Wilson Denies War Intended

President Seeks to Calm Furor After 'Dog' Story

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense Secretary C. E. Wilson said Tuesday he intended no slur against jobless workers in an offhand story he told newsmen here yesterday.

Wilson said he "certainly intended no insidious comparisons, and no likening people to dogs in any sense."

"And for any one to imply that I did, or under any circumstances would think that way," he said, "is a complete distortion of the facts."

Then he added: "I am sure that the distorted version of what I said is being used by the people of the adverse political party trying to capitalize on a misinterpretation of the full meaning of what I actually said."

With a new statement, Wilson jumped into the political storm which had swirled about him since his news conference remark first was published 24 hours earlier.

President Eisenhower had sought to calm that storm Tuesday with a statement expressing full confidence in his cabinet member.

At the news conference, Wilson had said he had "a lot of sympathy" for jobless workers, but he said he "always liked bird dogs better than kennel-dogs myself."

Grinning broadly, the blunt-spoken former General Motors Corp. president elaborated then by saying: "The bird dogs like to go out and hunt around for their food, but the kennel dogs just sit on their haunches and yelp."

The heads of both the CIO and the AFL joined in rapping Wilson. Democratic party leaders seized on the quotation. Mild criticism even came from within the Republican Party.

CIO President Reuther protested to President Eisenhower. He called on the President to order Wilson to make a public retraction or to resign from the Cabinet.

Eisenhower replied by saying "I have never found Wilson in the slightest degree indifferent to human misfortune."

The president said he was sure "initial newspaper reports did not fully reflect what Mr. Wilson said or meant" at the news conference.

Two hours after President Eisenhower issued his statement, Wilson issued his own. It started off by saying:

"In my press conference Monday I thought back in my own home town I was in no danger of having anything I said taken out of context and misinterpreted."

Wilson traced his background back to when he worked in a shop for 18 cents an hour when he was 19 years old, and said "I have had an extra understanding of the problems of workmen."

He said he told the "bird dog vs. kennel dog" story "to make this point that I admired spirit and initiative."

Reuther said Wilson wants jobless workers "to abandon life-long savings invested in their homes, take their children out of school and wander like gypsies over the face of the United States seeking jobs that do not exist."

Harvey? Hungry Hunter Loses Chase For Local Hare

The call of the wild sent two MSC juniors on a chase after a white rabbit early Tuesday morning.

Using a makeshift trap constructed of a rake, a pillow case, and the wire from an AF-ROTC cap, the two scrambled through East Lansing yards after the tame hare at 12:30 a.m. Tuesday.

The most enticing lure, however, was never used.

One of the hunters ate the carrot intended for the bunny, and the rabbit got away.

Funeral Plans Incomplete for MSC Frosh

No date has been set for the funeral of MSC freshman Donald Worgul, killed Sunday evening in a two-car collision at the intersection of Grovenburg and Holt Streets.

Worgul, a Lansing resident for eight years, was driving north on Grovenburg when his car collided with that of Marion Mathews, 22, Charlotte, driving west on Holt.

The crash injured seven, including Worgul's passenger, Howard Hall, 20, of Lansing, Mathews and his five passengers. All were taken to Edward W. Sparrow hospital and reported in good condition.

Services will be from Gorsline-Runciman Funeral Home in Lansing. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Worgul are waiting to set the time of the funeral until out-of-town friends and relatives arrive.

Chari Said On Way to Recovery

By JERRY JENNINGS

Sankar Chari, propped up in his bed in Olin Memorial Hospital, managed a big smile for newspaper cameramen Tuesday.

It was the first time the 27-year-old Indian student had been photographed since he was burned in a physics laboratory explosion last June 25.

The patient seemed quite cheerful despite his 109-day hospital stay. He answered a nurse's question in English and talked quietly in Indian with his brother, Krishnama, 29.

On his face, arms, and chest, the burned areas were still clearly evident. In addition to suffering first, second, and third degree burns, Chari underwent the amputation of his right leg below the knee.

Last month Chari started hospital authorities by going on a semi-fast, taking only small amounts of food and intravenous injections. The fast lasted more than three weeks, ending only when Krishnama arrived by airplane from the Chari home in New Delhi.

New Chari is eating regular meals and behaving, as his brother says, "like a normal patient." Monday he was taken off the hospital's critical list.

Since his arrival, Krishnama has spent much time with Chari, reading to him, entertaining him, and "bringing back recollections" of his wife, Amaritha, and his four-year-old daughter in New Delhi.

What are Chari's plans for the future? It's still too early to say, Krishnama said, except that "he wants to leave the hospital and get back to work." Whether he will stay in East Lansing or return to India immediately after recovery, only time will tell.

Krishnama's own plans are also unsure. He said he will probably start the return trip to India in a few days, when Dr. Clifford Menzies, Health Center director, gives the word.

"Sankar has an enormous amount of courage and restraint," Krishnama said, expressing his confidence in his brother's recovery. He also mentioned his gratefulness to Dr. Menzies, the nursing staff, and the Indian friends who have helped ease the long, wearisome road back to health.

French OK London Act Negotiations

Vote of Confidence Given Premier

PARIS (AP)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France won a vote of confidence 3-to-1 from the French National Assembly Tuesday on the London conference plan to rearm West Germany in the alliance against Communist aggression.

At the same time Assembly leaders said they want the Premier to make what he has called "simultaneous and parallel" efforts to get a disarmament agreement between Moscow and the Western world.

The vote was 350-113, with the 99 Communist deputies furnishing the bulk of the opposition. Some of the 153 deputies who abstained, however, may swell the "noes" when the final London agreement comes up for ratification.

Tuesday's vote authorized Mendes-France to go ahead with forming the Western European Union decided upon at London, Oct. 3, as an enlargement of the five-nation Brussels Alliance of 1948.

Britain and France are the prospective bulwarks of the new pact together with their enemies of World War II—Germany and Italy. The Netherlands, Belgium and little Luxembourg would also be members.

The West Germans would join the rest in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, which includes the United States and Canada among its 14 members.

News of the outcome pleased West German government circles in Bonn, committed to recruit 12 Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's redivisions for Western defense.

Mendes-France's victory by a wide margin was assured Monday night when the biggest party in Parliament, the Socialists, decided to throw its weight to his side. The Socialists control 105 of the 627 votes.

IFC Ruling Kills House Participation

Greeks to Build Single Display

The Christmas City display contest received its second jolt in 10 days Tuesday night as MSC's 27 fraternities decided not to participate individually.

In the first Inter-Fraternity Council meeting of the term, the fraternity presidents and the four members of the Executive Council wiped out a motion to compete in building the Yule displays.

The decision came little more than a week after PanHellenic Council, representing the college's 18 sororities, advised its members not to compete and decided to enter the contest "on a cooperative basis."

In a heated session that lasted over three hours at the Zeta Beta Tau house, the IFC finally voted unanimously to follow PanHellenic's cooperative plan. Each council will build a single display.

A last-minute appeal by Micki McBride, student government secretary of state affairs, fell before fraternity opposition.

"All eyes will be turned on fraternity displays and everyone will see what you're doing," Miss McBride told the presidents.

She warned them that the contest might fail if they did not support it on an individual basis. But when the final vote was taken, Miss McBride said that she would rally around the dormitories and try to get campus religious groups to compete.

Sponsored jointly by student government and the East Lansing Merchants Association, the contest offers four trophies worth $300 apiece in two categories—religious and general Christmas themes.

But the decisions of IFC and PanHellenic left a serious shortage of living units to compete in building the displays for the Grand River islands.

"I'm extremely disappointed," was Government President Bill Hurst's only comment on the latest crippling blow to the contest. Still left in the fold to compete are men's and women's dormitories. Co-ops have decided to compete as a group.

The Men's Inter-Dorm Council threw its support behind the project last week by asking men's dorms to compete individually in the contest.

Although coming to the same "cooperative" decision as PanHellenic, IFC offered different reasons for its move.

"Every member of the IFC had the best interests of all concerned in mind," commented Cof Lecklider, IFC president. "IFC has already started to work on a display worthy of the Christmas spirit."

Reasons given by the council for scrapping individual participation are:

1. Since the building of displays must be done the week before finals, the contest would interfere with scholastic efforts.

2. Many of the fraternities have new houses or are carrying out remodeling programs and would have a difficult time fitting the display expense into their budgets.

In a "straw vote" before the final decision, only three fraternities supported individual participation.

Theme entries for the contest are due at the student government office by Nov. 4.

Total expenditure on any one display may not exceed $25, but several East Lansing merchants have offered materials at cost.

Frosh Offices

Students responded to a State Council with a bang Tuesday.

Students flocked to the student center's third floor Union office to pick up their names for the freshmen class of Frosh-Soph Council.

Students government president said that the office ran out of personal data cards which he had on each prospective candidate.

Students lined up for a line of freshmen to be picked up by 5 p.m.

'Rewarding Experience' Police Student Works in Prison Camp

A summer spent with prisoners is a rewarding experience, according to a MSC police administration major.

As part of his field training course, Angelo Iorio, Mt. Vernon, N.Y. senior, worked at three prison camps in the Upper Peninsula.

The camps are designed to aid the Michigan Conservation Department and to rehabilitate the prisoners.

Their crimes ran the gamut from manslaughter and grand larceny to auto theft and forgery, he said.

"Too many people set a criminal apart from the world," Iorio said. "In many respects he is just like another person and enjoys being treated that way."

During his stay at the camps, Iorio observed the duties of guards and later assisted in camp personnel departments supervised work detail.

Only one escape was attempted from the camps, he said, and this inmate returned.

In addition to camp work, students in the field training program work in sheriff's offices, Social Security Commission headquarters, courts to study legal procedures.

Touring automobile plants is another project in the field training course. Several times a year, police ad majors tour the Ford and Oldsmobile plants to observe plant protection methods.

The plan is to give students a first-hand account of how a large industrial plant protects itself against fire, theft, sabotage, and natural disaster.

The type of experience gained in field training is extremely valuable, according to Jack Ryan, assistant professor of police administration.

MSC is the only U.S. university providing this type of training, he added.

Disciplinary Cases Bring Questions

Several Michigan State students were recently apprehended violating the college rules against drinking and attending unauthorized parties. Many of the cases of these alleged violators were and are being considered by college authorities. They are deciding the seriousness of each case and the appropriate punishment they shall mete out. Other cases will be considered by the All-College Judiciary.

One of the least understood aspects of disciplinary action by college officials is the criteria used in deciding whether cases shall be handled solely by the administration or sent to the Judiciary for its advice. As a former Chief Justice this problem was one of which I was acutely aware during my term.

Again this year certain cases are being decided without giving the accused the benefit of a student judgment. Personal contact with two of the alleged violators shows me that they were interested in being given the opportunity to appeal their cases to the Judiciary. Perhaps others are also interested. Can we find out on what basis certain cases have always been set aside as special and therefore outside the role of the court? The information would certainly be enlightening. Perhaps it could tell us just how far college officials will accept the advice of the All-College Judiciary.

Food for the Reds
The World Watches As Americans Riot

Washington, D.C., high-schoolers boo Negro pupils. White students march through Baltimore streets. Milford, Del., pupils boycott schools. Familiar phrases? They've been headlines in U.S. newspapers for the past two weeks.

In school after school, across the nation, administrators, teachers, and students are quietly obeying the May 17 edict of the U.S. Supreme Court, which ruled that "in the field of public education the doctrine of 'separate but equal' facilities has no place."

The unanimous judgment delivered by Chief Justice Earl Warren said that segregation deprives citizens of the equal protection of the laws guaranteed by the 14th Amendment.

The headline news has shown the trouble spots in the nation, the few schools that have refused to comply with the court ruling.

In Milford, a group calling itself the "National Association for the Advancement of White People" has been advocating "bloodshed if necessary" to keep Negroes out of the high school.

Georgia's legislature set up an education committee to seek ratification of a constitutional amendment which would enable the state to pay educational funds directly to its pupils instead of the public schools.

The students would then pay their way to private, segregated schools. A similar move is underway in Alabama.

In Mississippi, the people will vote this December on a constitutional amendment which would allow the legislature to abolish the public school system.

If it passes, the state will sell, lease, or rent the school properties to private individuals, and will pay each "educable" child's tuition to private, segregated schools.

In Virginia, Gov. Thomas B. Stanley has said that he will use "every legal means" to preserve segregation. Gov. Allen Shivers of Texas has pledged that no white and Negro children will attend the same school together as long as he is governor.

These are the front-page stories. These are the clippings that capture the eyes of Communist propagandists.

On the day of the Supreme Court decision there were spontaneous celebrations and demonstrations of friendship for the United States at, among other places, a liberal arts college in Liberia.

These people are still watching us. Who is responsible for the stories, for the student demonstrations, for the boycott of the schools? Not often.

Other headlines tell that story. Mothers fight integration; parents urge boycott; Parent-Teachers Association protests desegregation.

Behind the Milford movement is a man named Bryant Bowles. Bowles, who is not a member of the Milford community, hurriedly organized the NAAWP after integration had begun three weeks ago.

Also connected with the organization is a Rev. Manaan Warrington, who urged a "strike by parents of white pupils."

In White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., 600 parents held a mass meeting and threatened to remove bodily any Negroes who attempted to attend the local high school.

A youngster, not yet old enough to read, marched in a protest demonstration carrying a sign, "We don't want them."

This was the news last week. These were adult Americans, whose ancestors wrote in the Declaration of Independence,

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal..."

These are adult Americans, living under, and supposedly believing in, a Constitution which proclaims,

"No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States."

These are citizens who attended American schools and pledged allegiance to the American flag, to "one nation, indivisible, with liberty, and justice for all."

These are the Americans the world is watching.

Spartans Scrimmage against 'Irish' Squad

Wounded Limbs; Foltz Finished Season

Michigan State's gridders scrimmaged through a rugged workout Tuesday against a tough looking "No-name" team led by freshman quarterback Jim Ninow.

Both offensive and defensive line backs were in action. Lefroy Bolden, who has spent most of his time on the bench as utility back John Fracassa and Gary Lowe alternated at the left half position. Bolden showed a tendency to be injured right leg.

James Frantz, team physician, said "Bolden's leg is being treated and he will play a lot of football this year. He will be ready Saturday."

During the secret scrimmage session held in Mack Center, reserve quarterback Fracassa who was injured in a game last week, received a severe cut on his nose from an overzealous helmet.

Center Dale Foltz, senior, played his high school ball at Central, received a twisted knee that will probably put him out for the rest of the season, according to Frantz.

Frantz's examination on the field showed that Foltz may require an operation to repair the ligaments.

During the scrimmage for the frosh in Mack Center, reserve fullback who transferred from Notre Dame this year, looked right at home against the Irish plays and several times drove for nice yardage.

Commuters Top Hills Y; Grizzlies Lose

Wisconsin 13-7, Michigan State 21-0

By JIM JOHNSTON

The spotlight was on the Commuters Tuesday night as they came behind to edge out Hills Y and Grizzlies in a hard fought duel, 7-6. Early in the first quarter the Hills Y defense started in from the secondary to intercept a Commuter pass and carry it 15 yards to the sidelines to pay dirt.

Then on it was a defensive play late in the third quarter as the Commuters suddenly intercepted a pass. Bob Snyder spiraled a beautiful pass into the waiting arms of Clarence Cook of the TD.

What proved to be the winning point, Snyder passed to Harter for the extra point.

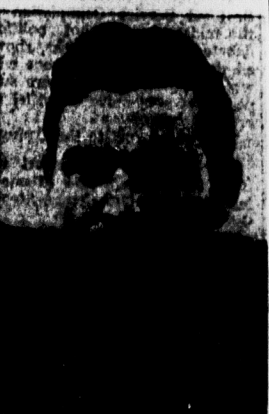

Grillbonds 6, Vets 0

Grillbonds again was the factor in the victory and defeat as the Vets downed the Vets, 6-0. The advantage of an early defensive lapse, the Grillbonds' water passed to Bill Lyons for yards and the score.

Powerful Vets defense was the key in the third quarter when they held their opponents for their own eight yard

Spartans Unranked Sooners All Alone On Top of Heap

Oklahoma was all by itself at the top of the Associated Press' football poll Wednesday and appears due for a long tenancy following its road victory over Texas.

Michigan State, despite a 21-14 win over Indiana, remained unranked for the second straight week.

But some of the other members of the elite top ten may run into trouble and demotion this week-end.

In rubbing out Texas, 14-7, Bud Wilkinson's Sooners just about overcame their last formidable hurdle en route to an unbeaten season. This Saturday they journey to Lawrence, Kan., to take on winless Kansas (0-4) and it should be a romp for the Oklahoma Sooners.

As a result of its victory over Texas, Oklahoma (3-0) received landslide support from the nation's sports writers and sportscasters in the weekly ranking poll.

Of the 201 ballots cast, the Sooners were named first 118 times and collected 1,797 points on the usual 10 for first, nine for second, etc., basis.

Wisconsin, 13-7 winner over Rice in the nationally televised game of the week, surged into second with 21 first placers and 1,555 points.

While Oklahoma has a breeze ahead, Wisconsin (3-0) faces Purdue (3-0-1); Ohio State (3-0) meets dangerous Iowa (2-1); Duke (3-0-1), which tied Purdue 13-12, take on rising Army (2-1), 69-6 conquerors of Dartmouth; Notre Dame (2-1) has a toughie in Michigan State (1-2), and Penn State (3-0) has a tartar in undefeated West Virginia (2-0).

The other members of the upper crust shouldn't have any difficulty—on paper—over the week-end.

UCLA's Bruins (4-0), who just managed to squeeze by Washington, 21-20, oppose Stanford, which was shellacked by Navy, 25-0.

Mississippi (4-0) meets winless Tulane (0-2-2), while Navy (3-0) travels to Pittsburgh to engage the all-losing Panthers (0-3).

The leading teams with first place votes and season records in parentheses.

1. Oklahoma (118), (3-0) 1,797
2. Wisconsin (21), (3-0) 1,555
3. UCLA (10), (4-0) 1,223
4. Ohio State (14), (3-0) 1,180
5. Purdue (3), (2-0-1) 929
6. Duke (7), (3-0-1) 889
7. Mississippi (11), (4-0) 730
8. Notre Dame (2), (2-1) 729
- 9-10. tie Penn State (3), (3-0) 389
11. Navy (1), (3-0) 380

Oklahoma Lineman Honored

The Associated Press

Virtually the entire Oklahoma line came in for some sort of consideration for "lineman of the week" honors after the Sooners' smashing victory over Texas, but on the word of the Texas players who opposed him, center Kurt Burris gets the call.

Burris, a 6-foot-1, 285 pound senior from Muskogee, Okla., developed into an outstanding linebacker last season and it was that part of his performance that particularly impressed Texas Herb Gray, Ben Woodson and George Robinson.

A U of M lineman also came in for considerable mention. Ron Kramer, a 19-year-old end, caught a pass for Michigan's second touchdown against Iowa, a then calmly kicked the extra point for a 14-13 victory.

Irish Searching For Better Backs

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Coach Terry Brennan Tuesday shuffled his backfield in an effort to come up with a starting fullback and right halfback.

Don Schaefer, converted quarterback, has been used as a fullback and leads the team in ground gaining with 3.8 yards per try.

Brennan tried sophomore Jack Witucki in place of Schaefer. Witucki carried twice in the Pitt game and gained 18 yards.

At right half, Paul Reynolds is not expected to play against Michigan State Saturday. Reynolds is suffering from a pulled leg muscle.

Mitchell called Wilson's news conference statements "cruel and stupid."

He said Wilson's solution to unemployment "seems to be to tell the people to go away and be unemployed in a different city or state."

The Democrats, Mitchell said, take a more helpful attitude toward people who lose their jobs.

Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.), chairman of the Senate Armed Forces committee, said he "heartily disagrees" with Wilson's news conference remark. He said it is "an unfair remark to many of our good citizens."

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) said he would not "express myself in the same way" as Wilson did.

Rep. Shepard Crumpacker (R-Ind) said bluntly that Wilson should resign. Crumpacker said he considers Wilson "too great a burden for any administration to carry."

Michigan's Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Democratic senatorial candidate Patrick V. McNamara, and Sen. Johnston (D-SC) all assailed Wilson.

One vigorous defender was John Feikens, Michigan Republican chairman. He said Reuther's telegram to Eisenhower was "the outcry by the Socialist master of the Democratic Party" and called it "the sheerest demagoguery." He said he would "match Secretary Wilson's concern for his neighbors and friends who are temporarily out of work against Reuther's any time."

Alben W. Barkley said Tuesday Wilson's controversial "dog" statement "just came out naturally because it expressed the political philosophy of Mr. Wilson and the Republican Party."

Enrollment Hits Highest In 5 Years

Late registrants have put the fall term total registration in third place in college records, surpassing the 1947 high, Registrar Robert S. Linton said Tuesday.

A total of 15,517 students have registered this fall as compared to 1947's high of 15,208.

Linton added that approximately 250 persons may increase the present total, due to additional campus credit students.

An all-time high may be reached by next fall, he said, increasing the 1949 high of 16,243 students by several hundred.

Since MSC has enrolled an increase of 800 students every year since World War II, this is only a normal jump, he said.

By 1960 the college expects a "tremendous jump" in enrollment, due to the influx of elementary students who will be of college age that year, he said.

"MSC will probably register 35,000 students when fall term of 1970 arrives," Linton said.

Dems Question GOP Security Facts, Figures

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration reported Monday that 6,926 persons have been struck from federal payrolls under its security program. Democratic leaders immediately challenged the report as a "hoax."

The figures, released by the U. S. Civil Service Commission in the midst of a red hot political debate over security risks, showed that 1,743 of the persons who were fired or resigned were suspected of subversive activities or associations.

This added fuel to the flames.

"A desperate new effort to fool the public," said Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell.
