In Biggie's Shoes Pep Rally Set To Push Team

By DONN SHELTON

Twenty-two baseball players will journey to Omaha Wednesday to try and make a dream come true and "to fill Biggie Munn's shoes."

To send the Spartans off on this quest of a national title, the State News is sponsoring a pep rally send-off on the baseball diamond today, following the ROTC parade.

Government Alters Law Of Eligibility

Students to Check
Own Two-Point

Students who want positions in extra-curricular activities or aspire to be campus queens will have a new responsibility next fall. They will have to keep track of their own eligibility status.

Student government's system of eligibility checks has been changed. Ignorance of the law or status will no longer be an excuse, says Fran Reed, head of the eligibility division.

Major change of the new law is the omission of the two-point requirement for the term previous to election or appointment. Now only an all-college two-point is required.

The bill, recently passed by Student Congress, sets up an eligibility board to interpret the law and make decisions in disputed cases. Chairman of the board will be the head of the congress organizations and eligibility committee. Other members will represent AWS and Men's Council. The congress itself will have the power to reverse decisions of the board. Also, violators of the ordinance have the right to appeal to the All-College Judiciary.

Positions included in the eligibility check are: members of the executive legislative and judicial branches of the government; all class officers; editorial and managerial posts of student publications; living unit officers; presidents and vice-presidents of all government-chartered organizations; members and officers of all governing bodies; casts, directors and producers of theatrical productions; queen candidates; Union Board officers and directors and heads of college functions like J-Hop and Water Carnival.

Students carrying less than 12 credits and persons who have received their first baccalaureate degrees are forbidden participation in any of the listed activities.

Thistle to Announce New Senior Council

The new Senior Council members will be announced today according to Bill Thistle, president of the senior class.

The newly-elected Council members will be honored at a dinner tonight at the Kappa Alpha Theta house at 303 Oakhill Ave.

Each Council member will automatically be chairman of a senior class activity. Water Carnival chairman will be announced next fall, Thistle said.

Former State Employee, Willard Sweeney Dies

Willard N. Sweeney, a former purchasing agent for MSC, died in his home at 316 N. Butler Blvd. Monday morning.

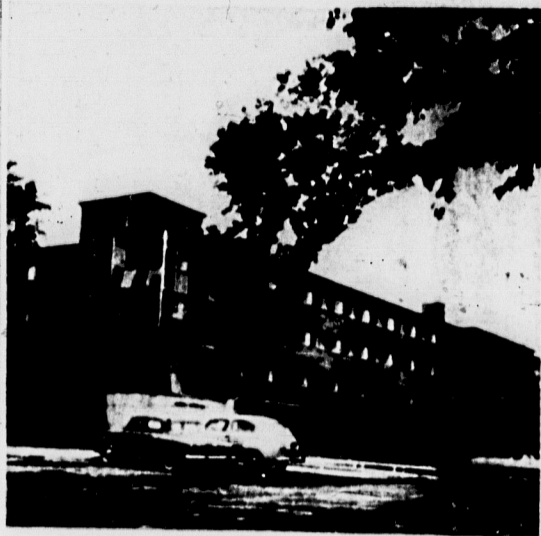

He retired from MSC in 1938, after 20 years of service.

Mr. Sweeney was born in Bay City in 1866.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Estes-Leadley Chapel with the Rev. William G. Kuben officiating. Burial will be in the Deepdale Cemetery.

Summer Term Jobs At Registration Open

Students interested in helping at summer school registration, June 23, should contact Mrs. Ruth Bell in 115 Administration Building, or call college extension 221.

Rather Hall, one of the two new men's dorms on Harrison Road, which will be ready for occupancy this fall.

Two New Dorms To Open Fall Term

Dining Hall Readied
For Harrison Road Units

Two new dorms and a dining hall will be available for men students when they arrive at MSC next fall.

The opening of Rather and Bryon Halls will bring the total number of housing facilities for men up to 28,050. Three in a room, however, will continue in almost half of the rooms, according to Emory G. Foster, manager of dormitories and food services.

Bryon, the dining hall for the Harrison Road project, is nearing completion and will be ready to serve the dormitories on Harrison Road by September, Foster said.

Flastering was completed in one of the dining rooms and the parking and floor will soon be in its final stages. The windows are finished and the kitchen is nearing completion.

Snyder Hall, now a men's dorm, will be converted to co-ed use when the hall on Harrison Road opens next fall.

Pope Names 'Father Mac' Monsignor

Pope Pius XII has conferred the honor of Domestic Prelate of His Holiness with the Title of Right Reverend Monsignor on Jerome V. MacEachin, pastor of St. Thomas Aquinas, according to Most Rev. Joseph H. Albers, bishop of the Lansing diocese.

MacEachin, along with his position of pastor of the East Lansing Catholic church, also is a member of the MSC faculty and chairman of the Newman Club. He has been superintendent of the diocesan schools since 1941 and became pastor of the St. Thomas Parish in 1943.

Trout Prove Too Friendly Art of Survival Taught to Fish

By HENRY HIRSCHMAN

Several thousand hatchery-bred brook and rainbow trout were graduated from a course in elementary survival last fall. Then they were released in Michigan streams to match with their natural enemies and the wiles of fishermen.

The trout were trained by three MSC psychologists, Joseph L. Binham, Jack Haatch and Harvey Auelman, all working on doctorates in psychology. The training program was started to counteract an extremely low survival rate of hatchery-bred trout.

The men found that almost 3 million of the 3,260,000 trout the department of conservation released in 1950 and 1951 either starved or were caught by mink, otter, blue herons or other predators.

Susceptible trout bumped around the boots of fishermen because they had learned to expect food in the hatchery when workers waded out to feed them. Wild animals merely splashed the water to bring them swimming to the surface. Hatchery trout did not know how to cope with currents or how to find their own meals in Michigan streams.

The three psychologists organized the Psychological Research Service, and experimented with methods of training trout to be more wary. Last year they presented their idea for educating trout to Dr. J. W. Leonard, state director of research.

Hurst to Offer Fall Budget For Approval

Congress to Decide
Tax Ratio Tonight

Student Congress will meet tonight at 8:30 in 326 Union to consider the budget for fall term.

Immediately following the regular meeting a special session will be held to set the fall student tax rate.

President Bill Hurst will present a budget based on a 25-cent tax at the early meeting. If the tax is reduced later, the budget will have to be altered.

Formerly, says Hurst, the budget will be a financial committee before receiving congressional approval. Hurst expects the college budgeting process, by approval of the committee tonight.

If the committee is appointed, Congress will meet again Thursday night to give the budget final consideration.

Also on the agenda tonight is the approval of appointments of Hurst's executive appointments. The president has made no statement of what posts will be filled, but it is expected that campus officer director will not be included.

Preliminary for the past year open registration in No. 200 has been held in the Music Auditorium.

Editor Plans To Reopen Petitioning

Names Rushed
Out of Wisconsin

CHICAGO (AP)—Standing before a 17-foot table loaded with signatures urging the recall of Sen. McCarthy, Editor Gore called the drive "the most successful failure in the history of newspaper petitioning for a successful post-World War II election."

Gore said another 50,000 were taken to St. Paul, Minn., by a friend who was leaving the state. It was necessary for the club to obtain 403,004 signatures.

For a successful campaign following the gubernatorial election in Wisconsin in November, the club will need signatures totaling 25 per cent of the total vote cast, which Gore predicts will be slightly over a million.

Well known as "maverick" and "Gore," there is a lot fewer people who will be afraid to sign," he said.

Gore said all of the petitions of the gubernatorial campaign will be brought to Chicago and be placed in the custody of Ed Sarks, who replaced Gore as editor of the weekly "Gore" after Gore's fall from the campaign.

Gore said the signatures will be pertinent in the next drive since he plans to forward post-cards to the persons who signed and get them to sign again and return them.

Sarks said he had no idea of what he would do with the petitions but said it might pay them into a national drive and store them away, maybe in a bank vault.

Gore said the drive proved that anti-McCarthy sentiment would be strong in an election year.

Maybe Cooler Cloudy Skies Offer No Relief For RO Cadets

Partly cloudy skies again face Spartans today, although rain occasionally came and went during the night. Temperatures will waver between 40 degrees high of 70 and cooler.

Partially cloudy skies also passed away in the night and left temperatures in the 20s with a few westerly winds for today.

Russian Affairs Expert to Talk On Soviet Today

Marcuse was recently appointed professor of political science at Brandeis College in Washington, Mass. He will continue his research at the Harvard research center while teaching at Brandeis, according to Prof. Harold Hawkins of MSC's political science department.

Marcuse was former chief of the Central European Division of the Office of International Research in the U. S. State Department.

Well Said...

In a mass round-up last Saturday, 58 University students were caught in the Arboretum for violations of drinking regulations.

These were the unlucky students—the ones that got caught. Countless numbers of other University students were also drinking on Saturday night, in apartments, at the island, at Beer Mountain—they were luckier.

The contrast illustrates a familiar yet important theme. At Michigan, the premium is unfortunately placed not on being moral enough to comply with the laws, but on being clever enough to escape detection when breaking them.

There is something fundamentally wrong with a system of regulation that encourages evasion of the law. The rules and regulations at the University of Michigan make it practically mandatory that the normal teen-age student spend four years artfully evading them.

Apartment parties, a common enough diversion, are against SAC regulations; spontaneous parties (those not registered with the Office of Student Affairs ten days in advance) violate regulations; parties not chaperoned by at least two couples over the age of 26 are outlawed; and of course, all parties involving alcoholic beverages are against the law.

And so, unless he wishes to deny himself the forms of entertainment most popular with teenagers, indeed with most people—including faculty members and administrators—the Michigan student learns early that to break the law cleverly is acceptable, but he must not blunder, he must not be foolish enough to get caught.

Obviously the ease at hand is one of degree. No one would seriously suggest that all regulations be dropped. But at the same time, by burdening their lives with a number of rules that attempt to impose a moral code not common to their society, the University is perhaps failing its students.

It is failing them because it is not inculcating in them any sense of moral obligation, much less the proper one. It is not pointing out that obedience to established law is a prerequisite of good citizenship. Rather, it is every day showing them that one can break the law—if one does it with discretion.

The years of prohibition form a shameful chapter in the reading of American history, but yet they taught the government a valuable lesson—moral, imposed from above, not inherent to the society they control, cannot lead to a law-abiding, ordered citizenry.

Neither can many of the futile, petty regulations of the SAC and the state of Michigan.

Prohibition taught us another lesson—when stringent regulation is imposed against the wishes of the vast majority, enforcement becomes necessarily spotty, ineffective, and subject not to respect, but to scorn and derision.

The number of illegal parties at the University testify to the sanctity with which the student regards the SAC regulations. Perhaps, in time, those who make the rules that govern our University activities, will also learn the lesson of the mass roundup.

Practical Course

At North Carolina's Duke University, there's a course in which majors play the market with hard cash. Source of the loot is a Winston-Salem philanthropist who felt University students should have practical experience in investment techniques, so he set up a $10,000 cash fund.

According to the rules of the game, students can't sell short and can't buy on margin. Each term, six students serve on the board of directors.

They have complete jurisdiction over what investments will be made and when stocks will be bought and sold. The only impractical aspect of the set-up is that if student investors beat the market, they don't get to keep a cent. Neither do they lose anything if the market beats them.

Might make the course even more attractive if there were cash bonuses.

Good Luck, Bill, On Your New Job

Your year is starting, Bill Hurst. As student government president, you'll have a big year, and it may not be an easy one.

Tonight, you'll appoint the people who will work with you on executive posts, and you'll submit your first budget to the Congress. You'll probably stir up some fuss, but you'll put some backs to it. Then, the way it works in government, Sheets, Bolo and Hyman can tell you that.

You'll have many decisions to make. Give them thought and make them wisely.

Next year Centennial celebrations will begin. Student government will play a big part.

You'll have to take a stand on Campus Crest divestment. Hard as it may be to admit, maybe the government won't be able to handle the organizational activities. If so, its members have a chance to do it alone.

And bowling shoes is another problem. That $6.70 to continue the free shoes can be spent better elsewhere—maybe on Spartan Spirit or World Forum. The Congress will decide, but your word will count.

You've got a lot to live up to. Hyman has done a good job. He's brought the government a long way. Look at the record. There's Spartan Spirit, but Ed with numerous pep rallies and the free Spartan Review. There's the small loan fund started winter term. There's International Week and the new World Forum series this term.

And Hyman won his big fight. He held the tax. It's permanent now.

But remember, it's the students' money. They'll be watching what you do with it.

And we across the hall will be watching too. We won't make it easy for you. We'll be hounding you and fussing around your office just like we did last year with Ed and this year with Dave.

It's your turn now, Bill. Good Luck.

Bosox Take Fifth Place By Edging Tigers Twice

Win Two Tilts From Detroit By One Run

BOSTON (AP)—Milt Bolling's 12th-inning single scored Harry Agganis with the winning run for a 5-4 nightcap victory Monday as the Boston Red Sox swept a doubleheader from Detroit to move into fifth place in the American League race.

Boston's young right-handers Frank Sullivan and Tom Brewer teamed in winning performances, with Brewer limiting the Tigers to one hit in the second game after Sullivan won the opener.

The double victory gave Boston four out of five in the series. Young Brewer evened his season record at 2-2 and had a 4-2 edge going into the ninth when two former Red Sox players, Johnny Pesky and Fred Hatfield, hit the game into overtime.

Pesky opened with a pinch walk and Hatfield, batting for Ned Garver, slammed a homer down the right field foul line.

Dick Marlowe relieved Garver and was the loser. He gave up a leadoff single to Agganis in the 12th. Sammy White sacrificed and Ted Lepcio drew an intentional walk to set the stage for Bolling's winning single.

There was a lively scene at the plate as umpire Larry Napp ruled Agganis safe. Detroit catcher Frank House charged Napp and had to be restrained by Tiger manager Fredy Hutchinson.

Brewer, only in his second year as professional baseball, walked six and struck out 11, including the three Tigers he faced in the fourth. The 22-year-old pitcher pitched a year in class D ball before entering the Army, from which he was discharged this year.

His teammates banged out 16 hits off starter Garver and Marlowe, whose record now is 3-4.

For NCAA Titles Track Meet Draws Seven

Michigan State will send a seven-man squad to the NCAA track and field championships at Ann Arbor this weekend with prospects good for capturing several prizes.

No Spartan figures to win an event, according to coach Karl Schlaademan, but at least three have strong chances of placing. Two others have fair chances of placing, says Coach Schlaademan, while another two have outside chances of getting into the money.

The top bets are Ed Brahman in the dashes, Kevin Gosper in the 440 and John Corbelli in the hurdles.

Brahman won the 220 in the Central Collegiate last Saturday at 21.9 seconds and placed in the 100-yard dash. He also placed those behind Illinois' Willie Williams in both events in the Big 10 meet. Gosper finished second in the Big 10 440 and last Saturday at the event at the CCC meet in a time 42.8 seconds.

Men rating fair chances are half miler Dave Hoke and Big 10 mile champion John Cook. Outside possibilities are Ray Eggleston in the broad jump and Joe Savolich in hurdles.

Two additional men may be taken to Ann Arbor if they rounded into shape this week. They are Lou Vergha and James McCoy. Both athletes from Virginia have been playing with a bad leg, while McCoy has returned last week by exhaustion of several teeth.

SQUIRE success story...

Squire Wins Tennis Title By "Trying"

By JOE ROFFMAN "If you don't succeed at first, try, try, again."

This saying can best exemplify the success story of Squire, Michigan State tennis player.

Squire, a 21-year-old senior from Midland, won the No. 5 singles title at the Big 10 championship last weekend at Champaign.

Prior to this year, Squire had never played in a match for State.

Having played only doubles for the majority of three seasons, Squire's opportunity to play singles was a challenge to his coach, John Brubaker, the fifth singles spot.

Brubaker selected Brubaker and placed three dual matches. He won against Wayne and Detroit and was defeated by Ed Perchou of Illinois.

Squire later beat Perchou in the Big 10 tournament.

Squire's success in tennis was not unexpected. Coach Frank Brubaker said the 21-year-old senior was a "tryer" in every sport he attempted.

Brubaker said Squire was a "tryer" in every sport he attempted. He won several dual matches and placed in the Big 10 championship.

Earlier in dual competition he counted 25 points.

Proof that he can step out with the nation's best when he confines his efforts to the low hurdles is recorded by the fact that he finished third in 215 behind Jack Davis of Southern California and Joel McNulty in last year's championships at Lincoln, Neb.

In football, the VMI promise student was all-Southern tackle in defense in 1952. He played both ways and earned all-Southern honors. As a punter, he was named MVP of the conference in 1951 and 1952.

His last time this year again has been 23 in the dash and while that doesn't compare with timber hoppers like William Thurston of Illinois, Jimmie Bell of Michigan State, or Marv Booth of Cornell, the Virginia native is at his best when the chips are down.

The only baseball ever hit out of Griffith Stadium in Washington, D. C., was socked by Murrey Martin of the Yankees on April 17, 1953. The ball traveled 965 feet.

Navarre Denies Delta Peril Rumor

Admit Five-Month Drive A Failure

SAIGON, Indochina (AP) Gen. Henri Navarre admitted Monday night failure of a five-month French Union campaign intended to smash Viet-minh strength in central Annam. The general made a point of expressing immediate threat to his success from the situation in the Red River Delta.

Navarre described as "pre-Mystera" reports that the delta was in imminent peril. Advisers from Hanoi said the rebels were pushing closer to the delta from Dien Bien Phu in an attempt to close a pincers on that northernmost strategic area of Indochina.

Navarre, who has been rebuffed as commander-in-chief in Indochina, had been in the open since he launched in January to recapture the strip of Viet Nam coast he met with no success.

French union forces established a beach head at Bus Hoa, 250 miles northeast of Saigon, last Jan. 21 in what was billed then as their first large scale offensive not aimed primarily at parading off rebel blows.

Navarre said his troops had a 60-mile front line in the delta. A month ago, he had 100,000 men in the area. Last week the French high command said 200,000 men were now in the delta, but more important, Viet-minh strength at Cong Son, 200 miles west of Dien Bien.

Although Navarre failed to capture 20 per cent of the U.S. population about 1949, he has now taken less than 10 per cent of the U.S. population.

The System

The Nat Sci lecture was getting hotter and hotter. Finally one of the long suffering students yelled for the fan to be turned on.

The instructor crossed the stage and flipped the necessary switch, only to hear, moments later a startled cry "That's the heat!" He turned to the students and explained blandly, "That's the system."

U.S. Engineers To Host MSC Professors

Professor Carleton will speak on "Meeting Needs Through Agriculture Engineering Curricula at one conference."

"The Future Role of Graduate Study in Engineering will be the topic for discussion by Professor Harris.

Professor Otto will present a paper entitled "Are Graduate Courses Milestones or Milestones?" at a conference on educational needs.

Professor Skamser will demonstrate "Modern Methods for Reproducing Drawings Used in Research Reports."

The convention will include banquets and the presentation of Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit" by the faculty players.

Kobs called the team, "The best hitting team I have ever had." The "best hitters" finished the year with an average of .281 and astounded the conference with a league leading average of .317, the best mark in recent conference history.

Individual stars shine bright on the team with seven of them already accorded all-conference recognition.

First team All-Big 10 players are first baseman Chuck Matthews, outfielder Jack Risch tied for second in the conference in hitting and catcher Tom Yewell.

Second team choices are Johnny Matsock and Bud Erickson, while Bob Powell, Ed Hobaugh and George Smith were accorded third team berths.

Asked to make a speech at Monday's baseball picnic, Capt. Jack Zetter, summed up the team's feeling toward the impending series by saying, "We'll do our talking when we get back from Omaha."

Debate to Prove All Is Not Cricket

"Cricket vs. baseball"—a debate on the merits of each, will be held at the International Center Wednesday night at 7.

Defending cricket will be Lyle Blair, managing editor of the MSC Press. Blair was named a first player, comparable to the U.S. rating of All-American, on the Sussex, England, team.

Speaking for "America's favorite game" will be Elwood Lawrence, associate professor of English.

An English-style "cricket tea" will follow the debate.

A nominal admission charge will be made.

Members of the Cricket Club will meet tonight at 8:30 in the Women's Gym. Following the cricket game, a business meeting will be held in 34 Union.

Final Jazz Club Session to Meet

Jazz by Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong — on records — will highlight the final Jazz Club meeting and coffee hour Wednesday at 7 p.m. in Old College Hall.

Plans for fall term Jazz Club activities, discussed at an executive board meeting Sunday night with Dr. C. David Mead, the English department and advisor to the club, include: concerts, record sessions, correspondence with other college clubs, a "History of Jazz" program series and a publication of articles, biographies, discographies, record reviews, club news and other jazz-slanted writings by club members.

Efforts have been made, Bruns said, to bring Louis Armstrong to the campus in connection with his forthcoming appearance in the East Lansing area on Friday. So far no definite arrangements have been made.

Friendly Reception Planned For Coed Transfer Students

Women transfer students will have an "in" with the faculty next year.

Spartan Women's League has devised an experimental plan to make these students feel more at home. The 400 women transfers expected on campus next fall will be divided into groups of 25, each headed by a student leader and faculty sponsor, according to Jackie Climie, SWL president.

Sometime in October, each group will visit at the home of faculty leader, who is to keep in touch with those under her throughout the year. The student and faculty leaders will plan activities for the new students during the fall term, especially during Orientation Week, Miss Climie said.

The project eventually may be extended to all new incoming students if successful, she added.
