Students Get Writing Awards

English Contest Winners Named

Winners of the English department's writing contest were honored at a tea Wednesday afternoon in the Union Parlor. The top short story award, $30, went to Richard E. Devey, Norfolk, Va., senior, for his story "Nobody Knows." Mary Rouse, Lansing junior and John Takaacs, Melvin junior tied for second place in the fiction contest. Miss Rouse's contribution was "Gardenias" and Takaacs contributed "It's Better to Receive." They each received an award of $20.

Kenneth Afton, Lansing senior, was third with his prize, "The High Board." His prize was $10.

In the poetry division Dan Coyell, Bay City freshman won first prize, $25, with "Sounds of the Valley" and other poems.

Second place winner, Miss Rouse, also won $10 with her contributions of "Whip-poor-will" and other poems.

Jack Grenard, Grosse Pointe sophomore, won $5 as third place winner with "Small Town Talk" and other poems.

Judges in the fiction department were Eileen Davis and Gerald Willen of the University of Minnesota and Glendon Saarhout, instructor of communication skills. Prof. A. J. M. Smith, Associate Prof. Evelyn Scholl and Assistant Prof. Bernard Duffey of the English department were judges in the poetry division.

House Group Approves GI Bill Extension

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Veterans Committee Wednesday approved a two-year extension of the Korean GI "Bill of Rights."

The committee gave its okay to a bill giving men who entered the armed forces after the start of hostilities in Korea up to four years after their discharge to apply for government educational aid other benefits provided in the bill.

Existing law gives veterans until two years after their discharge or until Aug. 29, 1954, to apply for benefits.

ROTC to Honor Senior Cadets At Annual Parade

More than 300 senior cadets will be honored at today's annual ROTC Graduation Parade on Old College Field.

Commissions will be awarded to most of the graduates, with some receiving completion certificates.

President John A. Hannah will speak at the ceremony and review the troops during the parade.

After Dr. Hannah's speech, the graduates will take an oath of office and receive commissions and gold bars.

In event of rain the ceremonies will be held in the Ice Arena of Armory Hall. There will be no parade in that case.

Employees Raise $10,000 in Drive

More than $10,000 has been contributed to the Lansing United Hospital Expansion Fund by college employees in the first two days of the drive, said Jack Breslin, general chairman of the college campaign.

The college quota is $88,350 during the drive, which will continue until June 11. Thirty of 280 college departments have reported with at least 100 per cent of their quota, Breslin said.

Joan Weaver, chairman of the trophies design committee, and Jim Adams, chairman of the trophy finance committee, view the Water Carnival trophies.

Shakespearian Theme Water Show to Open With Float Parade

The Four-Fifths Quartet's opening song, "Brush Up Your Shakespeare" will set the theme for the 1954 Water Carnival opening at 9 tonight with a parade of 29 floats.

The parade will be led by a King and Queen float decorated to resemble a Roman chariot drawn by three horses. Riding on the float will be Ferris Hallmark, senior class president, and Alicia Cummings, class secretary.

Several hundred seats remain for each of the three performances, said Bill Shannon, chairman of programs and tickets. There are about 5,000 unreserved seats to be sold for the Thursday, Friday and Saturday shows.

Carrying out the Shakespearian theme will be ushers dressed in Elizabethan era costumes. Other decorations are water lilies along the foot cedar shoreline, and live swans.

The 10-piece Tommy Aquino band will play for the show, with Brick Butler and Bob O'Hara sharing the announcing duties.

Committee workers and chairmen may pick up their complimentary tickets for the night designated by their position any time today at the Union Ticket Office, said Gene German, general chairman.

Judging the floats Friday night will be Robert E. Anderson, Kenneth C. Black and John M. Patriarche. Saturday night judges are Adrian S. Langius, Clarence A. Reid, Max R. Strother and Thomas Tryon.

The sponsoring living units in the center their float will appear, the chairman, and the Shakespearian quotation which will be their theme are:

Kappa Delta and Phi Kappa Phi. As you like it, Ann Coulter and George Clute, Asher House, Student Foundation and West Landing. What fools these mortals be, Jim Wagner and Angie Jakobowski.

Wanted: 'Two-Faced' Actors

The uses of the double stage between Fairchild Theater and Auditorium reflect MSC's growth and change.

When plans for construction were reviewed in 1939, only the Auditorium was being considered. Then Secretary of the College, President John Hannah advanced the Fairchild Theater plan, pointing out that a theater with a connecting stage was needed to fill convention requests.

Check rooms in the original plan were converted to classrooms and offices. Only the James Melton show in the fall of 1939, and commencement ceremonies over 10 years ago used both areas at the same time, Associate Professor of Speech Donald Buell said.

The combined seating capacity of Fairchild Theater and the Aud is 5,762 seats, which falls short of the facilities needed for recent graduations, Buell said.

STUN Organization Revamped for Fall

AWS, Men's Council Reveal New Plan for Textbook Sales

A breath of life has been pushed into the STUN, (Student Textbooks, Used and New) organization for next fall. Phyllis Head, Pontiac freshman, and Ross Wagner, Erie junior, co-chairmen for the sponsoring groups, Men's Council and AWS, announced the new plans Wednesday night.

Under the new setup, a student will bring a textbook into the STUN office in the AWS office on the third floor of the Union and register it with workers in the office. The office will be open for registering the books throughout final week this term, beginning June 14, from 9 to 12 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m. each day.

When the book is brought into the office, it will be given a number and will be entered in a filing system under the same number. The student will also be given a receipt for the book.

The books will be left in the office for the inspection of any students interested in buying them. All sales will be on a cash basis and the organization will handle the sales.

Although registering and filing of the books will begin this term, Miss Head stated that sales would not open until registration week of fall term. They will continue during the regular office hours for the first three weeks of the term.

A student may continue to get his own price on a book, Miss Head said, and he may pick up the money for a book anytime during the three weeks of sales, if the book has been sold.

At the end of the three week period, unsold books may be picked up by the owners, or they may be re-entered on the STUN files for sale the following term. However, STUN office will close at the end of the three week period and the books will be stored until the following terms week of registration.

Any money from sales of books not picked up will go into the STUN treasury.

Under the old system, Miss Head said, the students must bring the books into the STUN office and students wishing to buy them didn't have a chance to inspect them.

Future plans for STUN operations include obtaining of a room in some campus building where the books may be stored during the off-season.

Ferris Hallmark's Fall Marriage to Nurse Announced

The marriage last Sept. 27 of Ferris Hallmark, senior class president and varsity football player, to Lola Jeanette Mangus of Flint was announced this week by the bride's parents.

The ceremony was performed in the Methodist Church parsonage in Fremont, Ind., by the Rev. Irvin Pussey.

Mrs. Hallmark is a graduate practical nurse at Hurley Hospital in Flint. She and Hallmark attended high school together in Grand Blanc.

Club to Sponsor Mock Graduation

A mock graduation exercise sponsored by the International Club will honor all members and other foreign students who are receiving degrees this quarter.

The exercise will be held at 8 p.m. Friday in Union 31. Dr. John Winburne, assistant to the dean of the Business College, will be the speaker.

Today Kellogg Center relieves Fairchild of the pressure of meetings for groups up to 400 people.

"Fairchild is used now for setting scenery aside during ballet shows and as a dressing room for symphony performers," Dean Crowe said.

Buell added, "It isn't possible to have a show on both sides at once with a heavy curtain between. The stage depth is only 35 feet and sounds would ruin both attractions," Buell said.

Jack Subar and Kies Hagadorn congratulate Bill Hurst (center) on his election to the student government presidency.

Last of Out-Door Series Rain Fails to Stop Final Band Concert

An unusually cold and damp June evening failed to detract from the MSC Concert Band's enjoyable final concert of the season.

Music lovers heard the last of the out door series in the Band Shell, in spite of a few uncertain drops of rain.

WKAR-TV viewers were able to attend without resorting to slickers as the college station televised the entire hour and 25 minute program.

The program opening with the grand march, Procession of Nobles, from "Mlada" by Rimsky-Korsakov, contained little of the light semi-classical compositions.

From the grand march, the band took up the rhythmic "Italian in Algeria Overture" by Gioachino Rossini.

Ballet music from Charles Gounod's "Faust" varied the pace starting with the light "Waltz for the Corps de Ballet." It included the "Ensemble of Helen," "Cleopatra and the Trojan Maidens," "Entry of the Nubian Slaves," the lifting "Pas Seul of Helen," and the "Bacchanale and Entry of Phryne."

The modern "Cambodian Suite" collection of the delicate "Berceuse," "Nostalgia" and the almost Latin-American tempo of "Cherie" followed.

Next the well known "Waltzes from Der Rosenkavalier" by Richard Strauss were played by the band, conducted by Leonard Falone.

Guest soloist Byron Aubrey, instructor of music, expertly dou-bled and triple tongued his way through the honking "Carnival of Venice" by Del Sgayer and the Spanish "La Virgen de la Macarena" by Rafael Mendez.

The band followed with a contrasting "Romantic Tone Poem" by Lucien Caillet, and the short Debussy piece, "The Girl with the Flaxen Hair."

A Spanish serenade, "Open Thy Heart" by Georges Bizet, and "Sylvan Rhapsody" by Carl Gjedennik closed the prepared program.

Three encores, Sousa's "Golden Jubilee," the "Father of Victory" by Louis Garne, and the MSC Fight Song, answered the audience's applause.

Ravenholt to Address Public Service Staff

Albert Ravenholt, member of the American University Association's field staff, will speak at the quarterly staff meeting of the School of Business and Public Service at 4 p.m. today in 31 Union.

His topic will be "Economic, Political and Social Consequences of U. S. Military Aid Programs in the Far East."

Callahan Named as Speaker

Mansfield Voted Speaker Pro Tem

By MYRA MacPHERSON

Bill Hurst, Fort Lauderdale junior, was elected student government president Wednesday night on a first ballot vote.

Hurst received the bare majority of 22 votes on ballot one, with his opponents Jack Subar, East Lansing junior, getting 14 votes and Kies Hagadorn, Alma junior, receiving 7 votes.

The bare 22-vote majority also elected Pat Callahan, East Lansing senior, Student Congress speaker on the first ballot. Don Hadden, Ostrea sophomore, received 15 votes, and Bill Wurm, Highland Park, Ill., sophomore, got 5 votes.

After the two straight single-ballot elections, Congress took an hour and a half to elect Bill Mansfield, Madison, Wis., sophomore, speaker pro tem on the eleventh ballot.

Mansfield had the lead on the first ballot with 16 votes, Jim Bell, Lansing junior, having 11 votes and Bill Conrad, Jackson sophomore, 12.

On the eleventh ballot it took only 25 votes to make a majority for Mansfield, with Bell getting 14 votes and Conrad 4.

As the only candidate running for student government secretary, Nancy Jo Shafer, Port Huron junior, was elected by acclamation.

After being elected to the presidency, Hurst said he hoped in the following year student government would continue the successful path it has followed this year.

He supported his views on his appropriations from the student government for free bowling shoes of the Union. He said that if a bill is introduced to Congress for such an appropriation he would recommend that it not be passed.

After the election, which elapsed a week of formal campaigning, Subar said that he had the fullest confidence in Hurst's ability to lead the government forward during the coming Centennial year.

Hagadorn said that he was happy to see Hurst elected and that Hurst could "count on my support in the future."

Chief Justice Roger Augustine supervised the counting of ballots.

During a Congress meeting following the election for officers, Jim Bell, Kies Hagadorn and Jack Subar were chosen to head the Committee on Communications.

According to rules of procedure, this committee should make recommendations to student government this term for chairman, vice chairman, secretary and members standing activities in advertising and academic status. Final selection is done by Prof. A. A. Applegate, Journalism department head.

Divided Vietnam: A Tragedy

Partition of Indochina into a Communist-Vietminh northern section and a Southern French section has been a raging controversy ever since the fall of Dien Bien Phu.

But, a third side and an important one, has been almost completely neglected. No one has considered what the Vietnamese themselves think about a split-up country.

The opinions of the Vietnamese Nationalists should have some weight. They are the people that live in the country. They are the ones that will have to cope with the future situation, whatever the decision may be.

True, the Nationalist forces may not include all the people of the war-ridden territory, but, according to Nguyen Thai of the MSC Vietnam Club, "the opinion of the non-Communist Nationalists reflects the views of the majority of the Vietnamese today."

It is the opinion of the club that the Vietnamese strongly oppose the partition on four grounds.

First, it would recognize a "sacred land" for the Vietminh in the North. And their work would not stop there. "Infiltration would continue in the South, thus giving a boost to the Communists and nothing but disadvantages to the free forces."

On this point, Thai, as spokesman for the club, is probably right. Witness Korea—Communists were not stopped by a boundary line there.

Secondly, the Vietnamese themselves recognize the similarity between their situation and the Korean battle. They are afraid that the 17th parallel in Indochina will turn into another 38th parallel and Vietnam will become a second Korea.

"Partition would hand over millions of non-Communist Vietnamese in the rich commercial region around Hanoi to the control of the Communists. They would become slave-soldiers to shoot at their countrymen in the South."

The point about it is reason enough for the Vietnamese to oppose the French proposal. Why shouldn't they be afraid? It has happened before. Why not again?

Thirdly, Vietnamese feel that the national territory of Vietnam is one and indivisible. Therefore, nobody in the world can by right cut their fatherland into two pieces.

This is a perfectly natural argument. Citizens of any country would feel the same way. But, it has one obvious weakness. Young men from other countries have had to fight in Indochina. The world has had to become interested. And the deaths of the young men may have given the world a right which, theoretically would be denied.

Most practical of the four grounds is the last. The coal mines of the north and the rich lands of the Red River Delta cannot be given up easily.

The Nationalists are not afraid to stand up for what they believe. At a meeting in Saigon recently, the Nationalist Congress declared its opposition to the French partition idea.

And the Vietnam Club here says: "Partition of Vietnam in the present condition would be a tragic mistake by the West, a surrender of millions of non-Communist Vietnamese to the terrorism of the Vietminh, without gaining in return any advantage from the Communists."

EDC Finds Support From French Leftists

By J. M. ROBERTS JR. Associated Press News Analyst

After a bitter two-year fight in the National Assembly which divided it right down the middle, the French Socialist party has now come out flatly in favor of establishing the European Defense Community.

There was even a possibility the government, striking while the iron is hot to forestall re-organization by the opposition, would bring the matter to a head in Parliament very shortly. It was left to simmer by the calling of the Geneva conference because France wanted to do nothing which might irritate Soviet Russia pending negotiations for a truce in Indochina.

Now that the Geneva talks have produced nothing but fiasco, Foreign Minister Bidault would be greatly aided in his negotiations by the evidence of unity in Europe which EDC would present.

Of the four major demands for international support which the French government claimed were necessary before it could put EDC through Parliament, three have been met by guarantees of military cooperation from Britain and the United States and by agreement of the EDC nations to set up supranational political control of the united army as against a mere joint military staff.

On the other issue, a settlement of the status of the Saar, German and French are back at work with the prospect that some sort of Europeanization will be agreed upon.

The Socialists, after such a long period of heart-searching have now put European unity ahead of both their fear of a rearmaged Germany and their customary aversion to warlike preparations.

There may be too a certain realization that if the United States is to be brought into world-wide alliance with France, through Indochina, their policies will have to be machined to a close fit in every area.

Coeds End Spring Intramural Sports

By MARILYN MINION
MSC coeds recently held playoffs in tennis, archery and golf.
Mary Ellen Weigle, East Grand Rapids senior and Kappa Kappa Gamma, defeated Joan Henry, Dearborn senior and representative of Mason Hall, 6-1, 6-2, to win the women's individual tennis team trophy.

Qualifying for the finals, Mary Ellen Weigle defeated Barbara Jensen, Escanaba freshman and West Yakeley representative, 6-0, 6-0 and Joan Henry defeated Betsy Freeman, Winchester, Mass., freshman and Abbot Hall representative, 6-3, 6-4, in the semi-final contest.

Two representatives from each of the 23 participating living units formed a scoring team. The teams were divided into four blocks. The high scorer of the scoring team in each block played in the semi-finals.

Wilma Hirschmann, won the MSC division of the Intercollegiate Telegraph Archery tourney recently. Nancy O'Neil, Wilmette, Ill. sophomore took second place. Third place was won by Diana Savius, Detroit sophomore.

The names of the participants in the contest were divided into teams of eight according to their Columbia pound scores. The team averages have been

Strictly From MARs

By MARY ALICE RITCHLIN
State News Women's Editor

In one more week... exam cram time. Two weeks... just you, a paper and the blank blackboard. Three weeks... and "quo vadis?"

"Just going to get away from it all" is the typical feeling expressed by many Spartans.

Beach parties and golden tans are captivating the classroom dreams from Berkey Hall to South Campus.

Yet simultaneously, over in Indochina, men sweat tip war preparations and France drafts 80,000 men. Americans are baffled by the Communists shipping arms to Guatemala. And in war-torn Korea, Russian and United Nations guns stand motionless facing each other, while truce talks continue.

It's a confusing age isn't it? We can fly around the world in three and one-half days and be blown up in a split second. People talk of peace while they prepare for civil defense. And little children salute the flag, while many of their elders consider self-interest above patriotism.

True, probably nothing drastic will affect us today and maybe not even tomorrow. But it's certainly food for thought as one settles at the study table.

For that dreaded history or calculus course may someday mean a lot more to you than just a dull printed outline. Summer is showing... there's no doubt about it. But before we retreat too hastily, let's put our all into a good '54 spring term "finis."

Graduates will attend their last Water Carnival and campus parties this weekend as commencement time draws near.

The annual Water Carnival will include floats with Shakespearean quotation titles in keeping with the theme, "Forsyth and All That." Water sports events and three entertainment acts will complete the program. The show will run Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights starting at 8:45 on the Red Cedar of Shaw. Tommy Aquino's band will provide accompaniment for the floats and musical acts.

Arnold Air Society and the Army Officers' Club will honor their graduating seniors at a farewell dinner dance in Kellogg Center Friday night. Garry Cutler's Band will play for the dance and Governor G. Menen Williams will attend.

Snyder will sponsor a street dance in their courtyard Friday night.

Other weekend functions will include the Motts Co-op all-day picnic at Bishop Lake near Brighton on Saturday. International Club will hold a picnic at Alward Lake Saturday afternoon and East Shaw will sponsor a record dance in the lounge Friday night.

Plans for next fall include a meeting at MSC of the Berea College Country Dancers from Kentucky and the Promenaders to mark both colleges' Centennial celebrations. Several members of the club plan to attend the International Festival of square dancers in Chicago next September.

Late Sports Wire

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns Wednesday announced William "Duke" Jones, 30-year-old halfback and a veteran of six years with the club, is giving up pro football.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—The Chattanooga lookouts of the class AA Southern Assn. have bought Alva "Boho" Hoffman, the righthanded pitcher who was the first modern-day rookie to hurl a 20-hit game in his major league debut.

MONTREAL (AP)—Maurice "Rocket" Richard of the National Hockey League Montreal Canadiens Wednesday was reported recovering satisfactorily from a knee operation in a hospital here.

Pitcher Joe Presko of the St. Louis Cardinals never played on an organized baseball team until his senior year in high school.

Wilson Aids 'Mural Program

A couple of weeks in the hospital changed Kaye Wilson from an athlete watched by crowds to one who watches crowds of athletes. As student supervisor of Michigan State College's intramural athletics program, Wilson is kept busy searching for unforeseen difficulties which might gum up the extensive and complex schedule.

This wasn't the sort of thing the stocky, soft-spoken pre-law student had in mind when he left 21 Union St., Wabash, Ind., in 1950.

An All-Central Indiana Conference basketball and football player at Wabash High School Wilson arrived at Michigan State with every intention of playing varsity basketball.

But a stretch in the college hospital lost him valuable practice hours, a factor which contributed to his taking a job in the intramural office.

Wilson broke in under Wayne Tinkle, and stayed on when tennis coach Frank Beeman returned from army duty in 1952 to take over the program.

Beeman has nothing but praise for his Hoosier helper.

"The success of the program depends on a man like Kaye, who takes the responsibilities to heart and even 'sleeps' intramural athletics," Beeman has said.

Beeman and Wilson, with two part-time assistants, comprise the entire staff for one of the nation's large collegiate intramural programs.

They schedule contests in just about every sport but baseball, and arrange for officials and a place to play.

Wilson says Michigan State's athletic facilities make the job easier, but admits a lot of kinks have to be ironed out of a program involving 6,000 participants not engaged in varsity competition.

Not all of the 40 or more hours a week Wilson puts in on the job are spent in direct supervision. He also keeps records, for the press, to determine award-winning teams and individuals, and for the mural office files.

When disputes arise, Wilson mashes the facts from officials and participants and reports his findings to Beeman.

Although the injury rate in the program has been slight, he occasionally serves as "first aid man" when accidents occur during contests.

Especially in the spring, when Beeman is occupied with tennis, much of the responsibility falls on Wilson's shoulders.

The continued success and expansion of Michigan State's intramural program would seem to be mute evidence that the responsibility is well placed.

Grid Cards Sign Coleman

CHICAGO (AP)—Tackie Don Coleman of Michigan State, regarded one of the finest linemen ever turned out in the Big 10 Wednesday signed with the Chicago Cardinals.

Coleman served 11 months in Korea and was discharged from the Army two weeks ago with the rank of first lieutenant. He played football at Camp Aftersbury, Ind.

Coleman now weighs 192 pounds, 14 more than in his collegiate days.

Sportopics At Second Glance

By CHUCK MILLER
State News Sports Editor

Taking a closer look . . . Earlier this week I wrote a column dealing with the apparent "pushing around" that Michigan State's Big 10 representatives received at the conference's meeting.

However, MSC officials disagree, saying that this was not the case and that in reality, they were made to feel that they really "belonged."

It seems that it has become a habit, from previous strained relations between State and the Big 10, to jump for Michigan State's defense and immediately condemn the Western Conference at the slightest hint of injustice.

Biggie Munn, Athletic Director-elect, wishing to correct this erroneous impression, has released a statement expressing satisfaction with the results of the meeting.

"Myself and other Michigan State officials at Lafayette were very happy with the cordial atmosphere," he said.

Munn pointed out that four home conference games have been scheduled for 1957, and two for 1958.

"Such fluctuations from season to season are unavoidable in the give and take of the conference schedule-making," he said.

Home and home relations with six schools—Michigan, Purdue, Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Illinois, further reflects the feeling of good will at the conference meeting, he added.

According to Munn, one of the most important accomplishments of the conference was the improved relations between State and other Big 10 schools.

"I can honestly report that we who were at the meetings believe our conference relations to be finer and stronger now than at any past time," he said.

Fred Stabley, MSC Sports Information Director who attended the meetings also said that State's representatives received the finest kind of treatment.

"I can tell you atmosphere was never clearer as far as we are concerned," he added.

So, taking a closer look, and taking into consideration the friendly atmosphere that prevailed (but which could not be observed from the other side of the door) it looks like Michigan State has definitely "gone active" after a period of "pledging" and probation.

Michigan State's Big 10 Schedules

Tog Shop Gains 'Mural Finals

Tog Shop pitcher, Tom Beale, hurled and batted his team to a 10-1 semi-final win over Dorm Champions Snyder 10 Wednesday afternoon at Old College Field.

Tog Shop now advances to Friday's final, when they will try for their second All-College title in three years against Butterfield 3.

Beale gave up three hits in the five inning game and drove in two runs with a single while scoring twice himself.

Snyder touched him for one hit in the first, fourth and final inning when they scored their lone run on Dean Parmenter's single, which drove in Ted Carlson.

Meanwhile, Tog Shop was collecting eight hits off the Snyder pitcher.

Lynn Hamilton and John Taylor each got a pair, with Hamilton driving in two runs and Taylor one.

Beale accounted for 10 of the fifteen Snyder outs with strikeouts.

The finals will probably be played at 4 p.m. Friday, according to the IM Office.

CCC Meet Draws Ten Track Men

A ten-man squad from Michigan State will compete in the Central Collegiate Conference track and field championships slated for Milwaukee on Saturday.

Included in the Spartan entry will be eight athletes who scored points in last week's Big 10 meet in which Michigan State finished third.

Leading the way is John Cook, winner of the Big 10 mile and State's only individual winner in the meet.

Three others who gained second place finishes in the meet will also make the trip. They are: long jumper, Bill Eggleston, quarter miler, Kevin Gosper, and sprinter, Ed Brasham, who got a fourth in the 100 in addition to his second in the 220.

Also to be entered in both the 100 and the 220 are Julius McCoy and Lou Vargha. McCoy won fifth in the Big 10 100.

Bob Hoke, third place finisher in the 800 in the Big 10, will enter that event, while Joe Savoldi will compete in the high hurdles, where he finished fourth in the conference meet.

Two-mile Lyle Garbe and hurdler Bill Brendel rounded out the entry. Garbe got a fifth in the Big 10 two-mile run. Eggleston, McCoy, Vargha and Brasham will form a 440 relay team and for the mile relay, Coach Karl Schladerman will call on Vargha, Hoke, Cook and Gosper.

The meet will be State's first tune-up for the NCAA championships to be held in Ann Arbor on June 12-13.

Frank Leahy, famed Navy Dame grid mentor, served as an assistant coach at Michigan State in 1931 under Coach "Shrimp" Jim Crowley.

Western Michigan Next for Kobsmen

'Letdown' Feared With Pressure Off

By DONN SHELTON
Big 10 champions, NCAA finalists. What next for the Spartan baseball team?
Next is the game that will probably be the hardest of the year for them to win—today's game with Western Michigan, at Kalamazoo.

After the pressure of the weekend series with Ohio University, by which they qualified for the College World Series, the Bronco game will be somewhat of an anti-climax for the Spartans.

Team officials expect a letdown, which could lead to a spartan loss. The Broncos yearly produce a top flight team and this year is no exception.

The Western Michigan squad has a season's record of 11 wins, eight losses and a tie. Included in the total is a pair of wins over Wisconsin, Big 10 runners up.

The Ohio U. Bobcats beat Western Michigan twice this year, but, by slim margins, 3-2 and 6-4.

Big man in the Bronco lineup in stature and ability, is first baseman Ron Jackson. Jackson is the team's top hitter and stands 6'6".

Today's game was rescheduled from Tuesday, because of the NCAA playoffs here.

Bud Erickson, the Big 10's leading pitcher with a record of five wins and no defeats, will be on the mound for the Spartans.

Coach Jon Kobs will field the same team that won the Big 10 title, with the only anticipated change being the rotation of pitchers.

Kobs says the only change he expects for is that his pitchers will start throwing the ball over the plate, where it belongs.

Always a bugaboo of pitchers, walks almost ended the Spartan playoff hopes over the weekend.

Sixteen Bobcats reached base on the walk route in the 20-playoff innings.

Only four of them scored but the rest led to unpleasant situations. Two walks and a hit batsman loaded the bases with only one out in the last inning of the final game, and only fine clutch pitching by Ed Hobaugh overcame the situation.

Witness in the first game led to Hobaugh's early departure, while his successor, Chuck Gorsuch, was kept in bed, water by Kobs.

After the game today, the Spartans will return home for their annual varsity-alumni game Friday.

Saturday they will face the Bronco's on Old College Field to wind up their regular schedule.

West Shaw, Butterfield Tie for Dorm Golf Title

West Shaw and Butterfield tied for the Dormitory League golf title with 334 strokes each, and Psi U won the IFC title with a total of 324.

Three men tied for medalist honors in the dorm meet with 82 strokes. They are: John Perry of West Shaw and Rog Hermanson and Tom Meyer of Butterfield. Bruce Preston and Lanaway Smith, both of West Shaw, shared runners-up honors with 84.

Twenty-three men participated in the tourney.

LCA finished second in the fraternity meet, ten strokes behind Psi U, and Sigma Nu and ATO tied for third with 335.

Sigma Chi was fourth at 338. SAE was fifth at 341. ZBT was sixth at 353 and Delta Tau Delta was seventh at 355.

Ken Janku took medalist honors for LFA with a 74-stroke total. Jim Wassmeyer and Bob Hayes of Psi U and Bill Templeton of Sigma Chi tied for second at 76.

Sigma Nu's DeNeal Hartman carded a 77, followed by Jim Vrooman of ATO with 78 and Rex Corbett of SAE with 79.

The tourney drew 40 participants.

Forty-seven competed in the initial baseball throw for accuracy won by Dave Vinter with 12 out of a possible 15 points. Jim Blauvelt and Ed Last tied for second with a score of 11.

Coach Ann Besson's hard-rock Michigan State ice hockey team set a straight games during the 1953 season by a combined total of eight goals.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington shelled Steve Gromek for six runs in the first four innings and coasted to a 7-2 victory over Detroit Wednesday night behind the six-hit pitching of rookie Dean Stone. Pete Runnels pounded a three-run homer in the third inning.

Eddie Yost of the Senators played his 700th consecutive game, the longest streak of appearances since the late Lou Gehrig of New York Yankees set his record. Yost has played steadily since July 5, 1949.

Stone, who posted his third triumph without a loss, didn't allow a hit until Al Kaline singled the seventh after Kaline and Bob Miller singled Charles Kress ran for Kaline and three runners advanced on Red Wilson's grounder. Don Lund singled them across.

COLEMAN BEATS EX-MATES PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Baltimore right-hander Joe Coleman, traded by the Philadelphia Athletics last year, defeated his old club 9-1 Wednesday night with the help of a six-run eighth inning in which Clint Courtney poked a three-run homer.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Curt Simmons Wednesday night pitched the Philadelphia Phils to a 7-0 shutout over the Cincinnati Redlegs. Three unearned Phil runs in the sixth inning made it easy for Simmons to record his fifth triumph as against four defeats.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Former light-weight champion Jimmy Carter of New York floored veteran Charley Riley of St. Louis twice in the second round of their scheduled 10-round bout Wednesday night, the last time for a knockout.

Carter weighed 137 pounds and Riley 133 1/2.

Carter fired three jarring rights before landing a fourth on Riley's jaw which sent him sprawling for an eight-count.

Riley no sooner got to his feet than Carter planted a jolting left hook to the jaw. Riley toppled backward. The small crowd rose to its feet with the realization the fight was over.

Those appointed are Larry Chroch, Detroit, publicity; Tom Gregory, Detroit, Fresh-Soph Day; Yvonne Brown, Chicago, orientation; Andy Fowler, Green Bay, Wis., and Jim Keenan, Cleveland Heights, O., coffee hour.

Other members of the Soph Council are Howard James, class president; David Kilborn, vice-secretary; and Pat Tavener, treasurer.

Council members unanimously voted the request that sophomores who petitioned for the Council seek Fresh-Soph Council membership next fall.

Zoology Students To Meet Tonight To Hear Braddock

The Zoology Club will meet tonight at 7:30 in 331 Union to hear a lecture by Dr. James C. Braddock, associate professor of Zoology.

Purpose of the honorary, according to Charles Hoyer, president, is to encourage scholarship and research in biological sciences and to stimulate interest in biology.

Freshmen and wildlife and zoology majors are eligible for active membership. Students maintaining in other biological sciences are eligible for provisional membership. Both active and provisional members must have an all-around 2.5 average, Hoyer said.

The group is seeking to establish an MSC chapter of Psi-Beta, a national biological fraternity, by next year, Hoyer said.
