 meters and six-mile records in the same race.

The listed 10,000-meter record was 29:01.6, set by Zatopek in November, 1953.

He was clocked for the six miles Tuesday in 27:59.2, cracking his own previous mark of 28:08.4.

The 10,000 meters distance is six miles, 376 yards.

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Orioles Tuesday traded outfielder Vic Wertz for pitcher Bob Chakales in a seven-team trade with the Cleveland Indians.

At Phoenix, general manager of the Orioles said Chakales will join the team in Philadelphia Wednesday. Wertz leaves immediately to join the Indians in New York.

'Most Eventful Year' Falcone Gives 43 Varsity Band Awards

By JERRY JENNINGS

Awards were given to 43 outstanding band members and plans for the next marching season were described at the MSC Varsity Band's annual banquet Tuesday night in the Union.

Homerun

Blach, with a two strike count on him, blasted a homerun over the right mark to give the Spartans a four-run lead.

Tom Biskup walked to start the inning and Murphy doubled. Thompson hit a long fly to center scoring Biskup and sending Murphy to third.

While rain threatening to end the game, Hobbaugh put on a deliberate rally in their fifth.

Galtrey walked the first man up pitcher John Bier. At this point Ed Hobbaugh was called in to replace Galtrey on the mound for the Spartans.

Hobbaugh started his turn by walking Dick England. Andy Chonko then laid down a bunt and Hobbaugh, after seeing that no one was covering first, turned and threw to Zeiler at third. The Spartan captain captain stretched high to pull in the throw and force Bier.

Hobbaugh, with a 2-2 count on Biskup, hit the Bobcat captain to load the bases, with one out.

Murphy, who already had two hits, was the next man to face Hobbaugh. The Spartan hurler pitched the All-American out on a four-pitcher to ease the pressure.

At this point the game came and the hot issue from Michigan State's viewpoint, was to end the inning and make it an official game.

Thompson hit a ground ball to shortstop Matsok. He tossed to George Smith to force Biskup and end the inning, and the game.

Both teams retired to their dugouts after the umpires suspended play to wait the required 20 minutes.

The rain was still falling after the wait at which time the game was called.

MSC Young Republicans Blast McCarthy in Resolution

A resolution condemning the tactics and goals of Senator Joe McCarthy was passed Tuesday night by the MSC Young Republicans Club.

The resolution accuses the Wisconsin Senator of using Congressional hearings as "a political weapon to further his own selfish aims . . ." It claims McCarthy has sacrificed "liberties formerly guaranteed to citizens" to get publicity for his personal gain.

The Young Republicans approved the resolution by a one-vote, five-to-four margin. The nine members voting represented the Club's minimum quorum requirement—25 per cent of the dues-paying members.

The McCarthy censure called the Senator's controversial methods a violation of the spirit of the Constitution by implying guilt by association and ignoring the principle of innocence until proven guilty.

The resolution credits President Eisenhower with operating effectively the federal government's security program. McCarthy, it says, is undermining the administration's domestic
