

Coeds Can Furnish the Spark

Coed Cheerleaders Add Pep to Lagging Crew

"C'mon everybody, let's give a cheer!" —and with a flourish of white skirts, six new coed cheerleaders pepped up the Spartan cheering section this weekend.

Making their formal debut at the rally Friday night, they immediately clicked with the crowd. Apparently they are just what our seemingly fading cheering section needs... sort of a reincarnation! At least it looks like the two brunettes and four blondes could give Spartan rooters some new life.

Saturday morning in a Homecoming parade in Lansing, they vigorously led the cheering crowds along Michigan Ave. in a pep rally all of their own.

In fact, one policeman smilingly shook his head and said, "Boy, they're sump'n'!"

Waving their green and white pompoms and keeping in time with the boys cheering formations... they continued the "Beat Purdue" fever at the game.

In fact, they really lit a spark under the boy cheerleaders who have displayed a slipshod and almost apathetic "let's go team" spirit all term.

And if they continue to show the spirit they showed Saturday... gone will be the days of the voiceless Spartan fan and cheering sections like we've had so far this term.

It's about time somebody woke us up to the fact that we're not behind the team like we could be. And, if it takes six pretty coeds to lead us in the right direction—who's complaining?

Political Spirit Lacking As Election Approches

To the Editor: This is going to be about politics, so those of you who are either bored, irritated or frightened by the subject may skip to the crossword puzzle. I'd like a word with the rest of you.

Election day is only one week off, and this election (like all the others) is "the most important in our history." This much the newspapers and radio have told us.

Popular folklore has it that of all the segments of our electorate, the college student is the most energetic and dynamic campaigner. He is the one who carries high the banner of the radical; he is the one with "causes."

He is always ready to blast any criticism of his views with a lethal mixture of facts, logic and youthful vigor. He is pictured as being deeply concerned with our country's welfare, as boldly and unafraid he rallies forth from his political science class into the quagmire of politics; and he isn't afraid of getting his feet muddy.

Debates, bull sessions, parlor oratory. These are his stock in trade. And though he may not yet be of voting age he urges his older classmates not to neglect their civic duty.

Thus the folklore portrays us. At least it used to be a picture of us. Perhaps this fits the student body of some other university, but at MSC such a description is ludicrous. I haven't seen six campaign buttons on students this term, let alone discussions.

Maybe it's just a case of "we just don't know." If that's the situation let's find out!

On campus we have both a Young Democrats and a Young Republicans Club. (We really do—don't you haven't heard or seen much of them don't blame yourself. They like to stay among themselves).

Anyway I'd like to attend an open debate between these two competing camps. Further I'd like to have this debate restricted to the merits of the Republicans' Ferguson and Clardy as opposed to the Democrats' McNamara and Hayworth.

Perhaps some of this lethargy and apathy would then disappear and we could have on this campus a few more people who can reach decisions based on facts.

State Parents Teach and Learn In Spartan Nursery Program

Funds raised during the coming Campus Chest drive won't all go to national and international charities. Part of the money raised will be of direct benefit to MSC students.

Two local organizations which will receive their share of the Campus Chest donations are the Spartan Nursery school, slated to receive 15 per cent of the total, and the Lansing Community Chest, which will get 10 per cent.

Spartan Nursery was started by a group of MSC parents in April, 1948, to provide a parent-child education program for students and their families.

It is a co-operative venture, in which parents of pre-school children work with the nursery staff in developing a program for the children and themselves.

Mothers of the children teach at the school at least five times a term. They also help to plan the program, prepare the children's meals, and keep the nursery equipment in repair.

The fathers work one night a week maintaining the grounds and building, and repairing toys and equipment. About one-fourth of the mothers work at the nursery, and all the fathers work part-time. Often a co-operative family program with some fathers acting as teachers is worked out, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Page of the nursery.

All parents are trained under a supervisor before they teach at the school. In addition two professional teachers work on the staff in collaboration with the parents.

Children must be at least two and a half years old, and must attend the school for at least two terms, for either two or three half-day sessions each week.

By participating in the school's program, parents gain much insight into the problems of pre-school children, and in the details of operating a nursery school. Their children learn to share, to be independent and to make friends with teachers and other children.

Over 600 children and 1200 parents have been helped by the nursery since its founding. And Campus Chest donations have helped to make the Spartan Nursery program possible.

A united charity organization, the Chest divides its receipts among 53 well-known agencies.

The Community Chest also aids educational and recreational organizations like the college YMCA and YWCA. Both are supported by the agency.

Few Spartans do not receive benefits in some way from Campus Chest activities. Few Spartans cannot afford to give a little money to keep those activities alive.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of articles explaining the agencies to which Campus Chest money, solicited next week, will be contributed.

Interpreting the News

Russian Suggestions Meant to Sidetrack

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The big question now is whether France and Germany can bring themselves to ratification of the new European defense treaties without first getting off on the sidetrack offered by the Russians.

Russia has timed her latest suggestions for renewed negotiations on reunification of Germany to coincide with Allied consideration of what they have done, and what they must yet do, about West German rearmament.

All the Russians are interested in, of course, is preventing it.

They say they want to talk to Britain, France and the United States about reunification, withdrawal of all foreign troops from Germany, and convocation of an all-European security conference.

That's the same line they took last year, when they obtained a conference at Berlin which served only to divide German opinion and delay French consideration of security matters.

The rapidly with which the Allies have filled the vacuum left by French repudiation of the European Defense Community program is heartening only in relationship to the possibilities of its speedy ratification.

Large sections of opinion in France and Germany are unhappy over the rearmament.

and Saar prospects, and will put up a clamor for explorations with Russia before going ahead.

The attitude of Britain and the United States is that sufficient exploration has been done with Russia, and that the only hope for any agreements with her lies in negotiating from the strength which would be provided by a signed, sealed, delivered and working Western European defense organization.

There are reports that French Premier Mendes-France has now more or less accepted this view, too.

But both he and Chancellor Adenauer of Germany remained on tricky political footing after the Paris conference, and both were forced to do business with dissatisfied factions which would like to delay ratification, once more pending talks with Russia.

You will recall that Adenauer put through Germany's original ratification of EDC only by some tricky political maneuvering which resulted in a court fight over its legitimacy. In the new parliamentary debate he will be divested of some of the dramatic supranational features of EDC which emboldened some of his supporters before.

This time it is not only France upon which ratification will depend, but on Germany also. Presumably, one of the objects of the Adenauer visit to the United States at this time is to obtain working agreements which will help him in this respect.

Hallmark Out for Season With Shoulder Injury

Nystrom Candidate Guard Post

Michigan State's crippled lingering football team suffered another serious blow with the announcement that senior guard Ferris Hallmark will miss the season because of a shoulder injury.

Team physician Dr. Eugene Feurig, team physician, will sideline Hallmark for the balance of the season because of the possible exception of a broken appearance against the Spartans.

He is a senior, we will miss him against Marquette if the injury is sufficiently for a season," Feurig said.

Marquette game is the final and consequently Hallmark's last game as a Spartan.

Mark's left guard position usually is filled by Junior Nystrom. Nystrom was at that spot when an injured Bill Ross early season.

Nystrom's work has been so good that he has remained number two man despite the loss of Hallmark.

Mark has been a Spartan for three seasons. Last

Lobaugh Sets Mark In IM Swim Meet

A new 200-yard free style record was established in Intramural swimming finals last week.

Les Lobaugh stroked the distance in 2:04.8, erasing the old mark of 2:05.2 set by Al Coxon in the preliminaries.

Tom Kwasney took high honors in the 50-yard breast stroke event with a 27.2 performance which tied his own IM record and also the freshman record.

Ken Gest was the only double winner in the finals held Saturday. Gest took the 50-yard free style in 23.6 breaking the record of 24.0 which was set by Tom Payette in 1951 and tied by Chuck Baldwin in 1952. He also won the 100-yard free style in 54.8.

Winner of the 75-yard individual medley was Gerald Calkins who was timed at 1:44.3, while Al Coxon won the 50-yard back stroke in 28.4. Tom McDonald topped diving honors.

Persons wishing to enter the Intramural table tennis tournament may sign when they compete. The tournament gets under way in the Union table tennis room Wednesday at 7 p.m.

Seven IM football pass contestants who are now tied for top honors with 19 points each are throwing off this week for the championship.

The seven high passers are Truman Schraag, Al Rosenberg, Ron Hendrickson, Dick Westling, Tom Rudy, Dean Shelton and Victor White.

Hawks Hope To Keep Evy At Grid Helm

CHICAGO (AP)—Iowa Athletic Director Paul Brechler Monday told the Chicago American Quarterback Club Luncheon that "I certainly don't like reports that our coach Forrest Evashevski is going to be at Michigan."

Assistant Hawk Coach Bob Flora, at the same luncheon, pegged Spartan halfback John Matsock as the "best all around back" he had seen.

"But no one is certain of what the future holds," Brechler added, in response to questions sent to the rostrum from the audience.

"It is flattering to have somebody offer jobs to our coaches," he said. "That's something that has not happened too often at Iowa. We hope to keep Evy and all our coaches at Iowa for a long time."

Brechler was asked why Iowa didn't use the money to buy fast halfbacks rather than spend it building a university golf course. "We have money for both," Brechler quipped.

"Our football staff has done a magnificent job," he continued.

"Football at Iowa is as high as it has ever been in the past. It is nice to see Michigan doing so well (after that 34-0 rout of Minnesota) because now we know a good team beat us." (Michigan upset Iowa, 14-13).

Brechler said that he still disagreed with the NCAA Football Television program of control and predicted that fans "will have much more TV in the future."

Flora said that Iowa's crop of freshmen "is not great, but is fair and adequate."

"Ohio State is a much, much better team than Michigan," he added after being asked for comparisons. "Ohio has the best player personnel in the conference. It has a wonderful offense that is hard to prepare for because they hit all over. On paper Ohio should take Michigan without too much trouble. (The two current unbeaten Big 10 leaders meet in the season finale Nov. 20.)"

Freshman Harrier Retains Crown

Henry Kennedy, Toronto freshman, successfully defended his Canadian cross-country championship title Saturday at Hamilton, Ontario.

Kennedy, leading all the way, broke the course record of 29:36 with a time of 28:40. Kennedy won the race last year with a time of 30:02.

Finishing second to Kennedy was Selwyn Jones, sophomore from Hamilton. Jones was approximately 170 yards behind Kennedy with a time of 29:36, which tied the old course record. Both men ran unattached in the race.

Williams Will Play for Bosox, Boudreau Says

CHICAGO (AP)—Lou Boudreau, deposed manager of the Boston Red Sox, Monday tabbed the American League as "very weak" and predicted that Ted Williams will be back playing for Boston next season.

In a rare moment of straight talk from the shoulder shooting, Boudreau told the Chicago American Club that:

"Williams, who announced his retirement from baseball at the close of the season, will play again next year. I understand he has all of his baseball equipment for the 1955 season and is all set for spring practice. And he also has talked it all over with Tom Yawkey, Red Sox owner."

Boudreau said that stories that Williams existed between himself and Williams "were absolutely false."

"Ted is the only outstanding player in the league who could help any ball club that had him," he added.

"The American League is very weak," he continued. "And it will be for two or three years—until the Red Sox and Detroit young stars come on."

Delta Roll Over AGR, 32-6

Betas Humbled by Phi Deltas, 20-0

By JACK MURRAY

The passing of Dick Shaw, and the running of John Adams sparked the Phi Deltas to a 20-0 victory over Beta Theta Pi, in IM touch football Monday night. John Adams started the Phi Deltas on their way with a touchdown run in the opening minutes of play.

Beta Theta Pi bounced back in the second period when Dick Wright intercepted a pass and out-ran the Phi Delta defenders to the goal line.

Dick Shaw dropped back and threw a perfect pass to John Adams which enabled Phi Delta Theta to take a 14-7 halftime lead. Another Shaw pass, this one going to end Carl Sheek, resulted in the final touchdown.

Beta Theta Pi, AGR 3, The Delta Tau Delta powerhouse rolled to its third victory of the season by handing AGR a 32-6 defeat.

The Deltas opened scoring in the first period on a run by Bob McDonald. The goal line parade really started in the second period when John Coleman took two passes for touchdowns. The aerials were thrown by Jon Shepard and Al Budner respectively.

The second half saw two more touchdowns heaved by Al Budner. Dean McCoskey caught one in the first quarter and Larry Walker snared another in the closing minutes of play.

Beta Chi 19, Delta Sigma Phi 2. Scoring in the first three periods Delta Chi racked up a 19-2 victory over Delta Sigma Phi.

The defensive power of Delta Chi proved too tough for the Delta Sigma Phi's to penetrate. Jim Schmidt opened the scoring in the first period for Delta Chi. The Delta Sigma Phi rooters had their hopes lifted in the second period when their hard charging line caught the Delta Chi passer in the endzone for a safety.

IN TOUCH FOOTBALL PLAYERS:

In three weeks of play, sixteen players have been injured. Last year, only five were injured for the entire season.

The unusually wet weather, causing slippery fields, has to some extent been responsible. However, many players are ignoring common sense in their blocking, tagging, and defensive play. These players are hoping to avoid detection by the referee, apparently forgetting that the opponent they attack knows perfectly well who roughed him up. This obviously leads to a rougher and rougher game.

It should not be necessary to have an official watch every player. Individuals of college age should be able to govern their actions within sensible limits without having to rely upon officials to stop them from illegal play.

The purpose of this letter is to bring to your attention the fact that unthinking players have placed Intramural Touch Football in jeopardy. If the number of injuries continues at the present rate, even more restrictive rules will have to be devised.

I sincerely hope you will all cooperate with each other in enabling the game to be played as it has been in the past.

Dulles Speaks Before Cabinet

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles, speaking at the first televised presidential Cabinet meeting in history, Monday night predicted ratification of the new Western Europe defense plan and forecast failure for Soviet attempts to smash it.

Reporting in intimate fashion to President Eisenhower, other members of the Cabinet and the nation at large, Dulles said the Paris conference which produced the alliance agreements had to succeed "because the price of failure had become prohibitive."

With Eisenhower seated at his side in the White House Cabinet room, Dulles—just back from Paris—expressed confidence that each of the nations which signed the agreements will ratify them through their parliaments.

The secretary was asked how Russia was likely to react to the new defense system. This question was put by Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who like other Cabinet members, broke in from time to time.

Before Dulles could answer, the President, a smile on his face, volunteered:

"I agree with you, Ezra, he ought to tell us the story on that."

Dulles then went on to say that the goal of the Communists is to divide the Western allies. "I don't believe the Soviet Union is going to break it up," he said, referring to the newly erected alliance.

He added:

"The only object of the Soviet Union is by trick or device to try to break it up."

The precedent-setting nationwide TV-radio session from the White House was a chatty, intimate sort of thing with the American people getting their first look into the state Cabinet room while the meeting actually was in progress.

At the conclusion of Dulles' report, the President warmly congratulated him, saying:

"Foster, I feel as if we should give you a standing ovation."

Eisenhower called Dulles' report a "brilliant presentation," and told the secretary:

"You know how strongly I feel about European unity."

The chief executive made this remark with great vigor after having listened intently to the Dulles report. The secretary used up most of the 30 minutes of air time, with occasional questions from other members of the Cabinet.

Dulles said he thought European integration and unity under the new agreements would be "quite comparable and equally effective" with what would have been achieved under the old, ill-fated plan for a European Defense Community.

He said British and American declarations of intention to take part in a European defense system broke the long deadlock over Germany's role in postwar Europe.

Quick Pact Approval Pledged by Adenauer

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer Monday night promised quick action to get ratification of the Paris agreements to make West Germany a partner in European defense.

He made this pledge in a broadcast on the eve of his departure for the United States to discuss West Germany's new role in Europe, with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

Adenauer said he will bring the agreements before Parliament as soon as he gets back.

He arrives in Washington Wednesday morning and is due back in Bonn about Nov. 4.

Adenauer told listeners to the Northwest German Radio the new pact guarantee "we will succeed in saving peace in Europe and the world and finally achieve German reunification."

In the Saar settlement, the Chancellor said, both sides had made concessions to reach "a feasible compromise that every good German can support."

The last point was apparently the Chancellor's answer to the storm of criticism leveled at the Saar accord by both his Socialist opposition and members of his own coalition.

Brisk as ever at 78, Adenauer has scheduled a busy round of conferences, speech making and social activities during his three days in Washington. And even before landing at National Airport, he will stop off in Iceland for a meal with Icelandic leaders.

The Soviet deputy foreign minister added that the Germans already "are dreaming of revenge and retaliation. The immediate neighbors of West Germany will be the first to suffer from that."

He lashed out at the agreements on West Germany shortly after Moscow had set the pace with a quick attack on them. But at the same time, Vishinsky told the U.N. that the Russians had come closer to the West with their new look on disarmament and challenged the West to make similar moves for agreement.

India's V. K. Krishna Menon, meanwhile, circulated to the delegates a resolution calling on the U.N. Disarmament Commission to study ways and means of establishing an armament truce pending agreement on a disarmament convention.

Menon also proposed that the General Assembly, scheduled to adjourn in December, recess instead so it can come back into session quickly if the Disarmament Commission makes a report requiring fast action.

Vishinsky said the American plan for disarmament called for an reconnaissance to check on observance of a treaty. He asked why it was necessary to have such reconnaissance.

Outbreak Hits Strife-Torn Penitentiary

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—A noisy convict demonstration rocked the strife-torn Missouri State Penitentiary Monday, but the outbreak was less violent than the other three that have swept the prison in the past month.

Only one warning shot was fired by a state trooper during the uproar, and there were no casualties.

Prison officials said the demonstration came as about one-third of the 3,000 convicts refused to march to their noon-day meal and began shouting.

Warden Ralph Eidson said some of the inmates told him they were afraid to go to the dining halls for fear trouble would break out.

He said some of the inmates had asked him to place armed guards in the three dining halls.

This was done during the evening meal which the convicts ate quietly and then returned to their cells.

Ups and Downs Trucker Loses Dignity, Along With Cargo

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Monday was a certain unidentifiable truck driver's most embarrassing day. The load of fannies he was hauling in the Harbor Freeway topped over.

And there he was, picking up one by one the scores of intimate gadgets that had spilled out into the lanes of fast moving traffic.

He stuck to his job with dogged determination and managed to retrieve everything.

"That's worse than having a flat," mused an observer who slowed down to give the truck driver a chance to do his stuff.

Coed Hospitalized After Fainting Spell

An 18-year-old MSC coed was hospitalized Monday after she apparently fainted and struck her head while working in the kitchen of her sorority house at 303 Oakhill.

Mary Lou Brown, Jonesville sophomore, a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, was reported in "good" condition at the college hospital. Dr. C. G. Menzies said the coed received slight head bruise in falling. She was being held at the hospital for observation.

'Ike Losing Favor:' Mitchell

By the Associated Press. Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell said in Detroit Monday that the Republicans may be giving up hope of winning the next election on President Eisenhower's popularity.

Mitchell is in Michigan to campaign for Democratic candidates in the 13th, 14th, and 17th congressional districts.

He predicted a victory for Patrick V. McNamara, Democratic nominee for U. S. Senator, and said his party should pick up at least three additional seats in the House.

"If the Democrats continue to work," he said, "we have herein the makings of the greatest Democratic sweep since 1936."

Voters are "tremendously disillusioned" with the Republican administration, he said, and added that President Eisenhower is beginning to lose favor with the voters.

Sen. Homer Ferguson said the Democrats "are not debating any national issues except unemployment, which they think they can blow up to large proportions to arouse the people's emotion."

"And they will not handle that issue honestly and on its merits," he added.

Ferguson, a Republican seeking re-election, made the statements in Detroit after completing a state-wide campaign tour. He asserted:

"The truth is that the Republican 22-month record so far out-classes the Democrat

20-year record that the Democrats are afraid to compare the plain facts.

"I believe our people want to go forward in peace and prosperity with President Eisenhower—with teamwork and not conflict. The way to do that is to give him a Republican congress."

Philip A. Hart, Democratic candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, carried his campaign to Saginaw and Bay counties.

He said the Republicans "chant that bi-partisan government in Lansing is something less than we could expect if we had a Republican Governor and a Republican legislature."

"The truth is," Hart said, "the people of Michigan have made enormous progress precisely because Gov. Williams is not subservient to any faction in the legislature."

Hart said it is "this kind of constructive action that produces things like the Mackinac Bridge, more hospitals, fairer labor legislation and encouragement for the farmer and small businessman."

Lt. Gov. Clarence A. Reid, Hart's opponent in the November election, called Gov. Williams' attack on the State Highway Department "a complete phony."

Reid accused the governor of voting approval of every highway project for the last six years, then complaining about the program.

Patrick V. McNamara, Democratic nominee for senator, said that Federal financial education is imperative so that the United States afford to have a "second educational system."

McNamara, speaking Democratic rally in Kalamazoo, charged that Sen. Ferguson had continuously voted position to Federal aid.

"My Republican opponent blocked passage on the School construction bill," he said, "which would have hundreds of millions of dollars for school construction in Tidelands Oil," he said.
