Mental Cruelty' Marilyn Plans Divorce Joe

WOOD (AP)—The nine-month marriage of movie star Marilyn Monroe and baseball hero Joe DiMaggio ended Monday and she will sue for divorce.

Monroe, announced by the blonde star's studio, hit Hollywood like an A-bomb. There had been no hint of anything going wrong in the DiMaggio home.

Both the onetime Yankee Clipper and his voluptuous wife were holed up in their English farmhouse in Beverly Hills. Their "his" and "hers" twin black Cadillacs were parked outside. A housekeeper said neither Marilyn nor Joe would see reporters.

Jerry Giesler, famous Hollywood lawyer, announced Miss Monroe would seek a divorce at once and would charge mental cruelty. He said the marriage broke off because of incompatibility.

"They've talked it over and reached a pleasant understanding," he said.

Only a handful of intimates knew there was trouble brewing between the pair. On Sept. 9, the famed calendar girl flew to New York for locations of "Seven-Year Itch." She was slated to return Sept. 12, but a hurricane delayed her. Joe flew to join her.

"They seemed to be very much in love," said a studio source who was with them. "They are not the demonstrative type, but they appeared to be warmly affectionate."

They flew back here together Sept. 18. Last week he returned to New York to cover the World Series for a syndicate. She continued working in her picture.

She was scheduled to work Monday, but called the studio and said she couldn't make it. The schedule was quickly rearranged. Then she told the studio of the split.

An intimate reported they had little in common. Before she met the baseball star, she had little or no interest in sports. He was publicly shy and refused to stand in the spotlight that surrounded her.

Until this year, his career interests were on the East Coast, while she earned her fabulous living here.

He gave up his New York television work so they could spend more time together here. But she started working almost as soon as she returned from the honeymoon and has seldom had a day off since.

Recently in New York, Marilyn denied reports that Joe spent many nights away from home playing poker.

"Joe does all his poker playing at home," she said. "He has no gypsy in him that would cause him to stay away nights."

It's difficult enough to get him to get out of the house. He liked to putter around, take an occasional dip in the pool and just lounge in a big easy chair."

STAN KENTON
... here tonight ...

Kenton Featured In Modern Jazz Festival Tonight

Tickets are still available at the Union Desk for Stan Kenton's 1954 "Festival of Modern American Jazz," scheduled for tonight at 8:30 in the Auditorium.

Starring in the special number on the Lecture-Concert series will be Kenton and his orchestra, the Art Tatum Trio, the Charlie Ventura Quintet, Shorty Rogers and his Giants, Mary Ann McCall, Johnny Smith and Candido.

Pianist-bandleader Kenton's appearance will mark the second year that he has been head man of a touring all-jazz concert.

Slam Stewart and Everett Barkdale are the other members of the Tatum Trio.

ND Ticket Applications Available

Applications for tickets and round-trip train transportation to the Notre Dame-MSC game Oct. 16 can be picked up today and Wednesday at the Union Desk.

Applications must be returned to the west corner of the Union Bookstore between noon and 5 p.m.

Two people may make application together, but both ID cards must be presented with the application blank.

Ticket applications will not be accepted after 5 p.m. Wednesday. Organizations Bureau Head Andy Feiler, Green Bay, Wis., sophomore, said.

Ticket distribution will be decided by a drawing. Three hundred students will be picked, plus 100 alternates.

The lucky applicants' names will be posted Oct. 11. On presentation of their ID cards they may pick up their train and game tickets at Jenison Fieldhouse.

One hundred and fifty-five round-trip train tickets will also go on sale at Jenison Oct. 11 for students with game tickets already.

Oct. 13, the 100 alternates names will be posted if all the train-game tickets are not gone. They will be distributed to the first comers.

Transportation provided by the tickets includes bus service back to the train after the game.

Students Spurn New Race Law

Stage Revolts In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first sign of trouble in the nation's capital over mixing the races in schools developed Monday with hundreds of white students demonstrating at two Washington high schools.

Demonstrations against integration spread in Baltimore where two bands of marching students numbering several hundred, paraded through the streets. At least nine Baltimore schools reported demonstrations as classes started.

In Washington, some 600 of the 1,250 students enrolled at Anacostia High gathered across the street from the school and jeered their principals' pleas that they return to classes. The demonstrators booed 63 Negro students as they entered the building.

One striking student said admittance of 20 additional Negroes to Anacostia Friday caused the demonstration.

A similar demonstration was staged at McKinley High in Washington by about 150 boys and girls, but they were persuaded to transfer their protest meeting to a classroom. The meeting broke up in confusion.

Several students criticized admittance of Negroes to McKinley with one girl declaring she was "afraid to walk down the hall. They walk right up behind me and say things I wouldn't repeat."

A majority of the students however, appeared to favor a suggestion by Anthony Green, one of the school's football players, that a committee be named to handle the situation.

But dozens of students walked out when another student suggested that the pupils go home and stay out at least a week "if you want the rest to follow you."

The District of Columbia plan for ending racial segregation in schools had brought expressions of hope from President Eisenhower and others that it would become a model for other sections to follow in carrying out the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling outlawing segregation.

Autumn in Air Temperature, Leaves to Fall With Breeze

Cooler autumn weather is in store for Spartans. Leaves and temperature will both fall today under partly cloudy skies.

Today's expected high will be 58; last night's low was in the high 40's.

Gentle northwest winds will blow.

Football Season Busiest Calls Keep Operators Buzzing

College switchboard operators say "Michigan State" over 4,000 times a day as they handle the campus incoming and outgoing phone calls.

Rearmament Approval Likely French Praise Premier

PARIS (AP)—Chances for French parliamentary approval of the London agreements to reararm West Germany appeared bright Monday.

Members of center and rightist parties as well as followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle praised Premier Pierre Mendes-France for protecting French sovereignty and retaining a close partnership with Britain in the nine-power negotiations.

The key to the success of the new plan, which replaces the Eisenhower Communism Control Act, appeared to lie in the hands of the left-of-center Popular Republican Movement (MRP), and the Socialists.

One MRP member, who declined to be quoted by name, predicted the premier will swing a substantial majority behind the decisions to bring West Germany into expanded Brussels alliance and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Mendes-France, taking the initiative to prevent any buildup of opposition in parliamentary circles through delayed consideration, has called an extraordinary session of the assembly beginning Thursday to hear his report on the London talks. The ratification vote, however, may not come for several weeks.

When the legislators reconvene, this likely will be the attitude of the key MRP and Socialist parties:

MRP, the party of Georges Bidault and Robert Schuman, is staunchly pro-European. The party strongly backed the defunct EDC plan, and many members are still bitter against Mendes-France, who had no part in negotiating EDC, refused to stake his government's future on that treaty in a vote of confidence and sharply criticized the plan himself.

The Socialists, whose support could give the premier an overwhelming margin on the London agreements, scheduled a meeting of their executive committee for Wednesday night.

Theater, Radio Tryouts Slated Tonight in Aud

Acting auditions for Studio Theater and college radio station WKAR will be held tonight in the Auditorium.

Studio Theater tryouts, at 6:30 p.m. in 49 Auditorium, will be for nine one-act stage plays, and a one-act television drama.

WKAR auditions, which will be the only radio acting auditions held this term according to Production Manager Dave Kushler, will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the third floor WKAR studios.

Political observers think Mendes-France probably will ask the assembly to endorse the general outlines of the London accords without committing itself at this time to a precise treaty text. This could strengthen the premier's hand, particularly on the Saar issue, when Allied statesmen begin drafting the final treaty texts later this month.

73 Tickets Issued for Violations

Police Head Cites Lack of Support

Enforcement of new campus driving regulations began Monday with 73 tickets totaling $755 in fines issued for student violations by late afternoon.

The Monday fines amounted to about one-fourth the total which was normally collected in a month under the driving code which expired Sept. 30.

"We shouldn't have had to give so many tickets in one day, said Lt. A. S. Ellis, acting chief of the campus police, "but we have to start enforcing the rules."

Ellis pointed out that although the new code went into effect Friday, no tickets were issued. Only printed warnings were given out the first three days, he said.

Sixty-eight of the tickets issued Monday were for illegal or improper parking. The driving code provides a $10 fine for these violations.

Ellis expressed concern over the high first day total in illegal parking. Most of the violations resulted from overcrowding lots "F," north of the stadium, a "D," north of Shaw Hall.

The entrances and exits for the lots have been blocked and cut off by improperly parked student vehicles, police reported.

Two of the tickets were issued for failure to register cars. The driving code stipulates a $25 fine for this violation. The students are also required to register the cars within 24 hours after the ticket is issued.

Two $10 tickets were issued for driving in prohibited areas, and one $5 ticket for displaying an improperly attached permit.

Ellis said he thought students were failing to cooperate in getting the new code into operation. Last week before the code went into effect, both campus police and student leaders were critical of students who appeared unwilling to follow the regulations.

Ellis also called attention to what he termed a misunderstanding. "Graduate assistants," he said, "don't seem to realize that they may not park on North Campus between 2 and 6 a.m., and we will have to start giving tickets to them also."

The new student driving code prohibits graduate assistant parking on North Campus during the early morning hours.

A similar regulation which would apply to full-time faculty members is awaiting approval of MSC's governing board, the State Board of Agriculture.

Discussion of Athletics Scheduled for Tonight

Chari Improved, Menzies Reports

Hospital authorities reported Monday that Sankar Chari, Indian graduate student suffering from burns in a physics lab explosion, is in a much improved condition.

Health Service Director, Dr. C. G. Menzies said "This week he's been eating better, cooperating, and more interested in the future."

Plans for taking Chari on an outing will depend mainly on the weather, said the staff official.

Chari was burned badly in a lab explosion last June, and after being admitted to the Health Center he had his right leg amputated below the knee.

Proposals Hailed

NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Britain and France Monday hailed the Russian proposals on atomic control as a step forward, but they want to know exactly how far Moscow has gone in agreement with the West.

Selwyn Lloyd, British minister of foreign affairs, said the first Western answer to the Russian atomic resolution.

WILLIAMS, Nev. (AP)—Publisher H. M. Greenspan has filed a $100,000 damage suit against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) who, he says, accused him of being an ex-Communist.

Greenspan, who runs the daily Las Vegas Sun and who long has been a bitter enemy of McCarthy, filed the suit in State District Court on Oct. 1, it was learned Monday.

Resign Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Francis P. Carr, another top aide to Sen. McCarthy, is resigning from the McCarthy staff just as Roy M. Cohn did.

McCarthy announced the resignation of Carr, his staff director, effective Oct. 31, with special thanks for the work he did "in the investigations of the Government of the Communist infiltration of the Michigan State University, Ft. Monmouth, and the Communist infiltration of the Michigan State University."

Don't Treat Me Like I Treat Them

McCarthy Asks Senate To Keep Open Minds

Now that Joe McCarthy has been slapped by a Senate committee's censure recommendation, he is asking for favors.

As a rule, favors are fine. But in asking fellow senators to keep an "open mind" on the censure motion, McCarthy is requesting a favor that he himself has often failed to grant.

Many times, in investigating self-conceived charges of Communist activity, McCarthy has demonstrated his inability to keep an open mind.

This failure resulted in the character assassination of Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker—one of the two specific charges in the committee's censure motion.

In urging Senate members to "avoid predilection and predisposition" until his defense is heard, McCarthy has a legitimate request, an American citizen still deserves a fair trial and is innocent until proved guilty.

But McCarthy might well ask himself how many times in the past he has assumed guilt without giving those under investigation a chance to defend themselves.

Actually then, McCarthy might better have made the following request: "Don't treat me like I treated them."

Probably one of the wisest moves in connection with the censure motion was GOP Senate Leader Knowland's decision to wait until after the November elections to call the solons back into session to weigh the censure motion.

That decision in itself will lead more open-mindedness to the Senate's investigation of the committee's charges. For Senators will be able to show much more discretion and calmness on Nov. 8 than they would in the pre-election tension of early October.

It was more of a break for McCarthy than anything else. Most senators could have ridden the tide of anti-McCarthy sentiment without losing noticeable prestige or votes back home if the Senate decision were made before elections.

In fact, they probably would be able to make political hay by saying that they helped put Joe McCarthy in his place.

Needless to say, this would be an election tragedy. Vital Senate seats could be won or lost over McCarthyism. The real campaign issues would be shoved into the background in the fever of argument over one controversial senator.

As it stands now, the Senate will be able to weigh the censure committee's charges in the comparative tranquility that follows election.

CLEANERS Twichell's TAILORS

Specifically, the six-man committee headed by Republican Senator Watkins charged that: 1. McCarthy had been contemptuous of, and had obstructed a Senate subcommittee which had attempted to investigate him in 1951-52, and that he had denounced a member of that subcommittee "without reason or justification."

2. McCarthy had treated Gen. Zwicker in a manner that was "inexcusable" and "reprehensible" when the general was a witness before his investigating committee.

15. McCarthy had treated Gen. Zwicker in a manner that was "inexcusable" and "reprehensible" when the general was a witness before his investigating committee.

The real achievement of the Watkins committee is a conclusive result. McCarthy has been investigated four other times by Senate committees without a decision.

The Watkins committee accepted the investigation with the knowledge that it was a tough job. And it succeeded in making concrete recommendations—where four other groups had failed.

Now the entire Senate must decide on the censure motion and Joe McCarthy is asking for open-minded consideration—something that the Watkins committee demonstrated all the way in recommending the censure.

We hope that when all of this censure business is over, McCarthy himself will have gained an open mind.

Injured Bolden Benched for MSC-Indiana Clash

London Sprain Keeps LeRoy; Boss Returns

The big news from the football camp Monday centered around little Bolden, who was injured in the Wisconsin game Friday.

James Feurig, team physician, described the injury, a sprained Achilles leg tendon, as one that will take more than a week to heal. He said that would not be on the team when the Spartans leave for Bloomington, Ind., to take on the Hoosiers.

Although slowed by the sprain, LeRoy was back in the first two games of the season, and he is the leading rusher and has scored the most touchdowns this year.

Wally Moon, Grim Selected as Top Rookies

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Wally Moon, 303-hitting St. Louis Cardinal outfielder, and pitcher Bob Grim, 20-game winner for the New York Yankees, were named the Major League rookies of the year by the Sporting News.

Moon received 126 votes in the National League balloting to eight for his closest rival, outfielder Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves, in a poll of sports writers, umpires and players.

Grim won 134 votes in the American League. Second with 14 was Jim Finigan, Philadelphia Athletics third baseman.

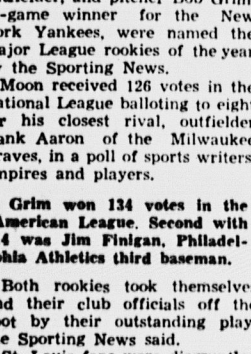

Both rookies took themselves and their club officials off the spot by their outstanding play, the Sporting News said.

Spartans Drop Out Of Top 20

NEW YORK (AP)—Michigan State's 6-0 loss to Wisconsin dropped the Spartans out of the top 20 for the first time since 1948. Oklahoma profited by idleness over the weekend, missing a plague of upsets, and recaptured first place Monday in the Associated Press College football poll.

Beaten Notre Dame tumbled from first to eighth. Purdue, 27-14 conqueror of the Fighting Irish in one of the season's biggest surprises, rose from 19th to fifth place. Ohio State at tenth became the only other newcomer to the top 10 on the strength of its 21-13 triumph over California.

Dropping out were Maryland, last year's national champion, which fell from sixth to 13th after bowing to UCLA, 12-7, and Penn State, which dropped two notches from 10th to no apparent reason.

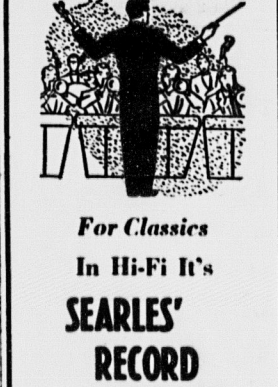

Oklahoma's Sooners captured 77 of the 173 first place votes cast by sports writers and broadcasters across the nation and amassed a total of 1,369 points.

U.S. Captures Zone Net Championship

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert got off to shaky starts in the closing singles matches Monday, but came back to wrap up the American Zone Davis Cup tennis title for the United States, 4-1, over Mexico.

Seixas, the American Champion from Philadelphia, clinched the title by defeating young Mario Llamas in the day's first match.

Too good to miss!

Genevieve

It's not often that a theatre manager will personally recommend a picture to his patrons. But it's not often either, that we see a picture like "GENEVIEVE." Wherever it's been shown, "GENEVIEVE" has charmed audiences and evoked a type of laughter too seldom heard these days.

For "GENEVIEVE," a "keeper" that was produced without fanfare and without benefit of big name stars, is an adult picture about real people in real, believable, but nonetheless hilarious situations.

I know how much I enjoyed seeing this fine film. And I know that thousands have been delighted with the freshness and pure joy in "GENEVIEVE."

Therefore, I have complete confidence in enthusiastically recommending this picture to you. "GENEVIEVE" will not let me — or you — down.

I sincerely believe you'll thoroughly enjoy seeing it!

Sincerely,
The Manager

Joe's Loss

MARILYN MONROE ... back in circulation ...

Marilyn

At first Marilyn kept the friendship quiet, realizing Joe's distaste for publicity. But the news leaked out and it soon became a celebrated romance.

Marilyn, the star whom the public has seen more of than any other, underwent a change after the marriage.

She was always available to the press before, giving out with quotes like: "I don't like sunbaths because I like to feel blonde all over."

But since her marriage to Joe, she was less available and failed to sparkle with the spicy quotes for which she became famous.

Union Board Delays Chess Tournament

The chess tournament which was scheduled for tonight is postponed until Oct. 12, according to Andy Foeller, chairman of the tournament.

Applications for entrance into the tournament will be accepted at the Union Board office this week.

Kidnapped Officer Says Communists Used Psychological Pressure

NUERNBERG, Germany (AP)—A U.S. Army intelligence officer said Monday the Communists bore down with psychological pressure, including charges of spying, during a nerve-shattering two weeks that he and his soldier jeepdriver spent as prisoners in Red Czechoslovakia. The Czechs did not beat or abuse us," Capt. Richard H. Dries,

22, of St. Albans, N. Y., told a news conference. "But they applied a tremendous amount of psychological pressure on us. They made it clear that they considered us spies and could do with us what they chose. They made us feel like they might keep us in prison forever." Dries and Pfc. George M. Pisk, 22, of Austin, Tex., were seized by Czech border guards at point Sept. 17 near Esterova, while on a routine mission. They were freed Saturday at Waidhaus on German-Czech frontier.

Iroquois was the only can-bred horse ever to win Epsom Derby in England, victory came in 1881.

Is Caroline better than Grange?

For 30 years the ball-carrying records of Illinois' great Red Grange stood firm. Then a spindle-shanked Negro boy came along and shattered them his sophomore year! Find out why J. C. Caroline's special running style makes him nearly unstoppable. Learn why he may be an even more valuable player this year even though his coach doesn't expect him to beat his last year's records.
